But there is a serious side to this "quick lunch" business worthy of consideration. Our business men are taking too little exercise and are not paying proper attention to their eating; as a consequence we are beginning to breed a generation of old young men, broken down before their time, dyspeptic, nervous and querulous. Our young women, on the contrary, are going in for athletics, sleeping well, eating sensibly and dressing more healthfully than ever before. The result is a race of fine healthy women and puny, worn-out men. Of course the girls have this advantage, that after a late dance the damsel lies comfortably in bed while her brother rushes off down to his business, but the damsel gets up and eats a leisurely and sensible breakfast while her brother is bolting a sandwich and a chunk of pie. Quick lunches as well as late hours and fast living are doing their share toward killing the young male New Yorker in the year of our Lord, 1893.

ALLAN FORMAN.

Dead Men's Shoes.

It is not generally known that a special line of shoes is manufactured for the undertaking trade. In appearance they differ to only a slight extent from the shoes made for ordinary purposes, but there is no leather in the shoes, and they are made entirely for show. They are sold to the trade in assorted sizes for prices varying slightly from $1.50, and they answer every purpose as well as those costing five times as much. It is said there is only one factory in the country in which they are manufactured, and, considering the amount of orders the firm receives all the year round, this is probably correct. It is well known that special lines are made for burial purposes in various articles of clothing, but it will be news to many that shoes with light pasteboard soles are made to go with them.

What a Blind Man Can Do.

An example of marvelous industry and power to overcome adverse circumstances is given by Max Mayer, who was born blind in Berlin twenty-eight years ago. He received his first instruction from a teacher of the blind and later attended the Sophien-Real gymnasium, a scientific college in Berlin. He was always among the best students in the college and passed a brilliant final examination. He entered the University of Berlin a few years ago to study mathematics, mechanics and philosophy. He took the degree of Ph. D. a few weeks ago, preparing a dissertation upon the differential calculus which excited the admiration of his professors.

SECRETARY CARLISLE.

His Life Is Not One of Unalloyed Pleasure.

A Struggling Stream of Visitors That Flows on Forever—Officeseekers by the Hundred—Statesmen Pleading for Constituents.

[Special Washington Letter.]

"Does this struggling stream flow on forever? Is there no beginning nor end of it? How can the man stand it?"

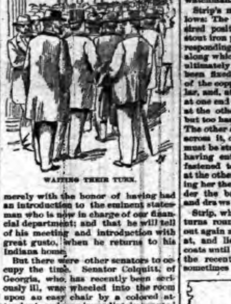
These questions were asked to-day in the office of the secretary of the treasury by a distinguished gentleman from one of our mountain states beyond the Missouri river. He had important business to communicate to the secretary of the treasury, and, after securing admittance to the room without the weary wait attendant upon sending in a card, he was amazed to see what is a commonplace occurrence with those of us who have long resided here.

The private secretary to the secretary of the treasury, Mr. R. J. Wynne, who was for many years a member of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette correspondence bureau here, was requested to aid in securing an early audience for my friend, and he said: "You know that these senators standing and sitting about here must have precedence over all others. The senate is in special session and is called to order at noon. The senators are waiting their turns to see the secretary, and they are obliged to see the heads of other departments before noon, so that their time is more valuable to them than the other visitors realize. Moreover, each individual caller is looking after something in which he is individually interested, while the senators are looking after the interests of their constituents. Your friend must wait until the senators have been attended to."

We stood and watched the passing throng. Secretary Carlisle has been so long in public life that he knows all public men from every section of the great republic. As they came to him one at a time, while all others remained sufficiently far away to avoid overhearing his conversations with his callers, it was marvelous to hear him call them by name as he grasped their hands. Then, in each instance, he bowed his head to hear what they had to say, and responded to them in low tones. Occasionally he would bow his head and say: "Yes," but more often we could see him shake his head and say: "No, it cannot be done." Therefore, it was natural to conclude that the majority of them were being disappointed.

Senators Voorhees and Turpie, of Indiana, took chairs and occupied about ten minutes of the secretary's time, and to the rest of us it seemed ten hours almost. Then Senator Gordon, of Georgia, was granted an audience. He remained standing, and his military air and bearing were very observable. He finished his business in probably less than two minutes. Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, who was quietly reclining upon a large leathern sofa near the secretary, arose and advanced toward the desk of Mr. Carlisle, while others who were in waiting stepped backward a few paces. Senator Ransom was very earnest about something and held Mr. Carlisle's hand for three or four minutes while he talked to him. At the conclusion of his statement of some case, Mr. Carlisle said: "That seems only fair, and I'll do it, senator, with pleasure." Thereupon the courtly Carolinian smiled and departed.

Just then Mr. Holman, the great "objector," entered the door with two friends. He introduced one of them, and I heard him say: "This appointment, Mr. Secretary, ought to be made some time this month. It is very—" but there his voice sank to a whisper, and what he was after nobody could guess, save that it was some sort of official place. Mr. Carlisle's manner was exceedingly non-committal, and, the business having been finished, Mr. Holman waved his hand to his other friend, who came forward, was introduced, grasped the hand of the secretary of the treasury, bowed and departed with Mr. Holman. It was plain from the appearance of the latter constituent of Mr. Holman that he was perfectly satisfied and greatly gratified merely with the honor of having had an introduction to the eminent statesman who is now in charge of our financial department; and that he will tell of his meeting and introduction with great gusto, when he returns to his Indiana home.

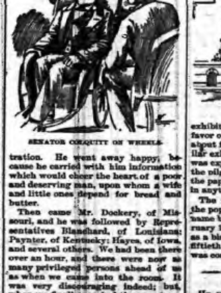


WAITING THEIR TURN.

But there were other senators to occupy the time. Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, who has recently been seriously ill, was wheeled into the room upon an easy chair by a colored attendant, and was immediately granted an audience by the secretary, who sat down upon a chair in order to more readily hear and converse with him. The appearance of Senator Colquitt in such a novel vehicle reminded me of Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia, who used to attend sessions of the house in a similar manner. Mr. Colquitt did not remain long. His place was taken by Congressman Chipman, of Detroit, the rotund and always jovial statesman from the Wolverine state. Judge Chipman was there to seek information concerning a ruling of the treasury department which will affect the shipping interests of the great lakes. He was speedily answered, when a large man came forward to see Mr. Carlisle; and it was then that my friend asked: "Does this struggling stream flow on forever?"

It does. There is no end to the stream of humanity which flows into and out of the offices of the heads of departments here, and the office of the secretary of the treasury apparently receives all of the overflow. While we were waiting an audience, several newspaper correspondents entered by a side door, which is always open to them. Several of these gentlemen who represent evening papers, and who must telegraph their news not later than one o'clock every day, walked past senators, representatives and all others right up to the secretary, and, saying: "Beg pardon," to senators and others, went directly to Mr. Carlisle, asked brief questions, and departed without actually blocking the stream for a moment. They know their business and the secretary knows it, and hence they are privileged characters. The newspaper man who once imposes upon the time of a cabinet minister by remaining too long, will find the little side door closed to him in future.

Mr. Dolliver, the young Iowa congressman and talented orator, ardent republican, called next and had his turn. He served in the house with Mr. Carlisle and they are warm personal friends. He came to inquire concerning the fate of one of his constituents, and was informed that watchmen on the treasury force, who were old soldiers and who attend to their duties, will not be disturbed by this administration. He went away happy, because he carried with him information which would cheer the heart of a poor and deserving man, upon whom a wife and little ones depend for bread and butter.



SENATOR COLQUITT ON WHEELS.

Then came Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, and he was followed by Representatives Blanchard, of Louisiana; Paynter, of Kentucky; Hayes, of Iowa, and several others. We had been there over an hour, and there were now as many privileged persons ahead of us as when we came into the room. It was very discouraging indeed; but, when we finally reached the secretary, transacted the business in hand and left the room, we found not less than fifty gentlemen out in the corridor waiting for an opportunity to enter.

"This is a nice government of the people," said one of the people outside as we came out. "Here I've been for nearly two hours standing before that door, seeing others enter and come out, but I am not allowed even to catch a glimpse of the secretary. This is the fifth day I've been here, and gone away disgusted every day because the doors are barred against me. I'll go home soon and give up in despair. I don't see why I can't get in. I'd take my turn then without growling."

There's the rub. They don't see why they can't get in. It makes a man impatient, and usually angry, to be obliged to stand outside and wait for a turn to send in a card and solicit an audience. But those who know what is going on inside, and who see the crowded condition of the room; those who realize that the secretary is busy every minute, listening to the kaleidoscopic hopes and desires of others and dispatching business as rapidly as he can, not only wonder if the stream flows on forever, but they sympathize with the cabinet minister, and ask, as did my friend: "How can the man stand it?"

If the gentlemen outside who are complaining were each of them obliged to stand every day in the village schoolhouse, and listen to the individual tales of woe of their neighbors; were also obliged to promptly apply some remedy, satisfy some ambition, gratify some desire for personal honor; while all the neighbors were waiting for their turns to get in, they might faintly imagine something of the position of the secretary of the treasury who has to listen to the plaints of people whom he knows [illegible] and who care nothing for him, while at the same time he must be burdened with the great financial problems which vex our country.

"How can the man stand it?" In the first place he has been endowed with a splendid physique. He has become familiar with the social, political, financial and executive problems which come before him. He is endowed with superior perceptive powers, and understands immediately, as by intuition, things which might burden and bother men of lesser intellectual caliber. He is fitted both by nature and experience for the duties which now devolve upon him. For these and cognate reasons, he can stand the strain admirably, and will accomplish all that may reasonably be expected of him. But it is not fair to find fault with him because he cannot do more.

SMITH D. FRY.

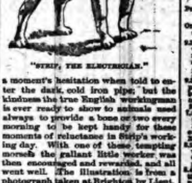
STRIP, THE ELECTRICIAN.

An English Dog Whose Intelligence Is Simply Marvelous.

Many people in Brighton, England, are interested just now in watching the clever work of "Strip, the Electrician," who, after laying down many miles' length of copper wire, for the purpose of electric lighting, in London, has lately come to Brighton with the same object. Lest Mr. Edison should not at once recognize the name of his "collaboratrice," says the London Graphic, we will explain at once that "Strip" is a clever little fox terrier, the property of Messrs. Crompton, the electrical engineers, and that she is under the special protection of that company's night watchman.

Strip's method of working is as follows: The workmen lay down in the desired position a short length of the stout iron pipe which is to shelter a corresponding length of the copper wire, along which the electric current will ultimately pass. The iron pipe having been fixed, Strip is called, has the end of the copper wire fastened to her collar, and, at the workman's sign, goes in at one end of the pipe—"and comes out at the other end," says an intelligent but too hasty reader. Not so, however. The other end of the iron pipe has a bar across it, over which the copper wire must be strained to keep it taut. Strip, having entered the pipe with the wire fastened to her collar, presents herself at the other end to the workman awaiting her there, who thrusts his hand under the bar, unfastens Strip's collar, and draws it and the wire out.

Strip, when she feels her collar gone, turns round, retraces her steps, comes out again at the same end she went in at, and lies down on the workmen's coats until she is wanted again. During the recent bitter cold weather Strip sometimes longed to shirk, and showed a moment's hesitation when told to enter the dark, cold iron pipe; but the kindness the true English workingman is ever ready to show to animals used always to provide a bone or two every morning to be kept handy for these moments of reluctance in Strip's working day. With one of these tempting morsels the gallant little worker was then encouraged and rewarded, and all went well. The illustration is from a photograph taken at Brighton by Lieut. Col. F. K. Loyd, near whose house Strip has lately been working.



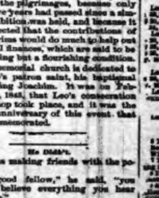
"STRIP, THE ELECTRICIAN."

JUBILEE MEMORIAL.

The Handsome Church Presented to the Pope by the Faithful.

Probably the most appropriate of the many presents given to Pope Leo in celebration of his episcopal jubilee is the memorial church of St. Joachim, in Rome. The pope, it is said, encouraged the project, because he believes the erection of churches is a commendable thing in itself, and also because it would furnish work for the masons and builders of Rome, who are suffering from the prevalent depression in their arts. The church is certainly worthy of a place among the splendid architectural monuments of the Eternal city, and is a suitable commemoration of a pontiff who is one of the most remarkable figures of contemporary Europe.

Rome was completely given over to the celebration of the jubilee, with which the Italian government did not interfere in the least. The original idea was to celebrate the occasion with an exhibition, but this was abandoned in favor of the pilgrimages, because only about five years had passed since a similar exhibition was held, and because it was expected that the contributions of the pilgrims would do much to help out the papal finances, which are said to be in anything but a flourishing condition.



CHURCH OF ST. JOACHIM.

The memorial church is dedicated to the pope's patron saint, his baptismal name being Joachim. It was on February 19, 1843, that Leo's consecration as a bishop took place, and it was the fiftieth anniversary of this event that was commemorated.

He Didn't.

He was making friends with the policeman.

"My good fellow," he said, "you mustn't believe everything you hear about me."

"I don't," responded the officer. "If I did I'd run you in."—Detroit Free Press.

The Difference.

Crummer—There is one marked difference between the city and the country.

Gilleland—What is it?

Crummer—In the country they call fun wickedness and in the city they call wickedness fun.—Life.

It Blooms at Night.

Darley—My dear, what plant bears the brightest flowers?

Mrs. Darley—I'm sure I don't know. Which is it?

Darley—The electric light plant.—Detroit Free Press.

Particular.

"Tom is so particular."

"In what way?"

"Why, when we became engaged he insisted upon my breaking off all my other engagements."—Chicago News Record.

Very Likely.

"What is the matter with Chappie, anyhow? He has such awful headaches."

"Yes—I guess maybe he is cutting his brains."—Brooklyn Life.

Not Completely Intoxicated.

Holmes—Hewlett, you were the most completely drunk man I ever saw last night.

Hewlett—No, I wasn't. My better half was sober.—N. Y. Herald.

Rainy Weather Talk.

"Your trousers just now remind me of Miss Lordly's nose."

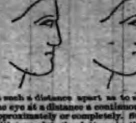
"How so?"

"They're both turned up at the end."—[illegible]

PICTURES BY TELEGRAPH.

Reproducing the Original by Alphabetical Formulas.

A simple and cheap method of sending drawings and plans by telegraph was described in a paper recently read before the British royal institution. The principle adopted was to reduce outline drawings to an alphabetical formula, so that one receiving the telegraphed letters of the alphabet could therefrom reproduce the outline drawings. This was effected by making a series of dots of a line drawing at such a distance apart as to seem to the eye at a distance a continuous line, approximately or completely. Starting with one dot, the letters in the telegram showed where to place the other dots in succession in relation thereto. This was done by means of a "protractor," consisting of a rectangular piece of pasteboard with a rectangular orifice, in which was a piece of tissue paper. On the tissue paper was a circle, with some alphabetical letters placed round equidistantly in the positions of sixteen of the thirty-two points of the compass. This tissue paper had a large hole in the center and sixteen smaller holes in the positions of sixteen of the points of the compass, as represented in the cut. The pasteboard itself had three large holes in it, which facilitated handling.



On receiving a telegram consisting of a medley of alphabetical letters, the first step is to make a dot, and to bring it into the center of the central hole in the tissue paper. A second dot is then made in one of the little holes in the circle, corresponding to the next letter in the telegram, and so on in succession. The protractor is always moved parallel to itself and to the edge of the sheet of paper. This is done by the aid of a T-rule, or by using a sheet of paper already ruled by faint lines, as in children's copybooks. The upshot is that a fairly accurate representation of the original drawing is reproduced.

In the accompanying illustrations is represented a Grecian head, the original of which was upon a large scale. The head to the right was reproduced by the alphabetical systems. Both of them, in the cuts, are represented as photographically reduced from the original drawings. In the reproduced drawing a ring was drawn round each dot, then inked in for photographic purposes so as to make each dot conspicuous, yet without effecting its obliteration. In printing these rings are lost, still the little cuts are faithful examples from photographs of what can be done in the way of telegraphing outline drawings.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 19, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

9.28 a. m.—COLUMBIAN EXPRESS daily, Pullman vestibule sleeping cars to Chicago and Cincinnati, dining, smoking and vestibule passenger coaches from New York to Chicago. Arrive Chicago 10 a. m., Cincinnati [illegible] a. m., Indianapolis 7.00 a. m. next day.

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

[illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect APRIL 2, 1893.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 11,000 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—49 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address.
Albion Hotel, The	Park av and 5th st
Ames, C. J.	15 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Ackerson, Mrs. J. H.	30 West 7th street
Adams, Dr D C	48 Grove st
Brokaw, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac B	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	5th and Union sts.
Barnalow & Dunn	10 North ave.
Boone, W. C., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central av.
Bucknell, John	Central ave. and 6th st.
Bearhouse, F E	Park av and 3d st
Berg, Jos F, M. D.	10 E 6th st
Board of Education—6th st, 8th and Union ave
Booth, E H	30 Madison ave
	9th & Liberty, 6th & Monroe
Clark, E B	3 Waywood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Chester, James T	Richmond and Front sts.
Constitutionalist Office	3 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr I H	Watchung and Westervelt aves.
Cox, Rowland	[illegible]
Chapman, Mrs. F. A.	9 Third Place
Cruikshank, E. A.	126 Carlton avenue
Carman, J H, M D	65 Somerset st
Chase, E F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (J H Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
Daily Press	5 North ave.
Dayton, Mrs. E. H.	16 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	39 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 6th st & Park av
Day, D M	Rockview ave
Demarest, P M	37 Park av
Dumont, John B	[illegible] E 7th st
Decker, T—pay station	Westfield, N J
DeGraff, James	22 E 9th st
Doane, T O—Chief F D	[illegible] W 3d st
Dollner, S L	121 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 4th st
Evening News, T.W. Morrison, Editor	7 Somerset st.
Engine No 1	West 3d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo. C	37 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J	23 West Seventh st
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR. Depot
French, F M & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	73 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	38 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	5 W 7th st
French, G Frank	60 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	20 W 6th st
Goddard, C M	17 Third Place.
Griffen, A M	13 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	5th and New sts
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 6th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
Heynigen, L	21 & 23 Somerset street.
Hageman, E. A.	107 Sycamore avenue.
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	62 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas	141 Front street.
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave.
Higgins, M. A.	26 East 4th st—26 North ave
Hubbard, John N	[illegible] South 2d st—21 Park av
Harder, Francis C	120 Madison av
Hermance, O	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	39 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L.	55 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	13 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	5th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	65 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 8th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Rice	The 49 Broadway
Laire, J P & Co	3 W Front st
Linke, Frank	65 W Front st
Lounsberry, F G	[illegible]
Myers, J K	17 St. 7th st
McGee, Henry A	Willow ave
McGee, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J G	10 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A	20 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	107 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	49 Grove st
Milliken, B F	130 Central av
Morrison, T W	11 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	48 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	E Front st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood.
Newhall, Henry B	16 E 7th st.
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
Newton, Jr., Thos B	Rockview ave
Plainfield Gaslight Co	40 East Fourth St
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue
Plainfield Beef Co	28 and Washington sts
Police Station—Chief's office	7 Park ave
Police station	Park ave and RR.
Potter C Jr	[illegible] and Division sts
Potter Press Works	South ave.
Probasco, Dr J B	41 Front st.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave, and 8th st
Pope & Co. J. C	6 East Front st
Pittis Thomas	134 Central av
Pond Machine Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierce Hardware Co	42 W Front st
Runyon, F W	1 Front st—Central Times
Reed, Chas A	27 Myrtle ave
Randolph, Henry C	Broadway
Rosenbaum, L A	30 Broadway
Reynolds, H F	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. F.	Washington avenue
Roberts, D S	17 North avenue.
Rockafellow, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	49 Madison ave
Richmond, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
Rooms, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Sycamore aves.
Runkle, H. G	6th st
Runyon, Chas W	Park ave
Rice, W. & Co	[illegible] cor. Emily and Duer sts
Randolph, L W	Front st
Rogers, D W	W 4th st
Rogers, E P Jr	34 Westervelt ave
Seaver, E W	20 east 9th st
Serrell, Lemuel W	Front st. and Plainfield ave
Saguine, C. J	40 Front street.
Shaw, E J	Front st. opp. Park ave.
Streall, A S	Prospect ave.
Smith, W P	Belvidere av., Netherwood
Shepherd, A D	Fanwood
Smith, Jas A	13 W Front st
Scott, Walter & Co	South ave
Smith, Chas A	Spring st., Westfield, N J
Stelle, Irving G	Sixth st
Terrill & Cole	16 E Front st
Thompson, A. D.	29-31 North av
Talmadge, Henry P (Res.)	Netherwood.
Thickstun, Jno A	Madison av
Titsworth, Jos M	22 W. 7th st.
Tomlinson, Dr T H	La Grande and N B'dwy
Tobin & Enander	52 North av
Tracy, J Evarts	5th and Division st
Thorn, Alex	27 Somerset st
Tweedy, O. B.	11 Crescent Avenue
Townsend, Samuel	66 Rockview av
Thompson, A D	Prospect ave
Telegraph Office	Plainfield station
Thorn, E	76 W Front st
United States Express Co	5 North ave
Union Co Country Club	Cor 9th st & Arlington
Van Sickle W J	10 North ave
Wharton, Clifton	17 Central av
Woltman, C	West Seventh street
Wadsworth, W B	5th and Liberty sts
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot
Welchers, J F	W 4th st., near Grand ave
Waters, E, Ass't Chief	3d st near Washington
Westfield, pay station	Westfield, N J
Wotherspoon O G	144 E Front s

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 3 doors above Peace street.

MR. JOHN E. STEVENS, Horseshoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Stumbling and Interfering Horses. [illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
[illegible]

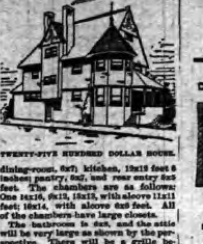
HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE.

A Handsome Residence for City, Suburb or Country.

What Twenty-Five Hundred Dollars, Judiciously Invested, Will Do—Plans and Specifications Based on Actual Estimates.

This house is designed to please people with artistic taste. Its cost will be $2,500. There are nine rooms, including reception hall and alcove. It will have stone piers for foundation.

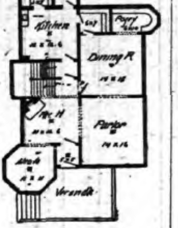
The veranda is 12x16 feet; vestibule, 5x6 feet; reception hall, 11x12 feet 6 inches; alcove off reception hall, 11x11 feet (this can be used for a library), parlor, 14x16 feet; dining-room, 14x15 feet; cosy off dining-room, 6x16 feet; serving room, between kitchen and dining-room, 6x7; kitchen, 12x12 feet 6 inches; pantry, 6x7, and rear entry 6x5 feet. The chambers are as follows: One 14x16, 9x12, 13x13, with alcove 11x11 feet; 16x14, with alcove 6x8 feet. All of the chambers have large closets.



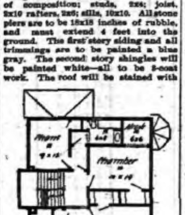
TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR HOUSE.

The bathroom is 6x8, and the attic will be very large as shown by the perspective. There will be a grille between the reception hall and stairs. The stairway from the kitchen leads to the side entrance—a very good feature. From the side entrance there is a stairway leading to the basement.

The entire house is sheathed with matched fencing, paper being placed between that and the shingles and siding. The first story sides, front and rear, are to be of 4-inch O. G. siding; the second story sides, front and rear, will be round butt shingles. All roof shingles are to be extra Star A Star shingles. The carving shown is to be of composition; studs, 2x4; joist, 2x10 rafters, 2x6; sills, 10x10. All stone piers are to be 18x18 inches of rubble, and must extend 4 feet into the ground. The first story siding and all trimmings are to be painted a blue gray. The second story shingles will be painted white—all to be 3-coat work. The roof will be stained with carmine-creosote stain. The chimneys above roof will be of red pressed brick.



First Floor Plan



Second Floor Plan.

The owner will furnish all shelf hardware, stained glass, mantel, sink and bathroom fixtures. The plastering will be 2-coat work; the entire house will be piped for gas and furnace. There will be electric bells and speaking tubes. The reception hall and parlor will be finished in hard wood. The kitchen will have a maple floor. The reception hall and bathroom will have red oak floors. All other rooms will be finished in pine, painted a color to suit owner. All glass to be American double thick.

GEORGE A. W. KINTZ.

Submarine Electric Lamp.

A successful trial of a submarine electrical lamp has been made under water at a depth of thirty feet at Toulon. It is said to have illuminated a radius of 100 feet. Fish were attracted by and surrounded it, as insects collect about a light.

Trees in Medicine.

The medicinal uses of trees are various, says the Independent. It is not only that cinchona in all its forms, from the crude bark to the delicate and tasty quinine, or the quassia made into a cup of bitterness, meet the terrors of the dreaded malaria or help to give tone to impaired digestive organs. Through all the range of spices and bitters of resins and gums, of leaves, of wood, of bark and root, there is a variety with which we could not easily part, while the buds and leaves and flowers are often salutary. Most of these are antiseptic, and the air probably owes much of its ozone and of its exhilarating quality to these substances. Thus it is that particles are wafted to and fro for our lungs and tonics are provided for our bodies. We therefore have reason to rejoice in the sanitary and medicinal properties and healthful influence of the trees, and hope this utilitarian view of them will not shock those who only associate with them ideas of the poetic and the sublime.

"Beef, Lemons and Cheese."

An American naval officer says that once, when a great function took place in the harbor of Cherbourg, several vessels of our American squadron were present and were drawn up in line to salute the empress' yacht as it passed, says an article on the navy. The French sailors manned the yards of their ships and shouted: "Vive l'Impératrice!" Knowing that he could not school his men to repeat those words in the brief time left to him, the American admiral ordered his crew to cry: "Beef, lemons and cheese." The imperial yacht came sweeping on, and as it reached the fleet a mighty roar went up of "Beef, lemons and cheese" that entirely drowned the voices of the Frenchmen. And the empress said she had never been so complimented.

Facts About Ireland.

The population of Ireland in 1891, according to the revised returns just issued, was 4,681,248. The natural increase of population, or excess of births over deaths, for the year was 25,117, and the loss by emigration was 59,623; 21,-473 marriages were registered within the year, and it is significant of the religious feeling which exists in all parts of Ireland that only [illegible]

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-26-y

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

MISCELLANEOUS. MISCELLANEOUS.

It Never Occurred to Him.

A very clever but slightly eccentric painter named Barrett had a fondness for cats. He kept two of them. One was but a kitten at the time when this incident occurred, the other was advanced in years and of considerable size. One afternoon a caller at Barrett's studio noticed two holes in the bottom of the studio door, and he asked the painter what they were for.

"For the cats to go in and out," said Barrett.

"Why do you have two of them?" asked the caller. "Would not one have been sufficient?"

"Why, how absurd!" answered Barrett. "Can't you see that they are needed? How could the big cat pass in and out through the little hole?"

"But," persisted his friend, "why could not the little cat have used the big hole?"

"Bless me!" ejaculated Barrett. "She could; but really, now, it never occurred to me before."—Harper's Young People.

Only One Cause Left.

Consumer—My goodness! Coal up again. What's the cause this time? Another combine?

Dealer—Oh, no, sir, no combine, I assure you.

"Railroad blockade?"

"No. Everything is running."

"No strike?"

"Not that I've heard of."

"Excessive demand, perhaps?"

"No, nothing extra."

"Failure of supply, possibly?"

"Haven't heard of any."

"Humph! If coal has gone up again, there must be some cause. What keeps prices rising now?"

"I really don't know, sir. Guess it must be just habit, that's all."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

"Do you ever commit your verses?" asked the managing editor of a poet with a manuscript.

"Oh, yes, indeed; I can recite one of them which—"

"Oh, I beg pardon. I did not mean do you commit them to memory, but do you ever commit them to the flames?"

And he went out with a hunted look in his eyes.—Chicago Mail.

Bound to Beat Her Neighbor.

"Do divorces come high?" inquired the timid little thing of the Chicago legal light.

"Oh, no, ma'am," he replied.

"What did Mrs. Highflyer pay for hers last week?"

"One hundred and fifty dollars."

"Well, you may get me one for two hundred. I'm no slouch."—Judge.

The First Stage.

"So his mother intends to make a pianist of him?"

"Yes."

"Whom has she selected as his teacher?"

"She hasn't got that far yet; at present she is just letting his hair grow."—N. Y. Press.

Where It Would Have Looked Well.

"Gentlemen," said the candidate for office, as he squirted a stream of tobacco juice on the pavement below, "my character is spotless."

"Then it's a pity," said some one in the crowd, "that you can't wear it for a shirt."—Texas Siftings.

All Alike.

Visitor—And so you went to the church to see the wedding? What did you think of it?

Little Girl—I didn't think. I just looked and talked, an' talked without thinking, same as everybody else.—Good News.

UP IN EXPLOSIVES.

Tommy—Aunt Jane, I should think that you would be afraid to bang your hair.

Aunt Jane (an antique)—Why, dear?

Tommy—Why, you might ignite the powder on your face.

(And Tommy wonders why Aunt Jane doesn't send him a birthday present).—Judge.

Across the Dinner Table.

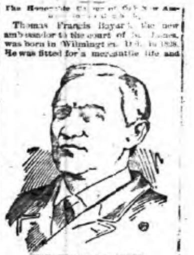
Fenilworth—What's the matter, duke? You look put out!

Duke of Squabbles—I'll be dashed if I don't think my wife's trying to [illegible]

THOMAS F. BAYARD.

The Honorable [illegible] Ambassador to [illegible]

Thomas Francis Bayard, the new ambassador to the court of St. James, was born in Wilmington, Del., in 1828. He was fitted for a mercantile life and placed in a business house in New York city. He returned to Wilmington in 1848, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1851. He was appointed United States district attorney for Delaware, but resigned the following year. In 1855 he removed to Philadelphia, where he became the partner of William Shippen. He returned to Wilmington and succeeded his father to the United States senate in 1869. He was reelected in 1875 and again in 1881. Mr. Cleveland appointed him secretary of state in 1885. On the day on which he was elected to the senate for a full term his father was also reelected a senator from Delaware to serve for the unexpired part of his original term. This is the only case of a father and son being voted for by the same legislature to fill the senatorial office. In the senate he served on the committees on finance, judiciary, private land claims, library and revision of laws. In 1881 he was elected president pro tempore of the senate. He was a candidate for president in 1880 and 1884. Including his great-grandfather, Gov. Bassett, he is the fifth member of his family who have occupied seats in the United States senate.

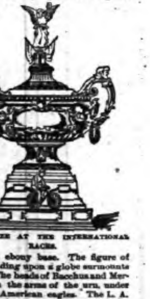


HON. THOMAS F. BAYARD.

WHEELMEN'S PRIZE CUP.

To Be Competed For at the Great Race Meet at Chicago.

The League of American Wheelmen have been presented with a very handsome trophy to be competed for in their international race meet, to be held at Chicago next August. Henry L. Saltonstall, a member of the Elizabeth A. C. Wheelmen, is the donor of the prize. It is a sterling silver cup, gold lined, and stands twenty-eight inches high on a six-inch ebony base. The figure of Fame standing upon a globe surmounts the lid. The heads of Bacchus and Mercury adorn the arms of the urn, under which are American eagles. The L. A. W. emblem is engraved upon the back.



FIRST PRIZE AT THE INTERNATIONAL RACES.

The cup will be a perpetual challenge trophy, and the conditions under which it will be competed for will be determined upon by the racing board of the league. It is the most valuable prize ever donated to the L. A. W. by any individual member of the organization. It will be raced for annually.

One Would Do.

Farmer Meddergrass (to railway ticket seller)—I want a ticket to Pohunks.

Ticket Seller (briskly)—Single?

Farmer Meddergrass—No, married; but my wife isn't going along.—Truth.

Suitable.

Brassey—Carola went out to paint things last night, didn't he?

Fender—Yes; and you should have seen him this morning. He was a picture.—Truth.

Method in Her Madness.

[illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1893. No 19.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jan1

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 132, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES E. THEIRS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jan1

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. Box 160, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 31 E. Front street, corner Elm street.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 28 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed.

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.
TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping, Plumbing.
Heater Work. Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6. 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices?
Everr Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business in all times and in all cases.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

ESTABLISHED 1856.
C.E. & J.W. BROWN,
(Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.)
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,
Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 96.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers,
Gasolene Stoves,
Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 13 SOMERSET ST.

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HANKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York.

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
30 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
(Successor to T. J. Carey.)
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—36 W. FRONT ST.
Large covered Vans or Trucks. Goods delivered to any part of the U. S. [illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
U. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5-cent cigar in the State, and made of the purest tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco, always on hand.
Smokers' Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 38 PARK AVE. (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smokers' Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed to 24 W. Front street, to 33 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. R. WOOLSTON, J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 30 NORTH AVENUE

G. Dickinson
Optician
13 Clarks Ave
Plainfield N. J

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be

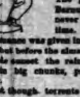
Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes (Menus)
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything,

WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building).
PLAINFIELD N. J

OH, WHAT A NIGHT!

THE CIRCUS MUD-BOUND.

It Took the Horses and Elephants Combined All Night Long to Haul the Wagons Out of the Mire.



To one who had never been to a wet-night circus, Wednesday afforded a novel and amusing experience. The great and only Barnum & Bailey never had a tougher time. The regular performance was given in full in the afternoon, but before the almanac-time for the invisible sunset the rain was tumbling down in big chunks, packed close together.

What though torrents fell! Nothing short of a cyclone leveling the mammoth tent to earth could have kept the people away. For there's wondrous magic in the very word of circus; and through all the storm, which never once abated, people flocked in surprising numbers to the exhibition.

The pelting raindrops hissed in the big rings of flame gushing from a score of huge naptha-fountains in midair. The gaudy side-show canvases hung limp and bedraggled. A vast sea of mud, ploughed and re-ploughed by thousands of human feet, stretched from sidewalk to tent-edge. It was a night when ordinary men or women would not forsake their cosy firesides for business, or church, or play house. But the circus—that's different.

As steadily as the falling of the rain, so steadily did a stream of eager humanity pour into the jaws of the cavernous tent, which was aglow with a glare inside, that outside looked dry and warm and inviting. The hay and straw that had been liberally strewn atop the earth was little protection against the quagmire beneath, and through this ocean of mire the people floundered and waded and swam in quest of their seats for the show.

There was little satisfaction in the menagerie. Long before 8 o'clock the cages were all closed and ready for shipment.

The programme of the main show was slashed to one-half its length. Whole acts were omitted in the Columbus spectacular, which was rushed through before any of the circus work. For once real rain accompanied the storm at sea, and the ballet girls squatted like frogs in a pond when they were supposed to be kneeling. The closing scene was hurried through so that at the end Columbus instead of being borne off in triumph was left standing forlornly alone in the midst of an aqueous swamp, to trail off at his leisure.

Streams of water poured into the brass horns of the band, through which the strains of music surged and gurgled in discordant blasts. The ringmasters appeared in rubber boots and mackintoshes, and the sheepskins on the drums were so soaked that at every blow the heads stretched about 80 feet. Half of the circus acts were eliminated as in the case of Columbus. The baby elephant glistened with rain as if he were newly varnished, but he went through his performances as though he enjoyed it.

Everything went with a rush. As fast as possible, everything to be used again was loaded upon the big vans for transportation. Two thousand people, more or less, sat on wet seats, under leaks in the roof, and looked on and applauded, and thought it huge fun. What though there was a trickling down their backs, and a soaking of their knees, and a deluge into their rubber boots! The fascination of being at a circus overcame all that.

When the show was over, there was the inevitable concert, where as an extra inducement in the storm all the side-show freaks were exhibited. Most everyone stayed. Then in a twinkling "All over!" was shouted, the tent was dismantled like magic, and more than a thousand people were left standing in the middle of a big meadow of mud, their bearings lost, and nothing to guide them but billows of mire. Many of them trudged half way to Short Hills before they found out they were lost. The others circled around till their ideas got settled. Everybody was soaked and begrimed with mud on reaching home, but no one was cross.

The circus itself didn't leave the grounds so easily. The big, heavy-laden vans sank into the mud more than hub-deep, and the combined strength of 20 horses couldn't move of them. Not till the elephants were pressed into service did they budge. The giant pachyderms boosted the vans by pushing. Thirty of the workmen, already half dead from overwork, threw up their job discouraged. The horses were half frozen by exposure. All night all hands toiled, and not till 9:30 this morning did the circus get away, too late to parade and give an afternoon exhibition in Easton, where they will show to-night.

FLOWER THIEVES CAUGHT.

One of 'Em Turns State's Evidence—Four Held for Trial.

Constable Mattox has been watching for the flower thieves that have been despoiling Plainfield gardens, and Friday arrested five of them and took them before Justice Nash. Charles and Henry Bogart, Will Yaeger and Howard Sweeny were held in $50 bail each for trial. Willie Farley was released on furnishing the names of a dozen others, for whom warrants are issued.

OBITUARY.

Edward Moralier.

Heart failure caused the sudden death Sunday night of Edward Moralier, of the firm of Moralier Bros., watchmakers and jewelers, of West Second street. He was visiting a brother in Brooklyn, and had been out calling on another brother. Returning, just as he got in front of the house where he was stopping, he fell to the pavement dead. He was unmarried, and his age was 42.

The business of watchmaker and jeweler will be continued by L. Moralier & Son.

Frederick N. Cook.

Frederick N. Cook, a talented young member of the Union county bar, died suddenly Thursday at his home in Bound Brook, from an acute attack of the grip. He was assistant to [illegible] and prosecutor Marsh, and was well-to-do financially, having inherited much valuable property. He was twenty-seven years old. He was superintendent of the Chimney Rock Sunday-school, being Judge W. A. Coddington's successor. Many in Plainfield knew and loved him for his own qualities and as the nephew of Cook Bros.

—Civil engineer A. J. Gavett has prepared a map showing just where and how the railroad accident to Simon Harris occurred, to be used in the trial of the suit for damages.

A PLAINFIELDER HEADS THE JURY.

And Two of the Foreman's Fellow-Townsmen Will Help Decide the Suit.

In the court at Elizabeth, Thursday, the attendance was swelled by the presence of the petit jurors of the regular panel, and a struck jury composed of prominent citizens from all over the county, subpoenaed to try the case of ex-freeholder James T. Pierson, of Westfield, against the Central Railroad company. These struck jurors being all active business men, were none of them anxious to do jury service, and several tried to be excused on the plea of important business. Judge VanSyckel was very courteous in his responses that the court had no authority to excuse them.

David W. Bonnell, who was quite ill, was excused by consent of counsel on both sides. The jurors selected were as follows:

Uzal B. Crane, George Wright, Joseph S. Cutter, Charles H. Jackson, Henry Bender, Joseph Clark, Nicholas C. Cox, Douglas L. Darby, Robert J. Mooney, Lewis W. Miller and Theodore F. Littell.

The case is likely to occupy a day or two, and the jurors on the regular panel was discharged until to-day.

Mr. Pierson's suit is brought for damages for injuries sustained in an accident on the High Bridge branch, which occurred in September last. His counsel are Frank Bergen and E. V. Lindabury, and the railroad company's interests are defended by Mr. Conover and ex-congressman Alvah A. Clark.

Mr. Pierson's deposition was read to the jury, and the testimony of the physicians and other witnesses was heard.

Mr. Bergen opened the case for the plaintiff and detailed to the jurors the particulars of the accident. He said Mr. Pierson had been on a business trip to Chester, and started to return to his home in Westfield, boarding the train which consisted of one car and a locomotive. The locomotive was running backwards. A short distance from Chester some men were engaged in wheeling ore across the track, having a board over the rails, for the wheelbarrow to run over. This work had been practiced at that point for five years, and it was known to the trainmen, who trusted to the workmen to remove the board on the approach of a train. This time they failed to take away the board, and in consequence the locomotive was derailed. The passenger car was brought to a sudden stop, and Mr. Pierson, who was the only passenger, was thrown violently from his seat.

He did not suppose he was badly injured at first, but before he reached home he began to feel pains in his back and in one foot. He has grown worse since, and has now for months been in his bed, unable to walk. The result of the accident was a shock which has affected his spinal cord and he will never recover.

A PLAINFIELD MAN'S LUCK.

He Just Escaped a Conjunction of Runaway Horse and Express Train.

The adventures of a Plainfield hardware merchant in the wilds of Cranford are told by the Elizabeth Journal, which says:

"Tuesday afternoon a hardware merchant of Plainfield visited Cranford. He was met at the station by Mr. Kreis, with whom he was well acquainted. The Plainfield man wanted to go on the hill to look after some work, and asked Kreis for the use of his horse and wagon. Kreis hesitated for a moment and told his friend that he did not care about loaning his horse to a strange driver. 'I can drive any kind of a horse,' exclaimed the merchant. The stranger started up Union avenue and all went well until the return was made, when some part of the harness gave away near the station. The gates at the Union avenue crossing were down, waiting for the 2:45 train to pass. The animal ran up against the gates, snapping them off like splinters, and ran across the track just ahead of the train. The driver was thrown from the wagon uninjured. The horse received a few slight bruises."

THEY ATE HIS OYSTERS.

Then He Got Mad and Wanted 'Em Locked Up.

Henry Lewis, a Negro of a light shade, invoked the vengeance of the law on a number of his brethren Thursday night.

Lewis had been in VanName's oyster shop on East Front street, with some friends. He had ordered some oysters, which when he went to eat he found had been devoured by his companions.

They said they thought he meant the sea-fruit for them, and he chased after policemen Lynch and Kiely and demanded that they be locked up.

The policemen went to VanName's and found in the aggregation Jim Scott, Gamey Nelson and Pop Jones. These were very hot at what they termed Lewis's low-down action, but agreed to pay for the oysters and cut his acquaintance.

THEY HEADED FOR HOME.

Warrenville Horses Make Excitement for a Rainy Day.

Quite a little excitement was caused on Thursday by a runaway on Park avenue. A team belonging to John Bornman, who keeps a store in Warrenville, was standing by the freight-house. Bornman was loading the wagon when the off horse became frightened and started to run. The other animal also took fright, at the railroad bridge, and the pair galloped wildly up Park avenue towards Front street. When they reached the latter thoroughfare they turned to the left and going diagonally across the street ran up on the sidewalk in front of Charles Smith's saloon. Here the front wheel of the wagon caught against a telegraph pole, and stopped the rig. No damage was done, except that a little paint was scraped off. Bornman says the team is very restive, and does not like to stand but that he left them for only a minute and expected they would be all right. He is lucky to get off with such slight damage.

Warren's Election.

The annual election of Warren Engine company, No. 1, was held recently, when the following officers were chosen:

Foreman—J. J. Stahl.
First Assistant—David Bodine.
Second Assistant—Horace G. Adams.
Secretary—J. D. Anderson.
Financial Secretary—W. T. Newman.
Treasurer—S. R. Joseph.
Engineer—F. Kellogher.
First Assistant—W. T. Newman.
Second Assistant—W. Kreveson.
Stoker—L. Fleming.
Representative to Fireman's Relief Association—James F. Beekle.

—The Maplewood Gun club and the [illegible] club will contest at live birds on the Springfield Gun club grounds May 20.

—The old Love building on West Front street is rapidly being torn away, to make room for a handsome new brick structure.

A COWARDLY BURGLAR.

HE BRUTALLY ASSAULTS A DEFENSELESS WOMAN.

Mrs. Frank A. Church Was Awakened by His Noise in Her Bedroom, and He Cut Open Her Head and Ran Away—Her Injury Not Dangerous, But the Shock Severe—Nothing of Value Stolen But a Watch and Chain and Some Small Change.

Mrs. Frank A. Church of Craig place was awakened between 2 and 3 Thursday morning by the noise of a burglar in her room, and was brutally assaulted by him before he fled.

Mrs. Church was not seriously injured, but was so prostrated this morning by the shock that THE PRESS reporter would not intrude upon her. He therefore obtained her story from her mother, Mrs. P. M. Demarest.

It seems that the burglar first endeavored to obtain entrance through the laundry in the basement, but found the cellar door opening into the first floor locked and bolted on the inside. He then went outdoors again, locking the laundry up and taking the key with him.

The burglar clambered up the side of the house to the kitchen window, standing on top of a shutter to reach it. He cut away some of the woodwork of the middle of the sash, inserted a knife blade, and slipped back the catch.

When he opened the window he pushed off a brass curtain rod that was set in the sash, climbed over the kitchen table that stood before the window, and went on up stairs.

First he visited the bedroom of Warren, Mrs. Church's sixteen-year-old son, who is a student in Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken.

Warren was sound asleep, and did not awaken while the burglar dumped out the contents of his bureau drawers on the floor and searched them for valuables. He took nothing from Warren's room but $2 in loose change and his gold watch and chain. The young man had some bank bills in his trousers pocket, which were left untouched.

From Warren's room the thief went to Mrs. Church's. The clicking of the handles of the middle bureau drawer as he opened it awoke her. Mr. Church was away; and Mrs. Church, seeing a dark form by the light of a lamp left burning in an adjoining room, called out "Warren, is that you?" thinking it was her son.

The man mumbled something under his breath, and made a step or two towards the bed. Then he went back to the bureau, picked up some weapon which he evidently had laid there, and went in crouching position over to Mrs. Church's bedside.

He seized her by the neck and hair with one hand, and with the weapon in the other dealt her three cruel blows on top of the head.

Then he turned and ran down stairs and out of the kitchen door which he had previously left unbolted ready for flight.

Mrs. Church was a plucky little woman, and did not lose consciousness with pain or faint from terror. She screamed "Bridget!" to her work girl, and the domestic and Warren came running to her room.

Blood was streaming from the gashes in her head, and when Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Demarest came over from their home across the street in response to Warren's calls their first care was to send for physicians.

Dr. Carman was nearest, and responded immediately, Dr. Probasco following closely.

The two dressed her injuries carefully, taking several stitches in her torn scalp. She bore the ordeal bravely. The wounds looked as though they had been inflicted with brass knuckles.

The belief is that the burglar was not a professional. He seemed to be after money, for he passed over, without even testing, $1,000 worth of solid silverware displayed on the buffet. He carried for light, instead of a bullseye lantern, a common hand lamp, which he left behind.

Craig place residents are now arming themselves against repetition of such midnight visits.

HYMENEAL.

Cutter—Mulford.

A pretty wedding took place Thursday night at the residence of E. C. Mulford, 65 East Fifth street, where Miss Lizzie Mulford was married to Frederic Searles Cutter of this city. The announcement with full particulars was made exclusively in last night's PRESS. The happy pair were married by the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, against a bank of palms and Easter lilies. The ushers were Luke Cutter and John Lewis. Flowers were strewn in great profusion about the room, and the effect was extremely pretty. After the ceremony a supper was served by Stephenson, the well-known North avenue caterer, while pleasing music was furnished by Conde and Rogers. The wedding was a charming event throughout.

Among those present were:

Mr and Mrs S Potter Mulford and son, Mr and Mrs O J Ahlstrom, Mr and Mrs H V C Bell, of New York, Mr and Mrs Henry Lewis and son, of Brooklyn, Miss Probasco, of Somerville, Mr and Mrs William A Coddington, Mr and Mrs William Benyon, Dr and Mrs Henry Lowrie, Mr and Mrs G Q Packer, Mr and Mrs Albert Darby, Miss Alice Carroll, Miss Grace Carroll, Miss Chandler, Miss Mills, Miss Gillies, of Plainfield, Miss Alice B Woodruff, Mr and Mrs George J Brown, Mrs John F Dwight, of New York, Miss A A Stansbury, Miss Fannie Woodruff, Mr Williams, Mr and Mrs C B Oliver, son and daughter, Mrs P M Mooney, Charles A Bressler, Mr Freeman, of Rahway, Luke Cutter, Mrs H Frank Cutter, of New York, Mr and Mrs Benjamin Stiles, of Rahway, Frank Woodruff, John Lewis, Miss Addie Lewis, Frank G Wieland, Mr and Mrs Joseph S Cutter, Misses Cutter, Mr and Mrs E C Mulford, Miss Etta Mulford, Mr and Mrs Armstrong Mulford, Miss May Mulford, Miss Carrie Mulford, Miss Mulford, of Plainfield, Miss A Townley, of Rahway, Miss Ruth Meinell, of Plainfield, F V Seaman, of New Brunswick, Mr. Schenck, of Plainfield, Mrs Cutter, of Rahway.

—The soda fountain in H. P. Reynolds's pharmacy is having a new slab put in where the constant dripping has worn away the marble.

—J. H. Buckley, whose wife is a well-known musician, wishes THE PRESS to deny another of the Courier's notorious misstatements, concerning the organization of a female orchestra. He says that Mr. and Mrs. Van Eps who are represented as being at the head of it have absolutely nothing to do with it, and that it is not a new organization but a reforming of the old Schubert Musical society of Plainfield.

THE PRESBYTERIANS TO TAKE IT.

Warren Union Mission to Become Denominational.

The Warren mission, an undenominational chapel over the brook, has been making advances to the various churches in Plainfield in the hope that some strong organization would take it in charge. The Crescent Avenue church decided some time ago to consider the matter; and the Rev. Dr. Richards, pastor of the church, said to a PRESS reporter in reference to it this morning:

"At a business meeting of the Crescent Avenue church, called by the trustees last evening after the prayer meeting, it was resolved by unanimous vote to authorize the trustees to purchase the property of the Warren mission for $900. This action was taken at the request of the mission, and with the understanding that the mission will make such an offer at the earliest possible date, and after it had been ascertained that no other church felt able to assume the responsibility."

The mission will now find itself in able hands, as the Crescent Avenue church is one of the richest and most influential organizations in this city.

IS IT THE PEOPLE'S LIBRARY?

Here's a Critic Thinks It Doesn't Accommodate the Public, and that Good Books are Passed by for Bad.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Can you tell us why the people are going to be taxed three thousand dollars a year for the library when there are so few privileges given them in drawing books, etc? Comparatively few of the people are benefited by the library, because the hours of opening are so very inconvenient—from 2 until 5:30. It is almost impossible for society people to get there during those hours, and school teachers have to rush with their duties to enable them to be on time. Children are the only ones really benefited, and even they not as much as they should be. During noon hours, when the children want to hunt up references, and teachers could get a glance at magazines, etc., and women on their way home from shopping could stop, the place is closed—closed to accommodate some very unaccommodating people. It seems as if the few who are benefited by the present system ought to be the ones taxed.

Then, too, more consideration ought to be given the buying of books and papers. There is but one ladies' journal or magazine in the whole place, notwithstanding the many good ones published. Many of the clean, interesting novels of Marion Crawford are wanting, while volumes of other writers, some not decent for children, are supplied complete.

If you will publish this, it will be a great favor to many beside the writer, for we know the influence of your good paper, and through you hope to bring about some very much needed changes in the management of the Plainfield public library.

R. S.

WON'T DRINK FOR A YEAR.

Patrick Donovan Signs the Pledge, and Judge Coddington's Court is Merciful.

Two offenders were in the city court on Thursday. They were William Wilson and Patrick Donovan, both charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Wilson was adjudged guilty, and given his choice of a $3 fine or 10 days in the county jail. He preferred the latter, and was locked up.

Patrick Donovan said he was guilty, but pleaded for clemency with Judge Coddington. He said that he had a wife and family dependent on him for support, and that if he was locked up he did not know what they would do. He offered to sign the pledge if the judge would let him off. Accordingly a pledge was prepared, and Donovan signed it, agreeing to abstain from intoxicating beverages for one year. The judge suspended sentence on his good behavior.

PETER BRUNSON LOSES HIS CLAIM.

He Sued Mrs. VanDeventer for Services, and Will Have to Pay Back the Money He Borrowed.

The case of Cornelia VanDeventer against Peter Brunson was decided yesterday by Judge Magie in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed with interest. The suit was brought to recover money loaned in 1875, and the defendant set up a counter-claim for services. Judge Magie in his opinion said "Such trivial services as were proved any host might ask any guest to perform without raising any inference of a promise to pay". Messrs. Jackson & Coddington represented the defendant, and E. V. Lindabury the plaintiff.

To See Him Is To Love Him.

The extraordinary success of young Salvini in his revivals of romantic drama at the Manhattan Opera-House, 34th street near Broadway, has been simply stupendous. Mr. Hammerstein's great auditorium is packed nightly to its fullest capacity with Mr. Salvini's ardent admirers, who cheer and applaud him in the most enthusiastic manner. The interest in this school of drama, which may be said to have expired with Fechter, is again revived by this fine young artist, concerning whose quality there has been no dissenting voice in New York. Salvini is, indeed, the Fechter of his time. His engagement at the Manhattan has been extended so that all may have a chance to enjoy this dashing, irresistible, magnetic and fascinating hero in his famous role of D'Artagnan. The Manhattan Opera-House is perhaps the largest and handsomest in the city. Its audiences watch with suppressed excitement the thrilling adventures of the brave D'Artagnan and his three compatriots. The production is most elaborate. The scene showing the harbor of Calais with its shipping and its angry-looking sea is one of the most realistic marine pictures known to the stage; and the salon of the King's Palace, where the wily Cardinal Richelieu is finally outwitted, is calculated to carry one back to the actual grandeur and pomp of the period. Mr. Salvini has revived the drama of romance in a very lavish manner, and is getting as commensurate reward in box office returns as he is making artistic triumph. He is the most genuine success known to the stage in recent years.

The Plainfield Founders to Celebrate.

The anniversary of the founding of the Epworth League will be celebrated by a public gathering in the local M. E. church Sunday evening, May 14. The Visitor promises reports, good music and an address.

Everybody Glad to See Him.

(From The Somerset Messenger.)

Lawyer Charles A. Reed of Plainfield was in town Friday morning and made a pleasant call at this office.

THE CREATION.

Its Delightful Rendering by the Choral Society the Most Successful Concert of the Season.

The oratorio of the Creation, as rendered by the Choral society last Thursday was very fine. The soloists, Mrs. Jennie Patrick Walker, soprano, James H. Ricketson, tenor, and Ericsson Bushnell, bass, had all sung with the society before, Mr. Bushnell having been with them in the same oratorio two years ago. Their voices were well suited to one another, and to the work, with which they seemed thoroughly familiar. Mrs. Walker is to be especially commended in her rendering of "On Mighty Pens" and "In Verdure Clad". Mr. Ricketson also sang "In Splendour Bright" and "In Native Worth" with excellent taste and expression. The patrons of the society have all been waiting for the pleasure of hearing again the separation of water from land and the appearance of animals upon the land, as sung by Mr. Bushnell. They were not disappointed. The brook purled as softly and the creeping worm was as sinuous as ever.

Although many of the chorus were familiar with oratorio, there were a number who had never studied it before. The work showed careful drilling on the part of the conductor, E. J. Fitzhugh, and great attention of the chorus. Their numbers were augmented by several singers from Brooklyn, so that the parts were better balanced than usual. The attack on the final chorus is especially noteworthy, and it is worth mentioning that they were not thrown out on that same chorus by any mistake on the part of Mrs. Walker, which calamity happened in the former production of the oratorio through an error on the part of the soprano who then assisted.

Praise should also be given to the Philharmon club orchestra which sustained its part well, and was at all times subservient to the chorus.

Altogether, the society has had a very successful season. It has tried to please all classes, and has succeeded as far as possible. The concert last evening was perhaps the most entirely satisfactory of all its undertakings.

Last night's audience was large and appreciative, and plentiful applause was showered on chorus and soloists alike. Last night's concert showed plainly the amount of work done by the society in preparing for this great work of Haydn's and it was by far the best thing they have ever done. The choice of the "Creation" was a particularly happy one, as the music is so varied and beautiful throughout that it cannot but interest an audience even if it consists largely of unmusical people. The "Creation" itself lacks the depth and dignity of some oratorios of greater composers, but for a society of ambitious amateurs this is rather an advantage than otherwise, as the music is so graceful and of such varied composition that the other qualities are easily dispensed with. The chorus sang on the whole very well indeed. A little quicker response to the leader might have been desirable. Mrs. Patrick-Walker has a very sweet soprano voice of no great power, but her method is delightful. Mr. Bushnell has a magnificent bass, and uses it with great taste. While Mr. Ricketson's tenor is very pleasing it was evident that he was suffering from a bad cold and could not do his voice justice. The accompaniment was of course exceptionable, and several familiar faces were seen in the orchestra, noticeably Paul Miersch with his 'cello. One of the most pleasing parts in the oratorio was the air by Uriel "In native worth and honor clad", which called forth loud and prolonged applause.

Plainfield should be proud of such a musical organization, but should not rest content with vocal societies. If there were only an orchestra, a real orchestra that could play, Plainfield would be able to boast then with truth of the finest amateur musical society in New Jersey. It is hoped such a club may be seen in the field next season.

LUCKY 13.

That's the Number of Charter Members in the New C. E. Society.

The final organization of the Christian Endeavor society of the Third street mission was completed Thursday, and the new society launches forth with bright prospects.

Superintendent L. Warren Randolph occupied the chair, and conducted the devotional exercises, after which he read the important parts of the by-laws and constitution. The membership book was then opened for signatures, the result being 13 active members to start with.

The nominating committee which was appointed two weeks ago presented a list of names for officers, which were finally elected. They are as follows:

President—Charles E. Thompson.
Vice-president—Miss Mary E. Thorn.
Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Annie Angerbauer.
Corresponding Secretary—Irving L. Brady.

After the election, president Thompson took charge. He made a short prayer, and followed with a few remarks, in which he thanked those present for the honor conferred in electing him as the president. The meeting was then thrown open for testimonies and all the new members responded, besides several others who did not join. A number of those present were not prepared to sign the book last evening who will do so at an early date.

A healthy growth is predicted for the new society. It will meet Sunday evenings at 6:45, and the monthly business meetings will be held Thursday evenings.

Election, Reports and Plans.

The annual meeting for the election of officers and directors of the Young Men's Christian association for the ensuing year will be held at the rooms, Thursday evening, May 11, at 8.

The annual reports of the president and treasurer will be presented and plans of the new building will be exhibited by the architect for the benefit of any who may not have seen them.

A House on Wheels.

The novel sight of a house on wheels was seen this morning on Park avenue near Seventh street. An out-house belonging to J. B. Dumont is being moved from behind his new house at Crescent avenue and Seventh street. The structure is about 12x15 feet in size, and the contractors have placed the whole thing on a four-wheel truck, on which vehicle it will be hauled to its destination.

Pennies Count.

The plate collections are the quarters, the dimes, the nickels, even the pennies that people are willing to drop in the plates at our services. Nobody feels the loss of them, yet they add at least $800 to the local M. E. church income, and the Visitor hopes that its people will give them generously during the coming year.

THE NEGRO HAS SUFFERED MOST.

But the Indian Gets It in the Neck in the Future.

Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. the debate on the question "Resolved, That the Indian has suffered more at the hands of the white man in America than has the Negro", was opened by the presentation of the cause of the Indian by Oscar Campbell.

Beginning with two graphic pictures, the first of the Indian as Columbus found him, the second of the Indian of the present day, Mr. Campbell attributed the downfall of the Indian as seen in the second picture to the persecutions and bad whiskey of the white man. He called attention to the entire destruction of the Five Nations and many other tribes, and said that the suffering of a few Negroes down South was not to be compared with the sufferings of a race covering a whole vast continent.

Charles Fernald then answered that the Aztecs which Columbus saw when he landed were not North American Indians and that the grounds which the white man had taken from the Indian were not stolen, as the lands did not rightfully belong to the Indians but to the Mound Builders, who were the original owners.

He summed up the case for his side as follows:

"The Negro was taken across the ocean far away from his home, and separated from his family. He became the property of another, and was forced by the lash to do his master's work, being lashed sometimes even to the death, while the Indian was allowed his freedom.

"The Negro had no legal redress, while the Indian had full legal redress."

He was followed by Alfred Crane, who spoke of the wholesale slaughter of the Indians on slight pretexts, of their being taken away from their own fertile lands and placed on lands that were practically stone-heaps, on fifty cents a year, and of the treaties which they were forced to accept and which were soon broken by the white man.

Clinton Smith said for the Negro that it was not his lands but his body that was sold in transactions in which the Negro was concerned; that he became a chattel, and an article of commerce, thereby losing his freedom which was his natural right.

Charles McNabb being absent, this was replied to by Alfred Crane, who was in turn followed by Charles Fernald in another summing-up of the negative.

The debate was closed by the reply of Oscar Campbell, after which the judge, John Dalziel, said in delivering his decision that in this case he believed the Negro had the best of the argument; that the Negro had suffered the most, but that the Indian would probably have the worst of it in the future. He wished that an Indian could have been present to present his side.

EVANGELIST MILLS AT MILWAUKEE.

Five Hundred Business Places Close to Observe Mid-Week Sabbath.

A despatch from Milwaukee says: "About five hundred business places, including banks, mercantile houses, and factories, were closed a portion of the day Wednesday in observance of revivalist Mills's mid-week Sabbath. One or two saloons succumbed to the general influence and closed their doors for a few hours and hung out their signs. 'Closed from two or three, to attend the Mills meeting.' Two services were held at the Exposition Building during the day, both of them being largely attended. Next Monday Mr. Mills's five weeks' campaign will come to a close. Up to Tuesday 5,100 conversions were reported."

What Name for the Mother Church?

Methodism in the city of Plainfield—says Dr. Hurlbut in the Visitor—has made a forward movement; and now three voices are heard in its pulpits every Sunday. In the old original church (shall we call it the "First Church" or the "Central Church"?) Dr. Charles E. Barnes now preaches, seemingly as much at home and already as dear to the people as though he had been standing there for years. Our eldest daughter, Monroe Avenue chapel, now enjoys the ministrations of a pastor of its own, though still in affiliation to the "mother church". We welcome the Rev. Herbert L. Munson to his new charge, and hope that his chapel, like its younger sister, may soon grow into a church. The Rev. T. F. Randolph, the new pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church in North Plainfield, has entered upon his work in that most promising field, and has the best wishes from us all. Surely with three congregations and three ministers, our denomination ought to grow in this city.

Her Last Gift to the Work She Loved So Well.

It has been deemed appropriate by the trustees of the home church to permit a plain tablet to be placed in the Monroe Avenue chapel to the memory of Mrs. James McGee whose last public act of worship was performed in this chapel Friday evening, March 25, 1892, and who, on the same day, evinced her interest in its work by making to the chapel her last charitable bequest, donating for its use her own piano. In her memory also the mortgage debt of $2,500 placed on the chapel when it was erected has been cleared.—The Visitor.

Pastor Barnes Gives Thanks.

(Editorial in The Visitor.)

The pastor would do violence to his own feelings if he refrained from expressing his great appreciation of the kindness extended to himself and family since their arrival in Plainfield.

Hearty hand-shakes, pleasant smiles and kind words have helped to make them all feel much at home among those who were aforetime strangers.

The committee of the Ladies' Aid society did splendid service at the parsonage having it all ready for occupancy within a week after the close of the conference.

A Willing Speaker.

A district Methodist Episcopal meeting will be held in St. James church, Elizabeth, May 11. It is desired that as many members of the Plainfield Women's Home Missionary society as can do so will attend. Mrs. Jennie Fowler Willing will be the speaker for the afternoon. There will be morning and afternoon sessions.

Getting Ready Already.

The second annual excursion of Franklin council, 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., to Asbury Park, will take place August 17. The committee in charge consists of L. M. Dunavan, H. G. Adams, D. S. Dunavan, W. H. Martin and A. Wilson.

Worth Every Cent, and More.

The entire cost of carrying on the Methodist Episcopal church of Plainfield is announced by The Visitor to be about $6,000 per annum.

Rates of Advertising

SPACE	WEEKS 1	2	3	MONTHS 1	2	3	6	12
1 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.

Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE

Editors and Proprietors.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Since that historic financial gambler, John Law, nearly two centuries ago inflated in France his Mississippi trading bubble, and made an enormous issue of cash stock, FOUNDED ON FICTION, so plausible and attractive that eager crowds besieged his house day and night clamoring for shares, many similar enterprises have from time to time been concocted for the purpose of despoiling honest and confiding people of their money and filling the pockets of unprincipled speculators.

The financial scheme of Law of course exploded into nothingness, a fate sure to overtake, sooner or later, all similar designs, no matter where or under what auspices put forth.

We have now in this country a large and increasing brood of like financial varmints, falsely termed "Industrials."

Individual and corporate interests are combined into single-headed monopolies, ostensibly to manufacture and traffic in Sugar, Cordage, Lead, Whiskey, etc., etc.

Variegated assets are capitalized to the high water mark of millions upon millions of dollars, and made speculative foot-balls on the Stock Exchange.

Flaming prospectuses, predicting wonderful earnings, are freely published, with the intent of securing public subscriptions to inflated shares and bonds.

Inside manipulators have doubtless caught and shorn thousands of outside dupes. May future victims be few and far between?

In much less time than it took John Law's fraudulent scheme to explode, one of these modern money grabs last week burst its financial boiler and caused both bulls and bears to skip the ranch.

If all the others are speedily compelled to follow suit sound business of every kind will be the permanent gainer, for it remains an indisputable fact, that no system of finance can promote the general welfare unless it is solidly based upon legitimate business and managed with adamantine honesty.

JUSTICE TO LABOR.

Advices from Philadelphia state that the Reading Railroad Managers had absolutely abolished four Vice-Presidential offices thereby saving to the Company between $80,000 and $100,000 a year.

We do not for a moment call in question the personal abilities of the gentlemen thus deprived of sumptuous salaries, but the incident confirms what we have before said—that inequality of service pay exists as a general rule within corporate institutions.

Of course we are ignorant of the exact rate of compensation given the clerical and manual labor employees of the Reading Company, but we venture to assert, that an examination of the pay-rolls would show marked discrimination against the many who really do the work and in favor of those who hold official positions.

What we contend for is simple justice. Pay no one from the President down extravagantly, but reward all generously and justly in accord with services actually rendered.

To advocate equitable remuneration for wage-earners of every grade is merely honoring the fundamental principles of right.

FINANCIAL DUTY.

The financial duty of the United States Government is plain and positive.

It is to collect revenues authorised by law and to pay them out according to law.

To promptly meet every public obligation, to keep its currency issues sound and redeemable, and to maintain at all hazards the national credit.

That is the whole financial scope of Government.

It has nothing to do with Banking operations, with the tightness or flushness of the money market, nor with speculative interests of any character.

Every patriotic citizen and association will heartily aid the present Administration in its faithful adherence to official duty.

Daring to do right is the badge of political honor and the guarantee of public safety.

The execution of Carlisle Harris on Monday last for the murder of his wife Helen Potts, by poison, closes one of the most remarkable episodes in criminal affairs. The punishment was just for the offense committed, and its fulfillment has asserted the right of society to defend itself. The courts and the Executive of New York, by their firmness have demonstrated not only that "murder will out," but that it shall be punished with all the penalty that the law affixes to it. Every murderer feels the noose draw the harder, and many a human being will well weigh his acts before following Harris' example.

President Cleveland can no longer stand the pressure of the office-seekers, and has announced that a due regard for public duty will oblige him to decline, hereafter, all personal interviews with those seeking appointments, except such as he may, on his own motion, especially invite.

Ex-Sheriff N. K. Thompson assumed his new duties as Street Commissioner of Elizabeth, Monday morning last. "Nat." made a good Sheriff and we doubt not will make the citizens of Betsytown a good Street Commissioner.

NOTHING FOR A YEAR.

Rector Jennings Says the Annual Convention Now in Session Can't Settle His Case.

It was expected the discontented parishioners of the Rev. Joseph B. Jennings, of Grace Episcopal church, Westfield, would appear before the 109th annual convention of the New Jersey Episcopalian diocese, at New Brunswick, Tuesday. The vestry recently elected by pastor Jennings and that elected by his opponents both had representatives at the convention, but neither was permitted to have seats. Pastor Jennings, as a clergyman, was allowed a seat among the other clerical delegates, but all others from Westfield were excluded.

The double representation from Westfield was first referred to the credentials committee, and it was thought that in the fight for the seating of the delegates all the grievances on both sides of the dispute would be aired. The committee took hardly five minutes over the matter, however, reporting back to the convention that the Westfield church was not entitled to any lay representation on the floor, because for years it has been in arrears to the diocese and has steadfastly refused to pay up. This practically disposed of the whole matter, and those of Mr. Jennings's opponents who were present took the next train for home.

The convention could not have tried Mr. Jennings even had formal charges been made against him. Secretary Smith made this statement to a reporter:

"This convention is not an ecclesiastical court and its duties are confined strictly to business concerning the affairs of the church. If charges were made against Mr. Jennings they could not come up here, but would be heard by a court appointed by the Bishop. The Westfield church has no standing here because it is in arrears."

Pastor Jennings was at the convention all day. He said the report about his going to be tried was instigated by his enemies. "Most of the stuff published about this alleged trial is all bosh"—he said.—"This convention could not try me, because it has no power and because no charges have been made. The courts have sustained me at every stage of the civil proceedings so far. In this convention my church has not had any standing for years. When I first took charge of it I tried to get the vestry to clear it from disgrace by paying their arrears, but year after year they refused to. Now I have a vestry who are willing to place the church on an honorable footing, and who will pay off the debt to the diocese as soon as the amount can be determined."

At to-day's session of the convention, Mr. Jennings will submit a communication to the standing committee, setting forth the willingness of his vestry to regain its place by paying up arrears. The matter cannot be settled before next year's convention.

Several members of the convention spoke to Mr. Jennings about the trouble in his church and tried to persuade him to suspend civil proceedings because of the way the Bishop had been brought into the matter. He replied that the other side was the offending party and that it was the duty of his opponents to withdraw first, as they had really begun the proceedings.

PLAYFUL WORK.

Cute and Funny Doings at the Exhibition of Plainfield Little Tots.

A charming exhibition of kindergarten work took place in the meeting room of All Souls' church yesterday afternoon preceding the lecture on the subject by Mrs. A. N. Chadwick.

All the available chairs were in use to accommodate the numerous people who had been attracted by the opportunity of seeing the little tots go through their various manoeuvres.

The class was in charge of Miss Carroll, who is in the kindergarten department at the school of Misses Scribner and Newton, where the little ones were taught.

A large circle was drawn on the wooden floor in chalk, and a long low table with a number of small chairs about it was placed within the circle. Six diminutive children nicely selected as to size entered from the wings, (in this case a lace curtain) and having marched around the circle a few times took their places at the table. Each of the children was given a supply of blocks, and they proceeded to build numbers of interesting things: churches, monuments, railroad stations with houses for the signal men, country houses, city houses, and other objects instructive and amusing. More children were then called in, and, forming a ring, the entire accumulation of small tots proceeded to dance about and sing.

This was simply the introduction, as after the opening chorus the assembled mammas were treated to diminutive part-songs and solos, including "Taddypole and Pollywog" to the time-honored tune of "Gaudeamus Igitur", with a graphic representation of the actions of these creatures: the Robins, performed by a little girl in bright red and a small brown boy, the Butterflies, the Pigeon House, the Carpenter: accompanying them with many pleasing ditties.

After the performance Mrs. Chadwick explained to the ladies the methods and use of kindergarten work, and all were much interested.

The lecture proved so pleasing that Mrs. Chadwick was engaged immediately afterward for a lecture on "The Kindergarten and the Sunday-School" to be delivered in next year's course of afternoon lectures.

It was unanimously agreed by those who lingered after Mrs. Chadwick had left to discuss the afternoon's talk that it had been the most interesting of all the lectures in the course.

THE STORY OF DAVID.

From the Old Ark on the Sands to the Shipwreck.

The favorite story of David Copperfield will be impersonated by Leland T. Powers in the lecture room of the First Baptist church, Monday evening, May 15, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Missionary society of the church. The admission will be 50 cents. Mr. Powers will impersonate the following characters:

CHARACTERS IMPERSONATED BY MR. POWERS.

Fisherman Peggotty	Lawyer Wickfield
Ham, his nephew	Agnes Wickfield
David Copperfield	Little Em'ly
Steerforth	Betsy Trotwood
Uriah Heep	Mrs. Micawber
Mr. Micawber	Martha Endell

Act I.
- a. The old ark on the sands.
- b. At Mr. and Mrs. Micawber's.

Act II.
- a. Law office of Wickfield & Heep.
- b. Little Em'ly's flight.

Act III.
- a. A winter's night in Canterbury.
- b. Mr. Micawber aroused.

Act IV.
- a. Mr. Micawber assists at an exploding.
- b. Em'ly's return.—The shipwreck.

More Pictures for the Public Gallery.

A number of valuable oil paintings from the collection of Wm. B. Clarkson have been loaned by him to the Art Gallery, and will be placed on exhibition there the latter part of this month. Julian Scott's good taste and experience will be utilized in hanging the pictures. It is probable that Mr. Clarkson will make a gift of one or more of the paintings to the library.

Too Much Mother-in-Law.

Maggie Moffett, wife of William Moffett, of Westfield, has applied to Overseer Cox for support, claiming that she cannot live with her mother-in-law, and her husband refuses to support her elsewhere than at his mother's home.

HYMENEAL.

Foote—Worth.

At the home of the bride on Park place, Monday night, took place the wedding of Miss Mary Whiteman, daughter of E. G. Foote, and William O. Worth. Because of the dangerous illness of the groom's mother, the wedding was a quiet one. The Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., officiated. The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with Irish point-lace, imported by her father for the occasion. The presents were as handsome as ever received by any happy couple, and so numerous as to fill a room. Among them was a full set of silverware from the bride's father. The room was decorated with white roses and tulips. Ruse, of Elizabeth, was the caterer.

Cheshire—Mowinkel.

Friends of the contracting parties will be surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Sophia M. Mowinkel, daughter of William Mowinkel, to George W. Cheshire, both of this city, which took place March 11, the Rev. Wesley Martin, officiating, at the home of the bride's parents, 136 Duer street.

WARREN MISSION'S CHANGE.

The Chapel Members Agree to the Terms of the Crescent Church.

The final meeting for consummating the transfer of the Warren Mission property to the Crescent Avenue church took place Monday night at the chapel in North Plainfield. A large number of the members were in attendance, and it was unanimously decided to transfer the property at once. As stated in a recent issue of THE PRESS, the mission was to transfer all its real and personal property to the Crescent Avenue church for the sum of $200. The mission, as it goes to the church, is free from debt, and is sure of able support. At the meeting last night the trustees of the mission were instructed to draw up the proper papers and make the necessary changes in the constitution. The legal part of the matter will be attended to to-day or to-morrow. No minister has yet been selected to take charge of the acquired property, and the pulpit will be filled temporarily by various invited clergymen. The entire business attendant on the change of superintendence has been most pleasant, and the members and those interested in the mission will now be sure of its successful career as a branch of the most powerful church in Plainfield.

ROBBED BY TOUGHS.

The Frenchman Was a Stranger, and They Took Him In.

A Frenchman from Mt. Bethel came to Plainfield from Elizabeth on Monday on a Jersey Central train. Of a quartette of young fellows who got aboard at Fanwood he inquired the way to a hotel in Plainfield. They volunteered to guide him, and on leaving the train at the North avenue station they led him away up the track towards Netherwood.

Having arrived at a spot conveniently dark and isolated, they promptly and with great unanimity proceeded to knock him down and rifle his pockets. Having abstracted $20 in cash from his clothes, they laughed a mocking laugh and vanished.

The Frenchman ruefully rubbed his sore head and painfully made his way back to the station.

He reported his mishap to the police, and they did all in their power to find the robbers, but the miscreants had made good their escape.

John Benner, who keeps the Fanwood road-house, said that no such quartette had been at his place.

WANT TO DISBAR HIM.

VanNess Out on Bail Again.

Lawyer J. K. VanNess has pleaded not guilty in the New York courts to the charge of forgery, and is home again on bail.

The amount of VanNess's bail was $9,000.

Charles B. VanWinkle has returned to Plainfield and says he is through serving VanNess. He denies that the detectives traced VanNess through him, and says a Captain Farnum was the one shadowed. Farnum acted as messenger between VanNess and friends.

To-day a motion was made in the New York courts to disbar VanNess from practice. A referee was appointed to take testimony to decide the motion.

Mr. VanWinkle says he is confident of VanNess's innocence.

JOHN NELSON AT MORRIS PLAINS.

Worry Over His Age and Loss Drives Him Insane.

John Nelson, of Westfield, a widely-known colored man about this neighborhood, and the father of Frank Nelson, of this city, was taken to the Morris Plains asylum Monday. He was robbed some time ago of all his savings, and it is believed that worry over the loss and the impossibility to recover it at his age, drove him out of his mind.

A Sure Winning Team.

The Knoxville, Tenn., Gun club have announced a three days' shooting tournament to be held May 23, 24 and 25, and offer extraordinarily large prizes to competitors. The American Wood Powder company, of New York, intend entering five of the best crack shots that can be selected from some one club in New Jersey to compete with a like number from any other club in the United States for a diamond scarf pin and a purse of $100. The pin is donated by the American Wood Powder company, and the $100 by the Knoxville Gun club, and knowing that the Union Gun club of Springfield, N. J., has as fine material as can be had, have picked their five men from this club. It is stated that the Union Gun club team will be composed of Enoch D. Miller, Wm. Sigler, Wm. Wolstencroft, Major Heber Breintnall, and our own "Dutchy" Charley Smith. With such a team the powder company and the gun club may as well make up their minds to surrender to them the trophies. The American Wood Powder company are aware that all of the above mentioned shooters use their powder, and that is another reason why they selected them to constitute the team.

A Word or Two for Mr. Stilliger.

THE PRESS is pleased to say by request that Mr. Stilliger, the "dude" who was "sassy" and who violated the law in regard to bicycles using the sidewalks, promptly paid the fine. The charge was made purely out of malice. As to respectability and sobriety his character stands equally as good with the community as the complainant in the case.

An Example for the Church.

The miserable sloping brick sidewalk on the Mercer street side of banker Jas. F. Parker's beautiful residence, has been taken up, and a smooth one of cement is being laid. It will be a decided improvement to Mr. Parker's property, and a great public benefit. THE PRESS hopes to see the Holy Cross church do likewise.

Catarrh in New England.

Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles.—G. K. Mellor, Druggist, Worcester, Mass.

I believe Ely's Cream Balm is the best article for catarrh ever offered the public.—Bush & Co., Druggists, Worcester, Mass. [illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents. AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

39y

TILL THE DOCTOR COMES.

One of Plainfield's Best Physicians Tells Just What to Do.

The first of the series of four emergency lectures was held Tuesday in the Irving school-house, Fourth street and Monroe avenue. Dr. William H. Murray was the lecturer, and he kept his audience interested for an hour and a half. This lecture was really an introduction to the course, as Dr. Murray began by telling something about the human body, how it is made up, and the position of the various parts, and their relation to each other.

Beginning with the bones, the foundation or support of the body, he said:

There are three kinds of bones, flat bones, like those in the skull, short bones, like the bones of the hand and wrist, and long bones such as the arm and leg bones. Of these three the long bones are the ones most often injured, and injuries to the others are either too slight to need any special attention, or too serious for anyone but a surgeon to treat. The bones themselves are made up of two elements, the animal and the mineral; the latter being chiefly lime. For an infant the animal matter of the bones predominates, and the limb is easily bent out of shape; but, owing to the elasticity of the cartilage, it springs back into shape. As a person grows older the percentage of lime increases, and the bones grow brittle, making a fall dangerous.

The joints next take our attention. They are the ends of the bones held together by tough tissues or ligaments. We all have heard of strains and sprains. A strain is where one turns his ankle, for instance, and it hurts a little but comes back into position all right.

If the joint is sprained, however, the ligaments are torn from the bone and it may be necessary to keep the member quiet longer than if a bone had been broken. The muscles are masses of fiber made up of small bundles of fiber each having the power of growing shorter and thicker at the will of the individual. The skeleton is covered with these bundles of muscles so that the greater variety of movements can be effected. The cords are the ends of the muscles, and are attached to the various bones. Most of the muscles are controlled directly from the brain by the will of the individual, but there are a great number that are called involuntary muscles that cannot be controlled by the will. Such are the muscles of the throat; after the first swallowing movement takes place, the food is carried down into the stomach without the will of the swallower. The heart is a muscle and keeps up its action, with very slight intervals between the beats, throughout life.

The heart is in reality a pump, and on its proper action life depends. It pumps the blood from the lungs, whence it comes pure and charged with the oxygen of the air we breathe, to the various parts of the body through the arteries and their branches. These arteries gradually divide themselves up into tiny little tubes through the walls of which the blood passes into the living tissues of the body. Here it discharges its load of oxygen and nourishing matter and takes up the waste products, going back to the heart and lungs through a series of pipes similar in construction to the arteries. When an artery is cut it will be known by the blood coming from the wound in spurts. When the cut is in a vein the blood comes in a slow and steady stream. This difference is important, as to stop the flow of blood from an arterial cut the pressure should be above, or on the heart side of the cut; while for a cut of a vein the pressure should be applied below the wound. The particular places to find the arteries will be told in the next lecture. The rate of the heart beat should be next considered. This in a child may be much higher without danger than in an adult. The average rate for a man is 70 per minute, while that of a woman is somewhat higher. A child may have heart beat of from 130 to 140 per minute, without any sign of danger, but in a grown person this rate may be dangerous. This same difference in limits of danger is true for rate of breathing and for the temperature of the body. Normal breathing rate about 20 per minute.

Normal temperature of body, 98½. The limit for children in both cases being higher.

In bandaging a wound, the first thing, if possible, is to see that it is perfectly clean. Put nothing on the wound but clean water to wash it with. There is no such thing as a healing salve or ointment, and the less you put on a cut the better. Take clean linen if you can get it, and do not put on anything that absorbs the blood rapidly, such as burlap or old carpet, as absorbing the blood keeps the wound bleeding. The sling is the simplest form of bandage, and should be large and square, folded once across diagonally, and broad enough to support the arm from well over the elbow to the end of the hand. Do not allow the hand to droop, but let it rest in the sling. To bandage any part of the head, a form of chin bandage is used. This is a strip of cloth about 30 inches long and 4 wide, torn lengthwise down the middle, from each end, to within 5 inches of the centre, leaving a piece of cloth in the middle to cover the wound. The two strips on either side can be tied so that the bandage will not slip. This form may also be used to bandage the knee.

For those who have to be on their feet all day, the veins of the leg may become swelled and very painful. This is called varicose veins, and may be helped very much by a tight bandage from the ankle to the knee. This will be found to be a great help to many who are troubled in that way.

Wrecked in a Collision.

Lew Coombs, bartender in Hotel Granada, had a very narrow escape from serious injury, Saturday morning. He was riding and coasting with his new Columbia model bicycle on the Netherwood hill, and in turning too short lost control of the machine. The result was that Coombs ran directly into a carriage. The handle and side bars of the bicycle were wrenched off, and one of the pedals was bent almost beyond recognition. The rider was only slightly injured, but the wheel is practically a wreck. Coombs walked home from Netherwood.

Didn't Get the Money.

The laborers and contractor engaged in excavating the cellar for the new Y. M. C. A. building on Front street had trouble Saturday. One of them claimed that he had $9.37 due him from last month and because the contractor refused to allow the claim unless the laborer showed his book of time the latter would not take the money. The contractor took the money and went away.

Denies the Husband's Story.

Wm. Schorb, in reply to the statement of J. D. Ammerman of Pottersville concerning Mrs. Ammerman, says that the woman has been engaged for seven weeks in nursing Mrs. Schorb, who has been ill for nearly three months. Her services were secured through relatives in New Germantown, where Mrs. Ammerman comes from, and she has been here simply as a nurse attending to duty and not in any way as a runaway wife seeking the society of any more favored man. Mr. Schorb says further that 'Liah McGrundy has nothing to do with the woman.

So that All May See.

Some complaint has been made by the local patrons of base-ball that the score board on the ball ground was not clear and distinct enough, so captain Hedden has taken the matter in charge and will give the public the benefit of his extensive experience by having a new board so arranged that all will be able to see the score. [illegible]

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street, NEWARK, N. J.

'TWILL PAY YOU

To Personally See Our Stock of

Furniture and Carpets

BEFORE BUYING ELSEWHERE.

Prices and Terms Easier than Ever.

You may say advertisements are not always truthful. Perhaps so. We guarantee you complete satisfaction in prices, styles, quality and terms. But we desire you to make a personal inspection for yourself of the goods before buying here or elsewhere. This is all we ask!!

This "Old Reliable" Rocker $2.50.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shanes, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. 121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City. 213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.

REDUCED RATES

FRANK'S

345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY.

STOP AND CONSIDER

What you are doing when purchasing a piano or organ. You do not want to pay a large price for an inferior instrument, therefore you would naturally buy from responsible dealers. We are such, and we offer you the very best piano or organ procurable for the money, and hold ourselves responsible for the action of same.

PIANOS RENTED AND EXCHANGED.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY,

657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

Used to Be Plainfield's Favorite.

At the Roseville M. E. church Monday night the Ladies' Aid society gave a reception to the new pastor, the Rev. Dr. A. H. Tuttle and his family. The attendance proved unexpectedly large, the rooms being crowded to their fullest capacity and requiring the opening up of the galleries. A profusion of flowers and decorative plants with draperies and hangings in pink and white tastefully arranged, and a canopy, under which Dr. and Mrs. Tuttle received, made the parlors most attractive. During the evening Miss Marie Gadimus, of Montclair, rendered several piano solos, playing among others Liszt's "Rigoletto" and William Mason's "Silver Spring". Messrs. Charles E. Fisher and Arthur G. Banister sang a couple of duets. Dr. Tuttle's pastorate is opened with bright prospects in both social and religious lines, and this night was no exception to the trend of success. It was easily the largest social gathering ever held in the church.

Straws Show How the Wind Blows.

"J." advertised in THE PRESS and The Courier for a furnished room. The PRESS ad brought him a dozen answers, the Courier's none. That's everyone's experience. The PRESS "wants and offers" column is read; the Courier's isn't. It's a matter of circulation. The overwhelming difference in the amount of live ads in THE PRESS'S favor, proves the popularity of this paper as an advertising medium.

Boys and Babies.

The great mass of [illegible]

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting held April 5, 1893, adopted the following resolution, viz:

Resolved: That a requisition be made upon the Assessor and Collector of Taxes for this City and School District to assess and collect this current year the sum of [illegible] on the taxable valuation of the real and personal property in the city and district for school purposes for the school year, 1893-4, commencing September 1, 1893; and also such sums as may be required for the annual payment on indebtedness and interest. This requisition to be signed by the President and Secretary of the Board and a copy to be served on the Assessor and Collector and advertised in compliance with the law governing the same.

Signed

GEORGE H. BABCOCK, Pres't.

E. L. FINCH, Sec.

Plainfield, N. J., April 5, 1893.

E. C. Morris Safe Co

Incorporated. Capital $500,000.

Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.

64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.

[illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between John F. Gedenbeck, complainant, and George L. Babcock, et. al. defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MAY, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Central avenue and Seventh street [illegible] which are given to secure a portion of the consideration money therefor.

W. H. Hicks, Sheriff.

WM. M. STILLMAN, Sol'r.

ED L & C Fees $ 20 4 27 5w

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo. W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.

FREDERICK W. McCULLY.

Dated March 1, 1893. 3 9 10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellius M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D., 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the fifth day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.

J. KEARNEY RICE, Present Judge,
MATHEW O'GORMAN,
M. FREEMAN,
Judges.

Leonard Furman, Surrogate. 5 11 6

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas Blackwell, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ALVAH A. CLARK.

Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catherine Sauerman, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause and bearing date on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1893 I, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of the said Catherine Sauerman, deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue on next, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises situated at No. 24 and [illegible] West Sixth street in the city of Plainfield, Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of Ziba Wooden's land; thence running with his line a northwesterly course about one hundred and seventy-four feet to a stone another of Ziba Wooden's corners, and that of Joseph Perinee; thence with Joseph Perinee line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Perinee corners; thence running a southeasterly course about one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand, eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, Administrator.

Dated May 10, 1893.

C Fees $7 90 5 11 5

FURS

And all kinds of wearing apparel

STORED

And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO

W. H. AND B. BURNETT,

17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

DO YOU
COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S
BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Can You Solve Puzzles?

"COMBINATIONS"

The greatest puzzle ever invented has been presented by Sam Loyd, the famous puzzleist, to the NEW YORK PRESS CLUB CHARITY FUND in aid of sick and impoverished journalists.

Price, 10 Cents,

the entire money received going to the CHARITY AND BUILDING FUND.

Public spirited merchants in order to give the puzzle a more intense interest have offered prizes of Steinway Pianos, Knox Hats, Billiard Tables, Mason and Hamlin Organs, etc.

Don't fail to secure this latest novelty, and thus instruct and amuse yourself and at the same time aid a worthy cause.

Address

N. Y. PRESS CLUB BUILDING & CHARITY FUND, Temple Court, N. Y.

9 to 31-c

THE PLAINFIELD

PACKING HOUSE

25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods.

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb, Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

All goods delivered free of charge.

Telephone 141.

C. M. [illegible]

$5 Gold Pieces

GIVEN AWAY.

AMOS H. VANHORN.

LIMITED,

73 MARKET STREET,

Will Give $5.00 in Gold

To every purchaser of $50 worth or more of Carpets and Furniture.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.

LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-2-1y

TOWNSEND'S

Marble & Granite Works,

30 SOMERSET STREET,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you. I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell agents, or those that will enable me to put up the work at credit to myself and justice to the customer. I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction to the extent of the profits of the agent. [illegible] Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,

Manager. 8 11 tf

Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

THE SUN.

During 1893 THE SUN will be of surpassed excellence and will print more news and more pure literature than ever before in its history.

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Daily, by mail, $6 a year.
Daily and Sunday by mail, $8 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

Scientific American Agency for
PATENTS
Scientific American

: NEWARK :

BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make The Great Store It Is.

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE

STOCK LIST No. 10.

SHOES

MEN'S
Calf Skin, Lace and Congress
Rubber Boots and Overshoes
Rubber Sole Tennis Shoes
Fancy Slippers for home wear
Patent Leather Pumps and Oxfords
Warm Lined Felt Slippers
Lamb's Wool and Cork Soles
Broadcloth Overgaiters
Cork Sole Lace Shoes

BOYS' AND YOUTH'S
Shoes for Dress and School Wear
Patent Leather Dress Shoes
Patent Leather Pumps and Oxfords
Russet Leather High and Low Shoes
Canvas Shoes, leather trimmed
Rubber Sole Tennis Shoes
Fancy and Plain House Slippers
Leather Leggins, all colors

Shoe Blacking for Men and Boys
Shoe Dressing for Ladies and Children
Shoe Dressing for Russet and Red Shoes
Liquid Bronze for Fancy Shoes
Heel Plates and everything else appertaining to a first-class Shoe Department.

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.

707 to 721 BROAD STREET.

Mail Orders Solicited.

NOTICE. March 11, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann Banta, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—A number of Plainfield veterans expect to join in the National G. A. R. encampment at Indianapolis Sept. 4-9.

—Saturday night the bicycle fiends were out. In all three were stolen, and so far as reported only one of them has been recovered.

—F. W. Westphal & Son are to protect their patrons from the wet by an iron awning in front of their store at 68 West Fourth street.

—Tools used on a new building on Richmond street, being put up by J. H. Mills, were stolen Sunday evening, by thieves who broke into the closet where they had been left.

—Is the Crescent team good enough to run up against ball players like the Young Americas of Philadelphia? Saturday afternoon will show.

—The newly elected borough marshals, before they can serve, must fill out blanks furnished by the borough clerk and be sworn in by the Mayor.

—A young resident of Putnam avenue, who had had the tool bag stolen from his bicycle at the ball grounds, hid it under the grand stand, Saturday. But it was stolen even then.

—Under the care of Dr. W. C. Boone, John Heffner, who was badly squeezed by the falling on him of one of the heavy parts of a press he was setting up in the Scott works, is getting better.

—George Washington Mundy, son of Clarkson Mundy, janitor of Trinity Reformed church, is doing very well after the operation of Drs. Field, Cooper and Benedict, at Westfield, last Saturday.

—The councilmanic fire and building committee Friday night granted permission to Charles VanWinkle to erect a 10x10 stall on Central avenue, and to A. M. Griffen to build a bicycle storage room in the rear of his store.

—Your furs want proper attention, or the moths and mould will ruin them. Better send to the George C. Treadwell Co., 17 Academy street, Newark, and have them looked after better than anyone else can do it. See their ad.

—H. H Baker has put up as a sample, a street sign hanging from the edge of the electric lamp shade at North and Park avenues, meant to be visible at night. He will try to have the council make a contract to put them at every corner.

—Over 1,700 feet of track on the Somerset street railway has already been laid, but the force of laborers is small and the work is, in consequence, slow. The day of the circus some of the men went to work, but others refused to, and the superintendent had to go to the circus grounds looking for them.

—Send a dime to the Press Club Building and Charity fund, Temple Court, New York, and get the wonderful souvenir puzzle-game which involves a principle of addition hitherto unknown. It is by the author of the famous "15 Puzzle", "Pigs in Clover," etc., who is a well known metropolitan newspaper man.

THE SEXTON GONE.

Mysterious Disappearance After Sunday Evening's Services.

George Johnson has been the faithful sexton for a long time at the Park Avenue Baptist church. His work has always been satisfactory, and he apparently has been pleased and contented.

Last Sunday he was at his usual post of duty, and nothing strange or out of the way was noticed about his actions, but that is the last time he was seen. Very mysteriously he has disappeared, and has not left a trace by which he could be found. When he left the church Sunday the gas was left burning and continued so until some of the members discovered it.

Diligent inquiry and search have been made, but to no avail, and his whereabouts is as much of a mystery as ever.

His sudden disappearance is becoming a cause for serious anxiety as to his safety.

In conversation with a PRESS reporter, pastor J. W. Richardson said that the man had no known cause for leaving, as he received good pay for his services and had a very comfortable position.

The fires in the church was allowed to go out and water was found running in the tank.

Johnson is a single man and has always lived a very quiet life He was highly esteemed by the members of the church.

THE DETECTIVES WENT TO SLEEP.

Is This a Fairy Story About Scotch Plains Vigilants?

The Westfield Standard says that a number of Scotch Plains citizens met a week ago Saturday evening and concluded to watch for fire-bugs as it had been noised around that several suspicious persons were in town and it was feared that unless they were watched another fire might take place. A very quiet meeting was held among the citizens and after waiting for several detectives from the Jerusalem road the search began. Some had shot guns, while the others had clubs, revolvers, broomsticks and other deadly weapons, and after a thorough search was made no trace of the supposed fire-bugs could be found. While the search was being made several of the detectives fell fast asleep on the sidewalk and remained there until their comrades awakened them. The search was finally given up.

SEND IN YOUR CURIOS.

They'll Be Safe in Y. M. C. A. Hands and Used to Good Advantage.

The youths' department of the Y. M. C. A. will give a loan exhibition of curios, June 5 and 6, to which contributions are invited. The articles loaned will be guaranteed safe from loss or injury, and will serve an admirable purpose.

The object of the exhibition is to obtain material for the formation of a museum for the use and entertainment of the members of the Young Men's Auxiliary, many of whom are too young to be interested in reading after school hours but who would be both interested and instructed in examining objects of natural history, minerals and ancient things which are valued for their connection with the early history of our country.

SHE SAVED HER CASH.

But Only Because of Her Forethought in Taking It With Her.

Mrs. George Demarest, of 53 Warren street, left her house securely locked at 1 p. m. yesterday. When she returned at 3:30 every door and window was still fastened as she had left them, but someone had ransacked every room. Bedding, the contents of bureau drawers, and everything else, were turned topsy-turvy in a vain search for money.

Mrs. Demarest had taken $60 in cash with her, in her pocket. Evidently that is what the thief was after, for he took nothing else.

Suspicion rests on a person who is thought to have a key.

WAS HE IN LOVE WITH THE ACTRESS?

Did you ever see a saucy child,
Or a woman all severe,
Brave to the time of danger,
And in safety showing fear;
Did you ever see a woman—
A bewildering, pretty elf—
[illegible]

PERSONALIA.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Abbott have returned from the South.

Joseph E. Meeker secured his commission yesterday as justice of the peace.

Sheriff George A. Dille has sold to Alfred D. Cook land in North Plainfield for $4,000.

Mr. and Mrs. VanDeventer of Fifth street and Franklin place are happy over the advent of a daughter.

The date of Mrs. David P. Hall's lecture on "Books and Reading" in All Souls' church is set for May 24 at 4 p. m.

F. H. Andrews of Broadway, who has been temporarily located at the Albion, is moving into his new house on Central avenue.

S. B. Josephs was confirmed to election in Warren Engine company last night, and John Bettmann and George Schlereth were exempted.

Mrs. Sophia Habiltz and daughter, of New York, are the guests of Mrs. Habiltz's brother, Henry Windham of East Front street.

E. P. Bennett, a resident of Topeka, Kansas, and the largest importer of Percheron horses in the country, is a guest of Percy C. Ohl.

The Rev. and Mrs Wm. Humpstone are visiting A. T. Slauson of Ninth street for a few days. Mr. Slauson is a son of Mrs. Humpstone

Miss Ada Apgar, daughter of Prof. A G. Apgar of the Normal school at Trenton, is the guest of Miss Mineola Tomlinson of LaGrande avenue.

William E. MacClymont, organist of the First Baptist church, is planning for another of his enjoyable organ recitals, to take place during this month.

P. J. Daley and family have removed from 47 Chatham street to 76 Manning avenue, North Plainfield, which property Mr. Daley recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Benton of New York are guests at the Albion. Mr. Benton formerly lived at Dunellen and was at one time a pupil in the High school here.

The remains of the late wife of Dr. F. S. Wells, were Thursday taken from the receiving vault in Hillside cemetery and transferred to a desirable plot on the "mount".

Dr. Edward Rushmore of this city was elected chairman of the board of censors of the New Jersey Homœopathic Medical society, at the annual session in Trenton, Tuesday.

J. P. Munn and family, of LaGrande avenue, will leave Wednesday for Richfield Springs, where they will spend the summer. They will take their servants with them.

Leland T. Powers will read from David Copperfield in the First Baptist church the evening of May 15, for the benefit of the Young Ladies' Missionary society of the church.

Adam Blair, recently one of the obliging and faithful letter carriers of the Plainfield postal service, has bought the livery stable business of Irving Stelle, and deserves liberal patronage.

Among the Wall street firms that went to the wall Friday was that of W. L. Patton & Co. Mr. Patton is a prominent resident of this city, and his partner is his nephew Henry L. Saltonstall.

F. A. Dunham, who has been city engineer of Dunkirk for the past two years, has been again unanimously elected, notwithstanding the fact that there were several local competitors for the position.

Louis E. Waring, of Park avenue, will leave for Chicago in a few days to remain all summer in charge of the exhibit at the World's Fair of the Standard Oil company of which his father, ex-councilman O. T. Waring, is the representative.

James M. Tomey of this city, brother of the groom, was best man at the wedding of Miss Jennie A. Kent of Hastings, England, to Henry Tomey of Hampton Junction, at Elizabeth, Thursday evening. A number of the guests were from Plainfield.

Dr. J. L. Hurlbut has finally decided not to remove from Plainfield to New York until September. His family will spend the months of July and August at Chautauqua, as usual; and after their return will transfer their residence to the city.

FLIT FROM FLOWER TO FLOWER.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bushnell have returned from New York and taken up their residence at "The Elms", 116 East Front street, for two months, when they will go to the seashore.

MILLER–BIRD.

The approaching wedding is announced of Florence Victoria Bird, one of the prettiest of Plainfield's belles, to Lewis Compton Miller, a prosperous disciple of the art preservative of all arts, to take place in the leafy month of June.

MIGRATING FROM THE SOUTH.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Webb have returned from their winter southern tour and will again take up their residence for the summer in this city. They are at present domiciled at Hotel Grenada.

DR. KETCHAM AND ELDER SQUIRES TO GO.

It is now definitely ascertained that at an approaching general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Washington, the Presbytery of Elizabeth will be represented by the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham and Henry C. Squires of this city.

COUNCILMAN SEE TO ADJUST THE DEBTS.

Councilman W. G. E. See has been appointed receiver in New York city and also in the State of New Jersey for the W. J. Anderson Manufacturing company, a printing concern. The company's assets are believed to amount to about $15,000, while its debts are probably $50,000.

A PLAINFIELD KNIGHT TO BEAR THE SWORD.

Past Eminent Commander William H. Sebring, of Trinity Commandery, Knights Templars, 17, of this city, was honored Tuesday with the appointment of Grand Sword Bearer at the annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar held at Trenton.

WELCOME TO THIS EXPERT SPECIALIST.

THE PRESS is glad to learn that Dr. F. C. Ard has located in Plainfield with the view of practicing the specialty of diseases of eye, ear and throat. The doctor comes to Plainfield from the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, being on the attending staff of that institution and a former house surgeon of the same. He has opened offices at Dr. Field's old place, corner of Broadway and Fifth street.

AT REST.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Sarah Herring of Brooklyn, a former resident of Plainfield, were held at the grave in the North Plainfield cemetery this morning. The grief-stricken family were accompanied by the pastor of the deceased, the Rev. Roland S. Dawson, an earnest young man who gives promise of becoming a very able minister, who conducted a beautiful but solemn service in memory of the departed. The body was on view to friends before interment. The casket bore beautiful floral tributes, including one bearing the words "Rest in Peace" and another "Mother".

MEMORIAL OF AFFECTION FOR A MOST ESTIMABLE PLAINFIELD WOMAN

The Visitor says: "A donation of one hundred dollars, devoted to a fund for the support of the Industrial Home at Morristown, Tenn., has been paid from Plainfield, and acknowledgement received by the president of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church, entitling the ladies of the Monroe Avenue chapel the privilege of naming a room, which will be known as the 'Elizabeth A. McGee room', after the late wife of James McGee of our church. It is hoped that this remembrance of so honored a member [illegible]

THE SEASON OPENED.

Base-Ball Enthusiasm Will Soon Be Roused to High Pitch Over Such a Team as This.

"The Crescents have a fine team." This was the remark heard on all sides at Saturday's game. If the men had been playing all winter they could not have shown up much better. Everyone seemed pleased with the team, and frequent applause was given to the men during the game.

The Star Athletics had a strong nine, their work being quite even, but they had to succumb to Snearden's curves, and the excellent work of the home team.

Capt. Hofford had good control of his men, and brought out the various points at the right time.

George Leddy did not put in an appearance, and will not now probably play here.

Any team that meets the Crescents this year will have to hustle to beat them, as they are out for blood. It will be seen by the score how well the Plainfield boys played, and it's only evidence of what is to be expected. The new shortstop, Leo Smith, showed up in fine shape and will give satisfaction. Hockman, Romer and McIndoe also were in excellent form. McIndoe, the old favorite, was given hearty welcome back. Jones was as perfect as ever on first.

The score:

CRESCENTS.

	AB	R	1B	SB	PO	A	E
Hofford, c	6	1	0	1	11	2	0
Smith, ss	6	1	1	0	1	1	0
McIndoe, lf	6	1	4	0	0	0	0
Turner, cf	5	1	2	0	1	2	0
Hockman, 2b	5	1	2	0	2	1	0
Frits, rf	5	1	2	0	0	1	0
Romer, 3b	5	0	1	0	0	4	0
Jones, 1b	5	1	0	0	12	0	0
Snearden, p	3	0	0	0	0	0	0
	7	12	1	26	11	0

Earned runs—5. Two-base hits—Jones, 2. Three-base hits—Hockman. Double plays—1. Stolen base—Jones. Base on balls—1. Hit by pitcher—McIndoe. Struck out—2. Left on base—7.

STAR ATHLETICS.

	AB	R	1B	SB	PO	A	E
Cantin, 3b	4	0	0	0	2	4	0
Yahn, 2b	4	0	1	0	0	0	1
Farrel, ss	4	0	0	0	1	3	2
Warner, c	4	1	1	0	1	2	2
Riley, rf	4	0	0	0	2	0	0
O'Rourke, cf	3	0	0	0	2	0	1
Bradley, 1b	3	1	0	0	14	1	0
Kane, p	3	0	1	0	1	1	0
Lynch, lf	3	0	0	0	1	4	0
	2	3	0	26	15	6

Left on bases—5. Hit by pitcher—Riley, 2. Umpire—Hudson.

BY INNINGS.

Crescents	0	1	3	1	2	0	0	0	0	—7
Star Athletics	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	—2

NO WONDER THINGS SOLD.

The Wares Were in Rare Good Hands for Disposition.

A very successful strawberry and ice-cream festival was that held Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Sunday-school room of the Park Avenue Baptist church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, assisted by the young ladies of the church.

The room was tastefully decorated with flowers and bunting, which presented a pleasing appearance, as did also the several tables.

In the afternoon there were not very many present, but the evening attendance was large, the room being well-filled with people.

Those presiding at the tables had no difficulty in disposing of their goods, but found ready buyers for the various fancy articles and refreshments, which were all to be desired.

During the evening the following programme was rendered, and much enjoyed:

Piano Solo............Miss Alice Coard
Trio—Mrs. H. E. Ryder, Miss Jessie Haynes, Miss Runyon.
Auto-harp Solo............Willard Martin
Vocal Solo............William N. Runyon
Piano Solo............Miss Alice Coard
Vocal Solo............William N. Runyon
Trio—Mrs. H. E. Ryder, Miss Jessie Haynes, Miss Runyon.

Those taking part in the affair are as follows:

Fancy Table—Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Doane.

Lemonade Booth—Miss Addie Runyon, Miss Mary Giles.

Candy Table—Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Miss Florence Hawkins, Miss M. Thompson.

Waitresses—The Misses Jennie Giles, Lisa Livesey, Caroline Livesey, Lila Livesey, Mabel Darling, Florence Smith, Alice Haynes, Grace Remsen, Henrietta Cuming, Helen Cuming, May Thompson, Estie Thompson.

Good Music by the New Choir.

The new choir of the First Presbyterian church made their first public appearance Sunday, and were well received. They betrayed a little natural nervousness at first, but when this had worn off their work was very satisfactory. Miss Susan Boice, the new soprano, though very young, has already developed a voice of remarkable sweetness and power; and Miss Camp won all hearts both by her rich alto and her rare personal charms. Miss Camp's father makes a powerful basso, and Charles Wilfred Crouch is a suitable tenor. William H. Clarke, the new organist, is most efficient.

The evening service at the church was in celebration of the sixth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor society. Singing was the especial feature, and interesting addresses were made by the Rev. Charles E Herring, pastor, Samuel Dobbins Price and Willard L. Hamilton.

Song services will doubtless become a delightful feature of this church's services, under the new organist and choir.

Will Pony Up to Avoid Arrest.

A former employe of a local livery stable keeper has been using the name of his erewhile employer to obtain money under false pretences. He went about and presented bills supposed to be from the liveryman, and having collected money on them signed the receipts and pocketed the cash. As far as known, he obtained about $35, in small amounts. On being confronted with proof of his misdemeanor, he agreed to pay the amount taken if the liveryman would not prosecute him. The good-natured liveryman will not press the case further if the guilty person pays up.

Plainfield's Chief Did It.

THE PRESS ascertains on the authority of the New York district attorney himself that the credit for the re-capture of J. K. VanNess belongs to police captain Grant and not to the horde of detectives who unsuccessfully chased after the very much wanted lawyer. The district attorney says that it was exclusively captain Grant's detective work that located Van Ness, and captain Grant's information that made his arrest possible. VanNess was living in a hotel with C. E. VanWinkle under the name of Johnson. Captain Grant has been complimented by the district attorney on his shrewdness.

President John Walsh.

St. Mary's T. A. B. society held their regular monthly meeting on Monday and elected the following new officers for the ensuing year:

President—John Walsh.
Vice-president—John C. Daley.
Financial Secretary—Edward Lynch.
Recording Secretary—Charles P. Daley.
Treasurer—John C. Carney.

A Valuable Remedy.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS purify the blood, stimulate the liver, strengthen the kidneys, regulate the bowels. They were introduced in the United States in 1835. Since that time over sixty millions of boxes of BRANDRETH'S PILLS have been used.

This, together with thousands of convincing testimonials from all parts of the world, is positive evidence of their value. [illegible]

MR. CARNEY'S GOOD WORK.

Borough Councilmen Defend Him from Malicious Attacks.

Councilman Neal for the borough street committee last night reported that the work of special inspector Carney was resulting in decided benefit to the borough. Previous to Mr. Carney's appointment the street railway contractors were slipshod about putting Somerset street back into condition, but Mr. Carney was by personal overseeing compelling perfect restoration. This would save the borough much future trouble and expense.

The praise of and expression of confidence in Mr. Carney were called forth by the attacks of the Somerset street sheet on his appointment.

Mr. Neal further reported that the street railway obstacles would be cleared away as fast as possible; that the heavy and continuous rains had greatly interfered with the work; that not more than 700 feet of roadway was to be permitted to be torn up at one time; that 1,500 feet of track had already been laid from Johnston's drive down Somerset street; and that the people must be patient. Somerset street was to be fully restored to good condition, with the completion of the street railway.

Mr. Neal stated that the macadamizing of Greenbrook road was in progress; that Rock avenue would next be attended to; that crosswalks had been ordered laid at Summit and Grand avenues, and at Summit and Westervelt; that the roads were being scraped and put in good shape as fast as practicable.

$100 REWARD.

Borough Council Willing to Pay for the Capture of a Burglar.

The borough council last night unanimously offered $100 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the burglar who murderously assaulted Mrs. Frank Church in her home Wednesday night.

IS N'T SATISFIED WITH ONE.

The Beginning of an Hon. Thomas Lane Newspaper Trust.

Assemblyman Thomas F. Lane, of the Summit Record, has purchased the Orange Herald. The price paid was $3,500. Mr. Lane will take possession Monday.

The Street Railway Extension.

In the matter of the application of the Plainfield Electric Railroad company to lay tracks on the line bridge over Green brook, freeholder Hubbard reported verbally, Thursday, to the board, that the committee had agreed to recommend the granting of the privilege. He said the Somerset board had voted to give permission for the one-half of the bridge under its control.

Mr. Hubbard then offered a resolution granting the privilege to the company under the condition prescribed to Plainfield and North Plainfield councils. The resolution was adopted.

Delay on Chatham Street Improvements.

The project to macadamize Chatham street is delayed. Councilman Neal last night reported that $1,000 would be the cost of the work proposed, of which the petitioners have pledged but $180. This was considered too small a proportion, and the petition was ordered returned, by the council, to the property-owners, with the request that they increase the subscription to at least $360.

This Fire Was Not Incendiary.

Fire at 9:50 Saturday night damaged a barn on Springfield avenue, owned by Dr. Coles, and occupied by John Collins, at Scotch Plains. The loss was $600, insured. The three horses and the wagons were gotten out in safety. The fire started in a haymow, and was probably accidental. The fire department did well, confining the flames to the upper part of the structure. The Fanwood department gave valuable assistance.

For This the Scribes Are Duly Grateful.

The accommodations for reporters at borough council meetings have been so meagre that before the next session a new large table will be provided. This will put the scribes in good company inside the railing, directly in front of the genial and good mayor Saunders, and surrounded by the councilmanic Solons.

No Thoroughfare.

Borough corporation counsel Charles A. Reed is looking into the complaint of Thomas S. Stine, who says that the heirs of the late Mr. Dubleln are shutting him out of his property below Grant avenue by closing up the only thoroughfare thereto, a lane through their land that has been in use 20 years. He asks the council to make the lane a public highway.

Getting Monotonous.

THE PRESS is daily burdened with the cry from the afflicted, Won't you please defend me from the Courier's misrepresentations! While THE PRESS is a busy paper, it likes to be accommodating, but it would respectfully suggest that the complaining ones make the Courier correct its errors in its own columns for a change.

The Farmers Have Pretty Daughters.

Metuchen seems to have a great attraction for Plainfield's young men, several of whom go over there regularly every Sunday evening.

Profit and Loss.

Caterer McVey of North avenue does a big business Sundays from the visiting bicyclists. Some of them, however, forget to pay, especially if the place is filled; and walk out, mount their wheels and ride away.

Now You'll Get It.

Those people who do n't go to church are invited to break their rule for once in their lives, and attend the Park Avenue Baptist service next Sunday night, when the Rev. J. W. Richardson will take for his subject "Why Some Men Do Not Go to Church—Their Excuses Weighed".

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsomer finish, better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or

"Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

"Atlantic" "Bradley" "Brooklyn" "Jewett" "Ulster"

are strictly pure, "Old Dutch" process brands, established by a lifetime of use.

For colors use National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors with Strictly Pure White Lead.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you [illegible]

NATIONAL LEAD CO.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

THE BOYS' CLUB BENEFIT.

Plainfield's Best Players to Be Seen in Amateur Theatricals.

What promises to be an unusually enjoyable dramatic and musical entertainment has been arranged by Mrs. J. Parker Mason to be given next Thursday evening, May 11, in the Casino on behalf of the manual-training fund of the Boys' club.

Some of the cleverest of local amateur players will be seen in the two pieces to be presented on this occasion. The performance will begin with the dainty little comedietta of "Barbara", interpreted by the following cast:

Barbara............Mrs. J. Parker Mason
Lillie............Mrs. Wm. L. Saunders
Cecil............Wm. N. Runyon
Lawyer Finnicum............Wm. E. Cook

In this play, the talented impersonator of old-men parts, Mr. Cook, will have one of those genially-humorous roles which he portrays so amusingly, and his comedy-scenes will serve to enliven the other somewhat pathetic and sentimental portions of the piece.

As an effective closing feature of the performance, a merry dramatic trifle, entitled "Second Thoughts", will serve to send the expected large audience home in good humor. Its laughable incidents will be depicted by this cast:

Sir Herbert Mervyn............Wm. E. Pellettier
Hon. Helen Clivedon....Mrs. Wm. L. Saunders
The Widow MacShane,
Mrs. J. Parker Mason

Between the two plays, three amateur entertainers from New York, none of whom is a stranger to Plainfield audiences, will furnish an agreeable diversion in the programme.

Charles Noe Daly, who is especially clever at dialect impersonation, will sing "The Song of All Nations", from the comic opera "The Isle of Champagne", introducing half-a-dozen different dialects in as many verses; Harry S. Blake will contribute "A Few Quiet Moments", being an original monologue; and Evert Jansen Wendell, already a favorite here, will warble a budget of comic ditties, including a laughing-song in which he has been particularly successful.

PRESIDENT JAMES JOY.

Much Interest in the Proceedings at Vincent Chapel, Last Evening.

Chapter I, Epworth League, of the Methodist Episcopal church, held their annual meeting for the election of officers last evening, in Vincent chapel. There was a large number present and much interest was taken in the proceedings.

One of the objects of the meeting was to bring before the league the constitution which is in general use by other societies throughout the country. After some consideration it was adopted, with a few slight changes.

The following officers were elected:

President—James B. Joy.
First Vice-President—George M. Rittenhouse.
Second Vice-President—Miss Emma Brown.
Third Vice-President—Miss Alice Whitney.
Fourth Vice-President—Miss Jennie Shafer.
Secretary—Arthur R. Cross.
Treasurer—Clarence M. Smith.

The business of the evening was so lengthy, that the programme intended was laid aside. Refreshments were served to all present.

DOLLARS FOR CENTS.

The Generous Way Another Catholic Association Cares for the Widows and Orphans.

Plainfield Council Catholic Benevolent association, which was organized in this city, Aug. 8, has this week paid its first death claims.

John O'Rourke, late receiving clerk at the freight house, was admitted to membership, Nov. 17 1889, and died March 3, 1893. He paid into the benefit fund $34 76. His wife has received a check for $1,000. The family of John S. Ward, of Clinton avenue, who was admitted Feb. 25, 1887, and died Jan. 9, 1893, has received a check for $3,000.

The association was organized Sept. 5, 1881, and has since paid to the widows and orphans of its deceased members, $3,790,686.29.

BOROUGH BARS.

Mayor Saunders Suggests that They Be Asked to Close at 11 Saturday Nights.

In a verbal message to the borough council on Friday Mayor Saunders suggested that the council earnestly requests the keepers of the borough bar rooms to close at 11 p. m. Saturdays, for the sake of Sunday morning peace. The mayor urged that this was the Plainfield hour for closing, and that all who are then turned out of the Plainfield saloons visit the borough bars and cause much disorder.

Action in the matter was deferred.

Touching Good-bye to Their Faithful Superintendent.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

Sunday afternoon, Wm. J. Hamilton, sr., acted as superintendent of the Dunellen Presbyterian Sabbath-school for the last time. When the school was dismissed to go into the union meeting with the Methodist school, the members passed by classes before the desk and shook hands with their retiring superintendent. Many eyes grew moist as they passed by, and it is not strange that their beloved friend should have felt sad, nor that his eyes should have filled with tears. The duty of superintendent now falls upon the assistant, A. A. Lake, until the annual meeting of teachers, which takes place in June, when the office will be filled by election.

Getting Ready for Next Winter.

Councilman Neal says he's going to introduce an ordinance soon looking towards the effectual removal of snow and ice from sidewalks.

Are n't the Home Clubs Good Enough?

(Elizabeth Journal.)

Several Plainfield flyers are said to be contemplating joining Elizabeth wheeling clubs. Whether the Plainfield clubs do not offer sufficient opportunities for their racing members to win honors on the track and road, or whether special inducements are offered by the local clubs is not given out.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
[illegible]

MR. BROKAW'S VINDICATION.

Full Text of the Finance Committee's Report of Their Investigation.

The exoneration of H. H. Brokaw by the borough council, predicted exclusively in these columns weeks ago, and exclusively foretold in Thursday's issue, was most complete. The investigating committee made its report which was adopted in full and ordered spread on the minutes as follows:

As directed at the last meeting of the mayor and council, the auditing and finance committee have examined into the matter of moneys received from sales of dirt, during the last council year, and find there was received at various times from such sales the sum of $59.85, as appears by accounts of ex-street commissioner Stout.

That councilman Neal, chairman of the committee on streets, who received this amount from said street commissioner, paid it over in full to the borough clerk.

And that the borough ledger road-account shows that the former clerk, H. H. Brokaw, deposited the same in the First National Bank of Plainfield to the credit of the borough, as follows:

August 16, 1892........................ $47.25
February 18, 1893........................ 12.60

It is thus shown that the entire amount due the borough from this source was duly received and properly accounted for.

The committee would further state that these items, although not mentioned specifically, are included in the $4,384.62 to the credit of the borough road-account appearing in the last annual borough report.

M. E. NEEDHAM, } Committee.
GEO. F. EDWARDS, }
North Plainfield, May 5, 1893.

WHAT NUMBER, PLEASE?

In THE PRESS Alone You'll Find Out All About It.

The street committee of the Plainfield common council notifies THE PRESS that it has been chosen the sole official paper for the publication of the new house numbers.

THE PRESS alone will publish a complete and accurate list of the numbers of every lot in Plainfield. The matter will be arranged in street groupings, with both the old and the new number given.

Copies of this official list will be distributed to every house in Plainfield. That will be your correct information, and not until you receive this notification of what your new number is to be will you be required to put new figures on your door.

The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as consistent with perfect accuracy.

The list will be complete in one issue.

HOW'S THIS, MR. MEEKER!

Here's a Lawyer Wants You Hung up by Your Thumbs for Spoiling the Streets.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I am a law-abiding citizen, but I would like, nevertheless, to join with others in hunting up the fellow, whether high or low in office, well-known or obscure, who directed that our cross walks should be "graded up" by putting sharp-cornered nut-size stones on each side, and tying him up by his thumbs until he has repented. It is an outrage not only on the 1,500 people, more or less, who ride a-wheel, the tires of which these stones cut, but on all who walk or drive, because for weeks they will be kicked about on the walks and roadbed.

A little common sense, sometimes, is better than a fortune, and far better than authority. The city should have these stones scraped off at once, and the usual top dressing used. If it is not done, let those whose bicycle tires are cut bring suit for damages and they will recover. I should like to bring such a suit.

A LAWYER.

The Century Runs.

A meeting of the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen was held Thursday night at Elizabeth. After the disposal of routine business it was announced that the State road-book would be ready for distribution within the next ten days. It was decided that the various century runs would be held on the following dates: Metropolitan Association of Cycling clubs, Newark-Princeton and return, June 24; Newark-Philadelphia, June 10; Associated Cycling clubs of New Jersey, late in the fall.

They'll See Plainfield in Its Beauty.

The New Jersey Library association composed of public librarians from all parts of New Jersey, will meet in annual session for the first time in this city, May 1. Preparations are being made for a royal reception of the visitors, and the meeting will be one of the most notable ever held. Miss E. L. Adams, the faithful and popular librarian, is putting forth personal effort to secure a delightful time for all attending.

Nothing There that Burglars Want.

Frank Church requests of THE PRESS the statement that the assertion that the burglar at his house the other night passed by $1,000 worth of silverware is unfounded. The thief did ignore the plate; but for the sake of any whose cupidity may have been aroused it is now stated that while Mr. Church has table silver that is justly admired he has no such stock as first reported, nor indeed any amount more than ordinarily found in any comfortable home.

It Won't Pay You, Mr. Treacy!

In judge Coddington's court this morning, James Treacy, whose trial was postponed from Wednesday (?) on account of insufficient witnesses, was bound over to keep the peace. He supplied the $200 bond and was released. Treacy was arrested the first of the week on complaint of his son Barney, for beating his (the elder Treacy's) wife.

A Cozy Home for the Warren Boys.

The partition in Warren engine-house parlors is to be torn down to enable the firemen to enjoy the comforts of one large apartment, which is to be newly furnished.

The Electric Road Is Coming.

The Westfield town committee will meet a representative of the Elizabeth and Plainfield Electric Railway company at the town rooms the evening of May 29, to listen to objections, if any are made, to the passage of the electric road through the town.

A False Charge.

A young man named Burns was arrested Saturday night and taken before chief Grant on the charge of owing the city two dollars, part of an unpaid fine. The chief ascertained that the balance had been paid some days before, and Burns was released.

Getting a Bad Name.

Cottage Row is becoming as notorious as the old boulevard. On Saturday night, near midnight, there was a "scrap" along the railroad, but as usual the principals were spirited away in time to avoid arrest.

Fell from a Street Car.

Patrick Moran, while trying to board a street car Saturday afternoon, slipped and fell, badly cutting his forehead over the left eye. The wound was dressed at a drug store, and Moran was able soon afterwards to go home.

We May Have a Log.

A fair and dance is to be held at St. Mary's T. A. B. Hall, May 29, and the proceeds are to be devoted to [illegible]

MANY CHARGES AGAINST HIM.

The Plainfield Bicycle Thief Has a Hard Row to Hoe, Now He Is Caught.

Charles Richardson of Fanwood, whose arrest was told of in these columns Saturday, was brought before judge Collins at Westfield and committed to the Union county jail on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences from John Ingram. The arrest was made by officer Day, of Fanwood, who had been hunting for Richardson for a week. A week ago Saturday afternoon Day started to hunt for his man at Summit, where he was said to be. That evening, while Day was in Summit, a bicycle was left standing in front of Martin's bicycle store in Plainfield. The owner, returning in a moment for his wheel, found it gone. An immediate search was started, and young men on bicycles started in every direction. Near Netherwood one of the riders overtook a stranger on a wheel and stopped him. Upon examination the bicycle was proved to be the stolen one, and the man who had it was identified as Richardson. He gave up the wheel and ran away. He was seen to board a train at Fanwood, and though word was sent to be on the watch for him, all trace was lost. Thursday word was received in Westfield that Richardson had been seen in Newark, and officer Day at once went to that city and consulted with chief Hopper with the result that their man was captured late Thursday night. Richardson is also suspected of setting fire to a building near Summit in addition to the other crooked work of passing worthless checks.

PIERSON GETS $24 000.

That's $1,000 Less than the Company Had Offered Him.

Late Saturday afternoon the jury which had been out nearly thirty-six hours deliberating upon the suit of James T. Pierson of Elizabeth against the Central Railroad for $60,000 for personal injuries received, (of which jury U. B. Crane of this city was foreman) sent word to the Union county court that they had agreed on a verdict. They had created much surprise by deliberating so long, as Judge VanSyckel had charged them in favor of the plaintiff and they had only to agree on an amount. They awarded the plaintiff $24,000.

Pierson, who is an ex-freeholder of Union county, was riding on a train on the High Bridge branch of the Central railroad, and when near German Valley the locomotive struck a plank, which was placed across the tracks by men who were wheeling iron across the railroad company' property. The accident caused the overturning of the car in which Pierson was riding, and he received injuries which left him a helpless cripple.

The company's agents offered Pierson $25,000 to settle before he entered his suit, but he refused.

COLLIDED WITH A TREE.

Miss Benedict Painfully Injured in a Bicycle Coasting Accident.

Miss E. C. Benedict was coasting on her wheel down a hill at Fanwood, Saturday, when she ran upon a quantity of crushed stone spread for the repair of the road. She was going so fast that in the stone she lost control of her wheel, and ran into a large tree. By the collision the ligaments of her nose were crushed, her face and lip were cut, and her left hand was injured against her bell. No physician being obtainable at Fanwood, she was brought home, bleeding considerably from her hurts, in a carriage, and attended by Dr. Endicott.

MISS STREULI'S ESCAPE.

The Saddle Horse She Was Riding Fell With Her and Died.

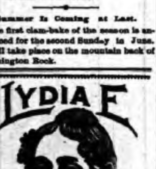
Miss Streuli engaged one of Conover's valuable saddle horses Saturday afternoon to join a riding party. Just as they were setting out, and in front of All Souls' church, the horse was taken suddenly ill, and fell in the roadway. Through superior horsemanship Miss Streuli escaped being crushed by the horse in its fall. A veterinarian was sent for to attend the animal, but in fifteen minutes, before the doctor could arrive, the horse was dead. It had been apparently in fine condition when leaving the stables. The loss is a severe one to Mr. Conover.

Still Alarm for a Smoky Chimney.

Great volumes of smoke poured from every crevice in the house of John King, on West Second street, and a crowd gathered about thinking that the place was afire. Someone ran to No. 1 engine-house and gave a still alarm. Firemen grabbed fire extinguishers and ran to the house only to find that the smoke was caused by the starting of a fire to take away the chill in the house.

Summer Is Coming at Last.

The first clam-bake of the season is announced for the second Sunday in June. It will take place on the mountain back of Washington Rock.



LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Is a positive cure for all those painful Ailments of Women. It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life. Every time it will cure Backache. It has cured more cases of Leucorrhœa than any remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. That Bearing-down Feeling causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water. It removes Irregularity, Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility. Also Dizziness, Faintness, Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and "want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus, or Womb Troubles. The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book entitled "Guide to Health," by Mrs. Pinkham. It contains over 90 pages of most important information, which every woman, married or single, should know about herself. Send 2 two-cent stamps for it. For Kidney Complaints and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound is unequaled.

[illegible]

Easy Leaders.

We sell Spring Suits and Overcoats that are mistaken every hour in the day along the treet for merchant-tailored garments. With good reasons, too. Luxurious they are and shapely, and no mark of ready-made on them, except the prices—$10, $12, $13, $15, $18, $20.

Do you know our success in Boy's and Little Boy's Suits? Especial suits of our own design and make at especial prices. Parents will find that we have the largest selection, the nobbiest styles and sell at lowest possible prices. Boy's Suits $5 to $12. Children's $2 to $10.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,

Newark Clothiers,

779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.

3 23 3m

MC GREGOR & C O

HAVE YOU A BOY?

You may think the question impertinent but it is not.

It's our business to know all the people who have boys that we may also make them acquainted with our facilities for fitting them out for spring.

Every year we fit the boys out better and better.

You'll find this season no exception to this rule and that the styles we have to show you for Young America, our own, exclusive styles are captivating. So are the prices.

It will reduce your anxiety about what is fit for the boy to wear to a minimum to try on a few of our fashionable styles, and the cost of fitting him out for spring will be materially lessened by buying from us.

We Design Our Own Styles.
We Make Our Own Goods.
We Sell at a Small Profit.

The result is a first-class article for a little money.

McGregor & Co., 850 and 852 Broad S
NEWARK, N. J.

9 17 tf

Spring Overcoats!

Our stock of Spring Overcoats cut from Meltons, Whipcords, Cheviots, Worsteds, etc., in grays, browns, black and fancy shades at

$10 and $12

Includes all the new spring styles and the prices speak for themselves. One of the greatest bargains we have ever offered is the

$15 DRESS SUITS

In Clay Diagonal Worsteds. These suits have never before been sold for less than $18. They will please you, as they do not wear glossy.

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

Near Academy street. 4 20 3m

OUR NATURAL FIELD,

For the cultivation of a good reliable intelligent crop of customers, is the State of New Jersey. If we couldn't hold first place in our business in this territory, we should quit.

How Do We Hold It?

By simply making HONEST goods at HONEST prices.
Goods not only HONEST but ELEGANT,
Not only ELEGANT but FITTING,
Not only FITTING but DURABLE.

Same thing goes through all departments.

MEN'S.	BOYS'.	CHILDREN'S.
$10. to $20. SUITS.	$5. to $15. SUITS.	$2. to $13. SUITS.

Of our Hat and Cap Department, its enough to say that we've got everything for everybody young and old, at NO PROFIT prices.

Marshall & Ball

807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,

Newark, N. J. 3 22 3m-c

ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

[illegible]

DR. HENRY E. SHEPHERD.

Probably the Foremost English Scholar in America.

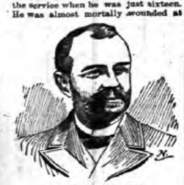
Appointed on the Council of Historical Literature for the World's Fair—How He Was Honored by Oxford University.

Dr. Henry E. Shepherd, president of the College of Charleston, S. C., who has recently been appointed on the council of historical literature for the World's Columbian exposition, is probably the most progressive, as also the first, English scholar in America, says the Illustrated American.

Dr. Shepherd has earned for himself, by his great literary attainments, a name alike honored in this country and Europe, where genius such as his is always accorded a hearty welcome.

The latest tribute to Dr. Shepherd's ability, and one of which any man might justly be proud, comes from the University of Oxford, in England. At the close of the introduction to the great "Historical Dictionary of the English Language," now being issued by the Clarendon Press, at Oxford, special mention is made in most laudatory terms to an article written by him, at the request of Dr. Basil Gildersleeve, for the American Journal of Philology, and published in the October number of that magazine in 1880. Students of English in every part of the world are advised by the editors of the English dictionary to consult this article which is so conspicuously called to their attention. It consists merely of the history of two words: "Coincide" and "coincidence," traced through a period extending over six hundred years—that is, from medieval Latin into English, through all their mutations and vicissitudes.

Dr. Shepherd was born in Fayetteville, N. C., in 1845, and is now forty-eight years old. At the breaking out of the late war he was one of the first to volunteer from his state, entering the service when he was just sixteen. He was almost mortally wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, July 3, 1863, but, recovering, was made colonel. Being too young to accept the commission, he served as a non-commissioned officer to the end of the war.



DR. HENRY E. SHEPHERD.

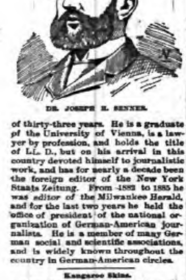
Dr. Shepherd was educated at the University of Virginia, and had an especially high rank in literature and the languages. His professional life began in Baltimore soon after the close of the civil war and he made his home there until the end of the year 1882, at which time he assumed the presidency of the College of Charleston, S. C. He was engaged in many important academic trusts in Baltimore, and was superintendent of public instruction from 1875 to 1882, probably being the youngest man ever elected to so responsible a position, being a little more than thirty years old at the time.

Dr. Shepherd is a voluminous contributor to the leading literary and philological journals of America. His work has been time and again recognized in Europe and in the amplest and most generous way. He has been a lecturer of English in nearly every part of the country—north and south—having spoken in that capacity to classes of college presidents and professors at least five hundred times. A remarkable feature of Dr. Shepherd's lectures is that, without a moment's notice, he will speak on any literary subject.

DR. JOSEPH SENNER.

Sketch of the Newly Appointed Commissioner of Immigration.

Dr. Joseph H. Senner, the newly appointed commissioner of immigration, is a Moravian by birth, and emigrated to the United States in 1880 at the age of thirty-three years. He is a graduate of the University of Vienna, is a lawyer by profession, and holds the title of LL. D., but on his arrival in this country devoted himself to journalistic work, and has for nearly a decade been the foreign editor of the New York Staats Zeitung. From 1882 to 1885 he was editor of the Milwaukee Herald, and for the last two years he held the office of president of the national organization of German-American journalists. He is a member of many German social and scientific associations, and is widely known throughout the country in German-American circles.



DR. JOSEPH H. SENNER.

Kangaroo Skins.

About a million kangaroo skins are imported into this country every year. They are mostly used in the manufacture of shoes.

ANCIENT INSTRUMENTS.

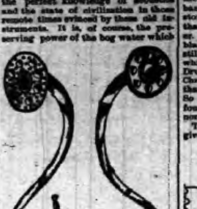
Bronze Lurs in the Copenhagen National Museum.

The Quaint Horns Played by the Heathen Bards or Scalds at the Courts of Norse Kings and in the Groves of the Gods.

The National museum in Copenhagen, which is so well known and renowned for its excellent and admirably arranged collections of northern antiquities, contains a number (19) of a kind of musical instrument called the "lur" (the u pronounced like oo in poor), which date back to the bronze age, and which have all been found in bogs, as have also so many others of the old treasures contained in that interesting museum. A few instruments of the same kind (8) have been found in provinces in Sweden formerly belonging to Denmark, and five have been found on the Baltic coast of Germany nearest to Denmark. There is nothing like this instrument elsewhere in the world. An instrument used in parts of the East Indies at the present day is the nearest approach, in some respects, but it varies very materially from the "lurs."

The outward appearance of the "lur" is represented in the adjoining cuts. It is generally six or seven feet long, twisted into two planes perpendicular on one another, and furnished with an ornamental collar at the butt or further end. It is cast from a kind of bronze, only one to one and a half millimeters thick. (Could we not do this at our present day?) To increase the difficulty of construction, it is perfectly conical from end to end, cast in pieces, and joined together as indicated in the adjoining illustrations, and, as already stated, of a twisted shape.

All the instruments of this kind found outside of Denmark are more or less fragmentary. Of the specimens in the Danish collection ten are whole, and of these again six have just been slightly restored under the auspices of the author and musical critic, Angul Hammerich, who has caused some artist musicians from the royal chapel to experiment with and practice on the musical specimens, with the very [illegible] played upon and emit tones as pure, soft and strong as when they were first touched with human lips, between 2,000 and 3,000 years ago. Well may we wonder at the constructive skill, the perfect knowledge of acoustics and the state of civilization in those remote times evinced by these old instruments. It is, of course, the preserving power of the bog water which we may thank for the perfect preservation of these unique instruments.



BRONZE "LURS" IN THE NATIONAL MUSEUM IN COPENHAGEN.

The bogs in which the "lurs" and so many other interesting objects from northern antiquity have been found have, of course, at the time of deposit of the objects, been lakes or ponds. How the objects came to be placed here may be subject to varying surmises; the most probable is that they have been sunk down in such places to protect them from some invading enemy. Some authorities on this kind of subjects hold to the opinion that the objects have been brought as sacrifices to friendly or unfriendly gods, which supposition also seems quite likely.

The instruments are always found in pairs and twisted in opposite directions, indicating that they have been blown two and two together. This is so much more certain as the specimens of each pair harmonize with one another, while each pair varies more or less from every other pair in quality of tone, etc. It was formerly believed that the "lurs," when played upon, were resting over the player's neck and shoulders. They have occasionally been thus represented by artists. This Mr. Hammerich has proved to be a mistake. They were carried or held free in front of the players, with the ornamental butt collars facing one another, when the players were blowing them, standing or marching side by side, in which position the instruments balance easily and make a very odd and striking appearance, as of two gigantic and fantastically twisted horns of some fancied animal.

A few days ago the writer of this communication had the good luck and great pleasure to attend a fascinating lecture on the "lurs," by Dr. Hammerich, accompanied by experiments of two artist musicians, at the grand old style knights' hall of the National museum in Copenhagen. Not only were military signals blown with great effect, but entire small compositions were performed. It was indescribably interesting to listen to the performance of an air from one of our most popular romantic plays. The intelligent reader with a measure of imagination may to some extent realize the impression it must convey to hear fanciful music performed on instruments which some 3,000 years ago were used at strange temple services, or on triumphal war marches, or as accompaniment of the songs and recitals of the heathen bards or scalds at the courts of kings and chiefs, or at great national feasts.—Scientific American.

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

EMERALDS are growing most remarkably scarce.

SO SMALL is the thread carried by the spindle of the phonograph that the process of threading requires the aid of a mechanical device.

DR. SCORESBY calculated the velocity of the average wave in a storm at 2,875 feet in each minute or 32.67 English statute miles in an hour.

ICE is accumulating at the north pole. Some day, it is alleged by some scientists, the earth will fall out of balance and man will be utterly annihilated by the rush of moving objects.

TIDES may be regarded as taking their rise in the broad expanse of the southern ocean and the tidal waves will often acquire a velocity of 1,000 miles an hour.

ONE of the hottest regions of the earth's surface is in the immediate vicinity of the Dead sea. Experts in the science of hydrography declare that the sea loses not less than 1,000,000 tons of water a day through evaporation.

ONE of the visions of Jules Verne is likely to become a reality. Experiments have demonstrated to the satisfaction of experts of the navy that a ship can be constructed with a capacity for submerging itself and moving below the surface of the water rapidly and under strict control.

AN automatic bottle stopper is a new device. A swinging lid is connected to a rod which runs down the side of the bottle. If the lid is open the rod will project below the bottom of the flask. Therefore, when the latter is set upon the table, the rod is forced up, throwing the lid down upon the bottle, opening and closing it.

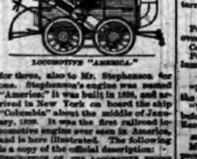
THE floating dock and the typewriter are among the many important inventions that were hit upon by men who made no attempt to patent their ideas. A photographer conceived the idea of the floating dock before the device was perfected and put to practical use, and a naval officer thought out a practical typewriter, but was persuaded by friends to abandon his invention as a thing that nobody could be induced to use.

THE following are the lowest barometer readings on record in various parts of the globe: In London a reading of 27.93 inches on the morning of Christmas day, 1821; over the British islands generally, a reading of 27.33 inches on January 26, 1884; in India, a reading of 27.12 inches at False Point, near the southern mouths of the Ganges, on September 22, 1885, this being the lowest authentic reading observed in any part of the world.

EARLY LOCOMOTIVES.

The America, First Engine Built for the Western Hemisphere.

Mr. Clement E. Stretton, C. E., of Leicester, England, writing to the editor of the Mechanical World regarding early locomotives in America, states that early in the year 1828 the Delaware & Hudson Canal company, having heard of the success of the Stockton & Darlington railway, sent over Mr. Horatio Allen to England with instructions to obtain information and purchase rails and four locomotives. He gave an order to Messrs. Foster, Rastrick & Co., of Stourbridge, for three, also to Mr. Stephenson for one. Stephenson's engine was named "America;" it was built in 1828, and arrived in New York on board the ship "Columbia" about the middle of January, 1829. It was the first railroad locomotive engine ever seen in America, and is here illustrated. The following is a copy of the official description:



LOCOMOTIVE "AMERICA."

DESCRIPTION OF THE LOCOMOTIVE ENGINE "AMERICA," BUILT BY R. STEPHENSON & CO. FOR THE DELAWARE & HUDSON CANAL COMPANY TO THE ORDER OF MR. HORATIO ALLEN, 1828, AND NO. 12 IN THE BOOKS OF THE MAKERS.

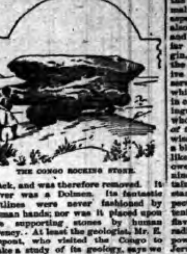
	ft.	in.
Diameter of boiler	[illegible]	[illegible]
Length of boiler	[illegible]	[illegible]
Diameter of firetube	[illegible]	[illegible]
Diameter of steam cylinder	[illegible]	[illegible]
Length of stroke	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

TOTTERING ROCKS.

A Curious Geologic Phase on the Bank of the Congo.

When the engineers were surveying the Congo railroad they found on the bank of the river a curiously shaped stone, so poised on several smaller bits that it rocked from one side to another. The rock bore a striking resemblance to the remarkable monuments still found in France and England which were used as altars by the Druids about the beginning of the Christian era. It was on such altars that the Druids offered their sacrifices. So on the banks of the Congo was found a counterpart of the Dolmens of north Europe.

The rock, a picture of which is here given, was in the way of the railroad track, and was therefore removed. It never was a Dolmen. Its fantastic outlines were never fashioned by human hands; nor was it placed upon the supporting stones by human agency. At least the geologist, Mr. E. Dupont, who visited the Congo to make a study of its geology, says we have no proof of the existence among the people of the lower Congo or their ancestors of a state of civilization that would justify us in attributing to their handiwork even so rude and primitive a monument as a Dolmen.



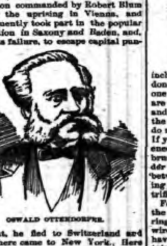
THE CONGO ROCKING STONE.

There are in this part of West Africa a number of examples of tottering rocks like that shown in the picture. They are all of natural origin, and show the plainest evidence of erosion. Most of them have been carved by the elements out of mica schists. They contain veins of amphibolitic gneiss or quartz much harder than the schists, and here and there some of the softer rock above the hard quartz veins has been worn away, completely severing the connection between the once united upper and lower parts of the mass, and so the upper portion is left to balance and teeter on the rock or rocks beneath.

OSWALD OTTENDORFER.

The Most Prominent and Wealthiest German-American Editor.

Oswald Ottendorfer, proprietor of the New York Staats Zeitung, was born February 26, 1826, in Zwittau, Moravia, and came to the United States in 1850. In 1848 he participated in the movement to overthrow the Metternich government, was first lieutenant in the battalion commanded by Robert Blum during the uprising in Vienna, and subsequently took part in the popular revolution in Saxony and Baden, and, upon its failure, to escape capital punishment, he fled to Switzerland and from there came to New York. Here he found employment in the office of the Staats Zeitung. The death of the proprietor, Jacob Uhl, caused his widow to intrust the management of the paper largely to Mr. Ottendorfer, and in 1859 he married Mrs. Uhl and subsequently controlled the Staats Zeitung. His editorial position brought him in touch with politicians and men of affairs, and as the German population increased his influence became recognized in municipal, state and national politics. He adhered to democratic principles without connecting himself with any organization, and at times opposed the democratic nominees for office. He was an alderman of New York in 1872 and a candidate for mayor in 1874. Mr. Ottendorfer established and endowed the free library bearing his name on Second avenue, New York, and founded on Long Island a home for aged indigent men. He also gave $300,000 to build and endow an educational institution in his native town in Austria. Four years ago on account of ill-health he retired from active journalism and since then has only exercised general supervision of the Staats Zeitung.



OSWALD OTTENDORFER.

A Dear Conquest.

The conquest of France in 1871 was a dear bargain for Germany after all. The $1,000,000,000 indemnity was mainly spent on fortresses, and since the war Germany has spent $6,000,000,000 on her army alone. If the loss of the labor of 400,000 men perpetually withdrawn from industries and kept locked up in barracks is calculated, some faint conception may be formed of the costliness of militarism.

The River Nile.

The total length of the Nile is 3,370 miles. It drains a country as extensive as Russia and for the last 1,300 miles of its course receives no surface affluent, large or small. The fall from Assouan to Cairo is from two to three inches in a mile and throughout the Delta this slight slope diminishes to less than one inch.

Hint to Fat People.

"You've been riding a bicycle, I hear," said one Harlem youth to another.

"Yes, just exercise, you know."

"It has reduced your weight some, I think."

"Yes, I have fallen off a great deal." —Texas Siftings.

Gastronomic Item.

Mr. Cynical Sneer—This chicken is an old acquaintance of mine. At least I knew the family.

Waiter—How so?

Mr. Cynical Sneer—I am not sure, but I think I ate his great-grandsire about five years ago.—Texas Siftings.

A Strong Temptation.

"So I should make you very happy by accepting you, count?"

"Happy? Ah, mademoiselle, I should die wiz zie happiness!"

"Really, count, you almost tempt me to say 'Yes.'"—Jury.

When It Isn't Tame.

"Don't you think 'dear' a tame word?"

"It is in the vocabulary of love, but when it is applied to the price of a woman's bonnet it assumes a strength that inspires the average husband with terror."—N. Y. Press.

No Wonder.

Postal Clerk—Madam, this letter is over weight.

Cora Spondence—Why, how is that?

Postal Clerk—You have put two Columbian stamps on it.—Puck.

The Necessary Accessories.

"How was it that he managed to pull the wool over your eyes?"

"Well, he had fleeced several fellows before I met him."—Chicago News Record.

How These Girls Love One Another.

Miss Elder—Do you know Mr. Gilley proposed to me last night?

Miss Giddy—The poor fellow has been drinking again, I suppose.—Truth.

A Little Maid Reasons.

"I wish summer came in winter time," sighed Mollie. "Then winter time would be warm, like the summer time."—Harper's Young People.

A Precocious Bookkeeper.

He—No, the boss doesn't pay me more than I'm worth.

[illegible]

THE ACIDS OF FRUITS.

Quantities to Which Many of Them Owe Their Nutrition.

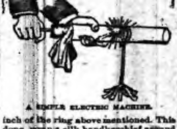
Mr. George W. Johnson, in his Chemistry of the World, says in describing the "vegetable food of the world:"

"The grateful acid of the rhubarb leaf arises from the malic acid and binoxalate of potash which it contains; the acidity of the lemon, orange and other species of the genus citrus is caused by the abundance of citric acid which their juice contains; that of the cherry, plum, apple and pear, from the malic acid in their pulp; that of gooseberries and currants, black, red and white, from a mixture of malic and citric acids; that of the grape, from a mixture of malic and tartaric acids; that of the mango from citric acid and a very fugitive essential oil; that of the tamarind from a mixture of citric, malic acid, tartaric acids; the flavor of asparagus from aspartic acid, found also in the root of the marshmallow, and that of the cucumber from a peculiar poisonous ingredient called fungin, which is found in all fungi, and is the cause of the cucumber being offensive to some stomachs. It will be observed, that rhubarb is the only fruit which contains binoxalate of potash in conjunction with an acid. It is this ingredient which renders the fruit so wholesome at the early commencement of the summer, and this is one of the wise provisions of nature for supplying a blood purifier at a time when it is likely to be most needed. Beet root owes its nutritious quality to about nine per cent. of sugar which it contains, and its flavor to a peculiar substance containing nitrogen mixed with pectic acid. The carrot owes its fattening powers also to sugar, and its flavor to a peculiar fatty oil; the horseradish derives its flavor and blistering power from a volatile acrid oil. The Jerusalem artichoke contains fourteen and a half per cent. of sugar and three per cent. of inulin (a variety of starch), besides gum and a peculiar substance to which its flavor is owing; and lastly garlic and the rest of the onion family derive their peculiar odor from a yellowish, volatile acrid oil, but they are nutritious from containing nearly half their weight of gummy and glutinous substances not yet clearly defined."

ELECTRIC MACHINE.

One That Is So Simple That It Can Be Made at Home.

By means of the simple arrangements here illustrated one can repeat on a small scale many of the experiments usually performed in a fully appointed laboratory. To make this little electric machine one should take a lamp chimney and fasten round its center with a little gum or paste a ring of thin tinfoil, familiar as being used to wrap round cakes of chocolate, etc. Paste also a narrow slip of similar foil along the glass from one of its ends to within about one-third of an inch of the ring above mentioned. This done, wrap a silk handkerchief around one of those cylindrical brushes which are used for cleaning lamp chimneys, and with it rub smartly the interior of the tube, taking care that your fingers do not touch any part of the tinfoil. If you try the experiment in a darkened room, each time you draw the brush completely out of the glass cylinder you will see a brilliant spark flash between the two strips of foil, affording an excellent example of the electrification of glass by friction.



A SIMPLE ELECTRIC MACHINE.

For another experiment attach to the glass tube, passing it around the ring of tinfoil, a bit of brass or iron wire, to the lower end of which you have suspended slips of thin paper, obtained by cutting a couple of cigarette papers lengthwise into three portions. Rub the inside of the tube as before, inserting the brush, still wrapped in the handkerchief, at the opposite end, i. e., that remote from the straight strip of foil. The metallic ring becomes charged with electricity, which passes down the wire to the little strips of paper, and you will see them diverge, mutually repelling each other.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

AN air brake for pneumatic bicycles has been introduced in England. It consists of a self-inflated air cushion, which is covered by a wearing pad, the whole being inclosed in a neat metal case which is attached to the plunger by a screw thread.

WHAT is said to be the smallest electric light installation in the world is to be found in the village of Bremen, near Dornbach, in Thuringia. It comprises a single arc lamp installed in a church, the lamp being operated by a small dynamo driven by the wheel of the village mill.

THE French government still has faith in the practicability of submarine boats, and the minister of marine has recently given orders for the construction of one of these vessels at Cherbourg. It is to be larger than the one which is now being built at Toulon, and it will be known as the Morse.

The Mouths of Leaves.

The botanist, the real investigator who has got down to making real explorations for himself, will talk to you about the thousands of minute "stomates" on the surface of a leaf. These invisible "stomates" are really the mouths through which the leaves take in carbonic acid. They are most abundant on the upper surface of leaves; each is an oval opening, guarded by a pair of lips which open and close according to requirements. They vary from less than 1,000 to more than 20,000 to the square inch of leaf surface.

The Earth Will Fall Out of Balance.

Marshall Wheeler, one of the best known of the great army of Pacific coast scientists that have lately sprung up, claims to have discovered a "third principal motion of the earth," which is this: Every 20,908 years the globe changes its north and south poles on account of the attraction the earth has for its own magnetism. The sun, too, strongly attracts one of the poles and repels the other. This being the case, it only takes a short space of 20,908 years for the double attraction to careen it over to such an extent that it suddenly "flops" 90 degrees. Mr. Wheeler says that one of these grand "flops" occurred 6,000 years ago, at the time set down by the geologists as the "glacial epoch."

Remarkable Illuminant.

Italian papers report a new invention which promises to play an important role in the near future. An engineer of Milan, Italy, has succeeded in discovering a new process for making hydrogen on a large scale and so cheaply that in producing 1,300 cubic meters a day this gas will cost only 1 cent per cubic meter. Considering the fact that the substance, the lightest of all known and very inflammable, admits of complete combustion, emits no smoke while burning, leaves no ashes or other injurious products, gives the most intense heat obtainable and surpasses in power the electric light, one may easily comprehend the importance of this discovery if true.

A Wrong Diagnosis.

Physician—I think your liver is out of order.

Billings—Hardly. Liver is always in order. I board in an east side boarding house.—Texas Siftings.

A Not Uncommon Trait.

"Howard is very absent-minded."

"In what way? I never noticed it."

"Oh, in every way. Even when smoking he puffs himself more than his cigar."—Truth.

Result of Athletics.

Turner—Thought you wasn't goin' to send your boy back to college?

Haskell—I had to. He threatened to lick me if I didn't.—Demorest's Monthly.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Farmer Brown had a little son, and a hired man named Mike. They were all working in a swamp one day; and Farmer Brown was some distance away. All of a sudden, Johnnie came running up to his father with a blanched face. The boy's eyes were almost starting from their sockets.

"Say, pop," he gasped, "Mike's in the swamp up to his ankles!"

"Wal, if that's all," said the farmer, "let him stay there. Tell him to take his boots off and get out."

"But he can't do it, pop. He's in head first."—Boston Budget.

Still a Mystery.

Mamma—Why don't you go to sleep?

Hubert—I am just lying awake to see if I can find out how I fall asleep. Last night I tried it.

Mamma—And did you find out?

Hubert—No, mamma, I didn't. After I had been awake about three hours, I fell asleep accidentally.—Harper's Young People.

The Advance of Woman.

"Were you aware," said the professor, "that the young women of the present day are much taller than women were twenty years ago?"

"I know that their hats are a whole lot higher," was the sad reply of the man who sometimes tries to see an operatic performance.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Fish Question.

"Our fishing club," remarked one Detroit man to another, "is to have a discussion to-night and I'd like to have you hear it."

"What is the question?"

"How sober must a man be to catch the longest string of fish."—Detroit Free Press.

Very Likely.

"The inventor of the alphabet must have been a modest man," said Hawkins.

"Why so?" asked Mawson.

"Because he began it with A," said Hawkins. "Most men would have begun it with I."—Harper's Bazar.

Appropriate Mourning.

Mrs. Newbride—Why! You are in second mourning, and your husband has not been dead a week!

Mrs. Weed—But he was my second husband, you know!—Puck.

At the Tea.

Kitty—Oh, girls, I heard the most awful stories about Jack Friskel

Millie—Do tell us at once, dear. They must be good. He has been twice divorced!—N. Y. Herald.

They Have Seven Lives.

"I saw poor Scribbles the poet this morning and the poor duffer hadn't an overcoat. He'll die of pneumonia."

"Not if he is a true poet. They never die."—Life.

Musical Item.

Soulful Youth (languidly)—Do you sing "Forever and Forever?"

She (practically)—No. I stop for meals.—Texas Siftings.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Perfected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 18, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

[illegible]

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

[illegible]

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

[illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables

[illegible]

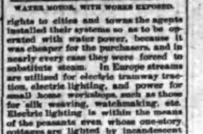
POWER FROM TURBINES.

Simple Yet Valuable Application of an Old Invention.

Electric Lighting and Power Within the Reach of Everybody Who Has Even Limited Water Power Near His Premises.

Hydraulic motors present special advantages over steam engines. When employed in different industries and wherever a sufficient volume of water can be obtained, with the necessary pressure, from all points of view it is preferable to put in a hydraulic apparatus rather than a steam boiler. This fact is becoming recognized, especially in Europe, and explains the great extension in the application of natural hydraulic forces in foreign countries.

In the early days of the electric light in this country in order to sell rights to cities and towns the agents installed their systems so as to be operated with water power, because it was cheaper for the purchasers, and in nearly every case they were forced to substitute steam. In Europe streams are utilized for electric tramway traction, electric lighting, and power for small home workshops, such as those for silk weaving, watchmaking, etc. Electric lighting is within the means of the peasants even whose one-story cottages are lighted by incandescent lamps, its cheapness arising from the hydraulic power used to generate the current.



WATER MOTOR, WITH WORKS EXPOSED.

The turbine water wheel is preferred above all others, and numerous kinds are constructed, but most of them are like those invented by the Frenchmen Jonval and Girard thirty years ago, which may be applied to nearly all the needs of modern industry. Among the particular applications of the turbine is generating electricity for electric lighting, electric traction and the distant transmission of power.

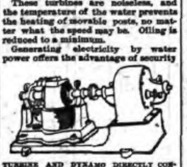
For this purpose the builders have constructed a hydro-electric group, placing the dynamo and turbine upon the same pedestal, and satisfactory results are realized from the points of view of economy and efficiency.

The turbine is arranged to revolve vertically and is inclosed in a cylindrical iron case. Its motion is exceedingly regular, superior to that of the best gas motors, and has a speed according to the pressure and volume of water entering the crown. The dynamo, which may be of any system whatever, is directly coupled to the axle of the turbine, a system very much appreciated in Europe. They are built in different sizes, corresponding to the small or large diameter of the turbines, and consequently to the motive power developed in a unit of time. The hydro-electric group represented in Fig. 2 shows the style of the coupling mentioned. This model is extensively used in factories and situated upon the banks of rivers and in country houses that have a water supply of a certain pressure. There are many witnesses who confirm the reports of the excellence of this method of making use of hydraulic power. Transmitting power transformed into electricity to a distance has been attempted, and the results obtained show that the system has a great future.

A similar system has lately been patented in England. Like the Gunther and Girard turbines, the water acts upon the revolving drum, and the power varies, according to the water pressure, from a sixth to twenty-four-horse power. (Figure 1.)

These turbines are noiseless, and the temperature of the water prevents the heating of movable posts, no matter what the speed may be. Oiling is reduced to a minimum.

Generating electricity by water power offers the advantage of security to parties who use it, there being no danger from fire. The hydro-electric machines are very much appreciated by the electric industry generally, but it must be remembered that the system is but an application of a French invention. The Girard turbine has been known for thirty years and used as a motor in numerous mills and shops built upon the water courses in the south of France.



TURBINE AND DYNAMO DIRECTLY CONNECTED.

Latest Definition of Electricity.

The latest definition of electricity is that it is simply motion of the molecules of the different substances which are the subjects of electrical action, just as heat, light and sound are. The only difference between these forces is the rate of the motion. The wonderful adaptability of the power is due entirely to the position which its rate of motion occupies in the scale of the energies.

Atmospheric Electric Heater.

An atmospheric electric heater has been invented which, it is thought, will, as it is gradually perfected, gain predominance over the present method of heating by its easily controlled energy and by reason of the small space it occupies. Heat can by this process be produced 25 per cent. cheaper than coal.

ORIGIN OF FIRES.

Conflagrations Which Started from Decidedly Peculiar Causes.

A list of unusual and curiously caused fires has been compiled and the Railway Review mentions some of the number. It includes a factory fire which was traced to a railway truck, an over-heated axle having thrown a car from the track and set fire to a petroleum tank from which the flames spread to the building. An instance is given in which a basket of greasy waste was ignited by the friction of a belt which sagged against it. In a harmless case of spontaneous ignition of oily waste, this material, with some wood chips, had been thrown into the firebox of an idle locomotive, shortly after which the workmen were surprised by the blowing off of steam by the engine. Another fire was due to oily waste in a manner which could not well be foreseen. Only heavy mineral oils were used, and a place was provided for the waste, but a cockchafer crawled from the receptacle directly to a gas jet, when the creature was quickly consumed, and the oily cotton filaments adhering to its body spread the fire. Well-known incendiaries are photographic and other lenses which act as burning glasses, and bright tight plates, which serve as concave mirrors. A plumber's exploit consisted in applying the flame test to a newly-made joint in a gas pipe, then covering the pipe without noticing a small blue flame, which was discovered some six weeks afterward, when the leak had become somewhat enlarged. A nail glanced from a carpenter's hammer into the conveyor of raw material in a jute factory, rubbed against the drum and produced a spark which set fire to the place. A flood burned one factory by causing a pile of iron filings to oxidize so rapidly as to become intensely heated. A stream from the firemen's hose started a second fire in New York while putting out one in a small building, a neighboring shed containing quicklime having been penetrated by the water.

Not Always That Frank.

"On what ground do you ask for a new trial?" said the judge to the defendant's lawyer.

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-26-

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.
Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Didn't Approve Such Conduct.

"Twemlo is a hog."

"What now?"

"Coming in on a suburban train the other day we had the same seat. Pretty girl stopped in the aisle, waited—"

"And Twemlo wouldn't get up?"

"No; he—"

"And you did?"

"Yes, I—"

"And so he sat by the girl all the way into town?"

"Uhu. I say he's a hog."—Chicago Record.

An Unexpected Revelation.

Young Man—Ah! How do, Dick? Is your sister at home?

Little Dick—Which sister? The homely one, what's goin' to have all of pa's money because she's likely to be an old maid, or the pretty one what ain't goin' to have anything?

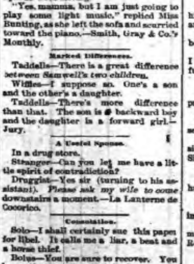
Young Man—Um—er—both of them. —Demorest's Magazine.

Only Once.

Mother—My daughter, I am astonished at your conduct with that gentleman. I distinctly heard him kiss you twice.

Daughter—Nonsense, ma! You know very well the conservatory has an echo. —Life.

UNIVERSAL.



"Begob! it's great respict ivery wan has fer Oireland. Ivery new invintion in this counthry is marked Pat, begob!" —Judge.

That Would Be Suitable.

"Why, the parlor is quite dark!" said Mrs. Bunting, as she entered the room where her daughter and young Mr. Sparks were sitting.

"Yes, mamma, but I am just going to play some light music," replied Miss Bunting, as she left the sofa and scurried toward the piano.—Smith, Gray & Co.'s Monthly.

Marked Differences.

Taddells—There is a great difference between Samwell's two children.

Wiffles—I suppose so. One's a son and the other's a daughter.

Taddells—There's more difference than that. The son is a backward boy and the daughter is a forward girl.—Jury.

A Useful Spouse.

In a drug store.

Stranger—Can you let me have a little spirit of contradiction?

Druggist—Yes sir (turning to his assistant). Please ask my wife to come downstairs a moment.—La Lanterne de Cocorico.

Consolation.

Solo—I shall certainly sue this paper for libel. It calls me a liar, a beat and a horse thief.

Bolus—You are sure to recover. You know that great principle in law, the greater the truth, the greater the libel —Truth.

Disenchanted.

I gave one hundred dollars to the parson, as a tip,
On the night he tied my matrimonial fetter,
But if that good man could only loosen now his binding grip
I would go him just one thousand dollars better.
—Brooklyn Life.

How a Cold Affected Him.

A little boy caught a very severe cold while his mamma was out of the city, and on her return rushed up to her, and, throwing his arms around her, cried:

"Oh, mamma, both of my eyes is rainin' and one of my noses won't go."—Demorest's Magazine.

Somewhat Discouraging.

Affectionate Relative—Why do you sit so far off, Cousin Jennie? Come over here on the sofa and sit alongside of me.

Cousin Jennie—I am thinking that for a distant relative you are near enough already.—Texas Siftings.

Not That Kind of Settlement.

"The weather is supposed to settle after Easter, isn't it, George, dear?" she asked.

"Yes, but not for an Easter bonnet; don't you buy it on any such speculation."—Chicago Record.

Giving Up Weeds.

Husband—But I don't want to quit chewing tobacco.

[illegible]

The Bishop's Adieu.

An English paper tells a story of a well-known bishop who suffers from impaired vision. He recently held a levee. At length a guest approached and said:

"How do you do my lord? My mother wishes to be kindly remembered to you."

"Ah," said the bishop, "that is very good of her. And how is the dear old soul? Nothing like a good old mother! Be sure to take care of your old mother. Good morning."

The bishop did not in the least know who his visitor was, and said to his footman: "Who was that?"

"The servant replied: "The last gentleman who left your lordship's reception is the duke of Connaught."

Maybe He Was a Loafer.

"Darling," said he tenderly, "I have made up my mind to ask you—to ask you—"

"Yes," she whispered, breathlessly.

"To ask you to become my wife. I know, dearest, that it is bold—it is presumptuous for me to do so. You are so much superior to me. I am, I feel, unworthy of your—"

"Say no more, John. I am yours. You may be unworthy of me, but—"

"But what, dearest?"

"Half a loaf is better than no bread." —Texas Siftings.

A Warning Voice.

"Claribel," called out the old gentleman in a loud, rasping and emphatic voice from the head of the stairway at 11:30 p. m., "you tell that slick-haired, tallow-faced, spider-legged dude in the parlor there to take his No. 6 hat and walk off, and if he ever comes here again, by jocks, I'll kick him clear up through his necktie!"

"Alfred," murmured the young woman, pensively, "something seems to tell me we had better part!"—Chicago Tribune.

Golden Silence.

He—I intended presenting you with a bracelet for your birthday, my love. Do you prefer a gold or a silver one?

She remains silent.

He—Well?

Still no reply.

He—Come—don't you hear? Gold or silver?

She—Why, my dear, are you not aware that if speech is silver, silence is golden?—Demorest's Magazine.

No Other Way.

A great moral and practical truth is hinted at in the following, clipped from an exchange:

"How did you learn to skate?" a small boy was asked.

"Oh, by getting up again every time I tumbled down," answered the youthful philosopher.

Only Practicing.

Ethel—When does your breach of promise suit take place, Clara?

Clara (sobbing)—T-to-morrow.

Ethel (sympathizingly)—I am sorry to see you so overcome, Clara dear.

Clara—Oh, it's nothing, Ethel. I'm simply practicing for the jury.—Texas Siftings.

An Unjust Charge.

She—I should call that woman a tuft hunter.

He—No, I think you are unjust.

She—Why, can't you see she's breaking her neck after Maj. Caisson?

He—Oh yes, but you forget that the major is bald as a soup plate.—Chicago Record.

Cause and Effect.

Mrs. Dash—Oh, doctor, your sermons are so lovely!

Dr. Slash—But my dear madam, I always note that you go to sleep.

Mrs. Dash—Yes; but I have such lovely dreams!—Truth.

After the Shower.

Marmaduke—May I go out to play, now?

Mamma—What, with those holes in your boots?

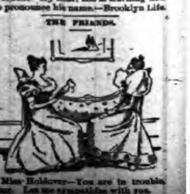
Marmaduke—No, with the bulldog next door.—Puck.

A Long Engagement.

Clara—Why doesn't Kitty Spinler marry the Russian nobleman? She has been engaged to him three years now.

Maude—My dear, she is learning how to pronounce his name.—Brooklyn Life.

THE FRIENDS.



Miss Holdover—You are in trouble, dear. Let me sympathize with you.

Miss Jackson—You can't possibly, dear. I have had three proposals, and [illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1893. No 20.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.

AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON.
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jedtf

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 133, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES R. THEISS,
Dentist,
30 West Front street. A new local anesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jedtf

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 189, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 91 E. Front street, corner Elm street. 3jy1yd

T. J. GILLIES.
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap1y

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed. f27y1

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.

TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES.
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.

Tinware Made to Order.

Ranges, Brick and
Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,

Furnaces, Ranges,

Water Piping. Plumbing.

Heater Work, Tinning,

Hardware.

A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6. 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!

Furniture!

Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!

23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.

Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and use only [illegible]. I believe in every man ready [illegible] all cases.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.
9-21-y

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.,
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
ab3tf

ESTABLISHED 18 6.

C. E. & J. W. BROWN,
[Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.,]
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.
3-15-tf

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.

A. M. SEGUINE,

Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 98.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE.
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.
Mar9tf

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves,
Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 19 SOMERSET ST. 3-28-tf

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HAWKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York. 3 23 3m

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.
3 30 3m

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
30 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J. mch15tf

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
[Successor to E. J. Carey.]
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—32 W. FRONT ST.
[illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest tobacco.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
Yaofy

C. M. FINK,
Dealer in Havana & Domestic
—SEGARS!!—
No. 18 PARK AVE., (near corner of Second St.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.
d3m6

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 33½ W. Front street, to 41 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally. 4 2 tf

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 8 North Avenue, Plainfield.
ab23

L. B. WOOLSTON, J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS SUPPLIES. 90 NORTH AVENUE
mch9tf

C. Dickinson
Officer
13 Clark Ave
Plainfield N.J

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be
Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes, Menus,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation,
Everything,
WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building),
PLAINFIELD N. J

ANOTHER YEAR OF PROGRESS.

PROSPEROUS GROWTH OF PLAINFIELD'S Y. M. C. A.

Its Beloved President Makes His Annual Report and Is Unanimously Re-elected—The Educational Classes to Become a Permanency, with Paid Instructors.—Deserved Praise to the Unfiring Secretary, J. H. Manning.

A body of representative men attended the annual session of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Thursday, and enjoyed the interesting meeting.

President Murray read part of the third chapter of Joshua, after which prayer was offered by A. C. LeBoyteaux. The minutes of the previous annual meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report was presented and ordered filed. The report of the president was read and ordered filed and published in the city papers.

Mr. Newman moved that the thanks of the association be tendered to the Press of the city for their kindness in freely opening their columns at all times to items concerning the association's work.

The election of officers resulted in the unanimous choice of the following:

President—Wm. D. Murray.
Vice-president—D. B. Titsworth.
Recording secretary—E. L. Wain, jr.
Corresponding secretary—E. H. Bedford.
Treasurer—H. O. Newman.

DIRECTORS:

John Valiant,	E. R. Ackerman,
G. Q. Packer,	E. L. Bonney,
G. H. Cornwell,	Wm. Thompson,
Nelson Runyon,	Stephen Cadoone,
J. W. Gavett,	A. C. LaBoyteaux,
Chas. E. Ross,	A. B. Beers,
T. H. Hazell.

President Murray's report is in full as follows:

To the members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield, N. J.:

Since you listened to the last report our association has added another year to its history; you and I have added another year to our lives. If, during this year, the work of the association has been well done it is because you and I, as workers in the association, have each done our part; if it has not been well done we have neglected our duties. If this year has been a good year for the association we who labor here have reaped some of the fruits.

Our membership has not changed much during the year, in number, though 106 men have joined the association. We now have 411 members of whom 279 are active, that is members of evangelical churches.

As in the past our rooms, inconvenient as they are, have been a useful and welcome meeting place for such organizations as the Relief association, Children's Home directors, Choral society and others.

The daily visitors to the rooms have been about sixty in number; this includes all who have come to the rooms to read, play games, meet friends and to seek information. With this much patronage our library ought to be in better condition, but we have not had money to spend on it. Dr. Rodman has set our friends a good example by contributing a number of suitable books.

The poverty of our present quarters brings to mind the beautiful building we have arranged to erect. To our great joy this much needed "Home for Young Men" was actually begun on the 3rd day of April, 1893, and we sincerely hope that the work will go on without interruption until we are able to welcome all the young men of Plainfield to a house of which they will be proud. On March 2, 1893, contracts for the building were signed and amounted to $35,969, exclusive of heating, electric lighting and flagging, hardware, etc. So far we have subscriptions of $37,890.64, of which $24,349.64 has been paid in and $15,328.02 expended, mostly for land. We were awarded about $6,000 damages on the opening of Peace street which ought to reimburse for part of our outlay.

Financially we are about in the same condition as we were a year ago. Our expenses depend somewhat on the amount of money we can raise; that is, we could always spend to good advantage more money than we have. Our receipts have been $2,808.67 and our expenses $2,782.96, and we have bills unpaid amounting to $400, against which there are matured dues of $250 and $85 in cash.

During the year we have conducted classes in book-keeping, arithmetic, stenography, mechanical drawing, English branches and singing. These classes, except that in stenography, have been taught by volunteers, and the 12 men who have so freely given their time and energy to this work are deserving of our gratitude. The time is coming soon when we cannot get along with volunteer teachers if we are to do the work which needs to be done. The teachers will have to be paid. This will give the classes a permanency and regularity which they cannot have under the present system. No one must think that our classes have not done good work, for they have, as reports from the men show. One reports his wages doubled, another an increase, and many in answer to the question, "Have you received the benefits expected?" answer "Yes, and more too."

The popular talks given in the rooms are also educational. Among the subjects discussed have been earth, fire, water, free-hand drawing and Japan. More extensive, and extremely interesting, were the war lectures arranged by our good friend Major Miller, and which netted a handsome fund for the building fund.

Our association is blessed above all in having for its general secretary one whose untiring faithfulness has made many of us feel how little we are doing personally towards advancing that Kingdom for which we pray so earnestly. Whatever of success has attended our efforts this year is due in large measure to the self-sacrifice and perseverance of Mr. Manning, and he ought to have the credit for it. Largely through his efforts twenty-three places of employment were secured, eighteen boarding houses recommended, twenty-seven letters of introduction given, and twenty-three visits made to the sick. He has furnished commercial travelers' tickets to members on the road, and temporarily assisted and counseled with many young men.

While we are meeting here to-night hundreds of delegates from all parts of America are meeting together in Indianapolis in an International Young Men's Christian Association convention, and that gathering and this illustrate one of the vital principles in association effort: definite local work at home coupled with a broad missionary spirit which reaches out over the whole land. Our own missionary [illegible], however, has been [illegible]. We [illegible] one hundred dollars to the [illegible] the result of the meetings held on the day of prayer for young men, and we raised one hundred and twenty-six dollars through our extension fund. We have one hundred and seventy dollars pledged for the same cause this year.

A characteristic feature of Y. M. C. A. work has always been the social department. But situated as we are this part of our work has had to be nearly neglected. We have succeeded, however, in doing something. During the year six receptions for men were held in our rooms, and one for boys. On Thanksgiving Day and New Year's Day we kept open house and helped a large number of men to have a good time. We also gave a supper one evening to our active members. The most delightful social event of the year was the supper served on the occasion of our twenty-fifth anniversary to the former presidents and our present officers and directors by our efficient ladies' committee. We have had besides these several social conferences of members, committees and training class members. Out of doors our work has been even more limited, and has consisted of bicycle runs and one gathering of committee men. A class in light gymnastics has been conducted by a member of the association. All our work has been by young men for young men, but we have been constantly assisted by our ladies' committee, and again we have to thank them for their kindness.

But above all is the religious work of the association. That has demanded our best efforts. It has consisted principally of a young men's meeting held every Sunday at 4 p. m. The average attendance at this has been forty-one. Also two Bible classes, held every Sunday morning. The one taught by the secretary has studied the great doctrines of the Bible, and the one taught by the president has studied Prof. Harper's Inductive Studies in Luke's Gospel. For a part of the year a boys' meeting was held, and also a Saturday night prayer meeting. Every Sunday night outpost meetings have been held at Mt. Pleasant and Washingtonville.

While the association stands before the public as a representative of strong, manly Christianity, we have also had definite results in our work. The Sunday afternoon meetings have been the means of leading some men into the Kingdom, and have been a stimulant to all who could attend them. The Bible classes have been exceedingly helpful and most of the men in them have been using to advantage the information and knowledge gained in the class.

As we look back over the year we are conscious that we have many things to be thankful for, aside from the results which we have seen accomplished, and among them is the kindly feeling which the pastors of the city, without exception, have shown towards us. We appreciate their interest and are always glad to have their counsel and advice. We rejoice, too, that the people of Plainfield have always been so ready to support us, and we believe that pastors and people have been so well disposed towards us because this year as always we have tried above all else to win men to Jesus Christ. We believe that Christianity not only assures citizenship in Heaven but guarantees the best citizenship on earth. And all our work has had for its end the upbuilding of the Kingdom of God. We have come far short of what we had hoped to do; but if there is joy in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth we may well rejoice to-night and take courage as we enter upon a new year.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. D. MURRAY,
President.

Plainfield, N. J., May 11, 1893.

A REPUBLICAN FLOPPED.

And Freeholder Hubbard Thereby Lost the Directorship.

The Union county board of freeholders for 1893 and 1894 met at Elizabeth Thursday for organization. They called the board to order and the Democrats nominated freeholder John S. Sauer and the Republicans Capt. Hubbard, of Plainfield, for director. The first ballot settled it, as one Republican flopped to Sauer and another threw a vote away on freeholder Halliday, Democrat. The ballot stood: Sauer, 9; Hubbard, 6; Halliday, 1. No attempt was made to elect a county physician, and Dr. Westcott, of Fanwood, still holds that office.

Freeholder Trahon, (Dem.), who does not like assemblyman Lane, offered a resolution that the Summit Herald, editor Smythe's paper, be made the official organ of the county instead of the Summit Record, owned by Mr. Lane. The latter, who was in the grand jury room upstairs, got excused and rushed down to the freeholders room in time to head off Mr. Trahon's motion. Freeholder Donohue's motion to table Trahon's motion was carried by every vote except Trahon's. The late speaker of the assembly smiled over his success and hastened back to his colleagues on the grand jury.

County collector Oliver reported that the financial condition of the county was excellent. The receipts during the past year were $448,149.45, expenditures $438,472.16.

Director Sauer appointed as committee on appropriations freeholders Donohue, Moore, Hunt, Hubbard and Howard.

THE MAYOR SAYS "OUTRAGEOUS!"

Borough Accounts Have Been Left Unbalanced Too Long.

The main object of last night's session of the borough council, the examination of accounts to see just how the finances stood, was not accomplished. The clerk reported that in spite of promises neither the ex-borough-clerk nor expert Loomis had balanced up the books for the previous fiscal year, and till that was done no statement could be made.

Mayor Saunders was righteously indignant over this condition of things, and termed it outrageous. He directed that the finance committee see that a balance was struck and that all borough accounts be adjusted before the June meeting; also that the committees on streets and fire, water and lamps be prepared to report the condition of their funds then.

That Female Orchestra, and Who Are In It.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

There has been organized in Plainfield, under the leadership of Mrs. Buckley, a female orchestra, the following ladies from Dunellen and vicinity being among the members: Miss Maud [illegible], piano; Miss Day, first cornet; Miss Hutchins, second cornet; Miss C. Fisher, flute; Miss Nelson, violin; Miss Brown, drum.

He's on a Salary Now.

Believing that the system of having the borough magistrate profit according to the number of cases he handles is a bad one, the borough council last night made Justice T. B. [illegible]'s annual salary [illegible] in lieu of fees.

WHAT THE Y'S ARE DOING.

Interesting Reports Made at Their Annual Meeting.

The closing session of the Plainfield Y. W. C. T. U. for the year was held Thursday.

The president, Miss Green, opened the meeting with Scriptural reading and prayer.

The yearly reports were next read and accepted.

The report of the secretary, Miss Morrison, showed that the "Y's" have held two meetings each month, one business and one devotional. Much help has been derived from the latter, at which different ministers and friends interested in the work, have presided.

In October, Miss Lulu Lewis represented the society and read a "Y" paper at the W. C. T. U. convention held at Roseville.

On November 23, the young ladies held their regular Thanksgiving cake, candy and pie sale.

The Loyal Legion began with a full school and in a few weeks had about 125 enrolled. At Christmas the children were given an entertainment at which Miss Winter used her own Christmas tree and decorations. Each child received a box of candy and an orange. In January, the children gave an entertainment, at which they raised about $13. At various times the Rev. Drs. Hurlbut, Schenck, Herring and Goodrich, Mr. Newell and Principal Maxson have spoken to the children. Dr. Lewis will address them this week.

Every other week there has been a military drill for the boys, and on the intervening Fridays the girls have had a wand drill.

The teachers will continue their work for this season a few weeks longer, and are more than glad to welcome their able superintendent, Miss Winter, back again, she having been unable to be with them regularly during the winter on account of her father's death.

The treasurer's report shows a good balance in the treasury.

From November 25 to May 1, the Hospital Committee have paid fifteen visits to the hospital. The young ladies gave the patients a treat by singing for them. Books, fruit and jelly have been carried to them.

At the "Y" convention held in Hackettstown in April, the Plainfield society was represented by Miss Annie Wyckoff and Miss Mary Lewis. They report pleasant and instructive meetings.

A concert by the Rutgers Glee club was given in the Unitarian church, April 27, followed by a reception at the home of the "Y" president, Miss Amey E. Green.

It was decided that the "Y's" place a box in the W. C. T. U. rooms to receive papers for free distribution.

The following motions were adopted: That an invitation be sent to the "Y" convention to meet in Plainfield next Spring. That 50 cts. be sent to the World's Fair souvenir fund. That $1 be sent to the Isabel Gibson fund. It was left to the president, whether the name of the "Y" be put upon the quilt for raising the debt on Prohibition cottage.

HIS A PERSONAL GRIEF.

Editor Honeyman's Heartfelt Eulogy of the Cook Brothers' Model Nephew.

A. V. D. Honeyman, editor and publisher, who lives in North Plainfield, and whose office is in this city, pays the following glowing and merited tribute to the memory of Frederick H. Cook, late of Bound Brook, who had so many warm friends in Plainfield:

"I do not know one of the numerous young attorneys at the bar of this State who had more attractive graces of character and strength of purpose than he, and whose future outlook seemed more promising. If I judged him correctly he had four prominent traits, which are more often not found in young men than otherwise and which should be impressed on the living as worthy of all emulation. The first was his absolute conscientiousness; resolution to do what was right because it was honorable and paid best to stand up straight in life. So many lean and stoop and fail to conquer.

"Second, his fidelity to his friends. He made many at school, at his preceptor's office in Elizabeth, and at the bar, and he held everyone. It is a rare trait which both woos and wins friends. Third, he so conducted himself as to be almost without enemies; if he had any theirs was the fault, not his.

"Lastly, he was not swallowed up with ambition, but was modest, retiring; willing to work and have others obtain the credit.

"Such model young men are rare. God creates them, but earth seems unable to hold them long.

"His friends will all deeply sorrow with his mother and the household in this sore bereavement, but it will not be sympathetic alone. Each will grieve for himself. A good, pure, brave soul has gone forth from among us to take part in the activities of a higher sphere, and we shall miss him. His great gain, but our great loss!"

180 GETS THE LOT.

The Yose Relief Fund Increased by $275.

The drawing for the building lot donated by Hand & Runyon, for the Yose fund, took place in Gazelle parlors Friday evening. Mrs. Yose's sister picked out at haphazard the winning number from among the coupons, which had been shaken up in a tin cylinder like a peanut roaster. Two disinterested persons acted as a committee to see that the drawing was perfectly fair. The number was 180, and the holder of that ticket will have the deed made out to him on making himself known to the secretary of the company, D. S. Dunavan. The sale of tickets was 275, at $1 apiece, and thereby the relief fund for Mrs. Yose is increased $275.

H. B. RIDER THE LUCKY MAN.

Frank Vail, an employe in the Metropolitan stables, North avenue, sold H. B. Rider the lucky number, 180. Mr. Rider is the manager of A. D. Thompson's business.

Rest for New Jersey's Favorite Son.

Senator McPherson has left Washington for an extended trip west. He will probably accompany railroad commissioner Hampton on his tour of inspection of the Northern Pacific railroad. He will then visit the World's Fair, take a short run through the southwestern States and then take an ocean voyage of a couple of weeks. The Senator does not expect to return to Washington until about July 1. His private secretary, E. T. Matthews, will remain in Washington all summer, and all letters to the Senator will be looked after by him.

Chief Doane President.

The annual election of officers of the board of representatives of the Firemen's Relief association took place Tuesday, and resulted as follows:

President—T. O. Doane.
Vice-president—A. Salzmann.
Secretary—G. Thorn.
Treasurer—J. A. Hubbard.

The association is a most worthy institution, and has greatly aided the brave fire laddies. During the year it spent $1,[illegible] for the relief of sick and disabled firemen.

Oh, for a City Park!

If there ever was a time in the history of the city when Plainfield should have a public park, it is now. True it has one in name but not in fact. During the past few weeks a few loads of earth have been dumped there and leveled off, but aside from this there is absolutely no improvement. [illegible]

FOUND WORK AT LAST.

Vicissitudes of a Poor Man Enticed to Plainfield Under Faithless Engagement.

John Wiebusch applied to police sergeant Kiely, Tuesday afternoon, for advice and help, as he was stranded in Plainfield without money or friends. Wiebusch's story was that he came out of a hospital a short time ago where he had been laid up with a broken leg. He had saved enough money to purchase some clothes and to pay the fee for a place in an intelligence office in New York. He was engaged by a man in Plainfield whose name is familiar to many, as coachman and useful man. Wiebusch accompanied the man home and was set to work on the place. In a short time his employer came out of the house and told him that he had no further use for him, as his wife did not like his looks and did not want him to drive for her. Accordingly Wiebusch was turned adrift without a cent, and even without having been given a thing to eat. Policeman Kiely came into the PRESS office about 5 o'clock with Wiebusch, and the members of the staff that happened to be about were struck by Wiebusch's story and gave a contribution to him. This sum was sufficiently increased by a kind-hearted man who heard of the poor chap's plight to insure his getting his supper and lodging for the night. Officer Kiely took Wiebusch to justice Nash to see if there was any way by which the man could obtain some recompense for his journey to Plainfield. The justice said that he could make complaint against the man who had brought him out under agreement to hire, but that it would not do any good as the man would simply carry the case to Elizabeth and it would take money and time to get any satisfaction at all. He added that he had many cases where servants were unable to obtain their rightful recompense, and that he always advised the plaintiffs to settle on the best terms they could without recourse to law, as a poor man in such a case is handicapped.

Secretary Manning of the Y. M. C. A. was notified and was found as always ready to lend a willing hand in case of need. Secretary Manning took charge of the man and promised to do what he could for him. Wiebusch then went into McVey's restaurant for supper, and as they were in need of a man and found he was deserving and out of work, they engaged him on the spot. Wiebusch had been heartbroken at his plight, and was rejoiced to get good employment.

'TWAS A HAPPY EVENT.

Everyone Rejoiced Over the Spring Meeting of the Christian Endeavor Union.

The spring public meeting of the Plainfield Local Christian Endeavor Union was held Thursday night at Washingtonville, with eight societies well represented. The first part of the evening was devoted to the transaction of business, followed by reading of Scripture and prayer.

E. M. Cave, president of the union, spoke very encouragingly of the Christian Endeavor movement in general, and in Plainfield in particular. He offered some very helpful suggestions in regard to temperance and missionary work in the individual societies. Mr. Cave is a true friend of temperance, and as the result of his remarks the twelve societies of the Union will doubtless do some very effective work along this line during the coming month.

A plea was also made for more enthusiasm and consecrated effort in regard to missions, the request being made that all societies in the union be identified with Fulton's "two cents a week mission plan."

The speaker for the evening, the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, gave the union and its friends a very able address based on the fourth chapter of I Peter, and each one present felt grateful for the opportunity of listening to his words of encouragement and wise counsel.

On motion, a hearty vote of thanks was given to Dr. Lewis. Thanks were extended also to the trustees of the Wilson Memorial chapel for the use of their buildings.

Good singing was one of the features of the evening, and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was rendered in a manner which proved beyond a doubt that the twelve societies of the local union are truly banded together in the interest of Christ and the Church.

GRIST OF THE COURTS.

Tramps Fall Into the Hands of the Law, and Hebrews Fall Out.

Three tramps were arrested on the boulevard Thursday for begging and making themselves general nuisances by being disorderly. Two of them, who gave their names in court this morning as John Casey and James McCormick, were able-bodied ruffians, but the third, whose name was Cassidy, was a forlorn-looking cripple of about 18 years. The first two used the cripple to excite sympathy in their begging, and as he seemed inoffensive the court gave him fifteen minutes in which to leave town. Casey and McCormick were given each 60 days in the county jail. They acknowledged belonging to the same gang of tramps that terrified many people over in North Plainfield yesterday; and Thomas Ryan, who was arrested yesterday by marshal Pangborn, was one of their number. Ryan went to three houses on Willow avenue, demanding money and greatly terrifying the inmates. He was given 30 days by judge Crosley.

William Murphy, who said he was a painter from New York, was arrested on Front street Thursday for indecent exposure. Judge Coddington gave him his choice of a fine of $5 or 30 days in jail. He took the latter.

Sigmund Frucht, a dealer in second-hand goods on Front street, was arrested for fighting with another Hebrew gent, who went into his shop to borrow his trip ticket to New York. They did not agree as to terms, and tried to settle it by a personal encounter, but the police interfered. They were both held in $100 bail to appear before the city judge.

The other Hebrew got the worst of the fight, and is laid up with a broken head. Frucht says the affair was an accident, and that the other chap's injuries were caused by a fall.

Too Much Rain for the Crops.

The official crop bulletin reports for this section are as follows:

PLAINFIELD—The first week of the month gives poor prospect to the farmer; plowing and all work on the farm greatly hindered; rainfall, 2.62 inches.

JOHN NEAGLE.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD—Excess of rain has made it impossible to do any outdoor work; so much cold weather makes a bad outlook for all farm and garden crops; sunshine badly needed.

THEO. C. JOHNSON.

AMATEURS PLAY FOR CHARITY.

THE BOYS' CLUB FUND MATERIALLY INCREASED.

Everything Was Lovely, and the Audience Was Enthusiastic—Mrs. Saunders the Star of the Evening, and Charles Noe Daly Out of Sight—The Accomplished Wendell Sang "He Never Came Back", But They Made Him.

Plainfield is fast coming to look on the theatricals at the Country club Casino as a regular thing to be looked forward to with the same pleasure as that occasioned by thoughts of the advent of spring and other pleasing occurrences, and those people who went to the Casino Thursday saw one of the very best of the many excellent amateur performances that have been given on those boards in the past few years. When one can add to anticipation of an extremely amusing evening the virtuous feelings attendant on buying a ticket for a charitable entertainment, it is no wonder that the pretty little play-house was packed, and "standing room only" was what the late-comers found.

The programme was varied, consisting of two short plays and three "specialties" by well-known amateurs in vaudeville.

The first play, "Barbara", with Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. J. Parker Mason, Wm. N. Runyon, and Wm. B. Cook, in the cast, was a delightful bit of drama, well written, cleverly constructed, and excellently acted. Mrs. Mason in the title role was as always inimitable, and acted a difficult part with a surprising amount of power.

Barbara was an orphaned child grown to womanhood with no knowledge of her parents save that they were dead, and no clue to her identity but some old letters which, to use the words of the play "would be sufficient for identification but not for discovery".

The other characters are Lillie, chumming with Barbara and helping her eke out existence by dressmaking. Cecil, a poor young man in love with Lillie, and Mr. Finnicum, a solicitor from Lancashire. Mr. Finnicum comes up to London in search of Cecil, to whom has been left a small annuity. To Barbara he tells how the money chanced to be left to Cecil, through having been left to his sister, who was drowned with her mother in the German Ocean. In this sister Barbara recognizes herself, and is about to bring forward proofs of her identity when she reflects that if the sister comes to life Cecil will be deprived of his small fortune, without which he cannot marry Lillie, so she returns the box containing the letters to its place on the table and remains simply Barbara.

The advent of the young lovers at this point is extremely effective and affecting, as the contrast produced between their happiness and the silent sacrifice of Barbara was very artistic.

None of the parts was easy. Mr. Runyon made a good Cecil, though he is better suited to a part like Taraxicum Twitters in "My Turn Next."

Not enough can be said in praise of Mrs. Saunders's charming impersonation of Lillie. It was only excelled in excellence by her part in "Second Thoughts". Mr. Cook was as ever the best that could have been chosen for an old-man part.

After the first play the audience was treated to something in lighter vein.

Charles Noe Daly sang the "Song of All Nations" from the "Isle of Champagne", and was greeted with roars of laughter. He wore a long ulster, a deer-stalking cap, and a stage-diamond the size of a washtub, and carried a bag that was so thickly plastered over with hotel and railroad stickers that the original article was invisible. He was loudly encored, and responded with a "lightning change" to evening dress and sang "But He Did Not Split the Wood". Even then the audience was not satisfied, and made him sing for a third time, when he gave a parody on "My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon".

Harry Blake amused the people for "a few quiet moments," and Evert Jansen Wendell sang "He Never Came Back" and responded to his encore with his well-known laughing song, "The Bashful Young Girl") which sent the audience into shrieks of laughter.

The second play, "Second Thoughts", was very funny, and Mrs. Saunders's Hon. Helen Clivedon was the best thing that has ever been done in the Casino. Her make-up was exquisite, and her acting as nearly perfect as an amateur can hope to make it.

Mrs. Mason proved that she could play a comedy part as well as heavier roles. Her Mrs McSharon was very amusing. Wm. T. Pelletier's Sir Herbert Mervyn was well done. Sir Herbert was a young man who suddenly found himself without a cent on account of losses on the turf. He is confronted with the pleasing proposition of selling all his estates on the hardly less pleasing alternative of marrying the McSharon for her money, when he sees a hole through a ladder and proposes to his cousin Helen, with whom he has been in love all the time. Of course she is rich and equally of course she accepts him, and the McSharon is escorted to her carriage from the conservatory where the scene is laid, baffled and angry. The denouement is very amusing, and as THE PRESS announcement had stated it would, sent the audience home in good humor.

The proceeds go to the Boys' club manual-training fund.

DAUGHTERS OF POCAHONTAS.

Royal Time Provided in the Red Men's Wigwam.

Friday night Iona Council gave an apron and necktie social in the wigwam of Miantinomo, 34 West Front street, which was a decided success; and the committee, which consisted of Mrs. Fred. Canfield, Mrs. Wm. Klein, Miss Lizzie Dunn, Miss Ella Sebring and Mrs. Emma Cox, were congratulated by all for the able manner in which they entertained the members and friends of the council. The floor committee, under the able management of Fred Canfield and Wm. Westphal, made it very pleasant for all. A most delightful feature of the evening was the dancing of the Oxford minuet by Miss Ada Westphal, a child only six years old, who captivated the audience by her correct and graceful manner. She was handsomely arrayed in pink satin, and made many admiring friends. The officers of the council are: Pocahontas—Mrs. Wm. Westphal; Wenonah—Mrs. George Richter; Prophetess—Mrs. Wm. Newcorn; Powhatan—Mrs. John H. Carsey.

—Henry P. Stiles of Scotch Plains, who ordered bicycler Stiliger off the sidewalk a number of times before he had him arrested and fined, denies that he had Mr. Stiliger brought up out of malice.

Rates of Advertising

Space	WEEKS 1	2	3	MONTHS 1	2	3	6	12
1 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.

Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

SCARED BY THE TROLLEY.

Had the Car Not Been Stopped Short, the McCarthys Would Have Been Run Over.

While James McCarthy, of Evona, and wife, and their granddaughter Lillie, (daughter of T. A. McCarthy, the local agent for the Singer Manufacturing company), were returning from town about 11 a. m., Thursday, the horse became frightened at the buzzing noise of the wire street railway trolley, which is said to be more noisy around Grant avenue than at any other point along the line of the street railway, and started to run away. When he reached the track, the car in charge of conductor Hatfield was right on him, and he turned up Grant avenue so short that the right fore wheel got fast in the rail and was wrecked, throwing the occupants out, overturning the buggy, and making a complete wreck of it. The old gentleman landed on his shoulder and head, and was quite badly shaken up, but not as bad as the old lady. She fell on her head and received more serious injury. The little girl got off with some painful bruises, none of them serious.

The old lady has been quite unfortunate of late. About a year ago she went to see her daughter, who lives close by, and fell on the sidewalk and broke her ankle; and last Sunday she started to visit her son and slipped and fell again and sustained some painful bruises, but thought she felt well enough to attend church yesterday, when she received her present injury.

The conductor stopped the car yesterday just in time to prevent running over the McCarthys. Dr. Gaston was prompt in attendance.

MR. OPDYKE'S VALUED GIFTS.

He Presents Important Volumes to the Plainfield Free Library.

Charles W. Opdyke, of Broadway, whose valuable work on the OpDyck genealogy is so well-known among genealogists, has presented a copy of this work to the Plainfield Free Public Library, together with "The Hoagland family in America", "The Chad Browne Memorial", "The New Jersey Society of the Sons of the American Revolution", and Munsell's standard work, "American Ancestry", eleven volumes in all. This last work particularly is of the greatest value in its field, containing only such families as are able to go back as far as the Revolution, but for them it is very full, and is well indexed, making it very easy to consult. This work will of course be added to the reference department, and so may be used at any time during library hours.

Good Goods and Good Cause.

The ladies of the Relief association wish to announce that during the next few weeks there will be a special sale of undergarments and aprons at the rooms of the association. These garments are handmade and substantial, and will be sold at very little beyond the actual cost of the material.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union held on Thursday, May 4, 1893.

Present—Director Halliday and Freeholders Badgely, Donahue, Hubbard, Halliday, Hunt, Kyte, Moore, Boll, Scudder, Sauer, Trahon, Vanderbeek, Winans and Woodruff.

Absent—Freeholders Swain and Howard.

The minutes of last meeting, except bills ordered paid, were read, and on motion approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Linden Township Committee, requesting the Board not to grant a license to any race track in Linden township, was read and on motion of Freeholder Trahon, received and placed on file.

From the Grand Jury of Union County:

Resolved, That the grand inquest now in session hereby recommend to the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union that hereafter the witnesses subpoenaed to testify before the Grand Jury be paid the same fees as are paid to witnesses subpoenaed to attend on the trial of cases in the court.

(Signed) DR. E. B. O'REILLY, Foreman.

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard received and referred to the county attorney.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

From committee to settle with collector:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report that we have examined his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, and find that the same agree and are correct.

[Signed] Charles E. Moore, Samuel Halliday, Com.

On motion of Freeholder Halliday received and filed.

RESOLUTIONS.

Freeholder Hubbard reported on the Plainfield Street Railway Company, and offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the petition of the Plainfield Street Railway Co. to cross the Somerset street bridge be granted under the same conditions as made by the city of Plainfield and borough of North Plainfield, granting the said company the right of way through the streets.

On motion of Freeholder Halliday adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Hunt:

Resolved, That the Director appoint a committee of three to inspect the bridge known as the Cahill bridge, in the township of Cranford, and report to this board at the next regular meeting, as to the necessity of repairing the same.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted unanimously, and the Director appointed the following committee: Freeholders Hunt, Trahon and Hubbard.

By Freeholder Boll:

Whereas, It appearing that this board, having assumed control and adopted as a county road all that portion of the road known as the Newark Turnpike, running through the township of Springfield and the township of Union, under the permission of an act entitled "An act to enable Boards of Chosen Freeholders to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 19, 1889, and the supplements thereto; therefore be it

Resolved, That the following description, as an accurate description of the aforesaid road for the purpose of having the same recorded in the office of the county clerk, as directed and required by the aforesaid act:

Beginning at the intersection of the center line of said Newark turnpike and Morris avenue in the township of Springfield, thence running in an easterly direction along said Newark turnpike, its various courses thereof through the township of Springfield and the township of Union to its intersection with the county line, dividing Union from Essex county, and designated as a County Road on a map of Union county, showing the roads designated as County Roads and adopted by this board as a map required under the provisions of the aforesaid act, and filed in the county clerk's office; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, certified by the clerk of this board, be filed in the county clerk's office.

On motion of Freeholder Trahon adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Trahon:

Whereas, It appearing that this board have assumed control and adopted as a County Road a certain road or a part of a road leading from Elizabeth to Newark, known as Newark avenue, as set forth in the report of a committee adopted at a meeting of this board, held on Sept. 2, 1891, for the purpose of improving and maintaining the same, under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enable Boards of Chosen Freeholders to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 19, 1889; therefore be it

Resolved, That the following description be adopted as an accurate description of the aforesaid road for the purpose of having the same recorded in the office of the county clerk, as directed and required by the aforesaid act:

Beginning at a point where the said Newark avenue intersects with North Broad street in the city of Elizabeth, thence running northerly along said Newark avenue, its various courses thereof through the city of Elizabeth, to a point where the county line of Union county intersects with the county line of the county of Essex, being the same road as laid down, marked and designated as a county road, leading from Elizabeth to Newark, on a map entitled a map of Union county showing the roads designated as County Roads, and adopted by this board as the map required under the provisions of the aforesaid act, and this resolution, certified by the clerk of this board, be filed in the county clerk's office.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Boll at the request of Freeholder Swain:

Whereas, It appearing that this board, having assumed control and adopted as a County Road all that portion of the road known as the Morris turnpike, running through the township of Summit in the county of Union, under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enable Boards of Chosen Freeholders to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 19, 1889, and the supplements thereto; therefore be it

Resolved, That the following description as an accurate description of the aforesaid road, made for the purpose of having the same recorded in the office of the county clerk as directed and required by the aforesaid act:

Continued on Page 2.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE
Editors and Proprietors.

DIFFERENT WAYS.

There are different ways of doing things, some sensible and and some foolish, some straightforward and open, while others are as dark and tangled as an East India jungle.

It is reported from Washington that Secretary Carlisle is having official data collected for a judicious revision of the present tariff.

Whereupon certain Republican editors declare such procedure to be a glaring innovation on the modern plan of tariff making.

It is decidedly so, gentlemen!

The Harrison-McKinley tariff was constructed by an entirely different process from the intended Democratic method. A secret conclave of bounty patriots fashioned it piece by piece, cent per cent, to suit their own selfish purposes, and as a consideration for partisan aid rendered in the Presidential election of 1888.

That was the Republican way.

Democrats justly denouncing it as alien to popular rights, propose a more honest and equitable plan.

The country by an overwhelming majority has demanded tariff reform, the adoption of a revenue system that, while furnishing means for an efficient and frugal administration of government will promote the general public welfare, protect all interests and all the people alike, but deny special privileges to any.

To attain such an essential result integrity and justice must go hand in hand with practical business intelligence, and they who would become pampered millionaires at the expense of the industrious many must stand aside.

That is the Democratic way.

FOREIGN INVASION.

A terrible free trade invasion has been discovered.

It appears that natural gas from the pauper wells of Canada flows duty free through pipes into the City of Buffalo, they not being any prohibitory clause against it in the McKinley tariff.

What an awful fact?

Why did not the authors of that renowned protective measure impose a tax on foreign gas?

True, the McKinley bill declares that a duty shall be levied upon materials composing unenumerated articles as nearly as they can be ascertained, but no protection expert can be found to tell what natural gas is made of.

The dilemma is head-aching.

The country may be in danger of a flaming blow-up because of such a wanton lack of patriotic statesmanship.

The only plausible excuse is, that during the Republican laudation of McKinleyism, in and out of Congress, domestic oratorial gas totally eclipsed all other kinds.

The crisis is alarming!

HE IS RIGHT.

As is well-known, Senator Henry D. Winton, editor of the Bergen County Democrat, is one of the ten Democrats in the New Jersey legislature, who voted against the race track legislation last winter. In an interview at Washington, the Senator is quoted as saying:

"The act," said he, "in regard to horse racing, was an insult to the decent and moral element of our people. The Democratic party had no right to be saddled with the opprobrium of such vicious legislation, and, as a result, Jersey city, naturally a Democratic stronghold, is in the hands of the Republicans. I will venture the assertion that in two-thirds of the counties of the the State candidates for the Legislature this year will have to pledge themselves to the repeal of the law, it matters not what their politics may be. If they do not, the people will see that they are beaten. Now, racing in itself is all well enough, and nobody objects to it as carried on at Monmouth Park. There it is a pleasant pastime, patronized by thousands of strangers. The style of racing at Guttenberg and Gloucester, however where horses are made to rush through snow and mud, is not to be commended. Eventually a bill something likes the Ives pool bill of New York State will be adopted in New Jersey."

NEEDED REFORM.

The decision of President Cleveland to close the door against all personal applicants for office was wise and necessary action on his part.

The presence of crowds of persistent place hunters in Washington at the commencement of every presidential term has become unbearable, consuming valuable time and seriously interfering with the transaction of important public business.

It is seasonable to inaugurate a radical and permanent change.

The only proper course for office-seekers to pursue is to transmit for filing in the appropriate departments written and endorsed applications for designated positions, so that, when the time arrives for making an appointment, all such papers can be deliberately considered and intelligently acted upon.

That would be businesslike, more reputable, and likely to prove of greater advantage to the public service.

Worth Knowing.

That ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are the highest result of medical science and skill, and in ingredients and method have never been equalled.

That they are the original and genuine porous plasters, upon whose reputation imitators trade.

That ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS never fail to perform their remedial work quickly and effectually.

That is fact is attested by thousands of voluntary and unimpeachable testimonials from grateful patients.

That for rheumatism, weak back, sciatica, lung trouble, kidney disease, dyspepsia, malaria and all local pains, they are invaluable.

That when you buy ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS [illegible]

DR. GIDNEY HURT.

THE AGED VETERINARIAN'S CONDITION SERIOUS.

His Horse Took Fright at a Trolley Car, Threw Him Out, and Dragged Him Over the Pavement—His Head Cut Open, His Leg Trampled on, Internal Injuries Received, and Brain Affected.

Dr. George Gidney, the aged and respected veterinarian, was seriously hurt on Peace street Tuesday forenoon.

He was driving a timid horse that would never accustom itself to the trolley cars.

As he passed Love's corner, the horse shied as usual at a car standing there.

The motorman just then rang the gong and started the car.

The horse immediately became uncontrollable, plunged and reared about, and threw Dr. Gidney out of the vehicle.

The doctor became entangled in the lines, and the horse dragged him 15 yards, dashing him violently against the pavement.

The lines broke, or the doctor must have been killed outright.

As it was, he was picked up by W. J. Tunison and Alonzo Ayres, and taken in an unconscious condition, in a wagon of Marsh & Ayres, to his home.

Dr. Fritts responded immediately to a summons, and found his patient in a very bad way.

Blood was pouring from great gashes in his head. A leg was almost fractured from being trampled on by the horse, the brain was affected, and severe internal injuries were apparent.

When Dr. Gidney regained consciousness, his reason seemed affected and his memory gone. This was caused by the concussion to the brain, and is not permanent.

His advanced age, 87, makes the condition more dangerous. He and his wife celebrated their golden wedding some time ago.

The runaway horse went on to its stable on Peace street.

WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Common Council Decides to Give That Name to Broadway and Peace Street.

The adjourned meeting of the Plainfield common council Monday was productive of little business.

Asa Collier, representing the joint memorial detail of the G. A. R. posts, invited the mayor and council to occupy the lower right hand boxes at the public exercises in Music Hall. The invitation was accepted.

In response to the petition of H. G. Runkle, John M. Crane and others, the proper committee was authorized to place a street light at Eighth and Liberty streets.

An offer of the Fanwood fire department to purchase for $125 the old Plainfield No. 2 hose carriage now in use there, was accepted.

License was granted to Hotel Netherwood. Councilman Marsh alone voted against the bar license.

An ordinance was adopted on second reading changing Broadway and Peace street to Watchung avenue, and ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to final passage. This is as the residents of the thoroughfare petitioned.

An ordinance was adopted on second reading, and ordered engrossed and advertised, to establish the grade of Central avenue. The grade will be practically the present surface. An ordinance is soon to be presented to extend the limits requiring curbing and flagging on Central avenue. All of this was petitioned for by property-owners.

Councilman Frost reported steady progress in the sewerage enterprise. He recommended that a house-to-house canvass be made, requesting all property-owners to sign the petition for sewers.

$250 was appropriated to pay for an expert to examine the sewerage plans and see that the sewers would have the proper grade and velocity.

The library tax ordinance and hack-fee ordinance were adopted on final passage.

Unanimous thanks were given to the local papers for publishing the sewer maps.

SIXTEEN SUBJECTS.

High School Pupils to Take Their Pick in Striving for a Prize.

The following subjects have been announced for the annual High School competition in prize composition:

The Folly and Wisdom of Columbus.
On Seeing Things.
The Sir Launcelots of To-day.
Was Julius Cæsar a Patriot?
The Norse in America.
"Turn, turn, my Wheel!"
The Mission of Birds.
Some Superstitions.
The Duties of Citizenship.
Effects of the World's Fair on the United States.
Some Typical American Novels, as Showing Local Color.
The Blue and the Gray.
Uncle Sam's Farm.
A Visit to the Swamp.
Roads.
At Table with the Novelists.

The essays are due June 5, 1893.

A SUPERINTENDENT SECURED

And a Pastor Promised for the Unsectarian Warren Mission.

Under the sheltering wing of the Crescent Avenue church, Warren mission starts into new life, already, most auspiciously. It is to be greatly congratulated at the very start, as it has been so very fortunate as to secure for superintendent Leander N. Lovell.

The mission is to be unsectarian, and will shortly be given a pastor the same as Hope and Bethel.

Plenty of Suckers in Town.

Spearing in the brooks hereabouts is now good. On Saturday night, one party of three speared twenty fine suckers in Green brook, coming from Grant avenue east, and another party following them got only two. A favorite diversion along Tier's lake is to spear the suckers by lantern light.

THE LITTLE FRAUDS!

They Have Been Using a Worthy Society to Victimize the People.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Is there no way of suppressing the little beggars who are going about town soliciting "five or ten cents for the Wide-Awake Circle of the King's Daughters for Muhlenberg Hospital"?

I believe the thing is done without any authority from Muhlenberg Hospital, or the King's Daughters, and that it is a base fraud, making use of these names for the purpose of exciting sympathy.

It is not known to what extent this business is carried on, but it is the second or third time within a month or two, that the little mendicants have appealed to me, and if they have been going on all this time there is no telling how much they may have collected. If these children are practising deceit, they are being trained in a school which will graduate them in State Prison.

The matter should be looked into.

Will some officer of the King's Daughters inform us whether they have authorized any such collection? E.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. [illegible]

TILL THE DOCTOR COMES.

ANOTHER VALUABLE LECTURE TELLING WHAT TO DO.

Dr. Murray Explains the Essential Treatment in Cases of Apparent Drowning, Suffocation, Burns, Scalds, Freezing, Bites and Broken Limbs.

EVERYONE in Irving school Tuesday night listened with eager interest to another valuable "emergency" lecture by Dr. W. H. Murray, who continued to tell them something about what to do and how to do it in cases of apparent drowning, suffocation, burns, scalds, frozen limbs, and bites of animals, and how to put on temporary splints in case of broken limbs.

The doctor first took up the subject of resuscitation from apparent drowning. The pith of the lecture is given below:

A person may be taken from the water with life apparently extinct. The heart may have stopped beating, and breathing have ceased, but in many cases life may be restored if the proper things are done immediately.

Delay is fatal. Do not wait to remove the patient to shelter, but begin operations at once on removal from the water.

The first thing to do is to rid the mouth of water or other obstructions. This is accomplished by laying the subject on one side and supporting the head in a position slightly inclined towards the side on which the patient lies. Open the mouth and grasp the tongue with the thumb and forefinger, pulling it forward and down so as to open the passages to the throat and lungs. Any water that may be in the mouth will run out with the head held in this position. Do not be more than a few seconds in doing this. Next turn the patient flat on the back, and begin artificial respiration. This is effected by grasping the patient by the elbows, carrying the arms well up to the sides of the head, and pulling slightly. Resting there a second, carry the elbows back to the sides of the chest and press for a moment firmly under the ribs, carry elbows back to sides of head, and repeat about 20 times a second, the rate of normal breathing, until natural respiration has been reinstated. Lifting the arms up over the head increases the capacity of the chest, while pressing with the elbows against the sides of the chest expels some of the air already contained in the lungs, so that the operation is very similar in effect to natural breathing.

The act of moving a person's arms for artificial respiration is extremely tiring, and cannot be kept up by one person for more than about 20 minutes at a time, so if there a few people about it is well to take turns. Efforts should not be given up for an hour after the last signs of life have been given, and a good rule is don't give up for an hour under any circumstances, and if there is any sign of life such as a slight gasp or cough, keep up artificial respiration for an hour after the last manifestation.

After breathing has been restored, the wet clothes of the patient may be removed, and he should be wrapped in a warm blanket if possible and stimulants be applied. Brandy or whiskey diluted may be given in suitable quantities. Warmth should be kept up in all parts of the body, and it is excellent to have a hot-water bottle put on the left side near the heart to stimulate the action of that organ.

The mode of procedure for suffocation by gas is similar to that used in cases of drowning. Great care should be taken in going into a room where a person has been suffocated by gas, as the rescuer may become unconscious before he can remove the patient. The best plan is to enter the room without breathing and open the window, or if you cannot open it break the glass and then retire from the apartment for a few minutes, leaving the patient until some of the gas can escape through the broken window. Then remove the suffocated person and proceed as in cases of apparent drowning.

Never set a patient of this kind up in a chair. Always lay him flat at the back, as the action of the heart is very weak, and sitting up may stop it entirely.

In cases of burns and scalds, if the clothing has not been burned off, it should be removed at once. The best way to remove it is to cut it off with shears. It is even better to wait a few minutes for a pair of shears than to attempt to cut it off with a knife, as the sawing of a knife blade is not only very painful but is also extremely irritating to the burn.

If the clothing is allowed to stay in contact with the burn or scald, the moisture that forms almost immediately on such a wound will stick to any cloth that may be present and it will be very difficult to remove it without hurting the wound and retarding its recovery.

The main object to be accomplished is to keep out the air. This is best done with vaseline, in some of its numerous forms, as it spreads easily, is always soft, and never becomes foul. Linseed oil, olive oil, and cooking soda, are all soothing to a burn, but they cannot be left on long, as they decompose rapidly and are dangerous to the health of the wound.

If nothing else can be obtained, clean linen kept moist with clean water is the best thing that can be used.

A burned person is always very thirsty, and he may be given water freely if it does not make him sick. If it does not make the patient vomit, it may be given in small quantities.

Stimulants may be given if the patient looks pale.

Frozen limbs should be treated by restoring the normal temperature gradually. Rubbing with snow or putting the limb in iced water and rubbing is advisable. After circulation is restored, wrap the injured member in cotton.

The effect of bites can be confined to the limb bitten by a tight bandage such as is used in stopping blood. A poisonous insect, a snake, or a diseased dog leaves an actual poison in the wound, and if this poison can be prevented from entering the rest of the body much has been accomplished. In case of serious bites, the wound should be freely cut to insure copious bleeding, washed thoroughly with water or milk, and then thoroughly burned with a red-hot iron.

In case of a fractured limb, the parts should be kept as still as possible, as the loose end of bone may puncture a blood-vessel, in which case the patient may bleed to death.

Impromptu splints may be made of almost any piece of wood that can be obtained, and should be put on so as to support the broken member above and below the break so as to take away all strain from the bones. Bones of the foot or hand require little treatment, and may usually be left until the doctor comes. The best padding for splints is the clothing of the patient, which may be left on.

In conclusion, Dr. Murray said:

Never roll a drowning person on a barrel, for if he is not dead already he will be when you are through.

The next and last lecture will be by Dr. Hodges, Thursday evening at 8, and will be on What to do for those who have been stunned, the apoplectic, inebriated, or fainting, and in cases of poisoning.

Catarrh in New England.

Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles.—G. K. Mellor, Druggist, Worcester, Mass.

I believe Ely's Cream Balm is the best article for catarrh ever offered the public.—Bush & Co., Druggists, Worcester, Mass.

An article of real merit.—C. P. Alden, Druggist, Springfield, Mass. [illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents. AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

CASH LEFT OVER.

PLAINFIELD'S CHORAL SOCIETY CLOSES THE SEASON WITH A BALANCE.

Officers Re-elected and the Membership Increased Because of So Many Applications.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Choral society was held in Vincent chapel on Tuesday. The following officers were elected:

President—W. W. Howland.
Vice-president—C. W. McCutchen.
Secretary—Nelson Runyon.
Treasurer—H. C. Newman.
Librarian—Stacy Reynolds.
Board of Managers—D. E. Davis, E. J. Shaw, G. T. Rogers.

These are all re-elections except librarian.

Conductor and Mrs. Fitzhugh were present and heartily welcomed. There were speeches from the president and the conductor, and refreshments afterwards.

The society, as shown by the reports of the secretary and the treasurer, is in a most prosperous condition. There is a balance in the treasury after all expenditures of the past season are paid. The applications for active membership are so far beyond the limit fixed, it was decided to increase that limit to 125.

The prospectus of next season's intentions will be circulated in a few days, but anyone is welcome to subscribe by application to any of the officers or board of managers.

Secretary Nelson Runyon in closing his report said he desired to bear testimony to the generous and courteous treatment extended to the society by the entire city press and to the highly commendatory reports of the concerts which have appeared therein during the past season.

TWENTY-EIGHT BILLS.

The Grand Jurors Hand in a Batch of Indictments—Jacob Dundore Charged With Manslaughter.

The Union county grand jurors having completed their labors for the term, returned to court Tuesday and presented to Judge VanSyckel a batch of twenty-eight true bills of indictment as the result of their deliberations. The jury, of which J. A. Demarest, W. W. Corlell and Daniel McCarthy of Plainfield, and William Myers formerly of this city, were members, were at once discharged with the thanks of the court.

Prosecutor F. C. Marsh took occasion to inform the court that the grand jury had failed to indict James Keasley and James Donovan, charged with assault and battery, and asked that they be discharged, which was done.

Among the indictments returned was one for manslaughter against Captain Jacob Dundore of the barge Allentown, who on the night of March 16 shot and killed Captain Noah Cross, whose body was a few hours later found lying on the deck of the Allentown, where he had been shot down.

Dundore, at the time of his arrest, swore that he shot Cross in self-defense, saying that Cross had threatened to have his life, and that if he had not killed Cross he himself would have been killed. This story he still adheres to, although he expresses deep regret at having been obliged to shoot Cross.

Whether Dundore will be tried this term is not yet positively known, although some of those in a position to ascertain such facts express an opinion that he will. Dundore is highly connected. He has a daughter living at Shamokin, Pa., the wife of Frank Johns, who is one of Shamokin's leading members of the bar, and very wealthy. Up to the present time, so far as is known, neither Mr. nor Mrs. Johns has displayed any interest in Dundore's welfare, not having even so much as written him. It looks as though the old man will have to fight his battle alone.

DEFIED THE COUNCIL.

Though Ordered to Tear Down the Shaft, He Refused, and Was Arrested.

Mr. Suydam, owner of the Gavett building, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on complaint of building inspector T. O. Doane for refusing to tear down the wooden elevator shaft which he put up in violation of ordinance, at the rear of the building. He gave his own recognizance in $100 to appear Saturday at 10, before Justice Nash.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

Concluded from 1st page.

Beginning at the center of the bridge formerly known as the Hobart bridge, in the township of Summit; thence running in a northwesterly direction, in the various courses to the Passaic bridge over the Passaic river, within the said township of Summit, and designated as a County Road on a map entitled "a map of Union county, showing the roads designated as County Roads, and adopted by this board as a map required under the provisions of the aforesaid act, and filed in the county clerk's office; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, certified by the clerk of this board, be filed in the county clerk's office.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Halliday:

Resolved, That the committee on Milton avenue drawbridge, Rahway, be empowered to make contract with George Conger as draw tender of said bridge at the same compensation as last year, namely, $200 per annum, time to commence when the contract is signed.

On motion of Freeholder [illegible] adopted unanimously.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that when the board adjourn it be until Tuesday, May 2, at 2 o'clock p. m., which was carried.

The following bills, audited and approved were read, and on motion ordered paid:

[illegible]

Mullins & Co

218 and 220 Market Street,
NEWARK, N. J.

'TWILL PAY YOU
To Personally See Our Stock of Furniture and Carpets
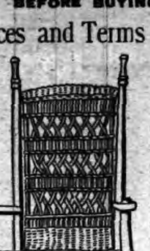
BEFORE BUYING ELSEWHERE.
Prices and Terms Easier than Ever.



This "Old Reliable" Rocker $2 50.

You may say advertisements are not always truthful. Perhaps so. We guarantee you complete satisfaction in prices, styles, quality and terms. But we desire you to make a personal inspection for yourself of the goods before buying here or elsewhere. This is all we ask!!

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shades, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City.
213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

Adapt Yourself To Spring,

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball
807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.

3 22 3m-c

—ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

Gives Relief at once for Cold in Head. Apply into the Nostrils.—It is Quickly Absorbed. 50c. Druggists or by mail. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

CATARRH
COLD in HEAD
ELY'S CREAM BALM

If You Expect

To get a good Piano or Organ you must buy from those who sell them. We offer you the best instrument procurable, and for less money than you would pay for an inferior one elsewhere. Our stock has been well and carefully selected, and we have a large variety of styles worthy of your examination.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY,
657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

AT BEDTIME I TAKE A PLEASANT HERB DRINK
LANE'S MEDICINE

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton, on Tuesday, the fourth day of June next, at [illegible] o'clock in the forenoon, [illegible] in the cause pending in said court, wherein [illegible] is complainant, and [illegible] and you and other's are defendants, that the lands and premises in question in said cause be sold free and discharged of your estate [illegible] thereto.

GEO. T. VANDERVEER(?), Solicitor of Complainant.

Dated May 18, 1893. [illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, administrator of William Moore(?), deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the [illegible] day of July next.

ELIAS R. POPE,

Dated May 8, 1893. [illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber [illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between John F. [illegible], complainant, and George L. Babcock, et. al. defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MAY, A. D. 1893,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Central avenue and Seventh street, [illegible] Madison avenue [illegible] Elias L. Babcock, by deed of said John F. Ouderdonk, of even date with these presents, which are given to secure a portion of the consideration money therefor.

W. H. Hicks, Sheriff.

WM. M. STILLMAN, Sol'r.
E D L & C | fees $ 30 | 4 27 5w

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellius M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D. 1893, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the fifth day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.
J. KEARNEY RICE,
P esent Judge, | Judges
MATHEW O'GORMAN,
M. FREEMAN,
Leonard Furman, Surrogate. $11 6

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catherine Sauerman, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause and bearing date on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1893, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of the said Catherine Sauerman, deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue on next, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises, situated at No. 24 and 26 West Sixth street, in the city of Plainfield, Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of Eliza Wooden's land; thence running with his line a northwesterly course about one hundred and seventy-four feet to a stone another of Eliza Wooden's corners, and that of Joseph Perinee; thence with Joseph Perinee line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Perinee corners; thence running a southeasterly course about one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand, eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, Administrator.
Dated May 10, 1893.
C | fees $7 90 | $11 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber administrator of Geo. W Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.

FREDERICK W. McCULLY.
Dated March 1, 1893. 3 3 10

Can You Solve Puzzles?
"COMBINATIONS."

The greatest puzzle ever invented has been presented by Sam Loyd, the famous puzzleist, to the NEW YORK PRESS CLUB CHARITY FUND in aid of sick and impoverished journalists.

Price, 10 Cents,

the entire money received going to the CHARITY AND BUILDING FUND.

Public spirited merchants in order to give the puzzle a more intense interest have offered prizes of Steinway Pianos, Knox Hats, Billiard Tables, Mason and Hamlin Organs, etc.

Don't fail to secure this latest novelty, and thus instruct and amuse yourself and at the same time aid a worthy cause.

Address
N. Y. PRESS CLUB BUILDING & CHARITY FUND, Temple Court, N. Y.

9 to 21-c

E. C Morris Safe Co
Incorporated. Capital $250,000.
Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.
64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.
FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.
The Best Safe in the World. 150,000 in use.
Always preserve their contents.
Champion Record in all the Great Fires.

One of the largest and best equipped factories in the country has just been erected near Boston, fitted with the latest and most improved tools, which render facilities for manufacturing the best work at the lowest prices, unequalled by any other concern in the country.

Our aim is to give the best construction and most improvements for the least amount of money. Estimates and specifications furnished upon application. AGENTS WANTED.

4 1 y-p-e

FURS
And all kinds of wearing apparel
STORED
And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.
SUCCESSORS TO
W. H AND R. BURNETT,
17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

THE PLAINFIELD
PACKING HOUSE
25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb,
Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

[illegible]

$5 Gold Pieces
GIVEN AWAY.

AMOS H. VANHORN.
LIMITED,
73 MARKET STREET,
Will Give $5 00 in Gold

To every purchaser of $50 worth or more of Carpets and Furniture.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.
LIMITED.
My only place of Business is at
73 Market Street,
Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.
NO BRANCH STORES.

10-6-17

TOWNSEND'S
Marble & Granite Works,
30 SOMERSET STREET,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,
Manager. 8 12 tf
Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

Dime Savings Institution
OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President,
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

THE SUN.

During 1893 THE SUN will be of surpassed excellence and will print more news and more pure literature than ever before in its history.

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year
Daily, by mail, $6 a year
Daily and Sunday by mail, $8 a year

Address THE SUN, New York.

Scientific American Agency for
PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.
Scientific American

NEWARK
BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it is.

THE "BEE-HIVE"
THE LARGEST FANCY GOODS HOUSE IN THE STATE
707 BROAD ST.

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 11.
Boys' Clothing
And Men's Specialty
Department

Boys' Two Piece Suits
Boys' Three Piece Suits (short pants)
Boys' Kilt Suits
Boys' Sailor Suits
Boys' Jersey Suits
Boys' Reefer Suits
Boys' Overcoats
Boys' Box Coats
Boys' Fauntleroy Suits
Boys' Wash Kilt Suits
Boys' Blouses
Boys' Wash Pants Suits
Boys' Odd Pants
Boys' Waists
Boys' Hats and Caps
Boys' Bathing Suits
Men's Summer Coats and Vests
Men's White and Fancy Vests
Men's Bathing Suits
Men's Smoking Jackets
Men's Bath Robes

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.
707 to 721 BROAD ST.
Mail Orders Quickly Filled.

NOTICE. March 18, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann [illegible], deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made on the application of the undersigned, executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred [illegible] upon the expiration of a fixed period of not less than five years to members whose beneficiary or distribution period may then expire, of such sum not exceeding the maximum amount named in the beneficiary certificate of its members subject to their compliance with its constitution and laws, the fund from which the payment of such benefits shall be made and the fund from which the expenses of such association shall be defrayed being derived from assessments or dues collected from its members, and payment of death benefits being made to the families, heirs, blood relatives, affianced husband or affianced wife of, or to persons dependent upon, the member, such association shall be governed by this act and shall be exempt from the provisions of insurance laws of this state, and no law hereafter passed shall apply to them unless they be expressly designated therein.

2. And be it enacted, That all such associations coming within the description as set forth in section one of this act, organized under the laws of this or any other state, province or territory, and now doing business in this state, may continue such business; provided, that they hereafter comply with the provisions of this act regulating annual reports and the designation of the commissioner of banking and insurance as the person upon whom process may be served as hereinafter provided.

3. And be it enacted, That any such association coming within the description as set forth in section one of this act, organized under the laws of any other state, province or territory, and not doing business in this state, shall be admitted to do business within this state when it shall have filed with the commissioner of banking and insurance a duly certified copy of its charter and articles of association and a copy of its constitution or laws, certified to by its secretary or corresponding officer, together with an appointment of the commissioner of banking and insurance of this state as a person upon whom process may be served as hereinafter provided; and provided, that such association shall be shown by certificate to be authorized to do business in the state, province or territory in which it is incorporated or organized in case the laws of such state, province or territory shall provide for such authorization; and in case the laws of such state, province or territory do not provide for any formal authorization to do business on the part of any such association, then such association shall be shown to be conducting its business in accordance with the provisions of this act, for which purpose the commissioner of banking and insurance of this state may personally, or by some person designated by him, examine into the condition, affairs, character and business methods, accounts, books and investments of such association at its home office, which examination shall be at the expense of such association, and shall be made within thirty days after demand therefor, and the expense of such examination shall be limited to the sum of fifty dollars.

4. And be it enacted, That every such association doing business in this state shall, on or before the first day of March of each year, make and file with the commissioner of banking and insurance of this state a report of its affairs and operations during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December immediately preceding, which annual report shall be in lieu of all other reports required by any other law; such reports shall be upon blank forms to be provided by the commissioner of banking and insurance, or may be printed in pamphlet form, and shall be verified under oath by the duly authorized officer of such association, and shall be published, or the substance thereof, in the annual report of the commissioner of banking and insurance under a separate part entitled, "Fraternal Beneficiary Associations," and shall contain answers to the following questions:

I. Number of certificates issued during the year, or members admitted;

II. Amount of indemnity effected thereby?

III. Number of losses or benefit liabilities incurred;

IV. Number of losses or benefit liabilities paid;

V. The amount received from each assessment for the year;

VI. Total amount paid members, beneficiaries, legal representatives or heirs;

VII. Number and kinds of claims for which assessments have been made;

VIII. Number and kind of claims compromised or resisted, and brief statement of reasons;

IV. Does association charge annual or other periodical dues or admission fees?

X. How much on each one thousand dollars annually or per capita, as the case may be?

XI. Total amount received, from what source, and the disposition thereof;

XII. Total amount of salaries paid to officers;

XIII. Does association guarantee in its certificates fixed amounts to be paid regardless of amounts realized from assessments, dues, admission fees and donations?

XIV. If so, state the amount guaranteed, and the security of such guaranty;

XV. Has the association a reserve fund?

XVI. If so, how is it created and for what purpose, the amount thereof and how invested?

XVII. Has the association more than one class?

XVIII. If so, how many, and the amount of indemnity in each?

XIX. Number of members in each class;

XX. If voluntary, so state, and give date of organization;

XXI. If organized under the laws of this state under what law and at what time, giving chapter, and year and date of passage of the act;

XXII. If organized under the laws of any other state, province or territory, state such fact and the date of organization, giving chapter, and year and date of passage of the act;

XXIII. Number of certificates of beneficiary membership lapsed during the year;

XXIV. Number in force at beginning and end of year; if more than one class number in each class;

XXV. Name and address of its president, secretary and treasurer, or corresponding officers; the commissioner of banking and insurance is empowered to address any additional inquiries to any such association in relation to its doings or conditions, or any other matter connected with its transactions relative to the business contemplated by this act, and such officers of such association as the commissioner of banking and insurance may require shall promptly reply in writing, under oath, to all such inquiries.

5. And be it enacted, That each such association now doing or hereafter admitted to do business within this state, and not having its principal office within this state, and not being organized under the laws of this state, shall appoint, in writing, the commissioner of banking and insurance or his successor in office to be its true and lawful attorney upon whom all lawful process in any action or proceeding against it may be served, and in such writing shall agree that any lawful process against it which is served on said attorney shall be of the said legal force and validity as if served upon the association, and that the authority shall continue in force so long as any liability remains outstanding in this state; copies of such certificate, certified by said commissioner of banking and insurance, shall be deemed sufficient evidence thereof, and shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original thereof might be admitted; service upon such attorney shall be deemed sufficient service upon such association; when legal process against any such association is served upon said commissioner of banking and insurance, he shall immediately notify the association of such service by letter, prepaid and directed to its secretary or corresponding officer, and shall within two days after such service forward in the same manner a copy of the process served on him to such officer. The plaintiff in such process so served shall pay to the commissioner of banking and insurance, at the time of such service, a fee of three dollars, which shall be recovered by him as part of the taxable costs if he prevails in the suit. The commissioner of banking and insurance shall keep a record of all processes served upon him, which record shall show the day and hour when such service was made.

6. And be it enacted, That the commissioner of banking and insurance shall, upon the application of any association having the right to do business within this state as provided by this act, issue to such association a permit in writing, authorizing such association to do business within this state, for which certificate and all proceedings in connection therewith such association shall pay to said commissioner the fee of five dollars.

7. And be it enacted, That hereafter nine or more persons may become an incorporated fraternal beneficiary association, within the descriptions set forth in section one of this act, by filing in the office of the commissioner of banking and insurance a declaration executed and acknowledged by each of them, stating their intention to form such fraternal beneficiary association, the proposed name thereof (which shall not be the same as nor too closely resemble the name of any other fraternal beneficiary association doing business in this state); the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised and the names and official titles of the officers, trustees, directors, representatives or other persons, by whatever name or title designated, who are to have and exercise the general control and management of its affairs and funds, who shall be elected after the first year by representatives chosen by grand or subordinate lodges, councils or bodies, who shall be members of such association; there shall be endorsed upon such declaration or annexed thereto, and forming a part thereof, the sworn statement of at least three subscribers thereto, that two hundred persons eligible under the proposed laws of such associations, to membership therein, have in good faith made application in writing for beneficial membership, in the aggregate amount of at least four hundred thousand dollars, and have each paid in one full assessment in cash; if all the requirements of law be complied with, the commissioner shall thereupon file such declaration and cause it to be recorded with the certificate of the attorney-general, that the same is in accordance with this act and not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state, in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall deliver to such association a certified copy of the papers so recorded in his office, together with the license or certificate of the commissioner to such association to carry on the work of a fraternal beneficiary association within the description set forth in section one of this act; for the filing of such declaration and for all proceedings connected therewith, said commissioner of banking and insurance shall receive from such association a fee of ten dollars; any fraternal beneficiary association coming within the description as set forth in section one of this act, now doing business in this state, may become incorporated or reincorporated under the provisions of this section, but nothing in this act shall be construed as requiring any such association to become so incorporated or to so re-incorporate.

8. And be it enacted, That such associations shall not employ paid agents in soliciting or procuring members, except in the organizing or building up of subordinate bodies or granting members inducements to procure new members.

9. And be it enacted, That no contract with any such association shall be valid where there is a contract, agreement or understanding between the member and the beneficiary or any person for him shall pay such member's assessments and dues, or either of them.

10. And be it enacted, That the money or other benefit, charity, relief or aid to be paid, provided or rendered by any association authorized to do business under this act shall not be liable to attachment by trustee, garnishee or other process and shall not be seized, taken, appropriated or applied by any legal or equitable process, or by operation of law, to pay any debt or liability of a certified holder or of any beneficiary named in a certificate, or of any person who may have any right thereunder.

11. And be it enacted, That any such association organized under the laws of this state may provide for the meetings of the legislative or governing body in any other state, province or territory wherein such association shall have subordinate bodies, and all business transacted at such meetings shall be valid in all respects, as if such meetings were held in this state; and where the laws of any such association provide for the election of its officers by vote to be cast in its subordinate bodies, the votes so cast in its subordinate bodies, in any other state, province or territory, shall be valid as if cast within this state.

12. And be it enacted, That any person, officer, member or examining physician, who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation, in or with reference to any application for membership, or for the purpose of obtaining any money or benefit in any association transacting business under this act, shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court; and any person who shall wilfully make a false statement of any material fact or thing in a sworn statement as to the death or disability of a certificate holder in any such association, for the purpose of procuring payment of a benefit named in a certificate of such holder, and any person who shall wilfully make any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath required or authorized by this act, shall be guilty of perjury and shall be proceeded against and punished as provided by the statutes of this state in relation to the crime of perjury.

13. And be it enacted, That whenever said commissioner of banking and insurance shall become satisfied that any such association doing business within this state is exceeding its power, or conducting its business fraudulently, he may personally, or by some person to be designated by him, examine into the condition, affairs, character and business methods, accounts, books and investments of such association at its home office, which examination shall be at the expense of such association, and such expense shall be limited to the sum of fifty dollars.

14. And be it enacted, That any such association refusing or neglecting to make the report, as provided in this act shall be excluded from doing business within this state; said commissioner of banking and insurance must within sixty days after failure to make such report, or in case any such association shall exceed its powers, or shall conduct its business fraudulently, or shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or shall refuse to submit its accounts, books, papers and vouchers for examination by said commissioner or person designated by him, shall give notice in writing to the attorney-general, who shall immediately commence an action against such association to enjoin the same from carrying on any business; and no injunction against any such association shall be granted by any court, except on application by the attorney-general, at the request of the commissioner of banking and insurance; no association so enjoined shall have authority to continue business until such report shall be made, or overt act or violation complained of, shall have been corrected, nor until the costs of such action be paid by it; provided, the court shall find that such association was in default as charged, whereupon the commissioner of banking and insurance shall reinstate such association, and not until then shall such association be allowed to again do business in the state; any officer, agent or person acting for any association or subordinate body thereof, within this state, while such association shall be so enjoined or prohibited from doing business pursuant to this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

15. And be it enacted, That any person who shall act within this state as an officer, agent or otherwise, for any association which shall have failed, neglected or refused to comply with, or shall have violated any of the provisions of this act, or shall have failed or neglected to procure from the commissioner of banking and insurance proper certificates of authority to transact business, as provided for by this act, shall be subject to the penalty provided in the last preceding section for the misdemeanor therein specified.

16. And be it enacted, That this act shall not apply to any corporation, society or association carrying on the business of life, health, casualty or accident insurance for profit or gain, but it shall apply to fraternal beneficiary associations only, as defined in section one of this act; this act shall not affect or apply to any grand or subordinate lodges of the ancient order of free and accepted masons, independent order of odd fellows, improved order of red men, junior or American mechanics, as they now exist, nor of the knights of Pythias (exclusive of the endowment rank), nor to similar orders, nor to any association not working on the lodge system or which limits its certificate holders to a particular class or to employes of a particular town or city, designated firm, business house or corporation.

17. And be it enacted, That every association to which this act shall be applicable shall pay the following fees to the commissioner of banking and insurance for defraying the expenses of this act, viz:

For filing the declaration or certified copy of charter required by this act, ten dollars;

For filing the annual report therein provided, five dollars;

For every copy of any paper filed or recorded in this office, eight cents per folio;

For affixing his official seal on such copy and certifying same, one dollar.

18. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXIX.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning street railroad companies," approved March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section two of the act entitled "An act concerning street railroad companies," approved March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, be and the same is hereby amended so that said section shall read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That any street or horse railway company in this state may use electric or chemical motors, or grip cables, as the propelling power of its cars, instead of horses; provided it shall have first obtained the consent of the township committee, or of the municipal authorities having charge of the public streets or highways on which it is proposed to use such motors or grip cables, which consent may be granted by ordinance.

2. And be it enacted, That the municipal board, or any county public road board, or other authorities having the charge or control of any streets, highways or avenues in any city, county, town or township of this state may, when they deem it proper, authorize the use of poles located or to be located in the public streets or highways with wires strung thereon for the purpose of supplying the motors with electricity, and when a board grants such authority it may in such case prescribe the manner in which, and the places where such poles shall be located, and the manner in which the wires shall be strung thereon, and the same may be authorized and prescribed by ordinance.

3. And be it enacted, That any consent heretofore granted, contingent or otherwise, whether, by resolution or in any other way by any municipality to any street or horse railway company to use electric or chemical motors or grip cables as the propelling power of its cars, of the construction and character in such ordinance or resolution specified, or in which the plan of construction has been or may be in any way assented to or approved by such municipal authorities, shall be as valid and effectual as if the same had been granted pursuant to the provisions of this act to the extent authorized by this act; provided, however, that no such consent heretofore granted shall be validated by virtue of anything in this act contained, without the consent and approval of the state board of commissioners of electrical subways first had and obtained.

4. And be it enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall curtail, abridge or otherwise interfere with any of the powers and duties of the state board of commissioners of electrical subways.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXX.

A Supplement to the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections,'" approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which supplemental act was approved May twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section nineteen of said supplemental act be and is hereby amended, so that henceforth said section nineteen shall be and read as follows, to wit: that the boards of registry and election and said registry or poll clerks appointed as hereinbefore provided for, shall, in their respective election districts, hold and conduct the next and all succeeding annual elections to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in any year, and also the annual "town meetings" or township elections hereafter to be held throughout this state under and in pursuance of the act entitled "An act incorporating the inhabitants of townships, designating their powers and regulating their meetings," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the act entitled "An act concerning townships and township officers," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and the several supplements to said two acts, or either of them, and the foregoing provisions of this act shall apply to said town meetings or township elections so far as the same may be applicable; there shall be no new registration for said town meetings or township elections, but the said boards of registry and elections shall procure and use at such town meetings or township elections the certified copy of the register of voters filed with the township or other clerk pursuant to section seven of this act; said board of registry and election and said poll clerks shall meet to revise and correct said register in the manner heretofore provided on the Tuesday next preceding the town meeting or township election, and each of said registry or poll clerks of each election district shall cause at least three notices of the time and place of such meeting to revise and correct said register to be conspicuously posted in public places within their respective election districts at least one week before such meeting; no copy of such revised and corrected registry need be posted, but a copy shall be filed with the county clerk within one day thereafter, and on the Thursday next preceding the said annual town meeting, and any charter election in said county, and from day to day thereafter, as may be necessary, the court of common pleas of the several counties of the state shall be in session at the court house in their respective counties, for the purpose of revising and correcting the register of voters, so as aforesaid, to be filed with the county clerk; and the clerk shall produce such of said registers as may be required at the sessions of the court; and the said court of common pleas shall proceed in the same manner as is provided in section eighteen of the act to which this is a supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXI.

An Act for the protection of shad fishermen in the Delaware bay eastward of the ships channel.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any vessel engaged in dredging oysters to anchor, or leave their buoys on the date between Arnold's point buoy and Stony point in the Delaware bay, between sunset or sunrise of each day previous to the twenty-fifth of May in any year.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to throw any dredge or other appliances from the deck of any boat or vessel into any gill net; any person or persons violating this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any fish warden or the sheriff of any county in which this act is violated, to arrest any person or persons guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act; and any person or persons so offending shall upon conviction before any justice of the peace be punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars, and not more than two hundred dollars and imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed six months.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize the partition of lands, in cases where particular undivided shares therein are limited over," approved March sixth, eighteen hundred and fifty-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever it shall be made to appear to the court of chancery that any land in this state, or any estate therein, hereafter sold in any partition proceeding by the order or decree of any court of this state, has been devised by any last will or testament of any person or persons, a citizen or resident of any other state at the time of the making of such last will and testament, upon any trust, or subject to any limitation over by way of expectancy or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the chancellor to direct the payment of the proceeds of such sale to such devisee or devisees, being trustees as aforesaid, as are, by the provisions of such last will and testament, under said trust, entitled to have and hold the land sold as aforesaid, notwithstanding the estate of such devisee or devisees, trustees as aforesaid, created or passed by said last will and testament, be subject to a limitation over or be less than estate in fee simple, which proceeds of sale shall be held, accounted for and disposed of by such devisee or devisees trustees as aforesaid, in all respects as directed by the provisions of such last will and testament and not otherwise; provided, that nothing herein contained shall relieve such devisee or devisees, trustees as aforesaid, from the duty to give security, in the state of which such testator was a citizen or resident at the time of his death, for the faithful execution of such trust in respect to such proceeds of said sale, when required so to do either by the provisions of such last will and testament or by the order of any court of competent jurisdiction in said state.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXIII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize the appointment of a board of commissioners to represent the State of New Jersey at the World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in Chicago, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three," approved March eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in order to further the work of the board of commissioners appointed under the act to which this is a further supplement, and to enable the state board of agriculture, the state board of education and the geological survey to make a full and proper exhibit in their respective departments, and to maintain a proper building for the use of the citizens of this state in attendance at such exposition, there be and is hereby appropriated the sum of sixty thousand dollars in excess of the sums heretofore appropriated, and that said sum, together with the unexpended balance of the previous appropriation of seventy thousand dollars, except that such part thereof as may be needed by the governor to properly perform the duties devolved on him by said original act, shall be paid by the treasurer of the state, upon the warrant of the comptroller, to the treasurer of the commission, in such sums as may from time to time be required and requested by a resolution of the commissioners, duly certified by the president of said commission, with the approval of the governor, and said sums so paid by the treasurer of the state to the treasurer of the board of commissioners shall be expended only by resolution of said board upon the approval of the president of said board, and the treasurer of the commission shall report to the comptroller of the treasury once in each month the amount and direction of said expenditure; provided, that upon resolution of the legislative joint committee, duly certified by the chairman of said committee, with the approval of the governor, such part or parts of the sum so appropriated shall be paid by the treasurer of the state, upon the warrant of the comptroller of the state, to the chairman of such joint committee, as may be necessary to defray the expenses of said joint committee incurred or to be incurred in the discharge of their duties as such committee under the concurrent resolution of the legislature introduced in the general assembly February twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, which resolution directs said committee to visit Chicago and co-operate with the said board of commissioners and to employ a secretary to said committee; and that said part or parts of said appropriation so paid to such chairman shall be expended only by resolution of said committee and the chairman of said committee shall report to the comptroller the amount of such expenditures.

2. And be it enacted, That section five of the act to which this is a supplement shall be amended so as to read as follows:

5. And be it enacted, That the members of said New Jersey commission shall not receive any compensation for their services, except the secretary, whose compensation shall be fixed by the commission, with the approval of the governor.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Passed March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXIV.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning evidence," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the deposition of any party to any action in any of the courts of this state, who reside out of the state while such action is pending, may be taken by commission or upon notice in the same manner and upon the same terms as provided in cases of witnesses residing out of the state; and that such deposition may be read and used upon the trial of said cause; it being the intention of this amendment to give the parties to actions who reside out of the state the same privilege to have their depositions taken out of the state as to other witnesses in such actions residing out of the state.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXV.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act constituting "district courts" in certain cities of this state,'" approved March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, which supplement was approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section seven of the said supplement be amended so as to read as follows:

7. And be it enacted, That in all actions brought under said act for the removal of tenants, where admission to the dwelling or premises occupied by the tenants is denied to the officer attempting to serve a notice of demand for the payment of rent or surrender of premises or a summons, or where such tenant resides out of the county in which the demised premises are located, and there is no person in actual occupation thereof, it shall be a lawful service of such notice or such summons if the said officer shall post or affix a copy of the same upon the door or other conspicuous part of such dwelling or premises, and the said officer shall make a return of such service accordingly; provided, that in case the tenant shall not be a resident of the county in which said demised premises are situated and the same shall be in the occupation of any other person then said notice or said summons may be served either personally upon such person, or by leaving the same with a member of his family above the age of fourteen years.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXVI.

An Act in relation to the practice in the court of chancery on bills of interpleader.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cases in all cases in which the court of chancery shall decree an interpleader as between the defendants to a bill of interpleader, the said court shall award to the complainant a counsel fee commensurate with the services of his counsel in the cause, to be taxed in the bill of costs and collected therewith.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXVII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning clerks of grand juries," approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the clerk of the grand jury of each of the juries in all counties of this state having, by the state census of one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, a population of two hundred thousand or more inhabitants, shall also act as clerk to the prosecutor of the pleas of such county and for such service as clerk of the grand jury and as clerk to the prosecutor of the pleas shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per year and no more, and said salary shall be payable monthly, by the collector of the county.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the terms of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall be a public act and take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXVIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to amend an act concerning corporations," approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, which amendatory act was approved March twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That after any corporation of this state has failed and neglected for the space of two consecutive years to pay the taxes imposed upon it by law, and the comptroller of this state shall have reported such corporation to the governor of this state, as provided in said amendatory act, then it shall be lawful for the attorney general of this state to proceed against said corporation in the court of chancery of this state for the appointment of a receiver, or otherwise, and the said court in such proceeding shall ascertain the amount of the taxes remaining due and unpaid by such corporation to the State of New Jersey, and shall enter a final decree for the amount so ascertained, and thereupon a fieri facias or other process shall issue for the collection of the same as other debts are collected, and if no property which may be seized and sold on fieri facias shall be found within said State of New Jersey, sufficient to pay such decree, the said court shall further order and decree that the said corporation, within ten days from and after the service of notice of such decree upon any officer of said corporation upon whom service of process may be lawfully made, or such notice as the court shall direct, shall assign and transfer to the trustee or receiver appointed by the court, any thing in action, or any patent or patents, or any assignment of, or license under any patented invention or inventions owned by, leased or licensed to or controlled in whole or in part by said corporation, to be sold by said receiver or trustee for the satisfaction of such decree, and no injunction theretofore issued nor any forfeiture of the charter of any such corporation shall be held to exempt such corporation from compliance with such order of the court; and if the said corporation shall neglect or refuse within ten days from and after the service of notice of such decree to assign and transfer the same to such receiver or trustee for sale as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said court to appoint a master to make the assignment of the same, in the name and on behalf of such corporation, to the receiver or trustee appointed to make such sale, and the said receiver or trustee shall thereupon, after such notice and in such manner as required for the sale under fieri facias of personal property, sell the same to the highest bidder, and the said receiver or trustee, upon the payment of the purchase money, shall execute and deliver to such purchaser an assignment and transfer of all the patents and interests of the corporation so sold which assignment or transfer shall vest in the purchaser a valid title to all the right, title and interest whatsoever of the said corporation therein, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the payment of such unpaid taxes, together with the costs of said proceedings.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the governor that any corporation named in said proclamation has not neglected or refused to pay said tax within two consecutive years, or has been inadvertently reported to the governor by the comptroller as refusing or neglecting to pay the same as aforesaid, that the governor be and he is hereby authorized to correct such mistake, and to make the same known by filing his proclamation to that effect in the office of secretary of state.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXXIX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act concerning roads" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the state of New Jersey, That section seventy-nine of the act of which this is amendatory is amended to read as follows:

79. And be it enacted, That nothing in this act shall be construed to extend to narrowing, widening or altering any street in any of the cities, towns or villages in this state, or to pulling down or removing any dwelling house, market house or other public building heretofore erected and which may encroach on any highway; provided, however, that the grade of any street may be altered or any street therein may be narrowed, widened or altered; provided, that three-fourths of the owners in interest of the lots fronting on the part of said road or street so proposed to be narrowed, widened or altered, or the grade thereof to be changed, shall consent in writing thereto; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed to deprive any person not so consenting, of damages, as heretofore.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXL.

An Act to repeal the act entitled "A further supplement to 'An act for the suppressing of vice and immorality'" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, which said further supplement was approved March twenty-fourth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the said act, entitled "A further supplement to 'An act for the suppressing of vice and immorality'" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, which said supplement was approved March twenty-fourth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation and government of boroughs," approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the mayor and council of any borough incorporated under this act to make and establish ordinances for the following purposes, viz: to license and regulate the owners and drivers of express wagons, trucks, hacks, cars, omnibuses, stages and all other carriages and vehicles and for the transportation of passengers, baggage, merchandise and goods and chattels of every kind; also to license and regulate the owners and drivers of all vehicles used in connection with any business for the purpose of soliciting orders or delivering goods within the limits of the municipality; also to license and regulate all auctioneers, common criers, hawkers, peddlers, pawnbrokers, junk wagons, news stands, sweeps, scavengers, traveling and other street shows, street exhibitions, street parades, circuses, concerts, theatres, skating rinks, merry-go-rounds, observation roundabouts, razzle dazzles, or circular swings, organ grinders, itinerant venders of merchandise, medicines and remedies, and to fix the license fee to be paid therefor, which may be imposed for the purpose of revenue; and also to designate and locate stands and places which hackmen, cartmen and all other persons engaged in carrying passengers, baggage and merchandise shall be privileged to occupy when soliciting business, and to prevent the occupying of other places for such purposes, and to fix and prescribe penalties for the violation of any such ordinance or ordinances, or section thereof, either in the nature of a fine or imprisonment, under authority of the act to which this is a supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting the court of chancery," approved March twenty-seventh, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all actions hereafter commenced in the court of chancery of New Jersey, by bill, petition, or otherwise, whenever it shall appear by the allegations of said bill or petition, duly verified by the affidavit of the complainant or petitioner, or by one of them, if there shall be more than one complainant or petitioner, or his or their agent or solicitor, thereto annexed, that any person mentioned in said bill or petition, or his heirs, devisees or personal representatives, are proper parties defendant to said bill of complainant, or said petition; and that the complainant, after diligent and careful inquiry therefor, made as in case of absent defendants, has been unable to ascertain whether such person is still alive, or, if he is known or believed to be dead, has been unable to ascertain the names and residences of his heirs, devisees or personal representatives, or such of them as may be proper parties defendant as aforesaid, such action may proceed against such person by name, and his heirs, devisees and personal representatives, as in the case of absent defendants whose names are known; provided, nevertheless, that such notice as is now required by law to be published against absent defendants in default of personal service, addressed to such person by name, and to "heirs, devisees and personal representatives," and containing such further statements and giving such further time as the chancellor may by his order direct be first published and mailed in such manner as the chancellor may, by his order in said action, direct; and in case such person, or his heirs, devisees or personal representatives shall not appear, plead, answer or demur within the time limited in said notice, or further allowed by the chancellor, if he shall think proper, on proof to the satisfaction of the chancellor of mailing and publication of said notice as directed; such action may proceed in all respects as if such person, or his heirs, devisees or personal representatives had been duly named and described and served with process of subpoena in said action, and had failed to plead, answer or demur to the complainant's bill of complaint, or petitioner's petition within the time thereto allowed by law.

2. And be it enacted, That all such defendants, and all persons falling within the description of "heirs, devisees or personal representatives" of the defendant supposed to be dead as aforesaid, shall thereupon be bound by all orders and decrees in said cause as if they had been duly named and described and served with process in this state.

3. And be it enacted, That proofs may be made, costs allowed, security ordered and proceedings for restitution or other relief from said decrees and orders had in like manner as the same are now allowed by law in the case of absent defendants.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLIII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to reorganize the board of chosen freeholders in counties of the first-class in this state," approved April third, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and the supplements thereto.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the term of office of the members of the board of chosen freeholders, in counties of the first class in this state, except the director-at large, shall begin on the second Wednesday of May next after every election of such members, and shall continue for three years and until others shall be chosen and legally qualified in their stead; and the term of office of such director-at-large shall begin as heretofore and continue for three years and until another shall be chosen and legally qualified in his stead; the term of office of the present director-at large, in counties of the first class in this state, shall continue until the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; and the first election of such director shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, of the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four; from and after the passage of this act the director-at-large shall be entitled to vote at all meetings of the board in the same manner as any other member thereof; which power he shall possess in addition to that which he now possesses of approving or refusing to approve the resolutions and acts of said board; and said last-mentioned act shall be held and construed to include all appointments to or dismissals from any office or place under the jurisdiction or control of said board.

2. And be it enacted, that the election for chosen freeholders, other than the director-at-large, shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections,'" approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which supplement was approved May twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and the supplements thereto; candidates may be nominated, and such nominations shall be certified and filed as therein provided, and it shall be the duty of the clerks of the respective counties, at least eight days before any election of chosen freeholders other than director whereat any candidate nominated in any certificate or petition filed with him is to be voted for, to make and certify under his hand and seal of office and forward to the clerks of the respective cities, towns, villages, townships or other municipalities in their respective counties a statement of all the candidates nominated by certificate or petition filed in their office, for whom voters within any such municipality may be by law entitled to vote at such election; such certificate shall include the names and residences of the candidates, the offices for which they are nominated and the names of the parties by which, or the political appellation under which, they are respectively nominated; candidates nominated by petition, without distinctive political appellations, shall be certified as independent candidates; the names of the candidates shall be printed as far as possible, upon the ballots containing the names of the other candidates to be voted for at the municipal elections; the ballots containing the names so certified shall, in all respects, conform to the requirements of law and shall be placed in envelopes and voted accordingly.

3. And be it enacted, That the register of voters used for the election of chosen freeholders, other than the director shall be the same and shall be used with the same effect and in the same manner as that corrected, revised and used in and for the municipal elections held at the same time, and that all provisions of law regulating the manner of voting, the conduct of the elections, the mode of receiving, counting and certifying the votes in the case of municipal elections, shall apply to the case of elections of chosen freeholders.

4. And be it enacted, That the nominations for director-at-large shall be made and certified, as by law other nominations for county offices are made and certified, and the provisions of law relative to the registry of voters, the manner of voting, the conduct of elections, and all proceedings thereafter taken and all other requirements of law concerning elections shall apply to the election of director-at-large.

5. And be it enacted, That the meeting of the board of canvassers shall be held as now required by the supplement to the acts to which this is a supplement.

6. And be it enacted, That one-third of the costs and expenses of any election whereat members of the board are elected, other than the director, including the revision of the registry, shall be paid out of the county funds and two-thirds by the respective municipalities.

7. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLIV.

An Act to appropriate three thousand dollars for the purchase of a burial plot for the home of disabled soldiers, at Kearney, N. J.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the sum of three thousand dollars be and is hereby appropriated for the purchase of a burial plot for the home of disabled soldiers, at Kearney, New Jersey, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same on the warrant of the comptroller to the treasurer of the home for disabled soldiers, at Kearney, New Jersey, out of any moneys not heretofore appropriated by law.

2. And be it enacted, That this shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLV.

An Act to enable cities to purchase lands, erect, furnish and fit up a building or buildings for public school purposes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the common council or other legislative body of any city of the second class of this state shall have power to borrow any sum or sums of money, not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of fifty thousand dollars, to be used for the purchase of lands and the erecting, furnishing and fitting up of a building or buildings for public school purposes in said city; and that the said common council or other legislative body of said city may secure the repayment of the said sum or sums so borrowed, together with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed five per centum per annum, in such manner and upon such terms as to the said common council or other legislative body may seem proper, by the issuing of bonds in the corporate name of said city, to be signed by the mayor or other chief executive officer of said city and countersigned by the city clerk or other person performing the duties of recording officer for the said common council or other legislative body, as the case may be, and sealed with the common seal of said city; provided, that in cities having a board of education or other board having control of the public schools than the common council, the purchase of land, erecting, furnishing and fitting up a school house or school houses with the money so borrowed shall be made in the same manner as heretofore provided by law for the city borrowing money by virtue of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLVI.

An Act to authorize the inferior courts of common pleas of the various counties of this state to transfer any license granted by them to sell spirituous, vinous, malt and brewed liquors, in quantities from one quart to five gallons, not to be drunk on or about the premises where sold.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the inferior courts of common pleas of the various counties of this state are hereby authorized and empowered in their discretion to transfer any license granted by them to sell spirituous, vinous, malt and brewed liquors, in quantities from one quart to five gallons not to be drunk on or about the premises where sold, to any person or persons or to any place within such county, and in case of transfer the license so transferred shall only be good or effective for the unexpired term thereof, at either the place or premises mentioned in the original license or else at the place or premises to which the same shall be transferred within said county, and in case of revocation of any license aforesaid any person selling or offering for sale thereunder shall be liable to all the penalties provided by law for selling without a license; provided, that before any transfer shall be made by any of said courts as aforesaid, there shall be paid a fee for such transfer by said court of not less than three dollars and fifty cents.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLVII.

An Act to repeal the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to prescribe the notice to be given of applications to the legislature for laws when notice is required by the constitution,'" approved January twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, the further supplement approved March twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to prescribe the notice to be given of applications to the legislature for laws when notice is required by the constitution,'" approved January twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which further supplement was approved March twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLVIII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to enable incorporated towns to construct water works for the extinguishment of fires and supplying the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water,'" passed March fifth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four, which said supplement was approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the act of which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever the board of water commissioners of any town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission of this state, shall find that said sum of sixty thousand dollars, provided for in the act of which this is a supplement, is insufficient for the purpose of constructing and fully completing said water works, or that the water works and reservoirs, aqueducts, apparatus, erections, works, establishments and fixtures for supplying water of any such town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission, are inadequate to furnish a sufficient amount of pure and wholesome water for the purposes designated in and contemplated by said act, that then the said board of water commissioners shall report said fact to the board of commissioners, or other governing board or body of such town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such board of commissioners or other board or body to order and appoint an election of the legal electors thereof, to be held in such town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission, to determine whether an additional sum shall be raised for said purpose, and if so, what sum, not exceeding, with the sum already appropriated, in the whole, three hundred thousand dollars; of which election the clerk of such town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission shall cause public notice of the time and place of holding the same to be given by advertisements, signed by himself, and set up in at least five public places in such town, incorporated borough, camp meeting association, or other municipal commission, and published in one or more newspapers printed therein at least six days previous to the day of said election, and said said clerk shall provide for each elector voting at such election, ballots to be printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, on which shall be either the words, "For an additional appropriation for water supply under the provisions of the act entitled 'An act to enable incorporated towns to construct water works for the extinguishment of fire, and supplying the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water,' and the supplements thereto $," or "Against an additional appropriation for water supply under the provisions of the act entitled 'An act to enable incorporated towns to construct water works for the extinguishment of fire, and supplying the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water,' and the supplements thereto;" and that the polls for such election shall be held at the same places, and shall be opened and closed at the same hours, and such election shall be conducted by the same officers, and in the same manner, and such officers shall return a statement of the result of such election, which shall be entered in the same manner as is prescribed and provided for in the twentieth section of the act of which this is a supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CXLIX.

An Act concerning the rate of interest on certain municipal bonds.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That wherever by any act of the legislature any of the cities in this state are authorized to issue bonds for public improvements, and in and by such act or acts the rate of interest on such bonds is fixed at six per centum per annum or any other fixed rate or sum; that hereafter it shall be lawful for any such cities to issue such bonds at a rate of interest to be fixed by the common council, board of aldermen or other governing body, such rate not to exceed the sum of five per centum per annum.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CL.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act for the formation and government of boroughs," approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section thirty-six of said act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

36. And be it enacted, That the inhabitants of any district in this state adjacent to and adjoining any borough heretofore created, or hereafter to be created, under any general law of this state, may become a part of such borough with all the powers and liabilities conferred upon the original corporation, and with the same rights and duties as if it had been included within the boundaries of the borough which it seeks to become a part when the same was incorporated; provided, that the district to be added shall not increase the area of the whole borough beyond the size provided for in the act under which such borough was incorporated; and provided further, that the proceedings to annex any district to an existing borough shall be the same as is provided by this acts for the incorporation of a borough, and the result of the election in the territory to be annexed shall be submitted to the mayor of the existing borough who shall, at the next ensuing annual election submit the question of annexation to the legal voters in the existing borough, and if a majority of the said legal voters shall vote "against annexation" the result of the election shall be certified by the election officers, and all papers relating to the proceedings shall be filed in the clerk's office, as provided by this act, and the question of annexing the same territory shall not be again acted upon for five years; but if a majority of the legal voters in the existing borough shall vote "for annexation," then as soon as the result of the election is certified and filed in the clerk's office as provided by this act, the annex district shall become a part of the original borough; and provided further, that nothing in this act shall apply to, affect or include any street, road or highway that is now or may hereafter be under charge, direction, management or control of any county public board in this state, whether created or organized under or by virtue of any special or general act of the legislature.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLI.

Supplement to an act respecting the orphans' court, and relating to the powers and duties of the ordinary, and the orphans' court and surrogates (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That upon the application of any creditor of any insolvent decedent, the orphans' court of the proper county may extend the time within which claims may be presented by creditors of such decedent upon such terms as the court may deem just; provided, distribution shall not have been made; and provided, further, that such notice of such application as the court may deem proper shall be given to the executor or administrator of such deceased insolvent.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLII.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting conveyances" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the acknowledgment or proof of any deed or conveyance of lands, tenements or hereditaments, lying and being in this state, heretofore made or that hereafter shall be made before any master in chancery of this state in any foreign kingdom, state, nation or colony in which said party acknowledging or witness proving the said deed or conveyance happen to be, in the manner such acknowledgment or proof of deeds is now taken by a master in chancery in this state, shall be as good and effectual as if such acknowledgment or proof had been made in this state before and certified by one of the justices of the supreme court of this state.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLIII.

An Act for the incorporation of bond and indemnity companies.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any number of persons, not less than seven, to associate themselves into a company to guarantee the faithful performance of duty by public officials and of individuals or corporations, and to guarantee and indemnify individuals, firms or corporations against the wrongful act or default of any of their officers, agents or employes, and to indemnify and hold harmless any person or persons, private or public corporations, municipal or otherwise, against loss or damage by the misfeasance or malfeasance of any officer, agent or employee, and to become surety for the faithful discharge of duty in any station of employment or trust.

2. And be it enacted, That the persons associating shall under their hands and seals make a certificate which shall specify the following matters:

I. The name assumed to conduct the business;

II. The amount of capital stock which shall be fixed by them and the number and par value of the shares thereof;

III. The names and residences of the shareholders and the number of shares held by each;

IV. The place of the home office of the company;—

which certificate shall be acknowledged before a master of the court of chancery of this state and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and upon the same being so recorded said association shall be a body corporate and entitled to all the rights and privileges as such under the laws of this state.

3. And be it enacted, That before any such corporation shall be authorized to do business under their certificate of organization they shall satisfy the banking and insurance commissioner that they have a well invested or cash capital of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, actually paid in, and an authorized capital stock of not less than one hundred thousand dollars fully subscribed for by bona fide subscriptions, upon which at least twenty-five per centum has been paid in in cash, and the said company, before it shall be authorized to commence business, shall secure from and file in its office a certificate of the commissioner to that effect.

4. And be it enacted, That upon compliance with the foregoing provisions of this act such company shall have all the powers mentioned in the first section of this act, with the right to have and reserve such rates of premium for its guarantee, and risk incurred as may be provided by its by-laws, and shall conduct its business by a board of directors, of not less than seven in number, who shall be stockholders, and shall be elected annually at a stockholders' meeting to be provided for in the by-laws of the association; said board of directors shall elect from their number a president, and shall provide for the election and appointment of such other officers and agents as may be necessary.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLIV.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation of borough governments," approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any borough organized under the act to which this is a supplement, to order and cause, by contract or otherwise, sewers and drains to be constructed in any part of such borough, and to provide, maintain and alter a general system of sewerage and drainage for such borough, or any part thereof, conformably to which all sewers and drains shall be constructed, and to establish and maintain one or more outlets or places of deposit, within or without such borough, for sewerage and drainage from such borough, and to repair and cleanse such sewers and drains.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever a petition in writing of any owners of property interested, not less than ten, shall be presented to the mayor and council of such borough, asking for the construction of a sewer or drain in the whole or any particular section of such borough, it shall be lawful for such mayor or council to adopt a resolution declaring its intention to cause such sewers or drains to be constructed; and the said council forthwith cause public notice of such intention to be given by its mayor in two or more newspapers printed and circulating in such borough, for the space of ten days, briefly describing the proposed work, and the section or part of such borough to be affected, and requesting such persons as may object thereto to present their objections in writing at or before the expiration of ten days from the date of such notice, to the officers signing the same; and if persons owning or representing more than one-half of the whole lineal frontage of land along the streets through which it is proposed to construct any sewer or drain, shall so present their objections in writing then such proceedings shall cease, but not otherwise; and after the expiration of said ten days, it shall be lawful for such mayor and council to adopt an ordinance for the construction of such sewers or drains, to award contracts for the same, or for any part or section thereof, and to take all necessary steps for properly carrying into effect the desired improvement.

3. And be it enacted, That if, in the judgment of the said mayor and council, the construction of such sewer or drain is likely to benefit and increase the value of lands and any real estate in the vicinity thereof, the said council shall apply to the judge of the circuit court of the county wherein such borough is situate, for the appointment of commissioners to estimate and assess such benefits, of the time and place of which application notice shall be given by ten days' publication in two newspapers printed within the county and circulating within such borough, at which time and place, or at such other time and place as the said judge shall designate, said judge shall, without unnecessary delay, appoint three commissioners, who shall be freeholders of such borough making the application, to estimate and assess the said benefit; the said judge shall have power to remove any commission and appoint another in his place, and also to fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of any commissioner from any cause; the said commissioners before entering upon the execution of the duties required of them by this act, shall take and subscribe, before some person duly authorized to administer the same, an oath or affirmation that they will make all estimates and assessments required of them fairly, legally and equitably, according to the best of their skill and understanding, which oath or affirmation shall be attached to the report that they are hereinafter required to make.

4. And be it enacted, That the said commissioners, having been qualified, shall give notice, under the direction of the said judge, of the time and place when and where they will hear any persons in interest who may present themselves to be heard, and at such time and place, and at such other times and places to which they may adjourn for that purpose the said commissioners shall attend, and shall give a public hearing to those persons in interest who may desire to be heard; the said commissioners shall have power to examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any one of them, and to enter upon and view any premises that they may deem necessary, and to adjourn from time to time in their discretion, or as directed by the judge of said court; they shall use diligent effort to ascertain the names of the owners of the lands and real estate benefited by the construction of such sewer or drain as aforesaid, and shall state the same in the report hereinafter mentioned, but the failure to ascertain the name of any such owner or to state the same correctly, or the omission of any such name from the said report, shall not be deemed to invalidate the said assessment, nor to be a bar to the collection of the same.

5. And be it enacted, That after having given opportunity as aforesaid for a public hearing of the persons in interest, and having viewed the premises likely, in their judgment, to be benefitted by the construction of such sewer or drain, the said commissioners shall make a report in writing of their estimates and assessments to the judge of said court, accompanied by a survey and map to be prepared under their direction by a civil engineer, to be appointed by the mayor and council of such borough, showing the lots or parcels of land and real estate peculiarly benefitted by such sewer or drain; the said report shall state the cost of the whole work, including in such cost all necessary expenditure for engineers, plans, salaries, legal fees in charges, and such other incidental expenses as in the proper prosecution of the work may be necessarily incurred, the portion, if any, assessed upon the borough at large, and shall give the names, so far as ascertained, of the owners of said lots or parcels of land and real estate, and the amount of the assessment to each owner for each of such lots or parcels of land and real estate for the said benefits; which assessment shall, in each case, be in proportion, as near as may be, to the advantage which each of such owners shall be deemed to have acquired by the construction of such sewer or drain; in case the costs and expenses of such work shall exceed the amount of benefits, the expense thereof shall be paid by the borough at large, and raised by general tax; in no case shall any property or owner thereof to be assessed beyond the amount of benefit actually derived from the construction of such sewer or drain.

6. And be it enacted, That upon the coming in of any such report, signed by the said commissioners, or any two of them, the judge of said court shall cause such notice to be given as it shall deem proper of the time and place of hearing any objections that may be made to such assessment, and after hearing any matter that may be alleged against the same, the judge of said court, either by rule or order, shall confirm the said report, or shall refer the same to the same commissioners for revision and correction, or to new commissioners to be appointed by him, forthwith to reconsider the subject matter thereof; and the said commissioners to whom such report shall be referred by the court shall return the same, corrected and revised, or a new report to be made by them in the premises, to the said court, without unnecessary delay, and the same being so returned, shall be confirmed, or again referred by the judge of said court in the manner aforesaid, as right and justice shall require, and so from time to time until a report shall be made or returned in the premises which the said court shall confirm; such report, when so confirmed, shall be final and conclusive, as well upon the said borough as upon the owners of any lands and real estate affected thereby; the said court shall thereupon cause a certified copy of such report, and the accompanying map, to be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which said borough shall be located and said clerk shall transmit a certified copy of the report, and rule or order of said court confirming the same, and also a certified copy of the map accompanying the same, to the treasurer of such borough.

7. And be it enacted, That no certiorari shall be allowed by any court to review any of the proceedings in relation to such improvement as to in any way affect any assessments made by such commissioners, after the lapse of thirty days from the making of the order of the court confirming such assessments; the court shall designate what notice, if any, shall be given, by publication or otherwise, of the confirmation of the report of said commissioners.

8. And be it enacted, That all assessments made under the provisions of this act shall be and remain a first lien upon the lands and real estate affected thereby, notwithstanding any error or omission in stating the name or names of the owner or owners of such lands and real estate, to the same extent as taxes and assessments are now a lien under the general laws of this state, and shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum.

9. And be it enacted, That the mayor and council may pay the expenses of any such improvement by the issue of temporary improvement certificates from time to time as the work progresses, in such form as the council may prescribe; said certificates shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, to be fixed by the council, and shall be payable at the expiration of not more than three years from the date of their issue.

10. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the mayor and council of any such borough to incorporate in the annual tax levy, in each year, such amount as shall be required to be paid by such borough at large, or on account of any such improvement made, in the next preceding fiscal year, over and above the total amount of the assessment made against the lands and real estate peculiarly benefitted; and the same shall be raised by general taxes, and the moneys received for assessments, and the moneys so raised by the general tax for the purpose aforesaid, shall be raised for and exclusively applied to the payment for such improvement, or the payment of any temporary indebtedness incurred by the said borough therefor, or for any bonds or certificates that may be issued as in this act provided.

11. And be it enacted, That the mayor and council of such borough shall order an election to determine whether bonds shall be issued to procure money for the payment of the cost and expenses of the proposed improvement, and shall designate the time and place for holding the same, and appoint judges and inspectors thereof; the polls shall be open from ten o'clock in the forenoon until three o'clock in the afternoon, and every person who is now authorized to vote at the corporate election in such borough, may vote at such election; on the tickets voted at such election shall be printed or written "for the issue of bonds," or "against the issue of bonds," and the judge and inspectors shall certify the result of said election to the clerk of the county in which such borough is situated.

12. And be it enacted, That if there shall be a majority of votes cast in favor of the issue of bonds it shall then be lawful for the mayor and council of such borough to issue registered or coupon bonds of said borough, such issue being hereby expressly authorized for the purpose of providing funds to pay for such improvements; the bonds may be made payable at times to be therein specified, not more than twenty years after date, but so that an equal amount shall fall due each year after the first, the rate of interest not to exceed six per centum, and the denominations to be fixed by the mayor and council issuing the same; the bonds shall be of two classes, namely, "assessment bonds," which shall be paid out of the assessments for benefits, made by the commissioners appointed for that purpose, against lands benefited, and "sewer bonds," which shall represent the cost of the improvement above the amount assessed for benefits.

13. And be it enacted, That any land owner whose lands may be subject to an assessment for benefits derived from the construction of such sewer may have his lands released at any time by paying to the treasurer of the borough the full amount assessed against his property with interest at six per centum; it shall be the duty of the county clerk to file in his office the receipt of the treasurer for any such payment and also to enter upon the assessment list and map a short memorandum showing that the assessment against such land owner and lands has been paid, and thereafter such lands shall be free from the lien of such assessment and shall not be liable to any assessment or tax to raise money to provide for the payment of assessments against any other property or the bonds mentioned in this act as "assessment bonds," but shall remain liable for any tax that shall be levied to provide for the payment of that part of the costs which is charged to the borough at large, or for the payment of any certificates or bonds issued therefor.

14. And be it enacted, That if a majority shall at such election vote against the issue of bonds, then the said mayor and council shall have power to issue certificates to pay for the cost of such work; such certificates shall bind the land assessed for benefits, and be a lien upon the same to the extent that each lot or parcel may be assessed as hereinbefore provided; and the same shall be a paramount lien upon said lands respectively, until the amounts due from each of the respective owners shall be paid, and the record of the assessment cancelled as herein provided; in issuing such certificates the mayor and council may also include the amount of any damages assessed against the borough at large, but such certificates shall be distinguished from those issued to represent the amount assessed for benefits; and the whole issue of certificates shall be divided into three classes, one-third to mature in one year, one-third in two years, and one-third in three years; and to provide for their payment it shall be the duty of the borough assessor to assess and levy the tax for the same in the manner herein provided for the payment of bonds, certificates or other indebtedness incurred for such improvement.

15. And be it enacted, That there shall be paid to each commissioner of assessment three dollars for every day he shall be actually engaged in the performance of the duties herein required of him; and they shall also have authority to employ a surveyor at a cost of not over two dollars for each day he may be employed.

16. And be it enacted, That the mayor and council of any borough in this state shall by resolution submit the question of the acceptance or rejection of this act to the vote of any such borough at a special election to be held for that purpose, whereof at least ten days' previous notice shall be given by public advertisement in at least two of the newspapers published and circulated in said borough if there be so many; the resolution shall fix the time and place for holding such election, and the said mayor and council shall appoint inspectors of the election, who shall hold the same as provided by said resolution, and return the result thereof to the said council; each ballot deposited by those who favor the acceptance of this act shall contain the words "the sewer act accepted," written or printed thereon, and those opposed shall [illegible] deposit a ballot with the words "the sewer act rejected," written or printed thereon, and if a majority of the ballots so cast shall be found to be for the acceptance of this act, it shall then (but not otherwise) go into effect and be binding upon said borough; those persons who are qualified to vote at the annual municipal borough election for the election of the officers of any such borough shall be qualified to vote at the election provided for in this section.

17. And be it enacted, That any borough accepting the provisions of this act is authorized to raise such additional amount of money each year as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, over and above what they are now allowed by law.

18. And be it enacted, That all acts, general and special, so far as they conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLV.

An Act providing for the making of assessments, in certain cases, of benefits conferred by local improvements in cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That where, in any city of this state, a trunk or intercepting sewer has been or shall be constructed, or any local improvement has been or shall be made by such city, which sewer or improvement drains, covers, affects or benefits such a large area that, in the opinion of the common council or other governing body of such city, an estimate and assessment of the benefits conferred by such sewer or improvement ought to be made by the freeholders residing outside of such city, not owning or interested in any real estate therein, upon the passage of a resolution by such governing body declaring such to be its opinion, the proper law officer of such city shall thereupon make application, upon ten days' public notice, to the justice of the supreme court holding the circuit in which said city is situate, for the appointment of three commissioners to make such estimate and assessment, and the said justice is hereby authorized and empowered to thereupon appoint as such commissioners three freeholders residing outside of such city, but in the state of New Jersey, who do not own and are not in any way interested in any real estate in said city.

2. And be it enacted, That all such commissioners, when so appointed, shall, in all respects, be governed in making such assessments by the laws now or hereafter in force relating to and regulating the making and confirmation of assessments for local improvements in such city.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLVI.

A Supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the assessor, or for the commissioners of appeal in cases of taxation, to deduct from the valuation of the taxable property for which any person shall be assessed, any debt or debts due and owing from such person upon any mortgage made to the chancellor, in his official capacity, or to the State of New Jersey, for the investment of money in the court of chancery, or upon any mortgage made to commissioners appointed by an order of the supreme court of this state, or by an order of any circuit court, inferior court of common pleas or orphans' court of any of the counties of this state upon claim for such deduction being made according to law.

2. And be it enacted, That such mortgages or the debts secured thereby shall be assessed for taxation by the assessor or commissioners of appeal, making the deduction on account thereof, and the tax thereon shall be collected by the collector of taxes in and for the city or township wherein the lands in the mortgage described are situated.

3. And be it enacted, That such assessment shall be made to the person or persons having the beneficial interest in the said mortgage and mortgages, or who may be entitled to have the income or interest thereof at the time of such assessment, whether such person or persons reside in this state or not.

4. And be it enacted, That where the person or persons assessed as aforesaid is or are resident or residents of the state of New Jersey, and such taxes remain unpaid for the space of sixty days after the expiration of the time appointed for the payment of taxes, then it shall be the duty of the collector to proceed to collect such delinquent taxes in the manner provided for by the act entitled "A further supplement to the act entitled 'An act concerning taxes'" (Revision), approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, approved April seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

5. And be it enacted, That where the person or persons assessed as aforesaid, be or are non-resident or non-residents of the state of New Jersey, it shall be the duty of the person claiming deduction to pay the taxes so assessed, and payment of the same may be enforced by like means and processes as if the same had been originally assessed to such person, and any taxes which such person may pay or satisfy as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken to be a payment, so far as such payment will extend, on the interest or income due or to grow due on or secured by the said mortgage.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, and that all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLVII.

An Act to amend chapter fifty-two of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and eighty, entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to prevent the wilful pollution of the waters of any of the creeks, ponds or brooks of this state'" (Supplement Revision), approved February twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the said act be amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That if any person or persons shall throw, cause or permit to be thrown into any reservoir, or into the waters of any creek, pond or brook of this state which runs through or along the border of any city, town or borough of this state, or the waters of which are used to supply any aqueduct or reservoir for distribution for public use, any carcass of any dead animal, or any offal or offensive matter whatsoever calculated to render said waters impure, or to create nuisance or offensive smells, or shall connect any water closet with any sewer, or other means whereby the contents thereof may be conveyed to and into such creek, pond or brook, or shall so deposit or cause or permit to be deposited any such carcass, offal or other offensive matter that the washing or waste therefrom shall or may be conveyed to and into any such creek, pond, brook or reservoir, such person or persons shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, in so far as they are inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLVIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation and government of boroughs," approved March twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever, in any of the boroughs of this state heretofore incorporated under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, any real estate shall be sold for taxes under the provisions of section twenty-three of the said act, then and in every such case the owner of such lands shall have the period of two years in which to redeem the said lands, as now provided by law, and failing so to do within such time the same shall vest in the purchaser in fee simple; provided, that the said owner shall have been notified of the sale of said lands and of his right to redeem the same, as now provided by law, by payment of arrears of taxes, interests and costs; which notice shall be in writing, signed by the purchaser or his agent and served personally on him if resident in the borough, or mailed to his last known address if non-resident, at least sixty days prior to the expiration of said period of two years.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLIX.

An Act to regulate the practice of pharmacy in New Jersey.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That from and after the passage of this act it shall and may be lawful for any duly registered or licensed physician, authorized by the laws of this state to practice medicine and surgery therein, and located as a practitioner of medicine and surgery in any city, town, borough or village of this state, not exceeding one thousand in population, to engage in the practice of pharmacy in such city, town, borough, or village, and he shall be deemed and taken to be and shall possess all the rights, powers and privileges of a registered pharmacist, subject, however, to all the regulations and restrictions imposed by law upon a registered pharmacist.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

LAWS OF NEW JERSEY.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY

CHAPTER XCVIII.

An Act to establish the rate of interest on arrears of taxes and assessments in cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the common council or other board having charge and control of the finances of any city in this state may be the same required to expend money fix and change, by resolution, the rate of interest on all past due taxes and assessments of all kinds which were due prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, at and after a rate of not less than seven per centum per annum; provided, however, that such rate shall apply only to such taxes and assessments as are still due and unpaid to said city, and shall not apply to any taxes or assessments that have been or may be adjusted under the act of the legislature entitled "An act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water rents in cities of this state, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and provide for the sale of lands subjected to further taxation and assessment," passed March thirtieth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts so far as they conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER C.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning evidence," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the thirty-eighth section of the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall read and be in the words following, to wit:

38. And be it enacted, That any party in a civil cause desiring the testimony of any witness who resides out of this state may, instead of taking his testimony by commission, take the testimony of such witness de bene esse before any judge of any supreme, circuit or district court, or court of common pleas, of the state where such witness is, or before any commissioner of deeds appointed by the governor of this state, resident in the state where such witness is, or before a commissioner, specially appointed for that purpose by the court in which such action is pending, or any judge thereof, or before a master in chancery of this state; provided, that notice in writing of the time and place of such examination, and of the names of the witnesses to be examined shall be given to the adverse party, his attorney or solicitor, that he may be present and put interrogatories if he shall see fit, which notice shall be served, allowing time for the attendance after service, not less than at the rate of one day (Sundays excluded), for every fifty miles of travel; provided, also, that in all cases at least ten days notice, exclusive of Sundays, shall be given; and provided further, that in cases where such testimony is desired to be taken of witnesses residing in any foreign state or kingdom, or any state or territory of the United States, situate upon the Pacific ocean, so many days' notice shall be given as shall be directed by the court in which said cause shall be pending, or any judge thereof, at chambers; the officer taking such testimony shall first take an oath or affirmation fairly and impartially to take the same, before some person authorized to administer an oath in the state, territory or kingdom where he shall reside; the testimony of such witness shall be taken on oath or affirmation administered according to the law of this state, upon interrogatories to be then and there put by the parties, or any of them, or any person authorized in their behalf, and such interrogatories and the answers thereto, shall be reduced to writing by the officer taking such testimony, and shall be subscribed in his presence by the deponent; and thereupon the same shall be certified, sealed up, endorsed, directed and forwarded, as is required in case of depositions taken under the twenty-ninth section of this act, or if the testimony of such witness be taken before a master in chancery, such testimony may be certified and delivered by the master taking the same to the clerk of the court in which such action is pending, or to any judge thereof.

2. And be it enacted, That this shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1893.

CHAPTER CIV

A Supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning sheriffs," approved March fifteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in case any sheriff before the expiration of his term of office hath heretofore died or removed out of the jurisdiction of the state or otherwise become disabled by law to execute the office, or shall hereafter die or remove out of the jurisdiction of the state, or otherwise become disabled by law to execute the office, it shall be the duty of the chief justice or any one of the associated justices of the supreme court, on being satisfied of the death, non-residence or disability of such sheriff, to designate by order under his hand and the seal of the circuit court of such county, one of the coroners of the said county to act as sheriff of said county and perform the duties of the office of sheriff of the said county in all respects provisionally until a new sheriff shall be appointed or elected and duly qualified; and when such new sheriff shall be appointed or elected and duly qualified, the powers and duties of such coroner, so far as he shall have acted for the deceased, disqualified or disabled sheriff shall cease, and all writs, processes, papers, belonging or appertaining to the office of sheriff shall pass to and be vested in the said newly appointed or elected sheriff as fully and as entirely as they were in the former sheriff when he ceased to act.

2. And be it enacted, That all writs and processes which had been delivered to such deceased, disqualified or disabled sheriff to be executed, remaining unexecuted or partially unexecuted in his hands at the time of his death, disqualification or disability shall be executed or the execution thereof completed by the said coroner so designated to act as sheriff, and by the said newly-appointed or elected sheriff, and all advertisements of sales of goods and chattels, lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate shall be continued, and adjournments of such sales may be made, of which all persons shall take notice without any other than the usual notice required by law for such advertisements, adjournments and sales; which said advertisements, adjournments and sales such coroner so designated to act as sheriff, or such newly appointed or elected sheriff is hereby authorized and required to make in as full and ample manner to all intents and purposes as if the said writs and processes had been directed or delivered to such coroner or sheriff, without any scire facias or other order, and such coroner or sheriff shall be entitled to the same fees for their services, and be liable to all the penalties and consequences of law for neglect of duty, as if the said writs and processes had been originally directed and delivered to such coroner or sheriff.

3. And be it enacted, That where any sheriff or coroner or other person to whom any writ of execution by fieri facias hath been heretofore directed, or shall hereafter be directed, hath levied, or shall levy the same execution on the goods and chattels, or on the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the party named therein, and such sheriff, coroner or other person hath died or shall die, or hath or shall become disabled by law to discharge the duties of their respective office or appointment, or hath removed or shall remove himself or themselves out of the jurisdiction of the state, and continue to reside thereout without discharging the duties of their respective office or appointment by sale of the property or estate so levied on, then and in either of the said cases it shall and may be lawful for the party or parties in whose favor the said writ of execution shall have been issued, his, her or their legal representatives, without any proceedings on scire facias to sue out of the court out of which the said execution issued a writ of venditioni exponas, to be directed to the sheriff or coroner for the time being of the county where the levy was made, commanding the said sheriff or coroner to sell the property or estate so levied upon, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the whole or the residue of the moneys due on said execution, which sale the said sheriff or coroner is hereby authorized and required to make in as full and ample manner, to all intent and purposes, as if the said execution had been originally directed to such sheriff or coroner, and they shall be entitled to the same fees for services done, and be liable to all the penalties and consequences of law for neglect of duty, as if the said execution had been originally directed to such sheriff or coroner.

4. And be it enacted, That all fees due for services rendered or expenses incurred by the deceased, disabled or disqualified sheriff shall be duly taxed and collected by the said coroner so acting as sheriff, or the said newly appointed or elected sheriff, for the benefit of the said former sheriff or his legal representatives.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CV.

An Act concerning railroad companies which have merged and consolidated their corporate franchises and property.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any railroad companies in this state organized under general law of this state shall have merged their corporate franchises and property by agreement made and entered into between their boards of directors and ratified by their stockholders and filed the same in the office of the secretary of state in accordance with the statutes of this state, that it shall and may be lawful for the new company created by such merger and consolidation, to make a survey and map of its line or lines of rail road and file the same in the office of the secretary of state, whereupon the railroad line or lines so described in said map and survey shall be deemed and taken to be the line or lines of railroad of said company, and to the same extent and in the same manner as if it had been so described in the first location of the lines of railroad of said company, and all other routes, lines or locations shall be deemed and taken to be abandoned.

2. And be it enacted, That such new company or corporation shall be deemed and taken to have the same rights, powers and privileges as to condemnation of land for railroad purposes or otherwise as might or could have been enjoyed by it had it been newly organized under the laws providing for the organization of railroads in this state.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CVI.

An act concerning police and fire commissioners in cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That no member of any board having charge and control of the police or fire departments in any city shall be eligible for election as a member of the board of aldermen, board of councilmen or other governing board in such city, but such police or fire commissioner may accept or hold any other place of public trust or emolument, appointive or elective, under state, county or municipal authority in this state.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, general or special, inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CVII.

A Further Supplement to the act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall not be lawful hereafter to indict any person or persons for the offense of maintaining a common law nuisance or keeping a disorderly house under section one hundred and ninety-two of said act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes," where the offense sought to be punished consists wholly in its unlawful sale of spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors; but in all such cases the indictment shall be in form for the sale of intoxicating liquors contrary to law, and on conviction of such unlawful sale of any of said liquors the person or persons so convicted shall be punished as is and by said section one hundred and ninety-two of the said act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes" is provided.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CVIII.

An Act respecting elections for members of boards of commissioners or improvement commissions.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any board of commissioners or improvement commission in any town or village or within any townships in this state to hold the annual election for commissioners in the manner provided in the acts creating such boards of commissioners or improvement commissions and the supplements thereto, any act to the contrary notwithstanding; and provided further, that every citizen of this state entitled to vote at any general election for members of the legislature, and within the limits of the authority of such boards of commissioners, shall be entitled to vote at any such election for commissioners.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CIX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section ninety-eight of an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

98. And be it enacted, That no principal, teacher or other person employed or engaged in any capacity in any school or educational institution within this state, whether public or private, shall be permitted to inflict, or direct, or cause to be inflicted, corporal punishment upon any child or pupil attending or that may attend the same.

2. And be it enacted, That any and every resolution, by law, rule, ordinance or other act or authority heretofore or hereafter passed, adopted, approved, made or given, by any person or persons whomsoever, natural or artificial, permitting or authorizing corporal punishment to be inflicted upon any child or pupil attending or that may attend any school or educational institution in this state, is hereby made and shall be henceforth absolutely void and of no force or effect.

3. And be it enacted, That any and all acts and parts of acts, and any and all resolutions and parts of resolutions, enacted or passed by the legislature of this state, whether public or private, general or special, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CX.

An Act authorizing the extension of the charters of the literary, historical, genealogical, library and scientific societies, incorporated by or under any law of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any literary, historical, genealogical, library or scientific society heretofore or hereafter created under or by virtue of any law of this state, to adopt a resolution at the regular annual meeting of such society, declaring that it is the desire and purpose of such society to extend its charter beyond the time limited in the act or certificate of incorporation of such society, which resolution shall also specify the term for which such society desires and proposes that its charter shall be extended, not exceeding fifty years from and beyond the time limited as aforesaid; and whenever a copy of such resolution certified under the hand of its president, and under its common seal, attested by its recording secretary, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state of this state, the charter of such society shall thereupon and thereby be extended for and during the term specified in such resolution.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXI.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate fees,' approved April fifteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six," approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the act of which this is amendatory be amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for making every report in pursuance of any order or decree made, taken or entered in any suit, cause, matter or proceeding in the court of chancery of this state, after the passage of this act, every master in chancery and every special master in chancery shall be entitled to receive the sum of four dollars, and no more, and that for drawing every such report every such master in chancery and special master in chancery shall be entitled to receive thirty cents for every folio of one hundred words.

2. And be it enacted, That the third section of the act of which this act is amendatory be amended so as to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That every master in chancery, examiner in chancery, special master in chancery and supreme court commissioner shall be entitled to receive, upon taking the affidavits, depositions or examinations of witnesses upon or under any order or decree made in any cause, matter or proceeding by any of courts of this state, or by any judge thereof, for his attendance at the taking of such affidavit or affidavits, deposition or depositions, or examination or examinations of a witness or witnesses, four dollars for every sitting, not exceeding two, under the same order or decree, to be paid by the party or persons obtaining such decree or order, and included in his taxable costs.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act providing for the adoption of children," approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section two of the act to which this act is a further supplement be and the said section hereby is amended to read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That such petition shall specify the name, age and place of residence of the petitioner or petitioners and of the child or children, and the name or names by which the child or children shall be known; whether such child or children be possessed of any property, and the full description of the property if any; whether such child or children has or have either father or mother or both living; in case he, she or they are alive then the name or names and place of residence of such father and mother must be given, unless proven to be unknown to the petitioner or petitioners; the person or one of the persons petitioning as aforesaid shall be at least ten years older than the child or children sought to be adopted, and the petition shall be duly verified according to law; and no adoption heretofore granted in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement shall be deemed in any way void or voidable because the petitioners or either of them were not of the age required by said act; but such adoption shall be held in all respects valid and lawful; provided, always, that such adoption has been made agreeably to the provisions of this supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXIII.

An Amendment to the act entitled "An act relative to offices, commissions and resignations," approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-sixth (Revision).

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section four of the act to which this is an amendment be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

4. And be it enacted, That if any person holding a civil commission or an appointment to an office within this state, and under the authority thereof, shall hereafter be elected to represent this state in the senate or house of representatives in the congress of the United States, and shall accept of the appointment or take his seat agreeably thereto, the commission or appointment of such person under the authority of this state, within the same, shall be and the same is hereby declared to be vacated and void; provided, that this section shall not apply to any person holding an office within this state and under the authority thereof, who was elected to represent this state in the house of representatives in the congress of the United States at the annual election held in this state on the eighth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, and that all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXIV.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act respecting the court of chancery" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section eighteen of the act to which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

18. And be it enacted, That in case of a bill filed against any defendant against whom a subpoena or other process to appear shall issue, and such defendant shall not cause his appearance to be entered in such suit, according to the practice of said court the same ought to be entered, in case such process has been duly served, and it shall be made to appear, by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the chancellor, that such defendant is out of the state, or cannot, upon due inquiry, be found therein, or that he conceals himself within this state, every such defendant shall be deemed and taken to be an absent defendant, and thereupon the chancellor may, by order, direct such absent defendant to appear, plead, answer or demur to the complainant's bill, at a certain day therein to be named, not less than one nor more than three months from the date of such order, of which order such notice as the chancellor shall by rule direct shall, within ten days thereafter, be served personally on such defendant, by a delivery of a copy thereof to him, or be published in one or more of the public newspapers printed in this state, and designated in such order, for four weeks successively, at least once in each week; and in case of such publication, a copy of such notice shall be mailed to such defendant, pre paid, directed to him at the post-office nearest his residence or the post-office at which he usually receives his letters, unless such residence or post-office be unknown and cannot be ascertained upon making such inquiries as the chancellor may, by rule, prescribe in such case, which said notice shall also be published or served in any other manner that the chancellor may see proper in the same to direct, and in case such absent defendant shall not appear, plead, answer or demur within the time so limited, or within some further time to be allowed by the chancellor, if he shall think proper, and on proof of personal service, or the publication and the mailing of said notice, as aforesaid, and of the performance of the direction contained in said order, to the satisfaction of the chancellor, the chancellor may order and direct that the complainant's bill be taken as confessed against such absent defendant so failing to plead, answer or demur, or the chancellor may, at his discretion, order the complainant to procure documents, depositions, exhibits, or other evidences to substantiate and prove the allegations in the bill, or the chancellor may examine the complainant on oath or affirmation, touching or concerning the allegations in the bill, and thereupon such decree shall be made, in either case, as the chancellor shall think equitable and just; and that the provisions of this section shall apply to petitions and bills for divorce.

2. And be it enacted, That the nineteenth section of the said act be amended to read as follows:

19. And be it enacted, That any defendant upon whom such notice is served as herein directed shall be bound by the decree in such case as if he were served with process within the state; but in such cases where the same shall be published and sent by mail, if such defendant shall make oath that he did not receive the same, and that it did not in any way come to his knowledge, within ten days after the time within which it was directed to be served; or in cases where actual service is sworn to, if it shall be made to appear by satisfactory proof that such service was not made, the chancellor may, in his discretion, before executing such decree, proceed to take security in the manner provided in the twenty-first section of this act.

3. And be it enacted, That the twenty-fourth section of the said act be amended to read as follows:

24. And be it enacted, That when a subpoena to answer shall have been returned duly served by the proper officer, or the appearance of the defendant shall have been signed, or service of a subpoena acknowledged, as hereinbefore mentioned, the defendant shall file his plea or demurrer to the bill of complaint within thirty days from the return day of the subpoena, unless further time be granted, and the cause, within ten days thereafter, noticed and set down for argument for the next term, by the party demurring or pleading.

4. And be it enacted, That the twenty-fifth section of the said act be amended to read as follows:

25. And be it enacted, That the answer to any bill in chancery shall be filed within thirty days from the return day of the subpoena, in case no plea or demurrer be filed, unless further time be granted.

5. And be it enacted, That the thirty-first section of the said act be amended to read as follows:

31. And be it enacted, That if the plea or demurrer shall be thereafter received; but in such case the defendant shall file his answer to the complainant's bill in twenty days after such overruling, and if he fail to do so, the said bill shall be taken as confessed, and the said court shall thereupon proceed as directed in the twenty-eighth section of this act.

6. And be it enacted, That in any suit heretofore commenced the entering of an appearance by a defendant shall not operate to stay the issuing of an execution therein.

7. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, but shall not affect any suit heretofore commenced; and that all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXV.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act for the relief of creditors against absconding and absent debtors" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section fifty-one of the act to which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

51. And be it enacted, That where judgment, on the report of the said auditor, shall be entered against the said defendant by default, the said auditor may, by virtue of an order of court for that purpose, make sale and assurance of the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the said defendant, which were attached and taken as aforesaid, and upon which the attachment remains a lien, or such part thereof as shall be necessary to satisfy the debts of the plaintiff, and the creditors who may have applied agreeably to the directions of this act; but notice of the sale of such goods and chattels shall be set up at five of the most public places in the county, and be advertised in some one of the newspapers circulating in this state, for the space of thirty days prior to such sale; nor shall any sale of such lands and tenements be made in less than six months from the time of executing the writ of attachment, nor of any goods or chattels, till judgment be obtained against the defendant as aforesaid, unless the court, in its discretion, or a judge thereof, shall, on the return of the said writ, or at any other time before judgment, order the said sheriff or the auditor to sell such goods and chattels; in which case advertisements set up for the space of five days prior to the time of sale, in four of the most public places in the township, precinct or ward, shall be sufficient.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXVI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to secure to creditors an equal and just division of the estates of debtors who convey to assignees for the benefit of creditors" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the assignee or assignees of any debtor or debtors to make sale and conveyance of the estate of such debtor or debtors at public or private sale in his or their discretion, but that such assignee or assignees shall not make any conveyance of such lands to any purchaser at a private sale thereof until such sale shall have been reported in writing to the orphans' court of the county in which such lands lie, and have been confirmed by the said court.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXVII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the purchase, construction and maintenance of public parks by the cities and other municipalities in this state,' approved March fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three," which supplement was approved May seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one, of which this is an amendment, shall be amended to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of this state which have heretofore or may hereafter purchase a park or parks under the act to which this is a supplement, the common council of such city shall levy a tax of three-fifths of one mill on each dollar on all the taxable property in such city, such tax to be levied and collected in like manner as and with the other general taxes of said city, and to be known as "the park fund," and shall be used for the construction, improvement and maintenance of such parks.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXVIII.

An Act amending an act supplementary to an act concerning corporations, approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, supplement approved February twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the supplement to which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended to be in the following, to wit:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any ten or more persons to associate themselves into a company to carry on any business which has for its object the selling, guaranteeing, indorsement, insurance of credit, or the limiting, insuring or guaranteeing of the losses of wholesale dealers, manufacturers, financial institutions and others, arising by reason of bad debts or inability to collect outstanding indebtedness or obligations, upon making and filing a certificate in writing of their organization in the manner hereafter mentioned; such certificates shall set forth, first, the name assumed to designate such company and to be used in its business and dealings; second, the place or places in this state where the central office of said company is to be located; third, the object for which said company shall be formed; fourth, the total amount of capital stock of such company, which shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars; the amount with which such company will commence business, which shall not be less than ten thousand dollars, paid into the said company in cash, and the number of shares into which the said capital stock is divided, and the par value of each share; fifth, the name and residences of the stockholders the number of shares held by each; sixth, the period at which said company shall commence and terminate, not exceeding fifty years; said certificate shall be approved or acknowledged and recorded, as required in deeds of real estate, in a book to be kept for that purpose, in the office of the clerk of the county where the principal office or place of business of such company in this state shall be located, and after being so recorded shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state; the said certificate, or a copy thereof, duly certified by such clerk or secretary, shall be evidence in all courts and places.

2. And be it enacted, That said company, before it shall commence the transaction of any business, or the making of any contracts or other engagements, shall deposit with the comptroller of this state first bond and mortgage security, or other security, which shall be approved by the insurance commissioner of this state, to a not less amount than ten thousand dollars, and the said insurance commissioner shall be authorized, whenever, in his judgment for the safety of the obligations of such company, it shall be necessary to so do, to call upon and direct the said company, within sixty days after the date of such notice, to deposit additional securities of like character to an additional amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars, which securities shall be and remain in the custody of said comptroller, subject to change or reinvestment, with like approval of the said insurance commissioner, as a guarantee for the fulfillment of the obligations and undertakings of the said company.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any company organized under the provisions of this act to require of any person, partnership or company whose loss may have been limited or guaranteed by them, that they shall make final proof of any loss or losses sustained by them, to the company so guaranteeing or limiting, within a less period than ten days after the expiration of the end of the contract or agreement of guarantee.

4. And be it enacted, That this act as amended shall apply to corporations heretofore organized under the act of which this is amendatory, in the same manner as if the certificate of organization had been filed under this act.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act in regard to credit guaranteeing companies, be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 10, 1893.

CHAPTER CXIX.

An Act relative to the government and management of the insane asylums or hospitals owned by the state of New Jersey.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That "the state asylum for the insane at Morristown, New Jersey," shall hereafter be designated by the name, style and title of the "The New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains" and that "the New Jersey state lunatic asylum" (located near Trenton), shall hereafter be designated by the name, style and title of "The New Jersey State Hospital at Trenton."

2. And be it enacted, That the general management and control of both said hospitals shall be vested in one state board of managers, to be known and designated as "The Board of Managers of the State Hospitals;" said board shall consist of seven persons, who shall respectively hold office for the period of five years; they shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; any vacancy occurring in the said board shall be filled for the unexpired term only.

3. And be it enacted, That the board of managers now in office and appointed under and in pursuance of the act entitled "An act concerning the management of the lunatic asylums of this state," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, shall continue in office as the board of managers under this act, and that their terms of office shall expire pursuant to their appointment under said act approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

4. And be it enacted, That said board of managers shall have the general direction and control of all of the property and concerns of said hospitals not otherwise provided for by law, and shall take charge of the general interests of said hospitals and see that the objects and designs thereof are carried into effect, and everything done faithfully according to the requirements of the legislature and the by-laws, rules and regulations of said hospitals.

5. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the said board of managers to visit each county lunatic asylum in the state receiving state aid, at least once in each year, and to inspect such institutions and their management, and to make in their annual report such recommendations as they shall deem necessary concerning such local institutions.

6. And be it enacted, That the said board of managers be and they are hereby authorized, empowered and directed, by and with the consent of the governor of this state, and in the manner hereinafter provided, to make, adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the apportionment and distribution to and between the said hospitals of such patients as are now or may hereafter be sent to said hospitals or either of them, by virtue of any law of this state, and for the removal of patients from either of the said hospitals to the other, and from time to time to alter and repeal such rules and regulations as the public interest may require; and all rules and regulations so made, adopted and altered, and all repealers, as aforesaid, shall have the force and effect of public statutes, and shall from time to time be published, as the said governor shall direct.

7. And be it enacted, That each rule or regulation, and each alteration or repeal of pre-existing rules and regulations, which shall be proposed to be made and adopted under the next preceding section of this act, shall be submitted in writing to the board of managers aforesaid, and if adopted by a majority of the whole number of such board shall then be submitted in writing to the governor of this state for his approval; and no rule or regulation, nor alteration or repeal of pre-existing rules or regulations, shall take effect without the same is approved in writing by the governor; all rules, regulations, alterations and repeals aforesaid, approved by the governor as aforesaid, shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state, and certified copies thereof, under the seal of said secretary, shall be plenary proof thereof in all the courts of this state.

8. And be it enacted, That each patient who shall be removed to either of said hospitals, by virtue of the rules and regulations aforesaid, shall be there continued and treated, and until discharged, according to law, shall be there supported by the same committee, relative, person, county or other corporation chargeable with such support at the time of such removal, in the same manner and to the same extent as if such patient had not been so removed; and the expense of removing any patient to either of said hospitals shall be paid by the party chargeable by law, as aforesaid, with his or her support, upon the order of the warden of the hospital to which such patient shall be removed, countersigned by the medical director thereof.

9. And be it enacted, That said board of managers may take and hold in the trust for the state any grant or devise of land or any donation or bequest of money or other personalty, to be applied to the maintenance of any inmate or inmates of said hospitals or the general use of said hospitals or either of them.

10. And be it enacted, That said board of managers is hereby authorized to establish such by-laws as they may deem necessary and expedient for the appointment of and regulating the appointment of the officers hereinafter mentioned, and for the appointment and regulating the appointment of executive officers, assistants, attendants and employes (including a secretary of said board of managers and a treasurer for each of said hospitals as said board may determine to be necessary for said hospitals or either of them; for fixing the conditions of admission, support and discharge of patients and for conducting in a proper manner the affairs and business of said hospitals, and to ordain and enforce a suitable system of rules and regulations for the internal government thereof; the medical directors and assistant physicians and the wardens of said hospitals shall be designated resident officers of said hospitals, and the compensation of such resident officers and of the treasurers aforesaid and of the secretary of said board shall be fixed and determined by said board of managers, by and with the approval of the governor, which compensation shall be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller.

11. And be it enacted, That said board of managers shall have power and it is hereby declared to be his duty to appoint a medical director of and for each of said hospitals, and so many assistant physicians for each of said hospitals as said board may deem necessary, all of whom shall be subject to the rules, regulations and by-laws prescribed from time to time by said board of managers for the control and good government of said hospitals.

12. And be it enacted, That the medical directors so appointed shall have charge, direction and control of all patients and of all persons engaged in the care of patients in said hospitals, with the powers and subject to the rules, regulations and by-laws prescribed, or hereafter to be prescribed and established, by the said managers; and they shall perform all such duties as shall be assigned to them by said managers; provided, they shall not assign to them any duty which does not relate to the care, management and treatment of patients, the direction and control of assistant physicians, nurses and attendants of patients.

13. And be it enacted, That the said managers are empowered, and it is hereby declared to be their duty, to appoint a warden of each of said hospitals, who shall be the general manager of the buildings, grounds and farms, with the furniture, fixtures and stocks thereto belonging, and shall perform such other duties as shall be assigned to them by said managers, subject to the by-laws, rules and regulations prescribed, or hereafter to be prescribed by said managers; and before entering upon the duties of their offices said wardens shall execute a bond to the State of New Jersey with sufficient sureties to be approved by said managers, in such penal sum not less than three thousand dollars, as said managers may from time to time require, conditioned that they shall and will faithfully perform the duties of their office, and pay over and account for all moneys, goods and chattels belonging to said hospitals that shall come into their hands or custody, which bond shall be recorded in a book provided for that purpose and kept in the office of said wardens in said hospitals; and thereupon said bonds shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and recorded in the same manner as the official bonds of other state officers; provided, nevertheless, that the persons now acting as wardens of said hospitals or either of them shall continue to perform the duties of said office of warden under this act until removed, or a successor is appointed by said board of managers.

14. And be it enacted, That it shall also be the duty of said wardens annually to make an approximate estimate and detailed statement in writing of the accounts of money required for the support and maintenance of said hospitals and of the amount required from the state, including all salaries and supplies of every kind for the next ensuing fiscal year beginning on the first day of November next, and to submit the same to said managers on or before the first Thursday of November of each year, and said managers shall annex the same to their annual report, with such comments thereon as they may deem advisable.

15. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of said managers to appoint for each of said hospitals an expert accountant or bookkeeper, and such assistant accountants and bookkeepers as may be necessary to keep full and accurate accounts of all business transactions in any way connected with said hospitals.

16. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of said managers to appoint a storekeeper for each of said hospitals, who shall receipt for and be charged with all supplies furnished to said hospitals, and take vouchers for all supplies by them distributed, and they shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by said managers, subject to such rules, regulations and by-laws as said managers may from time to time prescribe.

17. And be it enacted, That the by-laws prescribed, or which may hereafter be prescribed by said managers, shall be obligatory on all officers and agents of said hospitals, and such by-laws shall not be suspended, altered or repealed, except at a regular meeting of said board of managers, and by the consent of a majority of all the members of said board.

18. And be it enacted, That the resident officers of the said hospitals, and all attendants and assistants actually employed therein, during the time of such employment shall be exempt from serving on juries, and in time of peace from all service in the militia; and the certificate of the medical director or warden, for their respective departments, shall be evidence of the fact of such employment.

19. And be it enacted, That the Board of managers shall keep, in bound books to be kept for that purpose, a fair and full record of all their doings, which shall be open at all times to the inspection of the governor of the state, and all persons whom he or either house of the legislature may appoint to examine the same.

20. And be it enacted, That the managers shall maintain an effective inspection of the said hospitals, for which purpose one of them, or more, shall visit each of them at least once in every week; two or more at least once in every month, a majority at least once in every three months, and the whole board once a year, at the time and in the manner prescribed in the by-laws; in a book to be kept for that purpose, the visiting manager or managers shall note the date of each visit, the condition of the patients, with remarks of commendation or censure, and all the managers present shall sign the same; the general result of these inspections, with suitable hints, shall be inserted in an annual report detailing the past year's operations and actual state of the hospitals, which the managers shall make to the governor on or before the fifteenth day of November in each year, to be by him presented to the legislature, accompanied with an annual report of the medical director, warden and treasurer.

21. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the resident officers to admit any of the managers into any part of the said hospitals, and to exhibit to him or them, on demand, all books, papers, accounts and writings belonging to the institution or pertaining to its business management, discipline or government; also to furnish copies, abstracts and reports whenever required by the managers.

22. And be it enacted, That the respective treasurers of said hospitals shall have the custody of all moneys, bonds, notes, mortgages and other securities and obligations belonging thereto; they shall open an account at one or more banks, to be approved by the managers, in their own names as treasurer of the hospital, and shall deposit therein all moneys immediately on receipt thereof, and shall draw for the same only for the uses of the hospital, and in the manner prescribed in the by-laws upon the written order of the warden, specifying the object of the payment; they shall keep full and accurate accounts of receipts and payments, in the manner directed in the by-laws, and such other accounts as the managers may prescribe; they shall balance all the accounts on their books annually, on the last day of October, and make a statement of the balances thereon and an abstract of the receipts and payments of the past year, which shall within two days thereafter be delivered to the auditing committee of the managers, who shall compare the same with the books and vouchers, and certify the correctness thereof, within the next ten days, to the managers; they shall, further, render a quarterly statement of their receipts and payments for the quarter ending on the last day of the month next preceding each regular quarterly meeting of the managers to the auditing committee, who shall compare and verify the same as aforesaid, and report the results thereof, duly certified, to the managers, who shall cause the same to be recorded in one of the books of the hospital; they shall, further, render an account of the state of their books, and of the funds and other property in their custody, whenever required so to do by the managers.

23. And be it enacted, That the said board of managers shall be vested with the same powers, rights and authority which are now given by law to the overseers of the poor in any township or city of the state, so far as may be necessary for the indemnity and benefit of the said hospitals or either of them, and for the purpose of compelling a relative, or committee, or guardian, to defray the expenses of a patient's support in the hospitals, and reimburse actual disbursements for his necessary clothing and traveling expenses, according to the by-laws of the institution; also for the purpose of coercing the payment of similar charges, when due from any county that is liable for the support of any patient in said hospitals.

24. And be it enacted, That said board of managers shall have authority to recover, for the use of said hospitals, any and all sums which may be due upon any note or bond in their hands belonging thereto; also, any and all sums which may be charged and due, according to the by-laws, for the support of any patient therein, or who may have been therein, or for actual disbursements made in his behalf for necessary clothing and traveling expenses, in an action to be brought by said managers by their official title of "The Board of Managers of State Hospitals," against the individual or county legally liable for the maintenance of said patient, and having neglected to pay the same, when demanded by the treasurer, in which action the declaration may be in a general indebitatus assumpsit, and judgment shall be rendered for such sum as shall be found due, with interest from the time of the demand made as aforesaid; said board of managers may also, upon receipt of the money due upon any mortgage belonging to said hospitals, execute and acknowledge, or cause to be executed and acknowledged, a release thereof, so that the same may be discharged of record.

25. And be it enacted, That the respective wardens of said hospitals shall, under the direction of the board of managers or pursuant to the rules, by-laws and regulations established by said board, make all purchases for said hospitals and preserve the original receipts given on payment thereof, and keep full and accurate accounts of the same and copies of all orders drawn by them upon the treasurer; they shall also in like manner make contracts with all attendants, assistants and employees, and settle their accounts; they shall also keep and render to the proper parties the accounts for the support of patients and expenses incurred in their behalf; they shall make quarterly abstracts of their accounts to the last days of January, April, July and October, for the proper treasurer and the managers; they shall also be accountable for the careful keeping and economical use of all furniture, stores and other articles provided for said hospitals, and shall, annually, during the third week in October, make out and furnish the managers with a true and perfect inventory, verified by oath, of all the personal property belonging to the hospital and in and about the premises, with an appraisal thereof, made under oath or affirmation by the warden and two suitable persons whom the managers shall appoint for that purpose.

26. And be it enacted, That no person shall be admitted into said hospitals as a patient, except upon an order of some court or judge authorized to send patients, without lodging with the medical director—first, a request, under the hand of the person by whose direction he is sent, stating his age and place of nativity, if known, his christian name and surname, place of residence, occupation and degree of relationship, or other circumstances of connection between him and the person requesting his admission; and second, a certificate dated within one month, under oath, signed by two reputable physicians, of the fact of his being insane; each person signing such request or certificate shall annex to his name his profession or occupation, and the township, county and state of his residence, unless these facts appear on the face of the document.

27. And be it enacted, That the medical directors shall make, in books kept for the purpose, at the time of reception, a minute with date, of the name, residence, office and occupation of the person by whom and by whose authority each person is brought to said hospitals, and have all the orders, warrants, requests, certificates, and other papers accompanying him, carefully filed and forthwith copied into said book.

28. And be it enacted, That each county entitled to send patients to said hospitals, under said rules and regulations, may at all times keep such number of patients, in just proportion with other counties, as the hospitals can accommodate, which proportion shall be regulated by the managers; if any one or more of the counties should not send their full proportion, the vacancies may be alloted by the managers to other counties so entitled having patients whom they may desire to send.

29. And be it enacted, That whenever any pauper, chargeable in the county entitled to send patients to said hospitals under said rules and regulations, may be insane, it shall be the duty of the overseer of the poor in the township wherein he resides, to make application in his behalf to any judge of the court of common pleas of the county; and said judge shall call one reputable physician, and fully investigate the facts of the case, and if satisfied, after such examination, of the in*sanity of the pauper and that he is a proper* subject to be admitted to either of said hospitals, he shall issue an order to such overseer which shall be effectual when approved as hereinafter provided, requiring him without delay to take such insane pauper to the proper hospital, where he shall be kept and supported at the expense of the county in which is his residence until he shall be restored to soundness of mind, or removed or discharged therefrom according to law; the judge in such case shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, and shall present the certificate of the physician, taken under oath, and other papers relating thereto, and a statement of the proceedings and decision, to the chosen freeholders or freeholder, if there be but one by law, (or but one acting by reason of the death, sickness or other disability of the other,) of the township where such insane person is found, who shall examine the same, and if satisfied that said person has a legal settlement in their county as defined by the act entitled "An act for the settlement and relief of the poor," approved April tenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and is entitled to the relief afforded by this act, shall endorse the word "approved" upon said certificate and proceedings, and shall sign their official names thereto; which said certificate and proceedings shall be filed with the clerk of the county, who shall forward to the medical director of the hospital where such insane pauper is confined, copies of said proceedings and certificate authenticated by the clerk under seal of the court, and report the facts to the board of chosen freeholders, whose duty it shall be to raise the money requisite to meet the expenses of support, and, as soon thereafter as practicable, pay it to the treasurer of the proper hospital; but if said freeholders shall not be satisfied as aforesaid, they shall endorse on said certificate and proceedings the words "not approved" and shall sign their official names thereto, and the same shall, then be filed with the clerk of the board of chosen freeholders, and said insane pauper shall not be admitted to the said hospital at the expense of the said county.

30. And be it enacted, That when a person residing in this county entitled to send patients to said hospitals under said rules and regulations, and in indigent circumstances, not a pauper, becomes insane, application may be made in his behalf to any judge of the court of common pleas of the county where he resides, and said judge shall call a reputable physician and other credible witnesses, and fully investigate the facts of the case, and either with or without the verdict of a jury, at his discretion, decide the case as to his insanity and indigence; and if the said judge shall make a certificate that satisfactory proof has been adduced, showing him to be insane, and his estate insufficient to support him and his family (or if he has no family, himself), under the visitation of insanity, on such certificate, authenticated by the county clerk, under the seal of the court, he shall be admitted into the proper one of said hospitals, and supported there, at the expense of said county, until he shall be restored to soundness of mind, or removed or discharged therefrom according to law; the said judge in such case shall have requisite power to compel the attendance of witnesses and jurors and shall file the certificate of the physician, taken under oath, and other papers relating thereto, with a report of his proceedings and decision, with the clerk of the county, and report the fact to the board of chosen freeholders, whose duty it shall be to raise the money requisite to meet the expenses of support, and, as soon thereafter as practicable, pay it to the treasurer of the proper hospital; provided, however, that if such investigation shall be made without summoning a jury therein, the said cer*tificate and proceedings shall be presented to the freeholder or freeholders of the township* where such indigent person is found, who shall examine and proceed thereon in all respects and with the same force and effect as is provided in that behalf in the last preceding section of this act; and the clerk of said county shall, if said freeholders, approve said certificate and proceedings, report the facts to the board of freeholders, whose duty it shall then be to provide for the expenses of the support of said insane person, and pay the amount as soon as practicable to the treasurer of the proper hospital.

31. And be it enacted, That the managers may authorize the medical directors to admit, under special agreements, whenever there are vacancies in said hospitals, such cases as may seek admission.

32. And be it enacted, That all town and county officers sending a patient to said hospitals shall, before sending him, see that he is in a state of perfect bodily cleanliness, and is comfortably clothed, and provided with suitable changes of raiment, as prescribed in the by-laws.

33. And be it enacted, That when a person shall have escaped indictment, or have been acquitted of a criminal charge upon trial, on the ground of insanity, upon the plea pleaded of insanity, or otherwise, the court, being certified of the jury or otherwise of the fact, shall carefully inquire and ascertain whether his sanity in any degree continues, and if it does, shall order him in safe custody, and to be sent to the hospital prescribed by the rules and regulations aforesaid; the county from which he is sent shall defray all his expenses while there, and of sending him back, if returned; but the county may recover the amount so paid from his own estate, if he has any, or from any relative or county that would have been bound to provide for and maintain him elsewhere.

34. And be it enacted, That if any person in confinement, under indictment or for want of bail for good behavior, or for keeping the peace, or appearing as a witness, or in consequence of any summary conviction, or by order of any justice, or under any other than civil process, shall appear to be insane, the judge of the circuit court of the county where he is confined shall institute a careful investigation, call a reputable physician and other credible witnesses, invite the prosecutor of the pleas to aid in the examination, and, if he shall deem it necessary, call a jury, and for that purpose is fully empowered to compel the attendance of witnesses and jurors, and if it be satisfactorily proved that he is insane, said judge may discharge him from imprisonment, and order his safe custody and removal to one of said hospitals, prescribed by the rules and regulations aforesaid, where he shall remain until restored to his right mind; and then, if the said judge shall have so directed, the medical director shall inform the said judge and the county clerk and prosecutor of the pleas thereof, whereupon he shall be remanded to prison, and criminal proceedings be resumed, or otherwise discharged; the provisions of the last preceding section, requiring the county to defray the expenses of a patient sent to such hospital, shall be equally applicable to similar expenses arising under this section and the one next following.

35. And be it enacted, That persons charged with misdemeanors, and acquitted on the ground of insanity, may be kept in custody and sent to the hospital, prescribed by said rules and regulations, in the same way as persons charged with crime.

36. And be it enacted, That the price to be paid for keeping any person in indigent circumstances in the said hospitals, exclusive of clothing, shall be annually fixed by the managers, and shall not exceed three dollars per week.

37. And be it enacted, That every insane person supported in said hospitals shall be personally liable for his maintenance therein and all necessary expenses incurred by the institution in his behalf; and the committee, relative, or county that would have been bound by law to provide for and support him, if he had not been sent to the hospital, shall be liable to pay the expenses of his clothing and maintenance therein, and actual necessary expenses to and from the same.

38. And be it enacted, That the expenses of clothing and maintenance in said hospitals of a patient who has been received upon the order of any court or judge, shall be paid by the county from which he was sent to such hospital; the county collector of said county is authorized and directed to pay to the treasurer of such hospital the bills for such clothing and maintenance, as they shall become due and payable, according to the by-laws thereof, upon the order of the warden; and the chosen freeholders of the said county shall annually levy and raise the amount of such bills, and such further sum as will probably cover all similar bills for one year in advance; said county, however, shall have the right to require every individual or county that is legally liable for the support of such patient, to reimburse the amount of said bills, with interest from the day of paying the same.

39. And be it enacted, That whenever the managers shall order a patient removed from either of said hospitals to the county whence he came, the collector of said county shall audit and pay the actual and reasonable expenses of such removal, as part of the expenses of said county; but if any person be legally liable for the support of such patient, the amount of such expenses may be recovered, for the use of the county, by said collector; if such collector neglect or refuse to pay such expenses on demand, the treasurer of the proper hospital may pay the same, and charge the amount to said county, and the county collector shall pay the same with interest; and the chosen freeholders of said county shall levy and raise the amount, as other county charges.

40. And be it enacted, That every township or county paying for the support of a patient in either of said hospitals, or for his expenses in going to or from the same, shall have the like rights and remedies to recover the amounts of such payments, with interest from the time of paying such bills, as if such expenses had been incurred for the support of the same, at other places under existing laws.

41. And be it enacted, That none of the provisions of this act shall restrain or abridge the power and authority of the court of chancery over the persons and property of the insane.

42. And be it enacted, That the said managers, upon the certificate of the medical director of a complete recovery, may discharge any patient, except those under a criminal charge, or liable to be removed to prison; and they may send back to the poor house of the county or township whence he came, any person admitted as "dangerous," who has been two years in either of said hospitals, upon the medical director's certificate that he is harmless and will probably continue so, and not likely to be improved by further treatment in the said hospital; or when the hospital is full, upon a like certificate that he is manifestly incurable, and can probably be rendered comfortable at the poorhouse, they may also discharge and deliver any patient, except one under criminal charge as aforesaid, to the poorhouse of the township or county liable for his support, or to his relatives or friends, who will undertake, with good and approved sureties, for his peaceable behavior, safe custody and comfortable main*tenance, without further public charge.*

43. And be it enacted, That a patient of a criminal class may be discharged by order of one of the justices of the supreme court, if, upon due investigation, it shall appear safe, legal and right to make such order.

44. And be it enacted, That no patient shall be discharged without suitable clothing, and if it cannot be otherwise obtained, the warden shall, upon the order of two managers, furnish it; also money, not exceeding ten dollars, to defray his necessary expenses, until he reaches home.

45. And be it enacted, That said board of managers shall receive their actual traveling expenses, to be paid by the state treasurer, on the warrant of the comptroller, on the rendering of their accounts; no court, judge, clerk or other officer shall receive any compensation for any services performed under this act.

46. And be it enacted, That all purchases for the use of said hospitals shall be made for cash, and not on credit or time.

47. And be it enacted, The terms "lunatic" and "insane," as used in this act, include every species of insanity, and extend to all deranged persons and to all of unsound minds, other than idiots; a word denoting the singular number is to include one or many; and every word importing the masculine gender only, may extend to and include females.

48. And be it enacted, That there shall be paid from the state treasury, in quarterly payments, and upon the warrants of the comptroller, to the treasurers of the said hospitals, the sum of one dollar per week towards the maintenance and keep of each indigent patient in said hospitals.

49. And be it enacted, That if the judge to whom application shall be made on behalf of any insane pauper shall be satisfied upon the examination of the case made in the manner prescribed in section twenty-nine of this act, that such insane pauper cannot be provided for by the overseer of the poor of the township, or at the poorhouse of the township or county upon which he is chargeable, with comfort and without danger or prejudice to himself or others, the said judge shall order the said pauper to be removed to one of said hospitals, to be kept and supported in the manner and for the time in the said section mentioned.

50. And be it enacted, That when any patient shall be removed from one of the said hospitals to the other, under the rules and regulations hereinbefore authorized and directed, it shall be the duty of the medical director of the hospital from which he is removed, to deliver to the medical director of the hospital to which he is removed the official documents and papers under the authority of which the said patient was received, and under which he is detained, and the said documents and papers shall be as full and ample authority for detaining such patient in the hospital to which he is removed, as if such patient had not been so removed.

51. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith or repugnant hereto, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXX.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting the orphans' court and relating to the powers and duties of the ordinary, and the orphans' courts and surrogates," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in case any executor, administrator or guardian, heretofore or hereafter appointed by the orphans' court has removed or shall hereafter remove out of this state, or does not reside within the same, or shall be of unsound mind or mentally incapacitated from transacting business and does not proceed with the administration of the estate, the orphans' court of the county where such letters testamentary or administration or of guardianship have been granted, upon complaint being made by any person interested in such estate, may inquire into the matter in a summary manner, and revoke such letters testamentary or of administration or of guardianship granted to such executor, administrator or guardian, and may grant letter of administration de bonis non to such fit, responsible and discreet person or persons as such orphans' court shall see fit, or appoint such other guardian or guardians as such orphans' court shall see fit; provided, however, that before letters of administration de bonis non are issued, or such other guardian or guardians be appointed in pursuance of this act, such notice of such application shall be served upon or mailed to such executor, administrator or guardian, or served upon or mailed to such other person or persons as the court may direct, requiring such executor, administrator, guardian or other person, on a certain day to be named therein, to appear before said court and show cause why such letters testamentary or of administration or of guardianship shall not be revoked.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXI.

An Act concerning the appointment of municipal officers and boards in cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the law officers of any city of the first class, of corporation or city council, and corporation or city attorney, shall be appointed by the board in such city having charge of the financial affairs thereof and charged with the duty and power of confirming, by ordinance or otherwise, the annual tax levy or tax budget, by whatever name the same may be known in any city, by a vote of not less than two-thirds of all of the members of any such board being recorded in favor of such appointment, in every case.

2. And be it enacted, That in every case in any city where the mayor thereof is now authorized by any law to appoint any municipal officer or member of any municipal board, the name of the person appointed shall be submitted to the board of such city government having the control and management and control of the financial affairs and the duty and power of confirming the annual tax levy or tax budget, by ordinance or otherwise, by whatever name the same may be known in such city, and no such appointment shall take effect until such board has confirmed the same by a vote in favor thereof of not less than two-thirds of all of the members of such board, duly recorded in the permanent minutes thereof; provided, that this act shall not apply to the appointment of of any secretary to the mayor or any clerk in his office authorized by law, nor to any of the active members of any police force or fire department in any city, other than the superintendents thereof.

3. And be it enacted, That if any section of this act shall, for any reason, be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the other provisions of this act, or any of them.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Passed March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the dwelling house owned by any religious corporation, and the land upon which the same stands, while and during the time actually used by the officiating clergyman of such religious corporation, shall be exempt from taxation to an amount not exceeding five thousand dollars, but not more than one dwelling actually used by any one religious corporation shall be so exempt.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXIII.

An Act to authorize cities of the first class to provide for and pay amounts unpaid for lighting streets, public buildings and public places, arising from insufficient appropriations.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever in any city of the first class of this state, by reason of insufficient appropriations for lighting streets, public buildings and public places in such city, the persons or corporations which have furnished or shall hereafter furnish light to the streets, public buildings and public places, or either thereof, of such city, remain unpaid therefor in whole or in part, whether for one year or more, it shall be the duty of such city to borrow such sum or sums of money as shall be necessary to meet such deficiency, and to pay the same therewith.

2. And be it enacted, That in such case the board of authority of said city having charge of the lighting of said city, shall make its requisition for the sum needed for the purpose aforesaid, on the board or other authority having the management and control of the finances of said city, and that board or authority shall thereupon cause to be issued temporary bonds of such city for the amount named in such requisition, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding four and a half per centum per annum and to be sold at not less than par, and the proceeds thereof shall be applied to the payment of such unpaid amount.

3. And be it enacted, That the amount, principal and interest, of said bonds, shall be placed in the next annual tax levy and assessed and collected as other taxes.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXIV.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation of borough governments," approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any borough in this state organized under the provisions of the act entitled "An act for the formation of borough governments," approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and the several supplements thereto, and that has heretofore or shall hereafter issue its municipal bonds, creating a debt or obligation of such borough, to fall due at a future time, under or by virtue of the provisions of any law of this state authorizing the issuing of such bonds and the creation of such debt or obligation, by a resolution of the mayor and council of such borough to that effect duly passed and adopted, to provide for the creation and establishment of a sinking fund for the payment and cancellation of such bonds at their maturity, in the manner hereinafter provided.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the mayor and council of any such borough, after having passed and adopted a resolution to create and establish a sinking fund for the purpose specified in the first section of this act, to appoint three suitable persons, residents and freeholders within such borough, as commissioners to receive, take charge of, invest and pay over such sinking fund in the manner hereinafter provided; which commissioners, when so appointed, shall be officially designated as commissioners of the sinking fund of the borough of (inserting the name of the borough,) and of the three commissioners so to be appointed in the first instance, one shall be appointed to hold office for one year, one for two years and one for three years from the date of their appointment, and one such commissioner shall be appointed annually thereafter, to hold his office for the term of three years and to take the place of the commissioner whose term then expires, any vacancy to be filled by appointment for the unexpired term only; and such commissioners, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of their appointment, shall severally enter into a bond to such borough, in such amount as the mayor and council of such borough shall, by resolution, fix and require, and with sureties to be approved by such mayor and council conditioned for the honest and faithful discharge of the duties of his office as commissioner of the sinking fund of such borough, which bond shall be renewed annually and shall be filed with the borough clerk.

3. And be it enacted, That such commissioners of the sinking fund when duly appointed and qualified shall be the lawful custodian of all such moneys as shall be levied and raised in such borough for the purpose of paying off and retiring the bonded indebtedness of such borough for which such sinking fund is to be raised, and it shall be the duty of such commissioners to loan and invest such funds and the interest accruing thereon from time to time, and keep the same loaned and invested at interest, upon such securities as the school fund of this state may be lawfully loaned and invested upon, but in the corporate name of such borough, and to pay the principal of such fund into the borough treasury when thereto required by resolution of the mayor and council of such borough for the purpose of paying off and retiring such bonded indebtedness of such borough; and it shall be the duty of such commissioners annually on the fifteenth day of February, and at such other time or times as they may be required so to do by resolution of the mayor and council, to furnish and report to the mayor and council of such borough a detailed statement of the condition of such sinking fund in their hands and showing all the receipts, disbursements and investments on that account by them during the twelve months next preceding such accounting and giving a description of such securities as may be in their hands for such funds as they may have loaned or invested; and all expenses necessarily and properly incurred by such commissioners in the discharge of their duties shall be a legitimate debt of such borough and be payable out of such sinking fund.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful to raise annually in such borough, by taxes levied, assessed and collected in the same manner as other taxes may be levied, assessed and collected in such borough, such sum in addition to the other moneys that may be lawfully raised in boroughs for general borough expenses as the mayor and council of such borough may by resolution determine to be necessary and proper to raise for the purpose of creating such sinking fund, which sum when collected by the borough collector shall be by him paid over to the commissioners of the sinking fund annually.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXV.

Supplement to the act entitled "An act for the preservation of the early records of the supreme court," approved April seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the act entitled "An act for the preservation of the early records of the supreme court, approved April seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, the clerk of the supreme court of the state has prosecuted the work thereby intrusted to him and has made large progress therein, and it is important to the interests of the state and citizens thereof that the said work should continue to be prosecuted until the completion thereof; it appearing that the work already done has been prosecuted with the approval of the chief justice of the supreme court and that the appropriation heretofore made, to wit, the sum of two thousand dollars, has proved to be insufficient to defray the expenses of completing said record; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the clerk of the supreme court be and he is hereby authorized and directed to continue and completely perform the work and duties imposed upon him by the act to which this is a supplement and that the expenses of continuing and completing said work shall be paid by the treasurer upon the warrant of the comptroller upon the approval of the chief justice; provided, that the expenses incurred under this supplemental act shall not exceed three thousand dollars, which sum is hereby appropriated for that purpose.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXVI.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize cities to provide for sewers and drains, and to provide for the payment of the cost thereof," approved March eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

Whereas, after sewers are built in the streets of cities such streets are frequently opened and torn up for the purpose of making house connections with said sewers; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities in this state where sewers are now being built or hereafter may be built, under and by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement, the common council, board of aldermen or other body charged by law with the construction of sewers in said cities shall have power and authority to build and construct at the time of the building of such sewers house connections from such sewers properly to the curb line of the lots fronting on the street or streets through which such sewer or sewers shall or may be built.

2. And be it enacted, That the costs and expenses of making such house connections shall be charged to and borne by the lots and sub divisions of lots particularly benefitted thereby, and shall be assessed against the same at the same time and by the same authority making the assessments for such sewer.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXVII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to incorporate societies for the promotion of learning," (Revision), approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any corporation heretofore or hereafter to be incorporated under the provisions of the act entitled "An act to incorporate societies for the promotion of learning" (Revision), approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, or under or by virtue of any supplement or supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof, to increase from time to time the number of trustees or directors of such corporation to any number not exceeding twenty-one by filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate, under the corporate seal of said corporation duly signed by the president thereof, setting forth the number of trustees or directors who shall thereafter be elected under the regulation and government of such corporation.

2. And be it enacted, That a majority of the members so constituting the board of trustees or directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1893.

CHAPTER CXXVIII.

[illegible]

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—The Boys' club will clear about $200 by the recent amateur theatrical entertainment in the Casino, for their benefit.

—A Florida flower sociable and promenade concert will be held Decoration Day, May 30, in T. A. B. hall, for the benefit of the building fund of Emmanuel Baptist church.

—The Women's Friendly society of Evona will give a tea and apron sale Wednesday afternoon and evening, May 28, at 34 West Front street, in aid of a Sunday-school and parish house.

—Upon the occasion of Children's day in the Crescent Avenue church, the choir for the morning service will be assisted by these three violinists, Charles Davis, Fred Goddard and Gilbert Lovell.

—The Ladies' Aid Society will give a strawberry and ice-cream festival in the German Reformed church Thursday afternoon and evening, June 15. 25 cents will pay for admission and refreshments.

—Mrs. F. A. Rogers, of New London, Conn., is to be congratulated on the success of her invention, the pie improver. It is having a very extended sale and is calculated to make glad the heart of the housewife.

—Peter Pfinger, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Cranford, was in town on Wednesday. He said there were many Plainfielders who stopped at his place (evidently on wheels and on Sunday) who went away without paying. He was here for the purpose of hunting them up.

—The hose cart which the Fanwood fire department has bought from Plainfield is No. 2's original 4-wheel hose reel, and has done good service in that town as well as here. The Fanwoods still have the old hand engine of Gazelle, but only on loan, as the Gazelle boys will never part with their pet.

—The Dog Corner Gun club will hold an all-day shooting tournament at Alton, on the Rahway road, on Decoration Day, under the management of Dan Terry. A prize of a 6¼ pound keg of Dupont powder will be given the shooter making the best average score at blue-rocks. Plenty of live birds will be furnished for the occasion.

—Peter Pfinger, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Cranford, denies that he has been hunting up Plainfield bicycle riders for non-payment of Sunday bills at his place. He says that he does not keep open Sundays, that the Sunday bicyclists don't stop there, and that therefore they don't run into his debt. Mr. Pfinger values the reputation of his house too well to violate the law.

THEIR'S A NOBLE WORK.

Money and Goods Supplied to the Worthy, and the Church-Debt Fund Materially Helped.

The Ladies' Christian Work society of Trinity Reformed church celebrated its 12th anniversary Sunday. In honor of the event, the interior of the edifice was beautifully decorated with a floral display that has never been surpassed in that church. This work was done by three efficient workers of the society, Mrs. R. A. Meeker, Mrs. B. D. Newell and Mrs. Vosseller.

In the morning the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, preached a very able sermon on the Judgment, his text being the first part of verse 31, Acts XVII.

In the evening pastor Schenck read the annual reports of Mrs. C. Frank French, secretary, and Mrs. J. F. MacDonald, acting treasurer.

These showed a most admirable condition of affairs. The total collections for the year were $448,49; disbursements for church debt fund, charity and expenses, $375.96; cash on hand $72 43. Boxes and barrels of goods valued at $267.04 were sent to the needy.

Mr. Schenck also spoke kindly to the Ladies' society, commending it for for the record of the past year and giving them a word of cheer for the coming year.

The Rev. E. R. Miller then delivered an interesting address of the life of a missionary in Japan and of the life of the Japanese. He and his wife are engaged in the work of christianizing the Japanese, being stationed at Morioka, Japan.

Everyone heartily enjoyed the anniversary.

At the annual meeting of the society the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Charles P. Leggett.
1st Vice-president—Mrs. Cornelius Schenck.
2d Vice-president—Mrs. James K. Arnold.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. R. D. Newell.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. F. MacDonald.

OBITUARY.

Margaret Keenan.

Margaret Keenan, daughter of Patrick and Mary Keenan, of Evona, died May 12, after a short illness. Funeral services were private. Miss Keenan had been a resident of Evona for a number of years, and during that time by her amiable qualities, affectionate disposition and remarkable unselfishness endeared herself to all whom she met. She carried on the business of dressmaking. It is safe to say that she did not have an enemy in the world, and her death has left a vacancy in the circle in which she moved and in the hearts and affections of her friends that can never be filled. Much sympathy has been expressed for her aged father and mother, who bow with submission to the will of an inscrutable, all-wise Father. The cause of death was scarlet fever, after a very short illness. She was only 24 years old.

Mrs. Nancy B. Frazee.

Mrs. Nancy B. Frazee, wife of Augustus M. Frazee, died at her home, Peace and Second streets, at 12 Sunday night, after a two weeks' illness from pneumonia. She was first taken with a cold while visiting her daughter in Jersey City, which finally developed into pneumonia and resulted in her death. She was born in Auburn, N. Y., July 30, 1824, and was therefore in the 69th year of her age. She came here at the age of 11 years, and lived here the rest of her life. She was married in August, 1847, by the Rev. William Whittaker, then pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, which at that time stood where the Y. M. C. A. rooms now are on East Front street. She was the mother of ten children, six dead and four living. Those living are George, Whitney, Esther, wife of Alex Sergent, and Euphemia, wife of Chas. F. Gullberg of Jersey City.

The deceased became a teacher in Warren mission 27 years ago, and was at the time of her death the oldest teacher in the mission. Her charitable acts have been numerous, though not known to many.

Daily Fakes from the "News" Factory.

The following is a sample of the stuff daily perpetrated in the columns of the New York Times by the Somerset street "news" fakir—stuff so glaringly false that he doesn't dare publish it even in his own paper at home, where everyone knows it's an invention:

BATTLING WITH PICKAXES.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 15.—The Italians employed in laying the street railway tracks on Somerset street, North Plainfield, for the Plainfield Electric Street Railway, became involved in a fight over a crowbar to-day.

Handles of pickaxes were used freely on one another's heads, and a riot seemed imminent when the contractors interfered and [illegible]

PERSONALIA.

F. A. Dunham has been appointed street engineer at Hornellsville, N. Y.

Mrs. Elias Pangborn has removed from 28 West Fifth street to 7 Arlington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harding have the sympathy of all in the loss of their infant son Richard.

One of the most handsomely arranged lawns about town is that of Charles Hyde, East Front street.

A number of young people were entertained at the residence of Miss Streuli, Prospect avenue, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barnes, of 222 Madison avenue, will entertain a few of their friends next week Wednesday evening.

Cyrus Moore of New street has for several days been in Red Bank, where he is a social lion, and where he finds great attraction.

C. J. Ames of Crescent avenue has broken ground for a handsome new residence at the corner of Eighth street and Plainfield avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Munn and family, of LaGrande avenue, have gone to their summer home, Springfield Centre, Otsego County, New York.

Miss Lilian Newman, daughter of H. Otis Newman, has accepted an appointment to one of the departments in the State Normal school.

J. D. Runyon, the successful manager of the big Boice, Runyon & Co. coal and lumber business, is with his wife enjoying a vacation at Bloomington, Ill.

F. C. Ellmann, S. C. R. of Court Pride of this city, was one of the prominent guests at the Foresters' grand ball in the Zouave Armory at Elizabeth Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Schorb, jr., of East Front street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a male heir. The little fellow reached here Monday night, in time for the Wild West show.

George Barrett, a brother of Mrs. Carl Kaerth, has returned to his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Barrett has been spending a few weeks here in the hope of regaining his health.

Miss Carolyn Knowland, daughter of F. C. Knowland, formerly of East Seventh street, but now of Logan's Ferry, Alleghany county, Pa., is the guest of Miss Streuli, of Prospect avenue.

Dr. Lewis's daughter Mary has gone to Port Alleghany, Pa., to attend the wedding of her friend Miss Hinman, on the 18th of this month. Miss Lewis will spend several weeks in Pennsylvania and New York.

Mrs. Le Gay, of Paris, will talk on the McAll mission work in her city, before the Plainfield McAll auxiliary, at the home of Mrs. Frank Otis Herring, 36 East Ninth street, Tuesday afternoon, May 23, at 3:30.

At the Diocesan Convention held in New Brunswick the Rev. T. Logan Murphy was elected to represent the Diocese at the great Missionary meeting which is to be held in San Francisco, California, in October next.

Judge Manning Freeman, of the Middlesex County Circuit Court, has the sympathy of a host of Plainfield friends in the recent loss by death of his mother, Mrs. Ellis Freeman, of Metuchen. She was 89 years of age.

William F. Ford, son of William J. Ford of East Fourth street, who embarked in journalism in this city some time ago, is now night editor of the Trenton Emporium, taking the desk vacated by Col. Beach, one of the oldest veteran journalists in the State.

"The Domes and Palaces of Florence" will be told of in Dr. Hurlbut's most fascinating way, in the M. E. church Thursday evening, May 25. The lecture will be illustrated with eighty stereopticon views. The admission will be but 25 cents, and the proceeds for the Ladies' Aid society.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut of this city lectured Friday night on "An Apostle of the Eighteenth Century", in the Park M. E. church, Elizabeth. His lecture was a delightful one, being fully illustrated with stereopticon views of noted scenery around London, Westminster, Epworth, and other localities in England.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Scarborough officiated in three Plainfield Protestant Episcopal churches on Sunday. In Grace church he celebrated communion at 7:30 a. m., and preached and administered confirmation at 11. He preached in the Church of the Heavenly Rest at 4 p. m., and administered confirmation in the Church of Our Saviour at 7:45.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. will be represented at the sixth convention of the fourth district of New Jersey in Long Branch, this week. At Saturday morning's session president W. D. Murray of this city will speak on Bible study, and at the Saturday evening session C. T. Kissam will tell of the importance and claims of State work.

STELLE—KILEY.

The marriage is announced of Clarence Boice Stelle, a well-known dentist of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Stelle, 45 Madison avenue, this city, and Miss Nellie Kiley of Jersey City. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stelle will reside in New York city, where the doctor has a growing practice.

ALWAYS GRACEFUL IN COMPLIMENTING LADIES.

C. W. McCutchen has always a happy way of saying just the right thing at the proper moment, and he was in his most felicitous vein in introducing Leland T. Powers to the audience in the First Baptist church lecture room, Monday night. He took occasion to praise very highly the excellent work of the Young Ladies' Missionary society, under whose auspices Mr. Powers entertained.

DRS. RODMAN AND MURPHY BOTH DELEGATES.

The Diocese of New Jersey will be represented in the Missionary Council by the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rev. Dr. G. W. Watson, the Rev. E. M. Rodman, and Messrs. John N. Carpender and A. Spooner, who were elected by the General Convention in Baltimore, and by the Rev. T. Logan Murphy and James Parker, who were appointed by the Diocesan Convention, which met in New Brunswick, last week.

VALUABLE WORK BY A COMPETENT LAWYER.

The New Jersey Law Journal Publishing company of North avenue have just published an annotated compilation of the New Jersey chancery acts, by John Ridley, one of the lawyers practicing in this city, which will be a great convenience to the members of the bar, as it places within a handy compass the chancery laws (including the amendments of 1893) now scattered through many volumes. A brief index digest to chancery matters is incorporated in the work, a feature which will be appreciated by the busy practitioner. The book is tastefully bound in cloth, with sheep back, and the press work is done in the Law Journal company's usual handsome manner.

$35,000 TO POPE AND HARRISON.

The Chancellor Orders the Proceeds of Job Male's Jersey City Property Turned Over to the Administrators.

Tuesday at the opening of the Court of Chancery at Trenton, Craig A. Marsh, on behalf of Ellis B. Pope and John W. Harrison, the Job Male administrators, obtained an order of the chancellor directing that the money received from the sale of the Jersey City real estate of Mr. Male, be [illegible] over to the administrators to be applied toward payment of [illegible]

DEATH IN THE FLAMES.

FULL DETAILS OF THE BURNING OF JOHN HARTFELDER.

He Jumped From a Window Only to Be Carried Back Into the Fiery Furnace By the Falling Roof—Nothing Found But a Skeleton of Charred Bones.

HERE is the full story, from a local paper of the town, of the horrible death of John C. Hartfelder, formerly of this city, and whose son George, still lives here, which was briefly mentioned in these columns Monday. The Savannah paper of Monday says:

John C. Hartfelder met a horrible death yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the fire which wiped out the planing mill of his son, Christian C. Hartfelder, at the foot of Duffy street. He was burned to a crisp, little remaining except the bare bones of what had been a living man a few minutes before.

The fire started in the engine room of the mill among a lot of shavings and spread with remarkable rapidity. Mr. Hartfelder was in his work room, directly over the place where the fire originated, working at a lathe, and his first impulse no doubt caused him to seek an escape by means of the stairway or else he would have been able to save himself by the avenue which he tried too late—jumping from a window. When he finally ran to the window at the southeast corner of the second story to jump to the shed below the entire place was a roaring furnace.

BURNING AS HE LEAPED.

The only person who saw the unfortunate man was a colored woman living opposite the mill. She said that as Mr. Hartfelder sprang from the window of the shed with a scream of terror his apron was in a blaze. He struck squarely on his feet on the tin roof, swayed a moment and then plunged headlong to the street alongside of the burning building. A moment later the roof of the mill came down with a crash over the very spot where Mr. Hartfelder had fallen, burying him completely under a mass of fiercely burning debris.

When the firemen reached the scene in response to the alarm from box No. 43 the mill was down and the fire had communicated on the south of the mill to a house belonging to R. B. Reppard, and on the north to the two-story residence of Capt. LeConte.

NO ONE AWARE OF IT.

At that time no one except the colored woman, who had witnessed Mr. Hartfelder's tragic death, knew that a fatality had occurred, and the firemen left the mill ruins alone and turned their attention to stopping the progress of the fire among the dwellings, and protecting the lumber yard of Reppard & Co., across the Savannah, Florida and Western railway track. The two houses referred to, however, were completely gutted.

When the firemen had got the fire under control Mr. Snedeker informed Chief Puder that Mr. Hartfelder was missing, and a few minutes later the woman who had witnessed the accident corroborated the rumor. The chief immediately had all the streams turned on the mill ruins in order to save Mr. Hartfelder's body as far as possible from mutilation.

THE BODY FOUND.

At 4:30 o'clock the place was cleared off sufficiently to allow the search to begin. It only lasted a few minutes. A Belt Line motorman saw a pair of feet sticking out from under a mass of timbers and corrugated iron, and sent for Chief Puder. A force of firemen quickly started to work removing the debris, and in a few minutes Mr. Hartfelder's body was exposed to view. The sight was enough to turn the stomach of a strong man. The little skin and flesh left on the dead man's face was burnt black, his clothing was almost entirely gone, his arms and limbs were crisped, and the body had burst.

Coroner Dixon was sent for at once and decided an inquest unnecessary. He gave permission for the removal of the body, and it was taken to the dead man's home, at No. 23 Gwinnett street. Mr. Hartfelder was 65 years old and a native of Germany.

WAS IT A PREMONITION?

A singular coincidence of the tragic death of Mr. Hartfelder was his conversation with Mr. Snedeker fifteen minutes before the fire started in the mill about the fire which burnt the place a few years ago. Mr. Hartfelder remarked how dangerous it would be for any one to be in the second story of the mill in case a fire started below. The chances of escape, he said, would be very slim. Little did he think at the time of the conversation that the very thing he was talking about would occur a few minutes afterward and that he would be the victim caught on the upper floor.

Just how the fire started will probably never be known. The colored man who attends to the engine was cutting bed slats in the eastern side of the mill and a young white man was at the wood-turning table in the southern end. The first intimation they had that anything was wrong was a roaring sound from the engine room and on looking in that direction the men were startled to see a blaze rushing toward them.

FIERCENESS OF THE FIRE.

The negro ran to rescue the horse, and the young man laid a line of hose and hurried out on Duffy street to attach it to a plug opposite the mill. The ferocity of the fire can be imagined from the fact that when the connection was made the entire structure was in flames and the young man had to run away from the boat and let the hose burn. The negro saved the horse by running him across the railroad track. Both apparently forgot about Mr. Hartfelder or thought he had saved himself.

The proprietor of the mill was uptown at the time of the alarm, and when told that his father was missing he hurried to the scene and tried to dash into the ruins to save what was then a crisped body. His grief was pitiable to behold, and strong arms were necessary to keep him out of the fire.

THE PECUNIARY LOSS.

The loss on the mill amounts to about $2,500 and $3,000 will cover the loss on the houses. There was little insurance on any of the property.

The fire department deserve praise for the manner in which the fire was handled. Everybody who saw it at the time the firemen arrived believed that an immense conflagration was in store for Savannah on account of the surroundings. The mill was in the center of a group of small wooden buildings, with the lumber yard of Reppard & Co., on the east, and the planing mill of Wall & Co., 100 yards to the north. Had the fire communicated with either of these last named properties the loss would have been very heavy.

HARD LUCK.

C. M. Ulrich Loses a Valuable Horse.

One of the fine horses used by Charles M. Ulrich in his large packing-house business acted strangely on Fourth street Wednesday, and his driver took it to the stable. No sooner had it reached there than it dropped dead of heart disease.

A Broken [illegible] Doesn't Bother Judge Runyon.

Ex-city Judge Nelson Runyon when coming down the stairs from his office the other day, slipped on a small bundle, fell and broke one of his ribs. Dr. Hodges set the bones and bound the body up, and the judge has a[illegible] a day from his [illegible]

THE PLAINT OF A VETERAN.

Editor Honeyman Bewails the Passing Away of Home Contributing for Local Papers.

The Bound Brook Chronicle celebrated the completion of its twenty-five years of existence by the issue of a double number of sixteen pages, April 7. It was started by the late A. J. Shampanore as the Casket, at White House, and afterwards removed to Bound Brook, and the name changed. The anniversary number contains much interesting reading, including reminiscences, etc., and is evidence of the progressiveness of its able editor and publisher, W. B. R. Mason. Among the articles is one from the pen of A. V. D. Honeyman, of this city, who states that his first effort at writing for the press was for the Casket. He refers to the fact that while the founder of the paper was a good printer and publisher, he did but little of the writing, though nearly every line printed was original, by volunteer contributors, which made the paper interesting and gave it a good circulation. Mr. Honeyman alludes to the lack of this assistance by contributors to the local press in these days, and asks—"Is the old-fashioned newspaper make-up of 'home contributing' forever passed away?" The Rahway Democrat replies that it does appear so, and adds that it is practically, if not wholly, due to the fact that the metropolitan press pays for certain kinds of contributions, which gives those who are capable of writing for the press the idea that they should be paid also by the country press, which of course the publishers cannot always afford to do, with the small profits they receive, which does not seem to be understood by some. For instance, the New York papers circulate by the hundred-thousands, yet the type-setting, which is the principal item of expense, costs no more for similar quantity than for a country paper with a single thousand circulation, or less; yet the country editor is sometimes looked upon as mean if he will not accede to the propositions of writers to pay them for their favors. The fact is—concludes the Democrat—that times have degenerated in that respect, as well as in many others.

Judge Moore and the Keeley Cure.

Judge Charles E. Moore of Fanwood, the engineer who so successfully discovered the source of supply of the present water-works in Plainfield, has associated himself with H. Ward Leonard & Co., the eminent electricians of New York, as an expert engineer to protect their rights in the contracts which they have now on hand.

The judge is now located at Johnstown, N. Y., and while on a flying trip to his home last week was met by a Press reporter who asked his views in relation to the country where he is now situated. He said the country was all right, but a trifle moist; and as to the people in that section they were the shrewdest set he had ever met. In particular he mentioned some things regarding the converts from alcoholism through the Keeley process. He says that everyone returning from the institution at White Plains with a certificate of discharge has simply to apply to the good old thorough-going church people to secure a position—easy work and big pay. Now every old toper in Johnstown is endeavoring to raise the dust to pay his car fare to White Plains, and on his return is immediately employed at a lucrative salary.

NOTES OF THE JERSEY CENTRAL.

Ex-Councilman Moffett's Brother, the Popular Baggage-Master, Still Very Ill.

(From the Railroad Employe.)

The Central's new annex boat, the Mauch Chunk, arrived last week, but has not been put in commission as yet. She is said to be one of the finest of her class in the country.

It is our painful duty to state that baggage-master Jim Moffett, of Jersey City, is not improving as rapidly as his friends would wish, and has been compelled to go to the Newark Hospital to undergo an operation.

Baggage-master Wm. Wilson, of the High Bridge branch, it is said, has recently fallen heir to between thirty and forty thousand dollars, by the decease of an uncle. Mr. Wilson is an old railroader, having been on the road for twenty-two years. He is a first-class fellow, and the boys rejoice with him at his good fortune.

Since the Baltimore & Ohio bridge over the Kill von Kull was destroyed by fire, that road's freight has come to the Jersey Central yard at Jersey City, which caused a blockage of the yard, and necessitated the putting on of an extra engine and crew. "Sloppy Weather" Garrett gained the goal of his ambition by securing the appointment as conductor of the extra, but only for a few short hours, when his pride was suddenly dashed to earth by an order from headquarters that the Baltimore & Ohio would resume business on the old line, and "Sloppy" was compelled to go back to twisting brakes.

$3,385 IN THE PLATE.

Another Big Collection in the Crescent Avenue Church.

The Crescent Avenue church has been carrying on its Hope and Bethel missions in the past by regular subscriptions added to what those missions contributed for their own support. Now that the church has taken Warren Mission under its wing, more money was needed and Dr. Richards asked for it Sunday morning. The plates were then passed and $3,385 was collected.

Changes in Plainfield Trains.

Many people have been inconvenienced the past few days by not familiarizing themselves with the important changes in the time table as published in these columns. For instance, the train for Trenton that formerly stopped here at 8:39 now goes right through to Bound Brook, for which place Plainfielders have to take the 8:17 and change there, or else wait till 9:48. A large number missed appointments through not knowing this, and made a great howl against the company.

In Paint the best is the cheapest. Strictly Pure White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done. When buying it is important to obtain properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture. This process consumes four to six months time, and produces the brands that have given White Lead its character as the standard paint.

Strictly Pure White Lead

"Atlantic" "Bradley" "Brooklyn" "Jewett" "Ulster"

are standard brands of strictly pure Lead made by the "Old Dutch" process. You get the best in buying them. You can produce any desired color by tinting these brands of white lead with National Lead Co's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in Paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

NOW FOR TENNIS.

THE HILLSIDE CLUB PLANS INTERESTING EVENTS.

The Season to Be Opened Memorial Day, with a Tournament For City and Borough—Croquet for the Ladies—Big Match Games in Prospect.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Hillside Tennis club was held Monday night in the clubhouse on Broadway to arrange plans and dates for the coming summer. Messrs. George Mallick, D. C. Ivins, J. Murray, R. L. Burnett, D. O. Tiffany, James L. Anthony and Fred Walz were present.

A tournament was arranged for Tuesday, May 30, on which day the grounds of the club will be formally opened for the year.

The tournament will be for both doubles and singles, and will be open to residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The playing will begin at 10 a. m., and if the entries are not too numerous the games will be finished in one day.

The fall tournament will take place Labor day, and it is hoped that some of the expert players of the east may be secured for exhibition games before that time.

The croquet grounds will be in condition for play by May 30, and a match between some of the ladies of the club will be arranged for that date.

The ladies' committee for the coming season will be Miss Minnie Wood, Miss Gertrude Walz, Miss Anthony, Miss Florence Huntington, Miss Lawrence and Mrs. Daniel Ginna.

Teas will be given on the first and third Saturdays of each month from June 1 to October 1.

The courts are now in fine condition, and playing is going on regularly every day. The coming season bids fair to be the most successful one yet in the short history of this most enterprising and prosperous club.

THAT HALO AROUND THE SUN.

People Marvel at an Exhibition in the Heavens.

Everyone was looking Monday at "the ring around the sun", as told in yesterday's Press. It was certainly a unique sight, and people gazed at it as long as their optics could stand the fierce glare of the sun. Plenty of people got smoked glasses, but these aided little.

All sorts of statements were made as to the meaning of the halo, the most popular statement being that it was the forerunner of a great storm. This does not naturally follow, by any means. The only thing people agreed upon in connection with the halo was that it was particularly brilliant and remarkable in variety of color. Few people remembered to have seen such an exhibition. The halo disappeared about twenty minutes before noon.

Solar halos, according to the New Brunswick Home News, are circles of prismatic colors formed around the sun. They are generally of larger size than coronas and present a greater variety of appearances. When the sky is hazy and presents a dull, milky appearance as it did yesterday between 10:30 and 11:30, we frequently notice around the sun or or moon a colored circle. The inner edge of the circle is colored red and tolerably well defined; the outer edge is of a pale blue and not sharply defined. Such a circle is never seen when the sky is perfectly clear. Halos are formed by the refraction and the reflection of the solar rays from ice crystals of cirrus clouds, or from ice particles suspended in the air. Such a halo as was seen Monday morning is rarely equalled.

SITTING ON THE DOCTOR.

Ripley Hill Turned Upside Down Over the Sassy Freeholders' Action.

Dr. Chauncey B. Ripley, of Westfield, is taking liberties with county roads which has opened him to the accusation of being a trespasser, and the county road inspector has been complained to by those who use the roadway. Inspector Corbet on visiting the locality found Mr. Ripley's men engaged in plowing up the road between the curb and the macadam, and planting fodder corn.

One side of the road at Oakland, between Cranford and Westfield, has been plowed, and it was stated that Dr. Ripley intended the same thing would be done with the other side. Mr. Corbet, however, gave orders that the encroachment on the roads must be stopped, and he will proceed against Dr. Ripley as a trespasser unless his order is obeyed.

In this action Mr. Corbet is backed by members of the board of freeholders and the authority of director Sauer. It is contended that Dr. Ripley has no right to do as he is doing. His apparent purpose is to improve the appearance of the road, and by sowing grass next season make lawns of the space on both sides of the macadam, but it narrows the roadway to the paved portion, about ten feet in width.

The contention of director Sauer and others who oppose Dr. Ripley's plan is that the public have the right to the full width of the roads from curb to curb, and no one has a right to make any use of the road that will limit the privileges of people driving on the road.

There is at present no county road committee, and if there is to be any further disagreement between Dr. Ripley and the inspector the advice of county attorney McClure of this city will be taken for action pending the meeting of the board.

The First of the Chapters Celebrates.

The fourth anniversary of Chapter I, Epworth League, of the Methodist church, was held Friday evening in the church. Vice-president G. M. Ritter-house made a short address, giving a sketch of the league's work for the past year.

The address of the evening was delivered by the Hon. R. W. Knight, of Brooklyn. His remarks were excellent and much enjoyed.

There was good music, and excellent reports were made.

The league in this city numbers about 135 members, and is in a healthy condition. The reports for the past year showed a marked improvement over the work of previous years.

A large audience was present.

OPENING OF THE FAIR.

It's a Palace of Delights, and Will Be the Attraction All This Week.

IT was a merry throng that witnessed the opening, Monday, of the fair of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein, under most favorable auspices. After an open-air concert, well rendered by the Citizens' Band, the president of the society, Chas. Dressell, addressed the audience, setting forth the aims of the society and of the fair. The president then introduced J. R. Martine, who spoke commending the efforts of this and kindred organizations, in extending education. He urged on his hearers the fact that education was the great eradicator of bigotry, narrowness and superstition, hence it became the duty of all, in a liberal republic, to further the same.

In a few well-chosen words the chairman of the fair committee, Mr. Jahn, then declared the fair open.

The society's hall is tastefully decorated. The flower stand in the center of the hall is well filled with the bloom of the season, and was well patronized. The tables are loaded with articles of ornament and practical value.

Too much credit cannot be given to Mrs. F. Linke, Mrs. Griebe, and their associates, for their indefatigable labors in this laudable undertaking. The fair will remain open during the week, with many attractive features.

PLAINFIELD'S SEWERS.

Detailed Description of the Plan, and Explanation of the Official Map.

In accordance with the recommendation in the report of the finance committee adopted by the common council at the meeting held April 4, that the committee on water and sewerage "prepare a map showing the portion of the city proposed to be sewered, with the location of the mains and laterals, said map to be published in the newspapers, if possible, with full explanation", the committee on water and sewerage have prepared said map, which we publish to-day.

On the map, sewers of 8 inches diameter are shown by light red lines: more than that diameter by heavier lines of the same color.

At Berckman and East Front streets an 8-inch pipe sewer commences at a depth of about 5 feet below the surface and runs on a grade of 1 in 200 to Richmond street, where it is about 7½ feet below the surface and where it is joined by an 8-inch pipe running west 1,000 feet; the line turns into Richmond street, and continues on same grade to Second street; at this point the pipe is enlarged to 10 inches, and runs along Richmond street on a grade of 1 in 333 to Broadway; at Putnam avenue a junction is made with an 8-inch sewer commencing at La Grande and Woodland avenues and running along Woodland and Putnam avenues on grades of 1 in 160, 1 in 130, and 1 in 200 to place of junction at Richmond street; these sewers will receive the drainage from the district lying between Washington street and the eastern limits of the city including all of Netherwood north of Broadway: it is designed for a population of 8677, allowing 100 gallons per capita per 24 hours; at Richmond street and Broadway a junction is made with an 8-inch sewer starting at Woodland avenue and Highland avenue and running along Woodland avenue and Broadway on grades of 1 in 80, 1 in 110 and 1 in 250 to Richmond street; this sewer will provide for Netherwood south of Broadway and of the district east of Kensington avenue and north of Prospect avenue, and will accommodate a population of 5767 at 100 gallons per capita per 24 hours.

At Broadway and Richmond street the sewer is about 5 feet below the surface; it there changes to a 12-inch pipe and runs along Broadway on a grade of 1 in 350 to Ninth street where it is 10 feet below the surface; it then turns into Ninth street and continues same diameter and same grade to Park avenue, where it is about 11 feet below the surface; laterals from Franklin Place, Broadway from the West, First, Second and Third Places, Crescent avenue and Park avenue are taken on the route as shown on the map; the pipe then increases to 15 inches and on a grade of 1 in 600 runs along East Ninth street to Central avenue, thence to West Eighth street, thence along Eighth street to Plainfield avenue and thence to West Seventh street at which point it is 14 feet below the surface; an 8-inch sewer starting at Crescent avenue and running along Seventh street joins the main sewer at this point. The district between Sixth street and Stelle avenue is drained by laterals running to these sewers; at Plainfield avenue and Seventh street the sewer is increased to 18 inches diameter and runs along West Seventh street on a grade of 1 in 800 to Grant avenue where it is about 13 feet below the surface; it continues on same grade and same size of pipe to South Second street where it is 9½ feet below the surface.

Laterals are shown on several streets and avenues south of the railroad; these all converge to the intersection of Plainfield avenue and South Second street and complete the system as projected south of the railroad. The main sewer on Grant avenue is designed for a population of 23,540 allowing 100 gallons per capita per 24 hours.

At 100 feet east of Washington street and Second street an 8-inch sewer commences at about 8 feet below the surface and runs west along Second street on a grade of 1 in 150 to Peace street, where it is 8 3-5 feet below the surface: it then increases to 10 inches and continues along Second street on a grade of 1 in 264 to Plainfield avenue and South Second street at which point it is about 8 feet below the surface: it then increases to 12 inches diameter and runs on South Second street on a grade of 1 in 250 to Grant avenue, where it is 9½ feet below the surface, and is joined by the south main sewer. Lateral sewers from Sanford avenue to Plainfield avenue and from Front street and Third street, are received as shown on the map. The main sewer on Second street from Plainfield avenue to Grant avenue is designed for a population of 11,000, allowing 100 gallons per capita per 24 hours.

At Grant avenue and South Second street, the sewer enlarges to 24 inches and runs along to South Second street on a grade of 1 in 1,000 to the city limits. This diameter of pipe when running full on the given grade, will discharge 4,400,000 gallons in 24 hours; which would allow 100 gallons per capita for a population of 44,000.

Manholes, allowing entrance for examination, will be placed at all intersections of streets, and in case of very long blocks at intervals of 300 to 400 feet.

No action towards the location of filter beds has been taken, nor can be until the common council shall be petitioned in the requisite amount of assessed valuation to construct the proposed system.

It will be found on careful examination of the map that the projected system provides for the most populous portion of the city and especially for all that is in immediate need of such service; it must be particularly understood that the pipes are laid on such grades that as fast as extensions are called for they can be made in accordance with the general system.

It is the aim of the common council to provide the city with a system of sewerage which will combine the greatest immediate service with excellence and economy of construction, and in as close accordance with the recommendations of the citizens' committee as practicable.

Estimated cost of system, laid complete, as shown on map:

[illegible] feet,	8-inch	pipe at	.[illegible],	equals	$[illegible]
[illegible]	"	10	"	" "	.[illegible],	"	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	12	"	" "	1.[illegible],	"	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	15	"	" "	1.[illegible],	"	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	18	"	" "	1.[illegible],	"	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	24	"	" "	2.[illegible],	"	[illegible]
						$[illegible]
Cost of land and preparation filter beds						$[illegible]
150 Manholes at $[illegible]						[illegible]
25 Flush Tanks at $[illegible]						[illegible]
						$[illegible]

Cost of Maintenance, $1,[illegible] per year.

Hard Luck for William.

It was a hard task which William Kline essayed to do Sunday. He tried to ride a wheel from here to New York and return, it is said, on a wager. The trip to New York was made without accident, but on the way home he met a shower and had to take a train part of the way, so the bet didn't go.

Dogs Sampled His Veal.

Ex-mayor L. V. F. Randolph begins to believe in a tax on dogs. Friday night one his valuable blooded calves was killed and eaten by unknown canines.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

BILL THE PENMAN.

HE WASN'T SKILLFUL, SO HIS FORGERY FAILED.

Contractor Rice His Intended Victim—Rice Was Good to Him, But Bill Was Ungrateful—Tried to Swindle the Local Banks, Then Hid in a Haymow.

NOT being skillful in his wickedness, William Meeker, alias William Garrigill, is to-day a prisoner on the self-confessed charge of forgery. Meeker was employed by Charles P. Rice, the contractor, as a sort of farm superintendent at his home. Mr. Rice paid him good wages, advanced him money for clothing, and treated him like one of the family.

But gratitude was a stranger to Meeker's heart, for on Saturday he went about town with checks bearing his employer's forged name, trying to get them cashed.

He presented a check signed by himself, at the City bank for payment. Acting cashier Arnold said he could not cash it unless some responsible person endorsed it. Meeker promptly wrote Rice's name across the back and took the check to the Dime Savings Institution. The officials there, however, were notified by Mr. Arnold, and Mr. Pope said "Why, the ink's still fresh", and smeared it with his fingers. As Mr. Rice was in Cranford, it was clearly a forgery.

Meeker immediately went away, and the police could n't find him.

In the afternoon, however, Mr. Rice's son found him hid in the haymow, and the fugitive was placed in custody.

Sergeant Kiely found a second check, bearing Rice's forged signature, hidden in the waistband of the prisoner's trousers, but the check he attempted to pass was missing. A pawn ticket also was found on his person, for a gun, which he had pawned for $3 50 in the name of Ed. Tomson. The gun proved to be worth $50. Meeker had borrowed it from Nicholas Van Winkle.

Investigation into Meeker's record showed him to be a native of New Brunswick. He has a wife and two babies in Newark. His wife had him arrested some time ago for desertion. Van Winkle went his bail, and he skipped.

Monday morning before justice Nash Meeker pleaded guilty and was held for the grand jury.

FACE TO FACE WITH DEATH.

A Gang of Trackmen in a Bewildering Predicament.

A wholesale slaughter of human beings was only averted by the presence of mind of the men themselves near the Leland avenue bridge; eight track hands and the foreman were at work putting in new ties on the third track or East siding, when a coal train approached, Saturday afternoon.

The men started for the west track, and got there just ahead of the 3:30 train from New York, which was on the west siding. In order to get out of the way of this, most of them started back, only to face a Blue Line flyer, going west. With the presence of mind, they droped flat between two tracks and the two trains passed without injuring any of them. The men were so frightened that they were unable to work any more that day.

MRS. L. E. LIVERMORE DEAD.

Her Husband Summoned to Her Bedside, Too Late.

The Rev. Dr. Livermore, who left the Seventh-Day church at New Market, shortly after the death of his only daughter, to accept the position of editor of the Sabbath Recorder, is to-day suffering the severest of all blows—the loss of his wife. He had come to New Market, Saturday, to preach in his old pulpit, and was enjoying the hearty welcome of his former parishioners, when a telegram summoned him to New York at once, but too late to see his wife alive. She had succumbed to the effects of a surgical operation. The remains were brought to New Market Saturday evening.

Borough Street Improvement.

Councilman Neal for the borough street committee Friday night reported that the work of laying the street railway tracks was proceeding satisfactorily, that the permanent improvement of Greenbrook road would be completed by Saturday night, that Rock road was to be given attention next, and that the freeholders had greatly improved the bridges at Grove and Duer streets, corner Greenbrook road, and abolished a danger-spot.

Sophie Took Deadly Acid.

Sophie Herrman, aged 18 years, said to have been until recently employed as a governess in this city, for a family named Brown, died Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Emil Fuchs, 724 Garden street, Hoboken, from the effects of carbolic acid taken by mistake. She had complained of a headache, to which she was subject, and for which she kept a remedy on hand. She went to a closet to get the remedy, but got the carbolic acid instead.

But They Didn't Accept.

Asa Collier, representing the joint memorial detail of Winfield Scott and Major Anderson posts, G. A. R., invited the North Plainfield mayor and council on Friday to occupy the lower left-hand box at the memorial services in Music Hall the afternoon of May 30. The communication was received and filed.

Want Plainfield's Old Truck.

Messrs. Abry, Stevens and Horton, and another who blushed when asked for his name, were in town Saturday, representing Cranford, with a view towards buying the old Plainfield fire truck. They think favorably of the idea.

"I suffered 8 years

"From woman's early troubles.

"I could find no permanent relief until, one year ago, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief then came with it almost immediately, and at this time I am a well woman.

MRS. JOHN A. RICE

"I absolutely know, not only by my own experience, but by others also, that this is a harmless and sure remedy for:—

"Irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, weakness of the stomach, sick headache, and female complaints generally. There is no need of so much female suffering. Here is the remedy. It is wicked not to accept the relief it will bring."—Mrs. J. A. Rice, Florence, Ky.

All Druggists sell it. Address in confidence, Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass. Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills, 25 cents.

Young Ladies

Who ride BICYCLES, Play TENNIS, or Attend GYMNASIUM, Should WEAR

FERRIS' Good Sense Corset Waists.

FERRIS' GOOD SENSE CORSET WAIST

All Shapes. Full or Slim Bust. Long or Short Waist. White, Drab, or Black.

For sale by all Leading Retailers.

Send for illustrated circular to

FERRIS BROS. Manufacturers and Patentees, 341 Broadway, New York.

Miss VANDEVENTER'S NEW STORE, 132 Central Ave.

CHILDREN'S OUTFITS MADE TO ORDER. | A FULL LINE OF GOOD SENSE WAISTS.

Easy Leaders.

We sell Spring Suits and Overcoats that are mistaken every hour in the day along the treet for merchant-tailored garments. With good reasons, too. Luxurious they are and shapely, and no mark of ready-made on them, except the prices—$10, $12, $13, $15, $18, $20.

Do you know our success in Boy's and Little Boy's Suits? Especial suits of our own design and make at especial prices. Parents will find that we have the largest selection, the nobbiest styles and sell at lowest possible prices. Boy's Suits $5 to $12. Children's $2 to $10.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,

Newark Clothiers,

779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.

3 23 3m

MC GREGOR & CO.

HAVE YOU A BOY?

You may think the question impertinent but it is not.

It's our business to know all the people who have boys that we may also make them acquainted with our facilities for fitting them out for spring.

Every year we fit the boys out better and better.

You'll find this season no exception to this rule and that the styles we have to show you for Young America, our own, exclusive styles are captivating. So are the prices.

It will reduce your anxiety about what is fit for the boy to wear to a minimum to try on a few of our fashionable styles, and the cost of fitting him out for spring will be materially lessened by buying from us.

We Design Our Own Styles.
We Make Our Own Goods.
We Sell at a Small Profit.

The result is a first-class article for a little money.

McGregor & Co., 850 and 852 Broad St., NEWARK, N. J.

9 17 tf

Spring Overcoats!

Our stock of Spring Overcoats cut from Meltons, Whipcords, Cheviots, Worsteds, etc., in grays, browns, black and fancy shades at

$10 and $12

Includes all the new spring styles and the prices speak for themselves. One of the greatest bargains we have ever offered is the

$15 DRESS SUITS

In Clay Diagonal Worsteds. These suits have never before been sold for less than $18. They will please you, as they do not wear glossy.

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

Near Academy street.

4 20 3m

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.

REDUCED RATES

FRANK'S

345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged. Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY.

4 28 6mos

DR. LEWIS ON HARRIS.

"MESSAGES FROM SING SING" TOLD TO PLAINFIELD HEARERS.

The Eloquent Seventh-Day Divine Describes How Young Men Go to Destruction—Social Impurity and Love of Money As Agents in Mankind's Downfall—A Home Illustration of a Brilliant Ruin.

The interesting and powerful sermon of the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, Saturday morning, was on the subject announced in these columns Friday: Messages from Sing Sing: how young men go to destruction". The text was from Galatians VI: 7—"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap". He, SHALL, REAP! This truth—said the preacher—is universal, everlasting. A week which has seen the death of Carlyle Harris, and the dead body of the escaped murderer, Roehl, is many-tongued with pertinent lessons. He is wise who heeds them.

It is as sad as it is notorious that the majority of our worst criminals are young men under thirty years. They go wrong during the early years—when passion and appetite are rampant, and judgment is unformed or silent. Crime is not confined to the ignorant classes, though it abounds there.

1. Harris evidently began his career as a criminal in the field of social impurity. This field is thickly strewn with ruined lives,—men and women. Whoever yields to the clamor of passion, contravenes a fundamental law of God, in individual life, and in organized society. The secrecy with which passion seeks its ends, leads into deeper crime at every step. It is a prolific source of murder in all forms, infanticide included. The best elements of soul, all genuine manhood, are shriveled in the fires of lust. Vile literature, impure lips, low standards of morality, light estimate of virtue: these are all ruinous. When the "Books of Judgment" have been opened, social impurity will be found credited with a large share of the crime of this world.

2. Next to this comes love of money, desire for sudden wealth, and for that which is not honestly and legitimately earned. This path seems very inviting to young men, when they first begin to see and feel the power which money gives. Embezzlements, defalcations, betrayed trusts, and deceitful methods, may bring temporary success, but their fruitage is like "Apples of Sodom", filled with burning ashes.

Two young men once came to my study to counsel concerning making a public profession of religion. They agreed that each ought to make such profession. One determined to, and did. The other advised this course, but declined to do it himself. I baptized the obedient one, and when a few years later he was called home I heard his words of faith and trust, with grateful heart. The other young man was brilliant and soon was reputed to be "very successful". He spent money freely. He was envied by less prosperous men younger than himself. It seemed for a few years that he who would not join the church was the happier man. But his road was short and steep. He betrayed sacred trusts, robbed individuals and corporations, and to-day he is under indictment for serious crimes, and if he does not find a place behind prison bars it will be because of law's delay or the lenity of those whom he has robbed. Instead of success, he has reaped shame, disgrace, ruin, all within a decade of years. His case is a representative one, wrecked through dishonesty.

3. One fundamental evil which lies at the bottom of all these cases, which paves and keeps in good repair all these roads to ruin, under the engineering of the devil, is unwillingness to submit to the restraints of morality and the demands of religion. Every man turns his face towards ruin when he says: "I can't afford to tie myself up by church obligations, and the demands of strict morality; these may do for goody-goody fellows, but not for a man who knows himself, and means to be somebody." Satan and death formulate such sentences as those, and woe to the young man who learns to pronounce them at the bidding of evil.

Carlyle Harris would not be bound by the restraints of strict morality, hence he was bound in the chair which throbs with the presence of death. The young man who sat in my study and refused to assume the responsibilities and restraints of church life, is bound to-day by cords of disgrace and crime which cut his wrists, and stain by their touch, with everlasting discoloration. The trail of crime is over all his life, and if he is unhunted by the officers of justice because the money he stole cannot be regained, he is followed by the shadow of disgrace, and will be, until the harvest of his sin is fully ripe for gathering.

The walls of Sing Sing are written over with lessons of warning, with sermons more eloquent than I can formulate. Bailey's poem, "Festus", is no fancy picture, where it tells of one who sold himself to Satan for a term of years, he to have slavish service from the Prince of Evil, and all enjoyment that his heart could wish, with himself the price at last. The years covered by the contract went on, wild with wine, and lust, and gold, and surfeited ambition. But the day for settlement came. That morning Satan was servant no longer, with fawning and obedient mien, but bold and cruel as Shylock, or the executioner at Sing Sing. Awakened now, the victim cringed and begged, for one day more: one half-day: one hour. The only answer was the mocking words: "The contract is fulfilled; time is up". Hand in hand, Satan's grip that of executioner, they stood upon the edge of the crater at Vesuvius, poising for the final leap. Craven and cowardly, the victim whose lips had known only rejoicing and laughter for years, promised to amend, and begged again for minutes, if not hours, in which to repent. And with "such falsehoods flapping like soot-flakes" on his fear-whitened lips, Satan dragged him with triumphant laughter down the ante-room to perdition.

Only the imagery of the poet: do you say? Nay. It is the picture of temporal and spiritual realities. The "death chair" is a terrible reality at Sing Sing, and the paths of sin lead to moral and spiritual chairs of death, over each of which is ineffaceably engraved: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap"; and the floor of the executioner's room is written all over with "Ruin! Ruin!! Ruin!!!"

TRYING TO ESCAPE A SUBPOENA.

Mrs. Hannah Clark, of Westfield, Is Missing From Her Home.

Mrs. Hannah Clark, of Westfield, disappeared from her home a week ago last Wednesday. She went away in the night, taking her youngest child. Her husband, who was sleeping at her side when she left, does not know where she has gone. She left three other children behind.

The theory of her disappearance is that she is hiding somewhere to escape a subpoena. Some two months ago she made a complaint against a man named Johnson for assault and battery. On Wednesday constable J. M. C. Marsh went to the house to subpoena Mrs. Clark, and learned that she had been missing as described for a week. A most diligent search has been made for the missing woman, but up to the present time nothing has been heard of her. It is believed that she is in hiding, not caring to appear against Johnson.

OLD ROUNDERS IN THE TOILS

Two Bad Men Give the Police a Tussle.

William Elisha Johnson, a Negro who keeps a pool-room on Front street, started out Thursday to look for his 12-year-old boy, who has been missing since Saturday. Johnson suspected that the youth had gone away with a tough known as "Baldy" Clark as stated in THE PRESS several days ago.

Johnson went toward Fanwood, and when he arrived at Brockman street, near the Catholic cemetery, he passed three tramps who were sitting under a tree by the side of the road.

He hailed them and asked if they knew anything about "Baldy" Clark. The spokesman for the party replied: "Yes: Baldy is a friend of ours. What does a coon like you want with him?" and he supplemented his remarks with some abusive language that was "unfit for publication". The tramps then arose from the ground and drawing razors made ominous signs at the colored man, who says he was obliged to draw his revolver to scare off the ruffians.

Johnson thought that the best thing he could do was to notify the police. Accordingly he made his way back to Plainfield and notified captain Grant, who, accompanied by sergeant Kiely, took a hack and went to the scene of the encounter.

When they arrived, they found that one of the birds had flown, but the two others stayed and showed fight, and were with difficulty overpowered.

One of them was brought to police headquarters in a hack, and the policemen had an exciting ride home, as their captor kicked, scratched, bit, and howled until he was safely lodged in the station house. He edified North avenue people en route by screeching "Murder" and "Police". He gave his name as Jim Mitchell, and in his possession was found a bottle filled with alcohol with which beverage he and his companions had been regaling themselves. The police recognized in him the man who tried to stab Philip Breen of this city with a pair of shears when he was warden of the Union County jail and Mitchell was working in the tailoring department of the prison.; also the "yeat" who was sent to the county jail from Plainfield a few weeks ago for 30 days for similar misconduct. Capt. Grant took care of the other tramp, John Kenny, and brought him to jail afoot.

This morning judge Coddington sent both Kenny and Mitchell to jail for 60 days, and fined them $25 apiece besides.

HOLMES AND HIS COMRADES.

They Give Good Music to a Delighted Audience in Vincent Chapel.

An audience thoroughly appreciative of college music filled Vincent chapel last evening, to hear the Princeton quartette.

The concert was a complete success in every respect.

The orange and black reigned supreme. In the centre of the platform, directly back against the wall, was a very pretty arrangement of the colors of New Jersey's college, which surrounded the word "Princeton."

The fact that a Plainfielder, Alfred Holmes, would appear, increased the enthusiasm and attendance, and he was warmly received by his many friends, who enjoyed his excellent singing, for he has indeed a wonderful voice. Of the others, nothing but the highest praise can be spoken, and the several selections rendered showed careful training.

The singing was interspersed with recitations by Miss Anna Teal and Miss Etta Raybert, and a piano solo by Miss Marguerite Barnes. This diversion was a most pleasing one. The selections were well given, and loudly applauded.

The following programme was rendered with numerous encores:

Old Nassau.
Medley.
Breeze of Night.
Recitation..........Miss Teal
Solo..........Alfred Holmes
Moonlight Night.
Maiden.
Plantation Melodies.
Piano Solo..........Miss Barnes
Reveries.
Solo..........R. Z. Hartzler
Medley.
Thompson's Mule.
Recitation..........Miss Raybert
Orange and Black.
Sleep, Thou Wild Rose.
Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me} By request.
Rock of Ages}

SUES FOR $25,000.

Jacob Smalley Wants that Amount from the Jersey Central Railroad.

Jacob S. Smalley, of Bound Brook, was nearing the tracks of the Jersey Central railroad just west of Bound Brook in January. There was a freight train going west. He waited till it passed, and looked in both directions. The gates were wide open, and he started across. As soon as he got on the track, an eastbound Philadelphia fast train struck and killed his horse, demolished his sleigh, and threw Mr. Smalley thirty feet in the air. As a result of his injuries he was three weeks unconscious, and nearly dead, and is only just recovering.

The doctors say he will never be able to work again at his trade of carpentry.

He's a young man, the state of his health is reported to have been excellent before his injury, and he believes he should recover heavy damages.

Judge W. A. Coddington has been retained as his counsel to bring suit against the company for $25,000.

WRECKED ON ITS SECOND TRIP.

Mr. Watson's Fine New Buggy in a Collision.

James Potter, coachman for George Watson, the Newark clothier, had a narrow escape from serious injury on Park avenue, late Friday afternoon. According to his story he had just left Mr. Watson's home on Crescent avenue, and was returning to Hedden's stable with the horse. He drew up along the curb in front of the wheelmen's headquarters, to speak to a friend, when he was run into by a stage. Potter was thrown out and slightly injured, and Mr. Watson's $325 buggy, which had been run only once before, was badly damaged. The horse was so badly cut on one of the hind legs that it was necessary to call a veterinary surgeon.

The Police Problem.

The great need of more effective police force in the borough was informally discussed by the mayor and council Friday night. The conclusion reached was that to have two regular marshals on duty day and night, as there should be, would be more expensive than the present appropriation permits, and the mayor advised that special marshals be appointed in all parts where needed to suppress rowdyism and vagrancy, with power to make arrests whenever occasion demanded.

Cornelius Barry Takes a Bath.

The earth excavated from the Y. M. C. A. building lot is dumped by carts along the bank of the brook at the rear. This morning the horse driven by Cornelius Barry got too near the edge and went headlong down the bank, boy, cart and all. Barry was thoroughly soaked by being plunged into the cold, wet brook. The horse was slightly lamed for awhile, and it was feared a leg was fractured, but presently he was able to resume work.

Praise for the Faithful, Rebuke for the Remiss.

Mayor Saunders last night took occasion to praise the prompt and thorough work of councilman [illegible] of the finance committee and to censure sharply the repeated and seemingly inexcusable absence of councilman [illegible] from the sessions.

NO LACK FOR SCHOOL ROOM.

AT LAST NORTH PLAINFIELD WAKES TO ITS DUTY.

$16,000 Voted for Enlargement of the Present School-House—This Will Provide for All Needs for 10 Years to Come—No More Damp Basements for Class Rooms.

Endorsement of the plan of the trustees for North Plainfield school-house enlargement was almost unanimous, Thursday night, and $16,000 was voted to be expended in accomplishing the improvement. The payment of this sum will be realized without material additional burden of taxation, thanks to the wise forethought and careful planning of the school trustees.

The meeting was held in the basement of the school-house, and the damp, rheumatic chill of the place made an effective object-lesson against the continuance of the use of the cellar for school-room purposes.

For it is a lamentable fact, hitherto noted in these columns, that the North Plainfield school-house has long been so overcrowded that some of the little ones have been obliged to pass the school hours in the dungeon-like apartments below ground, while others have been compelled to divide the use of one class room up stairs, by alternating sessions. This has been a condition not only preventive of the proper pursuance of study, but injurious and dangerous to health and life.

For years an effort has been made by the trustees to impress on the voters full realization of the needs of the district, but their plans for the good of the people have been repeatedly balked by the parsimony of those fearful of increasing the taxes.

Recently it came to North Plainfield's knowledge that unless she speedily provided the increased accommodation needed the State would withhold its portion of school money, and rather than lose that allotment the voters have at last decided to do the proper thing.

Dr. H. K. Carroll in the chair and E. L. Bonney as secretary served at the voters' meeting last night.

School trustee R. St J. McCutchen gave a plain understanding of the state of affairs. He portrayed clearly the need of more accommodation, and reviewed the various plans that had been suggested. The trustees—he said—had dismissed as too expensive the proposition to erect new and separate school-houses in different parts of the district. Of course if the voters would put unlimited means into the hands of the trustees they would be glad to construct and operate a model system of schools scattered throughout North Plainfield; but they had studied how to achieve the best results at the minimum expense, and the plan now recommended was the result of their most careful deliberation.

That plan was to project out towards Somerset street an addition to the existing school building, to contain eight class-rooms. Of these only three were needed immediately, and the others would provide for all school needs of the district for ten years to come; but the trustees felt it wisest to build for the future as well as for the present.

Mr. McCutchen added that according to careful estimates the cost of the addition would be not more than $16,000. He concluded with an eloquent appeal for the support of the trustees' plan, and offered a resolution that the trustees be authorized and directed to expend not more than $16,000 in providing an addition to the building as proposed.

When, on being regularly seconded, it was announced that this resolution was open to discussion, which was heartily invited, there was a dead silence.

Picturesque John Goodwin, the good borough watchdog, who had been leaning against a whitewashed brick pillar, came forward and shook his shaggy mane.

For once John was on the right side of the fence.

"I tell you, gents,"—he said, earnestly—"something's got to be done mighty quick. This cellar hain't no fit place for no child to study into. No wonder they's complainin' about their tender little limbs, full of dampness and rheumaticks."

A noble speech, John, and after that the resolution went through with bells on.

The only Peter Emmons, the most affable and best natured councilman the borough ever had, and Frank Curtis, acted as tellers for the collection and counting of votes.

The ballot stood:

For the resolution—69. Against—6.

The announcement of this was received with great applause. Mr. McCutchen said that the trustees appreciated the confidence in them expressed by the vote, and moved the adoption of a second resolution authorizing the issuing of bonds to meet the expense. This was adopted by the vote of 56 to 3. The bonds are to be 32 in number, and of $500 each. Nos. 1 to 5, inclusive, are to come due in 1903; 6-11, 1904; 12-17, 1905; 18-23, 1906; 24-30, 1907; 31-32, 1908; payable by taxation. It is stipulated that they shall be floated at not more than 5 per cent. Mr. McCutchen said he hoped to get them taken for less than that. The object in having them mature so late is to have them not come due till the existing bonds are paid off. The last of the present bonds will be met in 1902, and by the plan adopted the rate of taxation will not be materially increased, as the new bonds do not begin to mature till the old ones are out of the way.

During the evening some interesting remarks were dropped by a well-known citizen who insisted that there was too much "eddication" nowadays, and that 'twas all nonsense to keep young people in school from the time they were 6 till they got to be 18. They'll be puttin' up a college next—he said.—Twa'n't so when I was a boy.

Kill the Prodigal, the Calf's Come Back.

The boy of Wm. Elisha Johnson whose absence from town in company with "Baldy" Clark has caused so much trouble, returned home voluntarily yesterday afternoon. He is a crack pool player for a boy, and has been beating smart fellows in other towns.

Defects in the Borough Lock-up.

The Borough committee on marshals last night reported that they had thoroughly examined the jail; that the cells needed whitewashing; that the water pipes ought to be extended to enable the cells to be flushed; that the defects in the unsatisfactory electric-lighting service should be remedied; that a new and safe lock should be provided as the existing one could be opened with a common key and whiskey smuggled to the prisoners; and that a light should be placed at the rear entrance, as that alley was now dark and dangerous. The report was received and filed. Its recommendations will come up for adoption later.

Only a Fake of Some of the Courier Staff.

Councilmen Neal and Howell Friday openly and utterly repudiated the disgraceful stories that appeared in the New York Sunday Sun, Sun, and other papers, that human life was unsafe in the borough on account of tramps. The stories were pronounced gross misrepresentations calculated to injure the reputation of the borough. The councilmen wondered how such reports got abroad. [illegible]

FOR A MODERN CRUSADE.

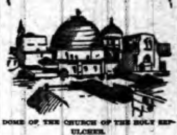
A New Movement to Recover the Sepulcher of Christ.

The Army of the Holy Cross and Its Peaceful Warfare—Jingling Gold to Be the Weapon Employed by the Soldiers.

A new crusade for the rescue of the sepulcher of Christ and all the other holy places in Jerusalem from the grasp of the unbeliever is now being preached by the Catholic church. The pope has given it his sanction, and the army of the Holy Cross is organizing throughout all Catholic christendom. Not with sword and lance, however, will its great battles be fought, nor with the modern "arms of precision" that have taken the place of those ancient accoutrements of the soldiers of Godfrey de Bouillon. Neither will there be clash of arms and bloodshed, nor boom of cannon and powder smoke. No armed mass of moving men will attack the infidel in his strongholds; neither will hungry hordes of zealots attempt the impossible task of crossing a hostile country in pursuit of a chimerical but sublime idea.

Children may join the new crusade as they joined that preached by the youthful Stephen in France and the young Nicholas in Germany, and as thousands of them have no doubt joined in spirit the gayly panoplied throngs that followed Frederick, of Barbarossa, Richard of the Lion Heart or St. Louis, when they read the doings of those doughty heroes in the chronicles of olden days.

The new crusade is not being conducted on the same lines as those of Peter the Hermit and St. Bernard. It is being preached with equal fervor, no doubt, but the methods proposed are entirely different. It is preeminently a nineteenth century idea and will probably have the usual nineteenth century effectiveness. The leaders of the new movement intend to rely upon the power of gold rather than upon force of arms or strategy to win their battles, and will try to purchase with accumulated wealth what so many lives and so much treasure were vainly sacrificed to win.



DOME OF THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY SEPULCHER.

The duties of the modern crusader will be confined to furnishing the means wherewith to make this possible. There is but one condition imposed upon those who join the army of the Holy Cross, the payment of the prescribed fee—25 cents annually or $12 for a life membership. The army numbers hundreds of thousands of members all over the world and already counts its membership in America by the thousands. Its headquarters in the United States are in the city of New York.

With the contributions furnished the army has already purchased the Turkish hovels that surrounded the ancient basilica of St. Joseph, the first church ever dedicated to the foster father of Jesus, said to have been erected on the site of his workshop, and at Nazareth a house for Catholic pilgrims is being erected with these funds. But the grand idea of the army is to raise sufficient money to purchase all the shrines, including the holy sepulcher, which is now, as it has been since the year 1808, under the joint control of the orthodox Greek priests and the Franciscan fathers, who have charge of it on behalf of the Roman church.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher is a very large building, and includes beneath its roof, besides the traditional tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, wherein Christ was laid, many other spots made sacred by association with the passion and death of the Redeemer. The holy sepulcher stands right under the cupola, and about ninety feet away from it is the rock of Calvary, whereon the cross was raised. Just across the rotunda is an altar marking the spot where Christ appeared to Magdalene, and farther on is the prison of Christ.

Another altar is at the spot where the Roman soldiers divided Christ's garments, and just at the foot of the steps which lead to the chapel of Calvary is the stone on which Christ sat when crowned with thorns and mocked in the pretorium. On the rock of Calvary are the places where Jesus was stripped of His garments, the spot where He was nailed to the cross, the place where the cross was planted and the spot where His lifeless body was placed in His mother's arms after being taken down from the cross. Here also is one of the rocks that were split across at the time of His dissolution.

The Chapel of Holy Sepulcher, the center of all the sanctuaries, is divided into two parts. First is the Chapel of the Angel, wherein the angel appeared on Easter morning, and where there is shown a piece of the stone that closed the tomb, on which he sat, and then comes the sepulcher itself. The entrance to this is so low that a person can only enter in a stooping position or on bended knees, and there is barely room within for three persons at a time. The original rock is covered over with white alabaster to preserve it from profanation, and the slab now there is said to be the identical one put in place by St. Helen, the mother of Constantine the Great. On panels behind the tomb are two representations in relief of the resurrection, one belonging to the Greeks and the other to the Romans. The latter is a beautiful solid silver reproduction of Raphael's famous painting.

SUNSPOTS AND STORMS.

One of the Cases Where They May Have Been Connected Somehow.

There is a growing belief among meteorologists, although it has not yet been generally accepted as true, that the outbreak of fresh sunspots, or important changes of their shape, attends and perhaps causes great terrestrial storms. The kind of evidence on which such people rely may be illustrated by recent occurrences. A weak storm, that was slowly moving from Kansas across Missouri toward Wisconsin, acquired great intensity, and its effects were felt from the gulf of Mexico to the great lakes and from the Upper Mississippi valley to the New England coast. It was, says the New York Tribune, an exceptional disturbance. Through a small telescope on Tuesday, April 18, one might have seen the spots A and B, and only one of the group C, the first named having a small companion. All these would have been further to left hand than in this diagram. But on Saturday they would have been in the places indicated. The companion of A had then disappeared, and E had come into view by the sun's rotation. In the region marked D there were "faculae," or bright patches, on the site of which five small spots developed a few hours later. And between Tuesday and Saturday an extensive group had formed around the pioneer C. A and B are old spots; E did not come into view in time to have any effect, according to the latest doctrine. Believers in cosmic meteorology, therefore, would connect last week's [illegible]

[illegible]

DANIEL N. MORGAN.

Personal Gossip About the New Treasurer of the United States.

The president's selection for treasurer of the United States was Mr. Daniel N. Morgan, of Bridgeport, Conn., and for assistant treasurer at New York city Mr. Conrad N. Jordan. Mr. Morgan is a prominent citizen of Connecticut, and is now a state senator. He served as mayor of Bridgeport for three terms, and in that town is held in high regard as a man of business, society and politics. For ten years he has been the president of a national bank in Bridgeport. Though Mr. Morgan's appointment is credited as belonging to the president personally, he is not without indorsements in his candidacy for the place. These indorsements were from leading bankers of the state, and also from men of political influence. Mr. Morgan is about fifty years old, and is in the very vigor of his maturity.

HON. DANIEL N. MORGAN.

Native Courtesy of Women.

Ledyard, the great traveler, says that among all nations women adorn themselves more than men, but that whenever found they are the same kind, civil, humane and tender beings, inclined to be cheerful, timorous and modest. He has found the women on the plains of inhospitable Denmark, through honest Sweden, frozen Lapland, churlish Finland and unprincipled Russia more hospitable and generous than men, full of courtesy, fond of society, but industrious, economical and ingenious. And whenever the traveler, in the language of decency and friendship, has asked a question of any woman, civilized or savage, he has always received a decent and friendly answer, while with men it is often otherwise.

The Sun Never Sets on Our Country.

Taking the most eastern island of Maine as our eastern boundary and the most western island of the Aleutian chain as our western boundary it is calculated that at the present time the sun does not disappear from the latter until it begins to appear on the former. But it is allowed that it is a very close call.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 10, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

[illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect MAY 14, 1893

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Newark [illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 12,000 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—49 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address.
Albion Hotel, The	Park av and 9th st
Ames, C. J.	15 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Ackerman, Mrs. J. H.	29 West 7th street
Adams, Dr D G	46 Grove st
Brainerd, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac N	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	8th and Union sts.
Barkalew & Dunn	18 North ave.
Boone, W. G., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central Av.
Bunnell, John	Central ave, and 8th st.
Beerbower, J B	Park av and 2d st
Berg, Jos F, M D	10 E 6th st
Board of Education—8th st, 9th and Union sts
Booth, S S	23 Madison ave
	6th & Liberty, 4th & Monroe
Clark, B S	3 Waywood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave
Clawson, James T	Richmond and Front sts
CONSTITUTIONALIST Office	3 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr J H	Manning and Westervelt aves.
Cox, Rowland	Seventh st
Chapman, Mrs. F. J	9 Third Place
Cruikshank, S. A.	126 Clinton avenue
Carman, J H, M D	40 Somerset st
Chase, B F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (J B Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
DAILY PRESS	3 North ave.
Depew, Mrs. E. H.	10 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	48 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 6th st & Park av
Day, B M	Rockview ave
Demarest, P M	37 Park av
Dumont, John B	38 E 7th st
Decker, T—pay station	Westfield, N J
DeGraff, James	22 E 9th st
Doane, T O—Chief P F D	40 W 8th st
Dollner, S L	131 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 4th st.
Evening News, T.W. Morrison, Editor	7 Som't st.
Engine No 1	West 3d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo C	37 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J.	29 West Seventh St
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR, Depot.
French, F M & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	23 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	20 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	6 W 7th st
French, C Frank	80 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	28 W 6th st
Goddard, C M	17 Third Place.
Griffen, A M	15 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	5th and New sts
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 8th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
Heyniger, L	31 & 33 Somerset street.
Hogeman, B. A	107 Sycamore avenue.
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	48 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas	141 Front street.
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave.
Higgins, M. A.	78 East 5th st—29 North ave
Hetfield, John N	304 South 2d st—21 Park av
Harder, Francis C	132 Madison av
Hermance, O	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	20 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L	94 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	13 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	5th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	60 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 9th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Rice	7th, 40 Broadway
Laire, J P & Co	3 W Front st
Linke, Frank	42 W Front st
Lounsberry, P C	13 Plain, [illegible] ave
Myers, J K	17 [illegible] 7th st
McGee, Henry A	Willow ave
McGee, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J G	10 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A	30 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	101 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	40 Grove st
Milliken, B F	120 Central av
Morrison, T W	21 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	46 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	E Fifth st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood.
Newhall, Henry B	16 E 7th st.
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
Pearson, Jr., Thos B	Rockview ave
Plainfield Gaslight Co	49 East Fourth St
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue
Plainfield Beef Co	3d and Washington sts
Police Station—Chief's office	3 Park ave
Police Station	Park ave and RR.
Potter C J Jr	5th and Division sts.
Potter, Press Works	South ave.
Probasco, Dr J B	41 Front st.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave. and 6th st
Pope & Co. J. C	6 East Front st
Pittis Thomas	124 Central av
Pond Mach Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierson Hardware Co	42 W Front st
Runyon, F W	1 Front St—Central Times
Reed, Chas A	27 Myrtle ave
Randolph, Henry C	Broadway
Rosecrans, L. A	30 Broadway
Reynolds, H F	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. F	Washington avenue
Roberts, D S	17 North avenue.
Rockfellow, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	40 Madison ave
Rushmore, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
Rooms, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Sycamore aves.
Runkle, H. G	8th st
Runyon, Chas W	Park ave
Rice, Jr. W. & Co	7th cor. Emily and Duer sts
Randolph, L W	Front st
Rogers, D W	W [illegible]
Rogers, E P jr	24 Westervelt ave
Stover, H W	30 east 5th st
Serrell, Lemuel W	Front st. and Plainfield ave
Seguine, C. J	60 Front street.
Shaw, E J	Front st. opp. Park ave.
Streall, A S	Prospect ave.
Smith, W F	Belvidere av, Netherwood
Shepherd, A D	Fanwood
Smith, Jas A	12 W Front st
Scott, Walter & Co	South ave
Smith, Chas A	Spring st., Westfield, N J
Stelle, Irving G	Sixth st
Terrill & Cole	16 E Front st
Thompson, A. D	20-21 North av
Talmadge, Henry P (Res)	Netherwood.
Thickstun, Jno A	Madison av
Tilsworth, Jos M	23 W. 7th st.
Tomlinson, Dr T S	La Grande and E B'dwy
Tobin & Ensander	51 North av
Tracy, J Evarts	5th and Division st
Thorn, Alex	37 Somerset st
Tweedy, O. B.	11 Crescent avenue
Townsend, Samuel	68 Rockview av
Thompson, A. D.	Prospect ave
Telegraph Office	Plainfield station
Thorn, E.	76 W Front st
United States Express Co	5 North ave
Union Co Country Club	Cor 7th st & Arlington
Van Sickle W. J	19 North ave
Wharton, Clifton	17 Central av
Wolfman, C	West Seventh street
Wadsworth, W E	5th and Liberty sts
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot
Welchers, J F	W 6th st., near Grand ave
Waters, E, Ass't Chief	3d st near Washington
Westfield, pay station	Westfield, N J
Witherspoon O G	148 E. Front st

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Asbury Park, N J	[illegible]	Hempstead N Y	[illegible]
Astoria, N Y	[illegible]	Hoboken N J	[illegible]
Babylon, N Y	[illegible]	Hunter's Point N Y	[illegible]
Bath, N Y	[illegible]	Irvington N J	[illegible]
Bayonne N J	[illegible]	Islip N Y	[illegible]
Bergen Point N J	[illegible]	Jamaica N Y	[illegible]
Bayside N Y	[illegible]	Jersey City N J	[illegible]
Bay Shore N Y	[illegible]	Keyport N J	[illegible]
Bayville N Y	[illegible]	Kingston N J	[illegible]
Belleville N J	[illegible]	Laurel Hill N Y	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bloomfield N J	[illegible]	Little Neck N Y	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Little Silver N J	[illegible]
Boonton N J	[illegible]	Long Branch N J	[illegible]
Brooklyn N Y	[illegible]	Madison N J	[illegible]
Caldwell N J	[illegible]	Matawan N J	[illegible]
Carlstadt N J	[illegible]	Millburn N J	[illegible]
Centreville N J	[illegible]	Montclair N J	[illegible]
Chatham N J	[illegible]	Morristown N J	[illegible]
Chester N J	[illegible]	Newark N J	[illegible]
Colt's Neck N J	[illegible]	New Brunswick N J	[illegible]
Coney Island N Y	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	New York N Y	[illegible]
Dover N J	[illegible]	Orange N J	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Elizabeth N J	[illegible]	Paterson N J	[illegible]
Englewood N J	[illegible]	Perth Amboy N J	[illegible]
Fairview N J	[illegible]	Rahway N J	[illegible]
Fanwood N J	[illegible]	Red Bank N J	[illegible]
Far Rockaway N Y	[illegible]	Seabright N J	[illegible]
Flatbush N Y	[illegible]	Short Hills N J	[illegible]
Flushing N Y	[illegible]	South Amboy N J	[illegible]
Fort Lee N J	[illegible]	South River N J	[illegible]
Franklin Park N J	[illegible]	Staten Island N Y	[illegible]
Freehold N J	[illegible]	Westfield N J	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Woodbridge N J	[illegible]
Glen Cove N Y	[illegible]	Yonkers N Y	[illegible]
Gravesend N Y	[illegible]	Trenton N J	[illegible]
Hackensack N J	[illegible]	Tarrytown N Y	[illegible]

TWENTY

Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Front street

MR. JOHN H. STEVENS, Horseshoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Interfering and Interfering Horses. [illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
[illegible]

PRETTY MRS. BISSELL.

The Charming Wife of Mr. Cleveland's Postmaster General.

From a Struggling Music Teacher She Became a Concert Singer and Eventually the Better Half of a Famous Lawyer.

A man destined to come into special prominence during the present administration is Postmaster General Bissell. Every one knows something of Gresham and Carlisle, every one is wondering about Hoke Smith, but, before many months have passed, says the Illustrated American, Wilson S. Bissell will loom up before the country as one of the strong and silent powers behind the throne.

He is a Yale man.

Personally, Mr. Bissell is well calculated for any looming-up role. He weighs three hundred pounds, and wears a hat as large as any statesman in Washington with the single exception of Senator Voorhees, whose size is seven and three-quarters. It is easy to pick him out any evening strolling about the Arlington hotel, puffing at his inevitable cigarette, and radiating good nature from his round, fat, clean-shaven face. Plainly, there is nothing the matter with this man's digestion.

Mr. Bissell does not give the idea of a Romeo, and yet his recent marriage has a pleasant tinge of romance connected with it. Miss Louise Sturgis, a few years ago, was teaching music in the Buffalo seminary. She was a pretty, brown-haired girl, whose earnest eyes lighted up with a glow of hope whenever she thought of the ambition of her life—musical success. That, and not social distinction, was the object of her dreams. Many times at Wells college she had discussed her projects with Miss Frances Folsom, her dearest friend. She was determined to go abroad and study voice culture under some of the great teachers of Germany and France. She saved money enough from her teaching to partially carry out the plan, and finally sailed for Paris. There her fine contralto voice was strengthened and developed by Mme. La Grange, and, after a subsequent course of lessons with Stockhausen, Miss Sturgis returned to America fully expecting to devote her life to concert singing.

MRS. WILSON S. BISSELL.

But she reckoned without the six-foot, red-cheeked bachelor lawyer who was making his $50,000 in big corporation cases, and who presently, with his usual quick decision, came to have his own ideas as to the best uses for that fresh young voice. Mr. Bissell saw Miss Sturgis for the first time at a concert in Buffalo, where she made one of her first appearances as a soloist. Her success with the audience was distinct; her success with the future postmaster general was overwhelming.

"I think I had better marry that young lady," Mr. Bissell is reported to have said in an audible soliloquy. If such was the case the love shock must indeed have been tremendous, for the lawyer was a man as close-mouthed as he was clear-headed.

Anyhow he did marry her, and now they have a baby daughter about the age of Baby Ruth—a lovely little child.

Those who saw Mrs. Bissell the other day when, with matronly dignity, she assisted Mrs. Cleveland in receiving the ladies of the diplomatic corps, would scarcely have recognized in her the slender, almost frail-looking young singer who returned to Buffalo in 1890 to fight her way in the world. Like Mrs. Cleveland she has developed wonderfully in face and figure since her marriage. Her figure is tall and well rounded, and she carries her head with the grace of a princess. Those who thought she would be awkward or ill at ease in the difficult position were much mistaken. Mrs. Bissell shares with her husband that grand American quality of being able to rise to the situation. Not so many months ago she was a singer and teacher of music, struggling bravely for a livelihood. To-day she is one of the chief ladies in the land. And the inherent strength and sweetness of her character make it as easy for her to face the one situation as the other.

Mrs. Bissell's couturiere understands cutting chic gowns, and Mrs. Bissell knows how to wear them. She has blue eyes, brushes her hair straight back from her forehead, and when she wants her big brainy husband to do any particular thing he does it.

Mrs. Bissell's will be a strongly felt influence in Washington society. What she thinks "Wils" is apt to think; what "Wils" thinks "Grove" is pretty sure to approve, and what "Grove" approves goes.

A Hint to Clergymen.

In a church in the north of England on a recent Sunday morning a clergyman, appealing for subscription for the steeple fund, addressed his congregation as follows: "Now, my dear friends, I hope you will subscribe handsomely, as we are earnestly in need of funds; but before you do so I wish to say that you must be just before you are generous. Therefore, brethren, if any of you owe money, pray think of your own private claims first!" It is hardly necessary to add that every member of the congregation gave his quota to the collection.

A Vegetable T[illegible]

One of the most remarkable of trees or shrubs grows near some springs about twelve miles north of Tuscarora, says the Horticultural Times. It is about six or seven feet high, with a trunk which, at its base, is three times the size of an ordinary man's wrist. It has numberless branches and twigs, and resembles somewhat the barberry. Its truly wonderful characteristic is its luminosity, which is so great that on the darkest night it can be plainly seen a mile away. A person standing near could read the finest print by its light. Its foliage is extremely rank, and its leaves resemble somewhat those of the aromatic bay tree in shape, size and color. The luminous property is due to a gummy substance, which can be transferred to the hand by rubbing.

Again the Redingote.

Besides the stylish and ladylike tailor-made coats, with their gracefully gored skirts en suite, redingote effects will multiply continually from this time to the summer season. These, particularly for matrons, will take the place of many of the cumbersome street costumes now worn, as no wrap of any description is needed, or indeed looks well above a redingote dress. The modern redingote manipulated by French hands, and much in its effect like a princess gown open in front, has lost its original severe appearance through the addition of waistcoats, wide revers going over the shoulders from belt to belt, girdles, cape collars, pocket flaps, etc. Upon a few of the new models a suggestion of panier-like draperies appears.

The Hint Was Sufficient.

"You don't call on Miss Cutting any more, I hear, Blobber?"

"No."

"Did she reject you?"

"Not exactly; but when I first began calling there was a mat at the door with the motto 'Welcome' woven in it, and a motto on the wall that read: 'Let Us Love One Another.' Later I noticed that the door mat was changed for one that said: 'Wipe Your Feet,' and a motto declaring that 'Early to Bed and Early to Rise Makes You Healthy, Wealthy and Wise,' had taken the place of the other one."—Browning, King & Co.'s Monthly.

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS | MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenu,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-26-y

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.
Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

Their Relations Analyzed by Col. Robert G. Ingersoll.

Col. Ingersoll, in an article in the New York Morning Journal, says: Of course England has no love for America. By England I mean the governing class. Why should monarchy be in love with republicanism, with democracy? The monarch insists that he gets his right to rule from what he is pleased to call the will of God, whereas in a republic the sovereign authority is the will of the people. It is impossible that there should be any real friendship between the two forms of government.

R. G. INGERSOLL.

We must, however, remember one thing, and that is, that there is an England within England—an England that does not belong to the titled classes, an England that has not been bribed or demoralized by those in authority—and that England has always been our friend, because that England is the friend of liberty and of progress everywhere. But the lackeys, the snobs, the flatterers of the titled, those who are willing to crawl that they may rise, are now and always have been the enemies of the great republic.

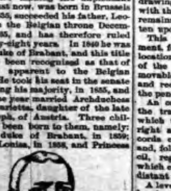
It is a curious fact that in monarchical governments at least the highest and lowest are generally friends. There may be a foundation for this friendship in the fact that both are parasites—both live on the labor of honest men. After all, there is a kinship between the prince and the pauper. Both extend the hand for alms, and the fact that one is jeweled and the other extremely dirty makes no difference in principle—and the owners of these hands have always been fast friends, and, in accordance with the great law of ingratitude, both have held in contempt the people who supported them.

One thing we must not forget, and that is that the best people of England are our friends. The best writers, the best thinkers are on our side. It is only natural that all who visit America should find some fault. We find fault ourselves, and to be thin-skinned is almost a plea of guilty. For my part, I have no doubt about the future of America. It not only is, but is to be for many, many generations, the greatest nation of the world.

LEOPOLD, OF BELGIUM.

Sketch of the Ruler of a People Who Are Now Turbulent.

King Leopold, of Belgium, whose subjects are making life unpleasant for him just now, was born in Brussels April 9, 1835, succeeded his father, Leopold I., on the Belgian throne December 10, 1865, and has therefore ruled for twenty-eight years. In 1840 he was created duke of Brabant, and this title has since been recognized as that of the heir apparent to the Belgian throne. He took his seat in the senate on reaching his majority, in 1855, and in the same year married Archduchess Marie Henrietta, daughter of the late Duke Joseph, of Austria. Three children have been born to them, namely: Leopold, duke of Brabant, in 1859; Princess Louisa, in 1858, and Princess



LEOPOLD, KING OF THE BELGIANS.

Stephanie, in 1864, widow of Crown Prince Rudolph, of Austria, whose tragic death a few years ago was the sensation of two continents. Leopold has proved a safe king and conservative ruler, as was evidenced by his selection by the great European powers as king of the Congo state. He has traveled extensively, is deeply interested in art, and is well liked by his subjects.

[illegible]

Miss Shoddie—What's this, maw?

Mrs. Shoddie—That there's a antique coat of mail wot I bought at them art rooms. It's to stand in the front hall.

"But what for?"

"What for? You'd better read history a little. I want folks to think that our ancestors was [illegible]

THE TELAUTOGRAPH.

An Instrument for Long-Distance Business Transactions.

Prof. Elisha Gray's Wonderful Invention—How Writing Is Sent from One Place to Another—Secrets of the Machine.

Prof. Elisha Gray, of Highland Park, Ill., has devoted his life to the perfection of systems of communication by electricity. His first work pertained to improvements in the Morse telegraph, which, for many years, was the only means of transmitting intelligence electrically. These improvements were followed by his printing telegraph, which transmitted Roman characters, and was especially adapted to private line work. A number of these Gray printers are still in use. His next invention was the musical telephone, which enabled the operator to play upon an organ in Chicago to a New York audience. From the musical came the speaking telephone, of which Prof. Gray was the inventor, and for which history will give him credit. Almost simultaneously with the speaking telephone, was his production of the harmonic telegraph, allowing eight messages to be sent over one wire at the same time. But his crowning effort is the most wonderful of all electrical inventions, the telautograph, or long distance writing machine.

This consists of a transmitter and a receiver associated for use at one station. The structure of these instruments is remarkably simple and devoid of complication, and the mode of operation is in all respects direct and positive. The methods for transmitting the electric impulses to the line, and then converting them in the receiver into the corresponding movements of the automatic pen, are of a positive character, and are therefore not dependent upon accidental changes in conditions. In the telautograph the direction of the writing or drawing may be done at any angle with the direction of the paper, which remains stationary while being written upon.

PROF. ELISHA GRAY.

This is obviously a great improvement, for no matter what may be the location or speed (up to a certain rate) of the stylus used by the sender, the movable arm of the receiver follows and records exactly every motion of the pencil.

An ordinary lead pencil is used on the transmitter near the point of which two silk cords are fastened at right angles to each other. These cords connect with the instrument, and, following the motions of the pencil, regulate the current impulses which control the receiving pen at the distant station.

A lever at the left is so moved by the hand as to shift the paper forward mechanically at the transmitter and electrically at the receiver. The receiving pen is a capillary glass tube placed at the junction of two aluminum arms. This glass pen is supplied with ink which flows from a reservoir through a small rubber tube placed in one of these arms. The electrical impulses coming over the wire move the pen of the receiver simultaneously with the movements of the pencil in the hand of the sender. As the pen passes over the paper an ink tracing is left, which is always a fac-simile of the sender's motions, whether in the formation of words, figures or sketches.

A Woman Editor in Japan.

Mrs. W. H. Smith, editor of the Japan Gazette, conducts the political and commercial departments of a daily paper with a large circulation and much influence in the orient. Her first contributions were offered four years ago, during her residence in the interior of Japan, where her husband was an English teacher in the government service. Having made a hit in reporting a military review, she was invited to Yokohama and joined the Gazette staff, while her husband entered the business office. It is to be hoped she will not be interfered with by the absurd new law of Japan, which forbids editorial work to women on the alleged ground that it is [illegible]

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.

AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1893. No 21.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

Rates of Advertising

[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.
Double col. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jeeti

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 152, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES H. THEIBS,
Dentist,
10 West Front street. A new local anaesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jeeti

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 160, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 61 E. Front street, corner Elm street. jly1yr

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap1y

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed. m1yl

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.

TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping. Plumbing.
Heater Work. Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6. 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of New York City, I employ excellent first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business at all times and in all cases.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 3 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. P. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO
RAHWAY, N. J.
6-21-y

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
ab21f

ESTABLISHED 1856.

C.E. & J.W. RROWN,
(Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.)
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.
2-12-tf

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,
Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 96.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezer.
Gasolene Stoves,
Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 19 SOMERSET ST. 3-16-tf

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HAWKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York. 3 23 3m e

WANTED.
Honest energetic man to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE.
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
(Successor to T. J. Carey.)
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—33 W. FRONT ST.
[illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

S EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
U. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobacco, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 18 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 112 W. Front street, to 61 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. D. WOOLSTON. J. F. BUCKLE.
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 38 NORTH AVENUE

G. Dickinson
Optician
13 Park Ave.
Plainfield N. J.

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be

Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes, Menus,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything.

WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building).
PLAINFIELD N. J

SEWERS FOR PLAINFIELD.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS ON THE SUBJECT.

All Sections of the City to Be Equitably Treated—Each Citizen to Pay for What He Gets, and as He Gets It—All Should Join in Securing the Enterprise.

Chapter 131 of the laws of 1890 is a lengthy chapter, devoted to drainage of the cities of the State. Long as it is, this law is very good reading to the people of Plainfield just now, because the plan of sewerage proposed by the common council has been formulated in accordance with its provisions.

The first section of the law authorizes the common council of any city of the State to construct a system of sewerage, provided "the owners of at least three-fifths in value of the real-estate, in said city, as shown by the assessor's books, shall petition the common council so to do". When such a petition is presented, the council is given ample authority for thorough and expeditious work.

Many sections of small general interest succeed, until section sixteen is reached. This section provides "that immediately upon the completion of the work, or of a definite part thereof, the common council shall, by resolution, ascertain the whole amount of the costs, damages and expenses of making and constructing drains and sewers, or a system of sewerage or drainage, or any part of such system, so far as completed; and they shall, without delay, apply to the circuit court for the appointment of three disinterested commissioners to make a just and equitable assessment thereof upon all the owners of lands and real estate fronting on the improvements which are peculiarly benefited thereby, in proportion as nearly as may be to the advantage each shall be deemed to acquire".

Section seventeen adds these words: "In case the said costs, damages and expenses shall exceed the amount of said benefits, then the excess shall be assessed upon and paid by the city".

These quotations will suffice to show the manner in which the cost of the proposed system is to be distributed. It will be noted that commissioners must be appointed to assess benefits. In other words, there are to be no free sewers for anybody. All must pay in whole or in part. The decisions of the commissioners are subject to review by the supreme court, and there can be no reasonable doubt as to justice at their hands to all concerned.

As sewers are a necessity in a town of Plainfield's proportions and prospects, it may safely be assumed that every lot-holder will be advantaged to the extent per foot of the minimum cost of lateral sewers. Let us assume that this will be the local assessment in our several streets. Let us then take the cases of John Smith and William Brown, both living on Park avenue, the former east of Ninth street, and the latter west of that street, each possessing a frontage of fifty feet. How will each be assessed?

The cost of an eight-inch sewer laid complete along a fifty-foot lot will be $32.50, or $16.25 against each side of the street. If a six-inch pipe should become the basis of local assessment, Smith would be asked to pay a local assessment amounting to $12.50, and also a proportion in the course of years of $7.50 assessed upon the city. Brown would also pay a proportion in the course of years of $7.50 assessed upon the city, and when he and his neighbors are ready to lay down a six-inch lateral in front of their premises, he will pay therefore $12.50.

It will thus be seen that all sections of the city will be equitably treated, whether they ask for sewers during the first year's work, or afterwards secure them. No one's premises will be drained free from expense. No street will be precluded from the benefits of the system. Each citizen will pay for what he gets, and as he gets it. Some streets will pay towards trunk sewers and for laterals at one and the same time, while other streets will prefer to pay their just proportion of the cost of trunk sewers at the outset, leaving the cost of laterals to come in at another time. In other words, the plan of the council, like the statute of 1890, is broad, comprehensive and thoroughly equitable, and it deserves, and doubtless will receive, the hearty and unqualified support of every thoughtful citizen.

COL. TYLER TALKS OF MILLIONS.

A Plainfield Counselor Dictates Terms to the Government.

Mason W. Tyler, of this city, attorney for a number of importers of hat-trimmings in this city, said, Thursday, concerning the celebrated hat-trimmings case, that the Government could settle the claims of the importers for $6,000,000 instead of $10,000,000 or $12,000,000, as reported. It all depended, he thought, on how closely the lines were drawn when claims were made. There were many goods on which the duty of 50 per cent. had been paid. This was true of silks which the owners claimed were only intended for trimmings although they were just as well adapted for other purposes. Realizing the difficulty of satisfying the Government in these cases, Mr. Tyler said, his clients would probably forego their claims for rebate on these, and insist only upon the repayment of the excess duties that had been charged on articles distinctively intended for trimming hats. The payment upon these constituted the basis of his estimate of $6,000,000.

There should be no difficulty in settling the claim, Mr. Tyler thought, as the Custom house experts could pass upon the invoices first before they were forwarded to Washington. With their knowledge of such goods they would have no trouble in weeding out unjust claims.

Mr. Tyler believed that with the exception of a few hundred thousand dollars due Philadelphia merchants, New York importers held all the claims.

Plainfield Farmers Getting Ahead.

The official crop reports for this section, the past week, are as follows:

PLAINFIELD—The week has been a most favorable one to the farmer, and he has taken advantage of it; plowing planting and seeding progressing; the warm, bright sunshine has been very helpful to all vegetation; only a trace of rain during the week; the average temperature was 59 degrees. JOHN NEARLE.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD—A clear week has helped all crops and given farmers and gardeners a chance to plow and plant and put in potatoes and garden truck; apple trees blooming, and there is a good show for apples and pears; not so many peach blossoms; grass and grain looking fine; most of the blackberry bushes in this section are winter killed.
PETER G. JOHNSON.

Better Take It Down.

The Bickham Friends, owner of Watchung avenue and Third streets, are considering the propriety of taking down the [illegible] in front of their property.

[illegible]

NEXT SEASON'S MUSIC.

CAREFUL PREPARATION BY THE CHORAL SOCIETY.

Already Planning for Greater Triumphs Than Ever Before—Gaul's "Holy City" in Prospect, and Either "Elijah" or Something New.

The music committee of the Plainfield Choral society have issued the following prospectus:

The season just closed has been in many respects the most satisfactory one in the history of the Plainfield Choral society. There has been a marked advance of enthusiasm and interest on the part of the members in the works of the great composers, and the wisdom of rendering chiefly the higher class of music is clearly confirmed.

The Choral society aims to foster in the community taste for the best music, and realizing that its mission is in some degree educational, its members are willing to devote earnest work to the study of serious compositions in preference to those that are more superficial. The lighter music, however, has its subordinate place, and for that reason the society inaugurated this year the plan of giving at the middle concert of its series, a programme of carefully selected part songs and unaccompanied choruses. This has worked admirably, and has received the hearty approval of subscribing members.

For the season of 1893-94, the society will pursue a course of musical study similar to that of the term just completed, and it is proposed to give for the first concert, Gaul's "Holy City", and for the third, "Elijah", or perhaps a new work not before produced in Plainfield. The programme for the second concert will contain selections and short numbers of a more varied character.

The active members appreciate the unqualified expressions of approval received from the subscribers. It has been most interesting to note the steady growth in the community of the appreciation of choral works, and the society is gratified to have its audiences composed of that intelligent class who love music for music's sake.

As it is important that the plans of the work of the society for the coming year shall be arranged at once, it is the particular desire of the managers to receive now the names of subscribers for the next season.

A VOLUME FULL.

Lippincott's Magazine For June.

The complete novel in the June number of Lippincott's is "The Translation of a Savage", by Gilbert Parker, author of "The Chief Factor", "Pierre and his People", "Mrs. Falchion", etc. It has an unusual subject, and tells how an Englishman of family and wealth married an Indian girl of Hudson's Bay and took her home, with results naturally mixed, but better than might have been expected.

The fourth in the series of Lippincott's notable stories—"The Philosophers", by Geraldine Bonner—deals with an extraordinary wedding, in which the men concerned were philosophers indeed. It is illustrated. "Ambition", a play in one act, by Johanna Staats, has a double love-story.

The athletic series is continued in an illustrated article on "Amateur Rowing", by John F. Huneker. In the journalist series, Theodore Stanton descants on "The Foreign Correspondent".

John Burroughs gives "A Glance into Walt Whitman", and Frank A. Burr tells "How Men Write", with portraits of Captain King, J. G. Blaine, Julian Hawthorne, Eugene Field, Joel Chandler Harris, J. W. Riley, Bill Nye, and Walt Whitman.

W. S. Walsh supplies anecdotes illustrating the methods, now more honored in the breach than in the observance, of "The Practical Jester". Alfred Stoddart, in "An Actor's Art", contributes a brief study of Edward S. Willard. "A Colonial Vista", by F. H. W., is a notice of Miss Wharton's "Through Colonial Doorways". "When Doctors Differ", by F. M. B., is a comment on a recent deliverance of Mr. F. Marion Crawford.

M. Crofton, in "Men of the Day", offers pen-pictures of ambassador Bayard, millionaire Mackay, composer Verdi, and editor Burnand.

The poetry of the number is unusually full, containing lyrics by Graham R. Tomson, the late Philip Bourke Marston, Lorimer Stoddard, Bliss Carman, and Harrison S. Morris, besides quatrains by Frank Dempster Sherman, Clinton Scollard and Joel Benton.

That Landlord and Tenant Case.

D. W. Littell says concerning his trouble with J. W. VanSyckel that he is only demanding what is right. He says that VanSyckel's lease of the premises expired April 1; that as a favor to VanSyckel he permitted him to stay till he could get his new shop ready; that VanSyckel agreed to pay $25 monthly rent from April 1; that he subsequently offered only $20, which was refused; that he still owes the April rent; and that to secure the money he has attached all of VanSyckel's goods and they cannot be removed till the April rent is paid.

Mr. VanSyckel reiterates his statement in THE PRESS of yesterday.

Interesting testimony will probably come out at the trial.

A Contractor Who Is Honored at Home.

William T. Kirk has been awarded the contract for the iron work for the new building about to be erected next to the old engine-house on West Second street. The iron work alone will cost $1,200. Charles Burnett is the architect and Terrill & Cole are the owners.

The contract for the iron work on the new Manning building on West Front street has also been given to Mr. Kirk for $1,000.

Look Out for Counterfeits.

The police report that complaints are made to them of numerous attempts to pass counterfeit dollars in town. The counterfeits are said to be "shoved" by the Italians of the street railway gang. A sharp lookout is being kept, and anyone who has a counterfeit proffered him should immediately summon an officer. The false coin is light of weight and easily detected.

The Epworth League Entertains.

The Monroe Avenue chapel was the scene of enjoyment Friday night. The Epworth League of the chapel had a short business meeting at which the vacant vice-presidency was filled by the election of J. F Gildeson. Afterwards a social entertainment was given. Recitations were given by Samuel Kinney, Miss Smith and Mr. Hillman, and music by Miss Hoff, Lena Hillman, Stephen Hoff, Miss Yonkin, Miss King and Miss Hickman. [illegible]

WALLACE INDICTED.

FOUR CHARGES OF ARSON AGAINST HIM.

Counselor Marsh Will Defend the Alleged Firebug May 31—Richardson the Plainfield Bicycle Thief Also Pleads Not Guilty—Other Prisoners.

Lawrence Wallace, the alleged Fanwood firebug and a member of the village fire company, was arraigned in court at Elizabeth Thursday on four indictments for arson. Bail was fixed at $600 in each case, and his mother went his security. He will be tried May 31, and Craig A. Marsh will defend him.

Charles Richardson of Fanwood was arraigned on two charges, obtaining goods under false pretenses, and larceny. He is the Plainfield bicycle thief. To each charge Richardson pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for May 29 and 31. He has been indicted for the theft of Wyckoff's wheel, but not of Martin's.

Captain Jacob Dundore, charged with the killing of Captain Noah Cross, pleaded not guilty. His trial was set down for Monday, May 29.

Oscar Graff and Robert Thiemer, charged with assault and battery, pleaded not guilty. Their trial will take place June 1.

Susan Miller, colored, was arraigned on two counts, larceny and larceny from person; to each charge she entered a plea of not guilty. Trial on both charges was set down for May 29. Lawyer Wolfskiel was assigned by the court as Susan's counsel.

Michael Tobin pleaded not guilty to assault and battery. He will be tried May 31.

George Wilson, accused of breaking, entering and larceny, pleaded not guilty. Trial set down for May 29.

Louis Carlin, a New York lawyer, was arraigned for assault and battery on his wife. He pleaded not guilty, and trial was set down for the week after next.

Patrick Mack pleaded not guilty to breaking, entering and stealing. Trial set down for May 29.

Patrick Carley, charged with assaulting policeman O'Loughlin, pleaded not guilty, and will be tried May 29.

Lawrence Haley, accused of breaking, entering and stealing, pleaded not guilty. Trial was set down for May 31. Lawyer T. M. Kelley was assigned by the court to defend him.

A number of other prisoners against whom indictments have been returned will probably be arraigned Saturday.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Final Arrangements for the Sale of Tickets via the B. & O. R. R.

For the benefit of those desiring to attend the World's Fair the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will sell excursion tickets to Chicago and return, at all stations on its line, at low rates. Tickets will be on sale until Nov. 1, and will be valid for return journey until November 15, 1893. They provide for a reduction of 20 per cent. below regular rates. These tickets will be valid only for continuous journey. Tickets at higher rates will be sold that will permit holders to stop over at Baltimore, Washington, or any other point, going and returning.

Besides the opportunity of visiting Washington, a privilege afforded by no other route, tourists via the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will travel the historic Potomac Valley, the theater of the war between the States. At Cumberland they will be offered a choice of routes, via Pittsburgh, or across the Allegheny mountains, 3,000 feet above the level of the sea, and via Deer Park and Oakland, the famous summer resorts. The scenery along the Baltimore and Ohio route is the most picturesque in America. Pullman accommodations may be reserved in advance of journey. For rates and information apply to nearest B. & O. ticket agent, or Chas. O. Scull, general passenger agent, Baltimore.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. L. E. Livermore.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

Mrs. L. E. Livermore, wife of the Rev. L. E. Livermore, passed away from her earthly home to her heavenly one, Saturday morning, May 13, just as day was breaking, having come from her home in Alfred Center to New York city to consult an eminent physician concerning a disease which was undermining her system. She found awaiting her the Great Physician, who called her home to rest. Her funeral took place Tuesday, May 16, at 2:30 p. m., from the New Market Seventh-Day Baptist church, amidst a large congregation of sorrowing friends. The Rev. Dr. Lewis, of Plainfield, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Platts (a former pastor of the New Market congregation, but now of Alfred Center, N. Y.), and the Rev. A. I. Martine, of the Presbyterian church of Dunellen. Her remains were carried to Hillside cemetery, Plainfield, and placed beside the remains of her daughter, Corine, who died in February, '92.

Mrs. L. E. Livermore was born in New York State in 1844. She early gave herself to the Lord and identified herself with His people. She was married to her husband, the Rev. L. E. Livermore, on the second day of December in 1868, and with him devoted herself to the cause of the Master, whom they loved and delighted to serve.

To the husband, bereft, to the mother who in her new home in Alfred Center mourns and weeps because her daughter is no longer on the earth, to the one who learned to know the deceased as her mother and to all the sorrowing friends, we would extend our sympathy.

YE LOVERS OF PEACHES, REJOICE.

Hunterdon County Sends the Glad News that a Big Crop Is Expected.

Out of 300 inquiries sent to the principal peach growers of the vicinity of Flemington, 200 report that an extra large crop is expected. The buds are in a flourishing condition. Hunterdon county has yielded over a million and a half baskets of peaches in one year, and the prospects are that this year's crop will greatly exceed that amount. Equally encouraging reports come from Warren, Mercer and Somerset counties, where that line of industry has been steadily growing the past few years.

[illegible] Right to Sell on Sunday?

Lorenzo Pucci was arrested by sergeant Kiely Friday on two complaints charging him with selling goods at his North avenue store on Sunday. It is alleged that [illegible]

WHAT SEWERS WILL COST.

LITTLE ANNUAL EXPENSE TO EACH HOUSEHOLDER.

Only One-Sixth of One Per Cent on Each Dollar of Assessed Valuation—Composite Cost Per [illegible]—Total Relief from the Nuisance and Expense of the Excavator Brigade.

The cost of sewers to the individual lot owner can be best comprehended through an ascertainment of the extreme limits of the proposed local sewer assessments and of the general sewer taxes.

As nine-tenths of the pipe to be laid is to be eight-inch pipe, the commissioners appointed to assess benefits cannot equitably assess against the lot-owner benefits beyond the cost of such a pipe laid complete. Let us assume then that the owner of a fifty-foot lot will be asked to pay a local assessment upon that basis. The cost of fifty feet of eight-inch sewer pipe laid complete is $32.50; and $16.25 will therefore be the maximum local assessment against the owner of the fifty-foot lot in question.

If the local assessment is based on an eight-inch pipe, the sum to be assessed on the city on account of trunks, street intersections, man-holes, flushing tanks, and filtration beds, cannot exceed $50,000. Let us assume it will reach that sum, because in all reason it cannot go beyond, and we are seeking the maximum. Let us suppose that council decides to carry this sum, by means of notes or temporary loans, five years, as by the statute of 1890 they are authorized to do—thus avoiding "bonding" altogether. Let the rate of interest be six per cent. This would call for an average annual tax, on account of principal and interest, amounting to $11,666. The present assessed valuation of the city is just about $7,000,000. Let us hold to this valuation as the basis of an extreme estimate, leaving out of consideration any increase in valuation. The general sewer tax would therefore be at the rate of one-sixth of one per cent.

We now have all the items of a maximum estimate of the cost of drainage as applied to a fifty-foot residence property valued by assessor Hubbard at $1,500:

Local assessment..................$16 25
Annual sewer taxes, five in number. 12.50

Total..................$28.75

The local assessment would be due Dec. 20, 1894, and the general taxes would begin at that date and extend to Dec. 20, 1899, at the rate of $2.50 a year.

If we divide the total possible taxation on account of sewers into five equal parts, as council may decide to do, there would be an annual sewer tax of $5.75. This would be the outside sum of sewer taxation; for all additions to the system would, under the statute of 1890, be met by local assessments. This would be taxation without bonds. This would be the utmost limit of expense.

What would the lot-owner get in return for an annual tax of $5.75 during five years?

Total relief from the tariff of the excavator brigade; disappearance from the otherwise unmarred premises of the unspeakable cesspool; a sound, healthy city resting upon an unpolluted soil from which water of unquestioned purity could be drawn.

Would it not be money well expended? Could a lot-owner expend a like sum of money in any other way, and reap equal benefit to his property, his own health and that of his family?

EXPERT YOUNG ATHLETES.

They Give an Interesting Exhibition at the German Fair.

Again Thursday the doors of the Gesang and Turn Verein were thrown open to the public for those wishing to attend the fair, and a large number were present. Quite a number of the articles on the various booths were chanced off. The first feature on the programme was rope climbing, by several of the pupils of the turning society, and the little fellows did nobly. Each member climbed to the top of the rope and took a prize off the ring. This was executed under the guidance of drill master Chas F. Meyer, who deserves credit for the manner in which he has educated his pupils. The fair will be open again this evening, when the different contesting parties will be rewarded for their labors. Dancing will be in progress, and a good time will be had by those who make it a point to be present.

SOME FOOL WITH A CIGAR.

He Set Fire to a Curtain on the German Hall Stage.

During the progress of the fair at the Gesang and Turn Verein hall last evening some one whose name could not be ascertained touched by accident a lighted cigar to one of the curtains on the stage, and in an instant the whole curtain was ablaze. Efforts were made to extinguish the flames, but it was not until the arrival of fireman David Bodine that the fire was put out.

Deluded Mortals.

The Courier two nights ago urged its readers to attend a "Chinese sociable, with refreshments", at the Park Avenue Baptist church Thursday evening at 8. At 8:30 last night the entire subscription list of that journal filed impatiently outside the church, which was locked and in darkness. When the 39 people found they had been hoaxed they went sadly and hungrily away.

He's the Foe of Public Improvement.

An especial object of hatred of the Somerset street news fakir has always been the electric street railway. Its magnificent success and extended growth, in spite of his bitter opposition, fill him with frenzy. That's why he keeps snarling at it what the people have welcomed with joy.

As Popular There as Here.

[illegible]

The Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D., pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church of Plainfield, is always an interesting preacher, and for the past few months, while the church has been without a pastor, he has filled the pulpit here in a most acceptable manner.

His sermon last Sunday morning deeply impressed the attentive audience. It was "A Message from Sing Sing".

[illegible] League.

The Plainfield Athletic association, composed mostly of the Pond Tool works employes, bids fair to be the most prominent organization of the kind in the city. The club rooms are on Lee place and are equipped with everything for athletic amusement but a bowling alley, and that will soon be added. The association is considering the [illegible] of holding a [illegible] in Music Hall at an early date.

CHINAMAN AMUCK.

CRAZED WITH OPIUM, HE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

His Brother Celestial Kept Him from Reaching the Street and Committing Slaughter, and Was Slashed by His Knife for His Pains—Horrible Spectacle on North Avenue.

The Chinaman who caused excitement Tuesday noon by running out of the North avenue laundry wildly down Park avenue to Fifth street, created a sensation at 10:30 Thursday by attempting to butcher his comrades and himself.

As before, he was crazed with opium. He armed himself with a penknife, with a small but sharp blade open, and was making for the street when intercepted by another Chinaman, owner of the shop.

The Chinamen had a fierce struggle. The opium fiend slashed the hands and wrists of the owner of the laundry severely with the knife, and ran into the sleeping room at the rear of the laundry.

There he cut his throat with the penknife, gashing it repeatedly. The Chinaman who was cut on the hands again attempted to control him, but could not.

A third Chinaman ran to Reynolds's pharmacy for some court plaster, and from him the state of affairs was learned.

Policeman Kiely and constable Mattox were summoned, and went into the place.

They found a horrible sight awaiting them.

On the floor lay the opium fiend, writhing in agony, and in his frenzy tearing with his claws at the terrible gap in his throat.

Constable Mattox visited THE PRESS office and through the telephone had physicians summoned.

Sergeant Kiely took the wounded man's hands from his throat and bound them with hempen cord so that he could do no further injury.

Dr. C. M. Field, one of the most skillful surgeons in the country, speedily arrived. He had the semi-conscious body carried from the dark sleeping room with its opium scent and kindred smells, into the light apartment fronting on North avenue.

The wounds in the throat were bleeding profusely, and blood welled up through the mouth.

The place was literally strewn with gore, and the morbid crowd outside the windows shuddered and grew sick in spite of their curiosity.

Dr. Field, who was assisted when they arrived by Drs. Berg and Murray, used abundant absorbent cotton in stanching the flow of blood, and found that though the windpipe was severed no arteries had been cut. To the chattering and fearful Chinamen he gave hopes of the man's recovery.

When the would-be suicide had received all necessary attention, the owner of the place had his hands dressed. They were frightfully cut, being literally crisscrossed with deep gashes.

The spectacle of the blood-bespattered laundry shop, the writhing, gory Chinamen, and the other whose cut hands were running blood, will long be recalled as a most hideous experience by those who saw it.

The affair gave the public an interesting insight into the home of the Chinamen of the laundry. The visitors seemed particularly impressed with the sleeping room, with its curious rows of bunks, its paraphernalia, its burning incense, and its general gloom.

At 3 p. m. the sufferer was removed to the hospital by captain Grant and sergeant Kiely.

Dr. Long, the physician in charge of the hospital this month, said that it was not customary to admit patients to the hospital who were under treatment by private physicians, and that the reason the Chinaman was not readily admitted was because a physician outside the hospital staff had dressed his injuries.

"Fortunately"—added Dr. Long—"the original physician was an incompetent one, so the hospital has decided to take the patient. We cannot tell whether the Chinaman will recover."

The Chinaman was still conscious when taken to the hospital, and tossed about on the mattress in the wagon.

The Metropolitan's Gain is the N. Y. & N. J.'s Loss.

U. N. Bethell, formerly secretary and treasurer of the N. Y. & N. J. Telephone company, was appointed on the 1st inst., acting general manager of the Metropolitan Telephone and Telegraph company of New York to succeed Colonel David B. Parker, resigned. Mr. Bethell, who has many friends in this city, entered the service of the former company in 1889, and resigned to accept his present position. His earnest and faithful discharge of the duties entrusted to him, and his well-known knowledge of the details of the telephone business, eminently qualify him, with his corps of able assistants, for the important post of general manager of the largest, best equipped and managed telephone corporation in the country.

The official staff now includes: Chas. F. Cutler, president; John H. Cahill, secretary; Wm. R. Driver, treasurer; U. N. Bethell, general manager.

Pleasant Evening at the Riding Club.

A large number of people were in the ring at the Riding club last evening, and there was a plentiful sprinkling of spectators to watch the graceful manoeuvres of the equestrians. The dust which was such an unpleasant feature last week was conspicuous by its absence, as the ring had been lavishly watered, which added to the comfort of riders and onlookers alike.

Admission to the rink will be only by invitation, so that the audience will be restricted to friends of members of the club.

Trouble With His Landlord.

D. W. Littell has served on J. W. VanSyckel papers in a landlord and tenant suit. VanSyckel occupies a store owned by Littell, and is ordered to vacate and pay rent due for May.

VanSyckel claims that Littell refused to accept the usual amount of rent, but demanded more, and says that the whole affair is a piece of spite work meant to drive him out of the store before he is ready to get into his new place. He says Littell wants to get another butcher in business there before he can open his new place.

Constable Mattox served the papers.

—Seventy-five thousand dollars is the estimate placed by State Geologist Smock upon the timber and other vegetation destroyed by the recent forest fires in South Jersey.

THEY'LL OUTSHINE THE OIL KINGS

WILL PRESIDENT SAUNDERS AND OTHER POWER COMPANY MAGNATES.

Visions of Fabulous Wealth Floating Before Those to Whom Governor Flower Has Given the Right to Tear Up New York's Streets.

Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, is president of the New York Power company, and the bill just signed by Governor Flower granting that company the right to tear up the streets of that city to lay pipes with which to convey compressed air, and other pipes to carry salt water into buildings for the purposes of power, has millions in it. It is said that one lobbyist alone, who helped the bill through, will get for his services as the company's "lawyer", $50,000.

One New York paper says of the project: "When 50,000 buildings in this city shall be paying to this gigantic octopus an average of $200 a year for power, etc., the total revenue will be $10,000,000 per annum. New York Power Company magnates will then outshine bonanza kings and railway magnates and oil Croesuses."

President Saunders explains the scheme this way: "Both compressed air and salt water", he said, "can be furnished very cheaply. The power will be so economical, in fact, that almost every owner can afford to have it furnished to his building. We expect to run our pipes through the center of blocks and along alleys, so as to reach the rear of buildings. We are satisfied that the project will be a signal success."

THEY'LL BE TRIED MONDAY NIGHT.

Some of the Leading Members of the Plainfield Bar, Will Sit Upon the Alleged Conspirators Against the Royal Arcanum.

The past season for the Plainfield council, Royal Arcanum, has been unprecedented in the success attending the efforts of the members of the council to make it the banner benefit organization of this city. Its membership has not only increased beyond expectation, but the interest shown, as evidenced by a crowded council chamber every meeting night, proves that good work has been accomplished by its officers and members. During the past months several rare treats have been provided the members by the presiding officers; and it goes without saying that those who failed to attend and see for themselves the ruminant with the emerald hirsute, have missed one of the greatest and most extraordinary good things of this life. Next Monday night it is announced that a conspiracy against the aforesaid ruminating animal will be unearthed, and all members, (incidentally, with their friends) are requested to be present as some of the best legal talent of the Plainfield bar has been employed to prosecute and defend the arch-conspirators who will speedily be brought to trial at the close of the council meeting, Monday night, the 22d inst.

A SECOND TEAM THE VICTORS.

Scotch Plains Boys Beaten by the Harned Academy Ball Team.

The Harned academy second team won its first victory this morning over the Scotch Plains team. The playing was very hard on both sides. The Scotch Plains proved themselves to be no amateurs. The score was 16 to 15. The batteries were: Frentz and Illsley; Castaner and Finch. Umpire, J. C. Loftis.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County met on Tuesday, May 9, 1893 at 2 o'clock p. m.

Present—Director Halliday and Freeholders Badgely, Donahue, Hubbard, Howard, Halliday, Hunt, Kyte, Moore, Ball, Scudder, Saner, Trabue, Vanderbeek, Winans and Woodruff.

Absent—Freeholder Swain.

The minutes of last meeting, except bills ordered paid, were read, and on motion approved.

Freeholder Hubbard moved to suspend the rules and proceed to pay bills, which was carried.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and ordered paid:

County Roads—A Huffman $16 25.
Bridges—Victor G Smith $15; Alfred T Crane 90; F L & A Heidritter 16 54.
Stationery—Charles S Schmidt $69.
Publication—Charles S Schmidt $25.
Lunacy—M M Scudder $15 10.
Public Building—Anthony Stein $4 25; Jacob Brucklacher [illegible]; Koenig Bros. [illegible]; Hall & Carlton 43 50; Chas W Irwin 105.
Incidentals—W K McClure $65; A B Cook [illegible].
Salary—Wm M Oliver $200; W K McClure 25.
Committee Expenses—J J Winans $2 45; John J Donahue 3 00; John A Halliday 4 40; A Vanderbeek 10 00; Wm Howard 4 25; Geo Kyte 4 25; W H Barton 8 00; Samuel Halliday 9; J F Hubbard 8 50.
Members' Pay—M M Scudder $79 3?; A Vanderbeek 46; Wm Howard 95 00; Geo Kyte 27 50; J J Winans 16; John A Halliday 42; Samuel Halliday 74; J F Hubbard 66 75.

Freeholder Hubbard moved to take a recess for one hour to enable the collector to finish his annual report, which was carried.

On roll call after recess all the members present except Freeholder Swain.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the grand jury:
To the Jail Committee of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:
Gentlemen—The following is a true copy of a resolution this day passed by the grand jury of the county of Union for the May term, 1893, and ordered by it to be presented to you:
Resolved That this grand jury most sincerely commend Warden John C. Moore and Mrs. Moore, matron, for the efficient and gratifying manner in which their duties are discharged as shown by the thorough order and well kept appearance of the jail in all its departments, and the healthy and cleanly appearance of the inmates confined therein. Signed,
FRANCIS DUNN, Clerk of Grand Jury.

On motion of Freeholder Trabue received and filed.

Agreement with George Conger as draw tender of Milton avenue drawbridge, Rahway was read and on motion of Freeholder Howard approved and ordered filed with the clerk.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Committee on Rahway Street Railway:
To the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders:
Gentlemen—Your committee, to whom was referred the petition of the Rahway Electric Railway to cross certain bridges in the city of Rahway, would respectfully report that the petition be granted as per resolution offered by Freeholder Hubbard at the meeting of the board held April 6, 1893.
Signed, Samuel Halliday, Wm. Howard, Louis Quien, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Saner the report was received and recommendations adopted.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:
Gentlemen—The special committee on South Front street drawbridge, after careful consideration of the matter referred to them, respectfully report and recommend that permission be granted to the Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey to build a new iron drawbridge over the Elizabeth river at South Front street, in the city of Elizabeth, in accordance with the plans hereto annexed; provided said railroad company will at its own expense build said bridge, will take entire charge and management of the present bridge from the time of the beginning of the new bridge to its completion; will take charge of and keep the new bridge in proper repair; will be responsible for all damages sustained by reason of any carelessness or neglect in the care and management of said bridge on part of said railroad company, its servants or employes; will provide suitable accommodation for crossing said river during the construction of said bridge, and will build and complete the same on or before the first day of January, 1894.
Signed, Charles H. Moore, A. Vanderbeek and John J. Donahue, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Saner received, filed and recommendations adopted.

From committee to settle with county collector:
To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:
Gentlemen—Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report that after an examination of his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid and bank books, and find that the same agree and are correct.
Signed, Charles H. Moore, J. Martin Ball, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Howard received and filed.

Continued on Page 2.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE. | A. L. FORCE

Editors and Proprietors.

FINANCIAL GAMBLING.

The most insidious and dangerous foe sound business in this or any other country can encounter is reckless financial speculation, an adroit endeavor to make the bad appear good, to manipulate for unprincipled gain, and to grasp after the possession of enormous wealth without either honest application or intent.

That causes the violent and needless difficulties so often visited upon regular business pursuits and worthy enterprises. It is an outrage which cannot be too forcibly denounced or too speedily suppressed.

The question is not whether gold, silver or paper shall constitute the volume of currency, but whether the merchant and tradesman who legitimately buy and sell, the farmer who diligently ploughs and plants, the artisan and manufacturer who fashion and fabricate, and the mechanic and laborer who toil for daily pay, shall be ruled and wronged by a horde of heartless speculators. A set of financial corsairs bent on seizing other people's property.

That is the question of the day.

Recent developments prove the existence and activity of such hydra-headed pillagers.

On the New York Stock Exchange, one of those much lauded and heavily capitalized "industrials," a combine formed for mercenary gain, and which ought never to have been allowed to associate there with reputable investment stocks, collapsed to the pecuniary injury of a multitude of deluded victims.

In Chicago, a speculative National Bank, not a State wild cat, with a score or more irresponsible branches scattered throughout the West and all busily employed raking in the money of confiding depositors, closes doors and leaves its customers looking into space for the whereabouts of their departed savings.

Away off in Australia, a dozen or more English monied institutions, engaged in illegitimate banking by booming real estate values to an absurd pitch, and fostering all manner of extravagant speculations, one after another shut down upon shareholders and depositors to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars.

These are specimen bricks, and the history of one is virtually the history of all.

Talk as loudly and justly as you may against race-track and kindred modes of gaming, there remains another species equally vicious and more widely devastating in its effects upon honest people, and that is Financial Gambling.

Its death warrant should also be read.

NORTH PLAINFIELD'S MAYOR TO SAIL AWAY.

WHO'LL BE RULER OF THE BOROUGH FOR THE NEXT THREE MONTHS?

William L. Saunders Goes to Europe, June 3, for a Long Vacation Combined with Business—He'll Be the Guest of One of the Six Great Powers.

The Campania on her second trip, starting from New York, Saturday of next week, will bear away among her passengers mayor William L. Saunders of North Plainfield, who will be absent in Europe almost three months. He goes principally for his first vacation, but business as well will claim some of his attention. His company has furnished the American machinery that is being used to open the "Iron Gates" in the Danube and permit the passage of ships from and to the Black Sea. Mr. Saunders will visit that work and be entertained as the guest of the Austria-Hungary government, one of the six great European powers, upon its special invitation.

DRUNKENNESS CURED.

Also the Opium or Tobacco Habit.

Hill's double chloride of gold tablets are for sale by all first-class druggists at $1 per package. In purchasing the tablets be careful to state whether they are wanted for drunkenness, tobacco or opium habit.

Do not be deceived into buying something that is claimed to be "just as good" as those tablets, but if your druggist does not keep them, send money order, postal note or draft for $1 to the Ohio Chemical Company, Lima, Ohio, and they will send you a package of Hill's Tablets by return mail.

Write your name and address plainly.

A New Parish Building.

The corner-stone will be laid next Saturday of a new Sunday-school and parish building on Clinton avenue, in the rear of the present chapel of the Heavenly Rest. For the benefit of the fund, the Women's Friendly society will give an afternoon tea and apron sale at 214 West Front street (Stillman building) to-morrow afternoon and evening.

Taught an Insurance Lesson.

Fire broke out in the cellar of the brick building in the rear of Bowman's boarding house at 327 West Front street, Saturday night. Alert hose company drenched it from a hydrant at Central avenue and Front street, and the damage was slight. Electrician Sohl had $400 worth of goods stored in the building, and as he had no insurance he is to-day getting a policy made out.

Trap Shooters' League Contest.

The fourth monthly contest of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' league will take place on the grounds of the Endeavor Gun club, at Marion, next Saturday. Sweepstake shooting will begin at 9 in the morning and continue all day. The team shoot will take place at 2 in the afternoon.

Crescent Graduates.

The Scranton Truth of Friday says:

Carr, pitcher, and Leddy, left fielder, arrived in the city this morning to join the Scranton club. Leddy will play left field this afternoon.

Manager Swift is negotiating with Leddy, a left fielder who has been playing throughout New Jersey. Leddy has been playing in the [illegible]

SIGN THE PETITIONS!

SEWER PROGRESS WAITS ON THE CITIZENS.

Further Reasons Why the Intermittent Filtration System Is Preferable — Comfort, Economy and Health Urge Immediate Action.

A severe winter has demonstrated the efficiency, as against frost, of the intermittent filtration system. The temperature of sewage was maintained at the filtration beds in Framingham, Massachusetts, long enough to enable it to pass into and through the beds as readily and satisfactorily as in warm weather. The efficiency of the system in other respects has long been established, particularly in Great Britain, where there are many towns that do not possess rivers of volume sufficient to carry sewage. There need be no doubts as to the efficiency in all respects of the proposed system.

Its economy is also especially noticeable. Let us look again at the figures presented by the water and sewerage committee as the result of a long, patient and exhaustive investigation of the subject, and particularly of the plan in question as applied and operated in this country. The committee presents the following estimate of the cost of a system as shown on the map published and freely distributed:

39,339 ft. 8-inch pipe laid complete at 65 cents a foot	$25,564 50
6,084 ft. 10-inch pipe laid complete at 89 cents a foot	5,235 56
4,261 ft. 12-inch pipe laid complete at $1.07 a foot	4,560 67
2,984 ft. 15-inch pipe laid complete at $1.30 a foot	3,103 80
4,332 ft. 18-inch pipe laid complete at $1.61 a foot	6,945 72
4,682 ft. 24-inch pipe laid complete at $2.27 a foot	15,390 54
	$76,425 40
Cost of Land and Preparation Filter Beds	10,000 00
130 Manholes at $25.00	3,250 00
25 Flush Tanks at $30.00	750 00
	$92,425 40

If the commissioners assess, as they doubtless will, the cost of an eight-inch pipe against each lot, we have not only the measure of the local assessment, but also a safe basis for an estimate of the general-tax portion of the total cost. If we analyze the estimate of the committee, it will be seen that the eight-inch pipe will be almost wholly paid for by the lot-owners particularly benefited, and that where larger pipes are laid the lot-owner will be asked to pay the equivalent of an eight-inch pipe, and the balance of cost will go into the general sewer tax. The cost of pipes laid at the intersections of streets will of course be borne by the city; and where pipes are laid along both sides of a corner lot a question may arise as to the extent of benefit to the lot. But if we charge all possibilities of expense against the city, favoring the lot-owner to the limit of the law, it will still be impossible to fairly compile an estimate of cost against the city that would reach the sum of $50,000. The probability is that $40,000 is about the sum that will go into the general tax-bills, leaving about $54,000 to be collected through bills against lot-owners.

Is not a system of drainage that abolishes the pestiferous, mosquito-breeding cesspools, dirt cheap at these figures?

If we were compelled to tunnel through the Short Hills in order to reach tide-water in the Kills, or to build a great trunk to the dam two miles below Bound Brook, involving in either case a bonded debt up to hundreds of thousands of dollars, the people of this city might well hesitate; but when a system equally efficient and as comprehensive in its scope as the city itself, is offered at a general charge of $40,000, and a local charge, where sewers are laid, of 39½ cents a front foot, it is high time we began to congratulate ourselves, and also the patriotic men who formulated it. These men present for acceptance or rejection a plan they have seen in operation both in this country and in countries across the sea. They are men that are not easily deceived. They sought the practicable and efficient, and in finding their desire they discovered in operation a system that, in the light of its value to us, is wonderfully inexpensive.

There need not be a burdensome issue of bonds. That nightmare was dispelled when the difficult tide-water schemes were shelved. A rich town, having corresponding credit, and no other bonded debt except for school buildings, surely can carry $40,000 on easy interest until the sum is paid by taxation that would at no stage of it be onerous.

Drainage with resultant health, prosperity and pure water, drainage without bonds, cesspool charges, and, after five years, without any sewer taxation whatever: what more or better or cheaper can reasonably be desired?

Let every taxpayer place his name on one of the petitions in circulation. All action looking to drainage waits on the petitions.

MURPHY AGAINST US SATURDAY.

The Crescents' Former Pitcher Will Bring a Team Here to Beat Them.

Rob Murphy, who pitched for the Crescents last year and won a game from Somerville, is this season with the Imperial Athletic club team of New York, and is pitching a stronger game than ever.

He has been longing to get at the Plainfielders, and as he is to come here next Saturday there will be a particularly strong support behind him.

Malone will catch, and such heavy batters as Ryan, Mack and Paton will play the outfield. The batting order of the visitors will be as follows:

Paton, right field; Malone, catcher; Mooney, third base; Mack, center field; Ryan, left field; Mattucks, shortstop; Willy, second base; Hecht, first base; Murphy, pitcher.

TOO MUCH LIGHTNING.

Gas and Electricity Combine to Cause Excitement and a Blaze.

A singular freak occurred during the violent electrical storm last night.

The parlors of Warren engine-house were undergoing remodeling. The gas chandelier had been taken down, and gas was escaping.

At 10 sharp there was an intensely vivid flash of lightning, and a terrific crash. The electric light wires of the circuit were overcharged, and sparks flew from the wires in the engine-house. These exploded the gas, and ignited the stream pouring from the gas pipe.

Though somewhat dazed by the shock, the firemen sounded the alarm. When the gas was turned off the flames were subdued. The damage was slight.

The Ground Not Warmed up Yet.

The crop reports for this section for the week are as follows:

PLAINFIELD—The week has been a cloudy one, but has not retarded any of the crops; berries, with the exception of blackberries, are abundant; lowest temperature, 49 degrees; rainfall, 0.65 inch. JOHN NEAGLE.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD—It has been too cold, rainy and windy for crops to grow and do well; the ground has not had a good warming up yet this spring; grain looks well, rye out in head; the conditions have been favorable for a good hay crop; fruit promises good; the cool weather has even retarded the growth of weeds; all are busy plowing and planting as fast as possible. PETER C. JOHNSON.

Catarrh in New England.

Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles.—G. K. Mellor, druggist, Worcester, Mass.

I believe Ely's Cream Balm is the best article for catarrh ever offered the public.—[illegible], druggists, Worcester, Mass.

[illegible]

Concluded from Page 1.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

The county collector's report was read as follows:

For the fiscal year ending this day his receipts are	$[illegible]
Disbursements	[illegible]
Balance on hand	$[illegible]

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. OLIVER, Collector.

On motion of Freeholder Howard received and filed.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your committee on miscellaneous accounts and agreements most respectfully make the following report: We have had no necessity for a meeting this year, as nothing has been referred to the committee, and we have found nothing to do, so we report what has been done has been done well.

Signed, Charles E. Moore, E. D. Badgely, Noah Woodruff, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Vanderbeek received and filed.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—Your committee on stationery would respectfully report that the amount expended during the year on said account is twenty-four hundred and eighty-six dollars and two cents ($2,486.02), which is for stationery, books of record and account books for the several county officers who by law are entitled to receive their stationery from this board.

Respectfully submitted, Noah Woodruff, A. Vanderbeek, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Haliday received and filed.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee on discharge of prisoners beg leave to report that they held regular meetings during the year for the purpose of granting a deduction in the sentence of prisoners for good conduct while under confinement in jail, upon the recommendation of the warden and approval of the presiding judge of the court of common pleas as provided by law, and in each case when the allowance was asked it was granted. The number discharged was [illegible].

All of which is respectfully submitted, John A. Haliday, J. Martin Hill, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Woodruff received and filed.

To the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—Your committee on publication would report that there has been expended during the year the sum of one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six dollars and forty cents ($1,826.40) for printing the minutes of the board, the county collector's report and other purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted, Jasper C. Hunt, John S. Sauer, George Kyte, Com.

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard received and filed.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee to settle with the sheriff beg leave to report that they have audited bills to the amount of ten thousand nine hundred and thirty-six dollars and ninety-six cents (10,936.96). Of the above amount the sheriff has paid the county collector the sum of one thousand two hundred and twelve dollars as prosecutor's fees.

Respectfully submitted, John J. Donahue, W. E. Trabold, George Kyte, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Sauer received and filed.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee on public grounds and buildings would respectfully report that during the year ending May 9, 1893, the amount expended for the following purposes, to wit: The building of an extension to the county clerk's office, renovating the interior of the warden's house, and for the making of general repairs on the public buildings, also the supplying of fuel, gas and water has been forty-eight hundred and seventy-seven dollars and forty-two cents ($4,877.42).

Respectfully submitted, John S. Sauer, John A. Haliday, Wm. Howard, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Trabold received and filed.

From Committee on Jail Inspection:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—In accordance with the custom, the committee on jail inspection herewith respectfully submit their annual report for year ending May 1, 1893. Together with that is a carefully prepared report by the warden of the receipts, expenditures, number of prisoners, ages, sexes, nationalities, commitments, discharges, and cost of maintenance for each prisoner per day, etc.

Receipts amount to $4,[illegible]

Expenditures for all purposes, viz: Salaries, provisions, medical attention, clothing, supplies, miscellaneous, etc., $4,[illegible]

Number of prisoners in custody at beginning of year, [illegible]

Committed during year, [illegible]

Discharged [illegible]; remaining, 45.

Total number of days' board of prisoners, [illegible]

The average cost per prisoner is [illegible] cents per day. During the year the prisoners are daily employed about the buildings in cleaning and attending the furnace, storing coal and being generally useful. The very limited expenditures and general good management of the county jail is wholly due to the efficient services of the warden, matron and deputy warden, who have conducted proceedings generally to the entire satisfaction of your committee. It affords your committee great pleasure to say that the management and general condition of the jail has been highly commended by the grand jury of the county of Union, and also by the State Charities Aid Association, through its efficient secretary, Mrs. E. Williamson, Jr., dated May 5, 1893. This condition is in the opinion of your committee highly creditable to the county and no doubt gratifying to the board. Your committee would further report at their last meeting Dr. Edward B. Grier was unanimously approved physician to the county jail at the usual compensation.

Respectfully submitted,

NOAH WOODRUFF,
A. VANDERBEEK,
M. M. SOUDDER,
Committee.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 9, 1893.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue received and filed.

REPORT OF JOHN C. BLOSS, WARDEN.

In connection with my report I would like to state that the general health of the prisoners has been good during my regime, and the jail physician, Dr. Miller, was very prompt in his attendance and in every respect satisfactory. With many thanks to the committee on jail inspection for their co-operation with me in the discharge of my duties as warden, and with special thanks to the director for his assistance and advice in all matters pertaining to the general good management of the county jail, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
JOHN C. BLOSS, Warden.

On motion of Freeholder Vanderbeek received and filed.

From Committee on County Roads:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your committee on county roads most respectfully report that the amount charged up to the county road account during the past fiscal year has been sixty-two hundred and thirty-seven dollars and seventy-two cents ($6,237.72). Twenty-three hundred and twenty-nine dollars and thirty-five cents ($2,329.35) of the said amount was for the payment of bills contracted by the board of the year ending May 10, 1892, and three hundred dollars ($300) also of the said amount which was advanced to the county road inspector, has since been returned to the county collector and by him credited to the miscellaneous account, as per report of the county collector.

Deducting the twenty-three hundred and twenty-nine dollars and thirty-five cents ($2,329.35) expended over which your committee had no control, and the three hundred dollars which was advanced by and returned to the county collector, from the amount charged up to the road account, it would show that your committee expended the amount of thirty-nine hundred and eight dollars and thirty-seven cents ($3,908.37) for road purposes, as the following summaries will show:

For road roller, wagon and pump	[illegible]
For material used on roads	[illegible]
For labor on roads	[illegible]
For hiring teams for road work and hauling material	[illegible]
For water rent	[illegible]
For breaking snow drifts	[illegible]
For sundries, such as implements, repairs of same, freight, etc.	171 40
For services of county engineer	[illegible]
For salary of road inspector	[illegible]
Total	$3,908 37

Your committee would also most respectfully report that owing to the limited amount of the appropriation made for road repairs, that there are at the present time a great many sections of roads that need immediate attention, and we would therefore recommend, especially so on account of the fact that the personnel of the next year's board is to be composed of virtually the same members as form the present board, that the committee on appropriations, when appointed, will give this matter their sincere and kind attention. All of which is most respectfully submitted.

JOHN S. SAUER,
M. M. SOUDDER,
J. I. WISNER,
GEORGE KYTE,
Committee on County Roads.

On motion of Freeholder Bell received and filed.

From Committee on Lunacy:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—The committee on lunacy would respectfully submit the following:

Your committee have visited the asylum, according to law, and find our patients are well cared for.

At this time we have one hundred and seventy-eight (178) patients in the asylum.

There has been expended for the maintenance of our indigent and destitute patients		$[illegible]
Received for the care of patients who pay in part		[illegible]
Total expended		$[illegible]
Residence of Patients.	Elizabeth,	100
do	Rahway,	18
do	Plainfield,	[illegible]
do	Cranford,	2
do	Fanwood,	1
do	Linden,	2
do	New Providence,	3
do	Summit,	4
do	Springfield,	4
do	Union,	7
do	Westfield,	4
Total		178

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. M. SOUDDER,
JOHN J. DONAHUE,
J. I. WISNER.

On motion of Freeholder Haliday received and filed.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Bell:

Resolved, That the county engineer is hereby instructed to mark on the map of county roads now on file in the county clerk's office in Union county the road called Morris avenue or turnpike from Hobart's Gap to the Passaic river, said road having been adopted as a county road by this board.

On motion of Freeholder Kyte adopted unanimously.

By the Director:

Resolved, That there be transferred from the court account

To repairs on county roads	[illegible]
To lunacy account	[illegible]
To [illegible] account	[illegible]
To election account	[illegible]

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Vanderbeek:

Resolved, That the county attorney be requested to draw an article of agreement between the county of Union and the Central R. R. of New Jersey in regard to the new draw-bridge on South Front street, crossing the Elizabeth river, indemnifying the county against all loss and the future charge of said bridge, in accordance with the report of the committee presented to-day.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board be tendered to our retiring director, Samuel Haliday, for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of this board for the past year, and the uniform courtesy extended by him to its members.

On motion of Freeholder Howard adopted unanimously.

[illegible]

HILL'S REMEMBER WE GUARANTEE A CURE and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS

Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT can be cured at home, and without any effort on the part of the patient, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our Tablets.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all FIRST-CLASS druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by

—THE—

OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 & 55 Opera Block,

LIMA, OHIO.

PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:

DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTEGAY.

Address all Orders to

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 and 55 Opera Block. LIMA, OHIO.

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED

(In writing please mention this paper.)

MEMORIAL DAY.

WHAT THE JOINT DETAIL HAS PLANNED.

Mayors Gilbert and Saunders Will Address the Mass-Meeting, and the Rev. Calvin Stebbins Will Deliver an Oration—The Children Will Sing.

ALL the Grand Army men in this city, with their women's auxiliary, will unite in the celebration of Memorial Day. The preparations have been made by a joint committee selected from the two Grand Army posts. The morning will be devoted to strewing the graves of the dead heroes with flowers, and in the afternoon a memorial service will be held in Music Hall, at which addresses will be made by mayors Alexander Gilbert and W. L. Saunders, of the city of Plainfield and of the borough of North Plainfield respectively. An oration will be delivered by the Rev. Calvin Stebbins, who is in charge of one of the most intelligent parishes in the State of Massachusetts. Mr. Stebbins is a man of unusual intellectual force, and has among his parishioners such men as senator Hoar of Massachusetts, and by his broad sympathies and kind and genial nature has won for his church in Worcester something of the same position that the "Church around the Corner" has in New York among those who are not connected with any particular denomination.

Appropriate music in the shape of quartette singing and chorus singing by children will add to the interest of the service; and the Ladies' Relief corps of the Grand Army posts, who have in charge the decoration of the hall, and the training of the children, will do all in their power to render the occasion one of the most attractive memorial celebrations that has been witnessed in our city.

In behalf of the occasion THE PRESS bespeaks the attention and sympathies of all good citizens. Let us remember our blessings and by what sacrifices they were won, and do honor to the virtue and heroism that achieved such momentous results. For Decoration Day is one of the two purely American holidays, the other being the Fourth of July. The Fourth of July signalizes our birth as an independent nation, and Memorial Day celebrates the overthrow and defeat of an attempt at the nation's life in the interest of human slavery. The struggle began with our birth as a nation, and culminated in a war that cost hundreds of thousands of lives and millions of dollars in treasure. But by the results of that war, the nation was founded on principles of eternal justice and the sacredness of manhood. This is the event celebrated by Decoration Day. We meet to mourn the fallen and to canonize the heroism that achieved such great results. In speaking of what our soldiers did, Mr. Emerson has said: "The duty so severe has been discharged and with such immense results of good, lifting private sacrifice to the sublime, that, though the cannon volleys have a sound of funeral echoes, they can yet hear through them the benedictions of their country and mankind."

—Last Sunday's Sun in a head line to an article about Plainfield's Hospital, says: "Its Rules Let a Man With His Throat Cut Lie Five Hours Before Admission."

Can You Solve Puzzles?

"COMBINATIONS."

The greatest puzzle ever invented has been presented by Sam Loyd, the famous puzzleist, to the NEW YORK PRESS CLUB CHARITY FUND in aid of sick and impoverished journalists.

Price, 10 Cents,

the entire money received going to the CHARITY AND BUILDING FUND.

Public spirited merchants in order to give the puzzle a more intense interest have off red prizes of Steinway Pianos, Knox Hats, Billiard Tables, Mason and Hamlin Organs, etc.

Don't fail to secure this latest novelty, and thus instruct and amuse yourself and at the same time aid a worthy cause.

Address

N. Y. PRESS CLUB BUILDING & CHARITY FUND, Temple Court, N. Y.

9 to 22-4

E. C. Morris Safe Co

Incorporated. Capital $[illegible]

Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.

64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.

The Best Safe in the World. [illegible]

[illegible]

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

NEWARK, N. J.

'TWILL PAY YOU

To Personally See Our Stock of

Furniture and Carpets

BEFORE BUYING ELSEWHERE.

Prices and Terms Easier than Ever.

This "Old Reliable" Rocker $2 50.

You may say advertisements are not always truthful. Perhaps so. We guarantee you complete satisfaction in prices, styles, quality and terms. But we desire you to make a personal inspection for yourself of the goods before buying here or elsewhere. This is all we ask!!

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shades, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES
78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City.
213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.

REDUCED RATES

FRANK'S

345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged

Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY.

4 13 6mos

THE LOVE OF HOME

And the ambition to make it not only comfortable, but musical, are deep rooted sentiments in the American heart. There could be no loftier feeling, and we are proud to cater to it.

But many people have a love for home without the ability to make it musical. That is they think they can't. We'd like to show them how they can. It does not cost near so much as you think. Call and see our stock of Pianos and Organs and we are sure we can please you.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY,

[illegible]

DOG LOST—May 14, small setter bitch black and white. Reward will be paid for return to Wilson Fisk, Woodland avenue.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey—Between John F. Onderdonk, complainant, and George L. Babcock, et al, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MAY, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Central avenue and Seventh street, running thence northerly along the middle of Seventh street, a distance of three hundred and eighty-five feet and nine inches (385 9) to the middle of Madison avenue (formerly Mechanic street); thence along the middle of Madison avenue in a southeasterly direction a distance of three hundred and nineteen and nine-tenths (319 9) feet more or less, to a point in the line of Wallace V. Miller; thence along his line and line of lands belonging to Alexander Gilbert, in a southwesterly direction, a distance of three hundred and eighty-five feet and nine inches (385 9) to a point in middle of Central avenue; thence along the middle of Central avenue in a northwesterly direction, a distance of three hundred and nineteen and nine-tenths (319 9) feet more or less, to a point in the centre of Seventh street and place of beginning. Being the same land and premises conveyed to said Eliza Lee Babcock, by deed of said John F. Onderdonk, of even date with these presents, which are given to secure a portion of the consideration money therefor.

W. H. HICKS, Sheriff.

WM. M. STILLMAN, Sol'r.
E D L & C   fees $ [illegible]   4 27 6w

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, Administratrix of Marcellius M Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. } Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellius M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D., 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the 5th day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.

J. KEARNEY RICE, President Judge,
MATHEW O'GORMAN,
M. FREEMAN, } Judges
Leonard Furman, Surrogate.   5 11 8

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catherine Sauerman, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause and bearing date on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1893, I, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of the said Catherine Sauerman, deceased will expose for sale at public vendue on next, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises situated at No. 14 and 16 West Sixth street, in the city of Plainfield, Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of Ziba Wooden's land; thence running with his line a northwesterly course about one hundred and seventy-four feet to a stone another of Ziba Wooden's corners, and that of Joseph Perinee; thence with Joseph Perinee line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Perinee corners; thence running a southeasterly course about one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, Administrator.

Dated May 10, 1893.
C   fees $7 50   5 11 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.

FREDERICK W. MCCULLY.

Dated March 1, 1893.   3 9 10

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton, on Tuesday, the twentieth day of June next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for a decree in the cause pending in said court, wherein James Smith is complainant, and Mary J. Sartle and you and others are defendants, that the lands and premises in question in said cause be sold free and discharged of your estate as tenant in dower therein.

GEO. V. VANDERVEER,
Solicitor of Complainant.

Dated May 15, 1893   5 18 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated May 9, 1893.   5 11 10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas Blackwell, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ALVAH A. CLARK.

Dated May 8, 1893.   5 11 10

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, etc., complainant, and Emma A. Jones and others, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described situate lying and being in the city of Plainfield, the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Putnam street and also in the middle of Carlton avenue thence along the middle of Carlton avenue in a northerly direction nine hundred and five (905) feet, more or less, to the line of lands of The Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company in LaGrande avenue; thence along line of lands of said company south forty-five degrees and eight minutes west, six hundred and fifty-five (655) feet, more or less, to the middle of Tenth street; thence along the middle of Tenth street following the curve thereof in a general southerly direction four hundred and eighty (480) feet, more or less, to the middle of Putnam street; thence along the middle thereof in an easterly direction four hundred and five (405) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Being block 4 on "Map of Villa Sites, belonging to Evan Jones, Plainfield, N. J.," and part of same; premises conveyed to said Jones by deed of Jacob G. Laing and wife, dated August 11, 1869 recorded in Book 12 of Deeds, pages 264, &c.

Excepting out of said lands and premises a plot of land bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Putnam street with the easterly line of Tenth street; thence [1] running easterly along the northerly line of Putnam street two hundred and forty-one feet and eighty-two one hundredths of a foot [241.82 ft.]; thence [2] northerly parallel with Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five [175] feet; thence [3] westerly parallel with Putnam street seventy-five [75] feet; thence [4] northerly parallel with Tenth street one hundred [100] feet; thence [5] westerly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and sixty-six feet and eighty-two one-hundredths of a foot (166.82 ft.) to the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (6) southerly along the said easterly line of Tenth street two hundred and seventy-five (275) feet to the point or place of beginning.

W. H. HICKS, Sheriff.

WM A. LEWIS, Sol'r.
DL&C.   fees $[illegible]   5 25 wt

Arrival and Departure of Mails

NEW YORK MAILS.

Arrive—7:30, 9:40, 11 A. M., 2:30, 5:30 P. M.
Close—7:30 and 9:30 a. m., 12:30, 5:30 and 8 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON MAILS.

Arrive—8:40 A. M., 1:30, 6:30 P. M.
Close—8:30 A. M., 4:30 P. M.

Direct mail to Trenton and Philadelphia at 4:30 P. M.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 A. M.
Mail closes at 6:30 P. M.

E. R. POPE P M.

THE PLAINFIELD

PACKING HOUSE

25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,

it has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb,

Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

[illegible]

$5 Gold Pieces

GIVEN AWAY.

AMOS H. VANHORN.

LIMITED,

73 MARKET STREET,

Will Give $5 00 in Gold

To every purchaser of $50 worth or more of Carpets and Furniture.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.

LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-5-ly

TOWNSEND'S

Marble & Granite Works,

30 SOMERSET STREET,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,

Manager.   8 11 tf

Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS

And all kinds of wearing apparel

STORED

And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO

W. H. AND R. BURNETT,

17 Academy st., Newark.   5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President,
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

Scientific American Agency for

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.

For information and free Handbook write to MUNN & CO., 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. Oldest bureau for securing patents in America. Every patent taken out by us is brought before the public by a notice given free of charge in the

Scientific American

[illegible]

NEWARK

BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it is.

The "Bee Hive"
The largest Dry Goods House in the State
LADIES'
BOYS'
THE BEE HIVE
L. S. PLAUT & CO.
NEWARK

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 12.

CORSETS

IMPORTED

The "P. & D."   The "C. P."
The "P. D."   The "I. C."
The "Z. Z."

IMPORTED WOVEN

The "Diamond"   The "Beacon"
The "Cleopatra"   The "Flora"
The "Rose"   The "500 Bone"

DOMESTIC

The "R. G."   The "H. & S."
The "S. C."   The "P. N."
The "W. B."   The "C. B."
Madame Warren's   Kosmo
Ball's   Madam Foy's
Loomis' Cutaway   Sonnette
Health   Thomson's
Glove Fitting   Tricora
Dr. Warner's   McGraw's Abdominal

NURSING CORSETS

"R. G.," Tricora and Health

SUMMER CORSETS

"H. & S.," "R. & G.," "C. B.," Health and Glove Fitting.

LADIES', MISSES', CHILDREN'S and INFANTS' WAISTS in FERRIS' and "V. V."

CHILDREN'S CORSETS

"H. & S.," Thomson's and Tricora

CORSET STEELS and LACES, HOOP-SKIRTS and BUSTLES.

NECK RUCHING

Chiffon, Crepe Lisse, Beaded, Tourist, Cord Lace, Tinseled, Ribbon and Bolting Cloth Styles.

SKIRT RUCHING

Black Silk, Colored Silk, Shaded Silk and Lace Styles.

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.

707 to 721 BROAD ST.

Mail Orders Filled on Day of Receipt.

NOTICE.   March 15, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann Bella, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made, on the application of the undersigned executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—The proposed trip to Newark of Winfield Scott post, 73, G. A. R., has been indefinitely postponed.

—East Sixth street, from Park avenue to Broadway, is being treated to a top dressing of stone.

—Evona Grove will re-open Decoration Day with illumination in the evening, dancing all day and first-class music.

—Trim down the weeds and grass in front of your land, or you may be fined for violation of the sidewalk ordinance.

—The closing exercises at Miss Fawcett's kindergarten school, 15 Grove street, will take place Tuesday evening, June 13.

—The continued improvements added each day to the interior of the City Hotel, is fast making it the equal of any hostelry in the State.

—Alfred Mace of London will give Gospel talks in Reform Hall next Sunday evening at 7:45, and the following five evenings at 8.

—It is announced that the Music Hall season of 1893-94 will open early in August with the first of a long list of the highest class of attractions Plainfield has ever seen.

—By vote of the directors of the Plainfield Amusement company, the Somerset street grounds are hereafter to be known as the Crescent Oval, and the ball team as the Plainfield Crescents.

—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Plainfield Amusement company, Saturday evening, it was decided to go on at once with the building of the bicycle track so that it could be used by July 4.

—Ben Townley, one of the young men concerned in the smashup on Somerset street Sunday night, has been arrested for fast driving on this side of the brook previous to the collision. He pleaded not guilty.

—A new fad has sprung up. Instead of addressing envelopes on their face they are sealed and the stamp and address placed upon the back, thus preventing anyone from tampering with the letter or opening it without being detected.

—F. A. Pope will this week begin enlarging his brick stables on West Sixth street. He will build a thirty-foot extension in the rear, fourteen feet in front and seven feet on the side. This will give a carriage-way of seventy-four feet.

—Cranford is to have a new livery merchant, James M. Taylor, of Bound Brook, having concluded to migrate there and establish himself in business. The citizens of Cranford may depend upon it that he will serve them faithfully in his line of business.

—The joint committees of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union have completed the arrangements for the spring conference, which will be held in the Second Presbyterian church at Rahway, Thursday evening, May 25. The Plainfield societies will be well represented.

—A pathetic story is told by a Mt. Bethel farmer of a happy family plunged into deepest sorrow by the death of the husband and father, who was killed by lightning while on his way to a neighbor's house to borrow the local paper. The moral, dear reader, is plain.

—Many property-owners along Somerset street have signified a desire to give from two to four feet to the street. There is a nineteen-foot space between the curb and the building line. If the street is ever to be widened, and it certainly should be, it does seem as though this is the time to do it.

—George Moore and other property-owners on Elm place, will petition the council at the next meeting to cover the roadbed with a top dressing of stone, and to have the same firmly rolled down. They will further ask the city to put the gutters in a condition capable of carrying off the water.

—For the latest styles and best quality of wall paper, THE PRESS recommends C. E. & J. W. Brown, of 311 Canal street, New York. They are brothers and former partners of George F. Brown of this city, and their store is very convenient for those going to the city. They manufacture window shades also, and deserve a good portion of the Plainfield trade.

—West Front street, from Grove street street to Grant avenue, on both sides of the street railway tracks, is being covered with crushed stone, by street commissioner Meeker. A portion has already been put in order by the street railway company, between the tracks and eighteen inches outside of the tracks, and the street will now be in better condition than ever before.

DISPLAY YOUR BUNTING!

Let All Do Honor to the Noble Dead, Memorial Day.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—At the joint meeting of the memorial detail from Winfield Scott Post, 73, and Major Anderson Post, 109, G. A. R. Dept. N. J., held May 22, 1893, it was unanimously voted that all of the newspapers of the city be earnestly requested (through the editors) to solicit all of the citizens of Plainfield and North Plainfield to display our National colors on Memorial Day, May 30, 1893, from their houses or elsewhere, in memory of the noble dead, our comrades, who gave their lives in the defence of this Union and its preservation.

Should any one have no American flag to throw out, then let him decorate with streamers or ribbon, or any colors that make the old Red, White and Blue.

By order of the committee,
JOSEPH T. DUNHAM.

NEIGHBORS FALL OUT

First Floor Boarder Wants to Lick Second Floor Tenant.

James Burns boards with Mrs. McGovern at 240 East Third street. John Linbarger lives overhead. Burns and Linbarger don't get along well together, and last night Burns wanted to take Linbarger out doors and lick him, while Linbarger armed himself with a shovel and offered to lay him out. Linbarger called policeman Mattox in and had Burns arrested. This morning judge Coddington lectured them both and suspended sentence. Burns was indignant at having to spend a night in a cell, and is looking for redress.

Four Smart Lads in a Circus.

Henry Angerbauer, Jule Gable, Larry Doyle and Harry Mallinson will give a circus at 401 Cottage place, Decoration Day at 2:30 p. m. Admission will be only 2 cents, but the show will be worth far more than that. The boys are very mysterious when asked what the programme will be, but promise some elegant acting.

Springs, Weeds, Heaven and Flowers.

The following Sunday evening sermons are announced by the Rev. C. E. Herring:

June 4—"Springs."
June 11—"Weeds."
June 18—"Heaven on Earth."
June 25—"The Queen of Flowers."

Only Right to Tell.

The Rev. Mark Guy Pearse, the eminent English divine, says:

"BEDFORD PLACE, RUSSELL SQUARE, LONDON, December 19, 1889.

"I think it only right that I should tell you of how much use I find [illegible] [illegible] in my family and [illegible]

PERSONALIA.

E. M. Tomlinson now rides a new cycle.

Horace Doty is now the competent motorman of car No. 1.

Dr. Gidney is improving from his recent injury, and there is hope of complete recovery.

William T. Broadway started Monday for an extended trip to Chicago and the Far West.

The Rev. W. E. Honeyman is out again after a nine weeks' illness with the grip and nervous prostration.

The Delta Phi boys from Rutgers College, New Brunswick, will enjoy their annual dinner in Hotel Grenada, June 9.

Mrs. J. C. Pope, of West Fourth street, who was paralyzed in the left side, some weeks ago, was able to ride out Saturday.

Assistant cashier David M. Runyon of the First National bank is welcomed back to his desk after an illness of three weeks.

Mrs O B. Leonard of this city has been elected second directress of the Baptist Home society, to annual session this week in Newark.

Samuel J. Acheson, of 406 East Fifth street, superintendent of the carpet works, has been granted a patent on an ingrain carpet fabric.

Mrs. Webb, daughter of Mrs. Taylor, whose husband was at one time a member of the city council, is visiting Mrs. F. C. Harder, 832 Madison avenue.

The 25th anniversary of Miss Kenyon's opening of the Seminary, will be commemorated by a reception, June 6, further particulars of which will be given in THE PRESS.

Miss Mary Ann McGauley, of West Third street, gave a birthday party to her friends and acquaintances, Saturday evening. The gathering broke up at midnight.

C. P. Sebring returned from Chicago Saturday. He "did" the Fair in great style, and was greatly pleased at the electrical display and the treatment he received.

Ex-councilman O. T. Waring says that among the most complete and creditable displays at the World's Fair are those of the Pond Tool Co., and the Scott and Potter press works.

Mrs. Wm. Grogan died Saturday morning of neuralgia of the heart, aged 36 years and two months. She had been in good health, and her death was a sad shock. She leaves two children.

The marriage of Miss Florence Titsworth, daughter of John Titsworth, of Madison avenue, to Henry Siebrecht, of New Rochelle, will take place at the Seventh-day Baptist church in this city, June 1.

Miss Edna Forbes, daughter of Capt. M. L. Forbes, of the steamship Taymouth Castle, of the Halifax and West India Mail Service, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. Hervey Doane of La Grande avenue.

A. H. Clevers has just returned from Indianapolis, where he has been attending the annual session of the International Association of Machinists. He went as a delegate from Watchung Lodge, No. 167, of this city.

Miss Maggie Sheppard, organist of the Y. P. S. C. E. of Warren mission, was given a deserving testimonial of esteem Thursday night. Appreciating her valuable services, the members presented her with a handsome table.

The starting of a charity fund in Alert Hose company, by the subscriptions of Charles and Pliny Fisk, has proved so successful and popular, Louis Timpson and others are proposing the formation of a Y. P. S. C. E., among the members.

Mrs. S. J. Moore, nee Miss Bradshaw, left for Poughkeepsie at noon Friday after a few days' visit with her grandmother, Mrs. S. O. Doane, and her aunt, Mrs. S. P. Craig, of East Fourth street. She was accompanied by her sister, Florence Mabel, who will make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

Corporation counsel C. A. Marsh, John M. Crane, general superintendent of the American Casualty Insurance and Security company, and Thomas E. H. Curtis, treasurer of the Colorado Coal and Iron company, coasted all the way, uphill and down, in the southwest breeze to Elizabeth (not long ago), and rode back in the cars.

CONGRATULATED THEM ON BEING OF AGE

Miss E. E. Kenyon of this city read an original poem before the Woman's club of Orange at their twenty-first annual dinner Wednesday evening.

A "BUFFET" SUPPER.

After the ride to Glenside, Saturday afternoon, told of in THE PRESS, and the return in the evening, a buffet supper was served at the home of Miss VanBoskerck, 542 Seventh street, West.

PUZZLED OVER HIS PRIZE.

Mrs. John H. Beerbower pleasantly entertained a progressive euchre party in the City Hotel Thursday. The honor of winning first prize was hotly contested, and the "booby" kept the winner from his bed an hour after the close of the evening's enjoyment in trying to solve its mystery.

AT REST.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. A. M. Franse were held in Warren Mission chapel, North Plainfield, Thursday afternoon, the Rev. James R. Bryan, a former pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. The services were of an impressive character, the Sunday-school class of the deceased, composed of young ladies, singing beautiful hymns at intervals. The remains were interred in Evergreen cemetery.

A NUCLEUS FOR THE NETHERWOOD YACHT CLUB.

Albert A. Wright, of Park avenue, has recently purchased a new schooner yacht, the Priscilla. He was until lately the owner of the sloop Hypatia, of New York. Mr. Wright will soon leave for Boston with his captain and bring the Priscilla from that port, where she is now being put in commission, to New York. The Priscilla is about 60 feet over all, by 17 feet beam, and draws 9 feet of water. Mr. Wright is an enthusiastic yachtsman, and his private signal has flown from the peak of quite a number of craft in the past few years.

NEW MARKET'S NEW PASTOR.

F. E. Peterson has accepted the call to the pastorate of the New Market Seventh-Day Baptist church, and also the call of the Missionary society to edit the evangelical department of the new weekly soon to be issued from the Seventh-Day publishing house. Mr. Peterson is a graduate of Milton College, and of the Baptist Union Theological Seminary of Chicago. As a brother alumnus of the Seminary, and his successor in the pastorate of the dear old Piscataway church, the Rev. L. E. Livermore in the Sabbath Recorder bids him a most hearty welcome to this interesting field of labor. He expects to be with his new charge next Seventh-Day, May 20.

THE VETERAN WHO RAN JOHN BULL.

Among the attendants at the funeral of Mrs Augustus Franse, Thursday, was her brother-in-law, Charles Rogers, a former resident of Plainfield, and well known as one of the oldest locomotive engineers in the country. For over forty years he has handled the throttle of locomotives on different railroads. He ran the original John Bull engine over the Camden and Amboy railroad over forty years ago. He was one of the first engineers to run over the Jersey Central railroad from Elizabethport to Somerville. He is now an engineer on the Delaware and Hudson [illegible]

SILVER WEDDING.

DELIGHTFUL CELEBRATION AT THE HOME OF C. H. RUGG.

Host and Hostess Showered with Good Wishes and Elegant Gifts—Magnificent Token of Affection and Esteem from Brother-Masons—A Shining Example of Conjugal Felicity.

HEARTY welcome was given to many relatives and friends, by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin H. Rugg, of 250 East Second street, Saturday evening, the event being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

The large rooms were filled with people, who had come to congratulate the host and hostess upon a quarter of a century of the happiest married life. The guests were all delightfully entertained.

Mr. Rugg is a Mason, holding the position of Worshipful Master of Jerusalem lodge, of this city, and his Masonic brethren remembered him handsomely in a token of substantial esteem, by presenting him with a solid silver tea set.

Most of the members of the lodge, with their wives, were present.

The other gifts also were very valuable, and gave further evidence of the popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Rugg.

During the evening the guests were favored with several selections on the piano by Miss Maggie Swackhammer, of Dunellen, and Master Fred. and Miss Florence Rugg.

The gentlemen, later in the evening, retired to a room where they had a quiet chat and smoke with their beloved brother-Mason.

Those present from out-of-town were: Springtown, N. J.—Mrs. Joseph H. Hauck; White House—Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Swackhammer, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Pelts, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Schomp, Mrs. Backer; Somerville—Mrs. J. T. Smith, Freddie and Bertie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Wherle; Dunellen—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Swackhammer, Miss Maggie and Harry Swackhammer, Miss Imogene Smith, Miss Fanny Smith, Mr. Fredericks; Westfield—The Rev. and Mrs. Ruth, Miss Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Manning Stamets, the Misses Stamets; Middletown, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. Swackhammer; Joliet, Ill.—John Henry; Elizabeth—Mrs. E. Bird Schooley and Miss Lula Schooley; New Brunswick—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oakley.

PERSONALIA.

The Rev. J. W. Richardson has shaved his mustache.

Clarence L. Murphy is out again after his illness, wearing a nobby straw hat.

Miss Anna Teal, daughter of architect Teal, has gone to Southold, L. I., for a visit.

Abram Smalley of East Front street is about to start on a trip to Illinois to visit his sister.

"Winnie" Coddington of North Plainfield has a ten-acre lot of strawberries planted. He expects to realize enough on the coming crop to buy a horse and buggy.

The closing exercises of the school of the Misses Marsh will take place next Saturday, when various of their many accomplished pupils will entertain their invited friends.

John Moore, the blind man of Chatham street, entertains whoever listens to him with reminiscences, and many tales of early history of North Plainfield. Mr. Moore is 76 years of age.

The wife of secretary J. H. Manning is at Washington attending the Presbyterian General Assembly, to which she is a delegate. Her mother, Mrs. S. F. Dunn of Park avenue, is with her.

A letter received from Fred S. Dunn at Hot Springs, Va., where he is in charge of an electric light plant, states that he likes the place and people and expects to remain there for the summer.

Mrs. Caroline B. Spencer will be 85 years of age on the 17th day of July. Mrs. Spencer is a descendant of a Revolutionary family and resides with her son, Col. H. N. Spencer, on Somerset street.

At the World's Fair Congress on Social Purity, to be held in the Memorial Art Institute, Chicago, June, 2, 3 and 4, Aaron M. Powell will speak in behalf of International Federation and the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis will read a paper on "Age of Consent Legislation".

George Dean, foreman of the roller-mould department at the Potter Press works, will sail for Europe about June 3 in search of better health. Mr. Dean will visit his old home in England for the purpose of disposing of some of his property. After visiting Paris and the Rhine he will return by way of Hamburg early in September.

A SAMARITAN SERMON.

The Rev. J. W. Richardson will preach to Plainfield and Queen City lodges of Odd Fellows, on the Good Samaritan degree, next Sunday evening.

SPECIAL SERMON TO THE VETS.

The Rev. C. E. Herring will preach a memorial service in the First Presbyterian church next Sunday evening to the two local G. A. R. posts and the Women's Relief Corps.

A BELOVED CLERGYMAN'S TRIP ABROAD.

A letter has been received by one of his many friends in this city from the Rev. Father John H. Cushing, lately of St. Mary's and St Joseph's parishes, announcing his safe arrival in Queenstown. He was on his way to Rome, and will not return to America till August.

EXPERT MISS GUION AND MR. SCOTT.

A progressive whist party was given by Mr. and Mrs August Kleinecke, at their home, 246 Franklin place, Saturday night. Miss Anna Guion won the first prize for young women, and James T. Scott the first prize for men. Supper followed.

A PLAINFIELDER'S PASTORATE.

The Rev. Lincoln B. Goodrich, brother of the Rev. C. L. Goodrich of this city, was graduated with honors at Yale Theological School last week, and assumed the pastorate of the Congregational church of Bound Brook. He will be formally ordained next month.

A BOROUGH EX-MARSHAL DANGEROUSLY ILL.

Ex-marshal of the borough, George P. Becker, is dangerously ill at his home on Somerset street. Drs. Zeglio and Carman are in attendance and there is not much hope for his recovery. He caught cold while building a bridge across the Passaic river, a few weeks ago, and is now passing away with spinal meningitis.

ALL IN A GOOD WORK.

W. D. Murray, E. L. Wain, jr., J. C. Whiting, John Daizial, T. B. Hazell, A. C. LaBoyteaux, O. W. Dunham, C. T. Kissam and J. H. Manning were the Plainfielders at the sixth annual convention of the Y. M. C. A's, Fourth New Jersey district, at Long Branch, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Murray gave an interesting talk on "Bible Study" and C. T. Kissam on "Importance and Claims of State Work".

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AND HOUSE-WARMING.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGinnis celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary and gave a house warming in their new home, recently built by Mr. McGinnis, at 213 Somerset street. About 40 of their friends attended, presented them with valuable gifts, and were handsomely entertained. [illegible]

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE DEATH OF JOHN McGOWEN.

He Left His Caboose to Flag an Approaching Train, Whose Engineer Came upon His Mangled Corpse—His Lamps Were Lighted on the Track, and His Head Crushed In.

John McGowen, who was formerly a Jersey Central railroad section foreman at this place, and also for the Lehigh Valley railroad at South Plainfield, met with a sudden and mysterious death at Summerton, a suburb of Philadelphia, Saturday night.

He was flagman or rear brakeman on the Philadelphia fast freight that runs from Jersey City to Philadelphia one night and returns the next. The train had to stop at Summerton, and he started from the caboose with his red and white lamps, to flag the following train.

No one can tell how he met with his death, but his body was found by the following train with the left arm mangled from the shoulder and the back of his head crushed in. What adds to the mystery is that the two lamps were still burning and placed on the track to protect the train. No train had passed that could have killed him.

The body did not arrive at his home at North Branch until 10 to-day, owing to the delay of the coroner.

Deceased was a young man of about 28 years of age, and leaves a host of friends. He was a member of the Emerald Beneficial Association of this place. His brother was conductor of the train that he was employed on.

He leaves five brothers, that are all railroad men, and four of them are over six feet four in height. Two of them are conductors on the fast freight, one is a section foreman at White House, one a section foreman at Summit, on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and one freight agent at North Branch. His father, John McGowen, was section foreman at North Branch for 26 years until his death about a year and a half ago. Deceased leaves also two sisters. He was six feet tall.

MAYOR GILBERT ON SEWERAGE.

HE URGES EVERY CITIZEN TO HIS DUTY IN THE MATTER.

Careful Estimate of the Cost, and Desirability of the System Fully Explained—Urgent Appeal Made for Prompt Action.

Plainfield's honored Mayor, Alexander Gilbert, Monday issued to every taxpaying citizen a copy of an important document to which he requests early reply on the postal card accompanying each copy. This is the message:

PLAINFIELD, May 22, 1893.

DEAR SIR:—It is desirable to ascertain as promptly as possible the disposition of taxpayers with reference to the proposed construction of a sewerage system for our city. A map showing the extent of the system has recently been published—also a statement giving estimated cost.

The system proposed has been so thoroughly and successfully tested in other places, that there appears to be no good reason for doubting its efficiency.

The estimated cost is about $100,000. This estimate has been very carefully examined by men familiar with sewerage construction, and it does not seem possible that there can be any serious discrepancy in it. As the work will all be done by contract, the cost will be known definitely before it is begun.

The cost of the work will be assessed partly against property directly benefited, and partly against the city at large. The assessment for direct benefit will probably not exceed the cost of the lateral sewer running in front of the property. The tax upon the city at large will be for the balance, which will probably be about the cost of the main sewers, the filtering beds, flush tanks, manholes, etc. As the cost of the 6-inch lateral sewer laid complete will be about 65 cents per lineal foot, it is fair to assume that the direct property tax will not exceed 32½ cents per frontage foot on each side of the street through which a lateral is laid. This portion of the tax will be due and payable as soon after the completion of the work as the report of the commissioners assessing the benefits is approved by the court. The portion of the cost that will be assessed upon the city at large which will be probably one half or more of the whole cost, will be provided for by an issue of bonds, having a number of years to run, which will make the amount to be added annually to the tax levy very small.

It appears important that this work, which has been under consideration for the past two years, should now be carried to completion. Our Council is in the hands of trustworthy business men, and no time in the future will be more favorable for the undertaking.

If you are in favor of the introduction of sewers at this present time in accordance with the plan proposed by the Common Council, please sign the enclosed postal card and return promptly. Later a petition will be presented for your signature.

Respectfully yours,
A. GILBERT.

EMBEZZLEMENT ENCOURAGED.

PLAINFIELD MERCHANTS CONTINUE TO SUFFER AND FORGIVE.

Robberies by Trusted Employes, of Great Frequency, but Always Smoothed Over.

Every day almost THE PRESS hears of another Plainfield merchant who has been robbed by a trusted employe, yet when the reporter asks for the facts for publication, he is requested to help hush up the matter as the victim is going to make the best he can of it and let the culprit go.

This sort of encouragement of embezzlers cannot last much longer. Two grocers and a hardware merchant is last week's record. This week's will probably exceed it, and so in time there'll be no one left worth robbing and this popular Plainfield industry will cease for want of fields to work in.

That it will take a new turn is already evidenced. One of those forgiven for stealing something like $2,000 of a Front street grocer—$1,100 of which he had deposited in a bank and which he returned when discovered—is about to bring suit against his victim for defamation of character and other things.

A Study in Black and White.

The residents in the vicinity of Eighth street and Park avenue have, periodically, been annoyed by pieces of burned paper, covering their premises. While at a loss at first to account for these charred decorations, it has been ascertained that it is occasioned by the burning of papers, etc., by the janitor of the Public Library. While this may be a very convenient way for him to dispose of waste paper, it is not [illegible]

WITH TURNER IN THE BOX.

HE STRIKES OUT NINE OF THE MURRAY HILLS

While the Crescents Found the Curves of Their Old Friend, Fuchs, All Over the Oval.

It was another scene of carnage on the Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, when the Plainfield team met the Murray Hills of New York, with Fuchs and Rogers as the battery, "Chuck" Lyons on third, Foster second, Lumian, first, Dannig center, and a first-class outfit of semi-professionals in general.

But it seems to be a crime for the Crescents to win, nowadays, and the cranks seem determined to compel the managers to release Hofford, and Jones, and Smith, and the others, because the visiting teams get licked. That is now the general complaint in grand stand and bleachers every day. Well, possibly the Crescents will be lucky and lose a few games by and by.

The reason the Murray Hills lost Saturday, was principally because Turner kept them guessing at first a fast and then a slow ball, for nine short innings. He struck out nine of them, and they could only claim eight scattered "hits" which included seven "plunks". It is only fair to state that Saturday's game here was the first in which Fuchs has pitched from the new distance—five feet further back from the batter.

On the other hand the Plainfield boys took kindly to Fuchs's drops and curves for 13 hits, and by letting his up-shoots go by walked to first base on balls, nine times. All played their positions in their usually snappy way and to perfection, excepting Bonner; and at the bat he struck out four times. The score:

CRESCENTS.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Hofford, c	5	2	1	0	2	0	9	2	1
Smith, ss	5	2	1	0	0	0	4	2	1
McIndoe, lf	5	2	2	1	1	0	1	0	0
Turner, p	4	1	0	0	1	0	1	11	0
Heckman, 3b	5	1	2	1	2	0	2	0	0
Fritz, rf	4	0	1	0	2	1	0	0	0
Bonner, 2b	5	1	1	0	0	4	2	1	1
Jones, 1b	5	1	2	1	2	0	4	4	0
Snedon, cf	4	2	1	0	0	0	3	3	1
		12	13	3	12	5	27	24	4

MURRAY HILL.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Foster, 2b	4	0	4	1	2	0	1	4	1
Crane, ss	4	1	0	1	0	0	2	0	1
Rogers, c	3	0	1	0	1	0	6	0	0
Devereaux, lf	4	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0
Lyons, 3b	3	1	1	2	0	2	0	1	2
Lumian, 1b	4	0	0	0	1	2	10	2	0
Fuchs, p	4	1	1	1	0	1	2	2	0
Dannig, cf	4	1	1	0	0	2	2	0	0
Gillion, rf	4	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	1
		5	8	5	4	9	24	15	5

BY INNINGS.

Crescents..........1 4 0 2 2 0 1 1 *—12
Base hits..........1 4 0 2 2 1 1 1 0
Murray Hill........0 0 2 0 1 1 0 1 0—5
Base hits..........1 0 2 1 1 2 1 0 1 0

Earned runs—Crescents, 6. Two-base hits—Jones, Heckman. Double plays—Smith to Jones; Bonner, to Smith, to Jones. Base on balls—Crescents, 9; Murray Hills, 2. First base on errors—Crescents, 3; Murray Hills, 1. Time of game—Two hours. Umpire—Hudson.

BACK WHERE SHE BELONGS.

Somerville Now Playing Amateur Ball, and Losing—Violets for Louis Mack, and the Grand Bouquet for Francis, Harkins's Pet Pupil.

The base-ball season at Somerville successfully opened Saturday, the West Ends playing against a team wearing the uniforms of the College of the City of New York, but found afterwards to be the Calumets.

The game was played before a large crowd of people, who were apparently pleased to have the West Ends go back to amateur ball, where they belong.

John Harkins pitched winning ball for the West Ends, but the game was lost through bad errors of catcher Francis, who overthrew to bases and passed several third strikes.

The Calumets played a good all-around game.

Louis C. Mack, manager of last year's league team, covered first base for the West Ends in a creditable manner. He accepted thirteen chances without an error, and hit the ball every time he went to the bat. In the fourth inning he placed the ball safely in right field, scoring two runs. When he first stepped to the plate in the second inning he was presented with a beautiful bouquet of violets.

Another catcher will back Harkins up in the game at Pennington next Saturday.

The score:

West Ends..........3 0 0 5 0 0 0 0 0—7
Base hits..........1 0 1 2 1 0 0 0 1
C. C. N. Y.........2 0 1 4 2 0 0 1 0—10
Base hits..........2 0 0 2 1 1 0 2 0

Earned runs—N. Y., 1. Struck out—By Harkins, 11; by Simon, 9.

NO THOROUGHFARE.

That Lovely Park of Ours Being Desecrated by Cattle.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Many people seem ignorant of the fact that the City Park (!) is not a thoroughfare for carriages to be driven, or cows led through. Last Sunday seven teams were counted passing through, and five cows were driven or led. The street commissioner ought certainly to take measures to prevent this desecration of our Beautiful Park (!)

By the way, would n't it be an excellent plan for the city fathers to appropriate about $15 and have a couple of men clear up this "pride spot" of our prosperous city?

LANDSCAPE.

Prizes at the German Fair.

An exhibition of club swinging and a few acrobatic feats by J. F. Snodder and his little 8-year old nephew were enjoyed at the German fair Saturday night. The little fellow did nobly, amid hearty applause, and although young yet he will make a good one in time to come. After the exhibition was over, the results of the prize contests were announced as follows:

FOR THE LADY'S GOLD WATCH.

First prize..........Miss Kate Suttewistz
Second prize..........Miss Emily Greder

FOR THE LADY'S GOLD RING.

First prize..........Miss Della Duvier
Second prize..........Carrie Reiter
Third prize..........Anna Weigman
Fourth prize..........Mata Brohme

Desecrating the Graves.

Complaints have been made as to the fence of the Evergreen cemetery. The fence on Plainfield avenue has rotted away, and has been pulled down by some unknown person or persons, who also make frequent trips to the cemetery and steal the flowers from off the graves. This stealing of flowers is done most every day, and should be put a stop to at once, as many prominent people are becoming indignant about the matter.

Quarantined for Diphtheria.

The Bock house on East Second street was quarantined by order of the board of health, and an officer was placed on duty to see that no one left or entered. The cause is said to be diphtheria in a most malignant form.

An Interesting Temperance Lesson.

E. B. Mattison, of New Brunswick, son of Dr. W. B. Mattison, of North Plainfield, entertained and edified a large audience in Trinity Reformed church, Monday, for more than an hour, showing by chart and experiments the evil physical effects of alcoholic stimulants. He is doing effective work for temperance and for Christ. At the close of the lecture a collection was taken and [illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents. AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

ssy

CAUGHT AT LAST.

VIOLATORS OF THE FISH LAWS IN THE TOILS.

They Didn't Know There Was a "Chiel Among Ye Takin' Notes"—Good Work of the State's Fish Commissioner and Game Protector.

For some time past State fish commissioner Robert D. Foote has had information conveyed to him by residents of Bound Brook that the fishing laws were being violated in the Raritan river and other streams contrary to the provisions of the new game and fish law passed by last winter's legislature. Consequently he dispatched to the scene game protector Thomas Maskill, and an assistant, John Ridge. For a week these officials have nightly lain along the banks of streams in this vicinity and Bound Brook for the purpose of detecting violators of the law, and at last succeeded in securing evidence enough for two cases. On Monday Mr. Maskill went to Somerville and arrested Lin Reilly who openly violated the fish laws by fishing with a hand net in the Raritan river below Bound Brook on the Middlesex county side of the dam. The prisoner was brought to Dunellen and before justice P. V. Huff, where after a hearing he was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear before the Middlesex county courts at New Brunswick.

The other case is that of using set lines in the lake at New Market. The parties will be taken care of in proper time. Commissioner Foote and protector Maskill cannot be too highly commended for their energy in apprehending and bringing to justice violators of the fish and game laws.

Mr. Maskill is a man of firm will and determination, and will prove a terror to evil doers. He has not ceased to watch the streams in this section, and as the open season for black bass fishing does not commence until May 30, certain parties had better cease their illegal acts in this vicinity.

MORECRAFT LIGHTLY FINED.

Because of His Good Report, the Court Is Lenient.

The first prisoner arraigned in Elizabeth Saturday was John Morecraft, of Plainfield, who was indicted for assault on a boy named MacClymont, being charged with having blacked his face. Morecraft's companion was convicted on trial a few weeks ago, and was sent to jail for several months for the offence. Saturday morning Morecraft entered the plea of not guilty. A man who accompanied him wanted him to plead guilty, and while Morecraft would admit that he put black on the boy's face he insisted upon the plea. His friend then refused to go his bail, and the prisoner was taken to a cell.

A few moments later he returned to the court room and announced that he wished to plead guilty. Prosecutor Marsh moved for sentence, and the court fined him $5, stating that his previous good reputation had saved him a severer penalty.

THOSE GREEN GOODS JAYS.

One of Them Driven from Plainfield, Visited Elizabeth, in Search of the Bunco Sharper.

Thousands of Elizabeth citizens are inquiring how it is that their city has become such a favorite rendezvous for green goods men and their intended victims. There is a hotel in the city at which probably no week passes without a "jay" being met within its walls by a sharper from the metropolis, and from there lured to some secret spot where he is fleeced or buncoed.

On Saturday a remarkably bold attempt was made to bunco a Southerner. The countryman said he was from South Carolina, and admitted that he met a supposed sharper in the hotel. He was warned by a merchant who saw the two on the street together, and soon after took his departure. He purchased a ticket for St. Louis, Mo., and was on his way to Clinton, a town near that city. He evidently had just arrived from Plainfield, where it is believed he had been lured by some sharper. He was probably one of those of whom these columns told exclusively, as having been scared out of town by the police.

He carried a cheap valise in his hand, and when told by the merchant the way green goods transactions generally turned out he became slightly nervous. It is believed the police saw the two together, but they failed to take any action in the matter.

Ready for Memorial Day.

The joint detail of Winfield Scott and Major Anderson posts, G. A. R., will hold their final meeting in 73's rooms this evening to complete arrangements for Memorial Day. So far as can be ascertained there will be no street parade, as in former years, no band to parade the streets, and about the only public demonstration will be the meeting in Music Hall in the afternoon. The graves of the soldiers and sailors will be strewn with flowers, early in the morning. There seems to be some difficulty among the members of the two posts over the appointment of the joint detail, and it is quite likely that this will be the last year the two posts will come together in joint celebration.

A New Orchestra.

An amateur orchestra was organized at Dr. Berg's residence Friday night. The orchestra consists of three violins, a trombone, piano and violoncello. According to the statement of one of the members the organization will be very select. New members will be taken in, and additional instruments added. Provision will be made at the next meeting for dues, fines, etc.

Capt. Martin's Reputation Abroad.

The New Brunswick Home News says: "Frank L. C. Martin, the hustling bicycle agent, gives to all wheelmen a hearty welcome who visit his headquarters at Plainfield. He never tires of dilating on the merits of the wheels he sells, and he likes to tell a good story, too."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. [illegible]

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR.

DELIGHTFUL EVENT AT THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST.

Pretty Flowers and Smiling Faces Greet a Large Congregation—How the Young People Entertained with Songs and Recitations.

LAST Sunday was the occasion of a most enjoyable children's festival in the First Church of Christ. The good pastor and good people firmly believe in such treats for the young people, and make them a frequent feature.

This particular entertainment was a grand success. The pulpit was beautifully decked with a profusion of flowers, presenting a very attractive appearance. The programme was very creditably rendered by the scholars, who had been very carefully trained by the following committee: Mrs. B. W. Hand, Mrs. D. Bush, Mrs. Wm. Baldwin and Mrs. John Steele. The exercises began with singing by the school, from Gospel Hymns No. 5, "Gather Them In". Then came the following:

Prayer—Pastor.
Children's Welcome..........Mabel Wilson
Scripture reading—Mat. 5; 1 to 12.
The Little Preacher..........Robbie Wells
Little Blossom..........Sadie Hand
"Jesus Loves Us"..........Mamie Nestor
Singing by School, No. 18 Gospel Hymns.
If We Knew..........Bertha Rockafellow
Loving Words..........Hattie Bush
A Mite Song..........Bella VanNeste
Singing by the intermediate class, Little Friends of Jesus.
Pluck and Prayer..........John VanMiddlesworth
The Bible..........Lillie Ackerman
Singing by School, No. 127 Gospel Hymns.
"He Ran the Night Express"..........Edith Wells
"It Passeth Knowledge"..........Minnie Nestor
"Self-examination"..........Percy Hand
Don't Be Wishing..........Hattie Bush
Our Lessons Learned..........Henry Steele
Singing, Congregation, No. 28 Gospel Hymns
Remarks by the superintendent, in which he made an earnest appeal for Sunday-school attendance.
Collection.
Singing—"Joy to the World"....Congregation
Benediction.

The superintendent announced the intention of the school to give a "Children's Day" exercise in June which promises to surpass all past efforts of the school.

SUNDAY SMASH-UPS.

Accidents that Befell Parties of Pleasure-Seekers.

A two-seat phaeton driven by Andy Seguine had two wheels wrecked by the street railway track on West Front street yesterday.

James Ellis, electric light lineman, had a narrow escape from serious injury last evening. The horse he was driving, attached to a supply wagon of the company, almost ran over two men in the roadway on Plainfield avenue, took fright and bolted. The wagon struck an electric light pole, pitching Mr. Ellis out upon the heels of the horse. It was a miracle his neck was n't broken, but he escaped injury. The horse ran on through South Plainfield to Park avenue, and up that thoroughfare. At Fourth street he crashed the wagon into a pile of lumber, completely wrecking it. At Park avenue and Front street John Rafferty made a brave and daring capture of the horse, rushing out and seizing it at the risk of his own life.

Buggies driven by Joseph Gavin and Ben Townley collided on Somerset street in the evening, and were damaged. The girls accompanying them screamed, causing some excitement.

WALLACE PLEADS.

He Reserves the Right to Change It from Not Guilty.

The alleged fire-bug, Lawrence Wallace, of Fanwood, was arraigned in Elizabeth Saturday on five indictments, all charges for burning buildings within the last few months. He pleaded not guilty to each, but reserved the right to change the plea. Trial was set down for June 2, and the court fixed bail at $500 in each case. His mother went his security on two counts, and counselor Craig A. Marsh, his lawyer, is trying to secure the remainder.

ANOTHER TROLLEY ROAD.

Electric Cars to Traverse the Mountain From Plainfield to Orange.

The Westfield Standard reports that the first shovel full of earth has been dug for the new trolley road from Plainfield to Orange via Baltus Roll; and that work on the macadam boulevard over Baltus Roll Mountain has been begun.

THE PLAINFIELD FORGER.

Contractor Rice's Hired Man to Be Sentenced Friday.

William Mecker pleaded guilty Saturday to an attempt to forgery, and the plea was accepted by the prosecutor. Mecker signed a check for $25 with the name of C. P. Rice, and attempted to cash it at the City bank. Sentence will be passed next Friday.

A Pretty Good Record.

For the first time in its three years' experience, Plainfield's fire-gong did n't work perfectly Saturday night.

When box 42 was pulled, it sounded only 4, then stopped. Something got stuck in the works. The alarm came in on the engine-house gongs and other tappers all right.

In other places the fire-gong often gives trouble, through not being attended to carefully. The pains taken in looking after Plainfield's system has always prevented such accidents hitherto.

Cheaper to Go In at the Gate.

Marshal Pangborn is determined to put a stop to the trespassing of boys and young men who climb into trees outside the base-ball grounds. Saturday he captured four of them, and had them up before magistrate Crosley for breaking limbs off the trees and otherwise damaging property. Thomas Lyons, Thomas McGrath, Charles Snyder and Wm. Myer each paid $1 apiece.

Women Must Sleep.

If they only could sleep eight hours every night and one hour every day:—

Their freshness and beauty would continue to the end:—

Years would be added to their lives.

All derangements of the Uterus or Womb, Ovarian or kidney troubles, uterus tumors, spinal weakness, irregularity, indigestion, exhaustion, or "displacement," drives the nerves wild with excitement, and sleep is impossible.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy. It has saved thousands, and will save you. It strengthens the womb, removes all pain, and you sleep like a child.

[illegible]

Easy Leaders.

We sell Spring Suits and Overcoats that are mistaken every hour in the day along the street for merchant-tailored garments. With good reasons, too. Luxurious they are and shapely, and no mark of ready-made on them, except the prices—$10, $12, $13, $15, $18, $20.

Do you know our success in Boy's and Little Boy's Suits? Especial suits of our own design and make at especial prices. Parents will find that we have the largest selection, the nobbiest styles and sell at lowest possible prices. Boy's Suits $5 to $12. Children's $2 to $10.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,

Newark Clothiers,

779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.

3 22 3m

MC GREGOR & CO.

HAVE YOU A BOY?

You may think the question impertinent but it is not.

It's our business to know all the people who have boys that we may also make them acquainted with our facilities for fitting them out for spring.

Every year we fit the boys out better and better.

You'll find this season no exception to this rule and that the styles we have to show you for Young America, our own, exclusive styles are captivating. So are the prices.

It will reduce your anxiety about what is fit for the boy to wear to a minimum to try on a few of our fashionable styles, and the cost of fitting him out for spring will be materially lessened by buying from us.

We Design Our Own Styles.
We Make Our Own Goods.
We Sell at a Small Profit.

The result is a first-class article for a little money.

McGregor & Co., 850 and 852 Broad S NEWARK, N. J.

9 17 tf

Spring Overcoats!

Our stock of Spring Overcoats cut from Meltons, Whipcords, Cheviots, Worsteds, etc., in grays, browns, black and fancy shades at

$10 and $12

Includes all the new spring styles and the prices speak for themselves. One of the greatest bargains we have ever offered is the

$15 DRESS SUITS

In Clay Diagonal Worsteds. These suits have never before been sold for less than $18. They will please you, as they do not wear glossy.

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

Near Academy street.

4 20 3m

Adapt Yourself To Spring.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball

807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,

Newark, N. J.

3 22 3m-c

—ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

[illegible]

CARE OF THE INJURED.

LAST OF THE EMERGENCY LECTURES.

Dr. Hedges Tells What to Do with Those Stunned or Stricken with Apoplexy, the Inebriated, Fainting, or Poisoned.

A large number of people gathered in the Irving school Thursday to hear the last of the "emergency lectures" given by Doctors Murray and Hedges. Dr. Hedges spoke last night, and told his audience what to do in cases where people have been stunned, or stricken by apoplexy, and for the inebriated or fainting and in cases of poisoning. Dr Hedges said:

"Suppose you see a man lying at the side of the road in an unconscious condition. His state may be caused in a variety of ways, and may be very serious as in apoplexy or not at all dangerous as in inebriation. We will look at the various cases and their symptoms and consider what is best to do in each case. Shock may be caused by any severe accident as will be known by almost total unconsciousness, a clammy feeling of the skin, feeble pulse, and a limp body. The eyes, too, are often turned up in a peculiar manner. The first thing to do is to apply heat to the body and feet, warm blankets and hot water. When consciousness returns and the reaction takes place great care should be taken to keep the head cool. Lay the patient down and apply ice to the head. Stimulants should be given as soon as the patient can swallow. Rye whisky is recommended in hot milk, a teaspoonfull at a time every few minutes until the patient feels stronger. Do not use brandy as there is not such a thing as good brandy in Plainfield." Dr. Hedges added that he had always doubted the quality of brandy purchased in this city, but that he was convinced of its worthlessness when a certain hotel-keeper in town who was ill and who was given brandy ordered it taken away, saying that there was not a drop of pure brandy in Plainfield. "If the other means you have used fail to bring the patient back to consciousness an injection of hot water in the bowels may prove very effective. The man's unconsciousness may be caused by apoplexy. This disease is caused by the rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. The blood breaks through the walls of the vein or artery and produces paralysis of the part governed by the particular portion of the brain affected. The same effect may be produced by a little plug of tissue in the blood coming to a portion of the artery that is too small to admit its passage. This stops the flow of blood, producing paralysis. This state of things may be known by a flushed face, pulse intense and going through the arteries in bounds. The respiration has a peculiar blowing sound and the cheeks will be seen to flap. The face is also very much drawn on the side affected. An almost certain sign of apoplexy and one that is dragnostic of the disease is the enlargement of one pupil in the eyes and the contraction of the other. The treatment in such a case is simple. Put the feet in hot water if possible. Keep the body warm and apply ice or towels soaked with cold water to the head, the object being to take as much blood as possible from the head. If you can, administer a strong cathartic at once and then keep the patient absolutely quiet. The mistake is often made by the police of large cities of mistaking a case of appoplexy for intoxication and the popular mode of clubbing on the head has done a great deal of injury to innocent people. Intoxication can be readily told from apoplexy by close inspection. The face is not drawn as in the former complaint and while the breathing is very similar, the normal respiration will return if the patient is shaken so as to arouse him. The pupils are not affected and the pulse is even and feeble. The most charitable thing to do in case of intoxication is to give a strong emetic helped if necessary by the injection of the fore finger down the throat. Strong coffee is the best method of restoring strength.

Opium poisoning will produce unconsciousness and may be told by slow and shallow respiration and the pupils of the eyes are contracted to almost pin points and it is safe to say that when this is seen in the eyes the person has been using opium in some of its forms. The treatment will be given under poisons. Sunstroke is of common occurrance in these parts and should be treated at once as delay is dangerous. It is caused by protracted exposure to over heated air and not necessarily to the rays of the sun.

If for any reason the evaporation from the body is prevented in extremely hot weather sun stroke is liable to occur. Evaporation keeps the body cool, and when it is a hundred as in close muggy weather the person becomes over heated. Laborers wear thick flannel shirts when at work in the summer so as to induce perspiration which keeps them cool. The first symptoms of sun stroke are, an irritable feeling, headache and sinking in pit of stomach. The face becomes flushed and the temperature sometimes goes up as high as 110°. Finally unconsciousness comes, and, unless aid is given the stroke may be fatal. The only thing to do is to reduce the temperature as quickly as possible. An excellent method is to strip the patient, first removing him from the heated place, and then sprinkle him with cold water in an ordinary garden sprinkler. If this cannot be obtained throw cold water on him until he regains consciousness. If he recovers his senses and then goes off again keep up the operation and you will probably bring him out all right. The after effects of sunstroke are very bad as a person once affected is always extremely susceptible to heat.

Epilepsy is one of the most terrible of diseases. The symptoms are convulsions followed by quiet unconsciousness. Do not try to restrain a person in a fit of epilepsy. Only keep him from hurting himself and if possible knot a handerchief and place between the teeth of the patient so that he will not bite his tongue.

If children have convulsions put them in a hot bath with cold towels on the head and give an emetic or use the fore-finger as described before. An injection of warm water into the bowels may be used.

If you find a man at the side of the road unconscious who smells strongly of ammonia and whose ankles are swollen and pulpy you may know that is a case of Bright's disease.

For one who has been stunned by a blow proceed as in shock. Never give stimulants where a patient has trouble with the head or when the face is flushed.

Poisons may be divided with irritants and narcotics. Irritants act directly on the tissues while narcotis act on the nervous system.

Some of the irritants are, arsenic as in Paris green and rat poison, mercury, lead, phosphorous, nitric acid, lye and washing soda. The narcotics are the different forms of opium, and some others, such as strychnine. The first thing to do in any case is to empty the poison from the stomach. Mustard and water makes an excellent emetic. For acid poisons give any alkali that may be handy, such as lime or common tooth powder. For alkali poisons give acids, such as vinegar. For opium poisoning keep up artificial respiration if the patient is unconscious, and keep awake by any means if possible. Cold water on the face, an emetic and then 20 drops of belladonna; afterwards, strong coffee.

In conclusion Dr. Hedges said if a child gets anything in the ear or nose use a syringe unless the substance is a bean or a pea, in which case it may swell and be difficult to remove. If a child swallows a [illegible] try to remove it as it will do no harm."

These lectures have been most excellent for those who work in the shops and others as well, and great credit should be given to those who were instrumental in getting them up, as well as to the physicians who gave their valuable time in telling the people what to do.

RAILWAY DELAYED.

BUT CONNECTION WITH PLAINFIELD BOUND TO COME.

Elizabeth Moving Slowly in the County Electric Matter—All Towns to Get a Percentage on the Earnings.

At Thursday night's meeting of the Elizabeth common council a motion to consider the application for a franchise by the Elizabeth and Plainfield Street Railway company, was made by councilman Corbin.

Councilman Egenolf seconded it, and councilman Dunn moved to adjourn. The latter motion took precedence, and was lost, only two votes being cast in favor. Then the Hon. Foster M. Voorhees was heard as the company's representative. He presented the proof of the signatures of a majority of the property-owners along the proposed route granting permission for the company's line, and then read a proposed ordinance granting the franchise. The company is to place but one track through the narrow portion of Orchard street, and is to complete the pavement from curb to curb and to light the street with electric lamps. He said that it would be almost impossible to separate the receipts of the road in this city from those of other parts of the road. The company had made arrangements to divide equally among the townships through which it passed 12 per cent. on its net earnings; this would give Elizabeth 3 per cent. The company, he felt sure, could not afford to pay 5 per cent. as contemplated in the ordinance introduced by councilman Dunn.

After he had presented his case the petition was laid on the table; then councilman Corbin introduced the ordinance prepared by Mr. Voorhees, and that too was laid on the table.

A MISSIONARY MATCH.

Captain Florence Hawkins's Team Guess the Most Answers About China.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Park Avenue Baptist church conducted a very novel and interesting meeting in the chapel of the church Friday night It was called a "missionary match".

The exercises were opened with a song service. Miss Florence G. Hawkins, the secretary, presided. Scripture reading followed, after which the meeting was thrown open for "testimonies" until 8:30. Then sides were chosen for the match, Miss Hawkins and Miss Emma Fish being the captains. The sides numbered about 20, evenly divided.

The president, Mr. VanSciver, then conducted the questioning, which was taken from a printed book arranged for the occasion. The subject was "China", and the questions were entirely about that empire, its surroundings, customs, etc., and were very instructive to the participants as well as the audience.

Miss Hawkins's side finally won in the number of questions answered correctly.

At the conclusion of this part of the programme, the president announced that the rest of the time would be occupied socially, and the committee provided refreshments for all.

This affair was entirely an experiment and all were highly pleased with the result. Those taking part deserve much credit.

STOPPED ON THE WAY

Plainfield Chinese Arouse the Suspicion of Newark Police.

The Chinaman with his throat cut was taken by his fellow Chinaman from Plainfield to a New York Chinese hospital Friday, after this paper had gone to press and was selling on the streets. The sufferer was loaded on a wagon. At Newark the picturesque cavalcade was stopped by the police, on suspicion, and the police in Plainfield were asked about them by telephone. On sergeant Kiely's information they were permitted to proceed.

North Plainfield's Cars to Run Next Month.

The two cars for the Somerset street extension of the Plainfield Street Railway company, are expected next week. The company is required by its contract with the borough to be running by June 28 It will be all ready provided F.M. French's injunction can be removed.

—The Pond Machine Tool company is taking on new hands daily, which is a sure indication of an increase in business.

—Thomas O'Keefe, so his neighbors say, has been missing from home since Tuesday, and they have fears as to his safety.

—Charles S. Cook, a faithful employe of this office since the founding of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, has been severely ill for several days.

—John Kretzen, who was fortunate enough to win a pair of ladies' gaiters at the German fair, Thursday evening, offered to trade them with Chas. Schantz who won a bottle of wine.

—The work of removing the old Burlingham house along East Fourth street has been somewhat slow. The net-work of wires which cross and re-cross the street, has retarded the progress of the movers.

—The work of digging up the street and laying the track on Somerset street, was only temporarily retarded by the strike of the Italians on Thursday. Some of the strikers went to New York, and some of the others are still loitering about town.

Your Painter

has often wasted time and material in trying to obtain a shade of color, and has even resorted to the use of ready mixed paints, the ingredients of which he knew nothing, because of the difficulty in making a shade of color with white lead. This waste can be avoided by the use of National Lead Company's

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors

These tints are a combination of perfectly pure colors, put up in small cans, and prepared so that one pound will tint 25 pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead to the shade shown on the can. By this means you will have the best paint in the world, because made of the best materials—and pure colors. Insist on having one of the brands of white lead that are standard, manufactured by the "Old Dutch" process, and known to be strictly pure:

Strictly Pure White Lead

"Atlantic" "Bradley"
"Brooklyn" "Jewett"
"Ulster"

These brands of Strictly Pure White Lead and National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors are for sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.

1 Broadway, New York.

LIKE BEN FRANKLIN.

A 14-YEAR-OLD NORTH PLAINFIELD BOY MAKES A PRINTING PRESS.

Louis M. Hummer's Task—He Had No Press to Print His "Jersey Mosquito," So He Made One Out of Wood and It Goes.

The ambition to become a "newspaper man" has led the son of one of Plainfield's prominent citizens to build a printing press. This, of itself, is not so marvelous, but—says the New York Recorder—the novel construction of the press and the youthfulness of its builder combine to make the feat remarkable. Louis Mulford Hummer is a bright lad, 14 years old. He is a scholar in the North Plainfield public school. He is quite well advanced in his studies for a boy of his age, and pays particular attention to the study of grammar. His father, Louis Hummer, is a prominent merchant, and is a member of the North Plainfield borough council.

Last summer Louis thought he would study the art of printing, and while his companions were having fine outings he was spending the hot, sultry days as the "devil" in a local printing establishment. When the schools reopened in September the lad, who had gained a fair idea of the art preservative, left his work and took up his favorite studies. The money he had earned during the vacation was laid carefully by for future use.

One day in January a friend of the lad who resides in Harlem sent him a copy of an amateur journal which is edited by a young lady of New York city. The neat sheet of four pages at once aroused the latent ambition of the lad, and he began to study and plan how he could manage to become an amateur editor. He finally took a schoolmate into his confidence, and the two boys resolved to become partners in the scheme. The "junior member" of the firm is Edward Buell, son of C. E. Buell of the Census office, though he is the senior of Louis Hummer by over a year.

The two boys put their heads together to devise ways and means, and by pooling their capital they had a sum sufficient to purchase a press large enough to print the four page 6x8 paper they intended to issue. Then they began a hunt for the press. One of their friends had one which just suited their purpose, and they offered him the price he asked for it, but upon finding that Hummer and Buell meant business he backed out of the bargain and declined to sell at any figure. The boys' capital would not permit the purchase of a new press and outfit, so they began again to plan and look for another bargain.

One day, after school, Louis assumed a very mysterious air, and told his partner not to look further for a press, as he had a plan. What it was he refused to tell, but every afternoon and evening and mornings before school he shut himself up in his little workshop, and nothing but the various pieces of lumber which he carried in and the hammering and sawing gave any hint of what he was doing. Finally, one afternoon he invited his partner to go home with him and see how he had overcome the difficulty which had confronted them. When the workshop was entered a novel arrangement was seen, and young Buell had no difficulty in recognizing it as a printing press.

The press was built entirely of wood, and was complete in all essential details. It was made to receive a 11x13 chase, and a neat chase, also of wood, lay on its bed. The press itself is a novel concern. On either side of a bed made of 2-inch planking, planed perfectly true, rise two uprights which are connected at the upper ends, after the plan of a letter-copying press. The impression plate is suspended by springs, and is pressed upon the type by a lever worked by the foot of the printer. The inking is done by hand, and necessarily the work of printing is slow.

Now that the press is in working order the boys have bought a lot of newspaper type and a small outfit for job work, and have opened a printing office where they print cards, small handbills and the like.

Their journal, which is to be known as the Jersey Mosquito, has not yet made its appearance, as the boys have not yet completed the purchase of their "newspaper dress", nor secured the necessary amount of advertisements, but they expect to issue the first number soon. Their printing press has been inspected by many of their older friends and many practical pressmen and printers, who wonder that a boy so young should have built unaided, such a complete printing press.

Young Hummer formerly worked in a Plainfield printing office, during vacation time.

DR. RIPLEY O. K.

HIS COUNTY ROAD CORNFIELD PROVES A MYTH.

The Hasty Judgment of the Inspector Set Aside by the Freeholders—He's Perfecting and Beautifying the Roads, Not Damaging Them.

Freeholder Vanderbeek, of this city, was one of a committee Thursday, to investigate the atrocious charge that good big Dr. Ripley, of Ripleyville, was turning the county roads into cornfields. Mr. Vanderbeek on his return told a PRESS representative that he wished everyone along the line would follow Dr. Ripley's example, and he requested the publication of the following:

"There seems to have been a misapprehension in regard to Dr. Chauncey B. Ripley and his work on the county roads of Union county. Last fall, it appears, the Union Water company laid pipes from Plainfield to Elizabeth, along the county road, between the Telford pavement and the sidewalk. The county required the Union Water company to put the road in good order where the pipes were buried. The pipes were buried along 1,000 feet in front of Dr. Ripley's property on North avenue. Dr. Ripley contracted with the Water company before winter set in, to put in order the broken ground along his own front. He did it, and received his pay from the Water company, but the heavy rains and severity of the winter caused some breaks and depressions in the job, and immediately the weather settled this spring he commenced repairing the work done in the fall. The inspector of roads, finding men at work, inquired what they were doing. The men answered: "We are at work for Mr. Ripley". The inspector replied to them: "The Union Water company are to do this work", the inspector not knowing that they were doing the work under Dr. Ripley's contract with that company. The Water company, for whom Dr. Ripley did the work, certifies that the road along his front repaired by him is in better condition than any other part of the county road over which the company laid mains".

Mr. Vanderbeek added that Dr. Ripley was leveling and smoothing the roadside and sowing it with grass seed.

Such a Thing May Happen Here.

A lesson for the wholesale cutters of streets in Plainfield may be interested in this bit of Bound Brook experience. Mayor Perry was served with a summons last night for the mayor and council to appear before the circuit court at Somerville to answer unto John D. Voorhees in an action in tort to damages in the sum of $5,000.

The damages claimed are for the change of the grade at the corner of Mountain avenue and High street. By the [illegible]

A POLAR PHANTOM.

The Gruesome Mystery of a Wandering Iceberg.

An Unknown Ship Buried in a Mountain of Ice Discovered in the Neighborhood of Cape Horn.

It was a fearsome craft, a veritable ancient mariner of a ship that was sighted by Capt. Spurring, of the British ship Drumcraig, down at the Horn, a few months ago. The story of this weird wanderer of the seas is, according to the San Francisco Examiner, brought here by Capt. Atkinson, who recently arrived by rail to take charge of the British ship Goodrich. He saw Capt. Spurring at Queenstown, and had the tale direct from him.

The Drumcraig left here six months ago and had a speedy run as far as Cape Horn. There the usual westerly winds shifted to dead ahead and a sea full of broken ice, many of the bergs being very large, made navigation troublesome and perilous. One stormy morning just at daybreak, when the snow was falling so thickly that it was not possible to see more than a ship's length ahead, a mountain-like berg drifted past the vessel. It was so near, scarcely a cable's length away, that but for a slight mishap, which had just made it necessary to heave to the Drumcraig, the vessel would have collided with the berg. As it was, the ice mountain came so near that officers and crew all saw the gruesome burden that it bore—a full-rigged bark, with sail all set, frozen into the berg and shrouded in ice from mainmast top to copper bottom.

The berg and its ice-bound prisoner were fully fifteen minutes drifting past the Drumcraig, and during that time all hands were closely studying the weird apparition. The vessel rested high on the berg, ten or twelve feet from the water line, and was buried in the ice as far up as her rail. The ice that was frozen over the vessel appeared to be two or three feet thick on the side next the observers. Capt. Spurring thought it could not be more than that, because with his glasses he could easily make out the outlines through the ice and could see that she was of wood and had a coppered bottom.

From the dim outlines he guessed that she was a sailing bark of ancient pattern of about the size and appearance of a New Bedford whaler. But there were left no boats, no davits and not enough of the rigging to decide the question.

The three masts, the sails, the spars and gear were all shrouded with a thick casing of ice, through which only their dark outlines could be seen. Some of the crew imagined they could see bodies of men in the rigging, but Capt. Spurring was doubtful, for his glasses did not increase the resemblance.

His explanation of the ice-locked mystery is that the vessel must have grounded on a projecting edge of the berg, toppled over against the wall and there rested until it was frozen so fast that no movement of the ice mountain could dislodge it. Then the ice had gradually grown up around it until its imprisonment was complete.

The neighborhood was suggestive of danger, and the Drumcraig was headed in another direction as quickly as possible, and in a few minutes the uncanny phantom had drifted away toward the southeast into the storm that was strengthening its fetters of ice.

STOLE THE WRONG BOOTS.

A Prisoner Whose Tart Reply to the Court Resulted in a Light Sentence.

In his "Personal Reminiscences" L. E. Chittenden tells many good anecdotes. The sentence passed upon a tramp convicted before Judge Elias Keyes of the larceny of the boots of United States Senator Dudley Chase is a quaint compound of law and sarcasm.

"You are a poor creature," said the judge. "You ought to have known better than to steal. Only rich men can take things without paying for them. And then you must steal in the great town of Windsor and the boots of a great man like Senator Chase, the greatest man anywhere around. If you wanted to steal, why didn't you steal in some little town in New Hampshire, and the boots of some man who wasn't of any consequence? And then you must steal from him when he was on the way to Washington and perhaps the only boots he had. You might have compelled him to wait until some shoemaker made him another pair, and shoemakers never keep their promise. And perhaps by the delay some important treaty might have failed of ratification because he was not present in the senate. What have you got to say why you should not be sentenced to state prison for the term of your natural life for stealing Senator Chase's boots?"

"I have got to say that you seem to know a dern deal more about stealin' boots nor what I do!" piped the prisoner.

"That is a sound observation," said the judge, "and I will give you only thirty days in the county jail, not so much for stealing as for your ignorance in not knowing better than to steal the boots of a great man like Senator Dudley Chase."

Metallic Tin on Cloth.

A new process, invented in Germany, allows a brilliant and flexible stratum of tin to be deposited upon cotton fiber. A paste is first made of the powdered zinc of commerce and white of egg and spread on the material by means of a brush. This is then coagulated after drying by a current of superheated steam and the tissue is then introduced into a bath of perchloride of tin. The metal precipitates on the zinc in a finely divided state and after rinsing and drying the cloth it is passed through cylinders or calenders, which give brilliance to the coat of tin. Beautiful metallic designs may be obtained in this way. It is stated that the process may be substituted entirely for the ordinary method of ornamenting cloth with tinfoil.

Value of Collections.

Little Boy—Papa, I wish you would save all the postage stamps that come on your letters.

Papa—What for?

"I'm making a collection of them."

"Humph! What earthly use will a collection of canceled stamps be?"

"I—I don't know, but I guess it'll be of about as much use as the collection of cracked teapots that mamma is making."—Good News.

Different Now.

Witherby—I wish I could get me a decent office boy.

Plankington—Why, I thought you were bragging the other day about what a fine one you had.

Witherby—I was, but that was the first day he came.—Judge.

A Blessed Affliction.

Minnie—I never would marry a nearsighted man, would you?

Mamie—Why not? I should think it must be real nice to have a husband who could see you perfectly while he was walking with you and not be able to see any good-looking girl who happened to pass on the other side of the street.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Scheme.

Mrs. Foster—Thomas, did you wind the clock last night when you came in—it has stopped at half-past eleven.

Mr. Foster—I know it, my dear. I stopped it last night instead of winding it, so that you could know what time I came home.—N. Y. Herald.

Two Extremes.

When Aubrey heard his mother telling the waitress that she did not cut the bread thin enough, he said:

"But then, mamma, she never cuts the cake too thick."—Harper's Young People.

Gave It Up.

There was a young girl from Montclair
Who was hugged by a grizzly bear
Till he grew lame and sore,
But she still called for more,
So he laid down and died in despair.
—Judge.

A Sweet Revenge.

Mrs. Lovey—Do you like this pudding? Mrs. Lotus gave me the recipe for it.

Mr. Lovey—No, but I guess you can [illegible]

It Was Her First Attempt.

Mr. Newed—There is one virtue about these biscuits, my dear.

Mrs. Newed (blushing with pleasure)—What is it, dearest?

Mr. Newed (Brutally)—If they were worth their weight in gold, we would be everlastingly rich.—Truth.

A Republican Party.

"I'm going to have a party on my birthday," said Mollie.

"What kind?" asked Jennie.

"Oh, I don't know. Republican, I guess. That's what papa is."—Harper's Young People.

These Dear Girls.

Phyllis—What size glove do you wear?

Perdita—Six, if they are elastic.

Phyllis—You mean India rubber, I presume.—Brooklyn Life.

Unnecessary Repetition.

Attorney (to witness)—Would you believe the defendant on oath?

"Didn't I say awhile ago that he's a real-estate agent?"—Judge.

The Dangers of Knowledge.

"Why don't you sit down?"

"This morning I asked you how many made a million, an' you said: 'Darned few.' I told teacher that in arithmetic class to-day, an' that's why I can't sit down."—Life.

It Was Cheaper.

"Why do you walk instead of riding your bicycle?"

"Because," replied Mr. Shineon, "I've figured it out that it costs less for shoe leather than it did for court plaster."—Buffalo Express.

When She Sits on His Lap.

Helen Hyler—Don't you think it is very bad form for a man who is calling on a young lady to sit down before she does?

Jack Lever—Certainly; but under some circumstances he has to.—Puck.

He Was a Good-Hearted Fellow.

Father—I'm afraid you want to marry my girl for her money.

The Good-Hearted Fellow — Your daughter loves me, and I can't see her suffer simply because she's rich.—Brooklyn Life.

Uncertain Age.

Mr. Oldbeau (growing romantic)—Ah, how I wish I had lived in the knightly days of old.

Miss Youngthing (growing weary)—Didn't you?—N. Y. Weekly.

Genuine Misery.

McFaddell says nothing makes him feel so blue as to go home in the morning when both himself and the moon are down to their last quarter.—Judge.

There Are Exceptions.

"Everything comes to him who waits," muttered the waiter, looking pensively at the departing guest, "except tips."—Chicago Tribune.

Wanted It.

"Every man has his price."

"I haven't got mine."—Truth.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Perfected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 19, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

8.20 a. m.—COLUMBIAN EXPRESS daily, Pullman vestibule sleeping cars to Chicago and Cincinnati, dining, smoking and vestibule passenger coaches from New York to Chicago. Arrive Chicago 10 a. m., Cincinnati 8.30 a. m., Indianapolis 7.50 a. m. next day.

6.22 a. m. FAST LINE, with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars, daily for Pittsburg, Columbus, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Chicago and St. Louis, daily, except Saturday for Toledo.

1.02 p. m. WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

6.32 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping car, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. [illegible]

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

[illegible]

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

[illegible]

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

[illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER [illegible] SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—43 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address
Albion Hotel, The	Park av and 5th st
Ames, C. J.	15 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Ackerman, Mrs. J. H.	20 West 7th street
Adams, Dr D C	45 Grove st
Brokaw, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac B	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	5th and Union sts.
Barnabee & Dunn	16 North ave.
Boice, W. C., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central Av.
Bushnell, John	Central ave. and 9th st.
Beerbower, J B	Park av and 3d st
Berg, Jos F, M D	10 E 6th st
Board of Education	6th st. cor. and Union sts
Booth, E N	40 Madison ave
	6th & Liberty, 6th & Monroe
Clark, E B	3 Wayewood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Clawson, James T	Richmond and Front sts
Constitutionalist Office	1 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr J H	Manning and Westervelt aves.
Con. Rowland	Seventh st.
Chapman, Mrs. F. A.	9 Third Place
Cruikshank, R. A.	138 Carlton avenue
Gorman, J H, M D	40 Somerset st
Chase, B F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (J H Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
Daily Press	3 North ave.
Depew, Mrs. E H	3 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	33 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 8th st & Park av
Day, B M	Rockview ave
Demarest, P M	37 Park av
Dumont, John B	20 E 7th st
Docker, T—pay station	Westfield, N J
Deffreese, James	43 E 9th st
Doane, T O—Chief P F D	40 W 8th st
Dollner, S L	131 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 8th st.
Evening News, T.W. Morrison, Editor	Somerset st.
Engine No 1	West 3d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo C	37 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J	20 West Seventh St
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR. Depot.
French, P M & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	73 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	30 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	6 W 7th st
French, C Frank	80 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	24 W 6th st
Goddard, C M	17 Third Place.
Golden, A M	13 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	8th and New sts
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 8th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
Heysiger, L	31 & 33 Somerset Street.
Hageman, R. A.	107 Sycamore avenue.
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	43 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas	164 Front street.
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave.
Higgins, M. A.	73 East 4th st—26 North ave
Hatfield, John H	304 South 2d st—61 Park av
Harder, Francis C	122 Madison av
Hermance, O	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	20 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L	86 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	15 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	4th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	6 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 9th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Rice	49 Broadway
Laire, J F & Co	5 W Front st
Linke, Frank	40 W Front st
Lounsberry, F C	13 Plainfield ave
Myers, J K	17 East 7th st
McGee, Henry A	Willow ave
McGee, James	Willow ave
Miller, J G	14 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A.	36 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	107 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	44 Grove st
Milliken, E F	136 Central av
Morrison, T W	11 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	46 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	E Front st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood
Newhall, Henry B	16 E 7th st
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
Penton, Jr., Thos B	Rockview ave
Plainfield Gaslight Co	49 East Fourth St
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue
Plainfield Beef Co	3d and Washington sts
Police Station—Chief's office	9 Park ave
Police Station	Park ave and RR.
Potter, C Jr	7th and Division sts.
Potter Press Works	South ave
Probasco, Dr J B	41 Front st.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave. and 9th st
Pope & Co. J. C.	6 East Front st
Pittis, Thomas	124 Central av
Pond Machine Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierce Hardware Co	43 W Front st
Runyon, F W	1 Front st—Central Times
Reed, Chas A	27 Myrtle ave
Randolph, Henry C	Broadway
Rosen, L. A.	20 Broadway
Reynolds, R H	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. F.	Washington avenue
Roberts, D S	17 North avenue.
Rockfellow, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	43 Madison ave
Rushmore, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
[illegible]	[illegible]

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

[illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET.

QUEER CHRISTIANS.

A Peculiar Sect Located in Philadelphia.

They Religiously Refrain from Eating Meat—Some of Their Beliefs and the Conditions of Church Membership.

It has often been remarked as curious by residents in the northern portion of Philadelphia that the block bounded by Broad street, Park avenue, Berks street and Montgomery avenue contains the smallest church and the largest one in Philadelphia. For those fronting on Broad street is the Baptist temple, with its seating capacity of five thousand, and immediately behind it, fronting on Park avenue, is the little, quaint, gray stone edifice belonging to the Bible Christian church, with a seating capacity of probably not one hundred. Quaint it is indeed inside as well as out, as described by the Times. The walls are of wood, some of them plainly whitewashed and hung with the usual illuminated texts, and in place of the luxuriously cushioned "opera" chairs now introduced into churches, narrow wooden benches, painted gray, are provided for the worshipers, and are perfectly in keeping with the boarded floor, uncovered save for a strip of carpet down the aisle. Though the church is really the Bible Christian it is much better known as the "Vegetarian," because vegetarianism is exacted of its members. This peculiarity of creed is the reason for its lack of growth and the consequent smallness of the edifice. Its creed includes the belief that the laws of health require abstinence from meat or flesh of all kinds and strict adherence to farinaceous and vegetable foods. It is claimed by the vegetarians, with the support of scientists to some degree, that some diseases would have had no existence among human beings but for their partaking of the flesh of animals, which, being impregnated with disease microbes, introduced the ills of the animal kingdom into the human family.

The Bible Christians believe also that the words to be found in the first chapter of Genesis, spoken by God to Adam and Eve—"Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat"—imply a distinct command to partake only of vegetable foods, and that this commandment was kept until after the flood. From a humanitarian standpoint they are opposed to the wholesale slaughter of animals as cruel. "You may have noticed," said a member of the church in speaking of its creed, "that the same laws of natural affection which we acknowledge also govern the action of animals. They love, grieve, joy and suffer in their degree the same as we do in ours. They possess many of the higher attributes of our nature, such as faithfulness, courage and devotion. This being so we do not feel at liberty to destroy their lives at random, and though we do not absolutely claim the existence of a future life for them, yet the reference of St. John in the Apocalypse to the four-footed beasts about the throne remains to be interpreted in some way and seems to point to something of the sort." With the exception of vegeterianism the Bible Christian church differs from other Christian churches but slightly. The conditions of membership in this church—abstinence from meats and intoxicating liquors of all kinds—are severe enough to prevent many from joining it, and the membership is at present only between fifty and sixty. Of this number some live in Frankfort, and they are so scattered that it is seldom they all meet together. At their entertainments, when the serving of refreshments is included, the uninitiated would be amazed to see what a diversity of tastes can be suited and what wide a range of choice is revealed in the delicate and skillful preparation of vegetable and farinaceous productions.

AIR IN SOLID FORM.

Scientists Believe Hydrogen Will Sometime Be Shown to Be a Metal.

Speculation continues to multiply and flourish around the mysterious substances which Prof. Dewar lately exhibited as solid air, says the Pall Mall Budget. It will be remembered that Prof. Dewar could not himself say whether the frozen mass contained both solid oxygen and solid nitrogen, or solid nitrogen alone with liquid oxygen interspersed. Substances which possess the property of retaining liquids in an apparently solid form—like gelatine, for instance—are known as "collids," and it would be hazardous as yet to assert that nitrogen could belong to this class. It has been suggested that the greater volatility of nitrogen might enable the oxygen to be solidified, though its own evaporation cannot; in this case it ought to be possible to solidify pure oxygen by surrounding it with a vessel containing liquid nitrogen, and exhausted in the usual manner.

A technical contemporary strikes boldly at the climax of these experiments, and says: "If Prof. Dewar continues his researches with the energy and success that have hitherto characterized them, we do not despair of announcing in a few weeks' time that a trial casting of liquid hydrogen has been made, and that on solidification and removal from the mold it has been proved to possess a fine luster, high tensil strength and sonorous qualities—quite in accordance with its known metallic character."

"Boston Men."

Among the Indians of Washington, Ore., and British Columbia, all white men are known as "Boston men," and even the wagon road is called "Boston hooihut." The Hub is naturally proud of this. It is supposed that the celebration of Boston in the vernacular of Indian tribes on the other side of the continent came from the fact that many of the early traders hailed from Boston.

THE SILK WORM'S NEW RIVAL.

Wood Pulp Changed Into the Finest Silk by a New Invention.

The Chardonnet process for converting wood pulp into silk bids fair to revolutionize things in the cloth manufacturing business, if it can once be proved to be practical in all respects.

Consul Loomis, of St. Etienne, thinks that this question has been answered in the affirmative by M. de Chardonnet, who has built a mill at Besancon, where the "silk" is now being manufactured. The raw material is made from wood pulp, which, according to the New York Tribune, is carefully dried in an oven and plunged into a mixture of sulphuric and nitric acids, then washed several times in water and dried by alcohol. The product thus prepared is dissolved in ether and pure alcohol, and the result is collodion, similar to that used in photography. This collodion, which is sticky and viscous, is inclosed in a solid receptacle, furnished with a filter in the lower end.

The air pump sends compressed air into the receptacle, and by its pressure the collodion is passed through the filter, which removes all impurities and flows into a tube placed horizontally. This tube is armed with three hundred cocks, of which the spouts are made of glass and pierced by a small hole of the diameter of the thread of a cocoon as it is spun by the silk worm. The spinner opens the cock, and the collodion issues in a thread of extreme delicacy (it takes six to make a thread of the necessary consistence for weaving). This thread is not, however, fit to be rolled on the spools by reason of its viscosity and softness; the matter is as yet collodion and not silk.

To produce the necessary hardness, the inventor resorted to a very ingenious but simple method. The little glass tube already mentioned is surrounded by a small reservoir of the same material constantly filled with water. When the thread issues from the aperture in the manner described it traverses this water, which takes up the other and alcohol and then the collodion becomes solidified; that is to say, it is transformed into an elastic thread as resisting and brilliant as ordinary silk. [illegible] inflammable—it original [illegible] being at the alarming rate of two centimeters a second. Mr. Loomis says that M. de Chardonnet has apparently removed this difficulty "by plunging the spun thread into a solution of ammonia, thus rendering it as slow of combustion as any other material."

The consul added: "This discovery seems to have a great future. I have talked with great men, silk merchants, brokers, dyers and men who manufactured silk goods about the Chardonnet method of producing raw silk from wood, and it is universally admitted that the process will eventually yield large practicable and profitable results."

MISCELLANEOUS MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-26-y

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE TIPPING EVIL.

It Cannot Be Stopped, Says a New York Man About Town.

"I see," remarked a well-known man about town the other day, to a New York Herald reporter, "that we are in the midst of another of those periodic outbreaks against tipping, but it won't make a bit of difference; tipping will go on just the same. Some few people will conceive the notion that as a matter of principle they ought to refrain from tipping and they will try it for a few days and then will conclude that for the sake of their own peace of mind they'd better tip. They'll continue confirmed 'tippers' for the rest of their days.

"The fact is it requires more courage to rebel against the tipping system than it does to revolt against almost any other social custom. I know whereof I speak, for I've 'been there,' and I'll just tell you how it works. When you withhold the usual tip you become painfully aware that the waiter thinks you are frightfully mean. You would like to explain to him that you are only making a noble and heroic fight for principle, but of course that is out of the question. Now, nothing hurts a man's pride so much as to feel that somebody thinks him mean. He could better endure being thought a gambler or a 'bunco steerer,' or a man who didn't pay his debts. You become afraid to look that waiter in the face. Next time you dine somewhere else, and again incur the odium of undeserved contempt. You don't get hardened to it; you hate it worse each time, and after it has gone on three or four days you just say to yourself: 'Hang it!'—or something else—'this thing has got to stop. I can't stand having people think I'm mean when I ain't; devil take the principle of the thing!' Then you resume tipping and are happy once more."

DOWN AMONG THE DEAD MEN.

Queer Strike of Operatives in a Peculiar Parisian Industry.

"One of the queerest strikes that have ever taken place here," says a late Paris letter, "is that of the so-called Machabees, or fishers for dead bodies, who ply their trade on the Seine, between the Billancourt bridge and the Auteuil viaduct. The reason why they have struck is because of the slowness with which their money premiums are paid. Father Joseph, the senior member of the guild, has been fishing for Machabees for the past twenty-five years, but he is now idle with his companions, as he has not been paid for the last batch of corpses sent to the morgue, and for which the government is indebted to him to the extent of fifteen francs apiece. Last year the trade was bad, but this year the morgue has been literally overflowing with bodies taken out of the river, and in one day alone Father Joseph fished out no less than five. Not having received his money he has, with his companions, laid down his ropes and grappling-irons and moored his boat to the wall until the officials whose duty it is to remunerate him see their way to organize more expedition in their pay department."

What He Wanted.

He—I have come to ask for your hand.

She (Boston)—Well, I fear I could not endure the surgical operation. I am afraid you will be forced to take me with it.—N. Y. Herald.

Quiet Furnishings.

Mrs. Minks (proudly showing her new home)—The furnishings you see are not at all ostentatious. They are very quiet.

Mrs. Winks (enviously)—Yes, I notice you have no piano.—N. Y. Weekly.

Nerves Mixed.

He—Didn't you know that my family dates from the revolution?

She—Yes, but I was never certain whether from the one in Brazil or Hawaii.—Truth.

Seasonable Advice.

During a thunderstorm always put your milk in a smaller refrigerator, so that it will have no room to turn.—Life.

She Can't Calculate.

"Women have no head for figures."

"There's no [illegible]"

So That Settles That.

Le Fiance—If you wear hoop-skirts, Mabel, I won't walk on the same side of the street you do.

La Fiancee—You won't be able to, dear.—Truth.

A Natural Occurrence.

"What is the matter, Ray? Have you found something in the horse-radish?"

"No'm, not much: only a little hair from the horse."—Judge.

Hard to Identify.

"I'm not such a fool as I look!" said Barnes, testily.

"No?" said Curtis. "What kind are you?"—Jury.

Easily Provided.

Wright—Somehow I often fear that my poetry lacks fire.

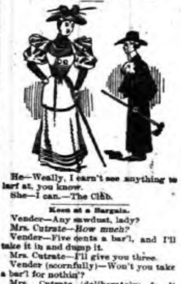
Bright—That's nothing. You have a grate, haven't you?—Truth.

She Could Not Tell a Lie.

He—Did you tell her I would be there bright and early?

She—I told her you would be there early.—Life.

SHE HAD THE ADVANTAGE.



He—Weally, I carn't see anything to larf at, you know.

She—I can.—The Club.

Keen at a Bargain.

Vender—Any sawdust, lady?

Mrs. Cutrate—How much?

Vender—Five cents a bar'l, and I'll take it in and dump it.

Mrs. Cutrate—I'll give you three.

Vender (scornfully)—Won't you take a bar'l for nothin'?

Mrs. Cutrate (deliberately)—Is it sifted?—Puck.

What Hurt.

"I don't enjoy the roasting the critics gave me, of course," said the aspiring tragedian, looking sadly at a portrait of himself in an illustrated paper, "but this—this is the unkindest cut of all!"—Chicago Tribune.

Merely His Way.

"Is anything the matter with that monkey?" inquired the visitor at the menagerie. "He seems to be moping."

"That monkey," said the keeper, stirring up the animal with a long, slender pole, "isn't moping. He's posing. In his way, sir, he's the most diverting little rascal in the cage. Fly around there, Ward McAllister! Make yourself lively!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Lucky Prisoner.

Old Lawyer—I cannot take your case. Circumstantial evidence is so strong against you that it will be impossible to prove your innocence.

Prisoner—But I am not innocent. I am guilty.

"Oh! Then maybe I can clear you."—Demorest's Magazine.

Solicitude.

Employer (kindly)—You are becoming very round shouldered, Mr. Faithful.

Bookkeeper (with hopes of a vacation)—Yes, I fear that I am.

Employer (solicitously)—Hadn't you better stop riding a bicycle?—Good News.

Oh, Dear, No!

"Have you any porpoise shoe-strings?" asked the timid customer of the new clerk.

"No, sir," replied the clerk, looking haughtily down on him from his three-dollar-a-week position. "We don't deal in pauper's goods!"—Truth.

A Court of Appeals.

Mother—Johnny! Johnny Fibbs, if you don't come in this instant, I'll tell your father.

Johnny—If you do, I'll tell the servant girl all th' things you said about her, and then she'll leave.—Good News.

Not So Ignorant After All.

"You think you know a lot about music," sneered Mawson. "But I'll bet you don't know the difference between grand opera and comic opera."

"Yes, I do," said Jackson. "There's some fun in grand opera."—Life.

The Wrong Punch.

"I think Mr. Richmuch has very weak punch served at his parties," remarked young Swelligo to his friend, Dashoff.

"I don't agree with you," answered his friend, "I got the strongest punch at his house I ever had in my life."

"On what occasion?"

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
E. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.

AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1893. No 22.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jo8f

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 121, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES E. THEIRS,
Dentist,
19 West Front street. A new local anesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jo4f

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. Van Arsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 168, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 91 E. Front street, corner Elm street. 3ly19d

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap4y

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed. f17y1

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.

TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.

Tinware Made to Order.

Ranges, Brick and
Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,

Furnaces, Ranges,

Water Piping. Plumbing.

Heater Work. Tinning,

Hardware.

A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6. 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!

Furniture!

Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!

23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.

Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanlike manner.

Having affiliated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and guarantee ... I believe in every man running his own business ... all these and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. P. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.
6-21-y

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS, BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
ab23f

ESTABLISHED 18 6.

C. E. & J. W. BROWN,
(Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.)
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.
9-13-tf

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.

A. M. SEGUINE,

Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 26.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.
Mar9tf

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves,
Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 13 SOMERSET ST. 3-10-tf

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HANKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York. 3 23 3m e

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
30 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
[Successor to T. J. Carey.]
Furniture and Freight Express!

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

F. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best cent cigar in the State, and made of the best stock from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 26 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobaccos and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
Tobacco celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 30½ W. Front street, to 41 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP.

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. E. WOOLSTON. J. F. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 36 NORTH AVENUE

C. Dickinson
Attorney
13 Park Ave
Plainfield N.J

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be

Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything.

WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building)
PLAINFIELD N. J

ALONG THE NORTH PLAINFIELD RAILWAY ROUTE.

Notes of Interest and Gossip of General Concern.

The switch has been placed in front of the school building between Manning and Jackson avenues.

There are two village blacksmith shops along the route and an entertaining hour can be wiled away at either one of them.

Wm. Henry Cox, Newt Smalley's valet, loudly protests against the stone carts using the west side of Somerset street, in going north and south.

Herbert Thorpe, the contractor's superintendent, is "a bit of an English boy" you know, while the foreman is a son of the "ould sod" with Mark Gilgallin for a name.

Ben Gavin, the street commissioner of the borough, has proven that he is efficient, and that the council made no mistake when they selected him for that position.

At the shanty where the sunny son of sunny Italy sleeps on a plank and does not kick at that, the aroma of garlic and onions predominate instead of lilac bloom and wild flowers.

Ex-postmaster Wallace Vail as he passes along Somerset street, audibly sighs and you can almost hear him say, "Oh! what a shame." He it was who macadamized the street twenty years ago, and while he favors all kinds of improvements he does not like to see his pet street torn up. He also did North, Park and South avenues.

With the heavy rains of a few weeks ago the work done by the contractors had to be all gone over again. The loss to them was large. They agree to open the street for 30 cents per foot for the company and as it takes two men a day to open ten feet it doesn't take much figuring to figure out a loss, outside replacing the road in a good condition afterwards.

PLAINFIELD EMBEZZLEMENTS.

The Law Looks on Such Leniency as Compounding a Felony.

(Editorial in The Elizabeth Journal.)

According to the Plainfield Press that city is suffering from an epidemic of embezzlements. "Every day almost", that paper "hears of another Plainfield merchant who has been robbed by a trusted employee, yet when the reporter asks for the facts he is requested to help hush up the matter, as the victim is going to make the best he can of it and let the culprit go." It is often difficult to know what to do in such cases. The law looks upon such leniency as encouragement to crime, makes it compounding a felony. The local newspapers are, in nine cases out of ten, asked to suppress the facts "because the family are going to make up the loss and they don't want to suffer the disgrace which such publicity will bring upon them." And the local newspapers often do suppress the facts out of sincere sympathy for the family. What then? The New York papers, utterly careless who suffers or who is disgraced, tell the whole story, and the local papers are scolded because they do not give the news. The facts as stated by the Press are intensely interesting:

> Two grocers and a hardware merchant is last week's record. This week's will probably exceed it, and so in time there'll be no one left worth robbing, and this popular Plainfield industry will cease for want of fields to work in. That it will take a new turn is already evidenced. One of those forgiven for stealing something like $2,000 of a Front street grocer—$1,500 of which he had deposited in a bank and which he returned when discovered—is about to bring suit against his victim for defamation of character and other things.

It would be well, perhaps, to look more closely into these matters and see where the embezzled money went and why it was stolen, and, if part of the story is told, to tell the whole of it. Such crime ought not to be encouraged; it should be checked at once; and there is, after all, no better way to check it than to make each case public. It is a harsh measure—not harsh on the embezzler, for it is the best possible for him, but it is harsh upon the parents and relatives of the criminal. Yet it is even better for them than that the embezzler should be permitted to go on in his career of crime, encouraged by his success in keeping his peculations quiet.

WOULDN'T PROSECUTE WOOD,

Though Mrs. McIntosh Caught Him in the House, and Her Pocket-book Was Gone.

When street commissioner Robert A. Mecker went down Pondville way Thursday afternoon to see how Robert Wood with fire department horses was getting along with the road scraping work, he found that the man was under arrest.

Mrs. Charles McIntosh was the complainant.

She told the police that coming down stairs she had caught Wood in the house, entrance having been forced, and that her sewing machine drawers had been ripped open and her pocket-book was gone. Wood went out when detected.

When arrested, having gone several blocks, the purse was not in his possession.

The policeman took Wood to justice Nash's office, and while waiting for that official to appear Mr. McIntosh turned up and said there should be no prosecution.

Thereupon Wood was released.

ELEGANT SPRING SUITS.

Where You Can See All the Latest Custom Styles for Dress and Business Wear, Ready to Put On.

If you look in any of the Broad or Market street windows of Watson & Co., Newark, you will see all the leading styles of spring suits that merchant tailors are making to order, all ready to put on—made up from regular custom patterns entirely different from the usual run of ready-made garments.

Handsome Llama Thibet suits (coats satin faced to edge) are shown at $18, stylish worsted suits in both solid colors and fancy patterns can be seen complete for $15, and a hundred styles of black, blue, gray, brown, mixed, broken plaid, pin check and narrow line cheviot and serge suits, both satin faced and plain are now finished daily at $12 for any style or pattern you may select. You should certainly see the immense stock of handsome suits that Watson & Co. have now on their lines from which the most difficult class can obtain a perfect fit without the slightest alteration.

Suicide Koch's Estate.

Letters of administration on the estate of William Koch, proprietor of the Bijou Cafe, New York, who committed suicide a few days ago, were issued Tuesday to his brother, John W. Koch, of this city. Koch's personal estate is $32.50. There is no real estate. Some days before his death ... [illegible]

A HOST OF BOYS.

THEY'LL MAKE A NOISE SUCH AS WE LIKE TO HEAR.

St. Michael's Choir Will Tune Their Lyre and Join in Songs Next Sunday—And Holy Cross, Forever Sun, Will Make the People Cheer.

One of the biggest and best musical services ever enjoyed in this community of music-lovers will be the semi-annual special service given in Holy Cross church the evening of Memorial Day, beginning at 7:30.

Holy Cross choir then will come out in all its glory, augmented for the occasion by the choir of St. Michael's of Naugatuck, choirmaster W. H. Miner's Connecticut charge. Either of these choirs alone would give a concert worth going miles to hear, and in conjunction they'll be simply heavenly. But that isn't all. Mrs. B. T. Barnes the peerless pianist will play. Mr. Coode will bring witching strains from the 'cello. W. E. MacClymont, who has a big official parchment that dubs him genuine professor, will bring divine strains from the organ, ably assisted by Lester Adams the master organist of St. Michael's. And W. H. Miner will conduct and direct it all. So what a symphony that will be. You can't stay away: You know you can't.

The Naugatuck boys, for the part they'll play in this grand Memorial concert, will have besides the gratitude of the populace, hospitable entertainment from the parishioners, among whose homes they will be guests over night. And Mrs. Edward Waring will give them all a reception—the more enjoyable because informal—at her home after the concert.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. L. E. Livermore.

The Rev. L. E. Livermore, lately pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at New Market, in expressing editorially in the Sabbath Recorder heartfelt thankfulness for valuable services and sympathy in the sad bereavement of his wife, says:

> Another sweet and beautiful Christian life and light has gone out from our earthly home. No words can express our sense of desolation. * * * May God bless and comfort all of these dear friends and grant us all a glad reunion, by and by, in the world of never-fading joy!

And the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis of Plainfield gives glowing tribute, saying:

> GONE HOME.
>
> Arlouine Coon Livermore, wife of the editor of the Sabbath Recorder, and daughter of the late Deacon Asa and Anna Eliza Coon, was born in DeRuyter, N. Y., Feb. 18, 1844. Most of her early life was spent at her native place, where she enjoyed the best facilities for common school and academic education. After this she studied at Alfred University, and was teacher of instrumental music in DeRuyter Institute for several years.
>
> She made a public profession of faith in Christ in early life, uniting with the Seventh-day Baptist church at DeRuyter. That profession was adorned by strict consistency of conduct, faithful and efficient service in all the relations of life, and by many sweet Christian graces. It was crowned by a most triumphant entrance into the life beyond.
>
> She was united in marriage with the Rev. L. E. Livermore on the 24 of Dec., 1868, with whom she lived in the most faithful and devoted companionship for almost a quarter of a century. * * * Mrs. Livermore was especially distinguished for conscientiousness, unselfishness and Christian hospitality; she often overtaxed, and almost wronged herself, that she might serve others.
>
> She was usually buoyant and cheerful. The deep sorrow which came into her heart, a little more than one year ago, when her sweet, Christ-loving daughter Orvisine was called to the life beyond, was so great that she had never fully rallied from it. She did not complain; but rather said in trustful submission, "Thy will be done." * * *
>
> Within a few months past a physical malady appeared—malignant cancer—which tested her womanly bravery and Christian fortitude in the highest degree, only to prove their complete supremacy. The swiftly developing disease compelled to action, and on the evening of the 8th of May, in company with her husband, she came to New York city and was placed in the hands of a skillful surgeon for treatment. In the face of possibly unfavorable results her cheerfulness and calmness were the wonder and the admiration of all her friends. The work of the surgeon was successful, and recovery seemed near. On Sixth-day, May 12, her husband left her that he might spend the Sabbath at New Market, only to be summoned, in a few hours, to return. The summons was delayed and he found only silent lips; but these were glorified by the messages she had left, messages which told of perfect peace and hope and trust. * * * A smile born of hope, and faith, and love, welcomed her husband, though the lips that it crowned moved not.
>
> With the evening shadows of that Sabbath, he bore her casket to the home of his daughter in New Market, and his heart to the helpful sympathy of the people whom they had left one month before. On the 16th of May, amid flowers and tears, with sympathy, sorrow, thankfulness and undimmed hope, we laid her dust away.

They Miss His Dignity, Wisdom and Inspiration.

Although the death of Rudolph M. Titsworth occurred Oct. 10, 1892, his fellow-members in the executive board of the American Sabbath Tract society have just taken official action on it. At the latest meeting, held in the Plainfield Seventh-day Baptist church, at which Chas. Potter, J. F. Hubbard, L. E. Livermore, Wm. M. Stillman, A. H. Lewis, J. D. Spicer, J. A. Hubbard, D. E. Titsworth, E. R. Pope, G. H. Stillman, C. F. Randolph, H. M. Maxson, and A. L. Titsworth, all of this city, were present, it was decided that the board

> Will miss the quiet dignity of his presence, the wisdom of his counsel, and the inspiration of his earnest devotion to whatever was for the good of the cause for which they labor, and they are grateful for the rich lessons of faith and trust his life taught them, as when storm after storm of sorrow swept over him he took a stronger hold on the eternal verities, as the oak strikes its roots deeper into the earth while it bends before the blasts.

What He Doesn't Know About, He Condemns.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The base-ball reporter of the Courier spoke of the score of last Saturday's game, in sneering way, as a curiosity. If he means his score, he's right. It always is an amusing thing to see one trying to score a game who doesn't know how. The Courier's base-ball reporter's efforts remind one of his early attempts at bicycling. The individual has his peculiarities, and one of them seems to be to pretend vast knowledge of sporting matters. They say he's even going to enter a big wheeling race Memorial Day, and expects to win. He affects the knowledge of a veteran, and appears to think that by assuming a blase air and censuring everything and everybody he'll be taken for an old sport. He should undeceive himself. People about town know how to size him up.

KRANK.

A Nuisance to Be Stopped.

The origin of the water which stands in the gutter on the east side of Park avenue between Front and Second streets, has been traced to a point near the Crescent League building. The ... [illegible]

WAS IT MURDER?

SENSATIONAL STATEMENT OF THE JERSEY CENTRAL ENGINEER.

He Says McGowan Was Dead Before the Engine Struck Him—Saw Two Men Run Away, and Thinks They Crushed His Skull.

While attending the funeral of John McGowen, a Press reporter met the engineer of the second section of the freight, the one that found the body. He stated that while approaching the red light he was proceeding with caution. He saw the body of McGowen lying across the rail when about the length of five rails from him. He blew the whistle, and reversed his engine to stop, and when close to him he saw that the man was dead before he ran over him, which he did with the engine and tender and one car. The only place that any blood was flowing was from the wound in the back of his head, although one of his arms was cut off and his body was cut right in two. The engineer said that he saw two tall men run across the track, and he thinks that the unfortunate man met with foul play and that the men did not have time to rob the body, as $22.60 was found in his pocket and also his watch, which was all crushed to pieces. It is thought the murderers crushed his skull with a rock.

BISHOP VINCENT DOESN'T LIKE IT.

But He Has Got to Give Up Buffalo—Will He Move the C. L. S. C. Again?

A Buffalo despatch says that there was much feeling among the Methodists of western New York over the removal of the residence of Bishop Vincent from Buffalo to Topeka, caused by the choice on the part of Bishop Mallalieu of Buffalo as his residence.

Bishop Vincent moved the general offices of the C. L. S. C. from this city to Buffalo so that his son, who was given a sinecure in the Circle, might be near him. Now that the Bishop must move again will the office go to?

Bishop Andrews said yesterday that the law of the church prescribed that the selection of official residences by the Bishops should be made according to seniority in office, and that this had been done in this instance.

Another high official of the church said that the selection of residences was made in accordance with the rule adopted by the general conference at Omaha. "In accordance with this rule", he said, "Bishop Fowler chose Minneapolis as his residence, taking it away from Bishop Fitzgerald, who accordingly took New Orleans. Bishop Goodsell, being out of New Orleans, chose San Francisco. Bishop Mallalieu ranks ahead of all of these and tenth in a list of sixteen. He declared that he had lived for four years in New Orleans and was entitled to a change, as the climate there was not to his liking. It was an open secret that Bishop Vincent didn't like it that his residence had been taken by another Bishop. He has since tried to effect an exchange, but there is no power in Methodism that can give it to him, as the rule of the general conference cannot be changed until the general conference meets again, which will not be until 1896".

BETTER ABOLISH 'EM ALL.

What's to Be Done With Cesspool Contents.

A well-signed remonstrance has been handed to the board of health asking for the abatement of a nuisance on lands belonging to the W. B. T. Lane estate, near George Burgess's on Central avenue, consisting of the spreading of contents of cesspools on said lands by Mrs. John Brown.

Complaint was also made against the dumping of cesspool contents on the lawn at Mulford Cole's, East Front street, some of the contents being from cesspools into which there have been discharges from a house where contagious diseases have raged.

Trying to Monopolize Runaways.

Lew Randolph, a colored man employed by F. A. Pope to drive a water-wagon in the second ward, is now laid up with a swollen head and numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body. Yesterday afternoon he tried to race his team along Broadway with one of the Higgins stages. Near the corner of Ninth street workmen were digging a trench across the roadway, and there was only room enough for one vehicle to pass at a time. Those who saw the accident say Randolph ran his horses on a heap of dirt, upsetting the wagon and throwing him off, striking his head against a tree. One of the horses also fell, and the wagon was badly damaged. Randolph was taken to Dr. Tomlinson's in a carriage and had his wounds dressed. Besides having a number of teeth knocked out, he suffered from cuts on the chin. Dr. Tomlinson says he found no fractured bones. Randolph had a runaway on Fourth street a few weeks ago, and it is said he was in another runaway accident a few years ago, when both of his legs were broken.

That Little Yaller Dorg Is Yelpin' Agin.

Somerville cannot forgive herself for having to return to amateur base-ball while Plainfield's professionalism proudly goes marching on. Witness the bilious attack of the Herkimstown Messenger:

> Plainfield is on the high road to glory. It has had about a dozen runaway accidents, and as many more embezzlements by "trusted employes", all within a week; has killed a mad dog, and the great and only Crescents are just wiping up the ground with all the cheap, amateur ball clubs they can inveigle on their diamond. Great is the Colorado of the East!

All Good Roads Lead to Plainfield.

A proposition is before the Morris county board of freeholders that the county be bonded for $650,000 to lay out 116 miles of macadamized roads. One of them will be the road to Plainfield.

He'll Have a Board Bill Also, Now.

A horse and wagon of August Bourgeois were levied on by justice Nash Friday for $14 poll taxes. The property was put in a livery stable, to be held till Bourgeois settles.

Why the Collection Boxes Suffer.

Saturday and Sunday are the busiest days on the street railway. On Sunday perhaps more nickels are gathered in than on any three other days in the week.

They'll Bat the Ball All Over Raritan Bay.

June 3 will be a great day for the members of No. 2 Engine company, for then they will go to Perth Amboy to play ball with Lincoln Hose company of that place.

Next Week Ends the Work.

Next week will wind up the work on the ... [illegible]

THE POLES GO UP.

A BITTER CUP TWO JOSEPHS HAVE TO SWALLOW.

The Railway Fight Is Foiled by Night, and Lawsuits Now May Follow—The Cunning Trick Makes Blatz Quite Sick, and Humble's Pie Is Mellow.

When Joseph Blatz and Joseph Humble went to bed Thursday night it was with a vow still in their hearts that no trolley poles should be put up in front of their places. When they awoke this morning they found what a hollow mockery was the fight of a private individual against a soulless corporation. For during the night the big iron poles had been erected just where they said they shouldn't be, and the bases were anchored in cement that had already hardened impenetrably.

The work was done after midnight under the direction of Frank Rivers, the expert lineman, of Hartford, Conn., and Alexander Thompson, the Sullivan county, N. Y. State, electrician, whose father is an old district attorney and one of the Erie Railway counsels.

Messrs. Blatz and Humble were highly indignant, and threatened legal proceedings. They censured marshal Pangborn for not preventing the work, but he was on duty till midnight, and anyhow couldn't have done anything to stop the trespass without warrants.

The contractors' representatives say that all Blatz and Humble were after was "their price", and that now they won't get one cent.

This morning P. M. French relented and gave permission to the company to erect poles in front of his place. The terms of his settlement are not stated.

CLOSED THEIR LIBRARY DOORS.

Bound Brook's Literary People Couldn't Stand the Expense.

The Bound Brook Library association has been compelled to close its doors because the people would not support it.

Within the past six weeks four ineffectual attempts have been made to get a quorum of the stockholders together to talk the matter over. Finally, after circulars of appeal had been sent around and requests for aid had been made, to which but little attention was paid, 15 men got together to hear the report of the treasurer, C. E. Dunham, formerly of this city.

The report showed that although two entertainments had been held for the benefit of the library during the last year the funds on hand were not sufficient to meet the indebtedness. It was then decided to close the doors of the library until such time as the people of the town would support the luxury.

MR. PERKINS OF PLAINFIELD.

He Decides That Baron Blanc's Entitled to a Divorce.

Edward C. Perkins, of 723 Central avenue, who as referee has been taking testimony during the past three months in the action of Frederic N. Blanc for an absolute divorce from Elizabeth L. Blanc, in which she by counter claim sought the same relief, has made a report in favor of Mr. Blanc. The report of Mr. Perkins finds that Mrs. Blanc was intimate with Frederick Yuengling, the rich brewer's son. Blanc had made other charges, but they were not proved.

Mrs. Blanc's counter charges, the referee finds, were not proved.

Mrs. Blanc had been divorced from her first husband, Alfred Lawrence Riegel, when she came from Philadelphia to reside in New York in 1886. She met Blanc at Long Branch in the summer of 1887. After the marriage she lived at the Albemarle. She recently made a conspicuous failure as an actress under the management of George Wotherspoon of this city.

His Skull Ruffled the Lumber Heap.

Henry Swift Thomas, the sporting gent of the Courier, not having learned how to manage a wheel, got his bicycle tangled up in the car rails at Front street and Madison avenue last Friday and took an ignominious tumble. His head crashed into a pile of lumber, again proving the affinity of matter, but wood against wood made no impression, and he remounted his wheel and struggled away. To-night the Courier will rant about the deadly trolley, but say nothing about deadly ignorance.

Dr. Westcott Retired.

The Union County Board of Freeholders Thursday estimated the tax appropriations required for the expenses of the coming year at $136,000, with $19,000 assets added. Freeholder Swain, the Democratic member whose absence at the last meeting crippled the majority, returned from Denver, Col., on Tuesday, and was in attendance at the board. His presence gave the Democrats sufficient votes, and they elected Dr. Edward R. O'Reilly, of Elizabeth, county physician for three years, to succeed Dr. F. M. Westcott, of Fanwood, a Republican.

To Who Have Dogs, Prepare to Chain Them Now.

It isn't enough to have to pay a $2 tax on the dog you own, and then have to sit on his collar to keep Frisbie from putting him in pound or assassinating him, but the Jersey Central Railroad company must needs prepare an added penalty for canines that wander around loose. Listen to this from the Elizabeth Journal:

> A man high in authority on the Central Railroad said yesterday that the railroad employes would soon receive orders to kill all dogs running about the stations not held in leash by their owners.

She Should Keep Stamps in Stock, and Save Her Ingenuity.

A novel way one of the feminine guests at the Albion has of paying her postage, when out of stamps is to enclose two cents in a tiny muslin sack, evidently made for the purpose, and attach to the letter before dropping it in the box.

The War Goes Merrily On.

D. W. Littell and W. R. Mattox, the constable in the case, have been notified by J. W. Vanslyckel that if they attempt to sell his goods (which he claims are unlawfully detained) he'll sue 'em for damages. Littell laughs and says he doesn't scare for a cent.

Jersey Lightning Digs Its Own Grave.

That big bolt of lightning that made so much fuss Tuesday night buried itself in the mud in an open field near Dr. Cooley's place on Westervelt avenue, and ploughed a big hole in the ground.

Crushed Rock on North Road.

[illegible]

A PLAINFIELD AUTHOR.

Russell Jacobus Writes a Readable Book on How a Young Man Who Saved from a Million-Dollar Beauty.

"An Escape from Philistia", a volume from the pen of Russell P. Jacobus of East Front street, has just been published; and besides the interest felt in the work of a fellow-townsman readers of THE PRESS will find in this book much to attract.

The work is a novel, with a vein of philosophical study of human nature, religion, marriage, and social conditions, running through the story.

The plot is not intricate, but the development is in good order, and the reader finds that Mr. Jacobus knows how to tell a story artistically.

The tale is that of a young man reared in luxury. He is infatuated with a most delicious golden-haired beauty. He goes home, ecstatic from their betrothal, to find his father's household prostrated with financial ruin. The father is killed by this repetition of former misfortune, and the mother's health is shattered. Barret (the son), hitherto an idler and a dreamer, finds that he cannot wed his charmer till his income is $3,000 a year. Being a college graduate, he succeeds in cultured Boston in getting a job at licking stamps at the munificent wages of $6 a week. Just here is where the story will especially appeal to many an impecunious young commuter. The hero has a chance of a fair income when half a dozen underpaid clerks above him die off, and as they are of the liveforever order you can imagine his plight. To add to his misery, Sundays when he goes to see his girl she pesters him with religious orthodoxy, and pouts because he doesn't make public display of his morality. He and his Bohemian friends wonder if two people so different mentally can be happily mated. He hates to surrender so witching a physical prize, but, losing his job as the result of an idiotic midnight prank (trying to steal a gravestone from Boston Common), he reports to his sweetheart, she upbraids him, and he gets back his ring and a freedom more or less glorious, according as you look at it. Having sold the ring for $150, he sails for Europe, jumps overboard on the voyage, is rescued just as he fears he's going to drown, and finds an old chum, Hurd, waiting for him on the other side. That crony has sailed by a faster steamer so as to intercept him. Hurd has a mysterious message, evidently an offer of the girl at reconciliation, which Barret spurns. He has escaped from his Philistia, and he has the good sense (from the author's point of view) to retain his freedom. So his future, presumably, is one with no home life, a career of much brilliant dreaming and some random achievement, though the author doesn't clearly map it out. That's one beauty of the book: the reader's imagination is given a chance to soar.

Mr. Jacobus has woven a number of interesting and some highly original characters and experiences into his book. He has proved himself capable of describing matchless feminine charms so that the masculine reader longs to embrace them. He has cleverly mingled satire and philosophy and cynicism with his fiction, and has thrown in much classic reference and quotation, and a considerable dash of that flavor of scholarship reminiscent of college days which always creeps into the books of those not accustomed to much writing for the public. This was not to be expected in Mr. Jacobus's case, for he is a valued member of the New York Herald staff, and therefore a professional.

"An Escape from Philistia" is typographically elegant, being issued in the stylish form customary with the old Boston publishing house now known as the J. G. Cupples Co. Its binding is of rich blue and gold, and its leaves are gold-crowned, with raw uncut edges. So the book is a decided library ornament, as well as entertainer.

Mr. Jacobus has doubtless derived much pleasure from the recreation of producing the book, and his host of friends will be eager to read the novel. Among them at least it will have wide circulation. Therefore "An Escape from Philistia" will certainly have achieved its purpose.

As a matter of information, it may be noted that copies are to be obtained at Estil's bookstore.

Dr. Hurlbut's Lecture Gives Delight.

Those who did not attend Dr. Hurlbut's lecture on "The Domes and Palaces of Florence" last evening, in the Methodist church, missed a rich treat.

For one hour and a quarter the doctor had the individual attention of his audience, who were highly pleased with his excellent views and talk about this wonderful city. Dr. Hurlbut took his audience through the most notable places in a most interesting manner, his explanations being very explicit, and of such a character as to impress them on the mind.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the church, and they will no doubt realize a handsome sum. The church was well-filled with people.

Table Talk.

For June has as usual, its many attractive features and in addition, several unusual ones. Among the latter is a very interesting article on "Electrical Cooking" by Helen Louise Johnson, director of this department at the World's Fair. The "Housekeeper's Inquiry Department", also by Miss Johnson, is very large and instructive, containing fifty recipes, in answer to requests from its progressive readers—a small cook book in itself. "How to Manage Coal Fires", by the very practical Mrs. Grayson, is destined to be of much use to a great number to whom this has ever been one of the main perplexities of house-keeping. This magazine is published by Table Talk Publishing company, 1113 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. $1.00 per year; single copies 10 cents.

Lower Quarantine.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

The Beck house on East Second street was quarantined by order of the board of health, and an officer was placed on duty to see that no one left or entered. The cause is said to be diphtheria in a most malignant form.—Plainfield Press.

It is reported that one of the victims of the dreaded disease was sent from the house mentioned above to our village. We hope that our board of health will thoroughly investigate the matter and if it be true, take such measures as will prevent any physician or other party from repeating it.

Fooled the Brook While Asleep in the Barn.

(Bound Brook Chronicle.)

Chas. Coolon of Plainfield has been missing since Tuesday of last week. He ... [illegible]

Rates of Advertising

SPACE	WEEKS 1	2	3	MONTHS 1	2	3	6	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.
Double col. 30 per ct. advance of above rates.

HYMENEAL.

Grantham—South.

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday in Philadelphia at the home of the bride's mother, 1527 Poplar street, when Alice Burton South, daughter of Hannah W. and the late Dr. E. W. South, of this city, and Herbert Thomas Grantham were united in marriage according to the custom of Friends. The bride was attired in a white bengaline gown, en traine, and trimmed with duchess lace; the bridesmaid was Helen M. Abbott of Philadelphia, the best man Andrews Allen of Wilmington; the bride's two brothers acted as ushers.

Among those who attended the reception which immediately followed the ceremony were: Mrs. Anna Grantham of Athens, Pa.; mother of the groom; Miss Agnes Grantham, also of Athens, sister of the groom; Lucy B. Cadwallader, Elizabeth B. Taylor, Mahlon M. Child and wife, Wilmington; William L. Child and Lucy B. Child, also of Wilmington; Edward L. South and wife, Alfred H. South, Walter South and wife, Helen P. South, Emma W. Burton, J. Walter Burton, Arthur N. Burton, Media; Bertha M. Taylor-Webster, formerly of Plainfield; Geo. Abbott and wife of Moorestown; Henry A. Lippincott and wife, Marion Lippincott, Oak Lane; Thomas Scattergood and wife, Elizabeth Abbott, Kittie C. Ross, Plainfield; Philena T. Smedley and Emma Smedley, Media; Rebecca Wyer, Nantucket; William Beidler, Helen Acton, Horace W. Smedley, Ardmore, and the Rev. Stephen Merritt and wife, New York.

At the close of the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Grantham left for a short trip. Upon their return they will reside at 1527 Poplar street.

AFTER THE BALL IS OVER.

Ida and Eda Indulge in Conduct That Lands 'Em in Jail.

The colored ball Thursday night, in T. A. B. hall, for the benefit of George Ruggles, who needs a cork leg, was a scene of mirth and frolic, and a financial success.

One star feature was Leander Brown skating about with a plate of ice-cream in one hand and a ham bone in the other.

A sensational interruption that occurred is spoken of elsewhere.

But it was after the ball was over that the sensation of the event occurred.

This was no less than the arrest of Ida Manning, alias Ida Lewis, and her lover Eda Thompson.

At 2 a. m. policeman Cooney came upon them in a compromising position in a lot on Plainfield avenue.

He locked them up, and this morning clad in their mussed ball room clothes they leaned with downcast eyes over the city court room rail and mumbled that Cooney's charge was right.

The court lost no time in sentencing them to $25 fine apiece, or 60 days in jail.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

When Will Plainfield Boys Stop Catching on Trains?

Julian Sutphen, of West Second street, age about 14, was a victim to stealing rides on the cars Saturday afternoon.

He rode to Netherwood on a coal train, and stole a ride back on the passenger train that gets here at 1:59.

He jumped off on the freight-house side too soon, and fell.

The wheels crushed his left hand, and one of the steps struck him in the back of the head.

John M. Crane twisted a handkerchief around the sufferer's arm, to stop the bleeding.

Screaming with pain, he was taken in a hack to Dr. Long's, and thence to the hospital.

Amputation of the fingers will be necessary.

OH FIE, MR. FRISBIE!

How Could You Deceive as You Have Deceft!

"Jim" Frisbie boasted around town the other day about his catching an eighteen-pound snapping tortoise in the clay pits at Netherwood. He caught the tortoise sure enough, but he got it out of officer Fredrickson's rain-water barrel. The officer last year lost numerous young ducks, and this year he made a personal watch of his flock. Over a week ago he saw the tortoise crossing a field from a nearby pond to the strip of water near his house. The officer, with the aid of a bale-stick, captured the reptile, and put it in the rain-water barrel. He fed it for a few days, and finally told Frisbie he could have it by going after it, which he did.

CUT HIS HEAD ON THE CURB.

Severe Injury to Charles Westphal, Who Was Thrown from His Wagon.

Charles Westphal was badly hurt by being thrown from a wagon at the corner of Sixth and Sycamore Saturday morning at 9. The wagon he was driving struck the curb and threw him so that he struck his head violently on the curb. James Frisbie was passing and carried the man, who was stunned, into Dr. Berg's house. Dr. Berg dressed his injuries, the most serious of which is a bad scalp wound. The doctor says Mr. Westphal will recover.

New York's Only Music Hall.

Koster & Bial are making extensive preparation for the coming summer season. A handsome new frontage has been built on Twenty-third street, New York, the stage will shortly be torn out and enlarged, and the interior of the hall newly frescoed and redecorated. The new feature of the programme this week is the first appearance of Mario & Dunham, tripple horizontal bar performers. The balance of the bill will include the Brothers Horani, surnamed "Disappearing demons;" last week of M'lle Paquerette, in new character impersonations, with songs; a serpentine dance, with new character impersonations, with song; a serpentine dance, with new electric light effects, performed by Miss Doroth Denning; the performance of the condensed version of Stephen's & Solomon's nautical comic opera "Billee Taylor"; M'lle Juanita Bardoux, in French songs and dances; last week but one of Mons. and Mme. Derouville-Hanney, Parisian duettists and dancers; and the presentation of J. R. Planche's original one-act vaudeville, entitled "Paul's Dilemma". On Monday evening next, Miss Ada Lundberg, character serio-comic, from the Oxford Music Hall, London, will make her first appearance in America at this house. On Decoration Day an extra matinee will be given at 1:30.

—During last week one North avenue man who has a nickel-in-the-slot cigar machine ... [illegible]

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE
Editors and Proprietors.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

As thunder gusts purify and enliven the over-heated atmosphere, so may financial disturbances create a more healthy condition of business affairs. Both are governed by causes and alike produce effects.

There evidently exists, not only throughout the United States but the commercial world, considerable financial disquiet, the reaction of misplaced confidence, but when properly investigated it only betokens a passing storm and the coming of clearer skies.

Our country is increasingly rich in industrial resources, which constitute the positive basis of business credit and prosperity, and to handle them in strict conformity with the rules of legitimate trade, and adverse to the sordid policy of speculation, is to inaugurate an era of "good times."

The monied institutions in this country are, as a general rule, sound and conservative, although some have been and others may be found imprudently managed, but such are only exceptions.

The National Administration is doing everything within its legal power to maintain the public credit untarnished, and to preserve an equilibrium of value between the different species of currency. Additional financial legislation is no doubt essential, but that must be decreed by Congress.

What causes financial trouble?

It is in the main reckless speculation, the very antipode of honest traffic, an unworthy desire to secure gain regardless of means.

Overtrading and venturing beyond the bonds of prudent enterprise, or to use a homely expression "having too many irons in the fire."

The creation and encouragement of bogus investments, fair to behold but full of evil within.

The fell spirit of monopoly, which seeks through combined power to regulate for selfish purposes the prices of products and labor and to crush out all opposition.

What is the remedy?

Totally abolish by the force of enacted and executed law and public condemnation all monopolistic and deceptive combines.

Avoid speculation as the arch-enemy of business integrity and solidity.

Grant to every citizen the unmolested right to individually conduct any legitimate business calling, and throw around the smallest capitalist the same protection and immunity accorded the possessor of millions.

Let all the people be justly encouraged by having a free and fair chance to trade, work and prosper.

Do business honestly.

Be content with steady and moderate gains.

Eschew extravagance of every kind.

Then will financial sunshine dispel the murky clouds of difficulty and disaster.

"TAXPAYER" ANSWERED.

What the After-Expense of the Sewerage System Will Be.

"Taxpayer" in Saturday's PRESS desires to know whether or no property-owners will have to pay for the privilege of tapping a sewer in the street, and whether or no there would follow an annual tax on account of the privilege.

Our correspondent evidently has in mind the demands on account of the water supply—a supply furnished by a corporation possessing privileges granted by a legislature twenty years ago. The proposed sewers will be built by the people for the people. Water from the pipes—water without labor—is, too, somewhat of the nature of a luxury; sewers relate to the public health, to cleanliness and decency. The two cases are dissimilar.

There will be no charge whatever, either at the outset or as the years advance, for sewer connections. On the other hand every property-holder will be urged, for the common good, to connect his house and stable drains with the pipes in the street. A fee or annual charge for the privilege of connecting with the peoples sewer pipes would be unprecedented, and very unwise and impracticable. Sewers are built to improve the health of a town, and such fees as "Taxpayer" suggests would limit the very object of their construction.

The city pays for the water with which the sewers are to be flushed. Under a contract, extending to May, 1902, between the city and the water supply company, the water used in the proposed automatic flushing tanks will cost four dollars per hydrant a year. The water company has obligated itself to furnish water for flushing purposes—"for properly flushing such sewers" are the exact words of the contract; and the price may be determined, at the discretion of the city, by meters at ten cents per one thousand gallons, or it may be computed at the rate of fifty dollars per mile of sewers, or, as before stated, at the rate of four dollars per hydrant. Some of the hydrants are beyond the proposed sewers; but if we multiply the total number by four, the annual expense on account of water for flushing purposes will be less than one thousand dollars. The sum, when ascertained, will appear in the city's annual tax bill—rather, it will in the budget of municipal expenditures, cease to be appreciable.

"Taxpayer's" questions are natural and pertinent; and THE PRESS will cheerfully answer all other questions relative to the important work of drainage that council has in hand.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Many persons are afflicted with skin eruptions, boils or ulcers. BRANDRETH'S PILLS taken freely will in a short time effect a complete cure of all such troubles. Ulcers of long standing have been cured by them. Carbuncles have been checked in their incipiency by them. The worst fever sores, bed sores, and the like have been driven from the skin by them. Only begin in time and a few of BRANDRETH'S PILLS will prevent many a sickness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. [illegible]

FINAL RESTING PLACE

Davis' Remains Reinterred This Afternoon.

THE CEREMONIES AT RICHMOND

The Confederate Capital the Scenes of Imposing Ceremonies Over the Ashes of the Honored Ex-Chief—Location of the Burial Spot in Hollywood Cemetery.

RICHMOND, Va., May 31.—This afternoon, with impressive ceremonies, the remains of Jefferson Davis will be reinterred at Hollywood Cemetery.

The train arrived from New Orleans shortly before 12 o'clock last night. The remains were taken to the rotunda of the Capitol, where they are now lying in state, preparatory to the reinterment this afternoon.

This ceremony will be conducted with great solemnity, and a grand concourse of Confederate Veteran camps, military organizations and civic associations will join the parade.

Gen. Jno. B. Gordon, U. S. Senator from Georgia, the Commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, will be the Chief Marshal, and his staff will be composed of the most noted living ex-Confederates.

The remains of Mr. Davis will be borne upon a caisson from the Richmond Howitzer battery. A catafalque is built upon the rear chest of the caisson for this purpose, and the vehicle will be draped in flowers and Confederate colors. Six pure white horses with black trappings and black nettings reaching to the ground will draw the caisson; besides a driver to each pair of horses, a guide will march at the head of each animal.

The caisson will pass the procession in review and diverge from the line of march when the military escort will again take the lead to the place of burial.

The line of march will pass the old Confederate White House and St. Paul's Episcopal Church where Mr. Davis attended services, and both these buildings are dressed in mourning by the Ladies Hollywood Memorial Association. The ceremonies will be very impressive and will blend with those in celebration of Confederate Memorial Day, which is always a great solemnic display in Richmond.

The ceremonies at the grave will be conducted by the Venerable Rev. Charles Minnigerode, D. D., who was pastor of St. Paul's Church and the friend and spiritual adviser of the Confederate President while he lived in Richmond.

Mrs. Davis arrived from New York at 10 p. m.

The spot in Hollywood selected by Mrs. Davis for the repose of her husband and family is one of the most beautiful in this famous city of the dead, where besides many distinguished men lie nearly 20,000 Confederate killed. The burial plot occupies a level plane upon an abrupt slope in full view of the James which dashes over a bed of immense boulders and gives a wild and picturesque setting to the quiet of this rather secluded spot. Rising to a greater height behind is a well swarded background. *In the center of this sub-*plateau Mr. Davis will be buried. The grave will be in a circular plot and will be bricked up. His children will be buried around him.

With the settlement forever of the honors to be conferred upon the memory of the Confederate President, the Southern mind turns naturally to the future of his family. This is a question which the friends of Mr. Davis would have settled in a way that would have relieved them of all anxiety for the future but for his steady refusal to accept any of the many offers of aid made to him. Mrs. Davis shared this feeling with her husband, and these delicate considerations make it impossible to retrieve her fortunes as they would like to do.

A suggestion made by the meeting of United Confederate Veterans in New Orleans, in April last year, for the Southern States each to award Mrs. Davis an annual pension was taken up by several legislatures, but the question of the constitutionality of such an act by State was raised and the project abandoned rather than create an unpleasant public discussion of a delicate subject.

Mrs. Davis has made little out of her book and her income from the "Brierfield" and other plantation property is merely nominal. Fortunately it is said that she derives an income of $8,000 per year from bonds which have in some way been secured to her.

Kentucky Railroad Tax War Settled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 31.—The Muhlenberg County railroad tax war has been settled for the present. Yesterday at Greenville the County Court, after a meeting which was attended by 2,000 people, levied an assessment of $1 on the $100 to pay the judgment and costs in the case of the Citizens' National Bank of Evansville. The property seized will be returned and the deputy marshals will be withdrawn.

Mr. Booth a Trifle Stronger.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Dr. St. Clair Smith remained for nearly an hour in the sick room of Edwin Booth yesterday. When he left he said that Mr. Booth was a trifle stronger than he was Monday, but was, he admitted, worse than he was a week ago. He said that the proposed removal of the patient to Narragansett would have to be abandoned.

The Body Identified.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The body found on Sunday last floating in the North river near Sixty-fifth St. was identified yesterday as that of Captain Joseph Murphy, whose canal boat was sunk in the Elizabethriver, N. J., about a month ago. The captain and his wife went down with the boat, but Mrs. Murphy was rescued.

American Hay for Europe.

BALTIMORE, May 31. — Gill & Fisher, grain dealers, have exported to France 100 tons of American hay. It is said to be the first shipment of American hay to European markets. Mr. Charles D. Fisher said the hay was sent out on an order as a sample of American feed product to see if it will suit the French demand.

Destitute Sailors Apply for Aid.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 31.—Fifteen shipwrecked sailors of the Hamburg steamer Wandiahn, wrecked May 15 on Apple Island, St. Lawrence river, have arrived here from Montreal in a famished condition and without money, and applied to the Collector of the port for aid.

Porter Off for Chili.

NEW YORK, May 31.—United States Minister to Chili, James B. Porter, and Consul Henry C. Stewart, to Guatemala, sailed yesterday on the Pacific Mail Steamship City of Para. Mr. Porter goes to Chili to succeed Minister Egan.

'TWAS A GREAT CONCERT.

St. Michael's Joins Holy Cross in a Delightful Service.

The semi-annual musical service of the choirs of St. Michael's parish of Naugatuck, Conn., and Holy Cross parish of North Plainfield, was held on Tuesday in Holy Cross church.

Long before the appointed hour the church was filled to overflowing, and standing room was at a premium.

The service, as arranged, was very interesting. The choir work, under the direction of W. H. Miner, was very satisfactory and pleasing, and showed careful training.

The following numbers deserve special mention: "Nunc Dimittis D", by Field; "Hallelujah Chorus" (Messiah), by Handel; "How Lovely Are the Messengers" (St. Paul), by Mendelssohn.

The best work was probably that of Gounod's "By Babylon's Wave".

The voices of the two choirs blended in perfect harmony, and the effect was most delightful, director Miner bringing out the various points in such a manner as to be fully appreciated.

The playing of Mrs. B. T. Barnes, pianist, Prof. W. E. MacClymont, organist, and F. L. Conde, 'cellist, was highly commendable, and added still further to the rendition of the several numbers.

The Rev. J. W. Ellsworth, rector, accompanied the visiting choir, and assisted the Rev. T. Logan Murphy in the service.

The visitors were pleasantly entertained by members of the Holy Cross parish.

The American Catarrh Cure

is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It removes the [illegible]

MEMORIAL DAY.

Plainfield's Two Mayors Make Great Addresses, Followed by a Distinguished Oration.

A noteworthy feature of the attendance at the memorial services at Music Hall Tuesday afternoon was the large proportion of children in the audience. The little ones were dressed mostly in white, trimmed with bright colors, and the presence of their happy faces was a pleasing tribute to the occasion. The G. A. R. posts occupied the major part of the main floor. On the stage was a large chorus of school children, who sang with much animation various patriotic selections under the direction of T. E. Hassell. The commencement of the services was delayed half an hour by the non-arrival of the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, who was to make the opening prayer. The good doctor misunderstood the hour, and the band enlivened the air by playing till he arrived.

Adjt. N. G. Magee and Commander M. G. Dobbins, of Posts 109 and 73, read the orders, the comrades saluted the day, and a dozen sweet little maidens strewed flowers at the front of the stage in tender memory of the unknown dead.

Mayor Alexander Gilbert, of Plainfield, said that he envied the brethren of the G. A. R. the proud distinction of having devoted four years of their lives to the immortal service of defending and saving their nation.

Mayor W. L. Saunders, of the borough, dwelt on the truth that Peace hath her victories as well as War, and he congratulated the two G. A. R. posts on their great achievement in coming together into harmonious joint celebration.

Both the mayors were very earnest and eloquent, and at times waxed poetic, and everyone joined in hearty applause of their words.

The oration of the day was by the Rev. Calvin Stebbins, of Massachusetts. He referred affectionately to the touching spectacle he had just witnessed of the school girls giving tribute to the unknown dead, and referred pleasantly to the fact that this was the silver anniversary of the Grand Army. He said the G. A. R. comrades would all ere long have passed away, but such a service as this was evidence that the spirit of the day would never die, that the nation would always perpetuate the annual tribute to the heroes of the war.

Besides the excellent choruses of the children, there were two exquisite songs by Mrs. Asa Collier, Miss Julia J. Ketcham, Elmer E. Runyon and Robert Gorton, accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter.

The services were concluded by an impressive tableau, in which two Union soldiers were being offered olive branches and floral tributes as victors in the great fight. The soldiers pointed heavenward, as if to say "The garlands are not for us. The heroes are there!" The Angel of Peace knelt in the background, clinging to a cross. Red fire added to the effect.

The school children gave the audience a final salute by the waving of flags and the utterance of cheers, and were then refreshed with ice-cream and cake.

THE HOLIDAY'S DISORDERLIES.

Ann Sullivan Was Drunk and Wanted to Burn a House.

Legal holidays are generally productive of a goodly crop of "drunk and disorderlies" and Tuesday was no exception to the general rule, for judge Coddington had five bedraggled and weary individuals before him this morning to receive sentences for their various misdemeanors.

Eugene Shaw and wife were arrested for being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace on Arlington avenue. Shaw was found beating his little boy Tuesday morning until the little fellow could scarcely stand. Captain Grant notified the society for the prevention of cruelty to children.

Shaw and his wife were given their choice of a fine of $10 apiece or 30 days in the county jail. Shaw paid his own fine and left his wife in jail.

Peter Molloy came over the mountains Tuesday morning prepared to invest some of his hard-earned lucre in a new suit of clothes. Having purchased his clothes and having some money left over he proceeded to christen his new suit by a most glorious drunk. Captain Grant restrained his hilariousness and landed him in jail and judge Coddington suspended sentence as it was his first offense.

Ann Sullivan an old offender was arrested on complaint of the inmates of the house where she lives on South Second street, as they were afraid she would set fire to the building. She was in a dreadful state of drunkenness, and was fined $10 this morning.

Patrick Kelly was sent up for 30 days for being drunk and disorderly and begging money on Park avenue.

Ab Cook, who was arrested Monday, was sent on another trip to the county jail this time for 30 days and the man who was with him was allowed to get off with a $2 fine as he signified his desire to go to work, such an unusual thing that his wish was granted.

PERHAPS THE CHINESE'LL GIVE

Their Patient Was Received So Hospitably, They Ought to Help the Hospital in Time of Need.

At the annual meeting of the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, Monday evening, the following officers were elected:

President—Rufus K. Case.
Vice-presidents—Charles Schipper, Edward R. Clark.
Secretary—William R. Cook.
Treasurer—George H. Goddard.

The report of the treasurer was as follows:

Balance in bank, May 29, 1892		$[illegible]
Donations from individuals	$1,060.00
Central R. R. of N. J.	300.00
Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders	300.00
Ben Sutton's Concert	52.50
Crescent Avenue Sunday-school	25.00
Hospital Sunday collections;
Seventh-Day Baptist church	40.40
Grace church	128.45
All Souls' church	20.18
St. Mary's church	50.00
First Baptist church	14.00
Congregational church	25.00
Crescent Avenue church	138.78
Woman's Auxiliary board	466.55
Plainfield City Union of King's Daughters	140.00
Patients	1,386.20	4,[illegible]
Total receipts		$4,[illegible]
Disbursements:
Various expenses	$662.37
Fuel	179.40
Medicine and surgical instruments	[illegible]
Provisions	1,346.61
Salaries and wages	1,393.50
Total expenditures	$4,[illegible]
Balance in bank, May 29, 1893	[illegible]
		$4,[illegible]

The number of individual cash donors among the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield contributing directly to the hospital through the treasurer during the year was seventy-four, and the amount of such donations $1,060. Through the King's Daughters, the hospital Sunday collections and the Woman's Auxiliary board many others contribute cash, and others, still, contribute provisions, clothing and other goods sent to the hospital; in these classes of contributors, however, many of the 74 regular donors are represented again. More money is needed. This year more than $500 has been expended in excess of receipts. It is clear that more than 74 regular cash subscribers should be on the hospital books. In the summer months the hospital [illegible] the year about 120 patients, who have remained, on an average, 30 days each. That is equal to a constant number of 10 patients in the hospital every day throughout the year. Besides this there have been treated in the dispensary 68 patients.

The hospital has no endowment, and no debt except a mortgage of $1,800 on a portion of the hospital ground.

PLAINFIELD REAL ESTATE.

The Metropolis Has Its Eye on All Improvements.

[From Jersey Homes.]

The unfortunate effects of a season so inclement and backward as the present has been are apparent to everyone. Though the weather is now all that could be asked, the change has come too late to have the desired effect; and though the present enjoyable spring weather may be of assistance in effecting summer rentals, yet the buying and yearly rental periods of the spring are passed, and the result is that wherever we turn we find a uniform complaint of dulness in the real estate market.

Plainfield has not escaped these prevailing conditions. A representative of JERSEY HOMES recently called upon Mr. J. T. Vail, one of the leading real estate men of the city, and in the course of conversation Mr. Vail made the following comments:

"The weather of the past spring has made our business very dull; though considerable property has changed hands, the season has been a very unsatisfactory one. As to the class of property sold, perhaps there has been more activity in unimproved than improved properties."

In answer to a question as to whence most of the newcomers to Plainfield hailed from, Mr. Vail said that he thought unquestionably the figures were largely in favor of Brooklyn. It is said upon reliable authority that the furniture store houses of Brooklyn have never been so full as they are this spring, which would certainly indicate that many of the people who have broken up housekeeping in the city will probably make some move towards the suburbs in the fall. This condition is somewhat attributed to the servant problem, which is certainly making life in many cases a bore.

Rents have remained about the same as usual, and while the aggregate amount of business done perhaps approaches that of the average season, yet it has dragged along in such a way as to be rather disappointing. Activity in the building lines is about up to the average record in the aggregate amount represented, though the buildings are of larger character and not so many as usual. There is still a very fair assortment of attractive building property in Plainfield, but the supply of that centrally located is gradually decreasing, and buyers are compelled to go farther out from the center each year. Lots on the handsomer residence streets of the city sell as high as $75 to $85 per front foot, though very desirable lots may be had at $30 to $40 per foot front, having an average depth of 175 feet. West Seventh and West Eighth streets are considered the most attractive residence streets of the city.

Plainfield's population is to-day about 12,000; North Plainfield, contiguous to the city proper, has an additional population of about 5,000. The tax rate runs usually about 1 per cent. on true value of property, although the actual rate is considerably higher upon a very low valuation.

There are several tracts of unimproved property, eligibly situated, which may be had at very reasonable figures, and which afford tempting opportunities for capitalists wishing to put money in this line for investment or for speculation. Wm. H. Moffit, the prominent operator in Jersey suburban property, bought in Aug., 1891, about thirty acres, and sub-divided it, making in all about 370 lots of 25 feet frontage each. These have now all been sold, with the exception of two or three, at an average of $250 each.

There is little demand for improved property exceeding $10,000 in value. Those wishing more expensive properties usually buy land and build for themselves. Lots 50x120 feet are mostly in demand.

Altogether the outlook seems to be very favorable for a good summer and fall, if the weather permits, and it seems to be the general impression that if the unfavorable conditions in Wall street continue, it may have a beneficial effect upon the real estate market in the different Jersey suburbs. Certainly those towns afford more attractions to those seeking either for speculation or for permanent investment than any similar places about the metropolis.

Now that spring is so far advanced people in Plainfield may expect the annual influx of summer visitors. At present a number of large houses are in process of construction, and many other buildings are contemplated. As the leaves bud out, so do the improvements go on.

Lost in the Light and Found in the Dark.

Dr. F. S. Wells fell from his bicycle while coasting a hill near Dunellen yesterday. He hurt his wrist and cut his head, but was able to ride home. Then he discovered that a hundred-dollar diamond had been wrenched from its setting on his hand. The ring had been his late wife's and the value of the stone, ten times over, would not have made good its loss. He took a carriage back to the scene in the evening, and began a hopeless search with a lantern. But he found the diamond.

Westervelt Ave. to Have a Rival.

A large number of the property owners along [illegible]

HILL'S REMEMBER WE GUARANTEE A CURE and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT can be cured at home, and without any effort on the part of the patient, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our TABLETS.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all FIRST-CLASS druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by —THE— OHIO CHEMICAL CO., 51, 53 & 55 Opera Block, LIMA, OHIO. PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.: DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it. B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y. THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured. Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA. THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly, MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO. THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTEGAY.

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED

Address all Orders to THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO., 51, 53 and 55 Opera Block, LIMA, OHIO.

(In writing please mention this paper.)

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

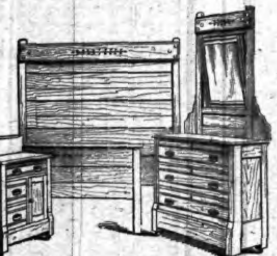
NEWARK, N. J.

The Leading Furniture and Carpet House in the State.

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST.

WHY?

We have no exorbitant rental expenses, for we own our buildings and everything in them. We buy in the best markets, get the largest discounts and are satisfied with reasonable profits.



Oak Chamber Suit $12.

Our assortment of Furniture, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Cooking Stoves and almost everything for housekeeping are worth seeing, whether you purchase or not.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shanes, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City.
213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

Home, Sweet Home.

She—So she married that bald-headed old chap! Why, I heard he had been blackballed at every club in town.

He—That's why he married; for a house.—Life.

The Darlings.

Clara—I am afraid this silk waist of mine won't wear.

Maude—Why not? I didn't suppose there was a chance of any of your waists wearing out.—Detroit Free Press.

The Point of Vision.

Perdita—I saw Dicky kiss you last night—rather timidly, I thought.

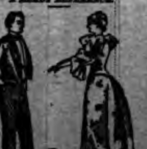
Ella—Yes; but you should have seen us where it was absolutely impossible for anyone to have seen us!—Truth.

Bore a Trade Mark.

"What is the name of the butter-dealer's pretty daughter behind the desk?"

"Oleomargaret."—Judge.

A READY REFERENCE.



He—You don't remember me; I met you at the seashore.

She—I don't seem to recall you. [illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas Blackwell, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.
ALVAH A. CLARK.
Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

F. MARGENTINO,
Retail and wholesale dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE FRUITS, CONFECTIONERY, ETC.
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC CIGARS,
Cider, Sodawater, Ginger ale, etc.
No. 10 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Close on Friday night and open on Saturday night. 4 21 y

E. C Morris Safe Co
Incorporated. Capital $[illegible]
Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.
64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.
FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.
The Best Safe in the World, [illegible] in use.
Always preserve their contents.
[illegible]

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellus M. Park deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellus M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellus M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D., 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the 25th day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the whole thereof as the case may require.

By the court.
J. KEARNEY RICE, President Judge,
MATHEW O'GORMAN, } Judges
M. FREEMAN,
Leonard Furman, Surrogate. 5 11 6

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catherine Sauerman, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause and bearing date on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1893, I, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of the said Catherine Sauerman, deceased will expose for sale at public vendue on next, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises, situated at No. 24 and 26 West Sixth street in the city of Plainfield Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of Ziba Wooden's land; thence running with his line a northwesterly course about one hundred and seventy-four feet to a stone another of Ziba Wooden's corners, and that of Joseph Perinee; thence with Joseph Perinee line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Perinee corners; thence running a southeasterly course about one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, Administrator.
Dated May 10, 1893.
C fees $7 50 5 11 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo. W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.
FREDERICK W. McCULLY.
Dated March 1, 1893. 3 9 10

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton, on Tuesday, the twentieth day of June next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for a decree in a cause pending in said court, wherein [illegible] Smith is complainant, and Mary J. Sarle and [illegible] and others are defendants, that the lands and premises in question in said cause be sold free and discharged of your estate as tenant in dower therein.

GEO V. VANDERVEER,
Solicitor of Complainant.
Dated May 15, 1893 5 18 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.
ELIAS R. POPE.
Dated May 9, 1893. 5 11 10

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, &c., complainant, and Emma A. Jones and others, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described situate lying and being in the city of Plainfield, the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Putnam street and also in the middle of Carlton avenue thence along the middle of Carlton avenue in a northerly direction nine hundred and five (905) feet, more or less to the line of lands of The Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company in LaGrande avenue; thence along line of lands of said company south forty-five degrees and eight minutes west, six hundred and fifty-five (655) feet, more or less, to the middle of Tenth street; thence along the middle of Tenth street, following the curve thereof in a general southerly direction four hundred and eighty (480) feet, more or less, to the middle of Putnam street; thence along the middle thereof in an easterly direction four hundred and five (405) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Being block 4 on "Map of Villa Sites, belonging to Evan Jones, Plainfield, N. J.," and part of same premises conveyed to said Jones by deed of Jacob G. Laing and wife, dated August 11, 1888, recorded in Book 112 of Deeds, pages 364, &c.

Excepting out of said lands and premises a plot of land bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Putnam street with the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (1) running easterly along the northerly line of Putnam street two hundred and forty-one feet and eighty-five one hundredths of a foot (241.85 ft.); thence (2) northerly parallel with Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet; thence (3) westerly parallel with Putnam street seventy-five (75) feet; thence (4) northerly parallel with Tenth street one hundred (100) feet; thence (5) westerly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and sixty-six feet and eighty-two one-hundredths of a foot (166.82 ft.) to the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (6) southerly along the said easterly line of Tenth street two hundred and seventy-five (275) feet to the point or place of beginning.

W. M. HICKS Sheriff.
WM. A. LEWIS, Sol'r.
DL&C. fees $13.02. 5 25-w5

DO YOU COUGH DON'T DELAY TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM THE BEST COUGH CURE

It cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

THE PLAINFIELD
PACKING HOUSE
25 West Front Street,
Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of
Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,
It has added a full line of
Fresh Beef, Lamb,
Veal, Mutton & Poultry,
Which it is prepared to sell at
Reasonable Prices!
All goods delivered free of charge.
Telephone 141.
C. M. ULFICH.

Can You Solve Puzzles?
"COMBINATIONS."

The greatest puzzle ever invented has been presented by Sam Loyd, the famous puzzleist, to the NEW YORK PRESS CLUB CHARITY FUND in aid of sick and impoverished journalists.

Price, 10 Cents,

the entire money received going to the CHARITY AND BUILDING FUND.

Public spirited merchants in order to give the puzzle a more intense interest have offered prizes of Steinway Pianos, Knox Hats, Billiard Tables, Mason and Hamlin Organs, etc.

Don't fail to secure this latest novelty, and thus instruct and amuse yourself and at the same time aid a worthy cause. [illegible]

Make No Mistake!

There is a COUNTERFEIT on No. 73, and purchasers are requested to notice my name in full before entering the store.

AMOS H. VANHORN.
LIMITED.
73 MARKET STREET.

To outdo all competitors, will make the following inducements to purchasers until further notice:

Carpets,
Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

Parlor Suits,
Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only $32.50

Bedroom Suits,
Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only $17.50

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.
LIMITED.
My only place of Business is at
73 Market Street,
Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.
NO BRANCH STORES.
10-8-1y

TOWNSEND'S
Marble & Granite Works,
30 SOMERSET STREET,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am, yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,
Manager. 8 11 tf
Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS
And all kinds of wearing apparel
STORED
And insured against all damage by fire or moth.
Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.
GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.
SUCCESSORS TO
W. H. AND R. BURNETT,
17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution
OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President,
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.
a30tf

Scientific American Agency for PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.
[illegible]
Scientific American

NEWARK
BEE HIVE
Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it Is.

THE BEE HIVE NEWARK N.J.
THE LARGEST DRY & FANCY GOODS HOUSE IN THE STATE.
L.S. PLAUT & CO
707-721 Broad St.

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 13.
MUSLIN WEAR
DEPARTMENT.

GOWNS—plain, embroidered and lace.
DRAWERS—plain, embroidered and lace.
CHEMISES—plain, embroidered and lace.
CORSET COVERS in 200 styles.
MUSLIN SKIRTS—plain, ruffle, embroidered and lace.
APRONS in Black, White, Silk and Gingham.
Cotton Flannel Drawers and Skirts.
Muslin Night Drawers for Children.
Extra Size Gowns, Drawers, Skirts, Chemises and Gauze Corset Covers.
Children's Jean, Imperial and Gauze Waists.
Children's Drawer Waists.
Guimpe Waists—Silk, Cashmere and Muslin; 1 to 18 yr. sizes.
Sweeping Caps and Sleeve Protectors.
Gingham Sunbonnets.
Carriage Pillow Slips.
Bridal Sets.
Crinoline Skirts and Muslin Hoopskirts.
Silk Gowns, Chemises, Skirts and Drawers.
Combination Chemise.
Combination Drawers.
Combination Corset Covers.
Ladies' Rubber Aprons.
Ladies' Muslin Divided Skirts.
Sanitary Towels and Padding.
Greenwood's Readymade Waist Lining.
Ladies' Cotton Flannel Gowns.
Dress Forms and Extension Models.
Pillow Shams in 50 styles.
Flannel Skirts—Colored and White.
Outing Flannel and Worsted Skirts.
Worsted Shawls and Cardigan Jackets.
Worsted, Jersey and Cloth Leggins for all seasons.
Imported Long and Square, Black and Colored Cashmere Shawls.
Cashmere Scarfs—White and Colored.
Wool Shawls—Long and Short.
Worsted Shawls—Hand-knit, Black, White and Colored.
Worsted Fascinators, Capes, Hoods and other goods of like character (in season).

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.
707 to 721 BROAD STREET.
Mail Orders Filled.

NOTICE. March 15, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann Bosse, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims [illegible]

LAWS OF NEW JERSEY.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY

CHAPTER CLX.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act relative to sale of lands under a public statute, or by virtue of any judicial proceedings" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, The provisions in force relative to the sales of lands, and the advertisement and adjournment of the same, have not been in all respects known or complied with, whereby the titles to certain lands are alleged to be defective and uncertain;

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That no sale of lands heretofore made by any executors or administrators shall be invalidated by reason of such sale having been adjourned for a time or times exceeding two months in the whole, or by reason of the omission to advertise adjournments; but that the purchaser or purchasers of any lands at such sale who shall have paid the price thereof, and received a deed therefor, such sale having been duly reported to and confirmed by the proper court, shall have as good and complete a title thereto as if said sale had been adjourned from time to time, not exceeding two months in the whole, and the adjournments thereof duly advertised.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of commissioners for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the term of office of the commissioners heretofore appointed under the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby extended for three years from the expiration of said term.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXII.

An Act authorizing religious corporations, incorporated by general or special acts of the legislature, to change their names and modify the terms of incorporation.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any religious corporation, incorporated by general or special act of the legislature, shall desire to change its corporate name it shall and may be lawful for said corporation, by a two-thirds vote at any regular meeting, to change the corporate name of the said corporation, specifying by such vote what the new corporate name shall be; and thereafter the said corporation shall be known by such new name so adopted, and shall by such new name have, hold and retain all its property, and shall enjoy the same rights, privileges and powers and be subject to the same liabilities as it would have enjoyed and been subject to had said name not been changed.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any such religious corporation, by a majority vote at any regular meeting, to make such change or changes in the number of officers and managers or trustees of said corporation, and the terms of their office, as shall be considered expedient for the interests of the corporation.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any such religious corporation, at any regular meeting, by a majority vote, to establish any new department or departments of religious work not specified in the act of incorporation, and to maintain the same.

4. And be it enacted, Whenever any or all of the changes provided for in this act are made, a certificate of such change or changes, over the hand of the presiding officer of the corporation, attested by the secretary thereof, shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after such change is made; and one dollar shall be the established fee for such filing.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXIII.

An Act concerning the improvement of public roads in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That contracts for the improvement of any public road heretofore made by the board of chosen freeholders of any county, or the township committee of any township in this state, in good faith, under wh[illegible] public roads or any portion of a public r[illegible] has been completed, and public money app[illegible]riated for that purpose has been expended, shall not be invalidated or set aside as illegal, as to the work completed, by reason of any irregularity in or want of conformity of the petition asking for said improvement, to the provisions of the act under which said improvements were to be made; provided, said act was designated in said petition and the requisite number of property owners along the line of the proposed improvement had signed the same; and provided further, that the said board of chosen freeholders or township committee were authorized by said act to order said improvement to be made, without the presentation of said petition.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXIV.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the incorporation of safe deposit and trust companies," approved April twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the act to which this is a further supplement be amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in addition to the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, [illegible] any city or village in this state where there is no national or state bank of discount and deposit, to discount bills, notes and other [illegible] shall be lawful for either of said courts or any justice thereof to revive and reinstate said case upon such terms as may seem to him equitable and just, if in the opinion of said court or justice the facts in said cause show that the failure to file said pleadings was on account of the neglect, fault, error or mistake of said attorney, and that great injury and wrong would result either to the plaintiff or defendant.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXVII.

A Further Supplement to "An act concerning roads" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, By reason of the opening and grading of streets and avenues in new towns and colonies in various portions of this state, parts of old laid out roads running through the wild lands thereof have become useless and practically abandoned, the said new streets and avenues affording better access to the same points than by the said parts of old roads; and, whereas, for small changes or vacations, proceedings under the present act to which this is a supplement are both expensive and troublesome and attended with much delay, so much so that few persons are willing for the public good to incur the expenses of such proceedings; for remedy whereof,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever ten or more persons, being freeholders, shall think the vacation of a part of any public road necessary in any part of the county wherein they reside, they make application in writing to the inferior court of common pleas of such county, or to one of the judges thereof, setting forth in writing the road or portion thereof which it is proposed to have vacated, describing the same by courses and distances, to which description there shall be attached a map showing the location of the road, or portion thereof to be vacated, and if within ten days after such application shall have been made, as aforesaid, or if at the time of making such application, there shall be presented to said court or judge the consent in writing of the owners of all the lands by such old road or portion thereof proposed to be vacated, and also the written consent of the township committee of the township wherein such lands do lie, that said application shall be granted, then it shall be lawful for said court or judge to cause said application, with the accompanying survey, map and return, and the written consents of the owners of lands as aforesaid, and of the township committee, to be filed with the clerk of the county, to be by him recorded in the book of roads for said county, and when said application and papers have been so filed, such portion of such old road shall thereupon and thereby be deemed to be vacated; provided, that no portion of any old road proposed to be vacated under this act, shall exceed one thousand yards in length.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXVIII.

An Act to enable street railway companies, or companies owning railroads operated as street railways, to unite and consolidate their corporate franchises and other property with those of traction companies and to prescribe a method therefor.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any street railway company, or other company owning a railroad operated as a street railway, incorporated under any law of this state, to merge and consolidate its property and franchises with those of any motor power company created under any law of this state.

2. And be it enacted, That said consolidation shall b[illegible]e under the conditions, provisions, re[illegible]ictions and with the powers hereafter in this act mentioned and contained, that is to say:

1. The directors of the several corporations proposing to consolidate may enter into a joint agreement, under the corporate seal of the company, for the consolidation of said companies and railways, and prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the name of the new corporation, the number and name of the directors and other officers thereof, who shall be the first directors and officers, and their places of residence, the number of shares of the capital stock, the amount or par value of each share and the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the said companies into the new corporation, and how and when directors and officers shall be chosen, with such other details as they shall deem necessary to perfect such new organization and the consolidation of said companies or railways.

2. Said agreement shall be submitted to the stockholders of each of said companies or corporations at a meeting thereof, called separately, for the purpose of taking the same into consideration; due notice of the time and place of holding such meeting, and the object thereof, shall be delivered to such persons respectively, or sent to them by mail, when their post office address is known to the company; and, also, by a general notice published in some newspaper in the city, town or county where such company has its principal office or place of business; and at said meeting of stockholders the agreement of the said directors shall be considered and a vote, by ballot, taken by each company separately, for the adoption or rejection of the same, each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote; and said ballots shall be cast in person or by proxy, and if two-thirds of all the votes of all the stockholders, voting separately, shall be for adoption of said agreement, then that fact shall be certified thereon by the secretary of the respective companies, under the seal thereof, and the agreement so adopted, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and shall, from thence, be deemed and taken to be the agreement and act of consolidation of the said companies; and a copy of said agreement and act of consolidation, duly certified by the secretary of state under the seal thereof, shall be evidence of the existence of such new corporation.

3. And be it enacted, That upon the making and perfecting the agreement and act of consolidation, as provided in the preceding section, and filing the same, or copy, with the secretary of state as aforesaid, the several corporations parties thereto, shall be deemed and taken to be one corporation, by the name provided in said agreement, [illegible] company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

7. And be it enacted, That in all cases of consolidation of two or more railway companies under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, the said consolidated company shall have power and authority to issue bonds registered, or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, to an amount sufficient to cover all the indebtedness of the company so merged and consolidated, and to aid in the completion and equipment of said railway, to secure the payment of which it shall be lawful for them to create a mortgage, covering their corporate franchises, rights, privileges and property, real and personal; provided, that the bonds shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per centum per annum; the bonds so issued may be given in lieu, exchange and satisfaction of and for all bonds or other debts against the companies thus merged and consolidated, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the holders of said debts or claims; provided, that such companies shall not plead any statute or statutes against usury, in any court of law or equity, in any suit instituted to enforce the payment of any bond or mortgage executed under any of the provisions of this act.

8. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXIX.

An Act to authorize street railway companies, or companies owning railroads operated as street railways, to lease their property and franchises to traction companies, and to prescribe a method therefor.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any company owning any street railway or railways, or any company owning any railroad operated as a street railway, whether such lessor company or companies are incorporated under any general or special act of this state, to lease their property and franchises to any traction company created under the laws of this state, for such term or terms upon such condition or conditions as to the use and operation of the property of the corporation, the enjoyment of privileges and immunities of such lessor corporation and the amount of rent to be paid therefor, and the manner of making payment of said rent, and such other conditions, limitations and restrictions as said lessor and lessee corporations may agree upon.

2. And be it enacted, That any stockholder of any company or companies whose property and franchises shall be leased under the provisions of this act, who shall not assent to such lease, or who shall resist or object to the making thereof, may at any time within thirty days after the making of such lease as in this act provided, apply by petition to the circuit court of the county in which the chief office of the lessor corporation may be kept, or to a judge of said court in vacation if no such court sits within such period, on reasonable notice to said company, to appoint three disinterested persons to estimate the damage, if any, done to such stockholder by said proposed lease; and whose award, or that of a majority of them, when confirmed by the said court shall be final and conclusive; and the persons so appointed shall also appraise said stock of such stockholder at the full market value thereof, without regard to any depreciation or appreciation in consequence of the said lease; and the said lessor company may, at its election, either pay to the said stockholder the amount of damages so found and awarded, if any, or the value of the stock so ascertained and determined, and upon the payment of the value of the stock as aforesaid, the said stockholder shall transfer the stock so held by him to said lessor company, to be disposed of by the directors of said company or to be retained for the benefit of the remaining stockholders; and in case the value of said stock as aforesaid is not so paid within thirty days from the filing of said award and confirmation by said court, and notice to said lessor company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to to amend an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning roads"'" (Revision), approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, which supplement was approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and which amending act was approved March fourth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the said act of which this is amendatory, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning roads"'" (Revision), approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, which supplement was approved [illegible] period of not less than five years, then and in such case the said road, or such portion thereof as shall have been unused for public travel for the term aforesaid, shall be and hereby is declared to be vacated; provided, the owners of the lands on both sides of said road, or of said portion thereof unused as aforesaid, shall file in the office of the clerk of the county where such road or such portion of road lies their assent in writing to said vacation.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXI.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled, "An act concerning corporations" (Revision), approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any corporation or corporations created under the provisions of the act to which this is a further supplement to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of the shares of the capital stock of any other corporation or corporations created under the law of this or any other state, and to exercise while owners of such stock, all the rights, powers and privileges, including the right to vote thereon, which natural persons, being the owners of such stock, might, could or would exercise.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any corporation described in the preceding section of this act to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any securities or evidences of debt created by other corporation or corporations of this or any other state, in the same manner and to the same extent as natural persons, being the owners thereof, might, could or would do.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXII.

An Act to authorize the formation of traction companies for the construction and operation of street railways, or railroads operated as street railways, and to regulate the same.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for three or more persons, one of whom shall be a resident of the state of New Jersey, to associate themselves into a corporation for the construction and operation of motors, cables and other machinery for supplying motive power to street railways, or other railroads operated as street railways, and the necessary apparatus for applying the same; and such corporation when formed in accordance with the provisions of this act shall have power to enter upon any street, road, lane, alley or other highway upon which any street railway, or other railroad operated as a street railway, is now or may hereafter be constructed (with the consent of the owner or owners, lessee or lessees of such railway or of the person or persons operating the same), and make, construct, apply, maintain and operate such railway, motors, cables, electrical or other devices and appliances, with power to erect, construct, apply, maintain and operate such tunnels, subways, for cables, poles, wires, conduits or other devices for transmitting and using electrical or other forces, as will provide for the traction of cars on street railways, or other railroads operated as street railways and to construct lines of street or passenger railway, and all necessary turnouts, sidings and bridges on, along, through or over any street, road, lane, alley, stream or highway, either by extension of existing railways or by the building of new lines thereon, either wholly within or partly within, or wholly between or partly within and between cities, towns, boroughs, villages and townships and counties, and the same when constructed to equip, maintain, use and operate for the carriage of persons and property for compensation to be made such corporation, and to contract with any other person or persons, natural or artificial, for such construction, equipment, maintenance, use or operation, and to purchase, hold, sell, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of any capital stock or securities of any other corporation owning, using, leasing or operating any street railway or other railroad operated as a street railway, turnpike or plank road, or engaged in the construction or equipment thereof, or in creating or supplying power of any kind for the operation thereof, and to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges in respect to such capital stock and securities, incidental to the use and ownership thereof, which any natural person or persons might, could or would do, and to purchase, hold, sell or otherwise dispose of such real or personal property as may be convenient or necessary for the use of the corporations created under this act, and to pledge or mortgage the same with the franchises of such corporations; provided, that no corporation created under this act shall enter upon or use any street, road, lane, alley, or other highway, under color or by virtue of this act, for the extension or construction of new lines of railways, or for the operation thereof, without the consent of the board of aldermen, common council or body having control of streets or highways, or other governing body of the city, town, borough, village, township or county, into or within the limits of which [illegible] of the state the sum of twenty-five dollars for all corporations having an authorized capital not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, and the sum of one-fifth of one dollar per thousand upon the largest amount of capital authorized by its certificate of organization or incorporation by any such corporation having an authorized capital exceeding one hundred thousand dollars.

5. And be it enacted, That if any corporation created under this act shall, in the exercise of powers conferred by this act, enter upon any railway for the purpose of operating the same, it shall within ten days thereafter file in the office of the secretary of state a certificate under its corporate seal, attested by its president or other head officer, setting forth the name of the corporation under which such entry shall have been made, the date of such entry and the period of time during which the possession and operation of such railway is to continue, together with a description and map of the route of the railway so entered upon, and in default of the filing of such certificate, description and map as aforesaid, such corporation shall forfeit and pay to the state of New Jersey the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every day after the expiration of said ten days during which such default shall continue, which sum may be recovered in an action of debt, prosecuted in the name of the state by the attorney-general in any court of competent jurisdiction, and the judgment recovered therein shall be the first and paramount lien on all property and assets of such corporation.

6. And be it enacted, That whenever any corporation created under this act desires to extend any existing railway or to build any new line of railway, in the exercise of powers conferred by this act, such corporation shall, before beginning the construction of such extension or new line, file in the office of the secretary of state a description of the route of such extension or new line showing the termini of such extension or new line, together with a map exhibiting the same with the courses and distances thereof, and upon filing such description and map such corporation shall thereby secure the exclusive right to build such extension or new line for a period of six months, and thereafter for the additional period of two years, if within said six months such corporation shall have begun in good faith to construct such extension or new line and shall have diligently pursued such construction to the completion of such extension or new line within the period of the two years and six months aforesaid, to be computed from the day of the filing of such description and map; provided, however, that such corporation shall have obtained the consent of the board of aldermen, common council or the body having control of streets and highways or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county as to the location of the route of such extension or new line.

7. And be it enacted, That the board of aldermen, common council or the body having control of streets or highways, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county, upon the petition of the directors of any company incorporated under this act, or a majority thereof, for a location of the tracks of any extension or new line of its railway conformably to the route designated in descriptions of the route of such extension or new line, and the map exhibiting the same filed as aforesaid in the office of the secretary of state shall give notice to all parties interested by publication in one or more newspapers published and circulated in said municipality, or if none be published there, then by posting in five of the most public places in such municipality or township, at least fourteen days before their meeting, of the time and place at which they will consider such application for location, and after hearing they shall either pass a resolution refusing such location or pass a resolution or ordinance, as may be necessary or proper, granting the said location or any part thereof, under such lawful restrictions as they deem the interests of the public may require, and the location thus granted shall be deemed and taken to be the true location of the tracks of the railway, if an acceptance thereof in writing by said directors shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after receiving notice thereof, and a copy thereof delivered to the clerk or other equivalent officer of the municipality or township.

8. And be it enacted, That whenever any corporation organized under this act shall fail to acquire from the board of aldermen, the common council, or the body having control of the streets and highways, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county within the limits of which it shall seek to construct its road, the right to locate its track or any satisfactory operative portion thereof, it may file with the secretary of state an amended description of the route of such extension or new line, showing the termini of such extension or new line, together with a map exhibiting the same with the courses and distances thereof, and upon filing such amended description [illegible] equipments for the construction and operation of such machinery, engines, boilers or appliances, including the erection of poles for the support of wires and conduits or the making of tunnels or subways for the production or supply of any of the motive power authorized to be used under this act, and for any of the said purposes to enter at all times upon all lands lying within or without the limits of any street, road, lane, alley or other highway for the purpose of exploring and surveying the same and of locating a right of way thereon and the necessary easements, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances aforesaid or any of them, doing no unnecessary damage to private or other property; and when the location or locations of such rights of way, easements, works, equipments and appliances shall have been determined upon, and a survey of such location or locations deposited in the office of secretary of state, then it shall be lawful for every corporation formed under this act, upon the payment or tender of such compensation as is hereinafter provided by its officers, agents, engineers, superintendents, workmen and other persons in their employ, to enter upon, take possession of, hold, have, use and occupy any lands or materials so surveyed, and to do all other things which may be suitable or necessary for use of such land or materials and the enjoyment of said easements or the construction of such right of way, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances aforesaid, and each and every of them, and for the maintenance, repair or operation thereof, and of every part thereof; provided, always, that the payment or tender of the payment of all damages for the occupancy of all lands upon which the said right of way, easements, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances of such company may be located or the use of materials shall be made before the said company, or any person under their direction or employ shall enter upon or break ground in the premises, except for the purpose of surveying and laying out said works, right of way, easements, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances and of locating the same, unless the consent of the owner or owners of such lands be first had and obtained.

14. And be it enacted, That when any company incorporated under this act, or its agents, cannot agree with the owner or owners of lands or materials required for any of the purposes aforesaid, or for the use or purchase thereof, or when by the legal incapacity or absence of such owner or owners no such agreement can be made, a particular description of the land or materials so required for the use of such company incorporated under this act for any of the purposes aforesaid, shall be given in writing under oath or affirmation of some engineer or proper agent of the company, and also the name or names of the occupant or occupants, if any there be, and of the owner or owners, if known and their residence, if the same can be ascertained, to one of the justices of the supreme court of this state, who shall cause any company incorporated under this act to give notice thereof to the persons interested, if known and in this state, or if unknown and out of this state to make publication thereof, as he shall direct, for any term not less than ten days, and to assign a particular time and place for the appointment of the commissioners hereinafter named, at which time, upon satisfactory evidence to him of the service of publication of such notice aforesaid, he shall appoint under his hand and seal, three disinterested, impartial and judicious freeholders, residents in the county in which the land in controversy lies or the owners reside, commissioners to examine and appraise the said land required for any of the purposes aforesaid, or materials, and to assess the damages, upon such notice to be given to the persons interested, as shall be directed by the justice making such appointment, to be expressed therein, not less than ten days; and it shall be the duty of said commissioners (having first taken and subscribed an oath or affirmation before some person duly authorized to administer an oath, faithfully and impartially to examine the matter in question and to make a true report according to the best of their skill and understanding), to meet at the time and place appointed and to proceed to view and examine the said land or materials, and to make a just and equitable estimate or appraisement of the value of the same, and an assessment of damages to be paid by the company for such lands or materials and damages aforesaid, which report shall be made in writing under the hands and seals of the said commissioners, or any two of them, and filed within ten days thereafter, together with the aforesaid description of the lands or materials and the appointment and oaths or affirmations aforesaid, in the clerk's office of the county in which the land or materials are situate, and after filing said report said commissioners, within not less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days, sh[illegible] meet at a convenient place in said count[illegible] hear and consider objections to said repo[illegible] and said commissioners shall cause notice of the filing of said report, and of the time and place of said [illegible] and all privileges and immunities of such lessor corporation shall be preserved unimpaired to the same extent as if such lease had not been made; and all debts and liabilities and duties of such lessor corporation shall thenceforth attach to the lessee corporation, and be enforced against or be enjoyed by it to the same extent and in the same manner as they were enforceable against or enjoyed by the lessor corporation; and provided, further, that no greater tolls or charges shall be made or demanded by any corporation created under this act than were or are authorized to be charged and collected for the same service by the corporation or corporations, lessor or lessors in said lease.

17. And be it enacted, That any stockholder of any company whose property and franchises shall have been leased to a corporation created under this act who shall not assent to such lease, or who shall resist or object to the making thereof, may at any time within thirty days after the making of such lease as in this act provided apply by petition to the circuit court of the county in which the chief office of the lessor corporation may be kept or to a judge of said court in vacation, if no such court sits within such period, on reasonable notice to said company, to appoint three disinterested persons to estimate the damage, if any, done to any stockholder by said proposed lease; and whose award, or that of a majority of them, when confirmed by the said court, shall be final and conclusive; and the persons so appointed shall also appraise said stock of such stockholder at the full market value thereof without regard to any depreciation or appreciation in consequence of the said lease; and the said lessor company may at its election either pay to the said stockholder the amount of damages so found and awarded, if any, or the value of the stock so ascertained and determined, and upon the payment of the value of the stock as aforesaid the said stockholder shall transfer the stock so held by him to said lessor company to be disposed of by the directors of said company or to be retained for the benefit of the remaining stockholders; and in case the value of said stock as aforesaid is not so paid within thirty days from the filing of the said award and confirmation by said court, and notice to said lessor company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company, and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

18. And be it enacted, That any corporation created under this act may unite and consolidate stock, property franchises and railway with those of any other corporation owning or operating any street railway, or railroad operated as a street railway, or any turnpike or plank road, and such consolidated company may continue from time to time to unite and consolidate its stock, property, franchises and railway with those of any other corporation or corporations of this state owning or operating any street railway or railroad operated as a street railway, turnpike or plank road.

19. And be it enacted, That such consolidation or consolidations shall be made under the conditions, provisions, restrictions and with the powers hereafter in this act mentioned and contained, that is to say:

I. The directors of the several corporations proposing to consolidate may enter into a joint agreement under the corporate seal of the respective companies for the consolidation of said companies and railways, and prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the name of the new corporation, the number and names of the directors and other officers thereof, and who shall be the first directors and officers, and their places of residence, the amount and number of shares of the capital stock, the par value of each share and the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the said companies into the new corporation, and how and when directors and officers shall be chosen, with such other details as they shall deem necessary to perfect such new organization and the consolidation of said companies and railways;

II. Said agreement shall be submitted to the stockholders of each of the said companies or corporations at a meeting thereof, called separately, for the purpose of taking the same into consideration; due notice of the time and place of holding such meetings, and the object thereof, shall be delivered to such persons respectively, or sent to them by mail when their postoffice address is known to the company, and also, by a general notice published in some newspaper in the city, town or county where such company has its principal office or place of business; and at said meeting of stockholders the agreement of the said directors shall be considered and a vote by ballot taken by each company separately, for the adoption or rejection of the same, each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote; and said ballot shall be cast in person or by proxy, and if two-thirds of all the votes of all the stockholders voting separately, shall be for adoption of said agreement, then that fact shall be certified thereon by the secretary of the respective companies under the seal thereof [illegible] ers owning at least two-thirds in value of the existing capital stock to said proposed increase of capital stock.

25. And be it enacted, That in all cases of consolidation of two or more railway companies under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, the said consolidated company shall have power and authority to issue bonds, registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, to an amount sufficient to cover all indebtedness of the company so consolidated, and to aid in the completion and equipment of said railway, to secure the payment of which it shall be lawful for them to create a mortgage covering their corporate franchises, rights, privileges, property, assets, real and personal; provided that the bonds shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per centum per annum; the bonds so issued may be given in lieu, exchange and satisfaction of and for all bonds or other debts against the companies thus consolidated, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by and between the holders of said debts or claims.

26. And be it enacted, That in all cases of such consolidation under and by virtue of the provisions of this act the said companies shall have the right to borrow from time to time such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of such corporation not exceeding at any one time the total amount of the authorized capital stock of such corporation, and for the repayment thereof may issue bonds registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, secured by a mortgage or mortgages covering all the corporate franchises, rights, privileges, immunities, assets, real and personal, of such mortgagor corporation.

27. And be it enacted, That any corporation created under this act may borrow from time to time such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of such corporation not exceeding at any one time the total amount of the authorized capital stock of such corporation, or any increase thereof, and to secure the repayment thereof, or of any part or portion thereof, may issue bonds registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, secured by a mortgage of any or all of its franchises, real estate or personal property, including stocks and securities of such corporation, or of any other corporation whose stocks or securities it owns, which mortgage may be recorded as mortgages of real estate are or hereafter may be by law required to be recorded in the office of the clerk or register of deeds of the county or counties in which the railway or railways described in said mortgage may be located, and in the office of the clerk or register of deeds of the county in which the principal office of such corporation is situated, and such record or the lodgment of such mortgage in such clerk's or register's office for record shall have the same force, operation and effect as to all judgment creditors, purchasers or mortgagees in good faith, as the record of lodgment for that purpose of mortgages of real estate now have, although such mortgage may not have been executed, proved or recorded as a chattel mortgage.

28. And be it enacted, That no corporation or corporations issuing bonds under the provisions of this act shall plead any statute or statutes as against usury in any court of law or equity in any suit instituted to enforce the payment of such bonds or mortgages.

29. And be it enacted, That the directors of any company incorporated under this act m[illegible]purchase and hold real and personal [illegible] necessary and convenient for the [illegible] of such company, and also the stocks an[illegible] securities of other corporations and issue stock to the amount of the value thereof, in payment therefor, and the stock so issued shall be declared and be taken to be full paid stock, and shall not be liable to any further call, neither shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payments or assessments upon such stock; and such stocks shall have legib[illegible]amped upon the face thereof, "is[illegible] property Purchased," and in all st[illegible]nts and reports of the company to be published, such stock shall not be reported or stated as being issued for cash paid into the company, but shall be reported according to the fact.

30. And be it enacted, That whenever any company incorporated under this act, shall have a duty imposed upon it, or a privilege which it is authorized to exercise, and there is a limited time within which such duty is to be discharged or such privilege exercised, and such company may be restrained by the decree, order, or writ of any court from the discharge of such duty, or prevented by the omission of any board of aldermen, common council or body having control of street or highways or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county to give any consent required by this [illegible] ning, trotting or pacing of horses, mares or geldings on any race track in this state for a purse, prize or other consideration or for any other purpose whatsoever between the first day of December in any year and the first day of March, of the succeeding year.

2. And be it enacted, That any person or persons or corporation or corporations violating the provisions of this act, or aiding, abetting or assisting in the violation of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

3. And be it enacted, That when it shall come to the knowledge of the governor of this state that any person or persons or corporation or corporations is or are violating the provisions of this act or when an application shall be made to him signed by one hundred or more of the residents of any county in this state setting forth that the provisions of this act are being violated in such county, it shall be the duty of the governor forthwith to order the chief of the state police to enforce the provisions of this act in such county and to place under arrest all persons found violating the same or aiding or abetting in the violation thereof and the governor shall designate to assist the said chief of the state police in the performance of his duties under this act, such portion of the police force of any city or municipality of this state as the governor shall deem necessary to effectively carry out its provisions.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the chief of the state police when discharging the duties imposed upon him under the third section of this act to maintain a sufficient portion of the police officers that have been designated to assist him in his duties at every such race track to prevent a violation of the provisions of this act.

5. And be it enacted, That in case the police force so designated is unable to prevent the violation of the provisions of this act it shall be the duty of the governor to call upon the state militia to aid in enforcing the provisions thereof upon any race track or race tracks whereon they are being violated.

6. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXVI.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section forty-nine of an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

49. And be it enacted, That there shall be in each county a county board of examiners, which shall be composed of the county superintendent, who shall, ex-officio, be chairman, and of a number of teachers, not to exceed three, to be appointed by him, who shall hold for one year from the time of their respective appointments; but no person shall be appointed as county examiner unless he holds either a state or a first grade county certificate; the county superintendent shall fill vacancies that occur from absence or other cause, but if he cannot find any teacher in his county qualified under the provisions of this section willing to serve, he shall conduct the examination himself; the board shall meet at such places as may be designated by the chairman, and shall hold at least three regular sessions each year; each member of the county board of examiners, except the county superintendent, shall receive for his services, in addition to traveling expenses, such compensation as may be fixed by the state board of education, not exceeding ten dollars for each regular examination, to be paid by the county collector on the order of the county superintendent; provided, that whenever said board shall hold sessions at any other time than as appointed by the state board of education, no compensation shall be allowed from the county; but in case of special examinations said board may charge each applicant an examination fee not exceeding two dollars; the county board of examiners shall have power to conduct examinations and to grant certificates of different grades, in accordance with the general regulations on the subject prescribed by the state board of education.

2. And be it enacted, That section sixty-four of said act shall be amended to read as follows:

64. And be it enacted, That the school year shall begin on the first day of July and end on the last day of June.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXVII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act for the instruction and maintenance of indigent deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded persons inhabitants of this state" (Revision), approved March twelve, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Whereas, The act to which this is an amendment does not confer upon the governor power to send to the institutions therein named, worthy blind persons who shall be over the age of twenty-one years, and thus enable them to learn a trade by which they may earn a livelihood; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section eight of an act entitled "An act for the instruction and maintenance of indigent deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded persons, inhabitants of this state" (Revision), approved March twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, which section reads as follows:

"8. And be it enacted, That any person not under five years nor more than twenty-one years of age shall be entitled to the benefits of this act," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

8. And be it enacted, That any deaf and dumb, blind or feeble-minded person, not under five years of age, of a suitable age and capacity for instruction, may be entitled to the benefits of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXVIII.

An Act providing for the licensing of dogs.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for the board of aldermen, common council, township committee, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, township and other municipality of this state, [illegible] in each and every year, to provide by [illegible] the amount of a license fee for the ensuing year to be paid by the owner of every dog within such city, town, borough, or other municipality; and the harboring of a dog on [illegible] dogs shall be evidence of [illegible]

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE
Editors and Proprietors.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

As thunder gusts purify and enliven the over-heated atmosphere, so may financial disturbances create a more healthy condition of business affairs. Both are governed by causes and alike produce effects.

There evidently exists, not only throughout the United States but the commercial world, considerable financial disquiet, the reaction of misplaced confidence, but when properly investigated it only betokens a passing storm and the coming of clearer skies.

Our country is increasingly rich in industrial resources, which constitute the positive basis of business credit and prosperity, and to handle them in strict conformity with the rules of legitimate trade, and adverse to the sordid policy of speculation, is to inaugurate an era of "good times."

The monied institutions in this country are, as a general rule, sound and conservative, although some have been and others may be found imprudently managed, but such are only exceptions.

The National Administration is doing everything within its legal power to maintain the public credit untarnished, and to preserve an equilibrium of value between the different species of currency. Additional financial legislation is no doubt essential, but that must be decreed by Congress.

What causes financial trouble?

It is in the main reckless speculation, the very antipode of honest traffic, an unworthy desire to secure gain regardless of means.

Overtrading and venturing beyond the bonds of prudent enterprise, or to use a homely expression "having too many irons in the fire."

The creation and encouragement of bogus investments, fair to behold but full of evil within.

The fell spirit of monopoly, which seeks through combined power to regulate for selfish purposes the prices of products and labor and to crush out all opposition.

What is the remedy?

Totally abolish by the force of enacted and executed law and public condemnation all monopolistic and deceptive combines.

Avoid speculation as the arch-enemy of business integrity and solidity.

Grant to every citizen the unmolested right to individually conduct any legitimate business calling, and throw around the smallest capitalist the same protection and immunity accorded the possessor of millions.

Let all the people be justly encouraged by having a free and fair chance to trade, work and prosper.

Do business honestly.

Be content with steady and moderate gains.

Eschew extravagance of every kind.

Then will financial sunshine dispel the murky clouds of difficulty and disaster.

"TAXPAYER" ANSWERED.

What the After-Expense of the Sewerage System Will Be.

"Taxpayer" in Saturday's PRESS desires to know whether or no property-owners will have to pay for the privilege of tapping a sewer in the street, and whether or no there would follow an annual tax on account of the privilege.

Our correspondent evidently has in mind the demands on account of the water supply—a supply furnished by a corporation possessing privileges granted by a legislature twenty years ago. The proposed sewers will be built by the people for the people. Water from the pipes—water without labor—is, too, somewhat of the nature of a luxury; sewers relate to the public health, to cleanliness and decency. The two cases are dissimilar.

There will be no charge whatever, either at the outset or as the years advance, for sewer connections. On the other hand every property-holder will be urged, for the common good, to connect his house and stable drains with the pipes in the street. A fee or annual charge for the privilege of connecting with the peoples sewer pipes would be unprecedented, and very unwise and impracticable. Sewers are built to improve the health of a town, and such fees as "Taxpayer" suggests would limit the very object of their construction.

The city pays for the water with which the sewers are to be flushed. Under a contract, extending to May, 1902, between the city and the water supply company, the water used in the proposed automatic flushing tanks will cost four dollars per hydrant a year. The water company has obligated itself to furnish water for flushing purposes—"for properly flushing such sewers" are the exact words of the contract; and the price may be determined, at the discretion of the city, by meters at ten cents per one thousand gallons, or it may be computed at the rate of fifty dollars per mile of sewers, or, as before stated, at the rate of four dollars per hydrant. Some of the hydrants are beyond the proposed sewers; but if we multiply the total number by four, the annual expense on account of water for flushing purposes will be less than one thousand dollars. The sum, when ascertained, will appear in the city's annual tax bill—rather, it will in the budget of municipal expenditures, cease to be appreciable.

"Taxpayer's" questions are natural and pertinent; and THE PRESS will cheerfully answer all other questions relative to the important work of drainage that council has in hand.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Many persons are afflicted with skin eruptions, boils or ulcers. BRANDRETH'S PILLS taken freely will in a short time effect a complete cure of all such troubles. Ulcers of long standing have been cured by them. Carbuncles have been checked in their incipiency by them. The worst fever sores, bed sores, and the like have been driven from the skin by them. Only begin in time and a few of BRANDRETH'S PILLS will prevent many a sickness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless and safe to take at any time.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, [illegible]

FINAL RESTING PLACE

Davis' Remains Reinterred This Afternoon.

THE CEREMONIES AT RICHMOND

The Confederate Capital the Scene of Imposing Ceremonies Over the Ashes of the Honored Ex-Chief—Location of the Burial Spot in Hollywood Cemetery.

RICHMOND, Va., May 31.—This afternoon, with impressive ceremonies, the remains of Jefferson Davis will be reinterred at Hollywood Cemetery.

The train arrived from New Orleans shortly before 12 o'clock last night. The remains were taken to the rotunda of the Capitol, where they are now lying in state, preparatory to the reinterment this afternoon.

This ceremony will be conducted with great solemnity, and a grand concourse of Confederate Veteran camps, military organizations and civic associations will join the parade.

Gen. Jno. B. Gordon, U. S. Senator from Georgia, the Commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, will be the Chief Marshal, and his staff will be composed of the most noted living ex-Confederates.

The remains of Mr. Davis will be borne upon a caisson from the Richmond Howitzer battery. A catafalque is built upon the rear chest of the caisson for this purpose, and the vehicle will be draped in flowers and Confederate colors. Six pure white horses with black trappings and black nettings reaching to the ground will draw the caisson; besides a driver to each pair of horses, a guide will march at the head of each animal.

The caisson will pass the procession in review and diverge from the line of march when the military escort will again take the lead to the place of burial.

The line of march will pass the old Confederate White House and St. Paul's Episcopal Church where Mr. Davis attended services, and both these buildings are dressed in mourning by the Ladies Hollywood Memorial Association. The ceremonies will be very impressive and will blend with those in celebration of Confederate Memorial Day, which is always a great solemnic display in Richmond.

The ceremonies at the grave will be conducted by the Venerable Rev. Charles Minnigerode, D. D., who was pastor of St. Paul's Church and the friend and spiritual adviser of the Confederate President while he lived in Richmond.

Mrs. Davis arrived from New York at 10 p. m.

The spot in Hollywood selected by Mrs. Davis for the repose of her husband and family is one of the most beautiful in this famous city of the dead, where besides many distinguished men lie nearly 20,000 Confederate killed. The burial plot occupies a level plane upon an abrupt slope in full view of the James which dashes over a bed of immense boulders and gives a wild and picturesque setting to the quiet of this rather secluded spot. Rising to a greater height behind is a well swarded background. In the center of this sub-plateau Mr. Davis will be buried. The grave will be in a circular plot and will be bricked up. His children will be buried around him.

With the settlement forever of the honors to be conferred upon the memory of the Confederate President, the Southern mind turns naturally to the future of his family. This is a question which the friends of Mr. Davis would have settled in a way that would have relieved them of all anxiety for the future but for his steady refusal to accept any of the many offers of aid made to him. Mrs. Davis shared this feeling with her husband, and these delicate considerations make it impossible to retrieve her fortunes as they would like to do.

A suggestion made by the meeting of United Confederate Veterans in New Orleans, in April last year, for the Southern States each to award Mrs. Davis an annual pension was taken up by several legislatures, but the question of the constitutionality of such an act by State was raised and the project abandoned rather than create an unpleasant public discussion of a delicate subject.

Mrs. Davis has made little out of her book and her income from the "Brierfield" and other plantation property is merely nominal. Fortunately it is said that she derives an income of $8,000 per year from bonds which have in some way been secured to her.

Kentucky Railroad Tax War Settled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 31.—The Muhlenberg County railroad tax war has been settled for the present. Yesterday at Greenville the County Court, after a meeting which was attended by 2,000 people, levied an assessment of $1 on the $100 to pay the judgment and costs in the case of the Citizens' National Bank of Evansville. The property seized will be returned and the deputy marshals will be withdrawn.

Mr. Booth a Trifle Stronger.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Dr. St. Clair Smith remained for nearly an hour in the sick room of Edwin Booth yesterday. When he left he said that Mr. Booth was a trifle stronger than he was Monday, but was, he admitted, worse than he was a week ago. He said that the proposed removal of the patient to Narragansett would have to be abandoned.

The Body Identified.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The body found on Sunday last floating in the North river near Sixty-fifth St. was identified yesterday as that of Captain Joseph Murphy, whose canal boat was sunk in the Elizabethport river, N. J., about a month ago. The captain and his wife went down with the boat, but Mrs. Murphy was rescued.

American Hay for Europe.

BALTIMORE, May 31.—Gill & Fisher, grain dealers, have exported to France 100 tons of American hay. It is said to be the first shipment of American hay to European markets. Mr. Charles D. Fisher said the hay was sent out on an order as a sample of American feed product to see if it will suit the French demand.

Destitute Sailors Apply for Aid.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 31.—Fifteen shipwrecked sailors of the Hamburg steamer Wandisha, wrecked May 15 on Apple Island, St. Lawrence river, have arrived here from Montreal in a famished condition and without money, and applied to the Collector of the port for aid.

Porter Off for Chili.

NEW YORK, May 31.—United States Minister to Chili, James B. Porter, and Consul Henry C. Stewart, to Guatemala, sailed yesterday on the Pacific Mail Steamship City of Para. Mr. Porter goes to Chili to succeed Minister Egan.

'TWAS A GREAT CONCERT.

St. Michael's Joins Holy Cross in a Delightful Service.

The semi-annual musical service of the choirs of St. Michael's parish of Naugatuck, Conn., and Holy Cross parish of North Plainfield, was held on Tuesday in Holy Cross church.

Long before the appointed hour the church was filled to overflowing, and standing room was at a premium.

The service, as arranged, was very interesting. The choir work, under the direction of W. H. Miner, was very satisfactory and pleasing, and showed careful training.

The following numbers deserve special mention: "Nunc Dimittis D", by Field; "Hallelujah Chorus" (Messiah), by Handel; "How Lovely Are the Messengers" (St. Paul), by Mendelssohn.

The best work was probably that of Gounod's "By Babylon's Wave".

The voices of the two choirs blended in perfect harmony, and the effect was most delightful, director Miner bringing out the various points in such a manner as to be fully appreciated.

The playing of Mrs. R. T. Barnes, pianist, Prof. W. E. MacClymont, organist, and F. L. Conde, 'cellolst, was highly commendable, and added still further to the rendition of the several numbers.

The Rev. J. W. Ellsworth, rector, accompanied the visiting choir, and assisted the Rev. T. Logan Murphy in the service.

The visitors were pleasantly entertained by members of the Holy Cross parish.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It removes the headache, cures the hawking cough and [illegible]

MEMORIAL DAY.

Plainfield's Two Mayors Make Great Addresses, Followed by a Distinguished Oration.

A noteworthy feature of the attendance at the memorial services at Music Hall Tuesday afternoon was the large proportion of children in the audience. The little ones were dressed mostly in white, trimmed with bright colors, and the presence of their happy faces was a pleasing tribute to the occasion. The G. A. R. posts occupied the major part of the main floor. On the stage was a large chorus of school children, who sang with much animation various patriotic selections under the direction of T. R. Hazell. The commencement of the services was delayed half an hour by the non-arrival of the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, who was to make the opening prayer. The good doctor misunderstood the hour, and the band enlivened the air by playing till he arrived.

Adjt. N. C. Mague and Commander M. C. Dobbins, of Posts 109 and 73, read the orders, the comrades saluted the day, and a dozen sweet little maidens strewed flowers at the front of the stage in tender memory of the unknown dead.

Mayor Alexander Gilbert, of Plainfield, said that he envied the brethren of the G. A. R. the proud distinction of having devoted four years of their lives to the immortal service of defending and saving their nation.

Mayor W. L. Saunders, of the borough, dwelt on the truth that Peace hath her victories as well as War, and he congratulated the two G. A. R. posts on their great achievement in coming together into harmonious joint celebration.

Both the mayors were very earnest and eloquent, and at times waxed poetic, and everyone joined in hearty applause of their words.

The oration of the day was by the Rev. Calvin Stebbins, of Massachusetts. He referred affectionately to the touching spectacle he had just witnessed of the school girls giving tribute to the unknown dead, and referred pleasantly to the fact that this was the silver anniversary of the Grand Army. He said the G. A. R. comrades would all ere long have passed away, but such a service as this was evidence that the spirit of the day would never die, that the nation would always perpetuate the annual tribute to the heroes of the war.

Besides the excellent choruses of the children, there were two exquisite songs by Mrs. Ann Collier, Miss Julia J. Ketcham, Elmer E. Runyon and Robert Gorton, accompanied by Miss Jessie Utter.

The services were concluded by an impressive tableau, in which two Union soldiers were being offered olive branches and floral tributes as victors in the great fight. The soldiers pointed heavenward, as if to say "The garlands are not for us. The heroes are there!" The Angel of Peace knelt in the background, clinging to a cross. Red fire added to the effect. The school children gave the audience a final salute by the waving of flags and the utterance of cheers, and were then refreshed with ice-cream and cake.

THE HOLIDAY'S DISORDERLIES.

Ann Sullivan Was Drunk and Wanted to Burn a House.

Legal holidays are generally productive of a goodly crop of "drunk and disorderlies" and Tuesday was no exception to the general rule, for judge Coddington had five bedraggled and weary individuals before him this morning to receive sentence for their various misdemeanors.

Eugene Shaw and wife were arrested for being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace on Arlington avenue. Shaw was found beating his little boy Tuesday morning until the little fellow could scarcely stand. Captain Grant notified the society for the prevention of cruelty to children.

Shaw and his wife were given their choice of a fine of $10 apiece or 30 days in the county jail. Shaw paid his own fine and left his wife in jail.

Peter Molloy came over the mountains Tuesday morning prepared to invest some of his hard-earned lucre in a new suit of clothes. Having purchased his clothes and having some money left over he proceeded to christen his new suit by a most glorious drunk. Captain Grant restrained his hilariousness and landed him in jail and judge Coddington suspended sentence as it was his first offense.

Ann Sullivan an old offender was arrested on complaint of the inmates of the house where she lives on South Second street, as they were afraid she would set fire to the building. She was in a dreadful state of drunkenness, and was fined $10 this morning.

Patrick Kelly was sent up for 30 days for being drunk and disorderly, and begging money on Park avenue.

Ab Cook, who was arrested Monday, was sent on another trip to the county jail this time for 30 days and the man who was with him was allowed to get off with a $2 fine as he signified his desire to go to work, such an unusual thing that his wish was granted.

PERHAPS THE CHINESE'LL GIVE

Their Patient Was Received so Hospitably, They Ought to Help the Hospital in Time of Need.

At the annual meeting of the board of governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, Monday evening, the following officers were elected:

President—Rufus K. Case.
Vice-presidents—Charles Schipper, Edward R. Clark.
Secretary—William R. Cook.
Treasurer—George H. Goddard.

The report of the treasurer was as follows:

Balance in bank, May 28, 1892		$[illegible]
Donations from individuals	$1,[illegible]
Central R. R. of N. J.	[illegible]
Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders	[illegible]
Ben Sutton's Concert	[illegible]
Crescent Avenue Sunday-school	[illegible]
Hospital Sunday collections:
Seventh-Day Baptist church	[illegible]
Grace church	[illegible]
All Souls' church	[illegible]
St. Mary's church	[illegible]
First Baptist church	[illegible]
Congregational church	[illegible]
Crescent Avenue church	[illegible]
Woman's Auxiliary board	[illegible]
Plainfield City Union of King's Daughters	[illegible]
Patients	1,[illegible]	[illegible]
Total receipts		$4,[illegible]
Disbursements:
Various expenses	$[illegible]
Fuel	[illegible]
Medicine and surgical instruments	[illegible]
Provisions	1,[illegible]
Salaries and wages	1,[illegible]
Total expenditures	$4,[illegible]
Balance in bank, May 29, 1893	[illegible]
		$4,[illegible]

The number of individual cash donors among the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield contributing directly to the hospital through the treasurer during the year was seventy-four, and the amount of such donations $1,069. Through the King's Daughters, the hospital Sunday collections and the Woman's Auxiliary board many others contribute cash, and others, still, contribute provisions, clothing and other goods sent to the hospital; in these classes of contributions, however, many of the 74 regular donors are represented again. More money is needed. This year more than $300 has been expended in excess of receipts. It is clear that more than 74 [illegible] the year about 120 patients, who have remained, on an average, 30 days each. That is equal to a constant number of 10 patients in the hospital every day throughout the year. Besides this there have been treated in the dispensary 68 patients.

The hospital has no endowment, and no debt except a mortgage of $1,800 on a portion of the hospital ground.

PLAINFIELD REAL ESTATE.

The Metropolis Has Its Eye on All Improvements.

[From Jersey Homes.]

The unfortunate effects of a season so inclement and backward as the present has been are apparent to everyone. Though the weather is now all that could be asked, the change has come too late to have the desired effect; and though the present enjoyable spring weather may be of assistance in effecting summer rentals, yet the buying and yearly rental periods of the spring are passed, and the result is that wherever we turn we find a uniform complaint of dulness in the real estate market.

Plainfield has not escaped these prevailing conditions. A representative of JERSEY HOMES recently called upon Mr. J. T. Vail, one of the leading real estate men of the city, and in the course of conversation Mr. Vail made the following comments:

"The weather of the past spring has made our business very dull; though considerable property has changed hands, the season has been a very unsatisfactory one. As to the class of property sold, perhaps there has been more activity in unimproved than improved properties."

In answer to a question as to where most of the newcomers to Plainfield hailed from, Mr. Vail said that he thought unquestionably the figures were largely in favor of Brooklyn. It is said upon reliable authority that the furniture store houses of Brooklyn have never been so full as they are this spring, which would certainly indicate that many of the people who have broken up housekeeping in the city will probably make some move towards the suburbs in the fall. This condition is somewhat attributed to the servant problem, which is certainly making life in many cases a bore.

Rents have remained about the same as usual, and while the aggregate amount of business done perhaps approaches that of the average season, yet it has dragged along in such a way as to be rather disappointing. Activity in the building lines is about up to the average record in the aggregate amount represented, though the buildings are of larger character and not so many as usual. There is still a very fair assortment of attractive building property in Plainfield, but the supply of that centrally located is gradually decreasing, and buyers are compelled to go farther out from the center each year. Lots on the handsomer residence streets of the city sell as high as $75 to $85 per front foot, though very desirable lots may be had at $30 to $40 per foot front, having an average depth of 175 feet. West Seventh and West Eighth streets are considered the most attractive residence streets of the city.

Plainfield's population is to-day about 12,000; North Plainfield, contiguous to the city proper, has an additional population of about 5,000. The tax rate runs usually about 1 per cent. on true value of property, although the actual rate is considerably higher upon a very low valuation.

There are several tracts of unimproved property, eligibly situated, which may be had at very reasonable figures, and which afford tempting opportunities for capitalists wishing to put money in this line for investment or for speculation. Wm. E. Moffit, the prominent operator in Jersey suburban property, bought in Aug., 1891, about thirty acres, and sub-divided it, making in all about 370 lots of 25 feet frontage each. These have now all been sold, with the exception of two or three, at an average of $250 each.

There is little demand for improved property exceeding $10,000 in value. Those wishing more expensive properties usually buy land and build for themselves. Lots 50x150 feet are mostly in demand.

Altogether the outlook seems to be very favorable for a good summer and fall, if the weather permits, and it seems to be the general impression that if the unfavorable conditions in Wall street continue, it may have a beneficial effect upon the real estate market in the different Jersey suburbs. Certainly those towns afford more attractions to those seeking either for speculation or for permanent investment than any similar places about the metropolis.

Now that spring is so far advanced people in Plainfield may expect the annual influx of summer visitors. At present a number of large houses are in process of construction, and many other buildings are contemplated. As the leaves bud out, so do the improvements go on.

Lost in the Light and Found in the Dark.

Dr. F. S. Wells fell from his bicycle while coasting a hill near Dunellen yesterday. He hurt his wrist and cut his head, but was able to ride home. Then he discovered that a hundred-dollar diamond had been wrenched from the setting on his hand. The ring had been his late wife's and the value of the stone, ten times over, would not have made good its loss. He took a carriage back to the scene in the evening, and began a hopeless search with a lantern. But he found the diamond.

Watchung Ave. to Have a Rival.

A large number of the property owners along Somerset street have signified their consent to the widening of that street [illegible]

HILL'S

REMEMBER WE GUARANTEE A CURE and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS

Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT may be cured at home, and without any effort on the part of the patient, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our TABLETS.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all FIRST-CLASS druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by

—THE—

OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,
51, 53 & 55 Opera Block,
LIMA, OHIO.

PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

Pittsburgh, Pa.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

Cincinnati, Ohio.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.
W. L. LOTEGAY.

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED

Address all Orders to
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,
51, 53 and 55 Opera Block. LIMA, OHIO.

(In writing please mention this paper.)

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

NEWARK, N. J.

The Leading Furniture and Carpet House in the State.

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST.

WHY?

We have no exorbitant rental expenses, for we own our buildings and everything in them. We buy in the best markets, get the largest discounts and are satisfied with reasonable profits.

Oak Chamber Suit $12.

Our assortment of Furniture, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Cooking Stoves and almost everything for housekeeping are worth seeing, whether you purchase or not.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shades, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City.
213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

Home, Sweet Home.

She—So she married that bald-headed old chap! Why, I heard he had been blackballed at every club in town.

He—That's why he married; for a home.—Life.

The Darlings.

Clara—I am afraid this silk waist of mine won't wear.

Maude—Why not? I didn't suppose there was a chance of any of your waists wearing out.—Detroit Free Press.

The Point of Vision.

Perdita—I saw Dicky kiss you last night—rather timidly, I thought.

Ella—Yes; but you should have seen us where it was absolutely impossible for anyone to have seen us!—Truth.

Born a Trade Mark.

"What is the name of the butter-dealer's pretty daughter behind the desk?"

"Oleomargaret."—Judge.

A READY REFERENCE.

He—You don't remember me; I met you at the seashore.

She—I don't seem to recall you.

He—[illegible]

A DMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas [illegible]ockwell, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.
ALVAH A. CLARK.
Dated May 8, 1893. 5 12 10

F. MARGENTINO,

Retail and wholesale dealer in all kinds of
CHOICE FRUITS, CONFECTIONERY, ETC.
IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC CIGARS,
Cider, Sodawater, Ginger ale, etc.

No. 10 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Close 10 Friday night and open on Saturday night. 6 21 y

E. C Morris Safe Co
Incorporated. Capital $[illegible]
Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.
64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.
FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.
The Best Safe in the World. [illegible] in use.
Always preserve their contents.
Champion Record in all the Great Fires. [illegible]

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellus M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellus M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellus M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises: It is on this first day of May, A. D. 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, appear before this Court at the Court House in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the 10th day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof, as the case may require.

A true copy. By the Court.
J. KEARNEY RICE, Judge.
MATHEW O'GORMAN,
H. FREEMAN,
Leonard Furman, Surrogate. 5 11 6

U NION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catharine Bannon, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause, [illegible] of January, A. D. 1893, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of said Catharine Bannon, deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue on

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

1893, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises, situated at No. 36 and 38 West Sixth street in the city of Plainfield, Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of John Wooden's lands; thence running along his line a northeasterly course one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone another of John Wooden's corners, and of Joseph Fortune; thence with Joseph Fortune line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Fortune corners; thence running a southeasterly course along another line one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, Administrator.
Dated May 10, 1893. fees $7 50 5 11 5

A DMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo. W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.
FREDERICK W. MCCULLY.
Dated March 1, 1893. 3 9 10

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton on Monday, the twentieth day of June next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for a decree in a cause pending in said court, wherein [illegible] Smith is complainant, and Mary J. Bartle and others are defendants, that the lands and premises in question in said cause be sold free and discharged of your estate as tenant in dower therein.

GEO. T. VANDERVEER,
Solicitor of Complainant.
Dated May 15, 1893. 5 15 5

A DMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.
ELIAS B. POPE.
Dated May 9, 1893. 5 11 10

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, &c., complainant, and Emma A. Jones and others, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described situate lying and being in the city of Plainfield, the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Putnam street and also in the middle of Carlton avenue; thence along the middle of Carlton avenue in a northerly direction eight hundred and five (805) feet, more or less, to the line of lands of The Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company; thence along said line in the line of said lands of said company north forty-five degrees and eight minutes west, six hundred and fifty-five (655) feet, more or less, to the middle of Tenth street; thence along the middle of Tenth street following the curve thereof in a general southerly direction four hundred and eighty (480) feet, more or less, to the middle of Putnam street; thence along the middle thereof in an easterly direction four hundred and five (405) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Being block 4 on "Map of Villa Sites, belonging to Evan Jones, Plainfield, N. J.," and part of same premises conveyed to said Jones by deed of Jacob G. Laing and wife, dated August 11, 1888 recorded in Book 11 of Deeds, pages 26, &c.

Excepting out of said lands and premises a plot of land bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Putnam street with the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (1) running easterly along the northerly line of Putnam street two hundred and forty-one and eighty-two one hundredths of a foot (241.82 ft.); thence (2) northerly parallel with Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet; thence (3) westerly parallel with Putnam street seventy-five (75) feet; thence (4) northerly parallel with Tenth street one hundred (100) feet; thence (5) westerly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and sixty-six feet and eighty-two one-hundredths of a foot (166.82 ft.) to the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (6) southerly along the said easterly line of Tenth street two hundred and seventy-five (275) feet to the point or place of beginning.

W. H. HICKS Sheriff.
WM. A. LEWIS, Sol'r.
DL&C. fees $12.60. 5 25 w5

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles, 50 cents and $1.00.

THE PLAINFIELD
PACKING HOUSE
25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb,
Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

All goods delivered free of charge.

Telephone 141.

C. M. ULFICH.

Can You Solve Puzzles?
"COMBINATIONS."

The greatest puzzle ever invented has been presented by Sam Loyd, the famous puzzlist, to the NEW YORK PRESS CLUB CHARITY FUND in aid of sick and impoverished journalists.

Price, 10 Cents,

the entire money received going to the CHARITY AND BUILDING FUND.

Public spirited merchants in order to give the puzzle a more intense interest have offered prizes of Steinway Pianos, Knox Hats, Billiard Tables, Mason and Hamlin Organs, etc.

Don't fail to secure this latest novelty, and then hundreds [illegible]

Make No Mistake!

There is a COUNTERFEIT on No. 73, and purchasers are requested to notice my name in full before entering the store.

AMOS H. VANHORN.
LIMITED,
73 MARKET STREET.

To outdo all competitors, will make the following inducements to purchasers until further notice:

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.
LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-5-1y

TOWNSEND'S
Marble & Granite Works,
30 SOMERSET STREET,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work, and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,
Manager. 8 11 tf
Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS
And all kinds of wearing apparel
STORED
And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.
SUCCESSORS TO
W. H. AND E. BURNETT,
17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution
OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.
[illegible]

Scientific American Agency for PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.
[illegible]
Scientific American

NEWARK
BEE HIVE
Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it is.

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 13.
MUSLIN WEAR
DEPARTMENT.

GOWNS—plain, embroidered and lace.
DRAWERS—plain, embroidered and lace.
CHEMISE—plain, embroidered and lace.
CORSET COVERS in 200 styles.
MUSLIN SKIRTS—plain, ruffle, embroidered and lace.
APRONS in Black, White, Silk and Gingham.
Cotton Flannel Drawers and Skirts.
Muslin Night Drawers for Children.
Extra Size Gowns, Drawers, Skirts, Chemise and Corset Covers.
Children's Jean, Imperial and Gauze Waists.
Children's Drawer Waists.
Guimpe Waists—Silk, Cashmere and Muslin; 1 to 16 yr. sizes.
Sweeping Caps and Sleeve Protectors.
Gingham Sunbonnets.
Carriage Pillow Slips.
Bridal Sets.
Crinoline Skirts and Muslin Hoopskirts.
Silk Gowns, Chemise, Skirts and Drawers.
Combination Chemise.
Combination Drawers.
Combination Corset Covers.
Ladies' Rubber Aprons.
Ladies' Muslin Divided Skirts.
Sanitary Towels and Padding.
Greenwood's Readymade Waist Lining.
Ladies' Cotton Flannel Gowns.
Dress Forms and Extension Models.
Pillow Shams in 50 styles.
Flannel Skirts—Colored and White.
Outing Flannel and Worsted Skirts.
Worsted Shawls and Cardigan Jackets.
Worsted, Jersey and Cloth Leggins for all seasons.
Imported Long and Square, Black and Colored Cashmere Shawls.
Cashmere Scarfs—White and Colored.
Wool Shawls—Long and Short.
Worsted Shawls—Hand-knit, Black, White and Colored.
Worsted Fascinators, Capes, Hoods and other goods of like character (in season).

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.
707 to 721 BROAD STREET.
Mail Orders Filled.

NOTICE. March 18, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann Reiss, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made on the application of the undersigned, executor of the said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims [illegible]

LAWS OF NEW JERSEY.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY

CHAPTER CLX.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act relative to sale of lands under a public statute, or by virtue of any judicial proceedings" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, The provisions in force relative to the sales of lands, and the advertisement and adjournment of the same, have not been in all respects known or complied with, whereby the titles to certain lands are alleged to be defective and uncertain;

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That no sale of lands heretofore made by any executors or administrators shall be invalidated by reason of such sale having been adjourned for a time or times exceeding two months in the whole, or by reason of the omission to advertise adjournments; but that the purchaser or purchasers of any lands at such sale who shall have paid the price thereof, and received a deed therefor, such sale having been duly reported to and confirmed by the proper court, shall have as good and complete a title thereto as if said sale had been adjourned from time to time, not exceeding two months in the whole, and the adjournments thereof duly advertised.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of commissioners for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the term of office of the commissioners heretofore appointed under the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby extended for three years from the expiration of said term.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXII.

An Act authorizing religious corporations, incorporated by general or special acts of the legislature, to change their names and modify the terms of incorporation.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any religious corporation, incorporated by general or special act of the legislature, shall desire to change its corporate name it shall and may be lawful for said corporation, by a two-thirds vote at any regular meeting, to change the corporate name of the said corporation, specifying by such vote what the new corporate name shall be; and thereafter the said corporation shall be known by such new name so adopted, and shall by such new name have, hold and retain all its property, and shall enjoy the same rights, privileges and powers and be subject to the same liabilities as it would have enjoyed and been subject to had said name not been changed.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any such religious corporation, by a majority vote at any regular meeting, to make such change or changes in the number of officers and managers or trustees of said corporation, and the terms of their office, as shall be considered expedient for the interests of the corporation.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any such religious corporation, at any regular meeting, by a majority vote, to establish any new department or departments of religious work not specified in the act of incorporation, and to maintain the same.

4. And be it enacted, Whenever any or all of the changes provided for in this act are made a certificate of such change or changes, under the hand of the presiding officer of the corporation, attested by the secretary thereof, shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after such change is made; and one dollar shall be the established fee for such filing.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXIII.

An Act concerning the improvement of public roads in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That contracts for the improvement of any public road heretofore made by the board of chosen freeholders of any county, or the township committee of any township in this state, in good faith, under which public roads or any portion of a public road has been completed, and public money appropriated for that purpose has been expended, shall not be invalidated or set aside as illegal, as to the work completed, by reason of any irregularity in or want of conformity of the petition asking for said improvement, to the provisions of the act under which said improvements were to be made; provided, said act was designated in said petition and the requisite number of property owners along the line of the proposed improvement had signed the same; and provided further, that the said board of chosen freeholders or township committee were authorized by said act to order said improvement to be made, without the presentation of said petition.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXIV.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the incorporation of safe deposit and trust companies," approved April twentieth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the act to which this is a further supplement be amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in addition to the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, and the powers and authority therein and thereby given, it shall and may be lawful for any trust company, incorporated or organized under said act or any special law, and doing business in any city or village in this state where there is no national or state bank of discount and deposit, to discount bills, notes and other shall be lawful for either of said courts or any justice thereof to revive and re-instate said case upon such terms as may seem to him equitable and just, if in the opinion of said court or justice the facts in said cause show that the failure to file said pleadings was on account of the neglect, fault, error or mistake of said attorney, and that great injury and wrong would result either to the plaintiff or defendant.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXVII.

A Further Supplement to "An act concerning roads" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, By reason of the opening and grading of streets and avenues in new towns and colonies in various portions of this state, parts of old laid out roads running through the wild lands thereof have become useless and practically abandoned, the said new streets and avenues affording better access to the same points than by the said parts of old roads; and, whereas, for small changes or vacations, proceedings under the present act to which this is a supplement are both expensive and troublesome and attended with much delay, so much so that few persons are willing for the public good to incur the expenses of such proceedings; for remedy whereof,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever ten or more persons, being freeholders, shall think the vacation of a part of any public road necessary in any part of the county wherein they reside, they make application in writing to the inferior court of common pleas of such county, or to one of the judges thereof, setting forth in writing the road or portion thereof which it is proposed to have vacated, describing the same by courses and distances, to which description there shall be attached a map showing the location of the road, or portion thereof to be vacated, and if within ten days after such application shall have been made, as aforesaid, or if at the time of making such application, there shall be presented to said court or judge the consent in writing of the owners of all the lands by such old road or portion thereof proposed to be vacated, and also the written consent of the township committee of the township wherein such lands do lie, that said application shall be granted, then it shall be lawful for said court or judge to cause said application, with the accompanying survey, map and return, and the written consents of the owners of lands as aforesaid, and of the township committee, to be filed with the clerk of the county, to be by him recorded in the book of roads for said county, and when said application and papers have been so filed, such portion of such old road shall thereupon and thereby be deemed to be vacated; provided, that no portion of any old road proposed to be vacated under this act, shall exceed one thousand yards in length.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14 1895.

CHAPTER CLXVIII.

An Act to enable street railway companies, or companies owning railroads operated as street railways, to unite and consolidate their corporate franchises and other property with those of traction companies and to prescribe a method therefor.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any street railway company, or other company owning a railroad operated as a street railway, incorporated under any law of this state, to merge and consolidate its property and franchises with those of any motor power company created under any law of this state.

2. And be it enacted, That said consolidation shall be made under the conditions, provisions, restrictions and with the powers hereafter in this act mentioned and contained, that is to say:

I. The directors of the several corporations proposing to consolidate may enter into a joint agreement, under the corporate seal of the company, for the consolidation of said companies and railways, and prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the name of the new corporation, the number and name of the directors and other officers thereof, who shall be the first directors and officers, and their places of residence, the number of shares of the capital stock, the amount or par value of each share and the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the said companies into the new corporation, and how and when directors and officers shall be chosen, with such other details as they shall deem necessary to perfect such new organization and the consolidation of said companies or railways.

II. Said agreement shall be submitted to the stockholders of each of said companies or corporations at a meeting thereof, called separately, for the purpose of taking the same into consideration; due notice of the time and place of holding such meeting, and the object thereof, shall be delivered to such persons respectively, or sent to them by mail, when their post office address is known to the company; and, also, by a general notice published in some newspaper in the city, town or county where such company has its principal office or place of business; and at said meeting of stockholders the agreement of the said directors shall be considered, and a vote, by ballot, taken by each company separately, for the adoption or rejection of the same, each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote; and said ballots shall be cast in person or by proxy, and if two-thirds of all the votes of all the stockholders, voting separately, shall be for adoption of said agreement, then that fact shall be certified thereon by the secretary of the respective companies, under the seal thereof; and the agreement so adopted, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and shall, from thence be deemed and taken to be the agreement and act of consolidation of the said companies; and a copy of said agreement and act of consolidation, duly certified by the secretary of state, under the seal of his office, shall be evidence of the existence of said new corporation.

3. And be it enacted, That upon the making and perfecting the agreement and act of consolidation, as provided in the preceding section, and filing the same, or copy, with the secretary of state as aforesaid, the several corporations, parties thereto, shall be deemed and taken to be one corporation, by the name provided in said agreement and act, posses-privileges and

company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

7. And be it enacted, That in all cases of consolidation of two or more railway companies under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, the said consolidated company shall have power and authority to issue bonds registered, or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, to an amount sufficient to cover all the indebtedness of the company so merged and consolidated, and to aid in the completion and equipment of said railway, to secure the payment of which it shall be lawful for them to create a mortgage, covering their corporate franchises, rights, privileges and property, real and personal; provided, that the bonds shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per centum per annum; the bonds so issued may be given in lieu, exchange and satisfaction of and for all bonds or other debts against the companies thus merged and consolidated, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the holders of said debts or claims; provided, that such companies shall not plead any statute or statutes against usury, in any court of law or equity, in any suit instituted to enforce the payment of any bond or mortgage executed under any of the provisions of this act.

8. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXIX.

An Act to authorize street railway companies, or companies owning railroads operated as street railways, to lease their property and franchises to traction companies, and to prescribe a method therefor.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any company owning any street railway or railways, or any company owning any railroad operated as a street railway, whether such lessor company or companies are incorporated under any general or special act of this state, to lease their property and franchises to any traction company created under the laws of this state for such term or terms upon such condition or conditions as to the use and operation of the property of the corporation, the enjoyment of privileges or immunities of such lessor corporation and the amount of rent to be paid therefor, and the manner of making payment of said rent, and such other conditions, limitations and restrictions as said lessor and lessee corporations may agree upon.

2. And be it enacted, That any stockholder of any company or companies whose property and franchises shall be leased under the provisions of this act, who shall not assent to such lease, or who shall resist or object to the making thereof, may at any time within thirty days after the making of such lease as in this act provided, apply by petition to the circuit court of the county in which the chief office of the lessor corporation may be kept, or to a judge of said court in vacation if no such court sits within such period, on reasonable notice to said company, to appoint three disinterested persons to estimate the damage, if any, done to such stockholder by said proposed lease, and whose award, or that of a majority of them, when confirmed by the said court shall be final and conclusive; and the persons so appointed shall also appraise said stock of such stockholder at the full market value thereof, without regard to any depreciation or appreciation in consequence of the said lease; and the said lessor company may, at its election, either pay to the said stockholder the amount of damages so found and awarded, if any, or the value of the stock so ascertained and determined, and upon the payment of the value of the stock as aforesaid the said stockholder shall transfer the stock so held by him to said lessor company, to be disposed of by the directors of said company or to be retained for the benefit of the remaining stockholders; and in case the value of said stock as aforesaid is not so paid within thirty days from the filing of said award and confirmation by said court, and notice to said lessor company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to to amend an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning roads"'" (Revision), approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, which supplement was approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and which amending act was approved March fourth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the said act of which this is amendatory, entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning roads"'" (Revision), approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, which supplement was approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, which amending act was approved March fourth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, be so amended that section one of said act, which is as follows:

"1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever six or more persons, being freeholders residing in the township, shall think any alteration of any public road necessary in any part of the county wherein they reside, by having a portion of such road vacated, not exceeding in length six hundred yards, and said road changed by relaying it in another place (the road so relaid not to exceed in length six hundred yards), they may make application in writing to one of the judges of the court of common pleas of the county wherein said portion of said road lies, at his chambers, for the appointment of three surveyors of the highways, one of which shall be from township in which that portion of the road to be vacated lies; of which application to said judge, the said applicants shall give at least ten days' notice of the time and place when, and the name and residence of the judge before whom said application is to be made by putting up written notice thereof, signed by themselves, and put up in three of the most public places in the said township, in which the said road to be vacated lies; which notice shall contain a description of the portion of the road proposed to be vacated, and a general description of the road proposed to be laid out, in lieu of the one so vacated, and upon proof being made to said judge of the putting up of said notices, he shall thereupon appoint three surveyors of the highways, as aforesaid, by an order in writing under his hand, and shall, in and by said order, fix the time and place of meeting surveyors, and for so doing he shall m of one dollar; provided,

d it is hereby further en-

e expenses neces-

plicants and town-

roads, that when-

heretofore been laid

period of not less than five years, then and in such case the said road, or such portion thereof as shall have been unused for public travel for the term aforesaid, shall be and hereby is declared to be vacated; provided, the owners of the lands on both sides of said road, or of said portion thereof unused as aforesaid, shall file in the office of the clerk of the county where such road or such portion of road lies, their assent in writing to said vacation.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXI.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled, "An act concerning corporations" (Revision), approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any corporation or corporations created under the provisions of the act to which this is a further supplement to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of the shares of the capital stock of any other corporation or corporations created under the law of this or any other state, and to exercise while owners of such stock, all the rights, powers and privileges, including the right to vote thereon, which natural persons, being the owners of such stock, might, could or would exercise.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any corporation described in the preceding section of this act to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any securities or evidences of debt created by other corporation or corporations of this or any other state, in the same manner and to the same extent as natural persons, being the owners thereof, might, could or would do.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXII.

An Act to authorize the formation of traction companies for the construction and operation of street railways, or railroads operated as street railways, and to regulate the same.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for three or more persons, one of whom shall be a resident of the state of New Jersey, to associate themselves into a corporation for the construction and operation of motors, cables and other machinery for supplying motive power to street railways, or other railroads operated as street railways, and the necessary apparatus for applying the same; and such corporation when formed in accordance with the provisions of this act shall have power to enter upon any street, road, lane, alley or other highway upon which any street railway, or other railroad operated as a street railway, is now or may hereafter be constructed (with the consent of the owner or owners, lessee or lessees of such railway or of the person or persons operating the same), and make, construct, apply, maintain and operate such railway, motors, cables, electrical or other devices and appliances, with power to erect, construct, apply, maintain and use such tunnels, subways, for cables, poles, wires, conduits or other devices for transmitting and using electrical or other forces, as will provide for the traction of cars on street railways, or other railroads operated as street railways and to construct lines of street or passenger railway, and all necessary turnouts, sidings and bridges on, along, through or over any street, road, lane, alley, stream or highway, either by extension of existing railways or by the building of new lines thereon, either wholly within or partly within, or wholly between or partly within and between cities, towns, boroughs, villages and townships and counties, and the same when constructed to equip, maintain, use and operate for the carriage of persons and property for compensation to be made such corporation, and to contract with any other person or persons, natural or artificial, for such construction, equipment, maintenance, use or operation, and to purchase, hold, sell, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of any capital stock or securities of any other corporation owning, using, leasing or operating any street railway or other railroad operated as a street railway, turnpike or plank road, or engaged in the construction or equipment thereof, or in creating or supplying power of any kind for the operation thereof, and to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges in respect to such capital stock and securities, incidental to the use and ownership thereof, which any natural person or persons might, could or would do, and to purchase, hold, sell or otherwise dispose of such real or personal property as may be convenient or necessary for the use of the corporations created under this act, and to pledge or mortgage the same with the franchises of such corporations; provided, that no corporation created under this act shall enter upon or use any street, road, lane, alley, or other highway, under color or by virtue of this act, for the extension or construction of new lines of railways, or for the operation thereof, without the consent of the board of aldermen, common council or body having control of streets or highways, or other governing body of the city, town, borough, village, township or county, into or within the limits of which such new line of railway is proposed to be extended, constructed or operated, nor shall any corporation created under this act possess the power to use on any of its railways, within the limits of any street and in the surface thereof, any locomotive or other engine moving on its rails, which is propelled by steam; provided, further, that the adoption of any motor or motive power herein authorized to be used, shall not be deemed to preclude change to any other motor or motive power herein authorized, when and as often as the business of such corporation may from time to time in its judgment so require.

2. And be it enacted, That all corporations created under this act shall, in addition to the preceding, possess the following powers, and such other powers as are now, or hereafter may be, conferred upon corporations created under the laws of this state which do not possess the general power of condemning lands, or engaging in the business of insurance or banking or deriving profit from the loan or use of money:

I. To have perpetual succession, by its corporate name, for the period limited in its certificate of incorporation, and to make and use a common seal and alter the same at pleasure;

II. To sue and be sued in any court of law or equity;

III. To mortgage or pledge by way of mortgage, any or all of its property or franchises, or both;

IV. To appoint such officers and agents as the business of such corporation shall require, upon such suitable compensation as may be agreed;

V. To make by-laws not inconsistent with the constitution and by-laws of this state, or of the United States, for the regulation of the election of its directors, the government of its affairs, the transfer of its stock, and to prescribe and enforce penalties for the breach thereof, not exceeding twenty dollars;

VI. To have all other powers necessary to the performance of its duties and the exercise of its privileges imposed or conferred by this act.

3. And be it enacted, That whenever three or more persons shall desire to create them-associates into a corporation shall make and file a executed and

of the state the sum of twenty-five dollars for all corporations having an authorized capital not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, and the sum of one-fifth of one dollar per thousand upon the largest amount of capital authorized by its certificate of organization or incorporation by any such corporation having an authorized capital exceeding one hundred thousand dollars.

5. And be it enacted, That if any corporation created under this act shall, in the exercise of powers conferred by this act, enter upon any railway for the purpose of operating the same, it shall within ten days thereafter file in the office of the secretary of state a certificate under its corporate seal, attested by its president or other head officer, setting forth the name of the corporation under which such entry shall have been made, the date of such entry and the period of time during which the possession and operation of such railway is to continue, together with a description and map of the route of the railway so entered upon, and in default of the filing of such certificate, description and map as aforesaid, such corporation shall forfeit and pay to the state of New Jersey the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every day after the expiration of said ten days during which such default shall continue, which sum may be recovered in an action of debt, prosecuted in the name of the state by the attorney-general in any court of competent jurisdiction, and the judgment recovered therein shall be the first and paramount lien on all property and assets of such corporation.

6. And be it enacted, That whenever any corporation created under this act desires to extend any existing railway or to build any new line of railway, in the exercise of powers conferred by this act, such corporation shall, before beginning the construction of such extension or new line, file in the office of the secretary of state a description of the route of such extension or new line showing the termini of such extension or new line, together with a map exhibiting the same with the courses and distances thereof, and upon filing such description and map such corporation shall thereby secure the exclusive right to build such extension or new line for a period of six months, and thereafter for the additional period of two years, if within said six months such corporation shall have begun in good faith to construct such extension or new line, and shall have diligently pursued such construction to the completion of such extension or new line within the period of the two years and six months aforesaid, to be computed from the day of the filing of such description and map; provided, however, that such corporation shall have obtained the consent of the board of aldermen, common council or the body having control of streets and highways or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county as to the location of the route of such extension or new line.

7. And be it enacted, That the board of aldermen, common council, or the body having control of streets or highways, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county, upon the petition of the directors of any company incorporated under this act, or a majority thereof, for a location of the tracks of any extension or new line of its railway conformably to the route designated in descriptions of the route of such extension or new line, and the map exhibiting the same filed as aforesaid in the office of the secretary of state shall give notice to all parties interested by publication in one or more newspapers published and circulated in said municipality, or if none be published there, then by posting in five of the most public places in such municipality or township, at least fourteen days before their meeting, of the time and place at which they will consider such application for location, and after hearing they shall either pass a resolution refusing such location or pass a resolution or ordinance, as may be necessary or proper, granting the said location or any part thereof, under such lawful restrictions as they deem the interests of the public may require, and the location thus granted shall be deemed and taken to be the true location of the tracks of the railway, if an acceptance thereof in writing by said directors shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after receiving notice thereof, and a copy thereof delivered to the clerk or other equivalent officer of the municipality or township.

8. And be it enacted, That whenever any corporation organized under this act shall fail to acquire from the board of aldermen, the common council, or the body having control of the streets and highways, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county within the limits of which it shall seek to construct its road, the right to locate its track or any satisfactory operative portion thereof, it may file with the secretary of state an amended description of the route of such extension or new line, showing the termini of such extension or new line, together with a map exhibiting the same with the courses and distances thereof, and upon filing such amended description and maps such corporation shall thereby secure the exclusive right to build such extension or new line for a period of six months from the day of the filing of such amended description and map; provided, however, that such corporation shall have obtained the consent of the board of aldermen, common council, or body having control of streets and highways, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township, or county, as to location of the route of such amended description of the route of such extension or new line.

9. And be it enacted, That the board of aldermen, common council or the body having control of streets, highways or other governing body of the city, town, borough, village, township or county, upon the petition of the directors of any company incorporated under this act, or a majority thereof, for a location of the tracks of any extension or new line of its railway conformably to the route designated in the amended description of the route of such extension or new line, and the map exhibiting the same filed as aforesaid in the office of the secretary of state, shall give notice to all parties interested by publication in one or more newspapers published and circulated in said municipality, or if none be published there, then by posting in five of the most public places in such municipality or township at least fourteen days before the meeting, of the time and place at which they will consider such application for location in accordance with such amended description, and after hearing they shall either pass a resolution refusing such amended location or pass a resolution or ordinance, as may be necessary or proper, granting the said amended location or any part thereof, under such lawful restrictions as they deem the interests of the public may require, and the location thus granted shall be deemed and taken to be the true location of the tracks of the railway if an acceptance thereof in writing by said directors shall be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after receiving notice thereof and a copy thereof delivered to the clerk or other equivalent officer of the municipality or township.

10. And be it enacted, That when the location of the route of the extension of any railway or of any new line shall have been made, under the provisions of this act, it shall and may be lawful for the corporation ing the same, at any time before such shall have been com-

the same or

equipments for the construction and operation of such machinery, engines, boilers or appliances, including the erection of poles for the support of wires and conduits or the making of tunnels or subways for the production or supply of any of the motive power authorized to be used under this act, and for any of the said purposes to enter at all times upon all lands lying within or without the limits of any street, road, lane, alley or other highway for the purpose of exploring and surveying the same and of locating a right of way thereon and the necessary easements, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances aforesaid or any of them, doing no unnecessary damage to private or other property; and when the location or locations of such right of way, easements, works, equipments and appliances shall have been determined upon, and a survey of such location or locations deposited in the office of secretary of state, then it shall be lawful for every corporation formed under this act, upon the payment or tender of such compensation as is hereafter provided by its officers, agents, engineers, superintendents, workmen and other persons in their employ, to enter upon, take possession of, hold, have, use and occupy any lands or materials so surveyed, and to do all other things which may be suitable or necessary for use of such land or materials and the enjoyment of said easements or the construction of such right of way, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances aforesaid, and each and every of them, and for the maintenance, repair or operation thereof, and of every part thereof; provided always, that the payment or tender of the payment of all damages for the occupancy of all lands upon which the said right of way, easements, works, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances of such company may be located or the use of materials shall be made before the said company, or any person under their direction or employ shall enter upon or break ground in the premises, except for the purpose of surveying and laying out said works, right of way, easements, buildings, conveniences, equipments and appliances and of locating the same, unless the consent of the owner or owners of such lands be first had and obtained.

14. And be it enacted, That when any company incorporated under this act, or its agents, cannot agree with the owner or owners of lands or materials required for any of the purposes aforesaid, or for the use or purchase thereof, or when by the legal incapacity or absence of such owner or owners no such agreement can be made, a particular description of the land or materials so required for the use of such company incorporated under this act for any of the purposes aforesaid, shall be given in writing under oath or affirmation of some engineer or proper agent of the company, and also the name or names of the occupant or occupants, if any there be, and of the owner or owners, if known and their residence, if the same can be ascertained, to one of the justices of the supreme court of this state, who shall cause any company incorporated under this act to give notice thereof to the persons interested, if known and in this state, or if unknown and out of this state to make publication thereof, as he shall direct, for any term not less than ten days, and to assign a particular time and place for the appointment of the commissioners hereinafter named, at which time, upon satisfactory evidence to him of the service of publication of such notice aforesaid, he shall appoint under his hand and seal, three disinterested, impartial and judicious freeholders, residents in the county in which the land in controversy lies or the owners reside, commissioners to examine and appraise the said land required for any of the purposes aforesaid, or materials, and to assess the damages, upon such notice to be given to the persons interested, as shall be directed by the justice making such appointment, to be expressed therein, not less than ten days; and it shall be the duty of said commissioners (having first taken and subscribed an oath or affirmation before some person duly authorized to administer an oath, faithfully and impartially to examine the matter in question and to make a true report according to the best of their skill and understanding), to meet at the time and place appointed and to proceed to view and examine the said land or materials, and to make a just and equitable estimate or appraisement of the value of the same, and an assessment of damages to be paid by the company for such lands or materials and damages aforesaid, which report shall be made in writing under the hands and seals of the said commissioners, or any two of them, and filed within ten days thereafter, together with the aforesaid description of the lands or materials and the appointment and oaths or affirmations aforesaid, in the clerk's office of the county in which the land or materials are situate, and after filing said report said commissioners, within not less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days, shall meet at a convenient place in said county to hear and consider objections to said report, and said commissioners shall cause notice of the filing of said report, and of the time and place of said meeting to hear objections to said report, by advertisements under their hands, to be set up in ten public places in said county at least ten days before the time appointed for said meeting, which advertisement shall also be published in at least three newspapers published and circulated in said county at least once a week for two weeks successively; the first publication of said notice shall be made at least ten days before the time appointed for said meeting; and thereupon said commissioners shall have power to alter and amend their report in any respect they may deem necessary, or as equity and justice may require; and after said commissioners shall have filed their certificate that they do not desire to make any alteration or amendment to their said report, the said company shall apply to a justice of the supreme court to appoint a time and place when and where he will sit to hear a motion to confirm the report of said commissioners, and said justice shall order at least ten days' notice to be given of the time and place appointed for hearing said motion, which notice shall be posted and published in the same manner as hereinbefore directed for the posting and publishing of the notice of the meeting of said commissioners to hear objections to said report; all objections to the confirmation of said report shall be made in writing and filed in the county clerk's office at least two days before the time appointed to hear said motion; and the said justice having heard the parties interested on such report and the objections thereto, may confirm the said report in all things, or refer the same back to said commissioners to be reformed, corrected or amended in such respects as said justices may deem equitable and just, and if the said report of said commissioners be confirmed by said justice, or if, pursuant to the direction of said justice the same be reformed, corrected or amended as by said commissioners upon filing of said report reformed, corrected or amended as aforesaid, the same shall be taken and considered as confirmed and remain of record in said clerk's office; and thereupon and on payment or tender of payment of the respective amounts assessed and awarded as herein provided, the said company is hereby empowered to take possession of the lands and easements in said report mentioned, required for any of the purposes aforesaid, and to have, hold, use, occupy, possess and enjoy the same for any or all of said purposes; but in case the party or receive any of the respec-

awarded shall refuse, upon

g made, to receive the t of the state, or under

and all privileges and immunities of such lessor corporation shall be preserved unimpaired to the same extent as if such lease had not been made; and all debts and liabilities and duties of such lessor corporation shall thenceforth attach to the lessee corporation, and be enforced against or be enjoyed by it to the same extent and in the same manner as they were enforceable against or enjoyed by the lessor corporation; and provided, further, that no greater tolls or charges shall be made or demanded by any corporation created under this act than were or are authorized to be charged and collected for the same service by the corporation or corporations, lessor or lessors in said lease.

17. And be it enacted, That any stockholder of any company whose property and franchises shall have been leased to a corporation created under this act who shall not assent to such lease, or who shall resist or object to the making thereof, may at any time within thirty days after the making of such lease as in this act provided apply by petition to the circuit court of the county in which the chief office of the lessor corporation may be kept or to a judge of said court in vacation, if no such court sits within such period, on reasonable notice to said company, to appoint three disinterested persons to estimate the damage, if any, done to any stockholder by said proposed lease; and whose award, or that of a majority of them, when confirmed by the said court, shall be final and conclusive; and the persons so appointed shall also appraise said stock of such stockholder at the full market value thereof without regard to any depreciation or appreciation in consequence of the said lease; and the said lessor company may at its election either pay to the said stockholder the amount of damages so found and awarded, if any, or the value of the stock so ascertained and determined, and upon the payment of the value of the stock as aforesaid the said stockholder shall transfer the stock so held by him to said lessor company to be disposed of by the directors of said company or to be retained for the benefit of the remaining stockholders; and in case the value of said stock as aforesaid is not so paid within thirty days from the filing of the said award and confirmation by said court, and notice to said lessor company, the damages so found and confirmed shall be a judgment against said company, and collected as other judgments in said court are, by law, recoverable.

18. And be it enacted, That any corporation created under this act may unite and consolidate stock, property franchises and railway with those of any other corporation owning or operating any street railway, or railroad operated as a street railway, or any turnpike or plank road, and such consolidated company may continue from time to time to unite and consolidate its stock, property, franchises and railway with those of any other corporation or corporations of this state owning or operating any street railway or railroad operated as a street railway, turnpike or plank road.

19. And be it enacted, That such consolidation or consolidations shall be made under the conditions, provisions, restrictions and with the powers hereafter in this act mentioned and contained, that is to say:

I. The directors of the several corporations proposing to consolidate may enter into a joint agreement under the corporate seal of the respective companies for the consolidation of said companies and railways, and prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the name of the new corporation, the number and names of the directors and other officers thereof, and who shall be the first directors and officers, and their places of residence, the amount and number of shares of the capital stock, the par value of each share and the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the said companies into the new corporation, and how and when directors and officers shall be chosen, with such other details as they shall deem necessary to perfect such new organization and the consolidation of said companies and railways;

II. Said agreement shall be submitted to the stockholders of each of the said companies or corporations at a meeting thereof, called separately, for the purpose of taking the same into consideration; due notice of the time and place of holding such meetings, and the object thereof, shall be delivered to such persons respectively, or sent to them by mail when their postoffice address is known to the company, and also, by a general notice published in some newspaper in the city, town or county where such company has its principal office or place of business; and at said meeting of stockholders the agreement of the said directors shall be considered and a vote by ballot taken by each company separately, for the adoption or rejection of the same, each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote; and said ballot shall be cast in person or by proxy, and if two-thirds of all the votes of all the stockholders, voting separately, shall be for adoption of said agreement, then that fact shall be certified thereon by the secretary of the respective companies under the seal thereof and a certificate under the seal of the company signed by the secretary and president certifying to the fact of consolidation, the name to be used by such consolidated company under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, and the amount of the authorized capital stock of such consolidated company shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and shall from thence be deemed and taken to be the evidence of the agreement and act of consolidation of the said companies; and a copy of said certificate duly certified by the secretary of state, under the seal of his office, shall be evidence of the existence of said new corporation.

20. And be it enacted, That upon the making and perfecting the agreement and act of consolidation as aforesaid and filing the said certificate or a copy with the secretary of state as aforesaid, the several corporations parties thereto, with the amount of capital stock set out in said certificate, shall be deemed and taken to be one corporation, by the name provided in said agreement and act, possessing within this state all rights, privileges and franchises and subject to all the restrictions, disabilities and duties of each of such corporations so consolidated.

21. And be it enacted, That upon the consummation of said act of consolidation as aforesaid, all and singular the rights, privileges and franchises of each of said corporations parties to the same, and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, as well as stock subscriptions and other things in action belonging to each of such corporations, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such new corporation without further act or deed; and all property, all rights of way and all and every other interest shall be as effectually the property of the new corporation as they were of the former corporations, parties to said agreement; and the title to real estate, either by deed or otherwise, under the laws of this state vested in either of such corporations shall not be deemed to revert or be in any way impaired by reason of this act; provided, however, that all rights of creditors and all liens upon the property of either of said corporations shall be preserved unimpaired, and the respective corporations may be deemed to continue in existence to preserve the same; and all debts, liabilities and duties of either of said companies shall thenceforth attach to said new corporation and be enforced against it to the same extent as if said debts, liabilities and duties had been incurred or contracted by it.

22. And be it enacted, That suits may be brought and maintained against such company in any of the courts of this state in the railroad com-

ers owning at least two-thirds in value of the existing capital stock to said proposed increase of capital stock.

25. And be it enacted, That in all cases of consolidation of two or more railway companies under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, the said consolidated company shall have power and authority to issue bonds, registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, to an amount sufficient to cover all indebtedness of the company so consolidated, and to aid in the completion and equipment of said railway, to secure the payment of which it shall be lawful for them to create a mortgage covering their corporate franchises, rights, privileges, property, assets, real and personal; provided that the bonds shall not bear a greater rate of interest than six per centum per annum; the bonds so issued may be given in lieu, exchange and satisfaction of and for all bonds or other debts against the companies thus consolidated, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by and between the holders of said debts or claims.

26. And be it enacted, That in all cases of such consolidation under and by virtue of the provisions of this act the said companies shall have the right to borrow from time to time such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of such corporation not exceeding at any one time the total amount of the authorized capital stock of such corporation, and for the repayment thereof may issue bonds registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, secured by a mortgage or mortgages covering all the corporate franchises, rights, privileges, immunities, assets, real and personal, of such mortgagor corporation.

27. And be it enacted, That any corporation created under this act may borrow from time to time such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the accomplishment of the objects of such corporation not exceeding at any one time the total amount of the authorized capital stock of such corporation, or any increase thereof, and to secure the repayment thereof, or of any part or portion thereof, may issue bonds registered or with coupons or interest certificates thereto attached, or both, secured by a mortgage of any or all of its franchises, real estate or personal property, including stocks and securities of such corporation, or of any other corporation whose stocks or securities it owns, which mortgage may be recorded as mortgages of real estate are or hereafter may be by law required to be recorded in the office of the clerk or register of deeds of the county or counties in which the railway or railways described in said mortgage may be located, and in the office of the clerk or register of deeds of the county in which the principal office of such corporation is situated, and such record or the lodgment of such mortgage in such clerk's or register's office for record shall have the same force, operation and effect as to all judgment creditors, purchasers or mortgagees in good faith, as the record of lodgment for that purpose of mortgages of real estate now have, although such mortgage may not have been executed, proved or recorded as a chattel mortgage.

28. And be it enacted, That no corporation or corporations issuing bonds under the provisions of this act shall plead any statute or statutes as against usury in any court of law or equity in any suit instituted to enforce the payment of such bonds or mortgages.

29. And be it enacted, That the directors of any company incorporated under this act may purchase and hold real and personal property necessary and convenient for the business of such company, and also the stocks and securities of other corporations, and issue stock to the amount of the value thereof, in payment therefor, and the stock so issued shall be declared and be taken to be full paid stock, and shall not be liable to any further call, neither shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payments or assessments upon such stock; and such stocks shall have legibly stamped upon the face thereof, "issued for property purchased," and in all statements and reports of the company to be published, such stock shall not be reported or stated as being issued for cash paid into the company, but shall be reported according to the fact.

30. And be it enacted, That whenever any company incorporated under this act, shall have a duty imposed upon it, or a privilege which it is authorized to exercise, and there is a limited time within which such duty is to be discharged or such privilege exercised, and such company may be restrained by the decree, order, or writ of any court from the discharge of such duty, or prevented by the omission of any board of aldermen, common council or body having control of street or highways or other governing body of any city, town, borough, village, township or county to give any consent required by this act; for the exercise of any privilege conferred by this act, then so much of the time aforesaid during which such restraint exists, or such omission continued, shall not be computed, as any portion of the time limited for the discharge of such duty or the exercise of such privilege.

31. And be it enacted, That any corporation created under this act, whether by consolidation or otherwise, may change the gauge or width of track of any railway consolidated therewith or leased thereto.

32. And be it enacted, That any consent required by this act to be given by any public body may be given by a resolution or ordinance of such body, which consent, when accepted by any corporation created under this act in a writing under its corporate seal, filed with the clerk of such body, or in the office of the clerk of the county in which such body exists shall have the force and effect of a contract.

33. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, to the extent of such inconsistency, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXIII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections,'" approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, respecting election districts, which supplement was approved April twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections,'" approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, respecting election districts, which supplement was approved April twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, be amended so as to read as follows:

That when, at any township, ward, city, county, state, congressional or national election, more than six hundred votes shall be or shall have been cast in any township or ward in any city not divided into election districts, or when in any election district, in any township or ward in any city more than six hundred votes shall be or shall have been cast at any such election, such township, ward in any city or election district shall forthwith be divided by the mayor and common council or township committee into two or more election districts, or, in lieu thereof, the boundary lines of any existing election district or districts may be changed, or such districts readjusted; provided, however, that each of such districts, after such division, change or readjustment, shall not contain more than six hundred, nor less than one hundred and fifty voters; and

ning, trotting or pacing of horses, mares or geldings on any race track in this state for a purse, prize or other consideration or for any other purpose whatsoever between the first day of December in any year and the first day of March, of the succeeding year.

2. And be it enacted, That any person or persons or corporation or corporations violating the provisions of this act, or aiding, abetting or assisting in the violation of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars or by imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

3. And be it enacted, That when it shall come to the knowledge of the governor of this state that any person or persons or corporation or corporations is or are violating the provisions of this act or when an application shall be made to him signed by one hundred or more of the residents of any county in this state setting forth that the provisions of this act are being violated in such county, it shall be the duty of the governor forthwith to order the chief of the state police to enforce the provisions of this act in such county and to place under arrest all persons found violating the same or aiding or abetting in the violation thereof and the governor shall designate to assist the said chief of the state police in the performance of his duties under this act, such portion of the police force of any city or municipality of this state as the governor shall deem necessary to effectively carry out its provisions.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the chief of the state police when discharging the duties imposed upon him under the third section of this act to maintain a sufficient portion of the police officers that have been designated to assist him in his duties at every such race track to prevent a violation of the provisions of this act.

5. And be it enacted, That in case the police force so designated is unable to prevent the violation of the provisions of this act it shall be the duty of the governor to call upon the state militia to aid in enforcing the provisions thereof upon any race track or race tracks whereon they are being violated.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXVI.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section forty-nine of an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

49. And be it enacted, That there shall be in each county a county board of examiners, which shall be composed of the county superintendent, who shall, ex-officio, be chairman, and of a number of teachers, not to exceed three, to be appointed by him, who shall hold for one year from the time of their respective appointments; but no person shall be appointed as county examiner unless he holds either a state or a first grade county certificate; the county superintendent shall fill vacancies that occur from absence or other cause, but if he cannot find any teacher in his county qualified under the provisions of this section willing to serve, he shall conduct the examination himself; the board shall meet at such places as may be designated by the chairman, and shall hold at least three regular sessions each year; each member of the county board of examiners, except the county superintendent, shall receive for his services, in addition to traveling expenses, such compensation as may be fixed by the state board of education, not exceeding ten dollars for each regular examination, to be paid by the county collector on the order of the county superintendent; provided, that whenever said board shall hold sessions at any other time than as appointed by the state board of education no compensation shall be allowed from the county; but in case of special examinations said board may charge each applicant an examination fee not exceeding two dollars; the county board of examiners shall have power to conduct examinations and to grant certificates of different grades, in accordance with the general regulations on the subject prescribed by the state board of education.

2. And be it enacted, That section sixty-four of said act shall be amended to read as follows:

64. And be it enacted, That the school year shall begin on the first day of July, and end on the last day of June.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXVII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act for the instruction and maintenance of indigent deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded persons, inhabitants of this state" (Revision), approved March twelve, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

Whereas, The act to which this is an amendment does not confer upon the governor any power to send to the institutions therein named, worthy blind persons who shall lose their sight at an adult age, and thus enable them to learn a trade by which they may earn a livelihood; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section eight of an act entitled "An act for the instruction and maintenance of indigent deaf and dumb, blind and feeble-minded persons, inhabitants of this state" (Revision) approved March twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, which section reads as follows:

"8. And be it enacted, That any person, not under five years nor more than twenty-one years of age may be entitled to the benefits of this act," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

8. And be it enacted, That any deaf and dumb, blind or feeble-minded person not under five years of age, of a suitable age and capacity for instruction, may be entitled to the benefits of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1895.

CHAPTER CLXXVIII.

An Act providing for the licensing of dogs.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for the board of aldermen, common council, township committee, or other governing body of any city, town, borough, township and other municipality of this state, on or before the first day of May in each and every year, to provide by resolution the amount of a license fee for the ensuing year to be paid by the owner of every dog within such city, town, borough, or other municipality; and the harboring of a dog or dogs shall be evidence of ow

CHAPTER CLXXX.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to provide for the more permanent improvement of the public roads of this state," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That no contract heretofore made and awarded by the board of chosen freeholders of any county in this state under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the more permanent improvement of the public roads of this state," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and the supplement thereto shall be invalidated by reason of the omission to publish the advertisement for bids in two daily newspapers printed and circulated in the county for the period of two weeks provided for in the act to which this is a supplement, or any other act supplementary thereto; provided, that all other provisions of said act shall have been complied with.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXI.

An Act concerning cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever objections or remonstrances in writing to the paving of any public street or alley shall be received in answer to the public notice of intention of the common council, board of aldermen or other governing body of any city to cause any public street or alley, or section of such street or alley, to be paved, pursuant to the determination of said common council or other governing body, and such objections are from the owners of one-half in running feet of lots footing or bordering upon said street or alley, or section of a street or alley, the common council or other governing body of any such city may, notwithstanding any such objections, proceed to adopt an ordinance for the paving of said public street or alley, or section of such street or alley, and to award contracts for the doing of said work; provided, however, that any such ordinance for the paving of any such public street or alley shall require for its final passage a vote of not less than four-fifths of the whole number of such common council or other governing body.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXII.

An Act to repeal an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,'" approved March tenth, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,'" approved March tenth, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty, be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the board of education, board of school trustees or other body having charge and control of the public schools in any school district in this state acting under a special charter or under the provisions contained in the charter of any city, town, borough or other municipality may after the first day of September and before the thirty-first day of December in any year, borrow a sum of money not exceeding four-tenths of the amount apportioned to such district from the state school moneys for such year for the purpose of paying teachers' salaries falling due within said year; and that the said district may pay the amount so borrowed, together with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, out of the state school moneys apportioned to said district for the then current school year as soon as the same have been received by the city treasurer or other person designated by law as the custodian of the school moneys belonging to such district.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXIV.

An Act relative to the salaries of mayors of certain cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the annual salary of any mayor of any city having a population of from seventy-five thousand to one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be and the same is hereby fixed and determined at the sum of two thousand dollars; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to any such city wherein such officer now receives a greater sum.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 15, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXV

An Act concerning streets and avenues in towns and townships in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any case where any person or corporation owns a tract of land bounded on three of its four sides by streets or avenues already opened along the full length of such three sides, in any town or township of this state, and occupies and uses such tract of land and the buildings thereon erected for charitable, educational or religious purposes; and where such town or township has taken proceedings to open a street or avenue through such tract of land, and has also taken proceedings to widen one of such three streets or avenues bounding three of the sides of such tract by taking the land from such tract along its full length for such widening; and where it is desired by any such person or corporation, except as to the land to be taken for such opening and for such widening, to preserve such tract entire for any of the purposes aforesaid; and where such person or corporation in consideration of no other street or avenue being hereafter opened or extended through any part of such tract shall offer to donate and dedicate to such town or township the land necessary for [illegible] in consideration of such donation and dedication, not to open or extend through such tract thereof, any street or ave-

CHAPTER CLXXXVII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning roads,' approved March twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred seventy-four" (Revision), which supplemental act was approved March twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section two of the said supplemental act be and the same is hereby amended so that henceforth said section two shall be and read as follows, to wit:

2. And be it enacted, That the portion of the said road other than that which shall be used by reason of any alteration or change which shall be made respecting the original course of the said road, or portion thereof, shall, irrespective of use, be declared finally vacated, without the notice and application and any other proceedings specified in the act of which this is a supplement, or any act supplementary thereto, and not subject to an appeal or certiorari after two days from the date and time of the filing of the map as aforesaid.

2. And be it enacted, That section four of said supplemental act be and the same is hereby amended so that henceforth said section four shall be and read as follows, to wit:

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXVIII.

An Act authorizing cities to renew maturing bonds.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any bonds heretofore legally issued by any incorporated city in this state under authority of law shall at any time or times hereafter become due, the board of aldermen, common council or other board having charge and control of the finances of such city, with the approval of the mayor of such city, may renew said indebtedness or any part thereof by the issuing of the bonds of said city for that purpose; provided, however, that no such bonds shall be renewed in cases where there are moneys or securities in any sinking fund of such city specifically appropriated for the redemption of said maturing bonds until after the moneys and securities of said sinking fund so specifically appropriated shall have been exhausted in the payment of maturing bonds.

2. And be it enacted, That the bonds to be issued under the provisions of this act shall be exempt from taxation, and made payable at periods not exceeding thirty years from the date of issuing the same, and shall draw such rate of interest not exceeding five per centum per annum, and be in such sums as the board having charge and control of the finances of said city shall determine, which bonds shall be executed under the corporate seal of said city, and the signature of the mayor, comptroller or other proper financial officer thereto, and may be either registered or coupon bonds, as said board may direct; provided, that in order to redeem the bonds issued under the provisions of this act at maturity, it shall be the duty of the board having charge and control of the finances of such city to establish a sinking fund, which shall be created by a special tax of not less than two per centum on the issues herein provided for, to be raised in each annual tax levy, or from the collection of water rents in cases where the bonds hereby authorized to be re-issued were originally issued for the water department of such city.

3. And be it enacted, That the interest on the bonds hereby authorized to be issued from time to time shall be raised and paid by a special tax or appropriation, to be annually levied and collected as other taxes in such city are now or may hereafter be levied and collected, and the whole of each year's interest shall be so raised, levied, collected and paid within each year; provided, that the interest on all bonds re-issued in place of maturing water bonds shall be paid out of the collections for water rents in such city for said year.

4. And be it enacted, That the board or authority having charge and control of the finances of such city may dispose of the bonds hereby authorized at public sale or private sale in case a more favorable bid can be obtained than shall have been bid publicly therefor, but in no case for less than par, which issues and sales may be made in anticipation of the retirement of said maturing bonds, and all of the moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be applied and used for the purposes of this act, and for no other purpose; provided, that no increase in the bonded indebtedness of any such city shall be made under this act.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CLXXXIX.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to incorporate societies for the promotion of learning" (Revision), approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the trustees of any seminary, college, school or other institution now or hereafter organized under the act to which this is the supplement, or any other act now in force in this state, may purchase, take, hold, receive and enjoy all lands and tenements and hereditaments, in fee simple or otherwise, and also all goods, chattels, legacies and donations in money or otherwise, of what kind or nature soever, that may be granted and conveyed or given and devised to the seminary or other institution of which they shall be trustees as aforesaid, by the grant, gift, alienation or devise of any person or persons able to grant, give or devise the same for the support, endowment or otherwise of said seminary or school, whether in general or for particular chairs or departments thereof, or for special objects or subjects taught therein; and also that the said trustees and their successors shall and may grant, assign and sell, or otherwise dispose of all or any of their said lands, tenements or hereditaments, goods, chattels and personal estate whatsoever, received and held by them as aforesaid, as to them shall seem meet for the best interests of their said seminary or other institution, unless otherwise provided and limited by the deeds, wills, or other instruments in writing by which they received and hold the same; provided, nevertheless, that the proceeds of the sale or other disposition of any real or personal estate so received and held by such trustees for said endowment objects or purposes shall be duly re-invested in other good real or personal estate, as soon thereafter as practicable, and the annual income therefrom only used for such endowment and educational purposes.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXC.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the preservation of clams and oysters," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and of the supplements thereto.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful to dredge for oysters in any of the creeks of Delaware bay and Maurice river south of Cohansey creek at any by the act to which this is a further supplement, and that the said commissioners shall lay before the next legislature a complete report of the work of said commission.

2. And be it enacted, That the commissioners appointed under the provisions of said act shall receive such compensation on account of the work heretofore done by them, and for which they have not heretofore been compensated, as the governor, comptroller and treasurer shall deem just and proper, together with such necessary expenses as they may have incurred in carrying out the provisions of the act to which this is a further supplement, which shall be paid by the treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller.

3. And be it enacted, That in the further pursuance of their work, they shall receive from time to time their necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act, and at the completion of the same shall receive such further compensation as the governor, comptroller and treasurer shall deem just and proper, which said expenses and further compensation shall be paid by the treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXCII.

An Act to authorize and regulate the construction of street railways upon turnpikes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any duly incorporated street railway company of this state may construct and operate a street railway upon and along the roadbed of any turnpike company located within the counties of the second class in this state, which shall have granted or conveyed such right or privilege to such street railway company.

2. And be it enacted, That the board of commissioners, common council, township committee or other governing body or bodies of any city, incorporated town, borough or township within or through the limits whereof such turnpike shall lie or extend shall, upon the petition of such street railway company and proof of the granting of such permission or right of way by the turnpike company, by resolution or ordinance locate the track or tracks of such street railway company upon the roadbed of such turnpike company; provided, such governing body may require the surrender by said turnpike company of its toll and other turnpike franchises, as a condition upon which such location shall be made.

3. And be it enacted, That in case said turnpike lies within the boundaries of any incorporated city, town, borough or borough commission, in whole or in part, it shall be necessary for such company to be first authorized by ordinance or resolution of the governing body of such city, town, borough or borough commission before the construction of such street railroad within the corporate limits of such city, town, borough or borough commission.

4. And be it enacted, That after such action shall have been made as herein provided, such street railway company shall in other respects conform to the law concerning horse and street railways.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXCIII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the better enforcement in Maurice river cove and Delaware bay of an act entitled 'An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,'" approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and of the supplements thereto.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the supplement to said act, approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, be and is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter it shall be unlawful to take oysters by dredging from the natural oyster beds in Maurice river cove and Delaware bay, known severally as the East Point beds, the Pepper beds, the Ballast beds, the beds at the mouth of Dividing creek and Oranoake creek, and in the creeks where there is a natural growth of oysters, and in the beds that fall bare, for any purpose whatever, and any person offending against the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall for every such offense be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars and by imprisonment at hard labor for a period not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXCIV.

An Act relating to sales of lands for taxes or assessments.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any tax deed heretofore or hereafter given by any city, town or township or by the public body or public officer authorized by law to make conveyance of lands sold for taxes shall be annulled or set aside on account of any defect in the levying of the tax for which said property is sold, or in the proceedings for the collection of said tax or the sale of said lands, or for any defect in the giving of notice to redeem, where such defect results from the fault or omission of said city, town or township or of any of its officers or representatives, it shall be the duty of such city, town or township to refund to the person or persons who shall have purchased said land at said tax sale, or who shall have purchased the right of said city, town or township to said lands under such tax sale, his or their heirs or assigns, any and all sums of money received by said city, town or township as consideration of said tax deed, and for other taxes upon said lands in arrears when said purchase was made or deed taken, together with interest thereon from the date of such payment by the grantee in said deed named.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever any tax deed or sale of lands for taxes or assessments shall be set aside for any omission, fault or defect in the proceedings for such sale or in the giving of notice to redeem or otherwise, and the said city, town or township shall have refunded to the purchaser of said tax title the amount so paid the said tax or assessment shall not thereby become discharged as against the lands originally lawfully chargeable therewith, but the said tax or assessment and all other taxes thereon said contemporaneously therewith shall thereupon be re-established as a lien or incumbrance upon said lands to the same extent [illegible] sheriffs of the several counties and be by them paid over to the county collectors for the use of the said counties.

2. And be it enacted, That each of the prosecutors of the pleas of such counties shall receive an annual salary of four hundred dollars, to be paid to him in quarterly annual payments by the county collector of such county.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall only apply to those prosecutors of the pleas whose term of office shall hereafter commence, or to those now in office who may file their assent in writing, under their hands, to the provisions of this act, in the office of the clerk of the county of which he is such prosecutor; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall in any wise be construed or held as reducing the salary of any of the prosecutors of the pleas in any of the counties of the fourth class in this state.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act, and take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXCVIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act regulating proceedings in criminal cases,' approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four,'" which supplement was approved February sixth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in cases where the death penalty is inflicted, the sheriff shall admit to the execution, in addition to the persons now admitted by law, the accredited representative of the United Press and the accredited representative of the Union Press Exchange.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CXCIX.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and providing for the issue of alias or pluries warrants in all cases where no statutory authority now exists for the issuance of the same.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever in any township, town or other municipality of this state a tax warrant has been, or shall hereafter be, issued for the collection of taxes therein, and the officer receiving the same has neglected or failed, or shall hereafter neglect or fail, to execute or return the same, or to collect the said taxes, or any part thereof, thereby directed to be collected according to law, and no statutory authority exists for the issuance of alias or pluries warrants therein, it shall be lawful for the township committee, town council or other governing body of any such township, town or municipality to issue alias or pluries warrants for the collection of any such taxes as shall remain uncollected under the previous warrant, which said alias or pluries warrants shall be good and effective for that purpose, and shall be executed in like manner as is provided in the case of original warrants, and shall be directed and delivered to the collector of arrears of taxes of any such township, town or other municipality (if there be such an officer therein), or to such constable or other officer or person as the said township committee, town council or other governing body may designate or appoint for that purpose; and such collector of arrears, constable or other person or officer so designated or appointed, after giving bond for the faithful performance of his duties, with such security as the said township committee, town council or other governing body may direct and approve, shall, in the execution of the said warrants, have the same powers, and perform the same duties, and be subject to the same liabilities and forfeitures, and receive the same compensation as provided in the execution of original warrants for the collection of taxes in such township, town or other municipality.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CC.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water-rents in cities of this state, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to further taxation and assessment," passed March thirtieth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in case any person interested in the lands sold under the act of which this is a supplement or any of the supplements thereto, who is entitled to a notice of the sale under said act and supplements, has not been notified by the purchaser thereof or his legal representatives or assigns of such sale by inadvertence or otherwise, and a deed of said lands has been made and delivered to such purchaser, his legal representatives or assigns, such person or persons having such interest may, notwithstanding the making and delivery of said deed, be notified in the same manner and be entitled to redeem said lands within the same time and manner as provided in said act and supplements, and after the expiration of the time for redemption the officer whose duty it is under said act and supplements to make and execute the deed for the land sold shall make and execute a supplemental deed of such land to the said purchaser, his legal representatives or assigns, which deed shall recite the omission to notify said person in interest and the giving of such notice after the making delivery of the original deed and said supplemental deed shall convey said lands as fully and to the same extent as if the said person interested in said lands had been originally notified and his interest had been sold, conveyed, debarred and foreclosed by the original deed.

2. And be it enacted, That where the purchaser, his legal representatives or assigns have omitted to file the affidavits and proofs of mailing and publication required by the act to which this is a supplement and any of the supplements thereto within the time now required by law, such affidavits and proofs may be filed any time within two months after the passage of this act.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts so far as they conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCI.

A Further Supplement to "An act respecting conveyances" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all acknowledgments and proofs of deeds, mortgages and other writings, and the certificates thereof, heretofore taken or made before or by any commissioner of deeds in and for this state, whose term of office had expired [illegible] aforesaid.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and take effect immediately.

period, to issue its warrant under the corporate seal of the town, signed by the chairman thereof and attested by the town clerk, directed to the treasurer of the town, commanding him to sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, in the manner provided by this act, each and every lot and parcel of land and real estate upon which such taxes or assessments shall remain unpaid and in such warrant mentioned and described; which said warrant shall include all lots and parcels of lands in arrears for the same taxes or assessments; provided, however, that no lot or parcel of land shall be sold for less than the amount of tax or assessment due thereon, and interest, penalties and costs of sale.

4. And be it enacted, That the warrants provided to be issued by the first and third sections of this act shall contain a brief description of each lot or parcel of land directed to be sold, adding thereto the lot and block number thereof on the official map of the town, if any, and shall set forth, in connection with each lot or parcel of land, the amount of each tax and assessment due thereon.

5. And be it enacted, That on receiving said warrant, it shall be the duty of the town treasurer to give notice of such intended sale by advertisements published in two newspapers published in the county in which such town is situated and circulating in such town for four weeks successively, at least once in each week, next preceding the time appointed for such sale; said advertisements shall specify and set forth the time and place of sale, and shall briefly describe the property affected, adding the lot and block number of the same on the official map of the town, if any, and shall specify and set forth the amount due for taxes and assessments upon each lot or parcel so advertised to be sold.

6. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of said town treasurer to attend at the time and place specified in the notice of sale, and to expose for sale at public auction, separately, all the lots and parcels of land and real estate described and set forth in the notice of sale, and shall sell to the highest bidder, but not for less than the amount due on each lot or parcel as aforesaid; provided, however, that in case any of the lots or parcels advertised to be sold shall remain unsold for want of purchasers, the said treasurer shall adjourn the sale of the unsold lots or parcels for a period not less than three weeks nor more than six weeks; notice of such adjournment shall be published in the newspapers in which the notice of sale shall have been published, at least once in each week preceding the adjourned day of said sale; affidavits of the publication of the notice of sale, and, in case of adjournment, of the notice thereof in the manner above provided, made by the publishers of the newspapers, or by some person or persons in their employ having cognizance of such publication, shall be filed in the office of the town clerk, and shall constitute prima facie evidence of the matters stated therein in all courts and places.

7. And be it enacted, That on receipt of the purchase money on any sale the said treasurer shall deliver to the purchaser a certificate of such sale; upon surrendering such certificate of sale and filing proof with said treasurer of the publication of the notice thereof, and proof of the service of mailing thereof, or of due inquiry, as hereinafter provided, the said treasurer shall at the expiration of six months from the date of the last publication of such notice execute and deliver to the purchaser, his heirs, devisees or assigns a deed for the lot or parcel purchased by him; which deed shall be signed by said officer, be sealed with the corporate seal of the town and attested by the town clerk, and be proved or acknowledged in the usual manner; which deed shall convey, and said purchaser, his heirs, legal representatives or assigns shall take and hold thereunder a good and sufficient title to the lands and real estate sold in fee simple absolute, free of all incumbrances, except taxes and assessments levied subsequently to the taxes or assessments mentioned and set forth in the notice of sale, of which the said deed shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places and in any proceeding or action to be by such purchaser, his heirs, legal representatives or assigns taken, prosecuted or defended for the recovery of the possession of the property sold as aforesaid, or in the establishment or defense of his title shown as aforesaid by such deed, the title shall not fail or be defeated by reason of any irregularity or formal defect in the procedure taken under this act; from and after the delivery of the deed to him as aforesaid, the said purchaser shall be entitled to the possession of the premises described therein.

8. And be it enacted, That when any lots or parcels of land so advertised as aforesaid shall be exposed for sale on any adjourned day, and the same shall remain unsold for want of purchasers, it shall be lawful for such town, acting by the chairman of its town council or other governing body, to purchase such unsold lots or parcels with the same rights, title and effect as any other purchaser, and the certificate of such sale shall be delivered to said chairman of the town council or other governing body of such town, who shall, in behalf of the town, cause notice of the sale to be published and given as hereinafter provided, and upon filing with the town treasurer proof thereof as hereinafter provided; and at the expiration of six months from the date of the last publication of such notice the town, by its corporate name, shall be entitled to a deed the same as any other purchaser; the town council or other governing body of such town, at any time before the delivery of the deed, are hereby authorized and empowered to sell and assign the certificate of sale, and at any time after the delivery of the deed said town council or governing body are hereby authorized and empowered to grant, sell and convey by good and sufficient deed, either by private sale or by public auction, to any person or persons any lot or parcel of land so purchased by it; provided, however, that no such sale, assignment or conveyance shall be made for less consideration than the amount of the taxes or assessment or both, on account of which the lot or parcel was sold, with interest and costs.

9. And be it enacted, That the owner, or any incumbrancer, of any lot or parcel of land or real estate sold by virtue of the provisions of this act may, at any time before the expiration of six months from the date of the last publication of the notice hereinafter provided for, or before a deed for the same shall have been delivered, redeem such lot or parcel by paying to the town treasurer of such town, for the use of the purchaser, his heirs, legal representatives, or assigns, the sum paid by him at such sale, with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum from the date of the sale, together with the cost of publishing the notice of the sale, and one dollar for each copy thereof served as hereinafter provided; and upon such redemption the town treasurer shall pay to the purchaser, his legal representative or assigns the amount received from the person redeeming; such notice shall be advertised in a newspaper published in the county in which such town is situated for the period of six weeks, at least once in each week, and, in addition to other appropriate particulars, shall specify the date of sale, the name of the purchaser, the place where redemption from the sale may be made, and shall describe the lot or parcel of land sold, by metes and bounds, and also by reference to the lot and block numbers of the same on the official map of the town (if any); within thirty days after the first publication of such notice a copy thereof shall be served personally on the owner or owners and all mortgagees and incumbrancers of record, if resident in the county in which the town is situated, and in case any owner, mortgagee or incumbrancer shall be non-resident of the county, a written or printed copy of such notice shall, within the same period, be deposited in the post office enclosed in a wrapper, [illegible] such deed is made and executed upon proceedings taken under authority of this act.

10. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, local, general or special, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCIII.

An Act to enable township committees to encourage the use of broad tires on wagons and carts by a rebatement of taxes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That township committees be and they are hereby authorized, when in their judgment it is for the public good, to pass an ordinance allowing a rebate of taxes for township or road purposes to all owners or possessors of wagons and carts used in said township for transportation of goods, wares, merchandise, produce, passengers and for general farm, freight and express purposes, having tires of not less than four inches in width; provided, the said rebate shall not exceed fifty cents for each wheel in use in any one year.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCIV.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section eleven of an act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, which reads as follows:

"11. And be it enacted, That the township collector, within sixty days after the receipt of the transcript or duplicate of the said assessment, shall demand payment of the tax or sum assessed on each individual in his township, in person or by notice left at his or her place of residence, and also give notice of the time and place of the meeting of the said commissioners of appeal, and the said collector shall pay the taxes by him collected, and the fine and forfeitures by him received, by virtue of any law of this state, to the collector of the county, by the twenty-second day of December in every year," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

11. And be it enacted, That the township collector, within sixty days after the receipt of the transcript or duplicate of the said assessment, shall demand payment of the tax or sum assessed on each individual in his township, in person or by notice left at his or her place of residence, or where the residence and post office address is precisely known to said collector, by mailing such notice to the post office address of such person or persons, with the postage prepaid thereon, and also give notice of the time and place of the meeting of the said commissioners of appeal; and the said collector shall pay the taxes by him collected, and the fines and forfeitures by him received, by virtue of any law of this state, to the collector of the county, by the twenty-second day of December in every year.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCV.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the relief of creditors against absconding and absent debtors," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That if any order for the sale of goods and chattels by an auditor shall hereafter be made by the court under the provisions of the acts to which this act is a supplement, it shall be sufficient, unless the court shall provide otherwise in said order, to advertise the said sale in the same manner as sales of goods and chattels by the sheriff under an execution are now advertised.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCVI.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act for the prevention of cruelty to animals," approved March eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section sixteen of the act to which this is amendatory shall read as follows:

16. And be it enacted, That any member, officer or agent of the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, or any sheriff, under sheriff, constable or police officer shall have power to arrest, without warrant, any person or persons found violating the provisions of this act in the presence of said member, officer, agent, sheriff, under sheriff, constable or police officer, and to take the same before the nearest magistrate or justice of the peace or court as aforesaid, there to be proceeded against as provided for in section eleven of this act.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCVII

Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning contagious and infectious diseases among animals, and to repeal certain acts relating thereto," approved May fourth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the local board of health of any city of this state shall by ordinance require, from time to time, a registry of all cattle kept within the limits of said city, which registry shall state the place of keeping, the number in each case kept, and the number of those intended, or used as milch cows; and it shall be the duty of the owner of any such cattle to make registry thereof at the time, place and in the manner that the board of health of said city may direct, under a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars for any neglect of the same; provided, that no such registry shall be made by any board of health until after the examination of the stables and place in which said cattle are kept, and until it is known to the satisfaction of said board that they are in a good sanitary condition.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever any local board of health of any city shall have reason to suspect the existence of any contagious disease among cattle, or such as may be a risk or danger to the food or milk supply, or whenever they may deem it necessary, in order to prevent the occurrence of such risk or danger, they shall order the inspection of all cattle that are kept or intended for meat or milk production, by a competent veterinarian chosen by them, and may for such inspection require so much payment for such service as may be necessary for the expenses attending such inspection; it being, however, provided, that in no case shall the amount charged exceed fifty cents a head per year for dairies of ten cows or under, and for all dairies above ten cows, twenty-five cents per head per year; provided further, that no charge shall be made against any one keeping a single cow for family use.

3. And be it enacted, That whenever any local board of health or any veterinary inspector appointed by said board shall find or suspect any disease in any cow, or in any herd of milk-producing cattle, which may prove harmful to the meat or milk supply, the state board of health and the state dairy commissioner shall be notified, and it shall be the duty of the dairy commissioner to investigate the same, and he shall prohibit the sale or use of the milk from any such [illegible] pose terms of any such package, exclusive of the malt liquor contained therein, to such person or persons by the original or lawful owner or owners thereof.

2. And be it enacted, That any person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of section one of this act shall be liable to the penalty of fifty dollars, to be recovered in an action of debt with costs in any court of this state having cognizance thereof; said action to be brought by the owners of such packages, and execution against the goods and chattels and the person of the defendant shall issue for the penalty and costs so recovered.

3. And be it enacted, That one-half of all the penalties recovered under this act shall be for the use of the poor of the city, borough, town, township wherein such violation shall have been committed, and the other half shall be for the use of the owner in whose name the complaint is made; and the officer collecting the same shall immediately upon receipt thereof pay over the same, as aforesaid, to the officer of such city, borough, town or township, who is by law charged with the care of the poor, and to the said owner.

4. And be it enacted, That any person who shall violate any of the provisions of section one of this act shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months or both, at the discretion of the court.

5. And be it enacted, That on probable cause shown on oath or affirmation of the owner of any such butts, hogsheads, barrels, casks or other packages upon which said owner's name is branded or stamped, or of his agent thereunto specially authorized, that any person has in his possession any such packages in violation of the provisions of section one of this act, or with intent to violate the same, a search warrant shall issue to discover and obtain the said packages; and said search warrant shall be issued and served or executed by any of the several officers now authorized under the laws of this state to issue, serve or execute search warrants, and the same proceeding shall be had thereon as is now required by law in cases where search warrants are issued.

6. And be it enacted, That this shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCX.

An Act to revise and amend "An act to tax intestates' estates, gifts, legacies and collateral inheritance in certain cases," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That after the passage of this act all property which shall pass by will or by the intestate laws of this state from any person who may die seized or possessed of the same while being a resident of the state, and all property which shall be within this state, and any part of such property, and any interest therein or income therefrom, which shall be transferred by inheritance, distribution, bequest, devise, deed, grant, sale or gift aforesaid, made or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment after the death of the intestate, testator, grantor or bargainor, to any person or persons, or to a body politic or corporate, excepting churches, hospitals and orphan asylums, in trust or otherwise, or by reason whereof any person or body politic or corporate shall become beneficially entitled, in possession or expectancy, to such property, or to the income thereof, other than to or for the use of a father, mother, husband, wife, children, brother or sister, or lineal descendants born in lawful wedlock, or the wife or widow of a son, or the husband of a daughter shall be subject to a tax of five dollars on every hundred dollars of the clear market value of such property, to be paid to the treasurer of the state of New Jersey for the use of the state, and all administrators, executors and trustees shall be liable for any and all such taxes until the same shall have been paid as hereinafter directed; provided, that an estate which may be valued at a less sum than five hundred dollars shall not be subject to said duty or tax.

2. And be it enacted, That when any person shall bequeath or devise, convey, grant, sell or give as aforesaid any property, or interest therein, or income therefrom, to a father, mother, husband, wife, children, brother or sister, the widow of a son, or a lineal descendant, during life or for a term of years, and the remainder to a collateral heir of the decedent, or to a stranger in blood, or to a body politic or corporate the property so passing shall be appraised immediately after the death of said testator or grantor, as the case may be, at what shall then be the fair market value thereof, in the manner hereinafter provided, and after deducting therefrom the value of said life estate, or term of years, the tax prescribed by this act on the remainder shall be immediately due and payable to the treasurer of the state of New Jersey, and, together with the interest thereon, shall be and remain a lien on said property until the same is paid; provided, that the person or persons, or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in the property chargeable with said tax, may elect not to pay the same until they shall come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, or, and in that case, such person or persons, or body politic or corporate, shall give a bond to the state of New Jersey in a penalty three times the amount of the tax arising upon personal estate, with such sureties as the chancellor may approve, conditioned for the payment of said tax and interest thereon, at such time or period as they or their representatives may come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, which bond shall be filed in the office of the clerk in chancery; provided further, that such person shall make a full verified return of such property to the chancellor of the state and file the same in the office of the clerk in chancery within one year from the death of the decedent, and within that period enter into such security and renew the same every five years.

3. And be it enacted, That whenever a decedent appoints or names one or more executors or trustees, and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of their commissions or allowances, which otherwise would be liable to said tax, or appoints them his residuary legatees, and said bequest, devises, or residuary legacies exceed what would be a reasonable compensation for their services, such excess shall be liable to said tax, and the chancellor or the orphans' court having jurisdiction, in the case shall fix such compensation.

4. And be it enacted, That all taxes imposed by this act, unless otherwise herein provided for, shall be due and payable at the death of the testator, [illegible] voucher in the settlement of his accounts, but an executor, administrator or trustee shall not be entitled to credit in his accounts, nor to be discharged from liability for such tax unless he shall produce a receipt so countersigned by the comptroller, or a copy thereof certified by him.

9. And be it enacted, That whenever any of the real estate of which any decedent may die seized, shall pass to any body, politic or corporate, or to any person other than the father, mother, husband, wife, lawful issue, brother or sister, wife or widow of a son, or husband of a daughter, or in trust for them, or some of them, it shall be the duty of the executors, administrators or trustees of such decedent to give information thereof in writing to the comptroller of the state within six months after they undertake the execution of their respective duties, or if the fact be not known to them within that period, then within one month after the same shall have come to their knowledge.

10. And be it enacted, That whenever any debts shall be proven against the estate of a decedent, after the payment of legacies or distribution of property from which the said tax has been deducted, or upon which it has been paid, and a refund is made by the legatee, devisee, heir or next of kin, a proportion of the tax so paid shall be repaid to him by the executor, administrator or trustee, if the said tax has not been paid to the state treasurer, or by them if it had been so paid.

11. And be it enacted, That whenever any foreign executor or administrator shall assign or transfer any stocks or loans in this state, standing in the name of a decedent, or in trust for a decedent, which shall be liable to the said tax, such tax shall be paid to the state treasurer on the transfer thereof, otherwise the corporation permitting such transfer shall become liable to pay such tax; provided, that such corporation has knowledge before such transfer that said stocks or loans are liable to said tax.

12. And be it enacted, That when any amount of said tax shall have been paid erroneously to the state treasurer, it shall be lawful for the comptroller of the treasury, on satisfactory proof rendered to him of such erroneous payments to draw his warrant on the state treasurer, in favor of the executor, administrator, person or persons who have paid any such tax in error, or who may be lawfully entitled to receive the same, for the amount of such tax so paid in error, provided, that all such applications for the repayment of such tax, shall be made within two years from the date of such payment.

13. And be it enacted, That in order to fix the value of property of persons whose estate shall be subject to the payment of said tax, the surrogate or register of the prerogative court, on the application of any interested party, or upon his own motion, shall appoint some competent person as appraiser as often as, and whenever occasion may require, whose duty it shall be forthwith to give such notice by mail, and to such persons as the surrogate or register of the prerogative court may by order direct, of the time and place he will appraise such property, and at such time and place to appraise the same at its fair market value, and make a report thereof in writing to said surrogate or register of the prerogative court, together with such other facts in relation thereto as said surrogate or register of the prerogative court may by order require, to be filed in the office of such surrogate or register of the prerogative court, and from this report the said surrogate or register of the prerogative court shall forthwith assess and fix the then cash value of all estates, annuities and life estates, or term of years growing out of said estates, and the tax to which the same is liable, and shall immediately give notice thereof by mail to the state comptroller and to all parties known to be interested therein; any person or persons dissatisfied with said appraisement or assessment may appeal therefrom to the ordinary or orphans' court of the proper county, within sixty days after the making and filing of such assessment on paying or giving security, approved by the ordinary or orphans' court, to pay all costs, together with whatever tax shall be fixed by said court; the said appraiser shall be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller, on the certificate of the ordinary or surrogate, duly filed with the comptroller, at the rate of three dollars per day for every day actually and necessarily employed in said appraisement, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses.

14. And be it enacted, That any appraiser appointed by virtue of this act who shall take any fee or reward from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction of misdemeanors he shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and imprisoned not exceeding ninety days, and in addition thereto the register of the prerogative court or surrogate shall dismiss him from such service.

15. And be it enacted, That the ordinary or the orphans' court in the county in which the real property is situate of a decedent who was not a resident of the state, or in the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to the tax arising under the provisions of this act.

16. And be it enacted, That if it shall appear to the register of the prerogative court or surrogate that any tax accruing under this act has not been paid according to law, such officer shall issue a citation citing the persons interested in the property liable to the tax to appear before the ordinary or orphans' court on a day certain, not more than three months after the date of such citation, and show cause why said tax should not be paid; the service of such citation and the time, manner and proof thereof, and fees therefor, and the hearing and determination thereon, and the enforcement of the determination or decree shall conform to the provisions of the law for the service of citations now issued by the ordinary or orphans' courts, and the hearing and determination thereon and its enforcement; and the register of the prerogative court or surrogate shall, upon the request of any prosecutor of the pleas or the state comptroller, furnish one or more transcripts of such decree, and the same to be duly docketed and filed by the county clerk of any county in the state, and the same shall have the same effect as a lien by judgment.

17. And be it enacted, That whenever the state comptroller shall have reason to believe that any tax is due [illegible] effect or impair the lien of any taxes heretofore assessed, or due and payable, or any remedies for the collection of the same, or to surrender any remedies, powers, rights or privileges acquired by the state under said act hereby revised, or to relieve any person or corporation from any penalty imposed by said act.

20. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rents in cities of this state, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to further taxation and assessment," passed March thirtieth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the supplement to said act, which supplement was approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, shall be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any person shall desire to redeem any lands and real estate sold under and by virtue of the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, and the acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, every such person shall, in addition to the sum or sums of money required to be paid as now provided by law, pay to the purchaser of such land and premises, or to his assignee in case of assignment, or to the city for the use of said purchaser, or his assignee, all the costs and expenses necessarily incurred in proceedings taken for the purpose of perfecting title thereto, including fees for searching, at the rates allowed by law to the county clerks or registers of deeds for like services, but not including counsel fees; provided, however, that no purchaser or assignee shall be allowed for such search or notice fees upon the redemption of said property, unless he shall have filed with the city clerk of said city before such redemption a statement of such fees, cost, and expenses incurred in serving notices and searching as above provided.

2. And be it enacted, that section three of the supplement to the act of which this is a supplement, approved April eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That the assignee of the certificate or certificates of sale given pursuant to the provisions of said act and supplements may give notice, in his or their names, of such sale to the owners, mortgagees and other persons interested as required by said act and supplements, and to acquire title to the lands and receive the [illegible] therefor, in the same manner and to the same effect and extent as if such assignee or assignees were the original purchaser or purchasers at the tax sale, and such notice or notices heretofore given by such assignee or assignees are declared to be valid and effectual and to have the same force and effect as if given pursuant to this act, and any notice of a like nature hereafter given by the purchaser at a tax sale, including a city, if it be the purchaser under said acts and supplements and before assignments of the tax certificate, shall enure to and be for the benefit of the assignee of such tax certificate, and such assignee shall be entitled to receive a deed for the lands in such certificate named, which shall convey the same as fully and to the same effect and extent as if such assignee had given notice of sale in his own name, and as if the said deed had been made and delivered to the original purchaser and the certificate of sale had not been assigned, and any such deed heretofore made, executed and delivered to any such assignee shall have such force and effect.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts so far as they conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 16, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish in this state boards of health and a bureau of vital statistics and to define their respective powers and duties," approved March thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever the state board or any local board of health in order to prevent the spread of contagious disease, destroy or order to be destroyed, personal effects or bedding, it shall be the duty of the said board to make or cause to be made an inventory of the said personal goods and immediately thereafter to certify the value of said personal goods so destroyed to the state treasurer, in case they have been destroyed by the state board of health, and to the municipal authorities in case of local board, and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer or municipal authority to pay over to the owner of said goods or his or her legal representatives, the sum so certified.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March [illegible]

CHAPTER CCXIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act in relation to assessment in townships," approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section three of said act be amended so as to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That as soon as may be after such appointment such commissioners shall proceed to make such re-assessment, or assessment, and in so doing shall assess upon all the tracts or lots of land and real estate benefitted by such improvement, such portion of such costs, damages and expenses as will be equal to the amount of benefits actually acquired by said lands and real estate from such improvement, proportioned equitably to the benefit each of such tracts or lots shall be deemed to acquire, and shall make a report of their proceedings and assessments to such court within thirty days after their appointment; [illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—The Courier speaks of jail warden Blore as Brewer.

—Hillside avenue has been scraped and put in good repair.

—The Courier speaks of the Enterprise quartette, meaning Euterpe.

—Generous "Chic" Hofford has promised to give a colored base-ball boy a chest protector.

—The new soda-water fountain in Leggett's pharmacy is something elegant. Have you seen it?

—Spring chickens are only one dollar each. One of them would about make a good-sized sandwich.

—Beginning next Sunday, the First Presbyterian Sunday-school will hold its sessions at 9:30 a. m.

—The date fixed for the excursion of the Hope chapel and Warren Mission Sunday-schools is Friday, July 14.

—There is a leak in the gas mains at the corner of Third and Peace streets. The stench is almost stifling to passers-by.

—The break of the fire-alarm system Saturday afternoon was caused by the falling of the limb of a tree on one of the wires.

—The street commissioner has turned his attention to Watchung avenue, where the gutters are being scraped, and the roadbed put in good condition.

—A. D. Shepard, of East Front street, has purchased a handsome new team of bay horses. He now has nine of the finest-looking horses in the country.

—James Emmons says that the court was misinformed Monday about having been in the company of some of the prisoners when they were arrested.

—Some of the friends of the late John Mannion, of Bound Brook, drove over to New Brunswick, Saturday, and decorated with flowers the grave of the deceased.

—Flower thieves entered the yard of Mrs. Charles Westphal, 301 South Second street, Saturday evening, and stole rose bushes and a large quantity of choice flowers.

—The widespread fame of L. L. Manning's marble works has led to his receipt of a large order from the Craft estate, for which he is putting up a handsome and costly granite monument at Riverview cemetery, Trenton.

—William Sutton, of Bound Brook, says that there are so many herring in the river near Weston, and fish of all kinds so plentiful, that the farmers are anticipating the erection of stone walls alongside the river to keep the fish from occupying the meadow lands.

—The Emmanuel Baptist church, of which the Rev. J. W. Mitchell is the pastor, is striving hard to get along, and the members are anxious to have a home of their own. With this object in view they are arranging for a Florida flower sociable on the 30th inst.

—Freeholder Vanderbeek and counselor McClure had quite a talk in the waiting room of the North avenue station, yesterday. They first talked of the needs of the county, then idiots and Christianity, and finally branched off into a talk on the "after world". An incoming train stopped a most interesting argument.

—John Chandler, the contractor for the new Babcock building on West Front street, is pushing the work. The weather has been bad, and skilled and unemployed masons have been and are scarce, just at this season of the year. The prospects now are that the building will not be ready before fall.

—Engine No. 387, which carried President Cleveland through here to Washington for the inaugural ordeal, became stranded in Plainfield Sunday night. The engine ran out of water, and had to cross over from the main east-bound track to the north siding in order to get a supply. This delayed the local train to New York 10 minutes.

PERSONALIA.

Fred Obitz has returned from his trip to the Craig brothers' ranch, Graham, Texas.

Ex-judge W. R. Codington has been called to Millington by the death of his father.

Miss Carrie Tingley, of Orchard place, started Saturday for a month's visit to Washington, D. C.

Letter-carrier Charles B. Stephens is again laid up from the effects of an operation recently performed.

George and William Craig, who recently went to Texas, are now in Chicago, attending the World's Fair.

Councilman V. L. Frazee is being urged by his friends to stand for sheriff on the Democratic ticket in the fall.

Robert Shepard, a cousin of A. D. Shepard of East Front street, arrived from Washington on the Blue Line, Sunday.

James McCarthy who has been spending a year in New York State, has returned with his wife and family to Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaerth of East Second street, went to Brooklyn, Sunday, to attend the birthday celebration of Mr. Kaerth's mother-in-law, Mrs. James Barrett.

Elsie H. Teller died at her home in North Plainfield Saturday in her forty-fifth year. The funeral will be from the First Baptist church to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

The cutest thing on earth to-day—in Plainfield, at least—is a Seminary cadet, in uniform, saluting Col. Mason W. Tyler from the sidewalk as he passes in his carriage.

Charles Hook of East Third street is the first member of the Plainfield Court, 1144, Order of Foresters, who has received sick benefits this year. He gets $5 a week, and all medicine free.

The marriage of Miss Adelaide Ward Chapman to Romaine Mace, formerly of this city, will take place Wednesday evening of next week at 6:30 in the Second Presbyterian church, Newark.

Mrs. Edward Walling, of New Whatcom, Wash., is on a six months' visit among relatives and friends in Plainfield and vicinity. Mrs. Walling was formerly Miss Susie Overbaugh, of this city.

Charles Hook, of East Third street, is dangerously ill with pneumonia. He was taken down a week ago while unloading meat at the Union Beef company's works. Dr. Allis has hopes of pulling him through.

The Rev. Henry A. Stimson, brother of John Ward Stimson of the Seminary, has recently taken charge of a prominent church in New York. His wife, a daughter of the late President John Bartlett of Dartmouth college, is the guest this week of Mrs. Stimson of Plainfield.

Officer Charles Giese has sold his property on Orange street and has purchased a house and lot on Elm street, formerly Water street. The place is known as the old Case homestead. It has a frontage of 105 feet. There are two lots. The one with the building on has a depth of 175 feet and the other backs up to the First Presbyterian church property and is 250 feet deep. The house is being remodeled and will be occupied this week.

Another!

One of the collecting agents for the Metropolitan Insurance company is said to have gone [illegible]

PERSONALIA.

Mrs. M. J. Coyne, of Watchung avenue, will take a trip to Canada next month.

Justus H. Hesse, of West Seventh street, will sail for Europe within a few days.

Miss Annie Wyck and Fred Hallman, of New York, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Spieger, of East Front street.

Miss Rose Costigan, of Westfield, was taken ill with chills while in this city, Thursday, and was obliged to go home at once.

Gilbert Sutphen Martin of this city is negotiating to procure the control of the American Eagle, official organ of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Howard, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Shellaback, of Terrill road, died Sunday. The funeral was held at the house Tuesday.

George Schenck and wife, of the Ten-Eyck House of Somerville, spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright of the Arlington Hotel on Somerset street.

B. Dancoba, of the New York College of Pharmacy has been engaged by manager Leggett for the Central Pharmacy staff. He speaks German, and will be on duty all night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Grinnell, of Netherwood, are spending a few days with Mr. Grinnell's uncle, ex-Vice President L. P. Morton, at his country-seat, Rhinebeck-on-the-Hudson.

Chief Doane has returned from his trip to Atlantic City, having had a lovely time. He was in attendance at the executive committee meeting of the State Firemen's Relief association.

J. A. Cresse, of Trenton, editor of The American Eagle, a weekly journal published in the interest of the Jr. O. U. A. M., in this State, paid a fraternal visit to Franklin council, 41, Thursday evening.

At the New England Baptist Missionary convention which begins a two weeks' session at Norwich, Conn., June 14, the Rev. J. W. Mitchell of this city, is on the programme as one of the speakers.

W. G. Brett will break ground this week for another house on Mercer avenue, opposite the Holy Cross church. I. W. Pangborn will do the mason work, and D. L. Hulick the carpenter work.

An election to one of the senior societies is the greatest social honor that can be bestowed upon a Yale man. Thursday, Walter E. Stewart, jr., of this city, was chosen a member of "Skull and Bones".

Elizabeth Corwin died Saturday in her seventy-third year. The funeral will be from the home of her niece, Miss Magie, 188 East Front street, Wednesday afternoon at 4. Interment will follow at Middletown, N. Y.

Counselor McClure has gone to Greenwood Lake. He says the great argument between him and freeholder A. Vanderbeek will be resumed on his return. They're both recuperating now, getting ready for the fray.

Mrs. George Mandeville, of Roseville, formerly Miss Vinnie Hill, of this city, died of consumption last Friday. She is a sister of Mrs. Frank VanWinkle, of Central avenue. Her husband died two years ago of the same disease.

Charles E. Doane has been invited by the founders of the order of the Knights and Ladies of the Round Table to attend their reunion Thursday, July 13, at the Columbian Exposition, Chicago, in the New York and Pennsylvania buildings.

James Cannon, of East Third street, is one of the oldest residents in the city. He came to Plainfield in 1847, when, he says, there was not a brick building in the place. "Jimmy", as he is familiarly called, says "great changes are wrought in the twinkling of an eye".

Invitations have been issued to the press by Gen. Ferdinand Earle, for the opening, Thursday, of the New Netherlands, the magnificent new hotel on Fifth avenue, New York, that John Jacob Astor's money has built and of which Peter B. Wright of this city is to be general manager.

Misses Mary Fitzpatrick, Rose Donaldson and Mary Hummel, of New York city, were entertained over Sunday by Miss Agnes Fitzgerald, of Somerset place, North Plainfield. All the young ladies are expert stenographers, telegraphers and typewriters, and are actively engaged in business down town in New York.

The Rev. Calvin Stebbins, Memorial Day orator in Music Hall, was the guest of his old mate, Col. Mason W. Tyler. He has charge of the pulpit in Worcester, Mass., formerly occupied by the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, and where Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker Mason were most active members. Mr. Stebbins is expected to exchange pulpits with the Rev. Hobart Clark next Sunday.

F. M. Hallock, of this city, recently graduated from the New York Homeopathic Medical college, has just successfully passed the New York State Board of Examiners and is to be congratulated by his friends for receiving the appointment of assistant house surgeon in the Brooklyn Homeopathic Hospital on Cumberland street. Dr. Hallock read medicine with Dr. O. L. Jenkins, of this city.

As THE PRESS predicted, "Dutchy" Smith returned home last Friday from the Knoxville, (Tenn.) Gun club tournament loaded down with honors and sheckels, his winning above all expenses running into two ciphers. He reports having had a most enjoyable time and found the boys of Knoxville a jolly and hospitable set. Charlie was the life of the tournament and made many new friends while there.

NOT ANY REST IN THE BOUNDLESS WEST.

Theodore Gray, who recently sold his furniture and house on Webster place, and moved with his family to Portland, Oregon, did not find the climate there as pleasant as it had been pictured to him, and he was obliged to remove to Denver, Colorado, where the climate is more like Plainfield's, and where he now lives.

A SERGEANT BECOMES LIEUTENANT.

Captain Edwards announces the promotion of first sergeant George F. Schoonmaker of Leal's cadets to be second lieutenant, vice Lowe, resigned.

BODINE—MILLIGAN.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Harriet Amelia Milligan to Francis B. Bodine. Miss Milligan is the daughter of E. W. Milligan of Brooklyn, who spends his summer at his beautiful summer villa at Washingtonville. The marriage will take place in the First Reformed church, Seventh avenue and Carroll street, Brooklyn. A reception will be held at Mr. Wilson's, 152 Pierrepont street, immediately after the ceremony.

HOMEWARD BOUND HE DIED IN PORT.

Joseph Gallan of East Sixth street is dead. Being in failing health some time ago, he left Plainfield for the Canary Isles, where his parents live, for a change of scene and air, but upon reaching his brother's home in Havana he grew rapidly worse. Fearing the worst he begged to continue his journey that he might see his father and mother before he died. He was carried aboard a ship and reached the port, but died before his parents got to him.

THE EUTERPEAN QUARTETTE WILL PLAY.

Prof. W. R. MacClymont will give his last free organ recital of the season, in the First Baptist church, June 13. There will be a novelty in the shape of an organ duet by Mr. MacClymont and W. H. Miner. P. Gondo will give a violin solo. Miss May Grunt, soprano, will sing. The Euterpean quartette, consisting of F. A. Pollock, flute, James Patrick, violin, [illegible] and W. S. [illegible]

ECCLESIASTICAL ENTERTAINMENT.

AMONG THE NOTABLE GUESTS WERE SOME FROM CHINA.

Delightful Tea Given at the Home of Rector and Mrs. Simpson—Those Who Received and Those Who Attended.

Mrs. E. P. Simpson, wife of the Rev. E. P. Simpson, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Netherwood, gave a large tea Saturday afternoon at her home, corner of Watchung avenue and Richmond street. An unusually large number of people were present, not only from Plainfield but from New York and Elizabeth, and the house was crowded until a late hour in the afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated with roses, lilacs and pansies. Mrs. Simpson was assisted in receiving by the following ladies: Mrs. J. J. H. Pollion, Miss Alice Simpson, Miss Lena Hart, Miss Anthony, Mrs. N. P. T. Finch, Miss Simpson, Miss Carrie Simpson, Miss Southmaid, Miss Swords, Miss Maud Swords and Mrs. Swords.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Guion, Miss Guion, Major and Mrs. E. L. Burnett, Miss Lawrence, Franklin Smith, Mrs. C. E. Ryder, the Misses Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Duncan Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. T. Finch, Miss Ethel Finch, Mr. and Mrs. G. Harry Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. S. Seabury Guion, Mrs. J. O. Stearns, Elizabeth, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dyett, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Ginna, Miss Fanny B. Seamen, Bradford Smalley, Mrs. George B. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, Miss Annie Ellis, Miss Ellis, Mrs. Edwin Florence, Miss Stearns, the Rev. H. H. Oberly of Elizabeth, Benj. R. Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baill, Miss Madge Depew, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler, Miss Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Stover, the Rev. Dr. Malcom of Roselle, John C. Wetmore, editor Town Talk, Elizabeth, Miss Davison of Hoboken, Miss Edith Truman, Miss Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richards of Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Ginna, Miss Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Goddard, Miss Newton, Miss Fox, the Misses Martine, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. T. Logan Murphy, Miss Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt C. Ivins, Miss Walsh, Miss Honegar, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dumont, Miss Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bowen, Miss Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Anthony, James S. Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foot, Mrs. Georgiana Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Beals, Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Vaugh, Francis Vaugh, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Barber, Miss Scribner, the Rev. J. C. Lord of Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Edwards, Miss Kate Buckmaster, Mrs. James Buckmaster, the Rev. and Mrs. O. A. Glazebrook, J. Bayard Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Simmonds, Herman Simmonds, Lu Simmonds, Henry Ootheal Swords, Miss Cock, the Rev. O. Valentine, of Bayonne City, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Swords, Miss Swords, Mrs. Samuel Lawrence, A. H. Corey, Miss Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Townsend, Miss Harriett Townsend, the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Moore, Miss Moore, of New York, A. W. McIntosh, W. P. Barber, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, Miss Chetwood, Mrs. Henderson, Miss Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark, W. B. McCullum, Miss McCullum, the Rev. and Mrs. F. M. McAllister, of Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead, Miss Margaret Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Cruikshank, Mrs. G. V. Weir, Miss Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Bogardus, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hobart, Mrs. Robert E. Chetwood, Mrs. Robert S. Swords, the Misses Swords, of Newark, Howard Martin, Secretary of Legation, Shanghai, China, and Bryant of the Imperial College, Shanghai.

EDSALL HOLDING HIS LEASES.

He Intends Establishing the Largest Business of its Kind in the State.

There being a rumor about town to the effect that Seely Edsall had surrendered the leases he had secured on the two big stores in Geo. H. Babcock's new building at Front street and Madison avenue, a PRESS reporter interviewed him this morning on the subject.

Mr. Edsall explicitly denied the truth of such report. He said it was expected at first that he would be given possession of the stores on Sept. 1 to get in his mammoth stock and prepare for his grand opening on Oct. 1, when the rent would begin. But if the stores would not be ready then, it would make no difference as he could stay where he is as long as was necessary. He had no thought of giving up the stores which were to be the largest and finest in the city and where he intended to carry on the biggest establishment of its kind in the State.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PRIZES.

Pastor Schenck Surprised with a Handsome Gift.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of Trinity Reformed church held interesting closing exercises for the season Saturday afternoon. Besides singing, and Scripture reading and prayer by pastor Schenck, the programme contained a duet by R. Meeker and F. Doncklin, "The Seasons" by Eva Dunavan, Cora Miller, Lottie Chamberlain, Ruth Berg and Lucy Goriell, a song by Fred. Donovan, recitation by Bessie Wilson, talk by the pastor, and refreshments. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, showing an excellent record of disbursements for its work. Touching reference was made to the loss by death of a member.

Mrs. R. A. Meeker is the superintendent of the society. She has endeared herself to the young people and has made a most efficient leader for them. The society numbers 60, and an average attendance of 40 has been the result of her labors.

Perfect attendance prizes were given to Olive Wyckoff and Minnie Wyman for not missing a single meeting during the year.

Pastor Schenck was taken by surprise and presented with a handsome stand for keeping newspapers in his study.

Dunellen Doings.

Mrs. Cornelius Taylor, of Dunellen, is spending three weeks at her former home in Paterson, while George Taylor is driving his handsome team about Morris county.

George Staples, of Depot avenue, on Saturday finished painting his house, and it is now one of the most attractive on the avenue.

Walter Clawson is putting up a new and attractive frame house on the "old road" between Dunellen and New Market.

Agnes, the 16-year-old daughter of John Burke, died Saturday of black diphtheria. She came home a week ago from out of town, and was attended by a local physician.

The Dandy Cadets.

Captain Edwards's cadets caused the Scotch Plains stage to [illegible] on Front street, Tuesday morning, and a party of occasionals had their handsome [illegible] thereby. A horse on Somerset street also [illegible]

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

42 RUNS IN ONE DAY.

Gigantic Batting Record of the Plainfield Crescents Against Two Heavy Teams.

The morning game on the Crescent Oval Tuesday between the Plainfield Crescents and the Cuban Giants, was a great combination of batting and fielding. The Giants have been whipping everything in America, but the Crescents' heavy team of colts demoralized them completely. Everybody on the Plainfield team hit the ball all over the lot, and changing pitchers made no difference. The fact is that the Crescents are an extraordinary lot of batters. The game was full of fun and ginger, and was hugely enjoyed by a good attendance.

The game was ended in 7½ innings, by mutual consent, to enable the Giants to catch a train to play at Paterson.

The score:

PLAINFIELD CRESCENTS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
Hofford, c.	5	4	2	1	0	0	6	0	0
Smith, ss.	4	4	2	0	0	0	2	6	0
McIndoe, lf.	6	6	2	0	1	1	2	0	0
Turner, cf.	6	3	2	0	0	0	1	1	0
Heckman, 2b.	4	2	2	0	1	0	0	2	2
Fritz, rf.	5	1	1	0	1	1	0	0	0
Keenan, 3b.	5	2	2	0	0	1	2	3	0
Jones, 1b.	5	1	2	0	2	0	11	0	0
Sneden, p.	4	2	1	1	0	1	0	2	0
	29	21	2	6	4	24	14	2

CUBAN GIANTS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
A. Jackson, 3b.	3	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	0
O. Jackson, lf.	4	2	2	1	0	1	1	0	0
Williams, 1b.	4	0	0	1	1	1	0	0	2
Grant, ss.	5	0	2	1	2	1	2	4	0
Harrison, rf.	4	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0
W. Jackson, c.	4	0	1	0	1	0	5	0	1
Nelson, 2b & p.	4	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0
Peno, cf.	2	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	0
Catto, p & 2b.	4	0	0	0	1	1	1	3	0
	4	5	3	5	5	21	7	3

BY INNINGS.

Crescents	5	2	0	4	5	0	6	*	—22
Base hits	4	2	0	6	5	0	4
Cuban Giants	0	0	3	0	1	0	0	0	—4
Base hits	1	0	4	1	0	1	1	0

Earned runs—Crescents, 10; Giants, 2. Three-base hits—McIndoe, 2; Heckman, Jones, Grant. Two-base hits—McIndoe, Turner, Grant, W. Jackson. Sacrifice hits—Smith, McIndoe, Turner, Fritz, Harrison, Catto. First base on errors—Crescents, 2; Giants, 2. On balls—Crescents, 5; Giants, 3. On hit by ball—Peno. Flies caught—By Crescents, 4; by Giants, 8. Time of game—2 hours. Umpire—Hudson.

THE AFTERNOON GAME.

As in the morning, every man on the Crescent team hit the ball, and the total was 24 bases. In the first inning Turner followed McIndoe's three-bagger with a home run, just as a starter; and in the second, Sneden made two hits and stole both second and third bases. To show the cranks what star, all around players represent their city this season, Sneden and Hofford went out in the field, Turner and Keenan pitched and Fritz caught. All you could see of Chic was a big mitten above the grass, but his fielding average was 1,000 per cent. Turner pitched the first five innings and Keenan the last four. Each struck out four of the Flushings, but Keenan struck out that giant batter Suter who had already hit Turner for two singles and a two-bagger. Each of these pitchers was hit but four times safely. In the ninth inning with the bases full of Flushings, and a big chance for them to catch the Plainfield lead, ice-box Keenan struck the last man out and dashed the hopes of the visitors to pieces. The score:

CRESCENTS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
Hofford, rf.	5	3	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Smith, ss.	5	4	2	0	0	0	1	4	1
McIndoe, lf.	5	2	2	1	2	0	0	1	0
Turner, p & 2b.	6	3	4	0	1	0	0	7	0
Heckman, 2b.	5	2	1	2	0	0	0	2	3
Fritz, c.	5	1	1	0	0	1	9	1	0
Keenan, 3b & p.	4	1	1	0	1	1	1	10	0
Jones, 1b.	5	2	2	1	0	0	16	0	3
Sneden, cf.	4	2	3	2	1	0	0	0	0
	20	17	6	5	3	27	25	5

FLUSHINGS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
Williams, 3b.	5	0	0	0	0	1	2	4	5
Nugent, 1b.	5	1	0	0	1	2	8	0	1
E. Murphy, c.	4	0	0	0	0	1	3	2	0
W. Murphy, lf.	4	1	2	1	1	0	4	1	0
Suter, cf.	4	1	3	1	2	1	1	0	0
Shannon, rf.	4	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	0
Cunningham, 2b.	4	1	1	0	1	1	5	0	1
J. Cu'ni'gh'm, p.	4	0	1	0	1	2	1	2	1
Woods, ss.	4	0	1	0	1	0	0	5	0
	5	8	2	10	8	24	14	8

BY INNINGS.

Crescents	4	8	0	0	0	0	8	4	2 *—20
Base hits	2	5	0	1	1	1	5	2
Flushings	0	3	1	0	1	0	0	0	0—5
Base hits	0	1	2	0	1	2	1	0	1

Earned runs—Crescents, 9; Flushings, 1. Home run—Turner. Three base hit—McIndoe. Two base hits—Keenan, Fritz, Suter. First base on errors—Crescents, 3; Flushings, 5. First base on balls—Off Turner, 2; off Cunningham, 7. Hit by ball—By Keenan, 2; by Cunningham, 2. Flies caught—By Crescents, 3; by Flushings, 9. Time of game—2 hours. Umpire—Hudson.

PLAINFIELDERS IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Crowned with Flowers, They Feast on Strawberries at Liberty Corner.

The entertainment and strawberry and ice-cream festival held in the Presbyterian church at Liberty Corner on Tuesday was a decided success in every particular. Among those from Plainfield who took part and assisted in the entertainment were Mrs. Fred Chatfield, Mrs. Wm. A. Westphal, John H. Carney, Wm. A. Westphal, Wm. Klein, Ell'M. Odam, Albright H. Neal, Wm. Newcorn and Andrew J. Stiglitz. It was indeed gratifying to see captain Wm. H. Hand handle the reins over his four large bays, drawing the handsome stage highly decorated with wild flowers, and to see the following ladies and gentlemen alight and enter the church, crowned as they were with pure white blossoms, they having been spending the day at Voehl's Sunset Cottage near Martinsville:

George Taylor,
Alva Carey,
Charles Borden,
Fraser Hartpence,
Harry Stafford,
Bert Honeyman,
Charles Randolph,
John Voehl,
Elwood Sebring,
Joseph Darby

Miss Laura Smith,
Miss Libbie Springer,
Miss Della Voehl,
Miss M. Coddington,
Miss Minnie Slater,
Miss Cora Shepard,
Miss L. Pennington,
Miss Minnie Smith,
Miss Lizzie Stafford,
Miss Ida Schenck.

The merry party arrived home in the small hours of morning, delighted with the beautiful scenery and the glorious manner in which they spent the day and evening.

Widen Somerset Street!

Now is the time to widen Somerset street. Several property-owners along the street offer to give several feet for widening the same, and now is the time to do it before the cars are running on the route. A few already have put back their curbs two feet. Let the others follow. Widen the street! Remember, there is only 30 feet to the street now, and when the cars are in there will be only 11 feet on each side. Do it now!

I have been troubled with catarrh for years. Ely's Cream Balm is the only remedy among the many [illegible]

THE CORNER-STONE LAID

AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING OF THE NEW PARISH HOUSE.

Heavenly Rest Church Does Itself Great Credit by Its Enterprise and Progress—How the Service Took Place, and What the Copper Box Contained.

Saturday, May 20, is a day long to be remembered by all connected with and interested in the mission Church of the Heavenly Rest, for on that date the corner-stone of their new Sunday-school and parish home was laid in the presence of a goodly number of their friends, by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, acting for Bishop Scarborough, who was unable to attend on account of his services at St. Mary's Hall, Burlington.

A platform had been built to hold the organ and the clergy, and the children grouped round it began singing, led by Alfred Lieberg, the tenor in the church quartette.

The board of trustees then filed out of the vestry room, followed by Mr. Rodman and Charles S. Lewis, who has been in charge of the church since Dr. Taylor resigned a year ago last Easter.

The Rev. T. Logan Murphy, rector of Holy Cross, arrived too late to take part in the opening, but in time to make an excellent address, in which he cordially congratulated Mr. Lewis and the trustees on the consummation of their work, and said how necessary he had found it to have a parish home if a church wished to accomplish anything and keep the people together.

Mr. Rodman followed with an earnest "God-speed" to the mission workers, and a humorous aside that he expected, as soon as this building was finished, to hear that Mr. Lewis had started a rectory for the new minister. Mr. Lewis is very much in hopes of being able soon to have a clergyman; but thinks there ought to be a place provided for him first, as no parish can succeed unless the minister lives among his people.

The list of articles placed in the corner-stone was then read by Mr. Lewis at Mr. Rodman's request, and Wm. C. Smith, the head builder in charge, carefully lowered the ropes, placing the stone in position. Mr. Rodman most impressively finished the beautiful service.

The second hymn was then sung, and afterwards a short offertory while the collection in aid of the building fund was being taken up. Five hundred or six hundred dollars is still needed to complete the building, and it is to be hoped the wealthy people of Plainfield will come forward and help the brave little mission in its work.

J. E. Townsend donated the beautiful stone, which was greatly admired.

The following paper, together with the articles specified, was deposited in the stone:

The Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector of Grace church, Plainfield, lays this corner-stone; acting for the Right Rev. John Scarborough, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of New Jersey. This building is to be used for a Sunday-school and Parish house, in connection with the Mission church of the Heavenly Rest, of which Charles S. Lewis is lay reader in charge, with a board of five trustees—the Messrs. Edwin Bishop, J. Wilbur Price, Lewis H. Morgan, Charles Graves and Robert Larmour. William C. Smith is the mason and builder; Charles Graves, the slater; R. V. Saums, the carpenter. J. E. Townsend donates this corner-stone; A. M. Griffen, the copper box, in which is deposited: The Churchman of May 20, 1893; The Church Standard of May 27, 1893; THE DAILY PRESS of Plainfield, of May 26, 1893; The Courier of Plainfield, of May 24 and 25, 1893; The Evening News of Plainfield, of May 26, 1893; THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST of Plainfield, of May 25, 1893; The New York Times and Tribune of May 27, 1893; a copy of the standard prayer book of 1892; an English crown piece of King George the Fourth, date 1821, given by Charles Grave; an American coin of 1892, given by C. S. Lewis; a French coin of 1862, from Asher W. Marston; a German coin of 1876, from Mary R. Marston; a German coin of 1874, from Margaret S. Marston. Said coins all enclosed in a little box that came from England seventy years ago, given by Mrs. Charles S. Lewis. The first sod was turned for this building on Whitsun Monday, May 22, 1893. President of the United States, Grover Cleveland. Governor of the State of New Jersey, George T. Werts. Mayor of the City of Plainfield, A. Gilbert. Corner-stone laid May 27, 1893.

A MINOR, AND GOT WHISKEY.

Serious Charge Made by a City Court Prisoner.

A motley collection of offenders was brought before Judge Coddington Monday morning, and legal retribution was doled out with a lavish hand.

Mamie Vandervort, 15 years old, colored, who was found by policeman Mattox, on Fifth street, Sunday morning at 12:15, in a gross state of intoxication, was given her choice of $3 or 15 days.

Mamie testified that she and three other colored women went into Conneely's saloon Saturday night and were drinking straight whiskey, that she had [illegible] drinks and after that she remembered nothing. She said that she did not pay for any of the drinks.

Wm. Wilson, alias Packer, was drunk and disorderly on Somerset street Saturday night. He was clad in a stove-pipe hat and a wooden leg, and carried a crutch with which he did great execution on officer Lynch's toes when the latter attempted to curb his joyous behavior.

Packer was soon overcome, however, and the sentence of the court was $5 or 30 days. He is the same man that was arrested about a week ago, and signed the pledge for a year in consideration of which judge Coddington let him off. His quick fall from grace will be a handicap to his ever getting off again.

John Fillmore and George Cantrel, alias Texas Jack, were found Saturday back of French's mill, where they had been rushing the growler with some friends, while silver tongued Jim Emmonds beguiled the hours with his sprightly talk. When officers Kiely and Lynch approached all but Fillmore and Cantrel fled, but these gents became involved in a discussion that led to fisticuffs, and they were promptly arrested and were fined $5 apiece.

Dred Hooper, who assaulted Sadie Potts, (both colored), about two weeks ago, and who has been missing from town ever since, reappeared yesterday and was promptly arrested. He was fined $10.

This morning Albert Cook and a companion in vice were found back of French's mill in a drunken sleep with a large pail of beer between them. They were locked up by officers Kiely and Glass, and the beer was thrown into the sluice-way to help run the mill. Cook has been at large only a few days, having just finished 60 days in the county jail. His visits to the outer world are short.

President, Mrs. Edgerton.

At the recent annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg hospital the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. M. R. Edgerton.
First Vice-president—Mrs. E. Cox.
Second Vice-president—Miss E. Cook.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss E. Schippey.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson.
Treasurer—Miss Nettie Haviland.
Auditors—Mrs. W. E. Lowe, Miss Mary Tweedy.

This Robber Must Die.

A Maltese cat which has been playing havoc with young chickens on East Fourth and Fifth streets, will probably meet its doom this week. The cat has been robbing both by day and night the chicken coops of Frank Haddon and others near by. Sunday night there was a great commotion in the chicken yard, and a Maltese cat went bounding over a high board fence. [illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents. AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

897

A RUN FOR EVERY HIT.

The Crescents Set Too Hot a Pace for Their Former Pitcher.

The raw weather was to blame for much of the coldness in Saturday's base-ball game. It wasn't a base-ball day. But the spectators got considerable enjoyment seeing smiling Bob Murphy pitching against his old team and participating in the good-natured badinage that floated from lip to lip.

Murphy was pounded where he least expected it—at the hands of Hofford and Jones. But to strike out Turner twice in succession was balm to his soul: for Turner, besides being a heavy hitter, had played an old trick on him successfully. Standing over by coacher's place, in the first inning, he shouted "Murph, let's see if that ball ain't ripped." The guileless farmer-boy tossed the ball out, and Hofford ran from first to second.

The visitors showed how easy it is to make errors. Even veteran Moorehead at one time lost his head and fumbled miserably. Ryan, their center fielder, made as pretty a backward running catch as one would wish to see. A long high fly was batted in his territory. It was sailing as though it would drop far beyond him. Running towards the objective point, and watching the ball over his shoulder, he stuck up one hand as far as he could reach and amid loud plaudits clutched the sphere as it came swiftly down. Fritz also made a fine running catch that seemed almost impossible; he barely got his finger tips under the ball just in time to divert its course.

Romer again distinguished himself by miserable playing, and will not wear a Crescent uniform again.

The score:

CRESCENTS.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Hofford, c.	5	2	2	1	0	0	5	2	0
Smith, ss.	4	2	0	2	1	0	0	1	0
McIndoe, lf.	5	2	1	2	0	0	2	0	0
Turner, cf.	5	0	0	0	1	2	2	0	0
Heckman, 2b.	4	0	1	1	1	1	1	5	0
Fritz, rf.	5	0	1	0	1	2	1	0	0
Romer, 3b.	2	2	1	0	1	0	3	2	2
Jones, 1b.	4	1	2	2	1	0	10	0	0
Sneden, p.	3	1	1	0	1	1	0	1	0
	38	10	8	7	6	27	11	2

IMPERIAL ATHLETICS.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Paton, c.	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	1
Moorehead, 2b.	4	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	1
Mooney, 3b.	4	0	0	1		0	2	1	1
Mack, ss.	3	1	1	1	1	0	2	4	1
Ryan, cf.	3	0	0	0	1	2	2	1	0
Heck, lf.	4	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	1
Murphy, p.	3	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0
Russell, rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0
Willey, 1b.	3	0	1	1	1	1	7	1	1
	1	2	3	5	6	24	12	6

BY INNINGS.

Crescents	2	0	2	1	0	4	0	1	*—10
Base hits	1	1	2	0	0	2	2	1
Imperial Athletics	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0—1
Base hits	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0

Earned runs—Crescents, 3. Three-base hit—Heckman. Two-base hit—Sneden. Sacrifice hits—Smith, Sneden, Murphy. Base on balls—Off Sneden, 3; off Murphy, 4. First base on errors—Crescents, 3; Imperials, 2. First base on hit by ball—Romer, Paton. Passed balls—Paton, 2. Wild pitches—Murphy, 1; Sneden, 4. Flies caught—By Crescents, 8; by Imperials—8. Time of game—2 hours. Umpire—Hudson.

Counselor Reed Talks Base-Ball.

(Elizabeth Journal.)

Judge Coddington and lawyer Reed, of Plainfield, called at the Journal office recently, and among other subjects briefly discussed was base-ball. Mr. Reed is a perfect enthusiast over base-ball, and he feels that if a warm generous rivalry could be gotten up between the Plainfield people and the E. A. C. people, it would result in splendid games and big money for both clubs. Mr. Reed cites the hot rivalry between the Somerville and Plainfield clubs and the thousands who used to go from one city to the other to attend the games. Elizabeth, he argues, has a population very much larger than both Somerville and Plainfield, and the E. A. C. is the club to bring out the lovers of base-ball. They would, he says, have to get a much better team than they have now to play a game of any interest with the Crescents, but he thinks that, a little later in the season, they could pick up all the players they would need for a series of games with the Crescents, and not only give first-class ball playing, but make it pay. If any of the E. A. C. feel like talking to Mr. Reed on this subject they will find him a pleasant talker and a well-posted patron of the game.

Glad to Take Netherwood's Water.

The only public drinking fountain between Elizabeth and Plainfield has been put up at Cranford. It is supplied by the Netherwood wells and standpipe. The Elizabeth Journal speaks of the fountain as follows:

"There was a heavy pressure of water, and many exclamations of delight when Henry Rath, jr., turned the water on and dedicated the new improvement. The fountain is constructed on the automatic plan, which allows the water to run continuously while the horses are drinking. The fountain is a fine affair and a credit and a blessing to the village, and will prove a lasting monument to the generosity of those whole-souled people who contributed to its erection. It was greatly admired by all who saw it, and thousands will slack their thirst at it in years to come. Augustus Long was the first person to take a drink from the faucet. A horse belonging to H. Jinks was the first to drink from the water trough, and Master Roy Powell led a cur to the dog trough to drink."

The Borough Shrewder Than the City.

According to the ordinance passed by the borough council, the street railway company must put Somerset street in a good condition and keep it in repair 18 inches along the tracks as well as between them. This will necessitate their putting crushed stone in many places along the route to bring the street up to the grade of the rails.

This city would have been better off if the authorities had made a similar ordinance and made the company live up to it as the borough people intend to do.

They'll Feel Something Drop.

There's trouble brewing for the North Plainfield Electric Light company. At the next meeting of the Borough council the company will feel something drop.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
[illegible]

VETERANS AT CHURCH.

REV. HERRING PREACHES ON THE IDEALS OF NATIONS.

He Says Americans Are God's Favorite People, and that America Is God's Opportunity for Reorganizing the World.

The Memorial services in the First Presbyterian church Sunday night drew a congregation that filled nearly every seat. The two G. A. R. posts attended in a body. Muskets were stacked at the front of the church, flags were draped, and rare flowers were arranged in such tasteful profusion as to warrant the belief that June was in town in advance.

The sermon of the Rev. C. E. Herring was interesting and powerful. The text was Deuteronomy iv 6, and the topic the ideal of nations.

Someone had said warfare was the natural condition of man, and War was undoubtedly one of the ideals of a great people, but it was not the greatest ideal, for Peace was a greater, and the most beautiful ideal of all was the universal brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God. That ideal was being accomplished in America, God's favorite nation, and God's opportunity for reorganizing the people of the world.

Glowing tribute was paid to the Grand Army men, and matchless eloquence was expended in recounting great deeds of great men of the past. The sermon was full of classic references.

The singing of the evening was of appropriate selections, all joining vigorously and patriotically in "America" at the close of the delightful services.

More Building Improvements.

John D. Runyon and Chas. H. Hand have just bought the house and lot at the corner of Sixth and Sycamore streets, and will move the old house back on Sycamore street and build a block of seven brick tenements of seven rooms each that will rent for $16 a month.

Beaten Again.

The West End A. C. of Somerville, went to Pennington Saturday, and were beaten by the Seminary team by the score of 6 to 4. Weak batting lost the game for the West Ends.

"I Owe my Life to You."

That is a strong statement.

Yet exactly what Miss Gertrude Sickler, of Wilton, N. J., has written to Mrs. Pinkham.

She says:—

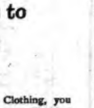
"I suffered terribly with suppressed and painful menstruations. Doctors could only keep me from having fits each month by giving me morphine. This continued until I was completely prostrated.

"My father at last got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which at once gave me relief. It did what the doctors could not—cured me. I never have any trouble now, and have no dread of the coming month.

"I owe my life to you. Oh! if other suffering women would try your valuable medicine they would bless you as I do."

All druggists sell it. Address in confidence, LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., LYNN, MASS.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, 25 cents.



An Open Letter From Clothing Builders to Clothing Buyers.

We make Clothing, you buy it. You buy Clothing ready made because it is cheaper.

There are different kinds of ready made. Have you ever investigated how different?

We show you the best that's made, the tailor made, the kind the tailor would make you to order.

In many instances you'll not be able to notice the difference in make between ours and theirs, but the difference in price will open your eyes.

The tailor's prices are about double ours and he furnishes you no better style, fit, finish, trim of fabric.

Why his big price?

He makes for the few: we for thousands. The wise and knowing are wearing OUR SUPERIOR CLOTHING and saving money.

See our grand line of SPRING SUITS between $10 and $20.

MC GREGOR & CO.,

850 and 852 Broad Street,

NEWARK, N. J.

Adapt Yourself To Spring.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball

807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,

Newark, N. J. 3 22 3m-c

Easy Leaders.

We sell Spring Suits and Overcoats that are mistaken every hour in the day along the treet for merchant-tailored garments. With good reasons, too. Luxurious they are and shapely, and no mark of ready-made on them, except the prices—$10, $12, $13, $15, $18, $20.

Do you know our success in Boy's and Little Boy's Suits? Especial suits of our own design and make at especial prices. Parents will find that we have the largest selection, the nobbiest styles and sell at lowest possible prices. Boy's Suits $5 to $12. Children's $2 to $10.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,

Newark Clothiers,

779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.

3 23 3m

We Have Now In Stock

The largest and best assortment of

$12 BUSINESS SUITS

that we have ever manufactured. They are the latest styles of Plain and Fancy Cheviots, Cassimere Suitings, Black Thibets, etc., and the most of these styles have never been sold before for less than $15 per suit. Our

$12 BLUE SERGE SUITS

Are made from Indigo Blue Serges, color guaranteed and we recommend these as the most comfortable, serviceable and stylish suits for common wear

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

Near Academy street. 4 20 3m

—ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

Gives Relief at once for Cold in Head. Apply into the Nostrils.—It is Quickly Absorbed. 50c. Druggists or by mail. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

THE LOVE OF HOME

And the ambition to make it not only comfortable, but musical, are deep rooted sentiments in the American heart. There could be no loftier feeling, and we are proud to cater to it.

But many people have a love for home without the ability to make it musical. That is they think they can't. We'd like to show them how they can. It does not cost near so much as you think. Call and see our stock of Pianos and Organs and we are sure we can please you.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY

657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.

REDUCED RATES

FRANK'S

345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY

THE JENNINGS CASE.

Bishop Scarborough May Win—The Counselor Who Obtained the Writ Has Withdrawn from the Case.

"Mr. Marsh, is it so that you have retired from the case of rector Jennings against the Bishop?"

The editor of THE PRESS put that question straight at counselor Craig A. Marsh, Saturday morning.

"Why do you ask?" said Mr. Marsh, in well-assumed surprise. He was told that besides having read about it in the Westfield correspondence of a Newark daily, it was common talk on the street.

"Well", was the retort, "newspaper men are the last people in this world whom one would expect to believe all they hear."

"That's all very well", we persisted, "but one of our authorities had it from Mr. Jennings direct."

"That's a different thing", said the counselor, "if Mr. Jennings has already made the fact public. Did he give the reason?"

"Not exactly; he seemed to regret very much that you would not continue in the case. Have you any objection to giving us the reason for your withdrawal?"

"I would rather not".

"Was it because you lost confidence in the case?"

"Not at all. The chief justice allowed the writ after careful consideration, and the branch court sustained him and refused to dismiss the proceedings, after nearly three hours' argument pro and con, and Mr. Jennings says he can prove every fact alleged in the papers which were presented on his behalf. How could I lose confidence in such a case?"

"Have you had a quarrel with Mr. Jennings?"

"No: we parted on very friendly terms, and he set out out to look for other counsel to whom I agreed to hand over the papers, and render every assistance to enable him to take up the case where I left off."

"Has Mr. Jennings expressed dissatisfaction with the way you handled his case?"

"Well, hardly, considering that he has been successful up to date. No: he has been profuse in his thanks and expressions of appreciation; and that, you know, is highly gratifying to counsel always. No, I will not tell you why I insisted on withdrawing. It is enough, is it not, for me to say that under my contract with Mr. Jennings I had a right to do so, and gave Mr. Jennings notice nearly two months in advance of the opening day of court."

"Suppose Mr. Jennings does not engage other counsel?"

"Well, he might give the necessary notice and take the testimony and argue the case himself, but that would be unusual and risky."

"If he does not do this himself or get some lawyer to do it for him, what will happen?"

"His case would be dismissed from the civil court."

"And then?"

"You must excuse me from discussing that."

"Will you inform the court why you dropped out of the case?"

"Not unless the facts should be misrepresented, and I do not see how anyone can be interested to misrepresent them. This is a matter solely between Mr. Jennings and myself, and he frankly admitted that I have a perfect right legally and morally to retire from the case as I have done. All I fear is that Mr. Jennings will put off engaging other counsel until it is too late. However, that would be his own fault, not mine."

MEEKER GETS OFF EASY.

Only 30 Days Sentence for Forging Rice's Name.

William Meeker, the young man charged with forging the name of contractor Rice, his employer, on a check, pleaded guilty in the Elizabeth court Thursday. The facts showed that it was more the act of a drunken man than of criminal intent, and the prisoner was sent by judge McCormick to the county jail for 30 days.

PLAINFIELD'S BOY BURGLARS.

Jones and Scribner Sent to the Reform School.

Ernest Jones and Herbert Scribner, the Plainfield boys charged with stealing tickets from the Aldene station, pleaded guilty in the court at Elizabeth Friday. They were sentenced to Reform School.

The Pole Matter Compromised.

Joseph Blatz met the Street Railway company, Friday, and they removed the pole in front of his saloon to one side of his property. He has also granted them the privilege of putting poles on his Front and Somerset property in view of their changing the above pole.

The Railway company did not take out the pole put up in the night until the new pole was set and cemented. Then they took down the pole put up in the night.

The Women Wheelmen Have a Run.

The Plainfield Lady Cyclists had another of their most enjoyable runs yesterday afternoon. Starting from the home of their captain, Miss Fritts, on Park avenue, at 1, they journeyed to Roselle.

Upon their arrival, they stopped at Van Court Inn, where a delightful lunch was served.

The return from Roselle to Fanwood was made in 45 minutes.

The club has 31 members, 24 of which participated in the ride.

Caught on the Track.

A young woman who was on the way to the station, Friday afternoon, had a very narrow escape from a horrible death. She was crossing the tracks near the water pipe when her foot became fastened between the rail and planking, and it was several minutes before she could extricate it. A minute later an empty coal train went thundering by on the same track.

Recent Real-Estate Transfers.

Rebecca Stewart and others, by Joseph B. Coward their attorney in fact, to Lewis M. Bird, North Plainfield borough, $450.

Daniel H. Terry and wife to Sarah M. Finney, North Plainfield borough, $1,000.

Elizabeth J. von Minden to Rein P. F. von Minden, North Plainfield, $1.

A Child Knows
the Comfort, Luxury and Healthfulness of a FERRIS'
GOOD SENSE
CORSET WAIST.

[illegible] Ideas of HEALTHFUL Dress are PERFECTED in this WAIST.
Worn by over a million Mothers, Misses and Children. [illegible]
Sold by all Leading Retailers. Send for Circular.
FERRIS BROS. Manufacturers and Patentees, 341 Broadway, New York.

MISS VANDEVENTER'S
NEW STORE, 132 Central Ave.
CHILDREN'S OUTFITS
Made to order. A full line of
GOOD SENSE

WHY YOU SHOULD SIGN.

Cogent Reasons for Favoring the Proposed Sewerage System.

The owners of outlying, as distinguished from central, property, should be among the heartiest supporters of the proposed drainage system. We refer to property beyond the immediate range of the system—property in streets or sections of the town that would not be sewered this year, or next year, but possibly in the future.

1. The owners of such property should sign the petitions, because sewers will unmistakably promote the growth of Plainfield, thus causing population to overflow to or at least towards their property. Without sewers Plainfield has about reached its maximum; for there will soon be many sewered suburban towns, both large and small, and the commuter who has his eyes open will prefer to establish a home in one of these towns.

2. The owners of outlying property should favor the proposed system because of the extreme economy of its construction. It is to cost less than $100,000. If the present plan is rejected or neglected, the next lot of sewer-projectors in this city may bring in a tide-water scheme that would involve a large issue of bonds and heavy taxation.

3. Three-fifths of the cost of the proposed system will be collected from benefited lot-owners, thus lessening the burden of the proprietors of outlying property—reducing his sewer tax, in other words, to a minimum. The local assessment feature of the act of 1890 was evidently inserted in the interest of non-central property; and the system now before the people of this city is in strict accord with that statute.

The owners of unimproved or outlying property cannot reasonably or justly expect better terms than the pending proposition offers. Sewers are needed in order to promote the health and prosperity of Plainfield, in that way increasing the value of outlying property; and yet the greater part of their cost is to be collected from property directly benefited. All in all the cost will be found to be equitably apportioned, and the people of no section of the city have just grounds for complaint. For the common good all should step up and sign the petitions.

ANOTHER C. E. SOCIETY.

First Baptist Young People Do as Miss Spangenberg Advises.

Every member of Christian Endeavor, both in this city and throughout the State, will be pleased to learn of the action of the young people of the First Baptist church, Friday night, in voting to become a Christian Endeavor Society.

Miss Spangenberg was present, and gave a most interesting talk on the subject that is so dear to her. Her remarks throughout were especially adapted to the needs of this young people, and her arguments were so convincing that her hearers were unable to raise any objections. After her talk, the matter was discussed, during which Dr. Yerkes spoke a few words, favoring the movement.

The president, Robert Love, then read the call of the meeting, stating its objects. It was received, and a motion was made that they proceed to vote. Ballots were distributed and every active member present voted. After the same was counted it was found that only two had voted in opposition, and it was therefore carried.

The chair was then declared vacant, and by nomination George H. Batchelor was made chairman.

A nominating committee was elected as follows: John McLaughlin, Irving Brady, R. E. Pease, Harold Serrell, Miss Linda Butler.

Committee on constitution and by-laws—Harold Serrell, G. H. Batchelor, Miss Lizzie Smalley, Miss Minnie Young, Robt. Love.

They were instructed to report in two weeks, after which the meeting adjourned.

Pertinent Questions.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will the sewer advocates answer the following:

If the sewer is put in the city of Plainfield, after the property-owners pay their portion, do they have to pay for the tap, and how much per year do we have to pay for the privilege of connecting with the sewer? Also who pays for the water to flush the sewers?

TAXPAYER.

The best builders use only the best materials—lumber, brick, lime, cement, sand—whatever goes into the construction of a building; they employ only the best workmen and pay the best wages; they get better prices for their work than their less careful competitors, and always get the best contracts; they paint their work with manufactured by the "Old Dutch Process" of slow corrosion, and with one of the following standard brands:

Strictly Pure White Lead

"Atlantic" "Bradley"
"Brooklyn" "Jewett"
"Ulster"

For colors they use the National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. These colors are sold in small cans, each being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead the desired shade.

These brands of Strictly Pure White Lead and National Lead Co.'s Tinting Colors, are for sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.,
1 Broadway, New York.

The Press.
(NEW YORK.)
FOR 1893.

Has a larger daily circulation than any other Republican newspaper in America.

DAILY. SUNDAY. WEEKLY.

The Aggressive Republican Journal of the Metropolis.

A Newspaper for the Masses.

Founded December 1, 1887.

Circulation Over 125,000 Copies DAILY.

The most remarkable newspaper success in New York.

THE PRESS IS A NATIONAL NEWSPAPER

Cheap news, vulgar sensations and trash find no place in the columns of THE PRESS.

THE PRESS has the brightest editorial page in New York. It sparkles with points.

THE PRESS SUNDAY EDITION is a splendid paper, covering every current topic of interest.

THE PRESS WEEKLY EDITION contains all the good things of the Daily and Sunday editions.

As An Advertising Medium
THE PRESS has no superior in New York.

THE PRESS
Within the reach of all. The Best and Cheapest Newspaper in America.

Daily and Sunday, one year,	$5.00
" " 6 months,	2.50
" " one month,	.45
Daily only, one year,	3.00
" four months,	1.00
Sunday, one Year,	2.00
Weekly Press, one year,	1.00

Send for THE PRESS circular.
Samples free. Agents wanted everywhere. Liberal commissions. Address,
THE PRESS, 38 Park Row

In for a Feast.

Little Dick—I'm goin' down to aunty's to-morrow, if mamma will let me.

Little Dot—What do you want to go there for?

Little Dick—Aunty said in her letter that her house was so full of rats and mice that cake wasn't safe anywhere.—Good News.

A Practical Illustration.

Kingley—You have no idea, old man, what can be done with one of those chafing dishes.

Witherby—Yes, I have too. You see this lump on the top of my head?

Kingley—Yes.

Witherby—Well, that's what my wife did with one this morning.—Judge.

Reduced to a Science.

Amateur Landlady—How do you manage to keep your boarders with such poor accommodations and so little to eat?

Mrs. Slimdiet (confidently)—I let them run a week or two behind with their bills, and they never catch up.—N. Y. Weekly.

Rather Hard.

Bright Boy—How is Hawaii pronounced?

Teacher—Um—ask your father, and then you'll remember.

Bright Boy—I did, and he told me to ask you, so I'd remember. Guess it must be awful hard to remember.—Good News.

On the Other Side of the Dialect.

They're very curious, that they be,
These Bostony folk;
They hang around to get from me
The very words I spoke;
'N' wen I spoke from my own head
They laf'd and called me "boor,"
But when they'd written wot I said
They called it "literoor."
—Kate Field's Washington.

Evidence.

She—There goes George. He said he was going to propose to her at eight o'clock, sharp. Do you think she accepted him?

Arthur—I guess not. I called there at five minutes past eight and he had gone.—Life.

[illegible]

Primus—They say Parsons showed rare presence of mind when the fire broke out.

Secundus—He did. He wouldn't let the neighbors save any of his furniture.—Life.

A Thinker.

Head of Firm—That new clerk seems to have lots of spare time on his hands.

Manager—No, that isn't it; he's got so much to do that he spends half the day scheming how to get through.—N. Y. Herald.

Disinterested.

She—I hope it isn't my hundred thousand that you're after, George?

Mr. Grasper—Believe me, no, darling. I'd marry you if you had only ninety thousand.—Judge.

Nepotistic Privileges.

Egbert—Where are you working now?

Cholly—Gweat heavens! I'm not wohking. I'm employed in me fathah's bank.—Chicago Record.

A Slothful Debtor.

Bigeye—The only debt I owe is the debt to nature.

Cynicus—Well, why don't you pay it? You might get a discount off for prompt payment.—Puck.

A Sure Sign.

Hobbs—He's madly in love.

Cobbs—Why do you think so?

Hobbs—Look at the variety of neckties he wears.—Chicago Record.

The Dernier Ressort.

"Yes," said the marchioness of Begadzir, as she furtively dried a tear, "my son, Lord De Massy, has run through his entire fortune; in fact, there is left to him only one loophole of escape from absolute ruin, and of that he must at once avail himself."

"What is it?" asked Lord Zavus, to whom she was detailing her woes.

"That is to cross the Atlantic and marry an American heiress."—N. Y. Press.

He Probably Didn't Know.

Little Boy—You come to see sister every Thursday night, don't you?

Young Man—Well—er—yes, about.

"How did you find out about Thursdays?"

"Thursdays?"

"Yes. How did you know?"

"Know what?"

"Why, how did you know Thursday was the only night sister had vacant?"—Good News.

Injustice.

It's really rather funny,
In congressional debates,
That the state of Matrimony
Is not mentioned with its mates.
For surely none
Deny it's one
Of the United States.
—Judge.

A False Charge.

Magistrate—What is the charge?

Officer—Carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Prisoner—'Tis false, your honor. I have no deadly weapon. It was only a French dueling pistol.—N. Y. Weekly.

To Be Dismissed.

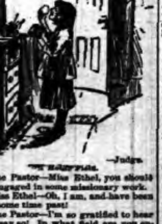
"Our French cook must go, my dear," said Mr. Jones. "My digestion is thoroughly American, and it can't understand those French dishes we are getting every night."—Harper's Bazar.

Sooner Than Expected.

Tom Bigbee—When does your marriage with Miss Goldbug come off?

Hoffman Howes—It's off now.—Puck.

SHE HAS HER MOTHER'S COMPLEXION



—Judge.

[illegible]

The Pastor—Miss Ethel, you should be engaged in some missionary work.

Miss Ethel—Oh, I am, and have been for some time past!

The Pastor—I'm so gratified to hear you say so! In what field are you engaged?

Miss Ethel (proudly)—I'm teaching my parrot not to swear.—Puck.

A Considerate Debtor.

Collector—When are you going to pay this bill? I can't be coming here every day in the week.

Debtor—Well, what day could you come on, conveniently?

"I could call on Saturday."

"All right; from now on I shall expect you every Saturday."—Texas Siftings.

A Commendable Ambition.

Old Gentleman—What would you like to be when you grow up?

Boy—I'd like to be a bricklayer.

"That's a commendable ambition. Why would you like to be a bricklayer?"

"'Cause there's so many days when bricklayers can't work."—Good News.

Like a New York Boarding House.

Teacher—Prometheus was chained by Jupiter to a rock, and every day two vultures fed on his liver. What are you laughing about, Tommy?

Tommy—Nothing, except I was just thinking how tired the poor vultures must have got having liver for dinner every day.—Texas Siftings.

Found Wanting.

"Will you give me $18 for that cyclopedia and take it back?"

"Take it back? Why, man, you gave me $25 [illegible] not ten days ago!"

"I know it, but I've looked [illegible]

MESSENGERS OF WAR.

Homing Pigeons to Be Used in Military Service.

Experiments with the Birds on the Sea Coast—How the Messages Are Prepared for Transmission.

Considerable interest has been aroused lately among naval officers on the subject of using homing pigeons as messengers to shore stations while at sea, writes a Hampton Roads correspondent of the Boston Transcript. This has grown out of a series of successful experiments carried on by the cadets of the United States naval academy at Annapolis under the direction of Prof. H. Marion. The cotes at Annapolis were established by the cadets about two years ago, and birds of the best breeds were procured and carefully trained. Last summer experiments were carried on during the annual practice cruise of the United States steamer Constellation. Birds were released on the voyage down Chesapeake bay, and in every case they delivered their message safely at Annapolis. One of these messages was an important dispatch to the superintendent of the academy. The birds were afterward used successfully at sea, in some cases being liberated at a distance of one hundred miles from land.

The experiments were extended to teaching the pigeons to fly from the shore to the ship; a cote was established on board, and a number of young birds were placed in it. When in port they were taken out in boats and afterward on shore, and they soon learned to find their way to the cote; before the end of the cruise they were left on shore and liberated after the ship had sailed, and they reached the ship when she was several miles out from the shore. It is hoped that these experiments may lead to a series of more extended ones to be carried on by the government, for so far everything has been done at the expense of those interested in the matter at Annapolis and elsewhere. It is proposed that a government messenger pigeon service be established and maintained, with main stations at the following naval stations: Portsmouth, N. H.; Boston, Mass.; Newport, R. I.; New London, Conn.; Brooklyn, N. Y.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Washington, D. C.; Annapolis, Md.; Norfolk, Va.; Port Royal, S. C.; Key West, Fla., and Pensacola, Fla., and with secondary stations at Portland, Me.; Wilmington, Del.; St. Augustine, Fla.; Juniper Inlet, Fla.; Tampa, Fla., and Galveston, Tex. This would provide the entire Atlantic and gulf coasts with stations that could be reached within two hundred and forty miles from shore, which distance is taken as the greatest flight of a pigeon at sea. This might be extended to the Pacific and lake coasts.

The advantages of such a service, both in time of war and in time of peace, are obvious; the average speed of a pigeon is about thirty miles an hour, and timely notice might be given by a gunboat of the approach of a hostile squadron; a vessel disabled might send for assistance; in a thousand ways these birds can be of great service. A number of European governments have had similar services in operation for some years and they are coming to be recognized as a necessary part of the signal service of a nation having an extensive seacoast. A message to be sent by a pigeon is written on fine tissue paper, which is then carefully rolled up and placed in a quill, which is sealed at the end; this quill is fixed to one of the tail feathers of the bird with copper wire; the pigeon must not be released in storm, thick fog or heavy rain, and if he has more than a hundred miles to fly he must be released before noon. The bird will fly for the nearest land and then he will find his way to his cote.

GETTING RID OF TENANTS.

An "Ejectment Company" Which Conducts a Novel Business in Boston.

Boston has an "ejectment company" which removes tenants "at reasonable rates." Ninety per cent. of the ejected are found among the poor. "The first thing I ask a client," said the manager of this novel business to a New York Evening Post man, "is whether the obnoxious tenant has a lease. About ninety-nine in one hundred of the poorer classes do not. All right, then, he gives me a lease of the premises—and remember, it isn't a bogus lease, because the law says a lease may be made out for the purpose of gaining possession of a place in this manner. Then we give the tenants notice. They usually laugh at it and tear it up. All right. We wait awhile, then we serve a writ on them. That usually does the work, although they usually stay until the last minute. If they do not go we issue an execution, and that gives us power to take the roof off the house. Sometimes it is almost necessary to do it, but we usually manage to get them out without much trouble. But if it is necessary to use force we do not hesitate to do it. I always take enough men along—a whole regiment if necessary." The causes of ejectment are given as nonpayment of rent, bad habits and "children." The company consists of a manager and a constable, the latter a man of "experience," who is very proud of the wiles he uses to clear premises of unfortunate and refractory tenants. "There was a case down at the west end," he said the other day, "where I got an old woman out of a place where she had lived over thirty years; I don't suppose one man in a hundred could have done it without getting it into the papers, yet nobody ever heard of it. Why? Simply because I went about it in the easiest way possible; treated her just the same as I would have treated my own mother. She shed a good many tears over it, and it took her a long time to realize that she had to go. She was half blind and got around with difficulty. However, I got her out. It was a pretty delicate job and cost the owner of the house thirty-seven dollars."

A Lady's Charms.

The marchioness of S. was very proud of her pretended beauty, and, in order to enhance her charms she was in the habit of using cosmetics, beauty patches and other recently-discovered embellishments offered by the charlatans of the day. M. de Richemont said to her one day, in his jocular manner: "Madam, I discover fresh charms in you every day."—Il Nano Rosso.

Not In It.

"I desire," said the advertiser to the editor of Society Side-Lights, "to have this set in your regular type, to appear next to pure reading matter."

"Sorry to have to refuse you," replied the autocrat, "but what you ask is impossible."

"Don't you take reading notices?"

"Yes; but we have no pure reading matter."—N. Y. Herald.

A New Flavor.

They were nearing an ice-cream saloon and the young man casually remarked: "They say that ice-cream is full of tyrotoxicon this year."

"Oh! is it?" she gushed. "That must be a new flavor, and I should like to taste it. I'm about sick of all the old flavors." And the young man hadn't twenty cents in his pocket!—Demorest's Magazine.

Discouraging News.

Little Johnny—I'd a good deal rather have you callin' on sister than Mr. Nicefello.

Sister's Admirer (delighted)—Would you? Why?

Little Johnny—'Cause whenever Mr. Nicefello calls she stuffs up the keyhole.—Good News.

Tipped It Over.

Pipkin—It was very kind of you to give me that Jonah tip on the races yesterday.

Potts—I thought it would surely win, and meant to do you a good turn.

Pipkin—You succeeded. I gave it to a fellow I wanted to get even with.—Judge.

A Daughter of Eve.

She—There are moments when I wish that I were a man.

He—When, for example?

She—Whenever I see a jeweler's [illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. Livermore—Now, I think that a nice chuck steak is more tender and much juicier than a sirloin.

Mr. Feeder—Yes, I have known a great many people who preferred that cut to any other.

Mrs. Livermore (decidedly pleased)—And they were good judges, I suppose.

Mr. Feeder—Oh, yes; they all kept boarding houses.—Life.

Men, Poor Men!

Mrs. John P. Cox (irritably)—Here I'm dressed and waiting, with a dress that cost you nearly a hundred dollars and a hat that cost thirty-five! I should think you would be anxious to get out and let people see how well your wife is dressed instead of dilly-dallying around in this way. What are you doing, anyhow?

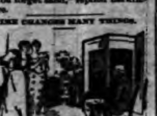
Mr. Cox (from next room, meekly)—One moment, dear. I'm trimming my cuffs.—Puck.

Something He Forgot.

"No," said Mr. Peck, the grocer, gloomily, "there's no money to be made in the grocery business now. Take sugar, for instance. There's nothing in sugar."

"You forget sand," replied Larkin.—Judge.

TIME CHANGES MANY THINGS.



"But, papa, you said you were in no hurry to have your girls married."

"Yes, my dear, but that was ten years ago."—Harper's Bazar.

An Accomplishment.

Music Teacher—I am sorry, Miss Highlyfe, but after trying your voice I cannot advise you to persist in taking vocal lessons. You can never become a singer.

Miss Highlyfe—But I never wanted to. You ought at least to be able to develop my voice so I can converse with ease in an opera box.—Chicago Record.

Her Point of View.

Husband—Do you know that every time a woman gets angry she adds a new wrinkle to her face?

Wife—No, I did not; but if it is so, I presume it is a wise provision of nature to let the world know what sort of a husband a woman has.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Stamp Problem.

"It's a shame," said the economical wife. "I thought I had a splendid idea, but these new postage stamps are too small!"

"Too small!" echoed her husband.

"Yes. I wanted to use them for window shades."—American Industries.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Protected throughout by the Interlocking Switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 16, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

9.28 a. m.—COLUMBIAN EXPRESS daily. Pullman vestibule sleeping cars to Chicago and Cincinnati, dining, smoking and and vestibule passenger coaches from New York to Chicago. Arrive Chicago 10 a. m., Cincinnati 4.23 a. m., Indianapolis 7.25 a. m. next day.

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

3.25 p. m. week-days, with through Buffet parlor car and day coaches.

[illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, MAY 14, 1893

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

[illegible]

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, etc.

[illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 11,000 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—49 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address.
Aldine Hotel, The	Park av and 5th st
Alston, C J	12 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave
Ackerman, Mrs. J. H.	23 West 7th street
Adams, Dr D C	46 Grove st
Brokaw, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac H	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	5th and Union sts
Barkalow & Dunn	15 North ave.
Boice, W. C., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central av.
Bedell, John	Central ave. and 9th st.
Beerbower, J B	Park av and 3d st
Berg, Jos F, M D	15 E 6th st
Board of Education	[illegible]
Booth, E H	22 Madison ave
	6th & Liberty, 6th & Monroe
Clark, E B	3 Waynewood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Clawson, James T	Richmond and Front sts
Constitutionalist Office	5 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr J E	Watchung and Westervelt aves
Cox, Rowland	[illegible]
Chapman, Mrs. F. A.	9 Third Place
Cruikshank, S. A.	120 Carlton avenue
Carman, J H, M D	40 Somerset st
Chase, B F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (G H Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
Daily Press	3 North ave.
Depew, Mrs. E S	18 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	30 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 6th st & Park av
Day, B M	Rockview ave
Demarest, P E	27 Park av
Dumont, John B	[illegible] E 7th st
Decker, T—pay station	Westfield, N J
DeGraff, James	12 E 6th st
Doane, T O—Chief P F D	40 W 4th st
Dollmer, B L	121 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 4th st.
Evening News, T.W. Morrison, Editor	[illegible]
Engine No 1	West 3d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo C	27 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J	20 West Seventh st
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR. Depot
French, F E & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	73 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	30 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	4 W 7th st
French, C Frank	40 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	26 W 6th st
Goddard, C E	17 Third Place
Griffen, A M	13 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	[illegible]
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 6th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
[illegible], L	31 & 33 Somerset street
[illegible], E. A	107 Sycamore avenue
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	45 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas	141 Front street
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave
Higgins, M. A	76 East 6th st—50 North ave
Hatfield, John E	204 South 2d st—21 Park av
Harper, Francis C	120 Madison av
[illegible], C	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	29 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L	22 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	13 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	5th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	66 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 9th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Ring	[illegible] Broadway
Laire, J F & Co	3 W Front st
Linke, Frank	45 W Front st
Lounsberry, F C	[illegible]
Myers, J E	[illegible] 7th st
McGee, Henry A	[illegible]
McGee, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J G	10 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A	20 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. R	207 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	48 Grove st
Milliken, E F	120 Central av
Morrison, T W	11 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	46 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	3 Front st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood
Newhall, Henry B	10 E 7th st.
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
[illegible], Jr., Thos B	Rockview ave
Plainfield Gaslight Co	40 East Fourth st
Plainfield Electric Light Co	Madison avenue
Plainfield [illegible] Co	3d and Washington sts
Police Station—Chief's office	9 Park ave
Police Station	Park ave and RR.
Potter C J Jr	7th and Division sts.
Potter Press Works	South ave.
Probasco, Dr J B	61 Front st.
Perkins, Edward C	Central ave. and 8th st
Pope & Co. J. C	6 East Front st
Pittis, Thomas	134 Central av
Pond Mach Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierce Hardware Co	43 W Front st
Runyon, F W	1 Front st—Central Times
Reed, Chas A	37 Myrtle ave
Randolph, Henry C	Broadway
[illegible], L A	60 Broadway
Reynolds, H F	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. F	Washington avenue
Roberts, D S	17 North avenue
Rockfellow, Geo W	[illegible]
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	40 Madison ave
Rushmore, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
Reeve, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Sycamore aves.
Rankin, H G	4th st
Runyon, Chas W	Park ave
Rice, R. W. & Co	[illegible] Emily and Duer sts
Randolph, L W	Front st
Rogers, D W	W 4 st
Rogers, H P Jr	24 Westervelt ave
Stover, E W	20 east 5th st
Serrell, Lemuel W	Front st. and Plainfield ave
Suydam, C J	40 Front street
Shaw, E J	Front st. opp. Park ave.
Serrell, A S	Prospect ave.
Smith, W P	Belvidere av., Netherwood
Shephard, A D	Fanwood
Smith, Jas A	12 W Front st
Scott, Wolter & Co	South ave
Smith, Chas A	Spring st., Westfield, N J
Stelle, Irving G	[illegible]
Terrill & Cole	16 E Front st
Thompson, A. D	20-22 North av
Talmadge, Henry P (Res)	Netherwood.
Thickstun, Jno A	Madison av
Titsworth, Jos M	120 W. 7th st.
Tomlinson, Dr T H	La Grande and N B'dwy
Tobin & Enander	51 North av
Tracy, J Evarts	8th and Division st
Thorn, Alex	27 Somerset st
Tweedy, C. B	11 Crescent avenue
Townsend, Samuel	28 Rockview av
Thompson, A D	Prospect ave
Telegraph Office	Plainfield station
Thorn, E	112 W Front st
United States Express Co	5 North ave
Union Co Country Club	Cor [illegible] & Arlington
Van Sickle W. J	10 North ave
Wharton, Clifton	17 Central av
Wollman, G	West Seventh street
Wadsworth, W E	9th and Liberty sts
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot
[illegible], J F	W 6th st., near Grand ave
Waters, E, Ass't Chief	3d st near Washington
Westfield, pay station	Westfield, N J
Wotherspoon O G	146 E Front st

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 3 doors above Peace street.

MR. JOHN E. STEVENS, Horse-shoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, [illegible] and Interfering Horses. [illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
[illegible]

SMALLPOX IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Disbelief in and Opposition to Vaccination Manifested by Influential People.

About twenty years ago there was a severe epidemic of smallpox in England and America. In recent months the disease has been causing alarm in many parts of England and Scotland. Up to the middle of January it was prevailing—though in general the cases are of a mild type—in about fifty localities, including Liverpool, Manchester, Edinburgh and Glasgow. In the last city thirty-four new cases occurred within ten days previous to the report. The story is a serious one at this especial season of the year. No newly improvised hospitals can be expected to stay the spread of the disease. England contends with the pest at a disadvantage. Many persons of influence do not believe in vaccination, write against it and oppose it in every way they can. The opposition has grown greatly during the long absence of the epidemic. The vaccination laws are practically in suspense. In some districts many children have never been vaccinated. Even where the letter of the law has been complied with vaccination has been done in a very lax and untrustworthy way, and there has been an almost entire absence of revaccination. Again, the large class of tramps and the many filthy lodging houses into which they crowd at night greatly aid in the spread of the disease. At Manchester a man was found suffering from smallpox at a large lodging house. The inspector made arrangements for his removal, but as soon as the officer's back was turned the patient bolted from the house, and when he was captured some hours later he was believed to have infected a considerable number of his fellows. If the epidemic reaches this country, we shall not expect it to spread very extensively, for the laws respecting vaccination are intelligently carried out. Still, the large immigrant population will need looking after and lodging houses will need rigid inspection. Revaccination should be properly attended to. The authorities also should promptly provide means for the isolation of patients.

AN ENEMY OF THE SPIDER.

The Ichneumon Fly of Ceylon and Its Strange Method of Reproduction.

A writer quoted by Leisure Hour gives an interesting account of the curious habits of the ichneumon fly of Ceylon, the natural enemy of the spider. This insect is green in color, and in form resembles a wasp, with a marvelously thin waist. It makes its nest of well-worked clay, and then goes out on a hunting expedition. Its victims are invariably spiders of various kinds, but all are subject to the same mode of treatment. A scientific sting injects some poison which effectually paralyzes the luckless spider, who is then carried off to the nest and there fastened with a dab of moist clay. Another and another victim is brought to this chamber of horrors. Then the prescient mother ichneumon fly proceeds to deposit her eggs, one in the body of each spider, which can just move its legs in a vague, aimless manner, but can offer no resistance. This done, the fly returns to her work as a mason. She prepares more clay and builds up the entrance to this ghastly cell. Then she commences a new cell, which she furnishes in like manner, and closes; then she adds yet another cell, and so proceeds until her store of eggs are all provided for, and her task in life being accomplished she dies, leaving her evil brood to hatch at leisure. In due time these horrid little maggots come to life and find themselves cradled in a larder of fresh meat. Each poor spider is still alive, and his juices afford nutriment for the ichneumon-grub, until it is ready to pass into its chrysalis stage, thence to emerge as a winged fly, fully prepared to carry out the traditions of its ancestors with regard to spiders and fulfill the purpose for which they have been created, according to ichneumon belief.

Pitcairn Islanders.

Pitcairn island, where the descendants of the mutineers of the bounty live in seclusion and primitive contentment, boasts of being absolutely free from the vice of drinking. The prohibition laws there touch not only liquors but tobacco. A shipwrecked sailor named Coffin, who was cast ashore there a few months ago, had managed to save his dearly cherished pipe and pouch of tobacco. The chief magistrate of the colony promptly informed him that he must give up smoking if he wanted to enjoy their hospitality, and when he refused he was so effectually boycotted that he fled this ocean paradise by the first passing ship. Capt. Bailey, of the American merchantman Vigilant, from Japan, brings this story. He stopped at the island and traded trinkets for food with the natives, and found them happy and prosperous, though not a drop of rain had fallen there for two years, and the volcano over which their island lies has been giving ominous indications of activity.

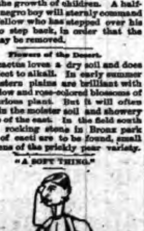
Negro Superstitions.

Two seemingly harmless things excite the fear of the southern negro. One is the cracking of the finger joints; the other is to be stepped over as he lies prone upon the ground. The cracking of the finger joints seems to suggest to the negro imagination the rattling of a skeleton's bones, while to be stepped over is regarded as likely to bring bad luck to grown folks and to check the growth of children. A half-grown negro boy will sternly command a playfellow who has stepped over his body to step back, in order that the spell may be removed.

Flowers of the Desert.

The cactus loves a dry soil and does not object to alkali. In early summer the western plains are brilliant with the yellow and rose-colored blossoms of this curious plant. But it will often thrive in the moister soil and showery climate of the east. In the field south of the rocking stone in Bronx park dozens of cacti are to be found, small specimens of the prickly pear variety.

"A SOFT THING."



—Life.

With Golden Chains.

Marlow—So Bessie has actually allowed herself to marry that old miser, eh?

Ethel (sighing)—Yes, emulating Andromeda, you know.

Marlow—How so?

Ethel—She is chained to the rocks!—Town Topics.

Barred Out.

Mrs. Celluloide—Why doesn't your husband go to church with you?

Mrs. Collerette—He couldn't afford any new clothes, and he looks too shabby beside my new wrap.—N. Y. Herald.

Couldn't Tell the Difference.

Customer—Waiter bring me another order of this limburger cheese.

Waiter—Why, that's butter.

Customer—Well then bring me an order of carbolic acid.—Brooklyn Life.

Looking Up.

"I expect to fight this chills and fever," said the bilious-looking but determined man, swallowing another dose of quinine, "to the bitter end."—Chicago Tribune.

[illegible]

[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS | MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.
3-26-3

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

[illegible]

Sister Theysay—I grievously regret you are to leave our church, dear pastor.

Pastor Peaceful—You should not grieve. No doubt the Lord will send you a better servant to fill my place.

Sister Theysay—I have no such hope Of the last thirteen pastors we have had every one has been worse than the other.—Texas Siftings.

A Proper Young Man.

Paterfamilias—Young man, the time has come when I must demand an explanation. Why do you pay such attention to my daughter without asking my approval?

Young Man—I thought it would be cheeky, you see, to ask your approval when we've been secretly married a year.—Life.

Modern Architecture.

Visitor—What is that heavy, gloomy-looking building over there?

Resident—That is a theater and pleasure resort.

Visitor—And what is the graceful, airy gothic structure to the right?

Resident—That is the jail.—Chicago Record.

Worse Still.

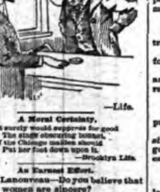
Young Husband—It took you a year to get your trousseau ready, and now at the end of three months you want a new gown.

Mrs. Young Husband—That's nothing. At the end of a year I shall want a new trousseau.—Vogue.

Conceit.

"Within her eyes fresh charms I see,"
Remarked the youth, with raptured air;
"For the nearer that she gets to me,
The more am I, sir, mirrored there."
—Harper's Bazar.

"PUTTING IN HIS TIME."



HOW MUCH YOU WANT ON IT?
MONEY LOANED ON

—Life.

A Moral Certainty.

It surely would suppress for good
The stage obscuring bonnet,
If the Chicago maiden should Put her foot down upon it.
—Brooklyn Life.

An Earnest Effort.

Mrs. Lanouveau—Do you believe that society women are sincere?

Mr. Riches—Sometimes they are.

Mrs. Lanouveau—When?

Mr. Riches—They are always sincere when they are trying to match silks at a dry goods counter.—Demorest's Magazine.

How He Discovered It.

Her Father (sternly)—Genevieve, you are engaged to some young man.

Herself—Oh! father, how did you discover my secret?

Her Father—The gas bill for last month is suspiciously small.—N. Y. Herald.

A Good School.

Surface—I see that nearly all the rich men of to-day began their careers by teaching school.

Deepun—Yes, a man who succeeds in getting along with an average lot of school directors can make his way anywhere.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Small Dividend.

"I hear your venture on the stock exchange was not very successful. Didn't you get anything out of it?"

"Oh, yes, I got experience and the sympathy of my friends."—Chicago Record.

Not a Writer of Tragedy.

Manager—Your play is incomplete; you leave the lovers at the marriage altar, with nothing to indicate their future.

Author—I didn't set up to write tragedy, did I?—N. Y. Herald.

[illegible]

According to the author of "The Realm of the Habsburgs" the nobles of Austria, with some exceptions, of course, are very little given to intellectual pursuits. Count L——, a well-known member of the Herren-haus, hailed a cab and told the driver to take him to Gerold's book store—the principal one in Vienna. Cabby looked puzzled, and frankly confessed that he did not know the shop in question.

"What," said the count, "you pretend to be a Vienna cab-driver and do not know Gerold's?"

Half in apology and half in a tone of [illegible]

Appreciated His Feelings.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitts were out driving. "I wonder," she said, "just what the poor horse's feelings are. It must be just horrid to be driven and dragged around without any idea as to where one is going, except as some one directs."

"I think I can appreciate his feelings," replied Mr. Fitts. "I imagine that he feels just about as I do when you take me out on a shopping trip."—Indianapolis Journal.

Incontestable Evidence.

His Lordship—I fahncy, now, dontcherknow, that the De Peyster Oldingtons are one of your best American families?

McAllister Snobson—Ah! Ya-as. They spend the summer in England and the winter in the Riviera; one of the girls has married a count with sixteen quarterings; another has run off with the family coachman, and two of the sons have fought duels over other men's wives.—Puck.

A Shrewd Business Man.

Harlem Grocer (to young man who has applied for a position)—Are you a married man?

Applicant—No, sir. I am not married.

Grocer—Then you will not do. I prefer to employ married men. They are not in such an all-fired hurry to knock off work in the evenings. They have got through courting.—Texas Siftings.

A Sensible Girl.

He (timidly)—Now that we are engaged, I—I presume I m—may kiss you as much as I please, [illegible] I?

She (encouragingly)—Yes, indeed. Make the most of your time, dear. There's no telling how long an engagement will last nowadays, you know.—Boston Globe.

A Cool Proposition.

Bill Collector—I want this bill paid at once.

Student—How much is it?

"It is five dollars."

"Five dollars? Well, here is a pair of pants worth seven dollars. Hand out my change."—Schalk.

In Good Time.

Old Lady (excitedly)—When is the train due?

Railway Porter—In two hours and forty minutes.

Old Lady (with a sigh of relief)—I am so glad I am not too late!—Demorest's Magazine.

Intercepting the Males.

College Student (nervously)—Did the prima donna get my bouquet?

Stage Doorkeeper—Yes, sir; but that six-foot young feller you see back there got the letter. He's her son.—Demorest's Magazine.

Woman's Work.

"The idea of a woman trying to collect bills!"

"Woman is successful in other branches of business; why not in that?"

"Because woman's work is never dun."—Judge.

Very Soon.

Jasper—No man is ever too old to learn.

Jumpuppe—No, but it is wonderful how soon they all get too old to want to learn.—N. Y. Herald.

Amateur Concert.

At daybreak he gleefully hurried away,
That cat who had caused such distress,
And he murmured: "That concert, I venture to say,
Will be known as a howling success."
—Washington Star.

Easy to Solve.

One Girl—When is a joke not a joke?

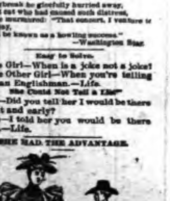
The Other Girl—When you're telling it to an Englishman.—Life.

She Could Not Tell a Lie.

He—Did you tell her I would be there bright and early?

She—I told her you would be there early.—Life.

SHE HAD THE ADVANTAGE.



He—Weally, I can't see anything to laf at, you know.

She—I can.—The Club.

Seen at a Bargain.

Vender—Any sawdust, lady?

Mrs. [illegible]—How much?

Vender—Five cents a bar'l, and I'll [illegible]

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1893. No 23.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

E. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.

AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.

TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

Rates of Advertising

Space	Weeks 1	Weeks 2	Weeks 3	Months 1	Months 2	Months 3	Months 6	Months 12
1 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	1.50	2.00	3.00	4.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

All Electrotypes must be solid metal.

Double cols. 30 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—ja6tf

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 122, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES R. THEISS,
Dentist,
20 West Front street. A new local anaesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—je6tf

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 169, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 4 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 21 E. Front street, corner Elm street. jly16y

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front st. Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 26 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap6y

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed. 12?y1

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.

TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping. Plumbing.
Heater Work. Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6, 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices?
Ever Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers' Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. [illegible]
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

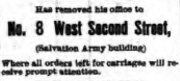
FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.
5-27-y

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.
ebdlf

ESTABLISHED 18 6.
C. E. & J. W. BROWN,
(Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.,)
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.
3-12-tf

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,



Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 76.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.
Mar20tf

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves, Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 13 SOMERSET ST. 9-18-tf

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HANKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York. 3 22 3m e

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for
FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.
3 20 3m

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
30 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N.J. mch9tf

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
[Successor to T. J. Carey.]
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—8 W. FRONT ST.
Large Covered Vans or Trucks. Goods delivered to any part of the U. S. Satisfaction guaranteed. [illegible] P. O. Box 68. [illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.
9aply

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 28 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.
48m6

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 26½ W. Front street, to 42 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally. 4 2 m

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 9 North Avenue, Plainfield.
a9tf

L. M. WOOLSTON, J. P. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE
ap6tf

C. Dickinson
Optician
13 Park Ave
Plainfield N.J.

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be

Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes! Menus!
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything,

WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building),
PLAINFIELD N. J

THEY'LL ALL BE HERE.

THE TIME DRAWS NEAR FOR ROYAL VISITATION.

Good Methodists Will Join Their Firm in Warm Congratulation—Fair Plainfield Land Thrice to Command, for Joyous Celebration—Good Cheer Schell to All Will Tell His Work Throughout the Nation.

Official announcement is made by the Visitor of the great gathering of which these columns have already spoken. On Thursday, June 8,—says that admirable little newspaper of the local Methodists—our church will be opened for such a gathering as it has never held before. The young people's societies, including the Epworth Leagues, Christian Endeavor societies and others, of the Elizabeth district, will hold their semi-annual mass convention here as the guests of the Methodist young people of Plainfield and North Plainfield. The invitation was given at the October convention held in Trinity church, Staten Island, and was unanimously accepted. Elaborate preparations have been made for the convention, and large and enthusiastic delegations are promised from Westfield, Dunellen, Cranford, Roselle, the three churches in Elizabeth, Rahway, Somerville, Staten Island and other places of the district which includes over fifty charges and several thousand organized young people.

A feature of the convention will be the presence and active work of the Rev. E. A. Schell, the brilliant young national secretary of the Epworth League. His address at the evening session should be heard by a church full of people. Dr. R. R. Doherty of the national board of control will also be heard.

The programme will be substantially as follows, though a few changes may be made:

MORNING SESSION.
VINCENT CHAPEL.

9:00- 9:30—Prayer meeting, led by W. M. McGee, Monroe Avenue chapel.
9:30- 9:50—Welcome. Response.
9:50-10:30—Business.
10:30-11:30—"The League at Work for Temperance". Paper by Walter Winans, Dunellen.
11:30-12:00—"Effective Junior League Work". A Symposium.

LUNCH.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

2:00- 2:30—Prayer and Praise Service, led by the Rev. W. C. Kinsie, Dunellen.
2:30- 2:45—Roll Call of Chapters. Brief oral reports.
2:45- 4:15—The Epworth Wheel. Papers and Discussions.
1. Spiritual Work, Miss E. P. Brown, Plainfield.
2. Mercy and Help, Miss Ella Parker, Trinity church, S. I.
3. Literary Work, Mrs. C. X. Hutchinson, Park church, Elizabeth, N. J.
4. Social Work, Miss Fisher, Dunellen.
5. Correspondence.
6. Finance, Mr. Robert Cleveland, St. James church, Elizabeth, N. J.
4:15- 4:45—"The District League", F. J. Lovett, Newark, Corresponding Secretary New Jersey State League.
4:45- 5:15—"Tools and Things". Discussion opened by R. R. Doherty, Westfield, Third Vice-President National League.
5:15- 6:00—"How the League Might Help Us", The Pastors.

COLLATION.

EVENING SESSION,
IN THE CHURCH.

7:45- 8:15—Prayer and Praise Service, led by the Rev. C. X. Hutchinson, Park church, Elizabeth.
8:15-9:00—Address, the Rev. Edwin A. Schell, Chicago, General Secretary.
9:00- 9:30—Farewell Consecration Service.

The arrangements for entertaining the delegates are in charge of a large committee of which Mrs. James R. Joy is chairman, assisted by Miss Georgie Beekman and a delegation from the chapel and Mr. Taft and six young ladies from Grace church. Generous provision has been made, not only for food, but for flowers, decorations and badges.

"It is hoped"—urges pastor Barnes—"that the Methodists of our city, old and young, will show much interest in the young people's work by large attendance upon the several sessions of the convention, and it is especially to be desired that the church be filled at the public evening service. The convention, with its throng of earnest young Christian workers from the neighboring churches, ought to be an inspiration to all the young people of this community. If it should rain that day please make a special effort to come out."

OFF FOR CANADA.

A Leading Plainfield Merchant Takes a Well-Earned Vacation in a Famous Canada Preserve.

Seely Edsall, and Clarence W. Alling of the firm of Baily & Alling, lumber merchants of Newark, with their wives, started to-day for an outing in Canada. Their wives will remain in and about Quebec, while Messrs. Edsall and Alling will procure guides and camping equipments and spend their time in the virgin wilderness, some 200 miles in the interior of the province, among the pine forests, lakes and rivers, fishing for the gamey speckled trout which abound in great numbers and of large size in that section of country. These two sportsmen go at the invitation of the Triton Game and Fishing club of Quebec, which owns and controls a 160,000-acre preserve in that wilderness country. They will be accorded all the privileges of the territory and club, and they anticipate a very enjoyable experience.

Met Two of Them at Once.

Isaac Stelle of Park avenue drove to town Thursday to attend the stereopticon lecture in the First Baptist church. In front of the church he met two of the electric cars going in different directions. His horse began to prance, and nearly ran on the sidewalk. Mr. Stelle jumped from his covered wagon just in time to catch the horse by the head and prevent a runaway. As it was, Mr. Stelle nearly lost control of the horse. Constable Rockafellow rushed out and grabbed the reins near the bridle, and at the same time the second car came thundering along.

How Would Wetumpka Do, for a Change?

It may not be Watchung avenue after all, since mayor Gilbert is said to be opposed to the change. Those at the Peace street end object to the mouthful of Indian nomenclature, and say that the good old name that the Quakers gave suits them well enough. The petitioners for Watchung avenue are the upper-end residents of Broadway. One who ought to know says that the mayor won't sign the ordinance.

GOOD LUCK BETIDE!

HERE ALL MAY RIDE WHO HAVE A WHEEL TO PEDAL.

100 Miles May Had to Smile, or Sadness, as You Trundle—For Everyone Who Rode the Run There'll Be a Handsome Medal.

The coming Century Run as conducted by the Metropolitan Association of Cycling clubs is not a race, but a run, and will bring together the crack riders of New Jersey, New York city and Philadelphia.

The start will be made from Newark the morning of June 24 and the finish will also be there. The route passes through Orange, South Orange, Milburn, Springfield, Plainfield, Dunellen, New Brunswick, Franklin Park and Kingston on the way out. The participants will take dinner at the Nassau House, Princeton, and leaving there at noon will go through Blawenburg, Plainville, Belle Meade, Somerville, Bound Brook, Plainfield, Westfield and Elizabeth on the return trip to Newark.

The wheelmen will travel in two divisions known as the slow division and the fast division. The pace set for the former riders is at the rate of eight miles an hour, while the fast men are expected to travel twelve miles an hour. It will be a meeting of the clans indeed when the boys begin to roll into town on the night of June 23, as they are expected to do. No doubt the Continental Hotel, where they are announced to assemble, will be a scene of jollity, tempered with abstinence from anything injurious, as every man must be in good trim for the next day's work.

At 3 in the morning the slow division men will be routed out; breakfast will be served at 3:15, and the start will be made at 4. The fast men can sleep until 6 and then they must turn out also; their breakfast will be served at 6:15, and at 7 sharp the wheels will be set in motion.

The two divisions will not "get together" until they arrive at Elizabeth on the return trip, which will be at 6:15 p. m., according to schedule time. No "scorching" will be allowed, and anyone riding ahead of the pacemaker will be disqualified.

An entrance fee of fifty cents is to be charged which will pay for badges, prizes and expenses of run. This money must accompany the entry and must be sent to Fred Hawley, secretary, at 40 Gold street, New York, before June 16.

Prizes will be given to the two clubs having the largest number of members completing the run, and individual souvenir medals will be given to those completing the distance, for which $1.25 must be paid. In addition to these awards will be a prize of a handsome hall chair and rack, offered by the Newark Daily Advertiser to the New Jersey club with the largest number of finishers.

This is the second year that the Metropolitan Association of Cycling clubs has had it under its wing, and the arrangements which the association has made for a successful meet are of the most complete order, insuring one of the best runs that has yet been held over this route.

The committee in charge consists of: Frederick Keer, 874 Broad street, Newark, of the Hudson County Wheelmen, chairman; Fred Hawley, Kings County Wheelmen; H. S. Saltonstall, Elizabeth A. C. Wheelmen; W. E. Fuller, Brooklyn Bicycle Club; R. G. Betts, Manhattan Bicycle Club.

HYMENEAL.

Coddington—Robertson.

A home wedding took place Thursday evening at the home of the Rev. David F. Robertson, East Second street, when Miss Jennie Robertson was married to Manning F. Coddington of Mt. Horeb. The bride wore a becoming traveling gown of blue silk. The Rev. Dr. David Ryman, Presiding Elder of the Elizabeth M. E. district, officiated. After the ceremony a bountiful supper was served, and the bridal couple left by train for New York. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. David F. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Clark of New York, the Misses Briggart of Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powelson of Plainfield, Mrs. Sarah Morell of Bergen Point, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Coddington, jr., the Misses Coddington, Miss Addie Winter, the Rev. David Ryman of Elizabeth, and the following from Plainfield: Mrs. D. A. Ryno, Mrs. R. F. Fowler, Mrs. Harriet E. Moore, Mrs. C. Dickinson, Miss Marion Dickinson, Miss Louisa Robertson, Walter Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Coddington.

PUT UP THAT NUMBER!

Don't Be Fooled by Irresponsible Parties Into Making Yourself Liable.

An unauthorized person is said to have told Plainfield householders that "they need n't worry; the ordinance compelling them to put up their new house numbers by June 1 would n't be enforced, as he could n't get around to all the houses by that date". THE PRESS again states emphatically that no one has a right to set at naught this ordinance. The city law has fixed a new number for each house, and every property-owner is liable to arrest and fine if he has n't yet displayed the proper figures. Do n't let anyone fool you with the belief that he alone has a right to supply you with numbers. The city names the number, you buy it where you please, and have it put up as you like.

Endeavorers' State Convention.

An important event in the history of the New Jersey Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor will take place next October in Trenton, when the State convention will be held. The date is already fixed for the 11th. Nearly 2,000 delegates will attend the convention. The programme is now being arranged by the State committee, made up of county society representatives. The sessions will be held in Taylor Opera-house.

The Seventh-Day Baptist Question Again.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The block of granite which was reported as having damaged my truck and slid down a plank to the ground, did no damage to my truck. I merely left it on the ground because the owner of the Babcock building is a Seventh-Day Baptist and prefers not to have his freight delivered on Saturday and if I left it on the car till Monday there would be demurrage to pay.

WILLIAM HAND.

Richardson Owns His Guilt.

Charles Richardson of Fanwood, who is under indictment for stealing a Plainfield bicycle and for false pretenses, retracted his plea of not guilty in the county court at Elizabeth yesterday, pleaded non vult, and will be sentenced Saturday.

BUSTED THE BALCONY.

RUTGERS STUDENTS TAKE POSSESSION OF THE TOWN.

Freshmen Try to Steal the Sophomores' Supper—The Police Suppress Disorder—Almost a Serious Accident at Hotel Grenada.

The Class of '96, Rutgers College, had their first annual dinner in Hotel Grenada Friday night. They came over in stages from New Brunswick, and the Freshmen, with faces blacked, also drove over in an effort to head them off and steal their supper. The two factions came together in town, and a row seemed imminent when the police interfered and threatened arrest.

The boys of '96 went on into the hotel and had a great time, while '97 hung outside. Eleven of the '96 boys were grouped on the lower balcony at the front of the hotel when the frail cast-iron brackets supporting the balcony gave way and the middle of the balcony settled. Fragments of the iron crashed to the pavement, fortunately not striking anyone. The boys saved themselves by jumping through the windows. The owners of the building should be notified by the building inspector to make the balcony secure. It has been very dangerous, and Miller Bros., who only lease the building, should not be held responsible.

The college boys finally got out of town without trouble. There was great sport over the dinner, as may be judged from the following:

MENU.

Little Neck Clams.
POTAGE.
Creme St. Germain.
HORS D'OEUVRES.
Olives. Radishes. Salted Almonds.
POISSON.
Chicken Halibut. Sauce Hollandaise.
Parisian Potatoes.
PETITE BOUCHEE.
Mousse au Jambon.
ENTREE.
Ris-de-Veaux. Sauce Perigueux.
Asparagus. Norman Sauce.
Aspic de foie gras en Grenada.
ROTI.
Capon. Salad Chicoree. Green Peas.
Nesselrode Pouding. Fancy Cake. Bon Bons.
Water Crackers, toasted.
Roquefort Cheese. Fruit. Coffee.

TOAST MASTER—JOHN E. JENNINGS.

Class of '96..........E. J. Meeker
"First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts," etc.
The Faculty..........J. A. Johnston
"Yes, I am proud; I must be proud to see, Men not afraid of God afraid of me."
The Ladies..........A. F. Kilmer
Vivant omnes virgines
Faciles formosae.
"The Dear Departed"..........G. M. Ridgway
"Happy the youth in Euclid's axioms tried, Though little versed in any art beside."
'95..........G. S. Hobart
"Fools are my theme—
Let satire be my song."
Our Athletes..........C. S. Pool
"Men not of words but of actions."
'97..........H. D. W. Tremper
"Me from my mother's breast, a child, Did cruel Fortune tear."
"Old Rutgers"..........W. A. Sherwood
Hail to thee, hail to thee,
Fair Alma Mater;
The hearts of thy children
Are centered in thee.

COMMITTEE.
Walter A. Sherwood,
George M. Ridgway. Howard E. VanNess.
Robert C. Nicholas. Thomas H. Letson.

HOTEL NEW NETHERLAND.

The Latest of New York's Palatial Hostelries Opened Under the Management of P. B. Wright of This City.

General Ferdinand Earle's new hotel at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, New York, built with a few of the Astor millions, was formally opened to the public yesterday, under the management of Peter B. Wright, of this city. It is called Hotel New Netherland, and is the latest of the great metropolis's palatial hotels of which the Waldorf was, until yesterday, far beyond all.

General Earle's new hotel was, and will be, viewed only by comparison with the latter, because the New Netherland is the Waldorf's only rival. Yet in some things—noticeably the public office and main dining room—the former is unquestionably superior in tone and effect. Especially is one most impressed with a sentiment of gratification by the delightful combination of wrought and polished bronze with onyx, and the dull gray carving into the polished pink numidian marble, both of which novel treatments are lavishly used on the first floor.

The floor above is entirely devoted to two bridal suites and three parlors, in such varied styles as rococo, Moorish, Romanesque and an enchanting combination of Italian and French renaissance though softer than either. Elaborate furnishing has been indulged in throughout, but it all shows the good judgment and refined tastes of Mrs. Earle. The thought of cost has been banished, in this furnishing. The cafe chairs cost $200 each; and rooms in the fifteenth story are as elaborately fitted as those in the third.

Manager Wright has a staff of three hundred under him, and one of the most extensive hostelries in the world in his care, and he is probably the youngest hotel manager in the country, but he is as equal to the task as any of his elders. All of which General Earle, who has brought him up to the position, knows full well. The New York World in its account of the opening, says: "The opening ceremonies were unique. Little Guyon Earle, down in the hotel office, pressed an electric button which caused a gun to bang and raised the Stars and Stripes on the flagstaff. The wheels of the great engines in the cellar began to revolve, and every bell in the house tingled.

"Chief clerk Peter B. Wright screwed in his diamond stud and placed a brand-new register on the desk before him. The first guest to register was 'David B. Hill, Albany, N. Y.'"

Widening Would Make It Perfect.

George Neal, chairman of the street committee and acting mayor, together with road inspector Corney, secretary Chandler Riker, president Thos. Nevins, and his superintendent of construction, this morning made an inspection of the entire route along Somerset street. The road is to be placed in a good condition at once by rolling and putting on more crushed stone. Now if the authorities would only pass an ordinance and have the street widened everything would be well. A majority of the property-owners along the street desire the improvement.

—J. T. Vail, who is a judge of such matters, and many others, are just now loud in praise of commissioner Meeker for the fine thoroughfare he has made of Woodland avenue, from Randolph road to Prospect avenue.

NIP AND TUCK.

JENNINGS VS. THE BISHOP.

The Fight to Be Fought to a Finish—Counselor Marsh in It to Stay.

The Jennings case against the Bishop and Standing Committee of the Diocese of New Jersey, bids fair to become a cause célèbre among the religious legal contests now coming into fashion. Mr. Jennings has succeeded in persuading Craig A. Marsh to resume sole charge of his case, and yesterday that lawyer examined Mr. Jennings, the Rev. Dr. Malcolm, Dr. Taylor and the "Rev. Mr. Simpson before Supreme court commissioner Wm. M. Stillman. Counselor Shreve cross-examined the witnesses for the Bishop and the other sixteen defendants. The whole day, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., was devoted to the taking of the testimony, and more yet remains to be taken at Trenton before the case can be printed and got ready for argument before the Supreme court.

Notwithstanding the successes of Mr. Jennings so far, his friends realize that it is a close case and that the Bishop and standing committee will strain every nerve to win in the end. Mr. Jennings himself is confident.

HAPPENINGS IN THE BOROUGH.

A Score of Little Items of Special Interest to North Plainfielders.

Duer street is soon to be macadamized from Craig place to Emily street.

A fire company is about to be organized in the northwestern part of the borough.

Henry Thomas, an industrious colored citizen of 80 Manning avenue, is very low.

Mrs. H. N. Spencer and son, Henry Lyman, visited friends in Rahway yesterday.

Watchung Farm, at Sebring's Mills, is now occupied by a family from the Albion.

Henry Hess, of Greenbrook road, is suffering with a severe attack of pneumonia.

Street commissioner Gavin has purchased a thoroughbred colt which he intends raising.

An out-of-town director of the street railway company is hunting up bargains in real estate.

Chris. Blume has taken his mother's farm in Washington Valley, and intends working the same.

Wilson avenue, near Greenbrook road, is being placed in good condition by street commissioner Gavin.

Two sports of Bull Frog City are arranging a horse race to take place on the Greenbrook road some evening next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Winans, of Washington Valley, have taken up their residence with Mrs. Winans's father, W. F. Spencer.

William Wright, the new proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, is an old-time landlord, and thoroughly understands the business.

Part of the gang working on the Somerset street railway leave next week for Boston, where the contractor has a large job in sewering.

Col. John F. Wilson has retired from business, and now spends most of his time looking after his beautiful property on Greenbrook road.

Applicants for the position of conductor or motorman on the Somerset street railway are as thick as the mosquitoes have been the past week.

Peter Wooden, whose ninety-third birthday occurred May 24, was yesterday sturdily planting corn on the lot in the rear of his residence on Somerset street.

Warren Engine Co. No. 1, needs a hydrant spanner, as the one now carried by the company is cracked and liable to break at any time. This should be looked after immediately.

A new telephone company is about to be incorporated in this State which, it is promised, will cover this city and nearby towns. Winfield Thompson, of Westfield, is the promotor of the scheme.

The fence in front of the Somerset street school building is being taken up to-day and ground will be broken on Monday for the new addition. W. C. Smith has the mason work, and Brokaw & Cain are the carpenters.

Over 100 years ago there was a small settlement along the mountain side, just off Somerset street, that very few people know of, which was then known as Brousetown. Uncle Peter Wooden says he remembers the cellars of a few of the buildings. It is singular that no account has been kept regarding this historic deserted and vanished village.

Next week will wind up the work on the Somerset street railway. The company, it is generally understood, are to fill in with crushed stone all places where the grade has been changed, and will put and keep in order the whole route from Johnston's drive to the bridge between the tracks and 18 inches on either side. When this is done and the street widened the professional growler will have to hunt up a new subject to kick about.

Another Specimen of the Peculiar Breeding and Manners of Somerville.

(Somerville Democrat.)

The Plainfield Press, the mouthpiece of the Plainfield Amusement Company limited (to six weeks time) in speaking of the West End game of last week, says that "Somerville is down where she belongs." That may be true, but it is consoling that we know where we belong. Plainfield never can know where she belongs. A few people in the windy city think they ought to be playing ball in the National League. So far the Plainfield Amusement Company limited, have not made money enough to pay their ground rent. Two of the daily papers are making all manner of fun of the teams which the Crescents are playing. The other one, the Press, is lauding base-ball to the skies. And why not? Brother Demarest was made secretary of the limited company so that "Plainfield's only newspaper" (?) would support them. Let us hope that Brother Demarest was presented with some stock for all his trouble and labor. The stock framed in gold would make a valuable addition to the works of art on the walls of his sanctum.

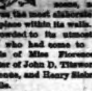
How to Apply for Borough Commencement Tickets.

The number of North Plainfield graduates is now so large, and the accommodation of Borough commencement hall so limited, that it has seemed best to ask all graduates who desire to attend the closing exercises, to apply to the principal for tickets of admission. A postal card or note to him will secure them.

'MID FLORAL BLOOM

AND SWEET PERFUME THEIR TENDER VOWS WERE SPOKEN,

While in the Blush Fair Roses' Blush Rare Modesty Gave Token—A Courtly Train of Maid and Swain the Blissful Twain Attending. They Enter Life as Man and Wife, in Happiness Unending.



JOY ruled in the hearts of a host of Plainfield people Thursday over the happy marriage of another of the city's favorite daughters. The Seventh-Day Baptist church was the scene, and the wedding was the most elaborate that has ever taken place within its walls. The edifice was crowded to its utmost extent with those who had come to witness the nuptials of Miss Florence Titsworth, daughter of John D. Titsworth of Madison avenue, and Henry Siebrecht of New Rochelle.

The church was most elaborately decorated with rare flowers from the groom's conservatories. The entire chancel was filled with potted palms, and their dark leaves were relieved by hydrangeas in full bloom. At the steps of the altar was arranged an arch of flowers said to be an exact reproduction of the one used at the wedding of Miss Martin to Lord Craven in Grace church, New York, not long ago. It was a mass of green, filled in with pink roses and lilies of the valley. Roses of other kinds were scattered about in great profusion, and the whole floral display filled up the entire end of the church.

The ceremony was set to take place at 7:30, and long before that time every seat in the church was filled except those that had been reserved for the relatives and very intimate friends. The bridal party was of course a trifle late, as bridal parties are apt to be, but the organist filled in the time by playing the overture to "Zampa" and afterwards the ballet music from "Sylvia". As the first notes of the Lohengrin Wedding March were heard, every eye turned toward the door to watch the bridal party enter the church. First came two ushers, then two of the bridesmaids, one clad in pink crepe de chine trimmed with satin ribbons, and the other in green of the same material. Each carried a large bunch of sweet-pea blossoms. Then came two more ushers, and two more bridesmaids clad in gowns like the first pair and carrying bunches of the same flowers. Two little girls followed these, one in white, the other in green; they carried large bunches of pink roses. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Edith Titsworth, in white. The bride followed on the arm of her father. She wore white corded silk and a tulle veil. Her bouquet, which was of white orchids, was carried by one of the flower girls.

The ushers were Messrs. Frank T. Clawson, Fred W. Smythe, Chas. Siebrecht, Nate Titsworth, William Siebrecht and Harry L. Maxson.

The bridesmaids were Miss Gussie Holmes, Miss Mamie French, Miss Bessie Titsworth and Miss Ella Titsworth.

Miss Edith Titsworth was maid of honor; and Miss Marie Rogers and Miss Belle Siebrecht acted as flower girls.

The Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

After the service was over, and the guests succeeded in getting out of the church through the crowd of people on the sidewalk outside, they gathered again at the home of the bride, only a few doors off, where an elaborate collation awaited them. The happy pair received the congratulations of their friends under a canopy of flowers. The gifts, which were on exhibition in one of the rooms upstairs, were very numerous and beautiful. An almost endless number of pieces of silver, clocks, bronzes, pictures, lamps, china and glassware, met the eyes of those who lingered to examine the tokens of friendship and regard. Among the gifts was a deed for a house and lot in New Rochelle, from the father of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Siebrecht did not inform their people of the place in which they intended to spend their honeymoon, but will let them know where they are located in a few days.

Among the guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Siebrecht, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Siebrecht, Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. Van Zalen, New Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. R. Reed, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Lockwood, Miss Pauline Siebrecht, Mrs. William Malloy, Albert Morgan, Fred. Smythe, Miss Emma Wadley, Chas. See, Arthur Keller, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reed, William Reed, New Brunswick; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Corbit, New York; Mr. Libbey, Englewood, N. J.; George Lyons, New Orleans; Mrs. Frank Mills, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Mrs. Henry Edgar, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Emler, F. Loud, J. Mashins, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Van Deroff, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rogers, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Cora Richardson, Jersey City; Miss Jessie Rogers, Miss Sarah Rogers, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. David Rogers, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Lewis, Mrs. Chas. Potter, Miss Mable Potter, Mrs. A. M. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, Mrs. C. P. Titsworth, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Titsworth, Clarence Titsworth, Sidney Titsworth, Alex. Titsworth, George Titsworth, Mrs. Frank Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hubbard, Mrs. Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randolph, Mrs. I. Dunham, Miss Lucy Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rogers, Frank Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Randolph, Miss Ernie Smith, Mrs. Whiting and Mrs. Elfreda Whiting, John Whiting, Miss Grace Lewis, Miss Lulu Lewis, Miss Eva Lewis, Mrs. Wm. B. Maxson, Miss Mable Maxson, Dr. T. H. and Mrs. Tomlinson, Miss May Tomlinson, Miss Minnie Tomlinson, A. S. Fritts, A. H. Hinrichs, F. L. C. Martin, Dr. A. J. Allis, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Miss Lena Tomlinson, Harold Tomlinson, Mrs. A. Tomlinson, Miss Lou Clawson, Marc Clawson, Frank Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. French, Mr. and Mrs. John French, E. French, Plainfield; Rev. Everett Tomlinson, Elizabeth; and many others.

Miss Burke Recovering.

Miss Agnes Burke of Dunellen, who had the black diphtheria, and was reported dead on Sunday, is slowly recovering from the much-dreaded disease.

The "Count's" Turn, Now.

One of the charges against Count Van-Ness was the alleged misappropriation to himself of $5,600 belonging to an estate which he had in charge. He not only showed where the heirs owed him thousands of dollars more than that, but he proved that they had even gotten back every cent of the money he was charged with taking. So that case against him Wednesday, was thrown out.

WHEN MAN IS DEAD,

ABOVE HIS HEAD THEY CARVE INSCRIPTIONS CURIOUS,

Enough to Make the Corpse Awake and Rave in Anger Furious—For What Is Worse Than Home-Spun Verse Recounting Virtues Spurious, Or Epitaph that Makes You Laugh Till Tears Run Down Luxurious.

MANY of the queer epitaphs that from time to time appear in the newspapers to be laughed at for their oddity are clever inventions, but Plainfield, it seems, is able to contribute to graveyard literature some curious inscriptions that are authentic.

A student of tombstone folly and wisdom has been making a tour of the local cemeteries, and in the old burying-grounds outside the city has found interesting records.

At Dr. Titsworth's place, New Market, the old graveyard is now a piece of woodland, and the stones, corroded by time and weather, are half-hidden in the grass, while the inscriptions are more or less illegible. This, however, was deciphered, and is presented as a sample of what may be termed good advice from the tomb:

In memory of
LYDIA,
Wife of Daniel Runyon, and daughter of
James Lennox, who died Oct. ye 17,
1784, in ye 31st year of her age.
O think of me as you pass by.
As you are now, so once was I.
As I am now, so you must be.
Prepare for death, and follow me.

Many of the tombstones are sensibly devoid of anything but the bare record of names and dates. The story of a saddened household bereft of its baby treasure is told in such as the following:

In memory of Osee, daughter of David and Sarah Coriell, who died Sept. 24, 1794, age 4 months and 21 days.

In memory of David, son of David and Sarah Coriell, who died May 29, 1805, age 5 months and 10 days.

Benjamin, son of Daniel and Lydia Runyon, died April 22, 1777, age 2 months and 13 days.

Anne, daughter of Daniel and Lydia Runyon, died July ye 7, 1781, age 1 month and 21 days.

Long life well spent is briefly mentioned thus:

In memory of Sarah L. Boice, who died March 24, 1856, in the 73d year of her age.

In memory of Georges Boice, who died Jan. 11, 1817, in the 68th year of her age.

In memory of Rachel Shotwell, wife of Clarkson, who departed this life Sept. 3, 1827, in the 60th year of her age.

In the middle of a ploughed field owned by Mr. Nelson is a group of graves. Here is an effective epigram:

Joel, son of Jonathan and Anna Lennox, died Sept. 4, 1803, age 11 years.
"Time how short!"

This man's relatives insisted on giving him a title, even in the tomb:

Micaiah Dunn, Esq., departed this life ye 11th of Sept., 1779, 65 years of age.

Here and there appears a couplet, such as this indicating the departure of a good little girl:

Esther, daughter of Ebenezer and Eliza Tingley, died Sept. 4, 1797, age 11 years.
At Jesus' call she yields her breath.
Beloved in life, bemourned at death.

Here's another "Esq.", who gives a mute but powerful appeal to the reader's conscience:

In memory of
GERSHOM DUNN, ESQ.,
Who died Oct. 3, 1805, 40 years of age.
Ye mourners who in silent gloom
Bear your dear kindred to the tomb,
Grudge not when Christians go to rest:
They sleep in Jesus, and are blest.
Mourn your own crimes and wicked ways,
And learn to number all your days,
Gain wisdom from this mournful stone
And make the Christian's lot your own.

This tells the sole purpose of a short life:

ABL.
Amorillo, daughter of Jonathan and Anna Lennox, died Sept. 7, 1802, age 12 years.
I am only born to die.

Others from this grouping are more or less interesting:

The grave of Lewis, son of Ebenezer and Rebekah Tingley, who died Oct. 16, 1819, age 4 years, 11 months, 28 days.

Sacred to the memory of Ebenezer Tingley, who died June 14, 1846, in the 62nd year of his age.

In memory of Eliza, wife of Ebenezer Tingley, who deceased Aug. 10, 1806, in the 42nd year of her age.

Jane, daughter of Jonathan and Anna Lennox, who died Aug. 10, 1822, age 19 years.

Memory of Anna Jonathan Lennox, daughter of Jacob and Rachel Dunn, died March 3, 1818, age 40 years.

Joseph, son of Jonathan and Anna Lennox, age 11 days, 1818.

Capt. Jeremiah Dunn, died Oct. 24, 1779, 84 years of age.

Arah Dunn, who died March 24, 1808, age 20 years, 12 days.

A Public Library for Dunellen.

The enterprising Dunellen Call is doing another good work of which it thus modestly speaks:

> We would call the attention of our readers to the library soon to be opened to the people of this village under the direction of the CALL. There have been placed on the shelves in the CALL office over three hundred volumes of the best literature of the day, including books from the pens of such writers as Dickens (complete set), Fenimore Cooper, Chas. Reade, George Elliott, W. Gilmore Simms (complete set), Canon Farrar, E. E. Hale, S. W. Baker, Max Muller, C. H. Spurgeon, Elsie Dinsmore (series complete), Jules Verne, Edgar Fawcett, Mrs. Holmes, Judge Tourgee, E. P. Roe, (complete set), and others. A list of the books will shortly appear in the columns of this paper.

Almost Burned to Death.

A. H. Enander, the plumber, and his helper, Frank Carver, were almost burned to death Friday afternoon, about 3. They were at work in the cellar of butcher Van Syckle's new building on North avenue, when the gasolene blow-furnace that Enander was pumping pressure into, exploded. His hair and eye-brows were badly singed, and his face and right hand burned. Carver was knocked down and fell in the the flames. His leg was terribly scorched. The quantity of gasolene was unusually low or they would have been covered with flames and burned to death.

Till the Cruel War Is Over.

Until the French litigation is ended, and the Somerset street railway is completed to Front street, the cars of the North Plainfield system will probably be operated by the current of the North Plainfield electric light station. Transfer tickets will be issued enabling passengers to connect by walking the short distance from Front street to the bridge.

Plainfield Farmers Catching Up.

(Official Crop Bulletin.)

PLAINFIELD.—Farmers are catching up with their work very nicely; warmer weather is needed for vegetation; lowest temperature, 45 degrees; rainfall, 0.22 inch. JOHN NEAGLE.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.—It has been a very nice week for planting corn and melons; plenty of sunshine and some warm days; nights rather cool; all work has been pushed along as much as possible; all vegetation looks as well as usual at this time of year; light rain on 28th.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE. | A. L. FORCE

Editors and Proprietors.

REPEAL AND REFORM.

If the present financial flurry results, as it naturally should, in abolishing evil methods and settling business affairs upon a sound and permanent basis, all honest endeavors and legitimate occupations will be greatly benefited.

The whole trouble arises from a speculative mania fostered by unwise legislation.

Remove the cause of evil and good will surely follow.

A currency of co-equal redemption value, and sufficient in volume to meet the requirements of the people and to facilitate the transactions of legitimate trade is all that is needed.

There is no financial sense in compelling the Government to purchase millions of silver bullion every month and to keep its paper obligations given therefor on a par with gold.

Repeal the Sherman silver act!

Tariffs framed for the special purpose of subsidizing mercenary interests at the public expense, and encouraging the modern system of pillaging combines, are at war with business honesty, worthy industry and the general prosperity.

Reform the McKinley bill!

To cope with pestilential disease the remedies must be heroic. Quackery will not cure.

THE DEMOCRATIC STANDARD.

It is a grand principle of Democracy that the real value of a man is his own inherent worthiness.

It is not wealth, nor illustrious ancestry, nor brain brilliancy that alone make a deserving man. He may possess all these conditions and yet fall far short of true excellence and reliability of personal character, both as a private citizen and an official incumbent.

Jefferson the founder of the Democratic party, raised the right standard by subjecting each applicant for office to the following pointed questions:

Is he thoroughly honest?

Is he practically capable?

Is he of good personal repute?

Those few words speak everything. A man may be poor, of lowly origin, and not even prominent as a mere politician, but who fully answers the wise Jeffersonian interrogatories and thereby proves himself eligible for public confidence.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION.

Here's a Chance for Any of You to Be a Post-Office Clerk or Carrier.

In pursuance of the Presidential order of Jan. 5, 1893, extending the Civil Service Law to all free-delivery post-offices, the Civil Service Commission at Washington has ordered that an examination be held in this city on Saturday, June 17, 1893, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m., for the grades of clerk and carrier in the city post-office. Only citizens of the United States can be examined. The age limitations are as follows: For clerk, not under 18 years; for carrier, not under 21 nor over 40; for messenger, stamper, etc., not under 16 nor over 45. No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed with the undersigned, on the proper blank, before 12 o'clock, noon, on June 16, 1893.

The Civil Service Commission takes this opportunity of stating that the examinations are open to all reputable citizens who may desire to enter the postal service, without regard to their political affiliations. All such citizens, whether Democrats or Republicans, or neither, are invited to apply. They shall be examined, graded, and certified with entire impartiality, and wholly without regard to their political views, or to any consideration save their efficiency, as shown by the grades they obtain in the examination. For application blanks, full instructions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply at the post-office to

G. C. GODOWN,
Sec'y Board of Examiners.

MR. PATTON'S ACTUAL ASSETS.

One Claim Against Him of $307,000 Worth $960.

The schedules of W. L. Patton and H. L. Saltonstall of this city, bankers and brokers at 96 Broadway, New York, show liabilities $686,097; nominal assets, $663,925; actual assets, $227,500. Of the actual assets $216,382 are pledged with the Manhattan company and Holland Trust company for four loans, in which there is no equity. The total amount lent by the Manhattan company was $347,590, and by the Holland Trust company $35,000. Among the other secured creditors are Cook & Lester, of Norwich, Conn., $15,656; James P. Howard, of Hartford, Conn., $15,191. There is a claim against W. L. Patton for $307,012, which is placed as actually worth $960, and a claim against H. L. Saltonstall for $77,176, the actual value being placed at $700.

Albion Arrivals.

The following are the latest to register at The Albion:

G. E. Dawson, of Dover; U. N. Bethel, of Brooklyn; the Misses Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. John Lund, Mr. and Mrs. Goelet, Mr. and Mrs. Adow Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Waddell, Mrs. C. H. Brayton and Mrs. E. H. Stocking, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Browne, of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rhodes and Robert Rhodes, jr., of Staten Island; A. Merstars, Philadelphia.

Chopped His Knee.

Louis Bergmiller, jr., of Berkley Heights, while chopping some firewood, accidentally let the axe slip and cut a deep gash in his knee, which will if not properly cared for result seriously. All that can be done for him at present is being done by willing hands. Louis has the sympathy of the entire community, who wish him a speedy recovery.

Have No Equal.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS have attained a world-wide reputation solely upon their superlative merits. They have many would-be rivals, but have never been equalled or even approached in curative properties and rapidity and safety of action. Their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities, as well as by unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and they are recommended as the best external remedy for weak back, rheumatism, sciatica, colds, coughs, sore throat, chest and stomach affections, kidney difficulties, weak muscles, strains, stitches and aches and pains of every description.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentations. Ask for ALLCOCK'S and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

THE CITY FATHERS.

ROUTINE BUSINESS OF A HOT NIGHT'S SESSION.

The Watchung Avenue Ordinance Goes Through—Madison Avenue Widening—Mr. Frasse Fights for the Workingmen—Mr. VanName Refused a Ladies' Entrance.

The Plainfield common council didn't over-exert itself Monday night, for the weather was too hot. Most of the business was of the usual monthly routine.

To the fire and building committee was given power to act on the following petitions: From F. A. Pope, to erect a temporary one-story frame shed 116 West Sixth street. From Charles Suhr, to remove his shop from Frasse and Second streets 50 feet down the street. From Hand & Runyon, to remove to the rear of the lot their building at Sixth and Sycamore streets.

The committee on streets was authorized to grant to J. W. VanSickle the privilege of erecting poles to support meat racks in front of his new store.

The committee on fire and buildings was authorized to place fire hydrants on South Second street near the F nd Tool Works, as soon as the water pipes were extended that way.

The pay of assessor Frisbie for enumerating dogs was raised from 5 to 10 cents a head, and all dogs without ownership were ordered killed and buried out of sight.

Petitions were referred to the committee on streets from citizens asking that North avenue be macadamized from Richmond street to Berckman, and Seventh street from Plainfield avenue to Grant, the petitioners agreeing to contribute a share of the expense.

The matter of taxation on lots 48 and 50 Hillside avenue was referred to the corporation counsel.

No one appeared to oppose the widening of Madison avenue, and the ordinance to widen was adopted on final passage.

An ordinance was adopted on second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised extending the flagged sidewalk and curbing limit on Central avenue to Randolph road.

Councilman Frasse censured the street committee for having made no report on the petition of street laborers that nine hours constitute a day's work. He made an eloquent appeal for the workingmen, and did his best to pass a resolution fixing the 9-hour limit. Mr. Weber alone voted with him, and the matter was referred to the street committee.

Mr. Frost reported progress in the matter of signing the sewerage petition, and called for volunteer effort on the part of citizens to aid in securing signatures.

Mr. Weber presented a petition from oyster dealer VanName urging the granting of permission to erect a frame "ladies' entrance, 9 feet wide and 22 feet deep, adjoining his shop on Front street." Under the ordinance permission for so large a frame structure could not be granted, and the petition was ordered returned to Mr. VanName.

To the committee on streets was referred Charles Dyer's request to erect a swinging sign and post at 221 West Front street.

The committee on streets was authorized to superintend the erection of an automatic fountain for man and beast in front of John J. Goff's saloon, Third and Liberty streets.

Mr. See started to jump on Mr. Frasse of the printing committee for the inexcusable delay in getting out the annual reports. Mr. Frasse put all the blame on city clerk Runyon, who got red in the face and made a stammering excuse. Mr. Frasse said Mr. Runyon had promised 'em "for sure" before this, and Mr. Runyon said he'd have them finished this week. They should have been done long ago, had the work been given to a competent house.

The ordinance to establish a grade on Central avenue was adopted on final passage, as was that to change the name of Broadway and Peace street to Watchung avenue.

The bill of Muhlenberg hospital for the care of Charles Williams was reported by Mr. Bird as not due from the city, and was referred back to the hospital.

AN UNFORTUNATE CONFLICT.

Salvation Army Methods Interfering with Established Preaching.

The annoyance of having two houses of worship so near together as Trinity Reformed church and the Salvation Army barracks was again forcibly illustrated last night, when pastor Schenck was forced to stop in his sermon unable to proceed connectedly, on account of the singing of the Army. He stated that he would continue to the best of his ability, but he doubted whether the people would be able to follow him under the distraction. The singing of the Army during Mr. Schenck's sermons is spoken of by the church people as a great annoyance to both preacher and congregation. Mr. Schenck prepares his sermons carefully during the week, and the singing confuses his ideas and distracts the people's attention. It is unfortunate that there is this conflict, for during the summer, when the windows are open, the confusion becomes very great. It is hoped when the Army's lease runs out the friends of the Army will secure other quarters for them, as the church considers it has a prior right to this location and should not be interfered with.

Union County Politics.

(From The Summit Record.)

Already plans are making for the approaching campaign in Union county, and the indications are that before the autumn leaves begin to turn the contest will have assumed its old-time vigor.

James E. Martine, of Plainfield, has of late loomed into prominence as a Senatorial candidate, and it is said that many of those who opposed his nomination for Congress last year will support his Senatorial candidacy.

With her usual modesty, Elizabeth comes to the fore with three candidates for the nomination for sheriff and the likelihood that a number of others will appear between the present writing and the convention. Freeholder Charles Moore is being warmly supported, and his candidacy is assuming imposing proportions. Director John Sauer is also said to be in training for this nomination and will undoubtedly make a strong showing if he remains in the field, and George Squires is the third Elizabethan who covets the distinction of drawing the juries of this county. Freeholder Noah Woodruff, of Union township, is also conducting a quiet canvass for the nomination, and the probabilities are that the limit for delegates will be vigorous enough to suit the most exacting tide waiter.

Who Will Go from Plainfield.

The East New Jersey Baptist association will meet with the First Baptist church, Elizabeth, this week Tuesday and Wednesday. As official representatives of the First Baptist church of this place, the following members have been duly appointed messengers: Deacons Randolph, White, Gerrell, Case, Needham, Probasco and Benny, and their wives; brethren A. Vanderbeek, F. E. March, M. Clark Dobbins, L. Warren Randolph, L. H. Dubois and wife; pastor Yerkes and wife; and church clerk O. B. Leonard and wife. The association begins its opening session at 10:30 Tuesday morning.

—Butcher H. Smalley, who cut his hand so badly, has almost recovered the use of it.

BOROUGH BREEZES.

BITS OF SPICY GOSSIP FROM OVER THE BROOK.

Important Church Event Next Sunday—The Borough After the Plainfield Post-office—Mountain Avenue's Need—Closing the Bar Rooms—Widening Somerset Street—Pleasant Personalities.

The borough's Midnight Sextette practice in a barn.

D. J. Carney has a few desirable bargains in borough real estate.

George Goodman has moved into 85 Somerset street from the city.

The Rock road is now in fine condition, thanks to street commissioner Gavin.

Jake Higgins wants a bridge over the creek from Howard street into Somerset.

The borough will soon have a citizen lawyer with an office in the borough limits.

S. B. Josephs, the new school trustee, takes a lively interest in the school's affairs.

More license money has been collected this year than in any other in the history of the borough.

Don. Sutphin, the colored Hercules of Westervelt avenue, will visit the World's Fair in August.

The work on the new addition to the school-house is being rapidly pushed by the contractors.

Clarence Brokaw, of the North Branch Gun club, is now inspector for the electric light company.

The former clerk at the Craig place drug store is now the owner. The place changed hands June 1.

Several boroughites are making arrangements for an early departure to the mountains and seashore.

Wonder if the borough stands any chance of catching the appointment of postmaster of Plainfield?

The water wagon wastes much time going after water, nowadays. Why not tap a friendly nearby hydrant?

Levi Bird is constantly drawing electric light poles which he furnishes to the different companies hereabouts.

The borough must have another hose company, and some one should begin the organization of the same at once.

A clam-bake in the rough, "with beer side dishes", will be served in a near-by woods in a few days. Where will it be at?

The stone house on the westerly side of the mountain is being renovated by its new owner, who will soon occupy the same.

The "Two Ikies", whose names are famous in the borough, pass away some of their spare time by marking "Ikie" on passing wagons.

Ex-borough clerk H. H. Brokaw left town yesterday to be absent for a few weeks in Massachusetts. He'll let his hair grow while he's gone.

Harvey Henderson and Will Wright, the two persons who were injured while putting up "licorice light" poles, think they should receive pensions.

Fred. N. Brown, formerly engineer at the borough power station, is a frequent visitor to Staten Island, and some people say that he is matrimonially inclined.

At McLaughlin's Somerset street lawn-tennis court there may be seen every afternoon a bevy of charming young ladies indulging in the fashionable pastime.

Harry L. Spencer is going to enter his horse "Don" in the owners' race at the next Somerset county fair. He has him gaited just right, and fears no one in the county.

We boroughites wonder why the Plainfield street commissioner does not grade up at the center of the road on Front street and Somerset where the old fire well is situated.

Israel Colthar, the bridge builder, has just completed a fine bridge for Morris and Somerset counties. The span is a 90-foot one, and crosses the Passaic river near Union Village.

James Lynch, formerly of Warrenville, Warren township, will soon open the unused blacksmithy at Coddington's mills. He is an expert, and will bring much of his former patronage to his new shop.

Another Frenchman has joined the already large contingent of fruit growers on the second mountain. He comes from Woodhaven, L. I., his name is Alfred Prudhomme, and he occupies the Fred. Coriell farm.

The Children of Mary, a sodality belonging to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, will receive communion in a body at the 8:30 mass next Sunday morning, at which time an office will be read by Miss Agnes FitzGerald and Miss Nellie McCann. The young ladies, numbering about 40, will be dressed in white, and each one will wear a long white veil.

THE STROLLER.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 10, 1893.

Pursuant to the statute the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union for the year commencing May 10, 1893, convened at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, on Wednesday, May 10, 1893, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Board was called to order by A. B. Cook, Clerk, and the following members answered to roll call:

Clark, John A. Halliday; Cranford, Jasper C. Hunt; Elizabeth, Wm. E. Trabon, Charles H. Moore, John J. Donahue, John S. Sauer; Fanwood, George Kyte; Linden, J. I. Winans; New Providence, Eugene D. Badgely; Plainfield, J. Frank Hubbard, A. Vanderbeek; Rahway, Wm. Howard, Christian Ehrlich; Springfield, J. Martin Reil; Summit, W. H. Swain; Union, Noah Woodruff; Westfield, M. M. Scudder.

The Clerk stated that the election of Director was now in order, and called for nominations. Freeholder Moore nominated John S. Sauer, Freeholder Vanderbeek nominated J. Frank Hubbard. Freeholders Donahue and Kyte were appointed tellers.

A ballot being taken, John S. Sauer received nine votes, J. Frank Hubbard received six votes and John A. Halliday received one vote. John S. Sauer having received a majority of all the votes was declared elected Director.

Freeholder Hubbard moved to make the election unanimous, which was carried.

Freeholders Trabon and Hubbard escorted the Director to the chair, who accepted the office in a neat speech, and thanked the members for the honor conferred on him.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Summit Herald:

To the Honorable Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Gentlemen—I respectfully present this application and ask to have the Summit Herald designated as one of the papers to publish the proceedings of your Board, if the same be not inconsistent with the public interests.

Respectfully submitted
DAVID M. SMYTHE.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue received and filed.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Trabon:

Resolved, That the paper known as the Summit Herald be substituted instead of the paper known as the Summit Record as the paper to print the official minutes of this Board for the ensuing year.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue laid over until the next meeting.

By Freeholder Howard:

Resolved, That the rules of the last Board be the rules by which this Board shall be governed.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted.

By Freeholder Vanderbeek:

Resolved, That the regular meetings of this Board be held on the first Thursday of each month at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted.

By Freeholder Hunt:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine into the condition of the County Road in the township of Cranford, and report at the next regular meeting of this Board.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue, adopted, and the Director appointed the following committee: Freeholders Hunt, Scudder and Reil.

By Freeholder Hunt:

Resolved, That the standing committee known as the county road committee is hereby dissolved and eliminated from the list of standing committees of this Board.

Freeholder Winans moved to lay on the table, which was lost.

Freeholder Woodruff moved to adopt.

The Director stated that it would require a two-thirds vote to adopt under the rule.

On roll call the resolution was defeated by a vote of ten in the affirmative to six in the negative.

By Freeholder Reil:

Resolved, That the road heretofore adopted as a County Road, known as Newark Turnpike, in the townships of Springfield and Union, be graded and paved with Telford macadamizing, or otherwise improved with stone as may be set out in the specifications hereinafter; to be for a width of [illegible] feet, running the whole length of said road in the same [illegible].

On motion of Freeholder Trabon referred to County Engineer to survey and make maps.

By Freeholder Trabon:

Resolved, That the County Engineer be instructed to make a proper survey, and maps of [illegible] [illegible] for the purpose of having specifications for macadamizing the same as a County Road.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted.

By Freeholder Hunt:

Resolved, That a committee of the whole be called at an early date, within two weeks, to go over a certain road leading from Cranford to Springfield, and known as the Springfield Road; with a view of adopting the same as a County Road. The Director to set the date.

On motion of Freeholder Woodruff adopted.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the road commencing at the intersection of Washington avenue and Grove street, in the city of Elizabeth; thence along Washington avenue to the Rahway Turnpike; thence southwesterly along said turnpike to the intersection of Stiles street, in Linden [illegible]

[illegible]

The Director declared the board adjourned to Thursday, May 25, 1893.

ALFRED B. COOK, Clerk.

HILL'S Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

REMEMBER WE GUARANTEE A CURE and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT can be cured at home, and without any effort on the part of the patient, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our Tablets.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all first-class druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by

—THE—

OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 & 55 Opera Block,

LIMA, OHIO.

PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:

DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.

W. L. LOTEGAY.

Address all Orders to

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 and 55 Opera Block, LIMA, OHIO.

(In writing please mention this paper.)

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

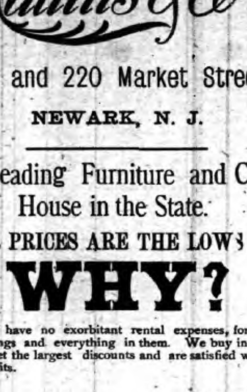
NEWARK, N. J.

The Leading Furniture and Carpet House in the State.

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST.

WHY?

We have no exorbitant rental expenses, for we own our buildings and everything in them. We buy in the best markets, get the largest discounts and are satisfied with reasonable profits.



Oak Chamber Suit $12.

Our assortment of Furniture, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Cooking Stoves and almost everything for housekeeping are worth seeing, whether you purchase or not.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shades, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. 121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City. 213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey. [illegible] Fund of the [illegible] and Frederick A. Schoonmaker and [illegible], complainants, vs. [illegible] defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWELFTH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1893,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

A. Q. KEASBEY & SONS, Sol'rs.
CHAC [illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey. [illegible] of New York, complainant, and [illegible] et. al., defendant. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE 12th DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1893,

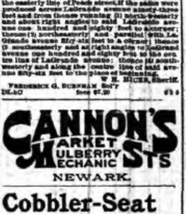
at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that certain lot, tract or parcel of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

FREDERICK C. MARSH, Sheriff.
DLAC [illegible]

CANNON'S MARKET MULBERRY & MECHANIC STS NEWARK.

Cobbler-Seat Rockers



Quarter-Sawed Antique Oak. Elegant Piano Polish. Embossed Solid Leather Seat.

It will never wear out.

(SAME AS CUT.)

$4.90.

Would be Cheap at $6.00.

CARPETS!

Nowhere else can you be so well pleased both in assortment and price.

—Matting • Special.—

100 pieces Jointless Damask Matting

27½c. yard.

Regular 40c. per yard.

Plain Figures, One Price, Cash or Credit.

LARGEST HOUSE OUTFITTERS IN NEW JERSEY

COOPERS FLORAL DESIGNS. [illegible]

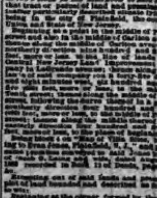
E. C. Morris Safe Co

Incorporated. Capital $500,000.

Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.

64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.



Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Jewelers' Safes, House Safes.

The Best Safe in the World.

[illegible]

Champion Record in all the Great Fires.

[illegible]

SHERIFF'S SALE.—IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY. Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, etc., complainant, and [illegible], defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that [illegible]

[illegible]

FREDERICK C. MARSH, Sheriff.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is [illegible]

[illegible]

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, Administratrix of Marcellus M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellus M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said decedent, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellus M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises; It is on this first day of May, A. D. 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the fifth day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellus M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.
J. KEARNEY RICE,
President Judge,
MATHEW O'GORMAN, | Judges
N. FREEMAN,
Leonard Furman, Surrogate.
5 11 6

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.—In the matter of the sale of the lands of Catharine Sauerman, deceased, for the payment of her debts, by virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Union, State of New Jersey in the above stated cause and bearing date on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1893, I, Frederick Sauerman, administrator of the estate of the said Catharine Sauerman, deceased, will expose for sale at public vendue on next, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, that is to say at 2 o'clock p. m., on the premises, situated at No. 38 and 40 West Sixth street in the city of Plainfield, Union county, New Jersey, all the following tract of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the said city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, State of New Jersey, and described as follows:

THE TWELFTH DAY OF JUNE,

Beginning at a stone in the middle of Sixth street and a corner of Elba Wooden's land; thence running with his line a northwesterly course about one hundred and seventy-four feet to a stone another of Elba Wooden's corners, and that of Joseph Perinee; thence with Joseph Perinee line a northeasterly course forty-five feet to a stone another of said Perinee corners; thence running a southeasterly course about one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stone in the middle of Sixth street; thence along the middle of Sixth street a southwesterly course forty-five feet to the place of beginning. Containing seven thousand eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of land.

FREDERICK SAUERMAN, administrator.
Dated May 10, 1893.
E 1866 $7 50 5 11 5

1893
HARPER'S WEEKLY.
ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is acknowledged as standing first among illustrated weekly periodicals in America. It occupies a place between that of the hurried daily paper and that of the less timely monthly magazine. It includes both literature and news, and presents with equal force and felicity the real events of current history and the imaginative themes of fiction. On account of its very complete series of illustrations of the World's Fair, it will be not only the best guide to the great Exposition, but also its best souvenir. Every public event of general interest will be fully illustrated in its pages. Its contributions being from the best writers and artists in this country, it will continue to excel in literature, news and illustrations, all other publications of its class.

Harper's Periodicals.
PER YEAR:
HARPER'S MAGAZINE $4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY 4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR 4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE 2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Bound Volumes of HARPER'S WEEKLY for three years back, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7.00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

1893.
HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for 1893 will continue to maintain the unrivalled standard of excellence which has characterized it from the beginning. Among the notable features of the year there will be new novels by A. Conan Doyle, Constance Fenimore Woolson and William Black. Short stories will be contributed by the most popular writers of the day, including Mary E. Wilkins, Richard Harding Davis, Margaret Deland, Brander Matthews and many others. The illustrated descriptive papers will embrace articles by Julian Ralph on new Southern and Western subjects; by Theodore Child on India; by Poultney Bigelow on Russia and Germany; by Richard Harding Davis on a London Season; by Colonel T. A. Dodge on Eastern Riders; etc. Edwin A. Abbey's illustrations of Shakespeare's Comedies will be continued. Literary articles will be contributed by Charles Eliot Norton, Mrs. James T. Fields, William Dean Howells, Brander Matthews and other.

Harper's Periodicals.
PER YEAR:
HARPER'S MAGAZINE $4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY 4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR 4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE 2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Volumes of the MAGAZINE begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. Bound Volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE for three years back, in neat cloth binding will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $3.00 per volume. Cloth Cases, for binding, 50 cents each—by mail, post-paid.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

1893.
HARPER'S BAZAR.
ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR is a journal for the home. It gives the fullest and latest information about Fashions, and its numerous illustrations, Paris designs and pattern-sheet supplements are indispensable alike to the home dressmaker and the professional modiste. No expense is spared to make its artistic attractiveness of the highest order. Its bright stories, amusing comedies, and thoughtful essays satisfy all tastes, and its last page is famous as a budget of wit and humor. In its weekly issues everything is included which is of interest to women. The Serials for 1893 will be written by Walter Besant and Edna Lyall. Christine Terhune Herrick will furnish a practical series, entitled "At the Toilet." Grace King, Olive Thorne Miller and Candace Wheeler will be frequent contributors. The work of women in the Columbian Exposition will be fully represented with many illustrations. T. W. Higginson, in "Women and Men," will please a cultivated audience.

Harper's Periodicals.
PER YEAR:
HARPER'S MAGAZINE $4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY 4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR 4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE 2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Volumes of the BAZAR begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Bound Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR for three years back, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7.00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

THE PLAINFIELD

PACKING HOUSE

25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods.

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb, Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

All goods delivered free of charge.

Telephone 141.

C. M. ULRICH.

Make No Mistake!

There is a COUNTERFEIT on No. 73, and purchasers are requested to notice my name in full before entering the store.

AMOS H. VANHORN.

LIMITED,

73 MARKET STREET.

To outdo all competitors, will make the following inducements to purchasers until further notice:

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.

LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-5-1y

TOWNSEND'S

Marble & Granite Works,

30 SOMERSET STREET,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,

Manager. 8 11 tf

Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS

And all kinds of wearing apparel

STORED

And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO

W. H. AND E. BURNETT,

17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President,
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

Scientific American Agency for PATENTS
CAVEATS,
TRADE MARKS,
DESIGN PATENTS,
COPYRIGHTS, etc.

For information and free Handbook write to MUNN & CO., 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. Oldest bureau for securing patents in America. Every patent taken out by us is brought before the public by a notice given free of charge in the

Scientific American

Largest circulation of any scientific paper in the world. [illegible]

NEWARK

BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it is.

"THE BEE HIVE"
NEWARK N.J
THE LARGEST DRY & FANCY GOODS HOUSE IN THE STATE.
L.S. PLAUT & CO
707 TO 721 BROAD ST

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 13.

MUSLIN WEAR DEPARTMENT.

GOWNS—plain, embroidered and lace.
DRAWERS—plain, embroidered and lace.
CHEMISE—plain, embroidered and lace.
CORSET COVERS in 200 styles.
MUSLIN SKIRTS—plain, ruffle, embroidered and lace.
APRONS in Black, White, Silk and Gingham.
Cotton Flannel Drawers and Skirts.
Muslin Night Drawers for Children.
Extra Size Gowns, Drawers, Skirts, Chemise and Gauze Corset Covers.
Children's Jean, Imperial and Gauze Waists.
Children's Drawer Waists.
Guimpe Waists—Silk, Cashmere and Muslin; 1 to 16 yr. sizes.
Sweeping Caps and Sleeve Protectors.
Gingham Sunbonnets.
Carriage Pillow Slips.
Bridal Sets.
Crinoline Skirts and Muslin Hoopskirts.
Silk Gowns, Chemise, Skirts and Drawers.
Combination Chemise.
Combination Drawers.
Combination Corset Covers.
Ladies' Rubber Aprons.
Ladies' Muslin Divided Skirts.
Sanitary Towels and Padding.
Greenwood's Readymade Waist Lining.
Ladies' Cotton Flannel Gowns.
Dress Forms and Extension Models.
Pillow Shams in 50 styles.
Flannel Skirts—Colored and White.
Outing Flannel and Worsted Skirts.
Worsted Shawls and Cardigan Jackets.
Worsted, Jersey and Cloth Leggins for all seasons.
Imported Long and Square, Black and Colored Cashmere Shawls.
Cashmere Scarfs—White and Colored.
Wool Shawls—Long and Short.
Worsted Shawls—Hand-knit, Black, White and Colored.
Worsted Fascinators, Capes, Hoods and other goods of like character (in season).

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.

707 to 721 BROAD STREET.

Mail Orders Filled.

NOTICE. March 15, 1893.

Estate of Mary Ann Betts, deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, executor of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

FRANK J. BETTS,
Executor.

LAWS OF NEW JERSEY.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

CHAPTER CCXIV.

A Supplement to the act entitled "A supplement to the act entitled 'An act to establish an excise department in cities of this state,' passed April eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four," which supplementary act was approved February twenty-fourth, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-[illegible]

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That every board of excise commissioners within and for any town or city of this state, except cities of the first class, heretofore appointed and organized, and which hereafter shall be appointed and organized, under and pursuant to the supplementary act to which this is a supplement, shall have the following powers, namely: to appoint a clerk of said excise board at an annual salary of not more than [illegible] dollars; to employ counsel learned in the law to advise them, and prosecute suits and actions brought by, and defend suits and actions brought against them, at an annual salary of not more than [illegible] hundred dollars; to purchase such books to be kept as records, and such blanks and other stationery as they shall consider necessary, at an annual cost not exceeding twenty-five dollars; and to pay the salary of their clerk, the compensation to which their counsel shall be entitled; the purchase price for record books, blanks and stationery, and their own salaries prescribed by the supplementary act to which this is a supplement out of the license fees which may come into their hands.

2. And be it enacted, That the clerk appointed by any board of excise commissioners shall hold his office during the pleasure of the board by and for which he shall be appointed, and shall, before he enters upon the execution of his office take and subscribe an oath or affirmation in the following form, to wit:

I, ———, clerk of the board of excise commissioners within and for the town or city of ———, do solemnly and sincerely promise and swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully and honestly keep all the papers, writings, books and records by virtue of my office committed, and which from time to time shall be committed to me, and that I will in all things to the best of my knowledge and understanding, perform the duties of said office of clerk without favor or partiality;

Which oath or affirmation may be subscribed and taken before any person authorized by the laws of this state to administer oaths and affirmations, and after the taking thereof shall be filed by said clerk and kept by him with the papers and writings pertaining to his office.

3. And be it enacted, That upon the death or expiration of the office of clerk of any board of excise commissioners all the papers, writings, books and records belonging to the said office shall be delivered to the successor in office, on the oath or affirmation of the preceding clerk, or, in case of his death, on the oath or affirmation of his executors or administrators; and if any such clerk, his executors or administrators, shall refuse or neglect to deliver the same on oath or affirmation as aforesaid, being lawfully demanded, then every such person shall forfeit fifty dollars, to be recovered with costs, by action of debt, in any court having cognizance of the same, in the name of the board by and for which said clerk was appointed, for the same use to which license fees received by said board are directed to be applied and used.

4. And be it enacted, That every board of excise commissioners heretofore appointed and organized, and which may hereafter be appointed and organized within and for any town or city of this state, under and pursuant to the act to which this is a supplement, shall have the power to designate the newspaper or newspapers in which any ordinance, by-law or resolution passed or adopted by them shall be published, and shall pay the charges of such publication out of any license fees received by them.

5. And be it enacted, That all license fees received by any board of excise commissioners which shall not be required by them to pay salaries or other matter or thing which by this act they are authorized and empowered to pay, shall, within ten days after the receipt thereof, be paid by said board to the treasurer of the town or city within and for which they are appointed for the use of such town or city.

6. And be it enacted, That annually after the passage of this act, every board of excise commissioners within and for any town or city of this state shall publish in two newspapers published in such town or city, if so many be published therein, and if so many be not published therein, then in one newspaper published in such town or city and one newspaper published in the county in which such town or city is, and circulated in such town or city, and if no newspaper be published in such town or city, then in two newspapers published in the county in which said town or city is and circulated therein, a detailed statement and account of the license fees received, and of the payments thereof, the expenses of which publication shall be paid by the board of excise commissioners out of the license fees in or which shall come into their hands.

7. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, general and special, local and public, inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXV.

An Act to establish the rate of interest on arrears of taxes in cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the common council or other board having charge and control of the finances of any city in this state to fix and change, by resolution, the rate of interest on all past due taxes which were due and unpaid prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two; provided, however, that such rate when adopted shall apply only to such taxes as are still due and unpaid to such city.

2. And be it enacted, That if any taxes shall have been paid within four months prior to the passage of this act the said common council or other proper board shall have power to refund any excess of interest and costs that may have been paid, over and above the rate of interest, that may be fixed under the authority of the first section of this act.

3. And be it enacted, That all laws, general or special, inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXVI.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "A general act relating to factories and workshops, and the employment, safety, health and work hours of operatives," approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That no room or rooms, apartment or apartments in any tenement or dwelling house shall be used for the manufacture of coats, vests, trousers, knee-pants, overalls, cloaks, furs, fur trimmings, fur garments, shirts, purses, feathers, artificial flowers or cigars, except by the immediate members of the family living therein, that no person, firm or corporation shall hire or employ any person to work in any room or rooms, apartment or apartments, in any tenement or dwelling house or building in the rear of a tenement or dwelling house at making in whole or in part any coats, vests, trousers, knee-pants, overalls, cloaks, furs, fur trimmings, fur garments, shirts, purses, feathers, artificial flowers or cigars, unless such person, firm or corporation first shall have obtained a written permit from the factory and workshop inspector or a deputy inspector, which permit may be revoked at any time that the health of the community or of those employed so [illegible] may require it, and that such permit shall not be granted until due and satisfactory inspection of the premises affected shall have been made by the said inspector or deputy inspector; that such permit shall be framed and posted in a conspicuous place in the room or each of the rooms to which it relates, shall be duly numbered and shall state the number of persons allowed to be employed therein.

2. And be it enacted, That any person, firm or corporation being the owner, lessee or occupant of the room or rooms to which this act relates shall for the violation of any of the provisions herein be liable to the same penalty or penalties as are now prescribed for violations of the act and supplements of the act to which this is a further supplement.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXVII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to secure to mechanics and others payment for their labor and materials in erecting any building," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, for the purpose of extending the rights and remedies under said act to the labor performed and materials furnished to and for the removal of any building or buildings or part or parts of a building from one curtilage to that of another; and further, to extend the lien for such removal to the land or curtilage to which the said building, buildings or part or parts of a building shall be removed and located under the contract.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That every building or part or parts of any building which shall hereafter be removed and shall be located upon some other lot or curtilage, and which shall when removed, constitute a complete structure or a part of a structure upon the curtilage to which the same shall be removed, shall be liable for the payment of any debt contracted and owing to any person for labor performed or materials furnished in the removal of the same, which debt shall be a lien on such building so removed and the building to which the same shall be attached or incorporated and on the land whereon the building shall be removed, including the lot or curtilage whereon the same is located by such removal.

2. And be it enacted, That all of the labor performed and materials furnished in erecting, constructing and repairing the foundation or superstructure, upon which such removed building shall be located upon or incorporated with some other building, shall be deemed and taken to be labor performed and materials furnished in the removal of the building.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXVIII.

An Act to repeal an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning savings banks,' approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six," which supplement was approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning savings banks' approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six," which supplement was approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, be and the said supplement is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXIX.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize the incorporation of rural cemetery associations and regulate cemeteries (Revision)," approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the care and management of all cemetery associations incorporated under the provisions of the act to which this act is a supplement, or by virtue of any special charter, may be confided to a board of managers or trustees, which board shall consist of not less than three nor more than twelve managers or trustees, who shall be lot-holders, and shall be elected at the annual meeting of the association, at which time the number of the said board of managers or trustees shall be determined; and the president and secretary shall, immediately after such election, divide the managers and trustees, by lot, into three classes; those of the first class to hold their office one year, those of the second class two years, and those of the third class three years, but the managers or trustees of each class may be re-elected if they shall possess the requisite qualifications at the time of their re-election; they shall also determine on what day in each future year the annual election of managers or trustees shall be held; the said board to have the exclusive management [illegible] of such association, with full power to appoint, employ and discharge any or all of the officers or agents of said association, as they may deem expedient, and to fix the compensation of such officers or agents.

2. And be it enacted, That the annual election for managers or trustees to supply the place of those whose term of office expires shall be holden on the day selected, or at such time and at such hour and place as the managers or trustees shall direct, at which election shall be chosen such number of managers or trustees as will supply the places of those whose term expires; [illegible] shall be by ballot, and every person of full age, who shall be proprietor of a lot or plot in the cemetery of the association, or if there be more than one proprietor of any such lot or plot, then such one of the proprietors as the majority of the joint proprietors shall designate to represent such lot or plot, may either in person or by proxy give one vote for each lot or plot; provided that no one person shall vote for more than one hundred plots or lots; and the [illegible]

[illegible] act and published in the county wherein said [illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That section four of the same act be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows: [illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXX.

An Act relating to assessment insurance.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any corporation or association organized under the laws of any other state of the United States for the purpose of furnishing life insurance upon the assessment plan, or that is carrying on the business of life insurance upon the assessment plan may be authorized by the commissioner of banking and insurance to transact business in this state when it shall have deposited with him a certified copy of the charter or articles of incorporation; a statement under oath of its president and secretary, in the form required by the commissioner of banking and insurance, of its business for the year ending December thirty-first last preceding; a certificate under oath of its president and secretary, that it is paying and for the twelve months then last preceding has paid, the maximum amount named in its policies or certificates in full, and that it does not issue policies or certificates of life insurance upon lives of persons more than sixty-five years of age; [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXI.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act in relation to the temporary custody of dangerous lunatics," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section three of an act entitled "An act in relation to the temporary custody of dangerous lunatics," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That in case there be no friends or relatives of such lunatic who will make application to the court or a judge thereof for the admission of such lunatic into a lunatic asylum, or the removal to their place of legal settlement, it shall be the duty of the city [illegible] immediately after the temporary confinement of such lunatic, to make application to the court or a judge thereof for the admission of such lunatic into a lunatic asylum, or their removal to their place of legal settlement; and such proceedings shall be had thereon as are now provided by law.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to regulate [illegible]," approved [illegible] ninth, one thousand eight hundred and [illegible] seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section thirteen of an act entitled "An act to [illegible]," approved [illegible] ninth, one thousand eight hundred and [illegible] seven, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

13. And be it enacted, That any person or corporation who shall violate the provisions of any section of this act shall be liable to a penalty of [illegible] hundred dollars for each and every [illegible] of said violation; [illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXIII.

An Act to repeal chapter two hundred and [illegible] five of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, entitled "An act [illegible]"

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That chapter two hundred and eighty-five of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine [illegible] be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXIV.

An Act to provide for the [illegible] county road bonds for the purpose [illegible] county roads.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That [illegible]

[illegible]

ties, and the supplements and amendments thereto, and have issued county road bonds by virtue of [illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed in so far as they [illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXV.

An Act amending an act to provide for the purchase, construction and maintenance of public parks by the cities and other municipalities in this state, approved March fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the act to which this is amendatory, be and the same is hereby further amended to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city or other municipality in this state, the common council, board of aldermen, board of trustees or other board or body having control of the streets, highways and public parks and places therein, may by ordinance, passed by a two-thirds vote of the members of such board or body, purchase or condemn if unable to purchase, one or more tracts of land lying wholly or partly within or without the limits of said city or other municipality for the use of the inhabitants of such municipality as a public park or parks, and may dedicate the same to such use, and may by law establish and maintain the same, and from time to time pass ordinances regulating and controlling the same, and providing for the proper and convenient use thereof by the inhabitants aforesaid.

2. And be it enacted, That such lands may be paid for as provided in the second section of said act, and in case of condemnation, the mode and manner of procedure shall be that provided in an act entitled "An act to empower cities to acquire lands for public parks by condemnation," approved May twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXVI.

An Act to provide for the paving or macadamizing of streets, roads and avenues in cities of the third class.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city of the third class, whose charter provides that the council may by ordinance provide for the payment of one-third of the expense and cost of paving the streets of said city with Belgian blocks, macadamizing or any other substantial material, that if any of the owners of lands on any street, road or avenue in said city shall make application, in writing, to the council or other governing body of said city, for the paving or macadamizing of any such street, road or avenue, that in such case it shall be lawful for the said council or governing body, at any regular meeting at which such application shall be presented, or at any regular meeting thereafter, to authorize by resolution the carrying out of said improvement, and that in such case the said resolution so adopted as aforesaid shall have the effect of a petition or application signed by one-third of the owners of the lands fronting on said improvement, and in such case such preliminary steps shall be taken to carry out such improvement as is provided for by the charter of such city; and that unless two-thirds of the owners of the lands fronting on said improvement remonstrate, as provided for by said charter, then in that case it shall be lawful for the said city council or other governing body to proceed to carry out said improvement mentioned in said petition according to the provisions of the said charter.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXVII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An Act for the better preservation of the early records of the state of New Jersey," passed March twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That to enable the New Jersey Historical Society to complete the work of procuring material for, and arranging, collating, editing and printing the early records of the state, to the close of the Revolution, in the form known as the "New Jersey Archives," the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof, as may be required for said purposes, is hereby appropriated, to be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller, to the person or persons furnishing such material or doing said work, upon presenting to and filing with the comptroller vouchers approved under the hands of at least three members of the committee heretofore appointed by said society to have charge of the publication of said archives.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXVIII.

A Supplement to the act entitled "An act to empower cities to acquire land for public use by condemnation," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever the land which any city or any of the boards or departments thereof require or desire to acquire for use, has already been dedicated or used by the city for other public purposes, whether such dedication has been made by grant, devise or otherwise, such land may be acquired under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement and the supplements thereto, and such former use diverted to and the said lands acquired and used by such city or board or departments as acquired, and any person who may have an interest, in any manner, in said lands or any part thereof, in law or equity, shall be notified and the commissioners shall ascertain and report the damages of such person by reason of the diversion of such use of said lands, and the amounts so allowed shall be paid, or paid into court in the same manner as provided in said act and supplements, and upon such payment, tender or payment or payment into the court of the amount as aforesaid, the city may take possession and use such lands as required and desired, freed and discharged from all former uses, trusts, interests and estates of every kind and of every person whatever, and in case the commissioners are unable to ascertain with certainty all who are, in any manner, interested in said lands and so report, then said commissioners, or a majority of them, may ascertain and report the total value, in gross, of all the damages occasioned by such proposed diversion of the use of said lands of such person as may be interested therein, and the city may pay to the clerk of the circuit court of such county such gross sum, and thereupon may enter into and take possession of said lands and use and occupy them as desired, freed and discharged from all trusts, estates and interests of every person whatsoever, and said sum, so paid into court, shall be paid out, on order of said court, to such persons as are entitled thereto or placed in trust, as provided in said act and supplements.

2. And be it enacted, That the commissioners appointed under the said act shall estimate and assess the damages that any person or corporation may sustain by reason of the diversion of such land from its dedicated use or present use to the use desired by such city or its boards or departments, and shall in their report make a return of what in their judgment or in the judgment of the majority of them is a fair and just award for damages suffered in any manner whatsoever by such person or corporation by reason of the proposed different use of said land from that dedicated or used; and that the city shall pay the amounts so appraised and allowed for damages, and any such person or corporation or the city, if aggrieved by said report may appeal from the said appraisement and award in respect to her, him or it in the manner and within the time in the said act, to which this is a supplement provided, and the jury shall [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXIX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXX.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act regulating proceedings in criminal cases" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section [illegible] of the act to which this is a supplement be amended to read as follows:

[illegible] And be it enacted, That every person sentenced to hard labor and imprisonment under the laws of this state, for any time not less than six months shall within twenty days after such conviction be transported, at the expense of the state, by the sheriff of the county where such conviction may be had or by his lawful deputy, to the state prison and there delivered into the custody of the keeper or of said prison, together with a copy of the sentence of the court ordering such punishment and of the record hereof, [illegible] by the clerk of the court [illegible] and shall be delivered to the keeper of said prison [illegible] until the time of his or her punishment shall have expired and until the fine and costs of prosecution be paid, or until he or she shall be otherwise discharged according to law; [illegible] for any time less than six months shall be confined in the common jail of the county where the conviction was had or the county workhouse, or the county penitentiary, in the discretion of the court, and there safely kept until the time of his or her punishment shall expire and until the fine and costs of prosecution be paid, or until he or she shall be discharged by due course of law.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXXI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish in this state boards of health and a bureau of vital statistics, and to define their respective powers and duties," approved March thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all police justices, recorders, justices of the peace and all other magistrates are hereby authorized, on complaint founded on information and belief, supported by oath or affirmation of any officer or agent of the state board of health or of any local board of health, that there is in any dwelling house, store, stable or any building of any kind whatsoever, any nuisance affecting health, or any person sick of any contagious or infectious disease, or any condition of contagion or infection which may have been caused by any one recently sick of any such disease in such dwelling house, store, stable or any other building, to issue a warrant directed to the sheriff of the county within which such complaint shall be made, or to any constable, marshal, police officer or to any officer or agent of such board of health, directing him, them or any of them to search in such dwelling house, store, stable or other building, for such nuisance affecting health, or for any person sick of any contagious or infectious disease, or for any condition of contagion or infection which may have been caused by any one recently sick of any such disease in such dwelling house or other place as aforesaid, and if such nuisance be found, to abate the same; and if such sick person be found to deal with him according to law and the ordinances of such board of health; and if such condition of contagion or infection be found to exist, to destroy the same by means of proper disinfection.

2. And be it enacted, That the officer to whom such search warrant shall be directed shall make return of his proceedings thereunder to the court or magistrate by which or whom such warrant may be issued.

3. And be it enacted, That the sheriff of the county and all constables, marshals and police officers of any county, city, borough or town, or such of them as shall be required, are hereby directed if required by any officer to whom such warrant may be directed, to be present and assist in the execution thereof.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXXII.

An Act amendatory of an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act relative to the jurisdiction and practice of district courts in this state,' approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two," which amendment was approved March eleventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section three of said act, as amended, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That the pleadings to be filed in said district courts in any suit where the debt demanded, or damages claimed, actually exceeds the sum of value of two hundred dollars, shall be the same as those in the circuit courts of the several counties of this state, and the practice of such circuit courts also, in so far as applicable, shall apply to said district courts in such cases, excepting, however, that where there may be some express provision of law providing otherwise, and the declaration in any such suit shall be filed within ten days after the return day named in the summons, and the plea or demurrer of the defendant shall be filed within ten days after the time limited for filing the plaintiff's declaration; and each subsequent pleading until the cause is at issue, shall be filed within ten days after the time limited for pleading by the opposite party; and every cause when at issue shall be noticed for trial within twenty days thereafter, and at least five days' notice of trial shall be given by the plaintiff and served in the same manner as in the circuit courts of the several counties of this state; and if the plaintiff shall neglect to notice his cause for trial within said time, judgment shall be awarded for the defendant as in case of a non-suit, with costs, unless the court allow further time; and the costs to be taxed in any such cause shall be the same as the attorney, court, clerk and sheriff are taxable in the circuit courts of the several counties in this state; provided, however, that in case the plaintiff shall omit or within ten days after the return day of the summons file his declaration and serve a copy thereof on the defendant or his attorney, the defendant shall plead or demur thereto within the days from the date of such service, and in default thereof the plaintiff may have judgment in the same manner that judgments by default are entered in the circuit courts of the several counties of this state and judgments by default in other cases for want of or failure to file plea of demurrer within the time above limited therefor, may be had and taken by the plaintiff in said district courts in the same manner as in such circuit courts.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXXIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act in reference to cities of the fourth class," approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and to give the governing body the power to improve any of the streets or avenues therein at the expense of the city at large, and to provide for the payment of the same.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in addition to the powers conferred by the act to which this is a supplement, it shall be lawful, and the common council or other governing body [illegible] any street or avenue under its charge [illegible] at the expense of the city at large, whenever and in any case in which said common council or governing body shall deem it for the general interest of the municipality so to do.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall appear to said common council or other governing body that it shall be to the advantage of the municipality at large to improve, pave, drain, curb, elevate or depress any street or avenue, or part or section thereof, [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXXIV.

An Act concerning the office of [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXXV.

An Act to [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXXVI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish a bureau of statistics upon the subject of labor, connected in all its relations to the growth and development of state industries," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the sum of five thousand dollars be and is hereby appropriated for the current expenses of said bureau.

2. And be it enacted, That the treasurer of this state is hereby authorized to pay from any moneys not otherwise appropriated the sum provided for in the first section of this act.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXXVII.

Supplement to an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning corporations,'" approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, which further supplement was approved May tenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning corporations,'" approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, which further supplement was approved May tenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any company organized by virtue of the act to which this is a supplement, for the purpose of [illegible] [illegible] for electric lights, heat or power, shall have full power to use the public roads or highways, streets, avenues and alleys in this state for the purpose of erecting poles [illegible] upon first obtaining the consent in writing of the owners of the adjoining land; [illegible]

[illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXXXVIII.

A Supplement to the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate elections,' approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which supplemental act was approved May twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section twenty-six of said supplemental act be and the same is hereby amended so that henceforth said section twenty-six shall be and read as follows, to wit:

26. And be it enacted, That any convention of delegates or assembly body of a political party as hereinafter defined, and also individual voters by petition, to the number and in the manner hereinafter specified, may nominate candidates for public office, whose names shall be printed, written or placed upon the ballots as hereinafter provided and directed; a "convention of delegates" or "assembly body of a political party" within the meaning of this act is an organized assemblage of delegates of voters, representing a political party which at the election for members of the general assembly next preceding the holding of such convention or assembly body polled at least two per centum of the total vote cast in the state, county or other division or district in and for which the nomination is made.

2. And be it enacted, That section twenty-eight of said supplemental act, approved May twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, be and the same is hereby amended so that henceforth said section twenty-eight shall be and read as follows to wit:

28. And be it enacted, That besides the nomination of candidates by a convention of delegates or assembly body of a political party, as hereinbefore provided, candidates for public office may also be nominated by petition in manner following: such petition shall be addressed to the secretary of state or clerk of said county, city or other municipality as may be proper, pursuant to the requirements of this act hereinafter contained, and shall set forth the name or names and places of residence and post office addresses of the candidates for the office to be filled, the office for which such candidate is named, that such petitioners are legally qualified to vote for such candidates; said petition may also designate in not more than three words, the title of the party or principle which the candidate therein named represent, and shall be signed by legally qualified voters of the state residing within the district or political division in and for which the officer or officers nominated are to be elected equal in number to at least one per centum of the entire vote cast at the last preceding election for members of the general assembly in the state, county, district or other division in and for which the nominations are made; provided, that where the nomination is for an office to be filled by the voters of the entire state, eight hundred signatures in the aggregate for each candidate nominated in said petition shall be sufficient; when the nomination by such petition is for an office to be filled by the voters of a district, county, city, township or other division less than the entire state, the petition shall be signed by qualified voters of such district, county, city, town or other division not less in number than one for every one hundred votes cast in such district, county, city, town or other division at the next preceding election for members of the general assembly; provided, however, that not more than one hundred signatures shall be required to any petition for any officers to be elected, any only such as are to be voted for by the voters of the state at large; in case of a first election to be held in a newly established election district, division, county, city or ward, the number of fifty signatures to a petition shall be sufficient to nominate a candidate to be voted for only in such election district or division, county, city or ward; every voter signing a petition shall add to his signature his place of residence, post office address and street number, if any; such voter may sign one petition for each officer and no more, but all the names need not be signed to one petition; before any petition shall be filed as hereinafter provided, at least five of the voters signing the same shall make oath before [illegible] that the said petition is made in good faith, that the affiants verily believe all the signatures thereto to be genuine and those of duly qualified voters, and a certificate that such oath has been taken shall be endorsed upon or annexed to the petition by the officer before whom the same was made.

3. And be it enacted, That section thirty-three of said supplemental act, approved May twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, be and the same is hereby amended so that henceforth said section thirty-three shall be and read as follows, to wit:

33. And be it enacted, That on the back of each of the said ballots to be provided by the county or municipal clerk shall be printed the words "Official ballot for ———," after the word "for" in each case shall follow the designation of the county district for which the ballot is prepared, [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXXXIX.

An Act [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXL.

Supplement to an act [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] section, viz: to regulate or prohibit by ordinance the unlawful [illegible] in said act, to which this is a further supplemental [illegible] in or over the public roads, streets, avenues or sidewalks in said township or such of the same as in the judgment of said township committee may be thereby made unsafe for public travel.

2. And be it enacted, That when a fine is imposed for a violation of the ordinances provided for by the act to increase the powers of township committees, approved March [illegible], one thousand eight hundred and eighty, or by the supplement thereto, and the offender is unable to pay such fine he may be imprisoned one day for each dollar of fine so imposed in lieu thereof.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLI.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the organization of the national guard of the state of New Jersey," approved March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and the various amendments thereto.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the supplement to the act for the organization of the national guard, approved March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, which supplement was approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That all surgeons and medical stewards of the national guard, and all the other persons who may hereafter be commissioned or warranted as surgeons, assistant surgeons or hospital stewards in the national guard, together with such "hospital and ambulance corps" as may hereafter be created in the national guard, shall constitute a department to be known as the medical department of the national guard, and shall be under the medical control and direction of the surgeon-general.

3. And be it enacted, That the commander-in-chief, on the recommendation of the surgeon-general shall appoint two medical inspectors, each with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, who shall act as assistants to the surgeon-general and be under his direction and control.

4. And be it enacted, That the surgeon-general may enlist a "hospital and ambulance corps" in each brigade, to consist of not more than one man from each company; they shall be attached to their respective brigade headquarters, and shall be under the immediate medical control of the brigade surgeon and under the general medical control of the surgeon-general, and the men so enlisted shall be assigned to companies as members thereof by the brigade commander.

5. And be it enacted, That from such "hospital and ambulance corps" there may be appointed by the surgeon-general one non-commissioned officer for each five men; they shall rank as sergeants, and may also be designated as medical cadets, and shall be warranted by the commandant of the regiment in which they are members.

6. And be it enacted, That there shall be paid on the first Monday of April of each year to the brigade paymasters of each brigade of the national guard the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be expended by the said brigade paymaster, on the approval of the surgeon-general, for the military support and maintenance of the "hospital and ambulance corps" attached to their respective brigades.

7. And be it enacted, That the quartermaster-general shall act as chief medical purveyor and storekeeper, and shall issue medical supplies only upon requisitions regularly forwarded and approved, but not without the approval of the surgeon-general; the medical purveyor shall purchase with the consent of the governor, only such medical supplies as the surgeon-general shall select and approve.

8. And be it enacted, That all candidates for appointment as medical officers in the national guard shall be examined as to their ability to discharge in a satisfactory manner all the duties of a surgeon, assistant surgeon or hospital steward, and the surgeon-general shall have the charge and regulation of such examination, and no person shall be commissioned or warranted without undergoing such an examination; the morals, habits, physical and mental qualifications and general aptitude for military service shall be subjects for careful consideration; also physical or mental infirmity that will interfere with the proper and efficient discharge of a medical officer's duty; and the approval or disapproval of the surgeon-general must in all cases be noted on the certificate of a candidate for appointment or promotion, and no medical officer will be commissioned or warranted without the approval of the surgeon-general.

9. And be it enacted, That all assignments or details of medical officers for any special duty, or for any duty outside of the commands in which they are commissioned or warranted, will be made only upon the request or approval of the surgeon-general.

10. And be it enacted, That the surgeon-general shall submit annually to the commander-in-chief a report of the medical department, and that such report shall be published with that of the adjutant general.

11. And be it enacted, That to each regiment there shall be one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel and one major for each drill battalion constituting a part of the regiment; the regimental staff shall consist of one adjutant, with the rank of first lieutenant; one quartermaster, with the rank of first lieutenant; one paymaster with the rank of first lieutenant; one surgeon, with the rank of major; one chaplain, with the rank of captain; one judge advocate, with the rank of captain; one inspector of rifle practice, with the rank of captain; one sergeant major, one quartermaster sergeant, one commissary sergeant, one principal musician, one color sergeant and one bugler, with the rank of sergeant; and the regimental staff shall also consist of one adjutant, with the rank of first lieutenant; one assistant surgeon, with the rank of first lieutenant; one sergeant major, one hospital steward, for each drill battalion constituting a part of the regiment.

12. And be it enacted, That special enlistments may be made for bands, field music, signal corps and gun detachments with the approval of the commandant of the regiment, and they may be assigned to companies as members thereof by the brigade commander.

13. And be it enacted, That the commander-in-chief, whenever he shall deem it advisable for the public interest, may cause to be organized two troops of cavalry, the minimum of which organization shall be not less than three commissioned officers and forty enlisted men; which company shall be entitled to the rights, privileges and allowances of companies of the national guard.

14. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

15. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLII.

An Act to exempt from taxation real and personal property of exempt firemen's associations and of firemen's relief associations.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the real and personal estate of any exempt firemen's association and of all firemen's relief associations incorporated under the laws of this state, and which is used exclusively for the purposes of such association, shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation, so long as such property is used exclusively for such purpose.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and they are hereby repealed and that this act shall be a public act and take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLIII.

An Act to authorize the acquisition of real estate, and the erection of buildings thereon for the use of police and fire departments in cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever in the opinion of the boards or authorities having the control of the police and fire departments in any city of this state it shall be deemed desirable to dispose of any tract of land in such city whereon there are erected police station and fire station houses it shall be lawful for the authorities or other board having charge of the erection of public buildings in said city to purchase in the corporate name of the city two plots of land in such part of said city as may be required and indicated by such police and fire boards respectively, and to have erected upon one of said plots of land so purchased a proper police station house and upon the other of said plots a proper fire station house, as said boards respectively may deem necessary; provided, however, that the purchase of said real estate shall be only of such parts or parcels as shall be authorized by a concurrent vote of the board having charge and control of the finances of said city, and that such [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXLIV.

An Act to provide for the appointment of [illegible] in cities of the second [illegible]

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That [illegible]

[illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That the said assessors may be appointed by the mayor and common council or other governing body of such city, in manner aforesaid, at any time after the passage of this act, but shall not enter upon the discharge of their duties nor shall their term of office begin until the expiration of the term of office for which the present assessors in such city were elected, and the appointment of said assessors by the mayor and common council or other governing body of such city in manner aforesaid, shall be taken to be and is hereby declared to be the election of the successors of the before mentioned assessors elected in and for such city as aforesaid.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLV.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting conveyances" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the sixth section of the act to which this is a supplement be amended to read as follows:

6. And be it enacted, That if the grantor, or any of the grantors, of any deed or conveyance of lands, tenements or hereditaments, lying or being in this state, heretofore made and executed, and not already acknowledged or proved according to law, or hereafter to be made and executed, and which shall not be acknowledged or proved according to law, and the subscribing witnesses thereto be dead or of unsound mind, or resident without the United States of America, it shall be lawful to prove such deed or conveyance before the circuit court of the county in which such lands, tenements or hereditaments or some part of the same, are situate, by proving the handwriting of such witnesses, or if there be no witnesses to said deed, by proving the handwriting of such grantor or grantors, to the full satisfaction of said court, which proof may be made by affidavits in writing taken before any officer in this state authorized by law to take the acknowledgment and proof of deeds, and annexed to the said deed, and which proof shall be certified on or under such deed or conveyance in open court, by the judge holding the same; and such deed or conveyance, so proved and certified, shall be recorded by the clerk of the court of common pleas of the county in which such proof shall be made; and the said deed or conveyance, and the record thereof, shall be received in evidence, and shall have the same force and effect, but none other as other deeds or conveyances, and the record thereof, when acknowledged or proved by the grantor or witnesses; provided, that before any deed or conveyance shall be proved as aforesaid, notice of the application to the said circuit court for that purpose, describing the same, and describing the lands, tenements or hereditaments contained therein, and the time and place of such application, shall be given by advertisements, signed by the person and persons making such application, and set up in five, at least, of the most public places in said county, one of which shall be set up in the city or township in which such lands, tenements or hereditaments are situated, at least two calendar months before making such application, and also by a publication, for at least six weeks successively in some newspaper printed in said county, if any be printed therein, and if not, then in some newspaper circulating therein, and printed in an adjacent county, and due proof by affidavit annexed to said deed, if such notice shall be made to the said court, and certified by said judge in the aforesaid certificate of proof; and provided also, that all deeds proved according to this section shall, when recorded, be filed and kept as deeds which are recorded ten years after the date thereof are in this act directed to be kept; and a copy of such deed, as filed, duly certified, with copies of the certificates of proof or acknowledgment by the clerk in whose office it is filed, under his hand and seal, may be recorded in any other office in this state, in the same manner as the original deed might have been, and the record of such copy shall be available and sufficient for notice only.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLVI.

An Act authorizing the board of chosen freeholders, in counties of the second class, to fill vacancies.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the board of chosen freeholders, in counties of the second class, to fill vacancies occurring in said board, by reason of death, removal or otherwise by majority vote of said board, for unexpired term.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLVII.

An Act to repeal an act entitled "An act to authorize and enable counties in this state to acquire and improve lands for public parks, and to maintain and regulate the same," approved March thirteenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, with and including the several acts supplementary thereto, and providing for the disposition of moneys raised by virtue thereof in any county of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That "An act to authorize and enable counties in this state to acquire and improve land for public parks, and to maintain and regulate the same," approved March thirteenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, with the several acts supplementary thereto, be and the same are hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That any moneys raised and procured by taxation and collected or obtained at any time under or by virtue of said acts, or either of them, in any county of this state, and which may now remain on hand, or in the custody, care or control of any commissioner, treasurer, officer or person named or referred to in either of said acts, or any other person whatsoever, shall be and hereby are ordered and directed to be handed over without delay, accompanied by a full statement relative to all of such moneys, including what may have been expended thereof, as shall have come to the hands of any such commissioner, treasurer or person, to the county collector of such county, who is hereby authorized to receive the same and grant receipt and discharge therefor; all such moneys, together with any sums of balance of such moneys as such collector may have on hand undisposed of are hereby committed to the care and custody of such county collector, to be taken and received by him, and distributed and paid back by him as follows: he shall, after computing the whole amount of such moneys which shall have come to his hands, also compute and ascertain what share, portion or sum thereof each city, town, township or other municipality of such county, which shall have paid and contributed thereto, may be entitled to be credited with, on the basis of and in proportion to the amount thereof which each may have paid and contributed thereto in the first instance; and this portion, sum or balance, thus ascertained, credited and remaining to the credit of each such municipality shall be paid over by such county collector to such municipality; and such tax money, portion or balance thereof so remaining shall be paid in each case to that officer in such city, town, township or municipality who may be authorized to take and receive other tax moneys therein; and such last-mentioned officer shall receive and give receipt in writing to such county collector therefor, as so much park tax money paid back by the county, in pursuance hereof, to such municipality for its benefit and use.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXLVIII.

An Act providing for the pensioning of firemen in certain cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of this state having a paid fire department any fireman having received permanent disability by reason of accident incurred at any time in the service shall be retired upon half pay.

2. And be it enacted, That in any city or municipality of this state in which this act shall become operative the board or authority having control of the finances of such city or municipality shall borrow a sum sufficient to cover such pensions required during the remainder of the current fiscal year of such city or municipality, or may permit the same to be paid out of any money of said city or municipality not otherwise appropriated, and shall thereafter annually put in the annual tax levy raised in said city or municipality a sum sufficient to cover such pensions.

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCXLIX.

A Supplement to "An act respecting conveyances" [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCL.

An Act relative to the jurisdiction and powers of [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCLI.

A [illegible]

[illegible]

Approved March 17, 1893.

[illegible] annual salary of each law or president judge aforesaid shall be fifteen hundred dollars in counties where the population is not more than thirty-nine thousand; three thousand dollars in counties where the population is more than thirty-nine thousand and not more than fifty-nine thousand; forty-five hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than fifty-nine thousand and not more than sixty-nine thousand; forty-seven hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than sixty-nine thousand and not more than seventy-nine thousand; forty-nine hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than seventy-nine thousand and not more than eighty-nine thousand; five thousand dollars in counties where the population is more than eighty-nine thousand and not more than ninety-nine thousand; five thousand two hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than ninety-nine thousand and not more than one hundred and nine thousand; five thousand six hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than one hundred and nine thousand and not more than one hundred and fifty thousand; seven thousand five hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than one hundred and fifty thousand.

2. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the above section be and the same is hereby further amended so as to read as follows:

3. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the law or president judges of the courts of common pleas of the counties of this state shall be paid an annual salary in proportion to the population of said counties respectively as hereinafter provided, that is to say, the annual salary of each law or president judge aforesaid shall be fifteen hundred dollars in counties where the population is not more than nineteen thousand; eighteen hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than nineteen thousand and not more than twenty-nine thousand; twenty-two hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than twenty-nine thousand and not more than thirty-nine thousand; three thousand dollars in counties where the population is more than thirty-nine thousand and not more fifty-nine thousand; forty-five hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than fifty-nine thousand and not more than sixty-nine thousand; forty-seven hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than sixty-nine thousand and not more than seventy-nine thousand; forty-nine hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than seventy-nine thousand and not more than eighty-nine thousand; five thousand dollars in counties where the population is more than eighty-nine thousand; five thousand two hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than ninety-nine thousand and not more than one hundred and nine thousand; five thousand six hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than one hundred and nine thousand and not more than one hundred and fifty thousand; seven thousand five hundred dollars in counties where the population is more than one hundred and fifty thousand.

4. And be it enacted, That the annual salary to be paid any of said judges under section one of said act, as above amended, shall be based upon the total population of the county as ascertained and determined by the last federal census, and the annual salary thus ascertained or determined shall be paid each judge, by the collector of the county, in equal monthly payments and said salary shall be in lieu of all fees.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall only apply to law or president judges of the courts of common pleas whose term of office shall hereafter commence or to those now in office who may file their assent in writing under their hands to the provision of this act in the office of the clerk of the county, the law or president judge of which assents as above provided; and in case any judge now in office shall assent as now provided, the amount of his annual salary shall be ascertained and determined by the federal census of the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and shall be paid to him, under the provisions of this act, from and after the date of filing his assent as aforesaid by the collector of the county, in equal monthly payments.

6. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts, whether general, special or local, inconsistent or in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, and that this act shall be a public act and take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLII.

An Act in relation to free public libraries in cities of the second class in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for the board of trustees of the free public library in any city of the second class of this state to build upon land already owned by it, or to purchase land and build thereon a building or buildings, structure or structures, for the uses and purposes of a free public library within its corporate limits; provided, that the cost and expense of the land purchased, and the building or buildings, structure or structures to be erected shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

2. And be it enacted, That to defray the cost and expense of such land and building or buildings, structure or structures to be erected under and in pursuance of the first section of this act, it shall be the duty of the common council or other governing body of any city of the second class in this state, at the request of the said board of trustees of the free public library within said city, to issue bonds in the corporate name of said city for the aggregate amount required by said board of free library trustees in sums of not more than one thousand dollars and not less than one hundred dollars, each to be signed by the mayor and countersigned by the clerk and sealed with the corporate seal of said city and to have written or printed thereon the words "free library construction bonds," said bonds to be disposed of at not less than their par value and shall be payable at the expiration of not more than twenty years after their date of issue, and to draw interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually; and the common council or other governing body of such municipal corporation shall have the power to raise the money to pay the principal and interest of said construction bonds as the same mature, in addition to the tax they are now authorized by law to raise for the purposes of a free library, and in the same manner as other taxes are assessed and raised by such municipal corporation; and the money so raised by the issuing of said bonds shall be paid to the said board of free library trustees, to be used by them for the purchase of any land and the erection of any building or buildings, structure or structures for the use of a free public library within the corporate limits of said city of the second class.

3. And be it enacted, That in case said board of trustees of the free public library of any city of the second class cannot agree with the owner or owners, or other persons interested in any lands which said trustees may desire to take, use or occupy, or from which they may desire to take or divert, either in whole or in part, for the purposes of their building, or cannot agree with the owner or owners for the whole or any part of any lands as to the amount of compensation to be paid for such taking, use, diversion or occupation or interest, it shall be lawful for any justice of the supreme court of this state, upon application by said trustees and upon two weeks' previous notice served in person or by leaving at the dwelling house or usual place of abode of such owner or owners or, in case of absence from the state or legal disability, publish in a newspaper published nearest to the lands in question to appoint three disinterested commissioners, residents of the county in which said lands are situated, to assess and ascertain the value of the lands so proposed to be taken, used and occupied, which commissioners shall appoint a time and place at which they shall meet to execute the duties of their appointment, and shall cause two weeks' notice thereof to be given to the parties interested therein, either by personal service or by publication in a newspaper published in the county where such lands may be, at which time and place the said commissioners shall meet and view the premises, and hear the parties interested and take evidence, if any be offered, and for that purpose shall have power to administer oaths or affirmation, and to adjourn from day to day; and in case of the refusal or failure of either or any of said commissioners to attend and perform their said duties, the said judge shall have power to appoint another or disinterested person or persons as commissioners to act in the place of such absent commissioner or commissioners; and the said trustees shall make and exhibit to the said commissioners at their meeting aforesaid, for the use of the parties interested, a statement and description in writing or by drawings or maps, or both, of the lands by them sought to be taken or diverted as aforesaid, and of the use, occupation of and excavations upon any lands by them sought to be made; and the said commissioners shall thereupon ascertain and assess the value and damages aforesaid [illegible]

[illegible]

CHAPTER CCLIII.

An Act to enable second class cities in this state to improve and extend the water supply in said cities and to issue bonds for the payment thereof.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city of the second class in this state in which the water works are owned and operated by the city authorities it shall and may be lawful for the common council, board of aldermen, board of public works, or other governing body having control and management of such water works, by whatever name such governing body shall be called, whenever they shall deem it expedient, to purchase and acquire such additional land, property, water source, water rights and privileges as they shall consider advisable for the improvement and extension of the water supply of such city, either at or near the present water works or at any other place in this state within twenty miles of such city, and to sink wells and to erect thereon reservoirs, pumping stations and such buildings as may be deemed advisable by said common council, board of aldermen, board of public works or other governing body for that purpose, and to purchase and erect such pumps, machinery or other appliances as shall be deemed advisable, and to lay pipes for conduits therefrom to connect with the pipes now laid within said city and to lay additional pipes in and along the streets of such city for the purpose of extending the water supply therein, and that it shall and may be lawful for said city to acquire the said land, water rights or property, in fee simple or any lesser estate or right therein.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever in the judgment of the common council, board of aldermen, board of public works or other governing body of any such city, additional water facilities are or may be desired for public use it shall and may be lawful for such council, board of public works or other governing body to authorize the chief engineer of the water department of such city, or other person or persons appointed by said council, board of aldermen, board of public works or other governing body, to treat with the owners of such lands and water rights as may be required to be used for water purposes; and in case it should, in any case, be found that suitable property cannot be purchased by agreement with the owner or owners, or in case the price demanded by such owner or owners is in the judgment of the common council, board of public works or other governing body, in any case exorbitant and more than a fair equivalent therefor, then the said chief engineer or other person or persons appointed by said common council, board of public works, board of aldermen or other governing power shall report the same with a description of the lands to the common council, board of public works or other governing body, and the said council, board of public works or other governing body may order or direct the condemnation thereof.

3. And be it enacted, That if the said common council, board of public works or other governing body shall in any case direct the condemnation of any lands or water rights, as provided for in the preceding section, it shall be the duty of the city council forthwith to apply to one of the justices of the supreme court of this state for the appointment of three commissioners to make an appraisement of the value of the lands or water rights so to be condemned, for the purpose aforesaid, and of the damage which any owner or owners of such lands or water rights may suffer by reason of the taking thereof; provided, that at least four days previous, notice shall be given by service, either personally or by leaving the said notice at the dwelling house or usual place of abode of each owner or owners, or in case of absence from the state, or legal disability of such owner or owners, such notice shall be published in two or more newspapers published and circulating near the lands or water rights in question, for two weeks.

4. And be it enacted, That the said commissioners appointed by said justice, having taken an oath faithfully and impartially to execute the duties of their office, shall forthwith proceed to estimate and determine the fair value of the lands and real estate or water rights to be taken and condemned as aforesaid, and the damage which the owner or owners thereof will suffer by reason of the taking thereof, first having given at least ten days' notice in writing to the said owner or owners, either personally or by leaving the same at his or her place of abode, of the time and place when and where they may be heard in relation to the matter; in case any owner shall be an infant, married woman, non compos mentis or absent from the city or place where such condemnation proceedings are taken, or be from any cause incapacitated to act in this behalf, then notice of the time and place and object of said meeting shall be advertised or other notice given as the said justice may direct, and said meeting or meetings may be adjourned from time to time at the discretion of said commissioners; as soon as they shall have determined upon said valuation they shall make and sign a certificate thereof and file the same in the office of the city clerk of such city or such other place as the said justice may direct, immediately upon the payment to said owner or owners of the amount of said valuation, or in case he or they will or cannot receive the same, upon the deposit of the same in such bank or institution as the said justice may direct, the title to and the right of possession of such property or water rights shall immediately become vested in such city or place; and any owner conceiving himself or herself aggrieved by the proceedings of said commissioners may appeal therefrom to the supreme court of this state at any time within sixty days after the filing of said certificate, and the said court shall thereupon order a trial by jury to assess the value of said property and the said damages, which trial shall be conducted in all respects as in other cases of trial by jury, and the final judgment of the said court upon the verdict rendered therein shall be conclusive upon all parties as to the said valuation and damages, and the amount already paid or deposited as aforesaid shall be increased or diminished accordingly.

5. And be it enacted, That the commissioners so to be appointed by the said justice of the supreme court shall receive such compensation for their services as the said justice shall order and direct, and the same shall be paid, as well as all other expenses incident to the condemnation proceedings, from the funds provided as herein directed for the purchase of land and water rights and the erection of buildings and the laying of water pipes.

6. And be it enacted, That the said common council, board of aldermen or other governing body having control and management of the finances of said city, and the application of the governing body having the control and management of the water supply of said city be and are hereby authorized and required, for the purpose of improving and extending such water supply and the purchase and acquisition of land and water rights therefor and the construction of buildings and reservoirs thereon, and the purchase and erection of pumps, machinery and other appliances and the laying of pipes in and along the streets of such city, to issue bonds in the name and under the seal of the city, to be denominated on their face "water bonds," in addition to any heretofore authorized by law, to any amount not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars; such bonds may be registered or coupon bonds, and shall bear a rate of interest not exceeding five per centum, and shall be redeemable at any time not less than five nor more than thirty years from their date, in the discretion of said board, which bonds may be sold at public or private sale for the best price they can obtain for the same, but not under the par value thereof; all bonds issued as aforesaid shall be signed by the city treasurer and countersigned by the mayor of such city, and all the real estate within such city shall be liable for the payment of the principal and interest may become due on the bonds to be issued by virtue of this act.

7. And be it enacted, That such board be and is hereby authorized to contract with the authorities of any other municipality for furnishing water to the citizens and the extinguishment of fires.

8. And be it enacted, That any such city shall by ordinance create, establish, maintain and regulate a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds created by this act, and define the powers and duties of the board or committee in charge thereof, to which shall be added annually not less than five per centum of the gross receipts from the water works of said city.

9. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 21, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLIV.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning corporations" (Revision), approved April seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any company or association incorporated under any general law of this state, or by special act of incorporation or otherwise shall have the power to increase or decrease the number of its directors by the assent in writing of stockholders representing two-thirds in value of the existing capital stock of said corporation, and a certificate signed by the president and secretary and under the corporate seal of the company, reciting that the assents of the said stockholders had been given, and also setting forth the number of directors as increased or decreased, shall be filed in the department of state, within ten days after the execution of said certificate, and a certified copy of said certificate by the secretary of state shall be taken and accepted as evidence of such increase or decrease of directors in any court of this state; provided, that in no case shall the number of directors in such company or association be decreased to less than three.

2. And be it enacted, That subscriptions to the capital stock of any corporation organized or to be organized under the act to which this is a supplement, or any supplement thereto, may be paid wholly or partly in cash, or wholly or partly in property of the full value thereof, and the stock so issued shall be declared and taken to be full paid stock, and not liable to any further call, neither shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payment under any provision of this act or the act to which this is a supplement.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the incorporators, or a majority of them, of any incorporation incorporated or that may hereafter be incorporated under the act to which this is a supplement, or any supplement thereto, to file, in the department of state, a certificate stating that they have failed, and do not intend to perfect an organization of said corporation, and surrendering all the rights and franchises of said corporation, which certificate shall be sworn or affirmed to by the incorporators signing the same, and within ten days thereafter shall be filed in the department of state, and upon the filing of said certificate, the corporate powers of said corporation shall thereupon cease and the corporation therein named shall be deemed to be dissolved.

4. And be it enacted, That the dissolution of a corporation as provided by the thirty-fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement, shall not be considered complete until an affidavit that the certificate of dissolution issued by the secretary of state has been duly published, as required by the act, shall have been filed in the department of state.

5. And be it enacted, That wherever in the act to which this is a supplement or any supplement thereto, the terms "general stock" and "common stock" occur, they shall be considered as synonymous; that either may be used, and they shall be construed interchangeably, and as both meaning ordinary unpreferred stock.

6. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for any corporation organized or that may be organized under any general law of this state, with the assent of a majority in interest of its stockholders, at a special meeting to be called for that purpose, to amend its original certificate of incorporation by a certificate which shall be duly signed by its president and attested by its secretary, under its corporate seal, and in all respects executed in the same manner as its original certificate of incorporation, which amended certificate shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the original certificate was recorded and filed in the department of state; and thereupon such amended certificate shall take the place of the original certificate of incorporation, and shall be deemed to have been recorded and filed on the date of the recording and filing of the original certificate; provided, that nothing herein contained shall permit the insertion of any matter not in conformity with the law under which such company was organized, and that nothing herein contained shall affect any suit or proceeding at the time of the filing of such amended certificate, pending by or against the said corporation, or impairing any right of action accrued by or against its stockholders, corporators or directors; and provided further, that the total authorized capital stock of any such corporation shall not be increased or decreased in the amended certificate herein provided for.

7. And be it enacted, That section one of an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning corporations,' approved April seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-five," which supplement was approved February twenty-first, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, be amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any corporation existing under and by virtue of the laws of this state, whether created by special charter or otherwise, to change its corporate name by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors or managers of such corporation, who shall be present at a regular or special meeting called for that purpose; provided, that the corporation cause to be made and filed a certificate in writing, in manner hereinafter mentioned; such certificate in writing shall set forth:

I. The name of such corporation in use immediately preceding the vote, and making and filing the said certificate;

II. The name assumed to designate such corporation and to be used in its business and dealings in the place and stead of that referred to in the last preceding paragraph, and which said certificate shall be signed by the board of directors, or a majority of said board, and recorded, in pursuance of the act to which this is a supplement, in the office of the clerk of the county where the principal office or place of business of such corporation in this state shall be established; and after being so recorded shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state; and to which certificate shall be affixed the official seal of said board and the affidavit of the secretary or acting secretary of such corporation, that the said certificate is made by the authority of the board of directors or managers of such corporation, as expressed by a two-thirds vote of the members present at a regular or special meeting of said board called for that purpose.

8. And be it enacted, That the thirtieth section of the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

30. And be it enacted, That the president and the secretary or treasurer of such company, after the payment of the last installment of the total amount of capital stock as authorized by its certificate of incorporation, shall make a certificate stating the amount of the capital so authorized and paid in, which certificate shall be signed and sworn to or affirmed by the president and secretary or treasurer; and they shall within ten days thereafter cause the same to be filed in the department of state.

9. And be it enacted, That the thirty-first section of the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

31. And be it enacted, That if any of the said companies shall increase their capital stock as provided by this act or any supplement thereto the officers mentioned in the preceding section, after the payment of the last installment of such additional stock shall make a certificate of the amount so added and paid in and sign and swear to or affirm the same, and cause it to be filed in the manner provided in the preceding section.

10. And be it enacted, That section thirty-three of the act to which this is a supplement be amended so as to read as follows:

33. And be it enacted, That every such company may, by a vote of two-thirds in interest of the stockholders, in person or by proxy, at any meeting called for that purpose, change the nature of its business; and in such case a certificate of the proceedings, signed by the president and secretary under the corporate seal of the company, reciting that the assent of the said stockholders have been given, and also the change of the nature of its business shall be filed in the department of state within ten days after the meeting of the stockholders as aforesaid and a certified copy of said certificate by the secretary of state shall be taken and accepted as evidence in any court of this state.

11. And be it enacted, That section twenty-four of the act entitled "An act concerning corporations" (Revision), approved April seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-five, be and the same is hereby repealed.

12. And be it enacted, That on filing any certificate or other paper, relative to corporations, in the department of state, the following fees and taxes shall be paid to the secretary of state, for the use of the state: for certificate of organization, one-fifth of a dollar (twenty cents) per one thousand dollars of the total amount of capital authorized, but in no case less than twenty-five dollars; increase of capital stock, one-fifth of a dollar (twenty cents) per one thousand dollars of the total amount authorized, but in no case less than twenty dollars; consolidation and merger of companies, one-fifth of a dollar (twenty cents) per one thousand dollars of capital authorized, beyond the total authorized capital of the companies merged or consolidated; provided, that the minimum fee shall be twenty dollars; extension or renewal of corporate existence of any corporation, the same as required for the original certificate of organization by this act; dissolution of corporation; change of name; change of nature of business; increase or decrease of number of directors; amended or supplemental certificates of organization other than those authorizing increase of capital stock; decrease of capital stock; increase or decrease of par value or of number of shares, twenty dollars; for filing list of officers and directors, one dollar; and for all certificates not hereby provided for, five dollars.

13. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 21, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLV.

An Act for the support and improvement of the New Jersey school for deaf mutes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the state board of education shall have power to order all necessary repairs and alterations to the grounds, buildings and furniture of the New Jersey school for deaf mutes, to provide additional furniture and apparatus therein, and to keep said buildings and furniture insured; and the comptroller shall draw warrants upon the treasurer of the school fund for the payment of the same, upon the certificate of the president of said board, the amount to be expended annually not to exceed the sum of five thousand dollars.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 21, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLVI.

An Act for the support and improvement of the New Jersey school for deaf mutes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That to enable the state board of education to provide proper hospital accommodations for the New Jersey school for deaf mutes for suitably taking care of the sick therein, and to improve the sanitary condition of buildings of the school, and to continue the work of establishing and maintaining a system of manual and industrial education in the school, there is hereby appropriated the sum of fifteen thousand dollars; and the comptroller shall draw warrants upon the treasurer of the school fund for the payment of the same, upon the certificate of the president of said board.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 21, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLVII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting executions" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section twenty-three of the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

23. And be it enacted, That when an execution against the property of any debtor, individual, corporation, unincorporated company or voluntary association, upon a judgment recovered or docketed in the supreme court, or in the circuit court, or court of common pleas in and for any county in this state, or which now is or hereafter shall be docketed in the court of common pleas from any of the courts for the trial of small causes in this state, or from any of the district courts in any of the cities of this state, shall be returned by the officer to whom it is delivered unsatisfied, in whole or in part, it shall be lawful for any judge of the court out of which said execution issued in term time or vacation, on application by the judgment creditor in manner hereinafter provided, to make order requiring the judgment debtor to appear and make discovery, on oath, concerning his, its or their property and things in action, before such judge or a supreme court commissioner, to be designated in said order, at a time and place in said order specified; provided, nevertheless, that no such order shall be made when the amount due on such judgment shall be less than twenty-five dollars.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLVIII.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to regulate the action of replevin" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, eighteen hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever a warehouseman at the time any goods or chattels are placed on storage with him shall obtain from the party placing such goods or chattels on storage a statement in writing that such goods are the sole and absolute property of the bailor aforesaid, and in any action of replevin thereafter brought in any court for the recovery of such goods or chattels by any person other than the bailor aforesaid, no costs of suit shall be adjudged, taxed or recovered against said warehousekeeper in any action aforesaid, whenever judgment is obtained against the defendant in such action.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act and to take effect immediately.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLIX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," approved April third, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section two of the act to which this is amendatory shall read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That the said society shall have power to elect and appoint officers and agents for carrying on the business of the same, also to make and use a common seal and alter the same; also to establish such by-laws and regulations as shall seem necessary and expedient for the government of said corporation, and by its corporate name shall be known in law, and have power to sue and be sued, and to defend and be defended in all courts, whether in law or in equity; the members of said society in good standing, may use a common badge, which shall be authority for making arrests, and any person not a member using said badge shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and for every such offence shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars nor less than fifty dollars.

2. And be it enacted, That section three of the said act shall be amended to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That this society shall not, in its corporate capacity, purchase and hold real estate exceeding in value, at any time, the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars; but it may take by devise or gift any and all real estate or personal property, which is or may be devised or given it, without regard to value.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLX.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to incorporate the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals,' approved April third, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight," which supplement was approved March twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the act entitled "An act for the prevention of cruelty to animals," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the president of the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals may, from time to time and at such times as he shall deem proper, appoint in the several counties in this state as many persons as he shall deem fit, to organize in the county whom they make a district society for the purpose of the enforcement of all laws which are now or may hereafter be enacted for the protection of dumb animals; such society shall be organized under and by virtue of a certificate of authority issued by the president of the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals for that purpose, which certificate may be revoked by said president at any time for cause; said county district society may organize other societies in said county, by and with the approval of the president of the state society.

2. And be it enacted, That section four of the said act shall be amended to read as follows:

4. And be it enacted, That said district societies may purchase and hold real estate, in the counties where they are organized, not exceeding in value at any one time the sum of ten thousand dollars; but the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and said district societies may take by devise or gift any and all real estate and personal property, which is or may be devised or given to them without regard to value; the title, however, to all such real estate to be taken in the name of "the New Jersey society for the prevention of cruelty to animals," to its own proper use or as trustee for said district society, according to the will of the testator; but the disposition of the same in the latter case to be under the control of the president of said district society.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXI.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize the board of chosen freeholders of any of the several counties of this state to lay out, open, construct, improve and maintain a public road therein," approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever the board of chosen freeholders of any of the several counties of this state, acting under the authority of the above mentioned act to which this is a supplement, and the supplements thereto, and acts amendatory thereof, or either of them have laid out and opened, or shall lay out and open wholly or partially, and have improved, or proceeded to put in process of improvement or shall improve or proceed to put in process of improvement in accordance with the provisions of said acts and supplements, the whole or any part of any such public road as is authorized and provided for in and by the provisions of said acts, including any branch or connecting roads, and whether such connecting roads or any of the same be now laid out, and opened or shall be laid out and opened in the future; it shall be lawful for said board of chosen freeholders, of such county from time to time, when they shall deem it expedient, in order to provide for and secure to the people of such county desirable and serviceable roads of the character before mentioned, with the further improvement thereof as hereinafter provided by resolution or resolutions, to be passed by at least a majority vote of said board at a regular or stated meeting, to further provide for the improvement and the further improvement of such roads, and to improve and further improve the same as follows: By paving or covering the whole or such portion of the roadway of such roads as they may by said resolution or resolutions designate, with suitable road material, but no stone block pavement shall be used, except in paving gutters or waterways, or at the intersection of streets devoted to heavy traffic; by setting curbstone and paving the gutters and waterways along and within said roads or any parts thereof; by planting trees along said roads or any parts thereof; by providing a proper plant or plants for the lighting of said road or roads, as directed by the act to which this is a supplement or any of said acts supplementary thereto, and to do all other work necessary to make and provide good, well regulated public road or roads of the character before described, serviceable in all weather and seasons.

2. And be it enacted, That all work herein authorized shall be performed and carried out as provided in said original act to which this is supplementary, or as near thereto as practicable, including the methods and officers already provided for supervision of the work and the proceedings necessary to enable the same to be done, together with the awarding and making of contracts therefor, upon advertisements for bids duly made; in all other things requisite and necessary to be done to carry out and meet the purposes and objects of this act, the same shall conform to the provisions of the said original act and the acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, except in so far as changes, alterations in, or deviations therefrom may be rendered necessary by this act; provided that the entire cost and expense, together with and including all the original and other cost and expense whatsoever of the laying out, opening, constructing and improvement of such public road, in any county as aforesaid, shall not exceed, on an average of the whole length of such roads, the sum of one hundred and forty thousand dollars (including awards for all lands, real estate and property taken, and damages thereto) for each mile thereof, and a proportionate cost for each fraction of a mile of such roads actually laid out, opened, constructed and fully improved as before provided.

3. And be it enacted, That said board of chosen freeholders is hereby authorized, in order to secure sufficient moneys to meet the requirements and purposes of this act, to provide for and make a new or additional issue or issues of bonds, over or above those provided for and authorized to be issued by the said act to which this is a supplement, and the supplements thereto and amendments thereof, to an amount or sum requisite and necessary to meet such requirements; provided, however, that the bonds or additional issue of bonds, authorized to be issued under and by virtue of this supplementary act, shall not exceed the sum of one million dollars; and the bonds to be issued hereunder shall be of like tenor and effect to those authorized to be issued under the original act to which this is a supplement; no part of the moneys to be realized from the sale of such bonds shall be used for any purpose than as authorized and mentioned in said acts, or either of them.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts, general, special, local or otherwise, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to authorize the board of chosen freeholders of any of the several counties of this state to lay out, open, construct, improve and maintain a public road therein,' approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight," which supplement was approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the aforesaid supplementary act be and the same is hereby amended to be and read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the board of chosen freeholders of any county in this state, wherein the result of an election held or to be held upon the question whether a public road shall be laid out, opened, constructed, improved and maintained as provided for in the act to which this is a supplement, shall have been or shall be in favor of such public road, is hereby authorized and empowered, without any other or further election, to lay out, open, construct, improve and maintain, in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement, one or more roads or branches, which shall run to and from, and connect or intersect at any convenient point, line or place thereof, any city, town or township of said county, not already connected with the road or intersected by the lines, or any of them, as already laid out and fixed, of the road provided for in the act to which this is a supplement; provided, however, that no such city, town or township shall be connected by any such road or branch as provided for in and by this supplementary act, where the same, or the nearest point, points or boundary lines thereof, shall be more than one-half mile distant or away from the main road or original road provided for in the said act to which this is a supplement, measured on the shortest and most direct line between the side line of said road and any such boundary line of any city, town or township aforesaid; and provided, that all said connecting or other road, roads or branches provided for in this supplement shall not, in the aggregate length, distance or like extent exceed one-third the length of the aforesaid main or original road provided for in the said act to which this is a supplement; such connecting or branch road or roads may be laid out, opened, constructed and improved either upon a direct line from said main or original road and the line of any street, road or avenue already laid out or in existence, or partly upon both, or otherwise, or by means of a road connection or branch road, which shall leave or branch off from said main public road at any point or place to be determined by said board of chosen freeholders by resolution thereof, and after running to or through any such city, town or township, or any part, portion or territory thereof, shall be extended along such line as said board of chosen freeholders may and hereby are authorized to determine by resolution as aforesaid; provided further, that not less than two-thirds of the total or aggregate length, between commencement and ending points of any and all such connecting road or roads, and for the full width thereof, shall be, if laid out, opened and built at all, through and over land acquired or to be acquired by the said board of chosen freeholders for the purposes of such road, by gift, grant or for a mere nominal consideration, and through and over streets, roads or avenues already laid out and dedicated to public use; it being hereby expressly provided, and understood, that not more than one-third of the total length of said connecting roads shall be through and over lands the title to which, for the purposes of said connecting road or roads, shall be requisite to be acquired, or shall be acquired, by proceedings in condemnation, or by the payment of any but a mere nominal sum or consideration therefor, as aforesaid; and it is further provided, that such connecting road or roads shall be laid out, opened, constructed, improved and maintained in all other respects (including the supervision thereof, which is to be by the engineer-in-chief heretofore appointed under said original act) and the money necessary therefor, as mentioned in this act, shall be raised and had in the manner and by the methods provided for the raising of moneys, and the like, contained in said act to which this is a supplement; and provided further, that the entire cost of laying out, opening, constructing and improving all of such connecting roads, in any county of this state, shall not exceed (including awards for lands, real estate and property taken, and damage thereto) the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and that the issue of bonds to raise money to pay the costs, charges and expenses in laying out, opening, constructing and improving such connecting roads shall not exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and in order to provide for the proper assessment by said board of chosen freeholders of the land, real estate and other property necessary to be acquired by condemnation, or the like, to meet and carry out the purposes of this act, three commissioners, and not more than three, of the character and with the powers provided for in and by the sixth section of said original act to which this is a supplement, shall be appointed therefor, in the manner provided for the selection and appointment of such like commissioners in the said original act and the acts supplementary thereto; any vacancy occurring in this commission of three, by the declination of any commissioner named to serve, or by death, resignation or otherwise to be filled in the manner provided for filling vacancies in the office of commissioners in and by said supplemental acts.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 27, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXIII.

A Further supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation of borough governments," approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful, by ordinance, without other formality except as hereinafter required, for the mayor and council of any borough that now is or may hereafter be incorporated under the act to which this is a supplement, to order and cause to be constructed sewers or drains in any part of said borough; and to provide and maintain a general system of sewerage or drainage, with all the appurtenances thereof, for said borough, or any part thereof, conformably to which all sewers and drains shall be constructed; and to establish and maintain one or more main or outlet drains or sewers and outlets or places of deposit, within or without said borough, for sewerage or drainage; and to provide for the disposal of sewerage and drainage from such borough; and to repair and cleanse and maintain such sewers and drains; and when it shall be necessary to locate any of such sewers or drains, or any part of such system, upon any land other than public highways or streets, any such land, or any easement, right or real estate therein may be lawfully acquired by such borough, and the proceedings therefor and for the award and payment of damages therefor, shall conform to the proceedings now provided or that may hereafter be provided by law for acquiring land for opening streets in such borough; provided, that it shall be lawful to take any such lands without first making compensation therefor; and in case it shall be necessary to [illegible] any lands of the state in the construction of said sewer for the purpose of obtaining an outlet, it shall be lawful to take and [illegible] such lands for the purpose.

2. And be it enacted, That whenever a petition in writing of any owners of property interested shall be presented to the mayor and council of the borough asking for the construction of a main outlet or lateral sewer or drain in any particular section of said borough, it shall be lawful for said mayor and council by resolution to declare its intention to cause such main outlet or lateral sewer or drain to be constructed; and the said mayor and council shall forthwith cause said resolution to be published by the borough clerk in two or more newspapers printed or circulated in said borough for the space of two weeks, together with a notice requesting such persons as may object thereto to present their objections in writing, at or before the expiration of two weeks from the date of such notice, to the officer signing the same; and if persons owning and representing more than one-half of the lineal frontage of land along all the streets through which it is proposed to construct any such sewer or drain shall so present their objections in writing, then such proceedings shall cease, unless the local or state board of health shall certify that such main outlet or lateral sewer or drain is necessary for sanitary purposes; but otherwise, and after the expiration of said two weeks said board, the mayor and council may, by ordinance, order the construction of such drain outlet or lateral sewer or drain, and by resolution award contracts for the same or any part or portion thereof, and may take all other necessary steps for properly carrying into effect the proposed work by resolution.

3. And be it enacted, That upon the completion of any such main outlet or lateral drain or sewer, the mayor and council shall apply to the circuit court of the county wherein such borough is situated to appoint commissioners to estimate and assess the special benefits derived therefrom by any lands or real estate in the vicinity thereof; of the time and place of such application notice shall be given by two weeks' publication in two newspapers printed or circulated in said borough, at which time and place or at such other time and place as the court shall designate, said court shall without unnecessary delay appoint three commissioners who shall be freeholders and residents of such borough, to estimate and assess said benefits; and the said court shall have power to remove any commissioner and appoint another in his place and also to fill any vacancy that may occur from any cause.

4. And be it enacted, That the commissioners so appointed, before entering upon execution of the duties required of them by this act, shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation that they will make said estimates and assessments honestly according to law and the best of their ability, which oath or affirmation shall be attached to the report that they are hereinafter required to make.

5. And be it enacted, That having thus qualified, said commissioners shall give the notice directed by the court of the time and place when the persons interested may present themselves and present such objections as they may have to the said assessment, the hearing before the said commissioners shall be a public one, and may be adjourned from time to time as they may deem necessary, or as may be directed by the court; the said commissioners shall have power to examine witnesses under oath, which may be administered by any one of them, and they may also in their discretion view the premises affected by the said assessment; they shall use diligent effort to ascertain the names of the owners of the lands and real estate benefited by the construction of such main outlet or lateral sewer or drain, and shall state the same in their report; but failure to ascertain such names, or to state the same correctly or the omission of any owner's name, shall not invalidate the assessment by them made nor bar the collection thereof; and the said commissioners shall cause to be made a map showing the location of said main outlet or lateral sewer or drain, and the lots of land and real estate especially benefited by the construction of the same, and they shall annex said map to their report.

6. And be it enacted, That as soon after their appointment as may be, reference being had to all the requirements of this act in the premises, the said commissioners shall conclude their estimate and assessment, and report the same in writing, signed by them or any two of them, to the said court; the said report shall state the cost of the whole work, the proportion, if any, assessed upon the borough [illegible] resolution, approve of this act, and direct that such commissioners shall be appointed, then from that time, this act and all its provisions shall be in force, and apply to such municipality; and such commissioners shall be appointed for terms of three, four and five years, respectively; and on the expiration of any term, the new appointment shall be for five years, and any vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term only; and in cities the said appointments shall be made by the mayor thereof, and in townships by the chairman of the township committee, and in villages and boroughs by the chairman or president of the board of trustees, or other governing body.

[illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That whenever said commissioners shall propose to make any such improvement as setting out or planting any shade trees, or changing the same in any highway, they shall give notice of such contemplated improvement by posting the streets or portions thereof where such trees are intended to be planted, in one or more of the newspapers of their said municipality, if there be any newspaper published in said place, for at least two weeks prior to any meeting in which they shall decide to make such improvement.

4. And be it enacted, That the cost of planting and transplanting any trees in any highway, and boxes or guards for the protection thereof, when necessary, shall be borne by the real estate in front of which such trees are planted or set out, and the cost thereof as to such tract or real estate shall be certified by said commissioners to the person having charge of the collection of taxes for said municipality, and, upon the filing of said certificate, the amount of the cost of such improvement shall be and become a lien upon said lands in front of which said trees were planted or set out, and the said collecting officer shall place the assessment so made against any property in the annual tax bills rendered to owner or owners of such property, and the same shall be collectible in the same manner as the other taxes against said property are collected.

5. And be it enacted, That the cost and expense of caring for said trees, after being planted or set out, and the expense of publishing said notices, shall be borne and paid by a general tax to be raised by said municipality; said tax shall not exceed the sum of one-tenth of one mill on the dollar annually on all the taxable property of said municipality; and the needed amount shall be each year certified by said commissioners to the assessor and assessors of the said municipality, and be assessed and raised as other taxes.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 28, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXXXVI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act relative to guardians and the estates of minors" (Revision), approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever it shall appear to the chancellor, in any proceeding before him, that the lands or real estate of any minor or minors are likely to be disadvantaged, imperiled or sacrificed by reason of any liens or encumbrances existing against the same, and there is other estate of such minor or minors, it shall be lawful for the chancellor to cause such other estate to be sold, converted or applied for the purpose of reducing or discharging such liens or encumbrances, and saving the said lands or real estate to such minor or minors, and it shall be lawful in such case for the chancellor to authorize the guardian of such minor or minors to mortgage any or all of the lands or real estate of any such minor or minors to raise money wherewith to pay and discharge such liens or encumbrances.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 3, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXXXVII.

An Act to enable the city council or other governing body of any municipality of this state to accept the trusts and purchase property for the purpose of carrying out said trusts.

Whereas, There are a number of [illegible] societies and religious organizations of this state possessed of personal property and valuable real estate in cities of this state, which, owing to the establishment of numerous excellent free schools and public institutions of a like character, renders it impossible or impracticable for said societies and organizations to continue the maintenance of such society or organization for the purposes for which it was created, and which said societies or organizations are desirous of conveying to the municipality in which they are located, personal property and valuable real estate, for the purpose of public buildings and also for the purpose of maintaining a free reading room, library, or institute for the benefit of the public; and also to sell to said municipality certain real estate adjoining property which they desire to donate or convey to said municipality for the purposes aforesaid, the income from which adjoining property, so to be sold, shall be used by said municipality for the purpose of carrying out the terms and conditions of said trust; and whereas, the said societies or organizations desire to make such conveyance of property to said municipality in order that there be maintained a free reading room, library and museum, and a place for free lectures on philosophical, mechanical and kindred subjects, which tend to elevate the minds and morals of the people and be of special benefit to the community; and whereas, such purpose can only be accomplished by a trust which would be most likely to exist in perpetuity, and municipal corporations are the only form of corporations in this state which have any assurance of perpetuity, and therefore such objects can best be attained by the intervention of some municipality; therefore,

1. And be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for the city council or other governing body of any municipality of this state to accept any trusts for the purposes aforesaid, and to appoint any number of trustees designated by the terms and under the conditions of the deed or instrument creating the trust and conveying the real or personal estate, or both, to said municipality; and it shall also be lawful for the said city council or other governing body of said municipality to purchase lands belonging to said society or organization adjoining lands conveyed to said municipality for the purposes aforesaid, and to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars in payment for said lands so purchased; provided, that the interest accruing upon said bonds shall be used and devoted for the purpose of maintaining said trust and carrying out the purposes thereof.

2. And be it enacted, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to make any municipality liable for the misappropriation of the funds created by said trust, nor to make good any diminution thereof resulting from the wrongful acts of its agents or any person or persons appointed in conformity with the terms and conditions of the deed or instrument creating said trust; provided, however, should any agent or officer of said municipality, be under bonds thereto and upon default, the municipality should recover from the sureties on bond a sum sufficient to pay or make good the amount of misappropriation of said funds of said trust, then said municipality shall make good the same out of the amount so received; and provided further, that any misappropriation of funds aforesaid shall in no wise effect the trust aforesaid.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby appealed.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 3, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXXXVIII.

A supplement to an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the better enforcement in Maurice river cove and Delaware bay of the act entitled "An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,"'" approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the supplements thereto, approved March eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, which further supplement was approved February twentieth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the twelfth section of the act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled; An act for the better enforcement in Maurice river cove and Delaware bay of the act entitled "An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,"" approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the supplements thereto, approved March eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

12. And be it enacted, That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to catch or take oysters from any of the natural oyster beds or natural oyster grounds in the Delaware bay north of a line running direct from the mouth of Straight creek, to Cross Ledge lighthouse, from the fifteenth day of June in each year to the first day of April in the succeeding year, and from the fifteenth day of June until the first day of September in each year no natural oyster growth nor planted oysters shall be caught or taken from any of the grounds in Delaware bay, Delaware river and Maurice river cove for any purpose whatever, and any person offending against any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall for every such offense be punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court; and any boat or vessel used or employed in the commission of such offense against the provisions of this section, with all her tackle, furniture and apparel, and the oysters thereon, shall be forfeited and the same seized, secured and sold in the manner prescribed in the ninth and tenth sections of the act entitled "An act for the preservation of clams and oysters," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the proceeds of such sale, after deducting all expenses, shall be paid to the said collector of the oyster fund.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be unlawful for any person, persons or corporation to stake up grounds or plant oysters north of a line running from the mouth of Straight creek to Cross Ledge lighthouse, and that any and all grounds staked up contrary to the provisions of this act, and all oysters planted thereon shall be deemed public property and shall be prosecuted according to the provisions of the twelfth section of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the better enforcement in Maurice river cove and Delaware bay of the act entitled "An act for the preservation of clams and oysters,"'" approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the supplements thereto.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and same are hereby repealed.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 4, 1893.

CHAPTER CCLXXXIX.

An Act relating to the compensation to be given to the prosecutors of the pleas in the counties of the first class of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter the annual salary of the prosecutors of the pleas in every county of the first class shall be eight thousand dollars, payable in monthly installments in lieu of all fees and allowances, which fees shall be paid into the county treasury, provided, that this act shall not take effect in any of said counties until the said prosecutor in said respective counties shall have filed in the office of the county clerk of said county his acceptance of the salary hereinbefore fixed, and a waiver of all fees, now fixed by law.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 4, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXC.

An Act to promote the propagation and growth of oysters and to protect the natural oyster beds of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for the purpose of promoting the propagation and growth of seed oysters and to protect the natural oyster beds of this state, the said natural oyster beds shall be and they hereby are divided into seven districts, as follows:

District No. 1—Newark bay and adjacent waters;

District No. 2—Barnegat bay north of Gunning river;

District No. 3—From Gunning river south to Ross's point;

District No. 4—From Ross's point south to the division line between Atlantic county and Ocean county; with, Lewis H. Sifrett; sixth district, Robert Cassen, George Dickinson, Jr.; seventh district, Reuben Smith, Henry Long, and in case of any vacancy occurring by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, the governor shall have authority to appoint any competent resident of the district to fill such vacancy.

[illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the said commissioners to make a careful inspection of the natural oyster grounds in their respective district, and whenever and wherever in their opinion it is expedient, to cause a supply of shells to be spread on the or beds of the said natural oyster grounds in this state, which from any cause have become depleted, which said shells shall be purchased by said commissioners at the lowest price, and be spread between the thirtieth day of April and the first day of September in each year for the period of three years, and until the appropriation hereinafter made for the purpose shall be exhausted.

4. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to rake, tong, dredge or in any manner whatsoever to remove any of the shells so as aforesaid spread upon the beds within two years thereafter; and any person or persons offending against the provisions of this act be punishable by a fine of twenty-five dollars to be recovered in an action of debt to be brought by and in the name of the commissioners of the district before any justice of the peace of the county where the offence is committed and the fine when so recovered shall immediately be paid to the treasurer of this state for the use of the state.

5. And be it enacted, That each of the said commissioners above named shall be entitled to receive for each day's actual service in the discharge of their duties as aforesaid the sum of three dollars and no other compensation whatsoever, to be paid by the state treasurer upon warrant of the comptroller, the comptroller being hereby authorized to issue such warrant upon presentation to him of a statement duly verified by oath or affirmation by such commissioner that the service for which pay is demanded has been duly performed.

6. And be it enacted, That for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act there shall be appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars annually for the period of three years, which said sum of five thousand dollars shall be distributed as follows:

For waters north of Cedar Creek point in the waters of Barnegat bay, in the county of Ocean, to Pennsylvania railroad bridge, the sum of seven hundred dollars;

For the mouth of M[illegible] river and adjacent waters, known as Graveling oyster beds, the sum of five hundred dollars;

For the mouth of Tuckerton creek and adjacent waters, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars;

For the mouth of Parkerton creek and adjacent waters, the sum of two hundred dollars;

For the mouth of West creek and adjacent waters, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars;

From Dinner point to north side of Cedar run, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars;

From Delaware bay and Maurice river cove, in Cumberland county, the sum of five hundred dollars;

For Newark bay and adjacent waters, the sum of six hundred and fifty dollars;

For the mouth of Great Egg harbor river and adjacent waters, including Atlantic county, five hundred dollars, and for Cape May county, five hundred dollars;

The remaining ten hundred dollars shall remain as a reserve fund in the event that it may become necessary that any one particular district shall require a greater expenditure than above provided, in which case the said commissioners in meeting assembled may determine the proportion to be allotted to such district, and also for the purpose of meeting such other incidental expenses not herein specially provided for.

7. And be it enacted, That the commissioners herein named are authorized to employ such assistants as they may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

8. And be it enacted, That section four of this act shall not apply to Cumberland county.

9. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 4, 1893.

CHAPTER CCXCI.

An Act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act to provide for the purchase of sites for and the erection and equipment of armories in cities of the first and second class and making appropriations therefor, and to provide for the taking of real estate for such sites by commission, in case the same cannot be purchased by agreement," approved March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, which supplement was approved May fifth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of the act of which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the commission constituted by the act to which this is a supplement be and it is hereby authorized to enter into contracts and cause to be erected armories in cities of the first and second class in the manner prescribed by the said act in excess of the limitation in said act prescribed; provided, that the excess over and above such limitation shall be secured to be paid in such manner as said commission shall prescribe and in such manner that the State of New Jersey shall not be obligated to pay more than one hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars for the entire cost of erecting and completing any such armory as provided by said act.

2. And be it enacted, That the second section of the act of which this is amendatory be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for said commission in entering into such contracts as aforesaid, to provide therein that no more than fifty thousand dollars shall be paid from the state treasury in any one year on account of each armory so contracted for.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 4, 1893.

She Disliked Rain.

Every morning Mrs. Jenkins of Willow Cottages, Pimlico, rose with a devout prayer against rain. She possessed nothing capable of being spoiled by the most torrential showers known to these islands except her bones and her skin, but these personal properties suffered severely from the wet, not in the form of rheumatism, but by bruises inflicted by her husband, upon whom a moist temperature exercised an exhilarating effect. One blow per shower was bad enough, and a rainy day was simply disastrous.

This week has accordingly caused the unhappily married lady much sorrow and led her to appear before the magistrate at Westminster with several bandages around her head to lodge a complaint against her barometrical husband.

"He hammers me, sir," said she, "whenever it is a wet day." "Then," remarked Mr. Sheil, "he beats you very often at this season of the year?" "Alas, sir," replied Mrs. Jenkins, with a deep sigh, "he does! But you see, sir," she continued as an exculpatory explanation of her husband's idiosyncrasies, "when it rains he has to leave off work, and he don't know what to do with his spare time."

Perhaps a little oakum picking would form a pleasant recreation for him. Joseph Jenkins, who is an army pensioner and seemed to labor under the impression that wives are like regimental drums—of no use until they are beaten—was remanded in custody for a week. During that time, though it rain torrents, Mrs. Jenkins is safe.—London Telegraph.

Though It Was April, They Were Hopeful.

When the crowd of early travelers down town from the One Hundred and Sixteenth street station of the Sixth Avenue Elevated railroad reached the platform on Friday morning, they found something to cheer their drooping spirits. The snow had driven in upon the platform, and at one end it lay in the condition which snow maintains in New York until somebody tramples upon it. Somebody had been near this bed of whiteness, but he had not walked into it. He had carved in big letters one word, the tip of an umbrella serving very well to dig out the channels in the snow, which formed the letters "S-P-R-I-N-G."

Everybody who came up looked at this expression of opinion about New York's weather capabilities and felt better. It touched the popular heart and cured many a bad temper. Other elevated road tourists might be glum, but the folk from One Hundred and Sixteenth street rode down town through the storm as chipper as canary birds in the sunshine.—New York Times.

ODDS AND ENDS.

There are 180,000 gypsies in Hungary.

The aurora borealis is the devil's rainbow.

New York has 1,000,000 tenement residents.

Breeding pug dogs is one of the industries of Osage City, Kan.

The notation system of writing music was invented in 1070.

The face is the index of the condition of the internal economy.

The Phœnicians were the first to employ engineers to fortify cities.

The United States has about 1,700 different and distinct railways.

The true hospitality of the heart is appreciated by the genuine and true.

A curious French dictum is, "Oh, that is nothing—only a drowning woman!"

Chinese gardeners are reputed to be the most expert fruit growers in the world.

"Know thyself," but not too well, or suicide may be the result of the intimacy.

Postmaster General Bissell pronounces his name with the accent on the last syllable.

The area of the czar's individual possessions of land is greater than the entire extent of France.

Cocceius Nerva, a wealthy Roman lawyer, killed himself in disgust at the state of the Roman republic.

It is to please men that women dress, except a few spiteful women who dress to aggravate other women.

The worst corruption of the English language is that which makes "homely" synonymous with "ugly."

The eastern gulf coast has the heaviest rains—over 60 inches a year; Arizona and New Mexico the least—less than 10 inches.

Nearly 7,000 Russian convicts have been sent to Siberia since April last.

Round finger nails belong to obstinate and generally to stupid people.

Senor Carulla of Madrid has published an edition of the Bible in verse.

A one armed man at Manchester, N. H., is said to be an expert pool player.

The father of Kepler, the mathematician and astronomer, was a private soldier.

Milk applied once a week with a soft cloth is reputed to freshen and preserve boots and shoes.

A parody can never be good because it is bad, like a pun. It is a different sort of animal altogether.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—Another defalcation recorded, and, as usual, compounded.

—The Courier is cutting down expenses by hiring female help and firing the men.

—Plainfield council, Royal Arcanum, will give an entertainment in the Casino, June 8.

—J. W. VanSickle has moved into his model new meat market, 122 North avenue.

—The First Baptist Sunday-school will join the procession next Sunday and meet mornings.

—Contractors Doud & Rice have dissolved partnership, and Thomas Doud will continue the business alone.

—The Trenton team to play here Saturday, have engaged a crack Philadelphia pitcher to come with them.

—Borough marshal Pangborn warns dog-owners that on and after June 10 the dog ordinance in the borough will be enforced.

—The Plainfield Amusement company invite bids for the building of their bicycle track. Profile and specifications will be ready in a day or two.

—The paving and curbing of Elm place is rapidly being completed, and at last the long-suffering residents have decent walks. The job is a good one.

—The valve in the railroad tank did n't shut off the other night, but the casualty was discovered in time to save the inmates of the city jail from being drowned.

—Justice Mosher has issued papers in the suit of the Hecker Jones Jewett Milling company for $100 on contract against Hugh Todd. The trial is set for June 12 at 10 a. m.

—The Ladies' Aid society of Grace M. E. church have raised funds and will present to the church the communion set to be used at the first communion next Sunday.

—Tramps must look out in Fanwood, for town clerk E. L. Hand is putting up blood-red notices that anyone without visible means of support will be locked up and dealt with as judge Moore may direct.

—Mrs. John Yose has received in cash $45.50 and $286, the moneys received by James Love and Charles Bock, respectively, from the picture donated by Mrs. C. B. Clifton and the lot given by Runyon & Hand.

—The New York Athletic club team, strengthened by Yale's pitcher and the pick of other college nines, will play the Crescents here, Saturday, July 1, just before the crack New Yorkers start on their Western trip.

—An entertainment of the young workers of the First Church of Christ will be given in Reform Hall, Tuesday evening, June 20. Admission, including refreshments, will be 15 cents. Tickets are for sale by all members.

—The Golden Rule circle, King's Daughters, will hold a rose festival at 34 and 36 Westervelt avenue, for the benefit of the Fresh Air fund, Tuesday evening, June 20. Admission will be but 10 cents, and 'twill be a delightful affair.

—The First Baptist Sunday-school excursion committee are looking out for your comfort on July 21. They propose to give you a day at the seashore. Try and fix the date, and go with them. They did have a delightful time last year.

—The Camera club intend giving an exhibition of their magnificent collection of slides, in Music Hall, Tuesday evening, the 20th inst. Dr. A. H. Lewis will tell the story of the pictures, and other attractive features will fill out a novel programme.

—The Young People's society of All Saints' church, Fanwood, will give a strawberry festival, in Excelsior hall Thursday, June 15, from 4 to 10 p. m. The object of the entertainment is the raising of a fund for cushioning the pews of the church.

—There's howling in Fanwood. Dr. Westcott, as head of the health board, is ordering every cesspool thoroughly cleaned, no matter how recently that operation has been performed. Those who have cleaned their cesspools within a short time, kick.

—Mrs. W. F. Arnold, the wife of the acting cashier of the City National bank, turned her foot while crossing North avenue opposite the North avenue station, Saturday afternoon. She was assisted into J. T. Vail's office, and later taken home.

—Matt Walker, for several years one of Rockfellow's courteous clerks, has launched out for himself in the grocery business at Westfield, under the firm name of Walker & Love. The people of Westfield will find "Matt" an honorable man to deal with, and THE PRESS wishes him great success.

—Chatham street, North Plainfield, is soon to be macadamized under the direction of the chairman of the street committee, Mr. Neal, and street commissioner Gavin. This street has been neglected for a long time, and it sadly needs attention. Harrison street in "Hop Toad Town" is also being attended to.

—The Dunellen Call censured the health authorities for permitting Miss Agnes Burke to leave the house of her brother-in-law, Theodore Smith, when there was a case of diphtheria in the house. Later Miss Burke was stricken with illness, and died yesterday afternoon. Miss Burke's mother was in town during the day and stated that the officially declared cause of death was heart trouble and that there need be no fear of contagion.

Plainfield Not a Promising Field for Partisan Zeal.

The Hon. Thomas Lane, leader of the Democratic party in the last legislature, says in his Summit Record: "It is said that James A. Demarest is an applicant for a Swiss consulate. Mr. Demarest has shown marked ability as editor of the PLAINFIELD PRESS, and has been a party leader of acknowledged force and aggressiveness in that section of Union county, and the only argument that could operate against his appointment is that his absence would be a serious loss to the Democrats of Plainfield where the field for partisan zeal is none to promising."

That's No Way to Do.

Some people think the street railway cars want the earth, and cite this instance: Tuesday morning, about 7 o'clock, one of French's water wagons was making its rounds on East Front street, when a car half-filled with passengers came along to the east terminus. The watering cart happened to be in the way, and the motorman was angry. He jumped off the car, so eye-witnesses say, and upbraided the driver for several minutes for blocking the track, and jawed long enough to make some of the passengers lose their morning train to New York. A fight was expected by those who saw the occurrence.

Capt. Martin Did n't Know the Date.

F. L. C. Martin was subpoenaed by county attorney McClure to appear before the court at Elizabeth to show cause why he should not be taxed for his local insurance business. He did n't appear on the date set, and is under penalty of $60 for contempt of court. When he explains that he did n't understand the date, he will probably be exculpated. He being a broker and not an agent, claims he is not liable to taxation on his local business, which he places through agents who already pay taxes on the business.

PERSONALIA.

Miss Sadie Grant, daughter of captain Grant, has been visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siebrecht are spending their honeymoon in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Central avenue, are home again from Atlantic City.

H. C. Adams and Mrs. Adams, (nee Corliss), are at The Hygeia, Old Point Comfort.

Dr. Edward Rushmore, son and daughter, of Park avenue, have gone to the World's Fair.

Miss Mary E. Mundy, of Springdale, is visiting her cousin, Miss Agnes Tingley, of Orchard place.

Miss Hattie Sprague, of New York, is the guest for a few days of Miss Florence Smith, of Putnam avenue.

Georgie Cornell, formerly of this city, but lately of New York, will spend the summer on East Front street.

Mrs. Elmore D. Moffett, of Orchard place, has gone to Trenton to visit her daughter, Mrs. Wm. H. Tame, for a few days.

Jeremiah Cash, of South avenue, has presented his thirteen-year-old daughter, Mabel, with a piano. It was a birthday gift.

Herman Keller, formerly of this city, has gone in the cigar business in Denver, Col., and his brother Charles is working for him.

George F. Brown will probably be the new president of the Christian Endeavor society recently started in the First Baptist church.

Robert Randolph, of Elmwood place, who had one of his fingers mangled by a buzz saw in the Pond Tool works, is not able to work yet. His finger is improving slowly.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Harriet Elsie Griswold, daughter of William N. Griswold, formerly of Netherwood, to George H. Miller, at West Orange, June 1.

The Unionist-Gazette, in an article claiming to tell who are the New Jersey aspirants for office under the new administration, says: "J. A. Demarest, of Plainfield, is after the counsulship at Basle, Switzerland."

The Somerset Democrat says: "Miss Lou Johnson, of Plainfield, spent Sunday and Monday at her home here on Second avenue;" and that "Miss Evona Johnson, of Plainfield, is sick at her home here on Second avenue."

E. F. Miller, of East Fifth street, has gone for a five weeks' trip through the South and West. Mr. Miller goes in the interest of the firm he represents, Roclie, Lebon & Dean, silk manufacturers of Lyons and Paris.

Mrs. Grace, one of Dunellen's oldest residents, died Saturday in her 86th year, at the home of her son-in-law, John Cooper. Funeral services were held at St. John's R. C. church, at 9 this morning, with interment in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Doul Miller have rented the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Patton, of East Ninth street, for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have until recently been living in Halifax, and their many friends will welcome them back to Plainfield.

A few friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bushnell, 338 East Front street, Saturday evening, to celebrate the fourteenth anniversary of their marriage. Refreshments were served, and a good time in general was had by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Mali have left their Fifth avenue residence in New York, and Thursday took possession of the John Taylor Johnston house on East Front street, for the summer. They brought a full complement of help, and had their horses driven out.

Sunday, June 11, will be "Children's Day" in the M. E. church. Dr. Barnes will preach to the young people in the morning, and administer the ordinance of baptism to children. In the evening there will be exercises by the children and young people.

Mrs. R. A. Meeker, president of the Jr. Y. P. S. C. E of Trinity Reformed church, will take all the young people of that flourishing society on an outing Saturday morning. The day will be spent at Calmney Rock. Stages will leave from in front of the church at 8.

The Dramatic News of New York says: "At a meeting of Plainfield Music Hall association the other evening, a dividend was declared for the first time in the history of the house, and Manager Demarest was complimented upon the prosperity which his handling has brought about."

The Rev. Marcus W. Smalley and wife arrived in Plainfield Saturday, and are visiting A. S. Runyon, Lafayette place. Mr. and Mrs. Smalley were married Sept. 15, 1892. He took charge of the Second Baptist church of Houston, Texas, but his health failed, and he is now seeking recuperating.

Elder George L. VanEmburgh of the Trinity Reformed church has been notified by Jay S. Treat, secretary of the Social Union of the Classis of Newark of the Reformed church, that he has been elected a member of the executive committee for the season of 1893 and 1894, to represent the Plainfield churches.

The Christian Endeavorers of the Third street mission have elected a social and flower committee as follows: Miss, Mary E. Thorn, chairman, Miss Annie Angerbauer, Miss Annie Kyle, Miss Florence Dodge, Miss Jennie Smith, Miss Minnie Young, Mrs. Media Grant, Charles E. Thompson and L. H. Pangborn.

At the burial service held over the remains of Jennie J. Schofield, daughter of I. E. Houston, West Front street, the Dresden Trio, ably assisted by W. R. Cook and E. E. Runyon, sang the hymns "When Our Heads Are Bowed With Woe", "In the Hour of Trial", and "Nearer My God to Thee", with beautiful effect.

Albert C. Hendrick has just finished an inspection of the fire department of this city for the National Board of Underwriters. He thinks chief Doane's system unequalled, and he ought to know as he was for twenty-six years chief of the New Haven department. During his stay here he called on C. S. A. Davis of Broadway, "New Haven's Encyclopedia".

The Kansas City papers give glowing reports of a great memorial service conducted in the Grand Avenue M. E. church by pastor Charles B. Mitchell, late of this city, who preached a magnificent sermon to all the G. A. R. posts of the city. Scores of eager people were turned away from the church, unable to gain admittance. Repeatedly during the address Mr. Mitchell was interrupted by vigorous applause of the appreciative people.

DID BILLY LOWE DO IT?

It is claimed that James A. Baker has really been appointed postmaster at Scotch Plains. If so, all right; the town could n't have a better. But how did it happen if he was not the hope of the congressman or any of the "leaders" in the district or county? Possibly "Billy" Lowe, that clever politician, induced Governor Werts to send a personal endorsement of Mr. Baker, to headquarters.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The musicale given by Prof. W. R. McClymont at his home Tuesday was largely attended and a successful affair. The programme consisted of the following numbers: Piano duet, Mrs. F. A. Pollock and Mr. McClymont; violin solo, Mr. Fedrie; trio; piano solo, Miss Elizabeth Hull; selection, Euterpean quartette; piano duet, Misses Hull and Serrell; flute solo, Mr. Pollock; piano solo, Miss Florence Serrell; instrumental trio, Mr. Fedrie, Mr. and Mrs. Pollock; piano solo, Mr. McClymont; violin solo, Mr. Fedrie.

PERSONALIA.

J. J. H. Pollion and family are at Spring Lake.

B. T. Barnes is about to organize another quartette.

Mrs. J. Sweeney, of White House, is the guest of Mrs. Baumbauer, of Prescott place.

Mrs. S. A. Davis, of East Second street, has gone to Ocean Grove for the summer.

Miss Lizzie Price of Sherman avenue is home for the summer from her studies in Germany.

J. W. Gavett and family have gone to their summer home in the Watchung mountains.

R. J. Shaw is limping around with a cane. He has the sciatica, superinduced by a strain of the back.

Walter C. Dobbins, of THE PRESS staff, will hereafter act as the official scorer at the Crescent games.

W. F. Smith is building attractive stone arches over the driveways leading to his Belvidere avenue residence.

Wm. Murray, of West Third street, arrived from Florida Friday in company with a three-foot crocodile.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Stiger of West Seventy-third street, New York, are visiting Mrs. D. T. VanBuren, 810 Central avenue.

James Stewart, one of the Pond Tool Works employes, is home again after a pleasant visit with friends in Boston and Providence.

Councilman Marsh and family have taken a house in Chicago for a month, and their summer outing will be spent at the World's Fair.

E. D. Murphy, of Sandford avenue, who has been on a commercial trip for two weeks, has reached Denver. He is expected home on July 4.

Jacob Sperling, of East Fourth street, has returned from Chicago, where he has been assisting in arranging the exhibit for Walter Scott & Co.

The Rev. H. F. Randolph, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, is now a resident of the borough, having taken up his residence at 25 Craig place.

R. F. Sheen of Sandford avenue is building an $8,000 house in Westchester county, and he and his family will remove to their new home as soon as completed.

Mrs. F. W. Armstrong, of Camden, mother of manager T. S. Armstrong, of Reynolds's pharmacy, is visiting him and his family on Duer street, North Plainfield.

H. A. McGee, of this city, is on both tickets for the new board of managers of the New York Produce exchange, and George A. Chapman is on the one ticket put in the field by the Cotton exchange.

Walter Stewart, of West Seventh street, who is just finishing his junior year at Yale, has been honored by being elected a member of the "Skull and Bones", the leading senior society of that university.

Joe McKinny, who went South from here on a sailing vessel, over a year ago, has returned and was in town on Monday making arrangements for his marriage on Sunday next to an East Third street girl.

Mrs. William L. Saunders will give a theater party, Saturday afternoon, to Miss Finley, daughter of Mrs. Hugh Hastings. They will see "The Prodigal Daughter" at the American theater, New York.

The alumni of the Seminary have presented to Miss Kenyon a handsome silver tea set, suitably inscribed, and former students not graduates have given her a Raymond tour ticket to the World's fair and return.

Fred Hughes, son of Mrs. Richard A. Boyce of North Plainfield, stands among the highest in St. Mary's Parochial school graduating class that will have its commencement exercises in Music Hall, the evening of the 29th inst.

Joseph W. Reinhart has been appointed the "boss" expert of the three authorized by an act of Congress, to assist the Congressional committee in discovering if there are any leaks or crooked places in the treasury department.

M. McMahon Bingham, of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association, will sail for England, Thursday, for a short trip of recreation and a visit to his many relatives in London. Upon his return to this country he will establish himself in business at Bayonne.

Mrs. Thomas Costello, of West Front street, Dunellen, last Monday night gave birth to triplets, all girls. Two of the children are alive and doing well, as is also the mother. At this rate of population in West Front street, the borough commissioners should do something to remedy the bad condition of the road and sidewalks of that locality.

FRISBIE AGAIN.

Julian Scott Is After Him for Cruelty to Canine Captives.

Dog-catcher Frisbie can't seem to get along without a feud with someone.

Just at present Julian Scott and he are at loggerheads. Col. Scott is a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and he objects to Frisbie's method of lugging dogs around with strings choking them around their necks. He says that Frisbie should have collars for his canine captives, and Frisbie refuses to change his present mode of retaining them. Each threatens the arrest of the other—one for interference and persecution, and the other for violating the principles of the anti-cruelty society.

At present they are simply glaring at each other and growling, and it is doubtful if their enmity will have any serious results. If, however, it has the effect of adding any comfort to the unfortunate dogs that are doomed to die it would certainly be an excellent thing.

They Mourn Their Loss.

At a regular meeting of Gazelle Engine Company, No. 1, held in their parlors Monday evening, May 8, 1893, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to take from our midst our brother fireman, John R. Foss; and

WHEREAS, We have always found in him a worthy fireman, ever ready at the call of his company and ever ready at his post of duty, it is hereby

Resolved, That in the dispensation of Providence while we recognize His divine will yet we mourn the loss of our deceased brother,

Resolved, That we respectfully tender our heartfelt sympathies to his family and friends in this their bereavement.

Resolved, That our engine-house be draped in mourning for thirty days and a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased and spread on the minutes of the company and published in the Plainfield Courier and DAILY PRESS.

JAS. L. LOVE,
D. S. DUNAVAN,
CHARLES BOCK,
Committee.

Lauter's Musical Journal.

The June number of Lauter's Musical and Home Journal is at hand and contains the words and music of the following choice selections: "Last Night", by Halfdon Kjerulf; "How Fair Art Thou", by H. Weidt, Op. 26; "The Old Guard", by Paul Rodney; "Angel's Dream", by G. Ludovic, Op. 44; "La Seduisante", by G. Lange, Op. 155. It can be obtained free upon application at the piano and organ warerooms of S. D. Lauter Co., 657 and 659 Broad street.

Looking After the Bridges.

By resolution of freeholder Vanderbeek a committee of five has been appointed to examine the bridge over Green brook, Westfield, and the bridge at Plainfield at Tenth street, and report to the board at its next meeting the present condition of said bridges.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN.

THE SCHOOL BOARD AND ITS SECRET SESSIONS.

At a Star Chamber Meeting Held Nearly a Month Ago Dr. Hurlbut Resigned from Membership and Dr. Richards Was Elected to His Place—What Was Done Monday Night—Commencement Preparations—Dr. Probasco Opposes Dancing.

THE PRESS again feels called upon, in the name of the people, to censure the Plainfield board of education for its star chamber methods. The board happened to hold a meeting on the regular monthly date Monday night, which reporters were for some reason permitted to be present, and it was learned that another secret session was held May 11, at which an important transaction took place, since on that date the Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut resigned from membership and the Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards was elected in his place.

The following resolutions of regret at parting were adopted by the board:

WHEREAS, It has become necessary for Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D. D., to present his resignation to the Board of Education before the close of his term, owing to his anticipated removal from the city, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Board of Education that in severing these ties of membership we express our sincere regret in parting with a member whose interest in our public schools, and devotion to their welfare, cannot be expressed by words, and will long be remembered by both teachers and pupils.

Resolved, That the Board fully recognizes the loss sustained by the withdrawal of so valuable and earnest a worker who for the past ten years has given his time and counsel for the highest advancement of our schools and education.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded upon the minutes of the Board of Education and that a copy duly engrossed and signed by each member of the Board be presented to Dr. Hurlbut.

The resolutions are to be put in elegant shape by one of the world's greatest penartists, Will Smith.

At Monday night's meeting the following committees on commencement prizes were appointed:

Penmanship—John Ridley, Charles Schipper, W. R. Collington.

English Composition or Essays—Chas. W. Opdyke, F. O. Herring, Leander Lovell.

Mathematics—W. R. Stillman.

It was reported that the money from the State was more than $600 less than last year, owing to false census returns.

Dr. Probasco reported that he had engaged music for Commencement. He further announced that the board walk at Washington school was dangerous and should be replaced with flagging. The cost would be about $229. He was given power to have the improvement made.

It was suggested that both the Irving and Franklin schools needed painting. The building committee was empowered to paint the one needing it the most.

The committee on buildings was given power to put a new boiler in the Franklin school during vacation.

Two new teachers' desks were ordered purchased for the Stillman school.

Diplomas were ordered for the graduates, at 50 cents apiece.

Dr. Probasco was given authority to secure police for Music Hall, at Commencement.

Clerk Clark was authorized to procure ribbon to designate the reserved seats.

The matter of tickets was left with principal Maxson.

A communication from the graduates' association was read, asking that the Franklin instead of the Stillman school might be used for the commencement reception, as the Stillman was not considered safe for dancing, in which the graduates wish to indulge.

Mr. Flock could see no harm in having dancing at the reception, but Dr. Probasco spoke very warmly against that recreation, stating that he was greatly opposed to it. The matter was left to be decided at a special meeting later in the month.

The barn of the costly Wadsworth property was rented for select school purposes at the magnificent rental of $5 a month.

A letter of acceptance from W. R. Richards was received and ordered filed.

Sept. 5, was fixed as the date for the opening of the next school term.

The date of the special meeting to be held later, was withheld from the reporters, but to-day clerk Clark kindly informed THE PRESS that it would be next Monday night.

Children's Day at Trinity.

The following special services will be held in Trinity Reformed church next Sunday evening at 7:45:

Prelude........Organ
Anthem........Choir
Singing—Coronation........All
Invocation.
Lord's Prayer........All
Recitation—Welcome to Children's Day.
Solo and Chorus—"Come to Me".
Primary Department
Twenty-third Psalm......Primary Department
Responsive Reading—Psalm xix: 1-4.
Singing—"Am I a Soldier of the Cross",
School
Recitation—"Flowers Everywhere."
Singing—"Come to the Saviour"
Primary Department
Recitation—"Daisies"......Four Little People
Singing—"True-hearted, Whole-hearted",
School
Responsive Reading—Psalm XXIV.
Announcements.
Offering.
Address.
Singing—"Saviour, Lead Me."
Benediction.

Crescent Ave. Children's Day.

In the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, the following children's service will be given next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Organ Offertorio in F........Grison
Old Hundred and Lord's Prayer.
Hymn—"While the Sabbath Bells are Ringing",
Choir
Psalms C. and XIX........Responsive
Hymn—"Brightly Gleams Our Banner", Congregation
Chant.
Ten Commandments and Psalm XXIII,
(Unison)
Hymn—"The Palace of Song"........Choir
Hymn—"I Am So Glad"........Congregation
The Beatitudes........Responsive
Psalm CXXI.
Notices.
Hymn—When, His Salvation Bringing.
Congregation
Prayer.
Hymn—Sing, Children, Sing........Choir
Sermon—And they all brought us on our way with wives and children. Acts xxi: 15,
By the pastor.
Prayer.
Offering for Sabbath-school Missionary Work.
Hymn—Send the Light........Choir
Hymn—There is a Green Hill Far Away,
Congregation
Gloria.
Benediction.
Organ—Recessional in E flat........Smith

Another Chicken Case.

Policeman Chas. Giese is in trouble with his new neighbors on Elm place. Miss Stoll's chickens, he says, have scratched up his garden, and he has had her served with summons to a suit for $20 damages, before justice Nadyne.

SEMINARY RECEPTION.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF THE "CHESTNUTS".

Miss Kenyon Receives Graduates and Friends At the 25th Commencement Celebration—A Large Gathering, And a Delightful Event.

The silver anniversary of the "Chestnuts" was fittingly celebrated in the Seminary Tuesday. A large number of graduates and friends attended. The main school room was tastefully decorated in yellow, and at one end was a large screen of evergreens bearing the dates in silver 1868-1893. Miss Kenyon received in the large parlor, assisted by Mrs. S. St.J. McCutchen, Miss Elvira Kenyon and Miss Nella Whiton. The ushers were John P. Munn, O. G. Waring, Howard Huntington and Irving West. Good music was furnished, and dancing was kept up till 1 a. m. Excellent refreshments were provided, and in every way the event was a most charming one. Among the guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCutchen, Mr. and Mrs. William Boome, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus VanDeventer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Timpson, Mr. and Mrs. August Kleinecke, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Ivins, Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Titsworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stimpson, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hatch, Dr. and Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Edward Hooley, Mrs. Hugh Hasting, Mrs. Maxon, and the Misses Ada Clark, Ida Yerkes, Bessie Evans, Jean Erickson, Annie Corlies, Maud VanBoskerck, Maud Middleditch, Carrie Vail, Clara Finley, Mabel Potter, Minnie Brooks, Minnie Marsh, Bessie Giana, Murray, Flanders, Waring, Vandeventer, Bushnell, Shreves, Titsworth, Underwood, Clark, May, Depew, McClure, of Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, and the Misses Weiss, of New York, Miss Smith, of Dunellen, the Misses McCready, of Fanwood, and the Messrs. James Hallock, Gifford Cooley, Henry Lowe, Roger Erickson, Albert Tilney, Edward Waring, John P. Munn, Orville Waring, Howard Huntington, James Middleditch, James Murray, Ralph Opdyke, Will Hubbard, Howard Corlies, Walter Place, Murray, Sandford, West, Bull, McClure, Bushnell, Simmonds, Clapp, McGee, of Plainfield, and Sykes, of Fanwood.

ALMOST A MILLION

Worth of Property Now Being Erected in Plainfield.

In round numbers, there is $900,000 worth of property now in course of erection in this city and North Plainfield, of which the following is a partial list:

OWNER.	COST.	LOCATION
Babcock & Stillman	$450,000	West Front St
Andrew Love	15,000	" "
Manning Bros.	28,000	" "
Samuel Dreier	11,000	" "
Y. M. C. A.	45,000	East Front St.
No. 2 Engine house	20,000	East Second St
F. O. Herring	20,000	Park avenue.
J. Coles	12,000	W. Second St.
Runyon & Hand	15,000	Sixth street.
Coddington & Hand	3,000	Elmwood place
"	2,000	"
Jonathan Doty	2,800	"
V. W. Nash	2,500	"
F. C. Lounsbury	2,500	Plainfield ave.
J. D. Runyon	2,500	Oxford Place
"	2,500	Lafayette Pl.
F. C. Lounsbury	3,000	W. Second St.
H. O'Donnell	6,000	Arlington ave.
C. J. Ames	25,000	Plainfield avenue and 9th St.
W. Stoch	2,800	West Third St.
A. D. Cook	25,000	E. Seventh St.
G. Clifton	20,000	Park avenue.
A. G. Thorn	2,300	Richmond St., near Third.
Huff Bros.	3,500	Park avenue.
G. Rushton	2,500	LeGrande avenue & Scott Pl.
Phil Cottrell	2,300	LeGrande Ave
W. F. Smith	2,300	Kensington Avenue.
Cocks Bros.	17,000	Belvidere Ave
J. B. Mills	5,000	Richmond St.
Fred Bird	4,000	Elm street.
John Ten Eyck	2,800	Westervelt Av
J. Kilbride	2,800	W. Fourth St.
Mr. Shuman	2,800	"
W. H. Bohl	2,600	Astor place.
Samuel Townsend	6,000	Giraud avenue
J. C. Peck	10,000	"
North Plainfield school house	18,000	Somerset St.
Woolston & Buckle	2,500	Lafayette Pl.
Pond Tool Co.	10,000	W. Second St.
J. W. Rinehart	6,000	Belvidere Ave.
J. W. DeGraff	20,000	Central ave.
Chas. Lyman	11,000	Park place.
Chas. Potter, jr.	12,000	W. Seventh St.
C. J. Rice	7,000	Duer street.

BITS OF OLD CHINA.

A Plainfield Audience Hears a Lecture of Absorbing Interest.

Those who visited Vincent chapel last night to hear the lecture on "Bits of Old China" by Howard Martin assisted by Beadon Bryant, passed a most delightful evening, being conducted through various parts of the Celestial Empire, whose scenery and people were brought vividly before the audience by 100 beautiful colored pictures thrown on a huge screen. Mr. Martin enlivened his discourse by numerous anecdotes and personal reminiscences. One of the most interesting parts of the lecture was the account of one of the only two audiences ever accorded foreigners by the Chinese Emperor. Mr. Martin was at one time Secretary of Legation, and was presented in company with the other diplomats. His account of the condition of women in China, their inferior position to that of the men, and the terrible deformity of their feet, made everyone feel thankful that Celestial customs do not obtain here. The accounts of the courts of justice and methods of execution, slicing, strangulation, and beheading, with a hint of tortures too terrible to describe, give a glimpse of the true barbaric condition of the country. Great credit was given to the Christian missionaries for their courageous actions in going into the most dangerous parts of the country and gradually implanting higher ideas and a spirit that cannot but raise the whole standard of the country and gradually eradicate some of the brutal and abhorrent customs that are common throughout the empire.

Messrs. Bryant and Martin should certainly be very successful, as these lectures are not only extremely interesting but are put in such a pleasing way that one could listen indefinitely without tiring.

It is hoped that Plainfield may be given a course of lectures next winter by these gentlemen that will cover some of the many countries in which they have wandered.

The Y. M. C. A. profited by "Bits of Old China."

Ran Away with the Street Roller.

George Conover's horse drawing the roller on Somerset street had a bad attack of blind staggers on Wednesday, smashed into a telephone pole and walked all over F. M. French's yard, and wrecked the fence and lattice work. The horse was caught and tied with a rope till the attack was over.

Escaped Himself, But Lost His Hat.

Officer Vanderweg tried to stop a bicyclist on Seventh street Monday night who was riding without a light, but the wily wheelman escaped, leaving his hat in possession of the policeman. The hat, which is a new straw and worth $2 or $3, is at present resting at Judge Coddington's office, where, if the owner is economical, he will pay his $1 fine and get back his tile.

I have been troubled with chronic catarrh for years. Ely's Cream Balm is the only remedy among the many that I have used that affords me relief.—E. E. Willard, Druggist, Joliet, Ill.

[illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents.
AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

3 27 y

THE CRESCENTS DEFEATED.

Suedon Pitching for His Release, and No One Able to Hit Countryman Henderson.

All those kranks who have been grumbling because the Crescents were winning every game, ought to be satisfied with the stinging defeat administered Saturday by the Patersons.

The Plainfield players had been longing for the opportunity to "do up" their old pitcher, Meakin, but such was not to be their privilege, for Meakin did n't show up. While the Paterson manager was casting about for a pitcher, a raw-boned countryman named Henderson, who said he had never before pitched a game, begged for a trial, and was put in the box with great success. He put the ball over the plate as big as a balloon, and the stalwart Crescent batsmen would whack at it saying "Is n't it pie!" But it was n't, for they could n't hit the ball safe for a little bit. Instead, it would pop up in the air in the most irritating way, and get nabbed by the nimble fielders.

It was an off day all around, for the Crescents. Suedon did n't pitch worth a cent, and the reason was easily found. Suedon has for some time been dickering with Wilkesbarre, and is anxious to go there. It looked as though he was pitching for his release.

Had there been any hope of winning the game, a change pitcher would have been substituted, but the team could n't bat out any runs to save themselves, and the Paterson's lead was hopeless.

To add to the overwhelmingness of the defeat, some of the Crescents' best players had to get tangled up in fielding. Three chances for double plays were wasted, even Leo Smith distinguishing himself by distressing fumbles.

The game went to show that heavy batting is what wins games this year, and that when a team does n't hit it has no hope to win. Even the big league teams are playing big and "lopsided" scores, which seem to be a feature of the season. For instance, all in one day these scores were made: New York, 13; Cleveland, 8. Boston, 15; Louisville, 4. Washington, 12; Cincinnati, 6. Philadelphia, 16; Chicago, 1. Portland, 15; Lowell, 0. Fall River, 20; Brockton, 1. Boston College, 11; Belmont, 4.

There are many who say that judge Charles K. Moore lost the game. He was present for the first time this season, sat on the players' bench and hoodooed the whole crowd. Even Tommy Timbo's horseshoe could n't overcome that.

The score:

PATERSON.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Moorehead, ss	6	1	2	0	0	0	3	5	0
Murray, 2b	5	2	1	0	1	0	4	1	0
Touhey, 3b	5	0	2	0	2	0	1	2	0
Rafferty, c	6	2	2	0	1	0	3	0	0
Simon, 1b	5	2	6	0	0	2	10	0	1
Queeney, cf	4	2	0	0	0	2	2	0	0
Cunningham, rf	4	1	1	0	2	0	0	0	0
Henderson, p	5	2	2	0	1	0	1	2	0
Murphy, lf	5	2	2	0	0	0	3	0	1
		15	15	0	7	4	27	11	2

CRESCENTS.

	AB.	R.	BH.	SB.	LB.	SO.	PO.	A.	E.
Hofford, c	4	0	0	0	1	0	4	1	0
Smith, ss	4	2	0	0	1	0	0	4	2
McIndoe, lf	3	0	1	0	1	0	2	0	1
Turner, cf	4	0	0	0	0	0	3	1	0
Heckman, 2b	4	1	1	0	0	1	5	1	1
Fritz, rf	4	0	1	0	1	0	0	0	0
Keenan, 3b	4	0	2	0	2	0	7	1	1
Jones, 1b	3	0	1	0	1	0	6	1	0
Suedon, p	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0
		3	6	0	7	1	27	13	5

BY INNINGS.

Paterson	6	7	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	—15
Base hits	6	5	0	1	4	0	0	1	2
Crescents	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	0	—3
Base hits	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	2	1

Earned runs—Paterson, 3. Three-base hits—McIndoe, Heckman, Henderson. Two-base hit—Rafferty. Double plays—Turner, to Jones. First base on errors—Crescents, 1; Paterson, 4. Base on balls—Crescents, 5; Paterson, 4. On hit by ball—Simon. Wild pitches—Suedon, 2. Flies caught—By Crescents, 12; by Paterson, 14. Umpire—Hudson. Time 2:10.

NOTES.

Paterson returns June 17.

Little Billy Keeler of the New Yorks is laid up with a broken ankle.

St. Louis beat the Patersons yesterday 5 to 0. Meakin pitched for the Patersons.

The Ridgewoods of Brooklyn are putting a strong team in the field this season. They beat Staten Island Decoration Day, and yesterday took the Olympics of Paterson into camp.

The extra five feet that the pitcher has to throw the ball, makes great difference in the batting, and the close scores of former days are gone by. At Buffalo, yesterday, the home team beat Albany 30 to 11.

Hudson was over kind to the Patersons, Saturday, and presented them with at least 5 runs. His decision at first robbed Keenan of a brilliant double play, and in the ninth inning he decided a man safe at second that Leo Smith had touched out by a yard.

Clever little Keenan, the new find of Manager Keller, is not disappointing the management. His every action is that of a ball player, and after a season's playing with the Crescents he, like others, will no doubt be numbered with those who have gone from Plainfield to the bigger leagues.

That the ability of the Crescents' team of ball players is appreciated away from home is evidenced by the request of out-of town managers requesting dates: Cape May, Camden, Wilmington, Del., and Middletown, N. Y., have written for games on their grounds.

Abating a Gas Nuisance.

When complained to concerning it, street commissioner Meeker at once set out to find the cause for the smell of escaping gas at the sewer openings, Third and Peace streets and Peace and Second. He traced it to the sewer basin under the Washington street bridge, and found that the Gas company had been pumping refuse into it. They promised to abate the nuisance at once.

His No Hot-house Creed.

The Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards in the midst of his sermon last Sunday caused some sensation by referring emphatically to the Briggs trouble.

Dr. Richards said he wanted a religion that thrived in the open air. He wanted no hot-house religion that like a tree had to stop growing or smash the house. He should have more to say on the Briggs matter in a couple of weeks, if he lived that long.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

STOPPED TILL OCTOBER.

THAT IS, UNLESS THE COMPANY SETTLES.

Mr. French Won't Allow the Railway This Summer Past His Door on Somerset Street From Front to the City Line.

Tuesday in the Supreme court at Trenton, while the Plainfield Street Railway company's attorney was napping, the case of F. M. French restraining the company from finishing its connecting road between this city and North Plainfield, was, on motion of counselor McClure for Mr. French, laid over until the next term, October, when testimony was ordered taken.

As the case now stands unless the company settles at Mr French's valuation, or at such figure as may be decided on as a compromise between that and what the company has offered in settlement, there will be no railway service between this city and the borough before late in the fall or next winter.

It is hardly probable the little piece of road in North Plainfield will be run unless the borough authorities compel the company to, according to its contract. There is n't enough of it to pay. Then, too, where could the power come from? The street railway company is under bonds to take power only from the Electric Light company for a term of years, and how could that power be taken over to North Plainfield with Mr. French in the way?

The Hon. Mr. Martine Is Not a Candidate.

For the information of the Democratic slate-makers of Elizabeth in particular, and the leading politicians of Union county in general, THE PRESS would state, with authority, that James E. Martine of Plainfield is in no sense a candidate for State Senator, nor can he be.

What Their Home Paper Says.

(Paterson Daily Call.)

William Henderson, the well-known athlete of this city, went to Plainfield on Saturday with the Paterson team and pitched a great game, the Crescents only getting six hits from his delivery. The game resulted in an easy victory for the Patersons.

A Woman's Back.

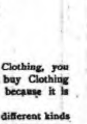
The mainspring of her life.

What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps both strength and ambition?

She cannot walk, she cannot stand; her duties are burdensome; she is miserable.

The cause is some derangement of the uterus or womb. Backache is the sure symptom.

The one unfailing remedy is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A woman discovered it and gave it to woman. Mrs. T. W. Lane, of Holyoke, Mass., tells what a comfort it is to write to a woman about her peculiar troubles, and have a woman read her letters and give a woman's sympathy and help. Thousands send Mrs. Pinkham letters, grateful for renewed life.



All druggists sell it. Address in confidence, LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., LYNN, MASS. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, 25 cents.

An Open Letter From Clothing Builders to Clothing Buyers.

We make Clothing, you buy it. You buy Clothing ready made because it is cheaper.

There are different kinds of ready made. Have you ever investigated how different?

We show you the best that's made, the tailor made, the kind the tailor would make you to order.

In many instances you'll not be able to notice the difference in make between ours and theirs, but the difference in price will open your eyes.

The tailor's prices are about double ours and he furnishes you no better style, fit, finish, trim of fabric.

Why his big price?

He makes for the few; we for thousands. The wise and knowing are wearing OUR SUPERIOR CLOTHING and saving money.

See our grand line of SPRING SUITS between $10 and $20.

MC GREGOR & CO.,
850 and 852 Broad Street,
NEWARK, N. J.

Astonishing!

What $10 to $15 will buy in Men's Clothing—the kind we are offering. If you've never tried our rightly made Suits, suppose you test their fit and finish, just once. You can have back your money if you're not satisfied.

There's a peculiar feature about our grand center window display of Boy's Clothing. We always attach the price. We do this having no fear of being undersold. We make the market price.

Special sale of Children's $4, $5 and $6 Suits at $3.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,
Newark Clothiers,
779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.
3 23 3m

We Have Now In Stock

The largest and best assortment of

$12 BUSINESS SUITS

that we have ever manufactured. They are the latest styles of Plain and Fancy Cheviots, Cassimere Suitings, Black Thibets, etc., and the most of these styles have never been sold before for less than $15 per suit. Our

$12 BLUE SERGE SUITS

Are made from Indigo Blue Serges, color guaranteed and we recommend these as the most comfortable, serviceable and stylish suits for summer wear

Kilpatrick & Betts,
745 and 747 Broad Street,
Newark.
Near Academy street. 4 20 3m

Adapt Yourself To Spring.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball
807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J. 3 22 3m-c

WE DON'T CARE!

If you don't want to buy a Piano for ten years, we would like to talk to you about it, and tell you some things we know about Pianos and how they are made. When you buy you can then buy intelligently; you needn't take any one's word for it. The more people know about Pianos the easier it is to sell them a GABLER; we have handled this make of Piano for thirty years. They practically never wear out.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY
657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.
2 18 6m-c 1 26 6m

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.
REDUCED RATES
FRANK'S
345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged. Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY
4 18 6mos

ELY'S CREAM BALM [illegible]

CATARRH

[illegible]

IT'S MAYOR NEAL, NOW.

THE COUNCILMAN GETS DESERVED PROMOTION.

Unanimous Vote of the Council Electing Him to Fill the Office During Mr. Saunders's Two Months' Absence—The Mayor's Parting Address.

EVERYONE will join heartily in wishing good mayor Saunders, of North Plainfield, god-speed on his voyage to Europe and back, and everyone will congratulate the borough on his leaving so excellent a substitute in office as George H. Neal. That worthy councilman was unanimously promoted to the office of acting mayor, by the borough council Thursday, to serve till Mr. Saunders returns.

Mr. Saunders, in officially announcing to the council his intention of going abroad, said that when he learned he must leave for Europe on urgent business he felt a great deal of concern, for he did not believe in holding office and not attending to it. He at first had desired to resign; but, finding that the trip would not be as extended as he had anticipated, he would ask for leave of absence for two months, hoping to return in August, or possibly sooner.

He believed the condition of public affairs was excellent, and felt satisfied that they would be well attended to.

The existence of so good a board of health he held to be a matter of congratulation. He had been spoken to on sanitary matters, the condition of cesspools, etc., by various people, but with such things neither he nor the council had anything to do. Such matters were entirely in the province of the public health officials. There was some fear of a visitation of cholera, during the coming summer. But there was no reason to feel apprehensive, for health matters were in competent hands.

Mr. Saunders added that the summer was usually dull, except in street work, and he was satisfied with the creditable record of Mr. Neal's street committee, both last year and this, and that careful and able hands would continue the work in a manner satisfactory to the interests of the taxpayers.

The street railway he reported was about completed, so far as laying tracks was concerned, and all had been done in as thorough and workmanlike a manner as possible. During construction, it had been an obstacle, and complaints had been made that more road was torn up at one time than ought to be. But those familiar with such work knew that it was necessary to open a considerable length in order to get a true track, as the grade was leveled by the eye of an experienced foreman, who needed a certain distance to get proper sight. He (the mayor) had visited the work frequently, and with the valued assistance of inspector Carney had seen that a good job was done. The mayor had seen president Nevins, secretary Riker, and Dr. Fritts, of the railway company, and had urged them to complete at once the macadamizing of the street. They had assured him that their intention was to proceed as expeditiously as possible. Broken stone and dust were to be used to cover up and smooth over the present roughness, and when all was done the roadway would be in better condition than before, for hollows were to be filled in; and where the rails had been elevated to proper grade above the road surface, there was to be macadamization from curb to curb, making the entire surface even and uniform, and preventing the accumulation of water in ruts and hollows. When all had been done by the company to the satisfaction of the street committee the road was to be accepted, and after that the company would be required to keep in repair the roadway between the rails and eighteen inches each side.

When the mayor had concluded this good-bye message, councilman Needham raised the question whether or not the council had a right to elect an acting mayor. Counselor Reed replied that there was no difficulty about it.

Councilman Howell thereupon offered a resolution that Mr. Neal be made acting mayor to serve during Mr. Saunders's absence. This was unanimously adopted.

The clerk made a complete report of the finances up to May 12, which was accepted as satisfactory to all.

Councilman Neal for the committee on streets stated that various thoroughfares had been scraped, dressed and otherwise repaired; that Greenbrook road, long in need of repair, had been put in excellent condition at a cost of about $200; that Duer street and Stiner place at the west end had been widened and improved; that Rock avenue was now in course of repair at the joint expense of borough and township.

A gentleman claiming to be councilman Connolly, but who without his luxuriant whiskers was unrecognized, reported for the fire, water and lamps committee that renovation was almost completed in Warren Engine parlors. Some improvements still remain to be done. He recommended that the chief engineer be authorized to take the usual Fourth of July precautions. Action in the matter was deferred.

It was reported that a special marshal had been on night duty since May 15, and that a night watchman was to take his place under pay by private subscription among the Park residents.

Councilman Edwards stated that the table for reporters had cost $6, and boxes for filing papers $4.20. He submitted prices on safes and exempt firemen's blanks. Mr. Saunders urged that $60 was enough to spend for a safe.

Councilman Hummer and counselor Reed reported that the council had power to enforce the laying of stone sidewalks, and an ordinance to that effect will be drafted.

Councilman Connolly reported a bad condition of affairs in street lighting, and held that deductions should be made from the bills. A marshal had been securing a record of the nights when lamps did not burn and when the circuit was entirely cut off before daylight.

Mayor Saunders said that the system was never worse than now, and hinted that if the company did not give better service the contract might not be renewed. The trouble was, he said, that there was no proper system of inspection. The borough should avail itself of its right to protect itself against bad service.

Handsome Suits, $18, $15 and $12.

The custom tailoring business in Newark has been dull this spring and many merchant tailors find they have too many goods on hand. Watson & Co. are no exception to the rule, and their stock of choice custom patterns are far in excess of their needs, so they are cutting them up into suits and extra pantaloons, using up their custom trimmings and keeping their best cutters and tailors busy in making them up. They make their prices for these handsome suits, $18 for the Llama satin-trimmed dress suits, $15 for their black and fancy worsted suits, and $12 for all cheviot, serge and cassimere suits, and give you the choice of patterns, although you can find the finest goods from the best looms in the world among them.

Watson & Co. are in a selling humor just now as they believe in a much lower range of prices for clothing in the future and their stock is too heavy for June.

Notice the elegant suit garments they show in all their Broad and Market street windows, which you should certainly see before you buy.—Newark Sun.

NURSED BY A LEPER.

SINGULAR ADVENTURE OF A DISTINGUISHED PLAINFIELD VISITOR.

It Happened While He Was in That Country of Which He Will Take a Vincent Chapel Audience Next Tuesday Night.

It is to be expected that "Bits of Old China" of which Plainfield is to hear in Vincent chapel, next Tuesday, will be as interesting as instructive. The gentlemen who present the lecture, having lived many years in that far-off country, are not only intimately acquainted with their subject, but have passed through many strange experiences, the recital of some of which cannot fail to add greatly to the evening's enjoyment.

Howard Martin, one of them, once met with extreme instances of both hostility and kindness, from natives, on the same day. It was towards the close of a hot sultry afternoon. He was riding along the sandy plains in the neighborhood of Pekin. Nearing the city walls, their grateful shade was quickly taken advantage of, and slowing his pony to a walk, in fancied security, he prepared for an easy homeward jaunt. The fall of a large stone near-by demanded investigation, but, being quickly followed by a shower of similar missiles, it became evident that some malignant Chinese on the wall, feeling safe from all retaliation, were actively engaged in stoning him. Before he could get beyond their range, Mr. Martin was struck senseless to the ground. Recovering, how long afterwards he does not know, he found an old man bathing his temples in water from the moat, and using every endeavor to restore him to life. Still confused, he scarcely noticed his preserver, but gladly availed himself of his volunteered assistance. After a long and painful walk, the gates were passed, and the United States Legation reached. In rewarding this good Samaritan, his curious appearance was noticed. His scanty rag of clothing, the head unshaved, the strange unnatural whiteness of his skin, and but three fingers on the left hand! Alas, he was afflicted with that scourge of the East, leprosy! With strangely mingled feelings of gratitude and horror, Mr. Martin bade him farewell. When all others passed him by, the poor leper alone had pity, taught in all probability the virtue of compassion through its being denied himself.

ROUTINE COUNCIL BUSINESS

Nothing Exciting Transpires at Mayor Neal's First Meeting.

Acting mayor Neal presided with grace and dignity over the regular meeting of the borough council Friday night.

Petitions were referred to the street committee as follows: From John H. VanWinkle and others, to macadamize Duer street from Craig place to Emily street. From John F. Wilson and others, to make the Grove street extension passable. From William L. Smalley asking that Somerset street be widened, and offering to pay for his own frontage.

The joint memorial details by communication asked that the borough's contribution be sent to M. C. Dobbins.

Bills amounting to about $800 were paid, including the street lighting bill for May, against which no opposition was made.

The street commissioner reported in favor of granting the petition to macadamize Chatham street from Somerset street to Brook avenue, when the property-owners subscribe at least $250, and a resolution to that effect was adopted.

$150 was appropriated for stationery and supplies, including safe. $50 was appropriated for the usual Fourth of July precautions.

J. W. VanHorn was appointed special marshal.

$75 was authorized to be spent in painting and papering the engine-house parlors, the fire company to pay whatever it costs over that.

Sidewalks were ordered to be laid in front of the following property, at the expense of the property-owners, they having refused to lay walks after 30 days' notice: 29 Linden avenue, 72 Manning avenue, 94-96 Manning avenue, 129 Duer street, 70 Duer street, 33 Emily street, 37 Emily street, 29 Linden avenue, Emily street near Somerset.

Another Who Doesn't Like Mr. [illegible]'s New Name for Broadway.

To THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I notice in the issue of THE PRESS of Thursday evening that mayor Gilbert is opposed to the new name—"Watchung avenue". I as one of the tax-payers of this beautiful city, would earnestly request that those having it in charge would procure a much nicer name than the one that has been proposed.

Thanks to our mayor for not signing the ordinance to give one of our handsomest streets that ugly name.

Why not let the name remain the same (Broadway) from one end to the other?

ENTERPRISE.

"My Dear Boy" Offers $10 Reward.

One of "my dear boy" Allen's hired men, who has been working for the contractor at Netherwood, left his horses, a new pair of rubber boots and a lot of clothes, the other night, and mysteriously disappeared.

Allen can only account for it with the statement that the man is a jail bird and was frightened away by the police. He offers a reward of $10 for him.

Charlie Brown's Great Work.

Charles B. Brown, who left Plainfield last December to begin a special work the men of the city of Minneapolis, Minn., has been more successful than ever in his field of labor. In four months of active work he has secured over 500 new members for the Y. M. C. A. of that city, and has also been in active service in all the principal missions of that great western metropolis. In a letter to a friend, Mr. Brown speaks of the busy life he leads and the great need of workers, and although a general secretaryship has been offered him he has felt obliged to decline the same and remain a while longer, after which he may enter either the State work or engage in evangelistic work in Chicago.

Plainfield Wheelmen Save a House.

John Rafferty and C. G. Wood were wheeling through Dunellen, Friday evening, when they noticed fire in a dwelling house occupied by a family named Richardson. They dismounted, got into the house, and extinguished the flames. None of the occupants was at home at the time, and the two young men saved the house from total destruction. The fire started from an exploded lamp.

Mixed in Its Mayors.

(Bound Brook Chronicle.)

North Plainfield's Mayor, the Hon. William L. Saunders, is said, to be opposed to calling a new avenue in his borough by the name of Watchung. That's right. Bound Brook has a Watchung drive, laid out through the middle of the old Rockafellow farm, leading to the mountain, and along this drive will be some of the most beautiful homes in Somerset county. So you Plainfield fellows might as well call your new street something else. It will smell as sweet.

30 Days for Begging.

Matthew Thompson, who has been rendering himself a general nuisance by begging from many of the merchants in town, was arrested yesterday afternoon by officer Kiely. Judge Coddington sent him up for 30 days this morning, and he will trouble Plainfield no more for a time.

Appropriate Songs Before He Sailed.

Thursday evening at the home of W. A. Millard, 412 East Fourth street, a farewell reception was given to George Dean who sails for England on the Alaska today.

Among the many present were especially noticeable the Dresden Trio who had been engaged for the occasion. Their singing was the feature of the evening—especially the solo singing of Mr. Norbury who gave the "Anchor's Weighed", Mr. Lewis, "Many a Night", and Mr. Poos, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep", with great taste and expression. Mr. Dean has the best wishes of his many friends who hope he will have a pleasant journey and safe return.

Dr. Armstrong Fixed Him Up.

Frank Carver, the plumber's helper who was so badly burned by a gasolene explosion yesterday, as told in these columns last evening, spent a restless and feverish night. His injuries are very severe, the flesh of his leg hanging in strips. T. S. Armstrong, manager of Reynolds's pharmacy, deserves credit for the able manner in which he dressed the injury. The sufferer was handled most tenderly, and the best of treatment was accorded.

—The election of the Hillside cemetery directors will take place June 13.

—A musical and dramatic treat will be afforded the public, at Bethel chapel, Thursday evening, June 8, at 8.

—Some of the policemen of the city are expressing varying opinions as to who will be the next captain of police.

—The Alert hose boys, for the first time in their history, will not be on duty July 4. They'll all go to the ball games.

—A. Clawson, with ticket 183, won the oil painting drawn for for the benefit of the Yose fund. It was ticket 184 that won the lot.

—One of the colored men employed in the foundry at Pond's had his left eye injured by a piece of molten iron striking it, Friday. He was taken home, and a physician summoned.

—Mrs. Vanderweg, an invalid in the flat over the United States express office on North avenue, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Friday, suffering from inflammatory rheumatism.

—The postal note is to go, and will be replaced by a more convenient issue resembling an express money order, which will please everybody who has occasion to use such conveniences.

—Winfield Scott post, 73, G. A. R., has been invited to visit Garfield post, 4, of Newark, June 7. The members will meet in the post room at 6:30 p. m. Expenses are to be paid by the quartermaster.

—Ex-borough clerk James K. Arnold has notified the North Plainfield electric light company that unless the nuisance of rumbling and jarring is abated suit will be commenced against the company.

—Andrew Bosworth, who lives in the rear of Gus Smith's grocery store, has been a great annoyance lately by throwing stones and breaking glass. On Mr. Smith's complaint, he was arrested yesterday, and sent to jail for 30 days.

—Since you want to have your feet both feel comfortable and look stylish, why not call at Berkaw's shoe store, 119 West Front street, and be fitted with a pair of russets or oxfords? He has a new line of handsome goods, and will suit you to a dot.

—A meeting of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America was held in the Sons of Temperance rooms, Thursday evening, with the chief and ex-chief rangers in the chair. New applications for membership were presented and filed for future action.

—In the afternoon and evening of the 15th of this month a strawberry festival will be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the German Reformed church, on Craig place. Great pains will be taken to give a good entertainment.

—Bonner still continues to play on the Wilkesbarre team in the Eastern League, but seems lately to be all out of shape. He made 7 errors in three games last week, and the Sporting Life says of May 23d's game: "Bonner's short stop work was very weak and cost his team three runs in the eighth inning."

—Farmer Dunn prophesies hot weather to the end of August, with cool waves only as incidents. One prophecy may not make a summer, but there are signs today that this farmer knows something of what he talking about. The city people want to take warning and locate in Plainfield for the summer, where they can have a cool mountain breeze on the warmest days.

They Hung Outside for Stragglings.

James Frisbie and James Babbitt made a wager as to who would kill the most birds "outside of bounds" at the shooting match at Benner's road-house. Babbitt got seven, and Frisbie five. The two outside sharpshooters tied on three birds, and they were also even on the five, but the wind was against Frisbie, and Babbitt shot the other two.

Bogus! Bogus white lead would have no sale did it not afford makers a larger profit than Strictly Pure White Lead.

The wise man is never persuaded to buy paint that is said to be "just as good" or "better" than

Strictly Pure White Lead

The market is flooded with spurious white leads. The following analyses, made by eminent chemists, of two of these misleading brands show the exact proportion of genuine white lead they contain:

Misleading Brand
"Standard Lead Co. Strictly Pure White Lead. St. Louis."

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Barytes	93.26 per cent.	Regis Chauvenet
Oxide of Zinc	34.18 per cent.	& Bro.
White Lead	6.46 per cent.	St. Louis.

Less than 7 per cent. white lead.

Misleading Brand
"Pacific Warranted Pure [A] White Lead."

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Sulphate of Lead	4.18 per cent.	Ledoux & Co.
Oxide of Zinc	45.04 per cent.	New York.
Barytes	50.68 per cent.

No white lead in it.

You can avoid bogus lead by purchasing any of the following brands. They are manufactured by the "Old Dutch" process, and are the standards:

"Atlantic" "Bradley"
"Brooklyn" "Jewett"
"Ulster"

For sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.,
1 Broadway, New York.

AT BEDTIME
I TAKE A PLEASANT
HERB DRINK

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND NEW AND MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER. [illegible]

LANE'S MEDICINE

[illegible]

TO HONOR HIS MEMORY.

Indiana Will Mark the Grave of Governor Jennings.

Remarkable Character of the First Chief Executive of the Hoosier State—His Fight Against Slavery—Ruined by Drink.

The late session of the Indiana legislature made an appropriation of $500 for the purpose of erecting a monument at the grave of Jonathan Jennings, the first governor of Indiana, and the citizens of Charlestown and Clark county have swelled the original amount appropriated by private subscription until the monument fund has reached a respectable figure.

Jonathan Jennings was one of the remarkable men of Indiana. He was born in New Jersey in 1784, removed to Pennsylvania, and while young came down the Ohio river in a flatboat and settled at Jeffersonville, where he commenced the practice of law. Soon after he was made clerk of the territorial legislature. He was elected the first territorial delegate to congress in 1809. Although a democrat young Jennings was bitterly opposed to the extension of slavery, and through his efforts more than those of any other man Indiana was admitted to the union as a free state in 1816. At the first constitutional convention held in Corydon in 1816 Jonathan Jennings was elected president of the convention and after the adjournment he announced himself a candidate for governor of one of the new state. At the August election of 1816 he defeated Thomas Posey, the then territorial governor, receiving 5,211 votes, his Jennings opponent 3,934 votes.

Two years later Gov. Jennings was appointed by President Monroe a commissioner to negotiate a treaty with the Indians, and after a bitter legal contest he held the office of governor as well as commissioner. He was reelected governor in 1820 and resigned the governorship in 1822, having been elected to congress. He served four terms in the lower house of congress and was defeated for a fifth term by Gen. John Carr. On retiring from congress Mr Jennings removed to his farm near Charlestown. The ex-governor's residence was a large double log-house, situated two and a half miles west of this village, surrounded by several hundred acres of fertile blue grass lands. Here he entertained the leading politicians of Kentucky and Indiana in that hospitable manner for which he was noted. He owned a large still house and mill, situated on his estate, and kept a number of servants, although he was a very plain man, frequently being taken by strangers for one of the ex-governor's servants.

HOUSE WHERE GOV. JENNINGS HELD HIS WEDDING RECEPTION.

The convivial habits of that period soon claimed him a victim, and it is recorded that his political career was cut short by his uncontrollable desire for drink, his warmest friends voting against him in his last race for congress. He was twice married. His first wife was a Miss Hay, a member of one of the oldest and most prominent families in Charlestown. He was married a few years before his death to Miss Clarissa Barbee, of Lexington, Ky., and James K. Sharp, an old gentleman residing here, who as a boy lived with Jennings during the last year of his life, speaks in glowing terms of the ideal homelife of the ex-governor and his second wife, even the governor's convivial habits causing no ripple on the sea of domestic bliss.

The ex-governor was taken ill in July, 1834, and on the 26th of that month he passed away, surrounded by his family and many devoted friends. The next day the remains were placed in a common farm wagon and taken to the little cemetery, situated on a high hill in the western part of Charlestown, and there interred. The grave will soon be marked by a monument of Vermont granite.

The old house in which Gov. Jennings and Miss Barbee were married and where the governor held his first reception still stands on a corner of one of Charlestown's pretty streets after having stood the ravages of nearly a century.

Language of the Press.

It may be interesting to note the variety of languages employed in the world's newspaper press. They are as follows: Armenia, Arabic, Assamese, Bengali, Bohemian, Burmese, Bulgarian, Canarese, Cherokee, Chaldian, Croatian, Chinese, Czechish, Danish, Dutch, English, Esthnish, French, Flemish, Fiji, Finnish, German, Gujarati, Hebrew, Hindi, Hindustani, Hawaiian, Hungarian, Greek (ancient and modern), Icelandic, Italian, Japanese, Javanese, Kafir, Kalmuck, Latin, Lettish, Magyar, Malay, Malagasi, Maori, Marathi, Moldavian, Norwegian, Persian, Portuguese, Polish, Roumanian, Russian, Ruthenian, Slavonic, Servian, Siamese, Singhalese, Slovenian, Spanish, Swedish, Syriac, Tartar, Tamil, Telugu, Turkish, Urdu and Welsh.

Complicated System of Measures.

It will scarcely be believed that wheat is sold in the United Kingdom under nearly two hundred different systems of weight. There is almost as much diversity in regard to barley and oats. The result is that quotations from the various markets create bewilderment and confusion even in the minds of experts.

THE QUARANTINE LAW.

Hints from the Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital Service.

Dr. Walter Wyman, the supervising surgeon general of the Marine hospital service, is the man who is charged with perfecting the details of the national quarantine law with respect to its execution. Rules and regulations have been adopted and transmitted to the various quarantine stations and ports of entry, as well as to foreign ports. Dr. Wyman, in response to an invitation from a Boston Herald correspondent, gives the following interesting summary of his plans and the scope of the Marine hospital service as a bureau:

"The law of February 15, 1893, establishes a new departure in the manner of quarantine," said Dr. Wyman, "by providing quarantine detention of vessels, immigrants, personal effects or cargo at infected foreign ports. Of course, there is no direct United States statute which can be enforced in a foreign port, but the government may say to vessels on the other side that unless certain precautions are taken they cannot enter at a United States port. That they shall be fined five thousand dollars if they do not have a bill of health signed by the consul or by the medical officer specially detailed by the president for that purpose, before sailing for America.

WALTER WYMAN.
Supervising Surgeon General United States Marine Hospital Service.

"Medical officers are detailed for this purpose only at ports which are suspected. [illegible] regulations for foreign ports provide first for inspection. This inspection is preliminary to the signing of the bill of health. An inspection is required also of all vessels carrying passengers sailing from European, Asiatic, African, South American, Central American, Mexican and West Indian ports. Freight vessels, unless from infected ports, will not require inspection, though the consul or officer must be satisfied that everything is in a sanitary condition. On the North American coast and inland waters vessels are exempt from inspection so long as a port is free from contagious infection. An infected port, to be within the meaning of the law, is a port where a contagious or infectious disease has been communicated to one or more persons through the medium of an infected person, infected baggage or otherwise. A port is not infected where one or a small number of cases has been imported, but where the disease has not been communicated to others.

"Passengers are divided into two classes, cabin and steerage. The term immigrant we do not recognize. If a vessel sails from an infected port each cabin passenger must produce evidence as to his exact place of abode during the four days just preceding embarkation, and if he or his baggage has been exposed to contagion he shall be detained at the pleasure of the medical officer in charge.

"Steerage passengers from any infected port must be detained five days under medical observation in specially designated barracks or houses during their stay, subject to the usual sanitary precautions of bathing, fumigation, etc. If cholera should break out no steerage passenger will be allowed to embark until seven days or longer after the conclusion of the last case."

The Fish Gets Nothing.

The jaculator fish, the piscatorial gunner of the Javan lakes, uses his mouth as a squirtgun, and is a marksman of no mean ability. Go to a small lake or pond filled with specimens of jaculators; place a stake or pole in the water with the end projecting from 1 to 2 feet above the surface, place a beetle or fly on top of the pole and then await developments. Soon the water will be swarming with finny gunners each anxious for a shot at the tender morsel which the experimenter has placed in full view. Presently one comes to the surface, steadily observes his prey and measures the distance. Instantly he screws his mouth into the funniest shapes imaginable, discharges a stream of water with precision equal to any sharpshooter, knocks the fly or beetle into the water, where he is instantly devoured by the successful nimrod or some of his hungry horde. This sport may be kept up as long as the supply of beetles and flies holds out.

Bon Voyage.

Jim Hickey—I feel terribly rocky this morning. I went to see a friend off for Europe last night.

Ed Stokes—Did he get off?

Jim Hickey—I guess so; I know I did.—Brooklyn Life.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.
The Standard Railway of America
Perfected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 19, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

9.33 a. m.—COLUMBIAN EXPRESS daily, Pullman vestibule sleeping cars to Chicago and Cincinnati, dining, smoking and vestibule passenger coaches from New York to Chicago. Arrive Chicago 10 a. m., Cincinnati 6.25 a. m., Indianapolis [illegible] a. m. next day.

[illegible] FAST LINE, with Pullman Vestibule parlor and sleeping cars daily for Pittsburg, [illegible], Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago and St. Louis, daily, except Saturday for Toledo.

[illegible] WESTERN EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars, dining car daily for Pittsburg, Chicago, Cleveland, daily except Saturday, for Toledo, Williamsport, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

8.34 p.m.—SOUTHWESTERN EXPRESS with Pullman vestibule sleeping cars, daily, to Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Memphis. Dining car Altoona to Richmond.

[illegible] PACIFIC EXPRESS, with Pullman Vestibule sleeping cars daily for [illegible], and Toledo, daily except Saturday, for Cleveland and Columbus.

For Baltimore, Washington and the South—[illegible]

Sunday at [illegible]

*Change cars at Trenton.
†Change cars at Philadelphia.

For Philadelphia—[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

3.25 p. m. week-days, with through Buffet parlor car and day coaches.

Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City, 1.09 p. m. week-days.

For Trenton—[illegible]

For Lambertville, Phillipsburg and Belvidere via Trenton—[illegible]

For Flemington—[illegible]

For Bordentown, Burlington and Camden via Trenton, [illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.
(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect MAY 14, 1893

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave New York from foot of Liberty street, [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Newark [illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Somerville [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

Leave Easton [illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 7 24, a m 11 46, 5 10 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.
LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

Leave Plainfield [illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 12,000 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—45 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address.
Albion Hotel, The	Park av and 9th st
Ames, C. J.	15 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Ackerman, Mrs. J. M.	22 West 7th street
Adams, Dr D C	46 Grove st
Brakeley, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac B	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	9th and Union sts.
Barkalow & Dunn	10 North ave.
Boone, W. C., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central Av.
Bushnell, John	Central ave. and 9th st.
Bearbower, J B	Park av and 2d st
Berg, Jos F, M D	10 E 6th st
Board of Education—6th st, 9th and Union sts
Booth, E H	66 Madison ave
	6th & Liberty, 9th & Monroe
Clark, E B	2 Waynwood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Compton, James T	Richmond and Front sts
CONSTITUTIONALIST Office	1 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr J H	Manning and Westervelt aves.
Cox, Rowland	Seventh st
Chapman, Mrs. F. A.	3 Third Place
Cruikshank, C. A.	126 Carlton avenue
Carman, J H, M D	49 Somerset st
Chase, S F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (J H Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
DAILY PRESS	3 North ave.
Depew, Mrs. E. H.	19 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	25 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 6th st & Park av
Day, E M	Rockview ave
Demarest, P M	27 Park av
Dumont, John B	20 E 7th st
Decker, —pay station	Westfield, N J
DeGraff, James	20 E 9th st
Doane, T O—Chief P F D	40 W 8th st
Dollner, S L	121 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Pa ve. and 4th st.
Evening News, T. W. Morrison, Editor	7 Som't st.
Engine No 1	West 2d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo C	27 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J	20 West Seventh St
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR., Depot.
French, P M & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	75 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	88 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	4 W 7th st
French, C Frank	89 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	20 W 6th st
Goddard, C M	17 Third Place.
Griffen, A M	13 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	5th and New sts
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 6th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
Heyniger, L	81 & 83 Somerset street.
Hegeman, B. A	107 Sycamore avenue.
Hedges, Dr. Ellis W	46 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas.	141 Front street.
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave.
Higgins, M. A	79 East 4th st—20 North ave
Hetfield, John H	204 South 2d st—21 Park av
Harder, Francis C	133 Madison av
Hermance, G	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	20 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L	80 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	13 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	6th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	65 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 9th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Rice	49 Broadway
Laire, J P & Co	3 W Front st
Linke, Frank	43 W Front st
Lounsberry, F C	13 Plainfld ave
Myers, J K	17 East 7th st
McGee, Henry A	Willow ave
McGee, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J G	16 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A	20 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	107 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	49 Grove st
Pond Mach Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierson Hardware Co	45 W Front st
Reed, Chas A	27 Myrtle ave
Milliken, E F	120 Central
Morrison, T W	21 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	46 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	E Front st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood.
Newhall, Henry B	16 E 7th st.
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
Reynolds, H P	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. P	Washington avenue
Roberts, D S	17 North avenue.
Rockfellow, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	46 Madison ave
Rushmore, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
Rooms, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Sycamore aves.
Runkle, H. G	5th st
Runyon, Chas W	Park ave
Rice, Jr. W. A Co.	75b cor. Emily and Duer sts
Randolph, L W	Front st
Rogers, D W	W 4th st
Rogers, E P H	34 Westervelt ave
Stover, H W	20 east 9th st
Serrell, Lemuel W	Front st. and Plainfield ave
Seguine, C. J	40 Front street.
Shaw, E J	Front st., opp. Park ave.
Streuli, A S	Prospect ave.
Smith, W F	Belvidere av., Netherwood
Shephard, A D	Fanwood
Smith, Jas A	13 W Front st
Scott, Walter & Co	South ave
Smith, Chas A	Spring st., Westfield, N J
Stelle, Irving G	Sixth st
Terrill & Cole	16 E Front st
Thompson, A. D	20-21 North av
Talmadge, Henry P (Res)	Netherwood.
Thickstun, Jno A	Madison av
Titsworth, Jos M	26 W. 7th st.
Tomlinson, Dr T H	La Grande and N B'dwy
Tobin & Enander	51 North av
Tracy, J Evarts	8th and Division st
Thorn, Alex	27 Somerset st
Tweedy, O. B.	11 Crescent avenue
Townsend, Samuel	93 Rockview av
Thompson, A D	Prospect ave
Telegraph Office	Plainfield station
Thorn, E	73 W Front st
United States Express Co.	3 North ave
Union Co Country Club	Cor 7th st & Arlington
Van Sickle W. J	10 North ave
Wharton, Clifton	17 Central av
Woltman, C	West Seventh street
Wadsworth, W B	8th and Liberty sts
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot
Welchers, J F	W 8th st., near Grand ave
Waters, E, Ass't Chief	3d st near Washington
Westfield, pay station	Westfield, N J
Wotherspoon O G	146 E Front st

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD. NEW JERSEY

Asbury Park, N J	60c	Hempstead N Y	45c
Astoria, N Y	50c	Hoboken N J	35c
Babylon, N Y	60c	Hunter's Point N Y	40c
Bath, N Y	40c	Irvington N J	40c
Bayonne N J	45c	Islip N Y	60c
Bergen Point N J	30c	Jamaica N Y	50c
Bayside N Y	50c	Jersey City N J	30c
Bay Shore N Y	75c	Keyport N J	40c
Bayville N Y	[illegible]	Kingston N J	40c
Belleville N J	40c	Laurel Hill N Y	45c
Blissville N Y	45c	Leonia N J	45c
Bloomfield N J	40c	Little Neck N Y	50c
Bloomingdale N J	45c	Little Silver N J	60c
Boonton N J	40c	Long Branch N J	60c
Brooklyn N Y	35c	Madison N J	40c
Caldwell N J	40c	Matawan N J	50c
Carlstadt N J	45c	Millburn N J	25c
Centreville N J	45c	Montclair N J	35c
Chatham N J	30c	Morristown N J	40c
Chester N J	40c	Newark N J	25c
Colt's Neck N J	75c	New Brunswick N J	25c
Coney Island N Y	45c	Newtown N Y	45c
Cresskill N J	40c	New York N Y	35c
Dover N J	40c	Orange N J	30c
East Norwich N Y	60c	Passaic N J	35c
Eatontown N J	60c	Paterson N J	35c
Elizabeth N J	15c	Perth Amboy N J	30c
Englewood N J	45c	Rahway N J	20c
Fairview N J	40c	Red Bank N J	50c
Fanwood N J	15c	Seabright N J	60c
Far Rockaway N Y	60c	Short Hills N J	25c
Flatbush N Y	40c	South Amboy N J	35c
Flushing N Y	45c	South River N J	30c
Fort Lee N J	45c	Staten Island N Y	35c
Franklin Park N J	45c	Westfield N J	15c
Freehold N J	45c	Woodbridge N J	30c
German Settlem't N Y	50c	Yonkers N Y	50c
Glen Cove N Y	60c	Trenton N J	40c
Gravesend N Y	45c	Tarrytown N Y	60c
Hackensack N J	50c

TWENTY
Years experience in the business.
SECOND STREET, 2 doors above Peace street.

Mr. JOHN H. STEVENS, Horseshoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Stumbling and Interfering Horses.—Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredible short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between Peace street and Park avenue.
First-Class Livery.
Horses Boarded by Week or Month.
Telephone call No. 134.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton, on Tuesday, the twentieth day of June next, at [illegible] o'clock in the forenoon, for [illegible]

GEO. T. VANDERVEER,
Solicitor of Complainant.

Dated May 25, 1893.

NOT SHOWN AT THE FAIR.

Howard Fielding Calls Attention to a Neglected Industry.

An American Horse Trader in Full Operation Would Please the Foreigner and Would Help Him to Understand Our Business Principles.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

I have been grieved to learn by the report of an old acquaintance, who has been to Chicago and escaped with his life, that one of the most venerable of American industries, perhaps better fitted than any other to exhibit the true character of our people, has no place at the fair.

Virgil P. Perkins, of Hancock county, Me., was my informant. He comes of the hard old stock that thrives in a soil which furnishes but scanty support to juniper bushes. Virgil is fifty years old; looks twenty years older, and will doubtless continue to do so for half a century at least.

Virgil looks like his father; and I know that he was coming up to my office some minutes before he appeared, because on glancing out of my window I saw most of the green goods and confidence men with whom I am acquainted standing on the sidewalk. I went down and told them that the old man had been to Chicago, and they turned away, muttering: "Too late; too late."

After a few introductory words concerning the amount necessary to get him back home he called my attention to the omission in the plans of the fair. There were all sorts of trades and occupations, he said, except the good old business that he had been brought up in.

"What's that?" I asked.

"Hoss tradin'," said he. "I was a good deal disappointed not to see it. I'd read in the paper about the way they got the fair, an' I'd said: 'Them fellers is hoss traders, born an' bred, an' they'll give the finest hoss tradin' exhibition ever seen.' But there wa'n't a sign of it."

I was surprised.

"Tain't for lack of ability, nuther," he continued, "for I met fellers out there that could start with the echo of jackass' bray an' trade it up to a stock-farm. The man that kep' boarders—place where I put up—was as good a man as I want to see in that line; yes, an' better 'n I ever went to see agin. Now if they'd a-had that feller operatin' in the fair grounds with a couple o' them car hosses to begin on every mornin', they'd a-had a show worth goin' miles to see."

"This is indeed an oversight," said I, "but perhaps it is not too late to rectify it. How would you like to be put in charge of such an exhibit?"

The old man got upon his feet so hastily that I could hear his vertebræ clash together as he straightened his back.

"How would I like it!" he exclaimed. "Howard, if you can fix that thing up, there's a fortin' in it for you an' me."

"We should have to keep the fair managers from playing up against the game," said I, thoughtfully.

"Supposin' they did," Virgil rejoined, "we should lose somethin' to them, of course, but with all them foreigners there we could get it all back an' more. Say, I've got an old mule down on my place that I could take out there an' sell for the original animal that Columbus rode away from the Spanish court on. That wouldn't be nothin' alongside of some of the relics that are exhibited out there."

"It's a good idea," said I. "We will see what can be done to get the job for you."

"You can write to the authorities that I'm well up in the business," said he. "Tell 'em the story about that kickin' hoss I sold your uncle Bill back in '75."

"Yes," said I. "Certainly I should remember that. I got a thousand dollars out of the estate."

"It wa'n't no fault o' mine that anything happened to him," Virgil protested. "I never sold a kickin' hoss in my life without mentionin' that he had bad habits. I remember well how it happened. Bill came to my place to look the hoss over. I led him out on the barn floor."

THE HORSE LAUGHED.

"'He's called a kicker,' says I, 'but he ain't never kicked me.'

"Bill was standin' at the door as I said it, and he just happened to be lookin' out. I was passin' round behind the hoss an' just as I uttered them words he sent out both his hind feet. On of 'em hit me in the chest; an' when the doctor looked me over afterwards he found my red flannel chest protector stickin' to the inside of a porous plaster I'd been wearin' between my shoulders. How it got there I don't pretend to say.

"The other foot hit me on the left arm an' broke it just below the shoulder. But I never let on to Bill that anything had happened. I jest leaned up agin the side of the barn an' kind o' got my breath, an' then I went on harnessing the horse. Of course I couldn't use my left arm, an' I tell you it was hard work to keep Bill from noticin' that I was doin' it with one hand.

"Bill liked the looks of the hoss, an' he paid me pretty nigh the figure I asked. I didn't haggle about a few dollars, bein' nat'rally anxious to get something done for my arm as soon as possible. When Bill drove away I called in Dr. Haskins an' he set the arm. Bill had Haskins twice arter that, I remember, and the minister once."

"How about that laughing horse?" I asked. "I've heard something about such a beast."

"You mean the big sorrel I bought up back o' Bangor. He was a queer critter an' no mistake. I got him of an Oldtown Injun for a gallon o' rum worth forty cents an' a pistol that wouldn't go off. He looked pretty well, too, considerin' that he wasn't exactly in the springtime o' life, bein' on the shady side o' twenty, I should judge, an' so thin that you could pretty nigh see through him with a strong light on the other side.

"Arter payin' the expenses of gettin' him home to Goose Falls he stood me about four dollars in money. I fed him on fillin' stuff for a few days, an' when he had swelled up considerable I offered him to a travelin' man who happened to lose his hoss in Clam Cove, which is next to the Falls. Who got the drummer's hoss, I dunno. The feller came over to my house about six o'clock one evenin', hearin' that I had a hoss to sell. The time was favorable for a trade. The shadders of evening were fallin' an' as they fell my chances o' sellin' a hoss like that would nat'rally improve.

"'He's ten years old this spring,' says I, as we walked up to the stall. Jes' as I said them words the hoss stuck his head out of his stall an' laughed. He did, for a fact. I'd heard tell of a hoss laugh, but this was my first personal acquaintance with one. It sorter jarred on my nerves, bein', so to speak, a reflection on my veracity.

BUT HE NEVER KICKED ME.

"But I made the best on't, an' led the horse out on the barn floor. I began to make a few general remarks on the good points of the beast. There was a curry-comb lyin' on a beam an' all of a sudden the hoss grabbed the handle of it with his teeth an' held it out toward me. I stood paralyzed. Then the hoss brushed my hat off, and began to comb my hair.

"'That's a touchin' appeal,' says the drummer. 'He knows what he wants.'

"I was gettin' mighty nervous, never havin' seen a dumb beast act that way before. I judged it was better to get him back into his stall as soon as possible.

"'Come, Beauty,' says I, grabbin' the halter, 'it's time you had your oats.'

"Well, sir, at the sound o' the word oats that hoss fell dead in his tracks. He rolled over on his back an' stuck all four legs up in the air as stiff as table legs. I tried to get him up but it was no use.

"'You ought to have broken it to him gently,' said the drummer. 'He died o' joy.'

"And then he laughed. At this the dead hoss opened one eye an' his mouth, an' began to laugh, too. I began to think I was goin' out o' my head. For over an hour I worked on that critter tryin' to get him on his legs, an' I couldn't do it. Then the drummer gave it up an' went away. Jes' as soon as the man was out o' sight, the hoss got on his feet agin as well as ever.

"I didn't call the drummer back, but I sat down an' ruminated. I come pretty nigh figgerin' the thing out as it was. Ducello's circus had been up Bangor way a week or two before, an' I'd heard about a trick hoss bein' with the show. He was a sort o' clown hoss, an' from a description I'd got o' him I came to the conclusion that this was the identical animile. I learned afterwards that the hoss had got sick, the circus people had sold him, and the Injun had stole him.

"Now, what was I goin' to do with him? I don't believe in harborin' stolen property an' if the man who bought the hoss of Ducello had come to me with proper legal authority I'd have returned him. But while waitin' for him to come, it seemed best to turn an honest penny. Well, sir, to make a long story short, I sold that hoss to nineteen different men. Jes' as soon as a man had bought him, I got the feller to hitch up, an' as he was about to drive away, I dropped a remark about oats.

"'He's used to havin' plenty of oats,' I'd say, an' down would go the hoss in his tracks. That was a trick he'd learnt. Nothin' could make him get up while the other feller was in sight; an' so I'd jes' nat'rally buy the body for a couple o' dollars, an' be anywhere from forty to fifty dollars ahead o' the trade. But the nineteenth time I got stuck. I lost the two dollars. When the stranger moved slowly away, bein' poorer an' wiser to the amount o' fifteen dollars an' a bag o' corn, Beauty didn't get up. He had done his trick for the last time. Yes, sir, I'd been swindled right in my own dooryard. I'd paid two dollars for a dead horse."

However, I do not think that this small error on the part of Mr. Perkins should stand in the way of his selection for the post of official horse-trader at the fair. I have forwarded a statement of his qualifications to Chicago, where, if anywhere, they should be appreciated. HOWARD FIELDING.

Generous.

Mrs. De Goode—It's perfectly awful! The paper says there are thousands of families in this city who have never seen a Bible.

Little Johnny (hastily)—Send 'em mine, mamma.—Good News.

Willing to Condense.

"I—I must not listen to you, Mr. Capphead," protested the blushing girl, with eyes downcast. "You are only trifling, and—and, besides it is getting late."

"Please hear me out, Miss Helen!" pleaded the infatuated young reporter. "I'll cut it down to two hundred and fifty words!"—Chicago Tribune.

Honors Even.

Mr. Van—You look charming tonight, my love.

Mrs. Van—Indeed? Thanks! I'm surprised you should say so even if you thought it.

Mr. Van—Yes. I'm surprised that you should look so, even if I had said it!—Town Topics.

Her Way of Looking at It.

A poor old woman who had just seen the ocean for the first time was asked by her son:

"What do you think of the sea?"

"Think?" replied the old dame after a long pause. "I can't think, Jim. I can only thank Providence for having shown me something in my life of which there seems to be enough and to spare."—Buffalo Snips.

MISCELLANEOUS | MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-9-y

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.

Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE ALASKAN SEALS.

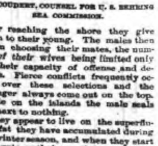
Their Habits Described by an American Lawyer.

Why Canadian Poachers Must Be Prevented from Carrying on Their Customary Depredations—The Two Seal Groups.

In his argument before the arbitrators in the Behring sea case Mr. Coudert, of counsel for the United States, gave an interesting account of the habits of the Alaskan seal, over the proprietorship of which the whole contest is being waged. The peculiar thing about these seals is that, although in their journey from the south to their stamping grounds in the Behring they pass islands innumerable, they invariably select two groups, and only two, as their summer home. One of these is on the coast of Asia and is known as Commanderoff. The other is the Pribyloff islands, two in number—St. Paul and St. George—off the Alaskan shore. These islands are but specks in the surrounding waters. St. Paul contains but thirty-two square miles and St. George twenty-seven square miles. Why these two groups should be selected is what no naturalist has as yet been able satisfactorily to explain. Nevertheless the fact remains that it is to them and to them alone that the seals annually resort while in northern waters.

About this season of the year the Pacific ocean north of the fortieth degree of north latitude is liberally sprinkled with seals on their way from southern waters to their northern summer resort. The males appear to be more rapid swimmers than the females. At all events they arrive at the islands a week or two ahead of the females. On reaching them they immediately proceed to select quarters on them for their summer abode, and these quarters are always at some point near the sea, from which it is easily accessible. When they arrive they are rolling in fat and weigh somewhere in the neighborhood of five hundred pounds each.

About the beginning of June the females begin to arrive and a few hours after reaching the shore they give birth to their young. The males then begin choosing their mates, the num*ber of their* wives being limited only by their capacity of offense and defense. Fierce conflicts frequently occur over these selections and the stronger always come out on the top. While on the islands the male seals eat next to nothing.



MR. COUDERT, COUNSEL FOR U. S. BEHRING SEA COMMISSION.

They appear to live on the superfluous fat they have accumulated during the winter season, and when they start out again on their southern trip they are living skeletons. The southern trip is begun early in August and as a rule the islands are clear of seals by the end of that month. A few stragglers may remain till November, after which none are seen till the following May. The male seal is six years of age before he begins to mate and it is from the school of bachelors that the lessees of the islands select the one hundred thousand they are allowed to kill each season. These are taken from those between three and four years of age, the skins being most valuable at that time. Of course it is impossible to discriminate as to age or sex when the seals are in the open sea, and therefore the necessity of preventing the Canadian poachers from carrying on their depredations. They kill all they meet without respect to age or sex.

Bluecher in England.

The recent celebration in Germany of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Prince Bluecher naturally revives many old stories of the famous field marshal. When, after Waterloo, he went to England with the king of Prussia and the czar he had the title of LL. D. conferred on him by Oxford and Cambridge universities. He was everywhere welcomed with the highest honor and enthusiasm, and on one occasion was carried to his lodgings by the crowd, who kissed his hands and knees. In answer to some ladies who begged him for a lock of his hair he said, with a smile, pointing to his bald pate: "I regret that I am so poor in that respect." But he could not content them till he had divided his chin among them.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1893. No 24.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—Madison.

Rates of Advertising

[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.

Double col. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Jackson & Codington.
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jesf

George W. Day,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 132, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of Constitutionalist. Terms reasonable.

Dr. Charles R. Theiss,
Dentist,
29 West Front street. A new local anaesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—jesf

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 169, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 8 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 21 E. Front street, corner Elm street.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front St., Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER.
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 34 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed.

GARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.

TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all Kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping. Plumbing.
Heater Work, Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
12 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6.

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business (all that is needed is [illegible]).
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 6 [illegible], Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE

ESTABLISHED 18 6.
C. E. & J. W. BROWN,
[Successors to G. F. & C. R. Brown & Co.]
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,
Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 26.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves,
Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 13 SOMERSET ST.

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HAWKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York.

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
[Successor to T. S. Carey.]
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—20 W. FRONT ST.
[illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
C. O. D. CIGAR.
The best nickel cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos always on hand.
Smokers' Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!!
8 PARK AVE., (near corner of Second St.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smokers' Materials, of every description.
Try our Celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, will not be surpassed and constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 8½ W. Front street to 22 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. B. WOOLSTON. J. P. BUCKLE.
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES. 26 NORTH AVENUE

G. Dickinson
Optician
13 Park Ave
Plainfield N. J.

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be

Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes, Menus,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything.

WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building),
PLAINFIELD N. J

A PLAINFIELD TRIBUTE.

W. C. BAMBURGH WRITES OF HIS DEPARTED FRIEND.

From an Intimate Acquaintance He Tells How Booth Was Brave Under Calamity—Stanch in His Aim for an Artistic Ideal and a Holy Life.

To THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—When a man who has won and retained during his life, the respect of a very much larger audience than poet or author ever hopes to win, dies almost in the fullness of his fame, his loss is such an one that grief cannot represent it. So, when an actor dies, who seemed to have received the secret oracles of his art from Shakespeare himself, he leaves no memorials of his oneness with the friends he has made, but in the memory of those, who, like him must die, carrying their vivid annals with them. Edwin Booth is dead. Who that has seen him, heard his classic utterances, but will feel a personal loss, as of a teacher of noble life and the sacredness of the mind's powers. Who that has known him as friend will forget the beauty of his dignified and honorable character. That character has taught, and should long teach not only those who are members of his profession, but all feeling and aspiring hearts, that nobility of purpose makes every deed noble. How well could his fellow-players say to one another, as the crew of Ulysses spoke:

> "How wonderfully is our chief revered and loved by all men, wander where we will into what realm soever!"

Edwin Booth was such, frequently harassed by such calamities as few men could be brave under, yet always brave and stanch in his aim for an artistic ideal and an holy life.

It seems strange to say that a player aimed for an holy life; yet when goodness and unswerving honor guide the highest instincts of the nature of man, the mind must become cleansed of foulness, and what is cleanliness of mind but holiness of character? Whatever may be the personal beauty of the man, I hold it truth that he who fulfils, by assuming passions of every diverse sort, the imagination of one so definitely masterful as Shakespeare, shares and must long be entitled to share the fame of him who made possible the fulfillment of those imaginings by the masterful player.

That kinship of fame almost becomes a kinship of genius, and fairly makes Edwin Booth as classic in his attainments as Shakespeare was in his divine art. It is needless to define or describe Mr. Booth's art, how his whole nature seemed to be embodied in Iago or Hamlet or Macbeth; how his purity of utterance endowed every word of the English language with the charm of melody; or how his impersonations will long remain the rarest expositions of cultured and rarely intellectual temperament. His fame is enshrined in the records of his genius which will be sorrowfully laid as laurel upon his tomb; yet to the living the mention of the soothing name of Booth will call forth a "Hush!" as when a spirit of the Unseen returns to pass among men to recall the mission of aspiration.

WILLIAM CUSHING BAMBURGH,
28 Jackson avenue.

A PRIEST AND A PLAINFIELDER ACCUSED.

Thomas O'Brien Names Father Leonard and Joseph Sullivan as Co-Respondents.

A divorce suit in which a Plainfielder and a Catholic priest are named as co-respondents came before vice-chancellor Green in Jersey City yesterday. The action is brought by Thomas O'Brien, a wealthy liquor merchant of Passaic. Rum was the beginning of the wife's downward career, according to the husband's allegation. Margaret, the defendant, denies the charges of infidelity and accuses her husband.

In his petition O'Brien says they were married in St. Anthony's church, New York, June 1, 1879, by the Rev. Father Leonard. They lived there for two years, and then the wife began to be too fond of strong drink. He moved to Passaic, hoping by getting her away from her associates to cure her of her appetite; but he was forced to leave her in 1890. After the separation she fell into evil company, he says, and he names Oakley Wood, of Passaic; the Rev. Father Michael J. Hickey, who is said to have left this part of the country, and Joseph Sullivan, of this city, as co-respondents.

Annie Matthews, a young woman, niece of the plaintiff, who lived as a servant with Mrs. O'Brien, swore Wood had a latchkey and called almost every night upon Mrs. O'Brien and her companion, Mary Ryan. She had seen the Rev. Father Hickey and Mrs. O'Brien in the latter's bedroom. Both were intoxicated. Joseph Sullivan was also one of the visitors entertained by Mrs. O'Brien.

William B. Simons said that on August 30, 1892, he went to Delaware Water Gap with Wood, Mrs. O'Brien and Mary Ryan. Wood and the defendant, he said, were registered as "J. Gregory and wife" at the Mountain House, where they all stayed.

Edward Hanser, the hotel proprietor, corroborated Simons and identified the defendant.

The case was adjourned until June 27.

MR. MARTINE OF PLAINFIELD.

He's a Much-Talked-of Man, Nowadays, and Won't Accept a Senatorship.

"Mr. James E. Martine of Plainfield"—says the Elizabeth Journal—"has already been mentioned in several papers as a probable candidate for Senator on the Democratic ticket in this county. It is possible that Mr. Martine may want this office, but until he says so we will not believe it. Mr. Martine's desire is to go to Congress. He was the most formidable candidate for nomination against Hon. John T. Dunn. His chances of election to Congress in this district would be far better than his chances of being elected as Senator. Moreover Mr. Martine might, as State Senator, utterly destroy all his chances of being elected to Congress, either by some political accident or by proving himself to be a man whom the party leaders could not manage, and therefore would not want. Doubtless there are a number of prominent Democratic leaders who would be glad to sidetrack Mr. Martine with a Senatorial nomination, but unless he is less shrewd than his friends assume him to be, he will not let such small game draw his powder when there is a possibility of big game a little further on."

Had the Journal read its Monday PRESS thoroughly, it would have known that Mr. Martine positively declined the Senatorial nomination.

—Marshal Pangborn looks fine in his new helmet.

IN CUPID'S BOND

FOUR LOVERS FOND JOIN FORTUNES AT THE ALTAR.

June's [illegible] and Tunes the Marriage Psalter—Gay Gatherings Round [illegible]—Miss Lillie Weds Her Walter.

MAGEE—YOUNG.

In Hope chapel, on Wednesday Miss Lillie Young and Walter Magee, both of this city, were made one by the Rev. G. Kennedy Newell.

The wedding party arrived at the chapel at 8. The bridal march was played by Miss Poole of New York. The bride was attired in cream cashmere with lace trimmings. The bride looked very beautiful as she entered the chapel. Miss Bessie Magee, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid. She was attired in a dress of pale blue. William Leland acted as best man. The groom is a well-to-do machinist in the Pond Tool Works. After the marriage ceremony the happy party proceeded amid showers of rice, to the home of the groom on Prescott place, where a reception was given to the relatives and intimate friends, numbering about forty. The bride and groom will spend a two-weeks' honeymoon at Worcester, Mass. After their return they will go to housekeeping on Prescott place, where the groom has provided a newly-furnished home for his bride.

HANCE—IRVING.

Plainfield is the gainer, because of the attentions for some time past, paid to Miss Minnie Irving of Liberty Corner by the esteemed and rising young lawyer, Hiram O. Hance, Esq. This culminated Wednesday, when amid a profusion of wild flowers, in the quaint old Presbyterian church at the home of the bride, the two were joined in wedlock by the Rev. J. A. Wells, in the presence of a large company of friends who had come from near and far to attend the nuptials. All nature seemed to smile for the occasion, having dressed herself in springtime colors.

The bride was bewitchingly lovely, dressed in a very handsome white China silk and satin robe. She wore the time-honored bridal veil and had diamonds for ornament. In her hand she carried a magnificent bunch of bride roses. The groom looked his best, and promptly at the hour the bridal party, preceded by the ushers, while from the organ there pealed forth the bridal march from Lohengrin, took their places at the altar. The bride had for lady of honor Miss Ruth Layton, who wore pink and carried roses of the same hue.

The groom was ably supported by Joseph Samuels, of this city, who stood by his friend manfully during the trying ordeal.

The ceremony being finished, the bridal party, accompanied by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, left the church and repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a bountiful collation was served. After a short time, receiving congratulations and best wishes of their friends, the newly-wedded pair, amid a shower of rice and old shoes, left the bride's home and departed on an extended wedding trip.

Many very pleasant features were connected with the wedding and two of them are deserving of special mention. The girl friends of the bride, in selecting wild flowers for the church decorations, certainly chose well and exhibited great taste in the arrangements. The organ was presided over by W. H. Miner of Holy Cross church. The ushers were A. G. TenEyck, H. A. Acken, Ayers Leeson and Walter S. Terrell, all of Liberty Corner.

The new couple were the recipients of many useful and ornamental gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Hance will in the future reside on Grandview avenue, where a well furnished house awaits their return.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Librarian's Report for May.

Volumes on accession-book, Apr. 30	11,738
Volumes added by purchase	12
" " gift	20
" " binding	29
Volumes now in the library	11,827
Number of card-holders	2,473
Cash received from fines	$14.69
" " non-resident subscriptions	1.00
Home Circulation.
Fiction	945
Juvenile	289
Biography	108
Travel	72
Philosophy	14
Religion	16
Sociology	27
Philology	1
Natural Science	47
Useful arts	19
Fine arts	21
Literature	117
History	41
General Works	6
Total	1,722
Visitors to building	2,562

E. L. ADAMS,
Librarian.

Jersey Weather Coming In.

(Official Crop Bulletin.)

SOUTH PLAINFIELD—Cool nights and easterly winds have retarded grass which will be a short crop. All growth needs rain. Strawberries beginning to ripen; picked 32 quarts on the 2d, the first of the season. Rain badly needed.
F. C. JOHNSON.

PLAINFIELD—All crops are looking well. A good rain at this time would help, if followed by plenty of sunshine. Insects are attacking fruit trees. Lowest temperature, 41 degrees; rainfall, on the 26th, 0.03 inch.
JOHN NEAGLE.

A Plainfielder's Handicap.

The Elizabeth Journal says: "Bert Hart, a Plainfield enthusiast, is arranging for a twenty-five mile handicap road race over the Scotch Plains-Fanwood course, to be run on July 27. Entries will close July 20. Open to all riders in New Jersey. Medals will be given as time prizes."

Plainfield Land Better and Cheaper.

W. W. Coriell, of West Front street, went to Asbury Park on a prospecting tour, Monday. He offered the owner of some land on a side street $1,000 for a plot 50x50 feet in dimensions. Mr. Coriell wants to build a cottage there, but when told $5,000 would hardly buy it he took a train for home.

Force Them to Use the Middle.

Since the top dressing of crushed stone has been put on Belvidere avenue, some of the property-owners have distributed cord wood along in the gutters in front of their residences, so that drivers are obliged to "keep in the middle of the road", and not cut up the sides of the avenue.

The City Deceived Him.

On account of a change in the grade, the East Front street property-owner recently set his curb stones and sidewalk four inches lower than the established grade. He claims that at the time he set them he was acting under instructions of the authorities.

KILLED HIS TROTTER.

EXPENSIVE MISHAP TO SALMON C. BAKER.

He and His Wife Collided with Bicycler Brokaw, and All Three Were Severely Hurt, While the Horse's Back Was Broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Salmon C. Baker, of West Fifth street, were out driving Thursday with their $600 trotter, when, on the county road near Fanwood, the horse collided with Elmer Brokaw on a bicycle.

Brokaw's bicycle was caught between shaft and wheel, and Brokaw was hurled to the ground.

The horse bolted and fell, throwing Mr. and Mrs. Baker out, and breaking its own back so that it had to be knocked in the head.

Brokaw was badly shaken up and covered with cuts and bruises. Mr. Baker had his scalp torn and his face injured. Mrs. Baker suffered severely from injury to a leg. Dr. D. C. Adams cared for the sufferers.

EX-MAYOR RANDOLPH SPOKE.

He Urges His Grand Army Comrades Not to Forsake Their Patriotism.

Winfield Scott Post, 73, G. A. R., and Women's Relief corps, 10, accompanied by a cornet band, paid a fraternal visit to James A. Garfield post, 4, Newark, Friday evening. Upon their arrival they were met by the Newark post and drum corps, and escorted to Calanthe Armory hall, where a delightful supper had been prepared by the Women's Relief corps of that place.

Commander Morris, of Newark, presided, and after the inner man had been filled, he made a short speech, in which he welcomed the visitors. He then called on commander Dobbins of the visiting post, who made a few remarks which were well-chosen and to the point.

Comrade L. V. F. Randolph was then called on for a speech. He gave a most stirring one, speaking of habits, what some of them were, and how to get rid of them. Continuing, the speaker said: "There is one habit we must never lose, and that is the habit of patriotism, and loyalty to our country, for it is the hope of the world, and the blessing of God."

Miss Etta Raybert, of this city, rendered two excellent selections, and was loudly applauded. Mr. Bennett, of Newark, gave selections with the harmonica and guitar, playing both instruments at once. Following this, James Atwood, of Trenton, made a few appropriate remarks; past commander Smith was called on for a song, and gave with much effect "Army Beans" and "Marching Through Georgia". A recitation by comrade Mattox was a pleasing feature.

This closed the evening's entertainment, and the visitors were escorted to the station, where they boarded the 11:25 train. All join in praise for the most excellent treatment by their sister post.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS IN TOWN.

40 Societies Represented, With a Total Membership of 1,800.

The Elizabeth District Epworth League convention opened Thursday in Vincent chapel at 9, with a "Look Up" service, led by the Rev. C. X. Hutchinson, Park church, Elizabeth. This was followed by "Greetings" from the Rev. H. F. Randolph, Grace church, North Plainfield, and the Rev. H. B. Munson, Monroe Avenue chapel.

From 9:40 to 10:30 business pertaining to the league was transacted, Dr. Ryman presiding, and the Rev. Mr. Trumbower acting as secretary.

A committee of five was appointed to nominate officers, which were: J. R. Joy, W. H. Thompson, W. W. Winans, the Rev. Mr. Hutchinson and Miss Rose Ham.

Lebanon was chosen as the next place of meeting for the convention, and it was recommended that the annual meeting of the league be held the first of January.

It was moved and carried that a temperance pledge be prepared and circulated among the chapters of the league. W. W. Winans and L. Campbell were appointed as the committee.

The following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—James R. Joy, H. B. Munson, Miss Kate Kennedy.
Credentials—L. G. Ayers, W. C. Kinsle, H. B. Conway.
Auditing—James R. Joy, E. B. Robeson, Mrs. F. B. Simmons.

Walter W. Winans, of Dunellen, read a paper on "How can the league aid in the temperance reform?"

The Rev. D. B. F. Randolph, of Trinity church, Staten Island, opened a discussion on "The league and the Sunday night preaching service".

The Rev. G. E. Barnes, of Plainfield, opened a discussion on "Methods of Junior League work".

This closed the morning session, and lunch was provided for the delegates.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

opened with a devotional service led by the Rev. W. C. Kinsle, of Dunellen, after which the unfinished business was taken up. At this time E. M. Moore, of Newark, sang a pleasing solo.

The following officers were elected:

President—W. W. Winans, Dunellen.
First Vice-President—J. R. Joy, Plainfield.
Second Vice-President, Mrs. C. X. Hutchinson, Elizabeth.
Third Vice-President—L. G. Ayers, Somerville.
Fourth Vice-President—Miss Ella Christopher, Asbury, N. J.
Recording-Secretary—Mrs. F. S. Simmons, Raritan.
Corresponding-Secretary—The Rev. W. C. Kinsle, Dunellen.
Treasurer—Miss M. H. Ham, Cranford.

BAPTISTS MAKE PROTESTS.

World's Fair Sunday Opening and Track Legislation Denounced.

Previous to their adjournment at Elizabeth on Wednesday night the delegates to the East New Jersey Baptist association, F. R. Marsh of Plainfield presiding, adopted the following resolutions in addition to others, condemning the liquor traffic and upholding the idea of the inspiration of the Bible:

Resolved, That while we cannot too often reaffirm how much we deplore the prevalence of the desecration of the Christian Sabbath, we are now deeply oppressed with shame brought upon our whole nation by the recent opening on that day of the World's Fair at Chicago. We trust that the courts, which now have the case before them, may find means for legally wiping off from our national escutcheon so foul a blot.

Resolved, That, in view of the corrupt and scandalous race-track legislation at the last session of our State Legislature, we enjoin upon all our people to carefully scan in the future the character of every man who offers himself as a candidate for the State Senate or House of Representatives, and to cast their votes for no man whose position on this question is [illegible].

PLAINFIELD GETS A MASTERPIECE.

"CHRIST IN THE TEMPLE" ADORNS EX-MAYOR RANDOLPH'S HOME.

It's a Great Composition by Seitz, and Was the Original for a Famous Fresco in a Hungary Church—The Last of the Christian Artists.

A few days ago ex-mayor L. V. F. Randolph hung upon the wall of his drawing-room a work of art which is certainly one of the most important and interesting of the masterpieces known to Plainfield. It is a drawing in crayon by Seitz, in dimensions about five by four feet, and represents the Christ in the act of expelling from the Temple the sacreligious merchants and money changers.

This drawing is unique. Its only approximate counterpart is a fresco in a church in Hungary, for which this crayon was the original design. But this crayon was not treated as cartoon designs usually are: that is, thrown up boldly, and then left in the rough. It was, on the contrary, finished in the most conscientious and artistic manner in every figure and in every line. It is a completed work, and satisfying alike to the eye of the ordinary student and observer, and to that of the critic capable of appreciating all the excellencies of a chef d'oevre in art.

This great composition contains about a score of figures, each of them drawn with consummate skill, and every figure alive with the stir and fearfulness of that grand occasion when the zeal for the integrity of His Father's house, and especially for a religion unfreed alike from the shackles of ceremonial sacrifices and from avarice, consumed the loving but indignant Son of Man. He occupies the central position, and the flagellations of his "scourge of small cords" fall mercilessly on the cattle and dove vendors, and on the money changers whose overturned tables and scattered coins give further testimony to the just anger of the outraged Master. He stands before them, and now also before the reverent student of this great representative work, in the light and character of a terrible accusing conscience; the habitual attitude of love and compassion giving place to the burning accusation and reproof which dart from his eyes and fall from his stinging lash. It is a grand historical and religious theme, and the treatment is as grand as the theme demands.

A. M. Seitz, the artist, was the last of the society, or coterie, of "Christian artists", who studied and wrought at Rome under the leadership of Johann Friedrich Overbeck—chiefly during the first half of the present century. Overbeck was born in 1789 and Seitz a few years later. In 1806 Overbeck was a student in the pseudo-classical school of David and Fuger; but, though there gaining knowledge and practice in drawing, he was too spiritual-minded to love the hard materialism and vulgarity of mind which surrounded him. With a little band of followers and companions, he came to Rome, and there he studied and toiled for almost sixty years. With him were Cornelius and Schadow and Veit and Seitz. They were religious enthusiasts, and their art work was largely done in religious themes. They were sometimes called "Nazarites", and sometimes "Church-Romanticists". They were simple-minded, saintly men, caring not for gain or fame; but God-fearing and art-loving and humble. They have all passed away, and their places may not be filled again. When William H. Osborn was persuading the venerable Seitz to sell him this great cartoon, and some other drawings which the artist had resolutely kept to himself in his modest studio in Rome, the old man spoke with choked and reverent voice of his friend and associate Overbeck. "I carried him to his grave on these shoulders of mine", said the old Christian artist.

The works of this school of artists are not numerous. On the ceiling of the Quirinal Palace, in the great Hospital at Hamburg, in the Raczynski gallery at Berlin, in the great Cathedral at Cologne, and among the churches of Hungary, may be found oil paintings and frescoes, chiefly illustrating religious truth, and evincing the tender thought and conscientious carefulness of this German-Roman fraternity. William H. Osborn, an art connoisseur of New York, now owns some of the finest examples of this school. The great and good Bishop, Joseph George Strossmayer, employed Seitz to fresco in Hungary the church of which the Bishop was the munificent patron. And thus it came about that Seitz produced the noble cartoon which has now come in all its original perfection to one of our Plainfield homes. But, though the same conception lights up in strong and brilliant colors, as well as in finely rounded drawing, a sanctuary in the pious and patriotic prelate's fatherland, the original design—long kept and hoarded in the studio of the artist—has come to us, and will abide amongst us. Such masterpieces are great and immortal teachers. Their value is beyond all price. Of Seitz's pictures Daniel Huntington, president of the National Academy, recently wrote: "They are masterly works of art; full of solemn feeling, as well as of knowledge and skill in composition and expression."

A PRESS reporter was last night accorded the privilege of a private view of the great cartoon, and feels that Mr. Randolph's friends have a great treat in store in this marvelous inspiration of the old Christian artist. The figures are full of life and power. Every detail has been conscientiously perfected. So that as a work of art alone it stands a peer, while as a vast idea, matchlessly perpetuated, it impresses and elevates the human mind more and more, the closer it is studied. Mr. Randolph is to be congratulated on securing so valued a work, and to be complimented on his excellent taste in choosing for his collection not only this but the other gems of art which aid in beautifying his hospitable home.

ELECTED OFFICERS FOR 10 YEARS.

Business Meeting and Reception of the Stillman Graduates.

The graduating class of the High school held the last meeting of the year, at the home of Miss Gertrude Rushmore, Friday evening.

Heretofore it has been the custom of holding the meetings in the Stillman building.

Officers were elected to serve for the next ten years. They were:

President—Arthur Serrell.
Vice-president—Stephen Rushmore.
Secretary—Newton Goddard.
Treasurer—Miss Mattie Barrett.
Orator—Charles Fernald.
Poet—Miss Helen French.
Prophetess—Miss Mary Wells.

After the election a social good time was indulged in, and refreshments were served.

THEY CARVED LIVE CAT.

BUT WHAT OF THAT, SINCE PUSSY DIDN'T MIND IT.

These Cruel Youth Sought Science Truth, and Persevered to Find Is— The Fiddle Strings and Inside Things Their Sharp Knives Excavated, to Prove that They Would Work Away, Though Widely Separated.

When a medical student has finished his winter work in the dissecting room, which ends about the first of May, he is generally willing to forego the pleasures of practical research for a little while; but long before the fall term comes in, the desire to do some work grows too great to be withstood, and cats, birds and frogs or any other subjects that come to hand are operated on in lieu of the human subjects that are left at college. Vivisection forms a most attractive form of experimenting, to the scientific mind, and is not by any means the cruel operation that it is popularly supposed to be; in fact, in all the more simple manipulations the animal is despatched before it recovers from the influence of the anaesthetic employed.

A most interesting and instructive operation is one that was performed in Plainfield a few days ago, the object being to show the heart and lungs performing their functions in the natural manner. The subject, a large tomcat, was etherized and placed upon the operating table.

This table is especially prepared for the subject, and consists of a flat board about three feet square, with pegs at the corners to secure the strings that hold the cat.

Ether was administered to the animal in a wash boiler, and it was removed quite limp and of course absolutely insensible to pain.

Strings were rapidly fastened to the extremities of the animal, it was laid on its back on the operating board, and the strings were tied securely to the pegs so that it held the cat with limbs extended.

A piece of cloth saturated with ether and held by an assistant near the nostrils of the subject served to keep it under the influence of the anaesthetic. The ribs were plainly visible through the fur, and the operator quickly and skillfully removed the left side of the chest from the fourth to the fifth rib, inclusive. The ribs themselves were easily severed and removed, and, after cutting away the thin tissue under these bones, the heart and lungs were plainly seen acting as in normal life. A square piece of glass which had been provided for the purpose was next inserted in the hole, and through this window the whole external mechanism of the circulation and respiration could be watched at leisure.

Do not for a moment imagine that the foregoing was a bloody or repulsive process. Everything was done so quickly and carefully that the whole did not take more than ten minutes at most, and the cat, entirely oblivious to the radical changes being made in its internal economy, slept peacefully until an excess of ether was applied, when it passed quietly away.

While the observer looked through the window in the cat's chest, the peculiar squeezing and rolling motion of the heart could plainly be seen, and the lungs expanded and forced the air out again as regularly as if pussy had been taking an afternoon nap in the sun.

In another experiment the heart of the cat was removed, of course instantly killing the subject, and placed in a bowl of salt and water, where it kept up its beating for nearly 30 minutes after removal from the body of its owner, illustrating the automatic action of the heart muscles. The heart of a cold-blooded animal, such as a frog, will keep up its action for a much longer time than that of the cat, and it is interesting to watch its regular action hour after hour.

One of the chief uses of vivisection is in determining the functions of various organs and parts of organs in the body, and recent experiments have been so successful that by their aid the various motor centers of the brain have been accurately located, so that often in cases of local paralysis the very part of the brain that governs the affected members or portion thereof can be found and the trouble removed.

An experiment also performed in Plainfield is that of removing the suprarenal glands, whose function has never been discovered. These are two small glands situated over the kidneys where the renal veins emerge from those organs.

It has been found that these little glands, which in a cat are the size of a very small pea, may be removed and the animal get quite well and not seem to miss them in any way.

For this operation the subject was placed on the table as before and an incision was made in the center of the abdomen, lengthwise, about four inches long. This cut through the muscles of the abdomen and the peritoneum, and left the intestines and stomach in full view. The intestines were carefully lifted out of the cavity and placed on a warm towel at the side of the subject, their removal showing the kidneys with the suprarenal glands in full sight. These little organs lie so close to the renal veins that it is very difficult to remove them without causing a large flow of blood. A practised hand, however, does not find it so hard, and in the present case they were taken out with a little curved knife. As great care must be taken that no foreign matter gets into a cut of this kind, all the instruments were kept in a solution of bichloride of mercury, which is a germ-killer or antiseptic. After the suprarenals had been removed, the intestines were replaced or rather squeezed back into place, and the muscles drawn over them and the whole wound was sewn up carefully, having previously been covered with iodiform, which keeps it clean and fresh. Bandages are applied, and the subject allowed to regain consciousness. A wound heals rapidly in an animal of this sort, and the subject is well in a very short time. In the present case the cat recovered completely.

Had anything gone wrong with the operation, the cat would speedily have been put out of this world by excessive ether or the application of a sharp instrument into the spinal cord at the base of the skull, which kills instantly and painlessly.

It cannot be conceived what a tremendous help such experiments are to the student until one tries for himself, and many important facts in surgery have been brought to light since popular prejudice has been overruled and experiments in vivisection are permitted to be carried on openly.

They Can't Be Spared.

Joe Hodden is the oldest employe in the post-office in years of service. He went with "Uncle Sam" in 1866. George Godown is the next oldest in service.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
H. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

At Its Old Tricks.

Watch the Courier claim credit for causing the removal of railway supplies on Somerset street between Front street and the city line. The facts of the case are these: Yesterday morning our alert street commissioner, after reading THE PRESS of Wednesday regarding the proceedings at Trenton the day before, went to superintendent Passmore and told him that inasmuch as he had read in THE PRESS of the delay in deciding the case, the obstructions must be removed; and superintendent Passmore at once agreed with street commissioner Mosher and promised to have them removed at once. Now watch the Courier claim credit for causing their removal, in spite of the fact that the Courier announced that the case in court was to proceed, instead of being adjourned as this paper stated.

He's a Counselor Now.

The examination for membership of the bar of the State of New Jersey was held at Trenton Wednesday and Thursday of this week. One of the successful candidates for the degree of counselor at law was attorney John Ridley of this city.

The number of applicants for a license as attorney at law was unusually large and the entire class passed successfully. A notable feature of this class was the fact that one of the number was a colored man, who has the distinction of being the first of his race to be admitted to the bar of New Jersey.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 25, 1893.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County met on Thursday, May 25, 1893 at 2 o'clock p. m.

Present—Director [illegible] and Freeholders Badgely, Donahue, Ehrlich, Hubbard, Howard, Halliday, Hunt, Kyte, Moore, Roll, Swain, Scudder, Trabon, Vanderbeek, Winans, Woodruff.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion approved.

Freeholder Donahue moved to suspend the rules and go into election of County Physician, which was carried.

Freeholder Trabon moved to fix the salary of County Physician at $[illegible] per annum, which was carried.

The Director called for nominations for County Physician, whereupon Freeholder Moore nominated Dr. E. R. O'Reilly, of Elizabeth, and Freeholder Kyte nominated Dr. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood.

Freeholder Donahue moved to proceed to ballot, which was carried, and Freeholders Donahue and Kyte were appointed tellers. On ballot Dr. O'Reilly received nine votes and Dr. Westcott received eight votes. Dr. O'Reilly having received a majority of the votes was declared elected County Physician for the term of three years.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that the term commence on June 1, 1893, which was carried.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From committee on Cranford roads.

The committee appointed to examine and report on the condition of the county roads in Cranford report that they examined the same, and they recommend the raising and repairing of the road from a point near Miller street to the R. R. depot, and the same be done under the supervision of the road committee, when appointed, and county engineer.

Respectfully submitted, Jasper C. Hunt, J. M. Roll, M. M. Scudder, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Howard received and filed and recommendations adopted.

Report of Committee on Appropriations:

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 24, 1893.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Appropriations, after carefully estimating the probable necessities of the various departments of the county government, providing for the payment of twenty-four thousand dollars ($24,000) bonded debt maturing during the year, and making ample provisions for the interest charges now falling due on county road and freshet bonds ($[illegible]), are of the opinion that with an economical and business-like administration of county affairs, notwithstanding the very large increase in court and lunacy expenses, over which they have no control, would respectfully report and recommend that the sum of one hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($185,000), together with the sum of nineteen thousand dollars ($19,000) assets now on hand be appropriated for the current year.

And your Committee would further recommend that the amounts above named be certified to the County Board of Assessors, and placed in the tax levy of 1893 as per accompanying resolution.

Resolved, By the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, that the sum of one hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($185,000) be raised by tax for the use of said county for the years 1893 and 1894, to be appropriated, together with nineteen thousand dollars ($19,000) of the assets of the county, for the following purposes:

Courts	$40 000
County jail	6 500
Lunatics	31 000
Compensation and lawful expenses of Chosen Freeholders and Committees and salaries of their officers	9 000
Fees of coroners	1 000
Elections	11 500
Stationery	3 000
Advertising, publishing and printing	3 500
Incidental expenses and schools, burial of soldiers, and monuments	7 500
Hospitals	3 000
Payment of principal of bonded debt	24 000
Payment of interest on bonded debt	22 500
Payment of bank interest on temporary loans	3 000
Repairs of county roads	15 000
Permanent improvements of public buildings and grounds	7 500
Erection and repairs of culverts and bridges	15 000
Total	$204 000
Less unexpended balance from 1892	19 000
	$185 000

Also all miscellaneous items.

Total amount to be raised by taxation, one hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($185,000) to be assessed and collected in the manner and at the times prescribed by the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes for the use of the State, and the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in the cities of Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway, in said county, respectively; and that the Board hereby directs the Assessors of the respective townships and wards in said county to assess the sum of one hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($185,000) on the inhabitants and their estates, agreeable to the law for the time being for the raising of money by taxation for the use of the County of Union, State of New Jersey; and that the said Assessors meet at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, on the third Monday in July next, at 10 o'clock a. m., to adjust and ascertain the proportion of said sum to be levied in each township and ward in said county; and that the clerk of the Board send a copy of this resolution to each of said Assessors.

John J. Donahue, Jasper C. Hunt, Charles H. Moore, J. F. Hubbard, William Howard.

On motion of Freeholder Roll received and filed and resolution and recommendation adopted unanimously.

Report of Committee on Westfield Road, by Freeholder Donahue:

On the 18th instant the attention of Freeholder Scudder was called to grave charges, that the county road between Westfield and Cranford was being ploughed up and used for farming purposes, along the front of about 1,000 feet by the owner of the land, and in defiance of all laws and the authority of this Board. These charges were published in the county papers and at least one New York journal. A committee was at once called by the resident Freeholder, consisting of Freeholder Woodruff, of Union, and Freeholder Donahue, of Elizabeth, associated with Freeholder Scudder, of Westfield.

Your committee examined the portion of the County Road referred to, and afterwards called upon the owner of the land, and became satisfied of the following, which we report:

The pipes of the Union Water Company are laid along the front of about 1,000 feet of land of Chauncey B. Ripley, between the Telford pavement and the gutter in the County Road, on north avenue, near Garwood, between Westfield and Cranford. The covering of the pipes being in bad condition, last Fall Dr. Ripley, with the knowledge and approval of Freeholder Scudder and Mr. Charles F. Conant, of the town committee, contracted with the Union Water Company to put the covering of the pipes in good order, and received his compensation from the water company; but before Spring the covering had fallen in to some extent, and the work needed some repairs, which were in progress, and was the basis of all complaints made.

Your committee report that they were unable to discover any damage whatever to the County Road in making these repairs, or any cause of complaint; but, on the contrary, they found the road in better repair than any other portion of the County Road where the pipes have been laid. It is evident to us that Dr. Ripley has done a fine piece of work under his contract with the water company, and at a much greater cost to himself than the price paid to him, and that he is entitled to the thanks of the Board for the pains taken to improve and beautify his front along our County Road.

Your committee report further: That so much was said by newspapers and otherwise subject to the person doing the work, that under the advice and approval of two members of this committee and other members of the Board, other Freeholders were called, and from every quarter of the county, and that there was but one opinion expressed by each Freeholder called, namely: That there was no cause for complaint, but that Mr. Scudder, in view of the scandal, was justified in taking the judgment of as many of the members as convenient.

For Mr. Scudder's diligence and thoroughness the thanks of the Board should be tendered.

On motion of Freeholder Moore received and filed.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Moore:

Resolved, That the County Collector be authorized to publish his annual report, and also the annual reports of all standing committees in pamphlet form, not less than 500 copies, for distribution by the members, and that he publish the same in the papers designated by law, at a cost of one hundred dollars per paper.

On motion of Freeholder Woodruff adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Donahue:

Resolved, That the minutes of this Board be published in the following papers at a compensation of one hundred dollars per annum: The Central N. J. Herald, the Daily Journal and The Free Press, Elizabeth; The Union Demo-

Continued on Page 2.

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE. | A. L. FORCE

Editors and Proprietors.

INHERITED EVIL.

One of the chief causes of the financial embarrassment now felt throughout our county is the injurious effect of what is known as the Sherman monthly silver purchasing act.

That all men of sound business views and non-partisan candor admit, and favor the repeal of the law at the earliest practicable date.

To continue it on the statute book is to disturb the natural and necessary equilibrium of currency, and as a consequence, to impair confidence, which is the vital element of both public and private credit.

There are some Republican partisans, editorial and other, who appear to chuckle over the financial difficulties encountered on the coming in of the present Democratic Administration, and vainly seek to hold it responsible for a demoralized condition of inherited public affairs, which it is honestly endeavoring to remedy.

Such petty criticism will prove abortive, because the political animus therein is too transparent. The people are increasingly desirous of knowing the exact truth and conferring honor upon its defenders.

It is time to lift the financial and business welfare of the people high above the reach of plotting politicians and mercenary speculators.

To charge upon the Democratic party the odium and responsibility of the Sherman silver law is flying directly in the face of recorded facts. True, some Democrats may have voted for it, but forget not, that its author was a prominent Republican leader, that a Republican Congress enacted and a Republican President approved the unwise measure.

Proclaim the truth and the whole truth.

SILVER FAMINE.

Senator Teller, of Colorado, an extreme advocate of silver, ventures the assertion that—"No bank that has closed its doors for want of funds would have done so if it had been in possession of a sufficient amount of silver dollars to meet the demand of its customers. These failures occurred because the banks COULD NOT GET SILVER DOLLARS."

The Senator must be either an extravagant drawer on public credulity or quite oblivious to demonstrated facts.

Banks suspended because they could not procure a supply of silver dollars. How startling?

Was the Senator sane or sober, serious or jocund?

What an absurd declaration to make when the National Treasury is overloaded with tons upon tons of coined silver dollars and which the Secretary would be most happy to shovel out in exchange for paper currency?

A lack of government notes in the vaults of suspended banks would likely come much nearer the cause of collapse.

Perphaps to get all the silver money you want for the mere asking, and without a rendered equivalent, is the ignus fatuus the Senator joyfully discerns floating through the financial haze.

It will elude his grasp.

Keys the Favorite.

A North Plainfield correspondent of THE PRESS mentions the names of three of Somerville's prominent personages in connection with the coming Democratic nominee for State senator from Somerset county. He forgets to mention, however, the name of the honorable gentleman now holding the senatorial position, William J. Keys, who should be re-nominated for the efficient manner in which he represented the Democracy during his term of office. Does Somerville want the earth in the way of political offices in Somerset county?

Now Is the Time to Act.

Water from Bock's saloon on East Second street, still stands in the gutter along Park avenue between Front and Second streets, and stagnates there, despite the emphatic statement of health president Rockfellow that he 'd stop the nuisance. The water comes from Mr. Bock's water motor, used in running fans. Mr. Rockfellow said he 'd stop its being emptied into the street if he had to dig up the waste pipe.

There Are 86 Fine Prizes.

Everything points to a big list of entries for the Town Tattle handicap race to be run on the Elizabeth-Cranford course next Saturday afternoon. All the champions, scorchers and would-be cracks of the county will be in the chase. The E. A. C. and E. W. will contribute some ten men each, and a large representation from the U. C. C., E. F. C. and Plainfield Bicycle club respectively is assured.

Imported Werzburger.

Increasing business has compelled Charles Smith to make extensive improvements in his sample and lunch rooms on West Front street, among other things a new and commodious ice box to keep cool his excellent beers furnished from five taps, and to please his customers he has placed on tap the celebrated imported Werzburger beer. This is the only place in the city where this beer and the Bartholomay beers, such as Rochester pale and dark, and St. Louis can be had on draught.

Trap Shooters' League.

The fifth contest of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' League will be held on the grounds of the Passaic City Gun club, at Passaic, on Saturday, June 17. An all day's tournament will be held in connection with the league shoot.

Set Him Right.

Geo. Augustus Sala, the well-known English writer, on his last Australian trip wrote as follows to The London Daily Telegraph:

"I especially have a pleasant remembrance of the ship's doctor—a very experienced maritime medico indeed, who tended me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog which had swooped down on us just after we left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the Tropics, and, in particular, a couple of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS clapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

SUED BY HIS MILLINER.

PRETTY MISS SMITH WANTS $10,000 FROM ISAAC LEDERER.

She Says He Damaged Her That Much by Slander, and Will Bring Another Suit for Violation of Contract.

Elizabeth O. Smith, an attractive young woman who until Saturday night had charge of the millinery department at Isaac Lederer's store on West Front street, Tuesday began suit against her late employer for $10,000 damages for alleged slander.

Miss Smith was formerly in the Johnsons' establishment in New York city. In March she came to Plainfield under contract with Mr. Lederer. She claims that an agreement was made that she should stay through the season and until July 2, at $16 a week; that the understanding was that she was to have three nights off each week, and shorter days than she had been having in the city; that she gave up a $20 position because she expected the one in Plainfield would be easier. Instead, however, she alleges that the new place was harder; that he wanted her to work every night until 10, and Saturdays till 11, and exacted other conditions of her not down in the contract.

Last Saturday night he enclosed within her pay envelope a note announcing her discharge from his employ. She told him that she had done nothing to violate their contract, and that she should hold him for its fulfillment until July 2, if she had to invoke the law.

Seeking the advice of city judge William A. Coddington, she was told that Mr. Lederer could be required to pay her the full amount of her wages to July 2. Monday morning she reported for duty at the store, and asked if he had any work for her. He said he did not want her, and summoned policeman Kiely to arrest her. She told the officer that she was acting under the instructions of counsel and would go without being arrested. In the presence of all the people in the store Mr. Lederer denounced her as a thief, stating that she had stolen the trimmings for her hat and that she had stolen from the Johnsons before she came to Plainfield. He gave that as his reason for discharging her.

Mr. Kiely said that was a harsh statement to make and if untrue might make trouble for him, whereupon he reiterated it.

Miss Smith reported to her counsel, and Mr. Kiely made affidavit. With their statements as a basis, Mr. Coddington today brought suit for $10,000, for slander, against Mr. Lederer, in the Union County Circuit court.

After July 2 Mr. Coddington, acting for Miss Smith, will also bring suit for the balance of wages from date to then.

Miss Smith has been a boarder at the City Hotel, where she has been much esteemed for her personal qualities.

Her trouble with Mr. Lederer is said to date back to a week ago Sunday night, when he found his son chatting with her on Park avenue. He then accused her of being too familiar, and said that he supposed the next thing she'd be eloping with the boy, who seemed much fascinated with the pretty woman.

Mr. Lederer has retained counselor McClure to defend him.

THE CLIMAX GUN CLUB.

A New Organization in Union County that Has Lots of Sportsmen Behind It.

After the great yearly shoot of the Buckwheat Club, at Dan Terry's grounds, Monday, the irrepressible Tom Keller, otherwise known as "Tee Kay", communed at great length among the numerous shooters present and declared that in his opinion a good live gun club ought to exist in Union county, and made suggestions that were taken up heartily by the half hundred sportsmen present.

The following thereupon signified their intention of joining the proposed new organization, and later paid in their initiation fee, which was afterwards turned over to the treasurer: Thomas Brantingham, Reuna B. Manning, Thos. H. Keller, Nief Apgar, Charles Smith, Daniel Terry, William Terry, Scott Terry, W. L. Force, August Trust, John Darby, Fred Quimby, Harry Campbell, Dr. Zeglio, Geo. Ritche, J. E. Goodman.

After preliminary organization, the following were named as directors of the Climax Gun Club of Union county, which was the title chosen: Reuna B. Manning, August Trust, Daniel Terry, John Darby and W. L. Force.

Later on the board of directors met and selected from their number, according to State law, the following officers:

President—Daniel Terry.
Vice-president—R. B. Manning.
Secretary—W. L. Force.
Treasurer—August Trust.

The president then appointed the following committee on shooting: Charles Smith, T. Brantingham, Wm. Terry. This committee's powers are to select shooting grounds and dates of meetings, and the making of handicaps of members.

It is the intention of the new club to require an initiation fee of $3 from each member. No dues are to be exacted. The initiation fund is to go toward furnishing prizes to be shot for during the year. Mr. Keller was appointed a committee of one to file papers of organization at once with the Secretary of State according to the laws of New Jersey. After a pleasant meeting, the board adjourned to meet at Charles Smith's, Thursday evening, June 15. The new club starts out with grand chances of ultimate success.

THE BUCKWHEATS!

They Have Another Pleasant Outing at Dan Terry's.

The yearly shoot at inanimate target and live birds by the Buckwheat club, of Fanwood township, took place Monday on the grounds of Dan Terry, near Alton, on the Rahway road from Plainfield.

At least sixty persons were present from Plainfield, Elizabeth and the surrounding country.

The shoot was held in an open field near the ancient house of Mr. Terry, and all the arrangements were in first-class shape.

There are no more hospitable people in that section of the country than the Terrys, and right royally did the old gentleman and his stalwart sons, Dan, Will and Scott, entertain their guests.

A large contingent of shooters attended from Elizabeth, some being crack shots and others amateurs, who heartily enjoyed the occasion.

Two teams were pitted against one another, of sixteen men each, to shoot at fifteen blue rocks a man; and at the finish it was decided a tie by the referee.

The German barber of Somerset street, was present and made the occasion a hilarious one by his humorous sayings and efforts to hit the targets with black powder and no shot in his cartridges.

The scores of the teams are too lengthy and "numerous" to mention. Suffice it to say, that all had a good time, and thank the family on whose grounds the shoot was held, for their kindness and hospitality.

Sued for the Collision.

M. Weber, the East Third street butcher, who collided with a young bicyclist near the Friends' meeting-house, Tuesday evening, has been summoned by W. R. Codington in relation to a suit for damages. Mr. Weber claims that his horse was unmanageable at the time, and that the boy attempted to cross the street directly in front of him.

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 25, 1893.

Concluded from Page 1.

[illegible], Rahway; The Constitutionalist and Courier, of Plainfield; The Union County Standard, Westfield; The Summit Record, of Summit.

On motion of Freeholder Swain adopted.

By Freeholder Hunt:

Resolved, That the County Road committee when appointed be and are hereby instructed to expend a sum not to exceed four hundred dollars on the County Road at Cranford depot, as recommended by the special committee heretofore appointed, and by the County Engineer, the work to be done under the direction of the County Road committee, the County Road Inspector and County Engineer.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Trahon:

Resolved, That the Summit Herald be added to the list of papers to publish the minutes. Freeholder Howard moved to amend to add the Rahway Advocate. Freeholder Moore moved to amend to add the Elizabeth Daily Leader.

The question being called on the amendments they were both lost.

The original resolution was adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—Freeholders Sauer, Badgeley, Hubbard, Howard, Hunt, Kyte, Trahon, Vanderbeek and Winans—9. Negative—Donahue, Ehrlich, Halliday, Moore, Roll, Swain, Scudder and Woodruff—8.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to look into the advisability of building a new bridge on Linden avenue in Linden township, and report the same at the next meeting.

On motion of Freeholder Howard adopted.

By Freeholder Woodruff:

Resolved, That the County Attorney be authorized to order the Union Water Company to put the County Road in as good condition as it was before they placed their pipes in the same, by cleaning the gutters on the same.

On motion of Freeholder Halliday adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Woodruff:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine the banks above the Hammock on the County Road, at Union, and have the same repaired, if in their judgment they think it necessary.

On motion of Freeholder Winans referred to the committee on county roads when appointed.

By Freeholder Trahon:

Resolved, That in view of the fact that the duties of the Collector are and will be largely increased during the ensuing year by reason of this board adopting and improving certain county roads and the issuing of bonds; therefore be it further resolved that five hundred dollars extra compensation be awarded to the collector of this board.

On motion of Freeholder Roll adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Trahon:

Resolved, That from the money appropriated for hospital purposes, two thousand dollars be set apart for the use of the Elizabeth General Hospital, and five hundred dollars be set apart for the use of the Muhlenberg Hospital of Plainfield; also that five hundred dollars be set apart for the use of Alexian Brothers Hospital of Elizabeth.

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard laid on the table.

The Director appointed the standing committees as follows:

Collector's Bond—Trahon, Woodruff and Roll.
Publication—Trahon, Swain and Kyte.
Discharge of Prisoners—Halliday, Swain and Badgeley.
Settle with Collector—Moore, Hunt and Roll.
Audit Accounts—Trahon, Woodruff and Hubbard.
Lunacy—Scudder, Hunt and Winans.
Public Grounds and Buildings—Donahue, Halliday and Howard.
Jail Inspection—Woodruff, Scudder and Vanderbeek.
Stationery—Swain, Moore and Vanderbeek.
Settle with the Sheriff—Hunt, Trahon and Kyte.
Miscellaneous Accounts and Agreements—Woodruff, Donahue and Ehrlich.
Legal Questions—Hunt, Trahon and Badgeley.
Appropriations—Donahue, Moore, Hunt, Hubbard and Howard.
Elizabeth Drawbridges—Donahue, Moore and Winans.
Rahway Drawbridge—Halliday, Scudder and Howard.
County Roads—Moore, Swain, Scudder, Hubbard and Roll.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That the Director be and is hereby constituted a member of all committees of this Board.

On motion of Freeholder Roll adopted unanimously.

The Director appointed the following committee on Linden bridge: Freeholders Winans, Moore and Donahue.

Freeholder Roll moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The director declared the board adjourned to Thursday, June 1, 1893.

ALFORD B. COOK, Clerk.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, held on Thursday, June 1, 1893.

Present—Director Sauer and Freeholders Badgeley, Donahue, Ehrlich, Hubbard, Halliday, Kyte, Moore, Roll, Swain, Scudder, Trahon, Vanderbeek, Winans and Woodruff.

Absent—Freeholders Howard and Hunt.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion approved.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Committee on Linden avenue bridge, Linden:

Gentlemen—Your committee appointed at the last meeting on Linden avenue bridge, Linden, would respectfully report that having examined the said bridge find that it is in a very bad condition and would recommend the rebuilding of the same.

Signed—J. L. Winans, Chas. H. Moore, John J. Donahue, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Donahue received, filed and recommendations adopted.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the bill of the Canton Wrought Iron Bridge Co. for building bridge over Morse's creek be paid as per contract, when approved by the committee.

On motion of Freeholder Trahon adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the bridge or culvert on Linden avenue in Linden township be rebuilt at a cost not to exceed seven hundred dollars, and a committee of three be appointed with power to build the same.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Donahue:

Resolved, That the Director of this Board and the County Collector be and are hereby authorized to borrow on temporary loans in anticipation of taxes the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the current expenses of the county for the present fiscal year.

On motion of Freeholder Vanderbeek adopted.

By Freeholder Vanderbeek:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to examine the bridges over Green Brook, on Somerset avenue, also on Tenth street, Plainfield, to take into consideration the building of new bridges at the above named places, and report at the next meeting the necessity for and probable cost thereof.

On motion of Freeholder Halliday adopted.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to visit Summit and ascertain the cost of building a bridge on Central avenue similar to the one on High street, and report at the next regular meeting of this Board.

On motion of Freeholder Kyte adopted.

By Freeholder Roll:

Resolved, That the road heretofore adopted as a County Road, leading from Morris avenue through Springfield and Union townships, and intersecting with Springfield avenue, in the county of Essex, be graded and paved with Telford macadamize, or otherwise improved with stone, as may be set out in the specifications hereinafter to be drawn up, for a width of fourteen feet, running the whole length of said road in the center thereof.

On motion of Freeholder Swain adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Trahon:

Resolved, That the road heretofore adopted as a County Road, leading from North Broad street, Elizabeth, to the Essex county line, and known as Newark avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., be graded and paved with Telford pavement, or otherwise improved with stone, as may be set out in the specifications hereafter to be drawn up by the County Engineer for a width of sixteen feet, running the whole length of said road in the center thereof.

On motion of Freeholder Roll adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That the road heretofore adopted as a County Road, leading from Hobart's Gap bridge, Essex county, to the Passaic river, be graded and paved with Telford macadamize, as may be set out in the specifications hereafter to be drawn up, for a width of fourteen feet, running the whole length of said road in the center thereof.

On motion of Freeholder Trahon adopted unanimously.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that when the Board adjourns it be until Thursday, June 15, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., which was carried.

The Director appointed the following as the committee on bridges:

On Summit Bridges—Freeholders Swain, Scudder, Donahue, Roll and Badgeley.

On Plainfield Bridges—Freeholders Vanderbeek, Hubbard, Woodruff, Halliday and Moore.

On Linden Bridge—Freeholders Winans, Donahue and Moore.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and on motion ordered paid:

Salary—F W Westcott $43; A B Cook 20; W E McClure 20.

Member's Pay—W H Swain $10; John J Donahue 40; Noah Woodruff 30.

Committee Expenses—Noah Woodruff $12 84; W H Swain 5 60.

Incidental—A B Cook $39 25; A M Runyon & Son 30; W E McClure 36 50; F W Westcott 15 75.

Schools—Richard E Clements $10 00; [illegible] Tice 22 55.

Stationery—Smith Premier Typewriting Co. $95 00; F E Morris 9 75; Cook & Hall 65; [illegible] Rollinson 10.

Publication—Central N J Herald $25.

Public Buildings—Frederick Thiel $45; Oliver & Carter 305.

County Roads—M Gordon $4 50; James W Fanika 5; J H McCann 25; Patrick Berry 4 50; Edward A Day 5; J J Wahl 7 50; Louis Quinn 34; J H R Corbet, 41 45.

Courts—Isaac A Dunn 260; Amos Moffett 4; Jos J Gerber 300 34; Herbert W Knight 176; Louis Quinn 10; Jas Ritchie 75; Chas Jacobs 25 07; Jos T Wiley 120; Lewis S Hyer 110; T F McCormick 261 65; Foster M Voorhees 200; A F Dunn 203; Thos Terrill 25; H B O'Reilly 16; J Kennedy 10 40; D Donovan 25 00; John H McGrath, 75 50; John H [illegible] 25; John [illegible] 25 00; Henry Smith 25 50; W H [illegible] 25 00; Amos Moffett 77; J M C Marsh 44 50; Henry J Scheppe 25 00, do 3; Edwin Stevens 2 34; George Beill 25 00; Wm H Hicks 700 56, 266 21.

Jail—J Fonte & Son $126 00; Thomas E Smith 270; J John Mulrath 12 75; Williams & Hassett 16 15; E F Lavagh 16 40; Michael Scudder 40 14; W J Whelan 7 75.

Bridges—Nathan Moore $10; Stephen Hooften 12 40; Louis Quinn 31; Michael Ubdal 15; Smith F Rolt 32 25; J Frank Hibbins 42 00; Meyer & Ellis 4 15; J F Gleasby 30 00, 44 75; F V Hand 1 40; Louis Quinn 15; Michael Mulrath 12 40; Thos Ritchie 42 25; G V Muchmore 10 75; A H Clark 87 61; Louis Quinn 35; Jos G Moore 10 25, 25 35, 125 22; Daniel Yerbank 110; Geo E Doty 6.

Freeholder Vanderbeek moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned to Thursday, June 15, 1893.

A. B. COOK, CLERK.

Camera Views of Plainfield in Music Hall.

The Plainfield Camera club have received their set of one hundred lantern slides views made mostly in and about Plainfield. This set has been highly praised by the press of the different cities in which they have been shown. The pictures will be thrown on a large screen in Music Hall and a descriptive lecture will be given by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis. The intermissions will be filled with musical and literary selections. The date is Tuesday, June 20, and the place Music Hall.

HILL'S

REMEMBER WE GUARANTEE A CURE and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT can be cured at home, and without any publicity or loss of time from business, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our TABLETS.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all FIRST-CLASS druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 & 55 Opera Block,

LIMA, OHIO.

PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:

DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four month before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTEGAY.

Address all Orders to

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 and 55 Opera Block, LIMA, OHIO.

(In writing please mention this paper.)

ROBBED OF A GOLD WATCH.

A Thief Took Advantage of the Burning of a House.

Hetfield's Row on Arlington avenue, near Fourth street, was afire again this morning from 10:20 to 11:20. The row was occupied by 8 families. The fire started in a rubbish heap in the attic over Tom Gerrity's apartment. The fire spread under the tin roof, which made it an ugly one to fight. The building was flooded with water, and the goods inside were pretty well soaked. The heaviest losers are Ireneus F. Allen, Thomas Gerrity and Mrs. S. A. Dunn. Mrs. Dunn is a laundress, and some of her customers' goods were ruined. Mrs. Gerrity says that during the fire a jewelry box containing a gold watch was stolen from her bureau. The fire revealed the fact that the fire department hose is mouldy and rotten. The way it kept bursting was disgraceful.

E. C. Morris Safe Co

Incorporated. Capital $400,000.

Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.

64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.

The Best Safe in the World. 150,000 in use.

Always preserve their contents.

Champion Record in all the Great Fires.

One of the largest and best equipped factories in the country has just been erected near Boston, fitted with the latest and best improved tools, which render facilities for manufacturing the best work at the lowest prices, unequalled by any other concern in the country.

Our aim is to give the best construction and most improvements for the least amount of money. Estimates and specifications furnished upon application. AGENTS WANTED.

7-9-6

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, etc., complainant, and Emma A. Jones and others, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning at a point in the middle of Putnam street and also in the middle of Carlton avenue; thence along the middle of Carlton avenue in a northerly direction nine hundred and five (905) feet, more or less, to the line of lands of The Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company in LaGrande avenue; thence along line of lands of said company south forty-five degrees and eight minutes west, six hundred and fifty-five (655) feet, more or less, to the middle of Tenth street; thence along the middle of Tenth street, following the curve thereof in a general southerly direction four hundred and eighty (480) feet, more or less, to the middle of Putnam street; thence along the middle thereof in an easterly direction four hundred and five (405) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning.

Being block 4 on "Map of Villa Sites, belonging to Evan Jones, Plainfield, N. J.," and part of same premises conveyed to said Jones by deed of Jacob G. Laing and wife, dated August 11, 1889 recorded in Book 13 of Deeds, pages 284, &c.

Excepting out of said lands and premises a plot of land bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Putnam street with the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (1) running easterly along the northerly line of Putnam street two hundred and forty-one feet and eighty-two one-hundredths of a foot (241.82 ft.); thence (2) northerly parallel with Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five (175) feet; thence (3) westerly parallel with Putnam street seventy-five (75) feet; thence (4) northerly parallel with Tenth street one hundred (100) feet; thence (5) westerly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and sixty-six feet and eighty-two one-hundredths of a foot (166.82 ft.) to the easterly line of Tenth street; thence (6) southerly along the said easterly line of Tenth street two hundred and seventy-five (275) feet to the point or place of beginning.

W. H. HICKS, Sheriff.

WM. A. LEWIS, Sol'r.

DL&C. fees $12.60. 5 25 w5

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, complainant, and James R. Forine et. al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the court house, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE 12th DAY OF JULY A. D., 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center of LaGrande avenue, distant in an easterly direction from the easterly line of Peace street, if the same were produced across LaGrande avenue ninety-three feet and from thence running (1) north-westerly and about right angles to said LaGrande avenue one hundred and eighty feet to a corner; thence (2) northeasterly and parallel with La-Grande avenue fifty-six feet to a corner; thence (3) southeasterly and at right angles to LaGrande avenue one hundred and eighty feet to the centre line of LaGrande avenue; thence (4) southwesterly and along the centre line of said avenue fifty-six feet to the place of beginning.

W. H. HICKS, Sheriff.

FREDERICK G. DURHAM, Sol'r.

DL&C fees $9.30 [illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo. W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.

FREDERICK W. MCCULLY.

Dated March 1, 1893. 3 9 10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas [illegible], deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ALVAH A. CLARK.

Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated May 9, 1893. 5 11 10

COOPER'S FLORAL DENTINE.

SO popular with the Ladies for cleansing their teeth [illegible]

[illegible]

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

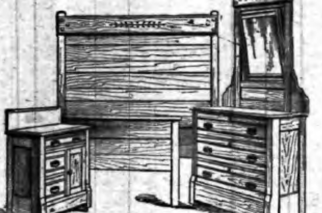
NEWARK, N. J.

The Leading Furniture and Carpet House in the State.

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST.

WHY?

We have no exorbitant rental expenses, for we own our buildings and everything in them. We buy in the best markets, get the largest discounts and are satisfied with reasonable profits.



Oak Chamber Suit $12.

Our assortment of Furniture, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Cooking Stoves and almost everything for housekeeping are worth seeing, whether you purchase or not.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shanes, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. | 121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City. | 213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

We Have Now In Stock

The largest and best assortment of

$12 BUSINESS SUITS

that we have ever manufactured. They are the latest styles of Plain and Fancy Cheviots, Cassimere Suitings, Black Thibets, etc., and the most of these styles have never been sold before for less than $15 per suit. Our

$12 BLUE SERGE SUITS

Are made from Indigo Blue Serges, color guaranteed and we recommend these as the most comfortable, serviceable and stylish suits for summer wear.

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

Near Academy street.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, Administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marcellius M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marcellius M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D., 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the fifth day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marcellius M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.

J. KEARNEY RICE, President Judge, | MATHEW O'GORMAN, | H. FREEMAN, | Judges

Leonard Furman, Surrogate. 5 11 6

1893

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is acknowledged as standing first among illustrated weekly periodicals in America. It occupies a place between that of the hurried daily paper and that of the less timely monthly magazine. It includes both literature and news, and presents with equal force and felicity the real events of current history and the imaginative themes of fiction. On account of its very complete series of illustrations of the World's Fair, it will be not only the best guide to the great Exposition, but also its best souvenir. Every public event of general interest will be fully illustrated in its pages. Its contributions being from the best writers and artists in this country, it will continue to excel in literature, news and illustrations, all other publications of its class.

Harper's Periodicals.

PER YEAR:

HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY	4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Bound Volumes of HARPER'S WEEKLY for three years back, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7.00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW YORK.

1893.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for 1893 will continue to maintain the unrivalled standard of excellence which has characterized it from the beginning. Among the notable features of the year there will be new novels by A. Conan Doyle, Constance Fenimore Woolson and William Black. Short stories will be contributed by the most popular writers of the day, including Mary E. Wilkins, Richard Harding Davis, Margaret Deland, Brander Matthews and many others. The illustrated descriptive papers will embrace articles by Julian Ralph on new Southern and Western subjects; by Theodore Child on India; by Poultney Bigelow on Russia and Germany; by Richard Harding Davis on a London Season; by Colonel T. A. Dodge on Eastern Riders; etc. Edwin A. Abbey's illustrations of Shakespeare's Comedies will be continued. Literary articles will be contributed by Charles Eliot Norton, Mrs. James T. Fields, William Dean Howells, Brander Matthews and others.

Harper's Periodicals.

PER YEAR:

HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY	4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Volumes of the MAGAZINE begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. Bound Volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE for three years back, in neat cloth binding will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of $3.00 per volume. Cloth Cases, for binding, 50 cents each—by mail, post-paid.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW YORK.

1893.

HARPER'S BAZAR.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR is a journal for the home. It gives the fullest and latest information about Fashions, and its numerous illustrations, Paris designs and pattern-sheet supplements are indispensable alike to the home dressmaker and the professional modiste. No expense is spared to make its artistic attractiveness of the highest order. Its bright stories, amusing comedies and thoughtful essays satisfy all tastes, and its last page is famous as a budget of wit and humor. In its weekly issues everything is included which is of interest to women. The Serials for 1893 will be written by Walter Besant and Edna Lyall. Christine Terhune Herrick will furnish a practical series, entitled "At the Toilet." Grace King, Olive Thorne Miller and Candace Wheeler will be frequent contributors. The work of women in the Columbian Exposition will be fully represented with many illustrations. T. W. Higginson, in "Women and Men," will please a cultivated audience.

Harper's Periodicals.

PER YEAR:

HARPER'S MAGAZINE	$4 00
HARPER'S WEEKLY	4 00
HARPER'S BAZAR	4 00
HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE	2 00

Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The Volumes of the BAZAR begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.

Bound Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR for three years back, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight does not exceed one dollar per volume), for $7 00 per volume.

Cloth Cases for each volume suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of $1 00 each.

Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address: HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW YORK.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey—Between the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Newark, complainants, and Francis X. Schoonmaker and Melissa M. Schoonmaker, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

WEDNESDAY, THE TWELFTH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1893,

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly line of Carlton avenue with the northerly line of Putnam street; thence running northerly along the said easterly line of Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five feet; thence easterly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stake and corner; thence southerly parallel with Carlton avenue, one hundred and seventy-five feet to the northerly line of Putnam street; thence westerly along the said northerly line of Putnam street one hundred and seventy-five feet to the point or place of beginning, together with the land in front of said premises to the center line of Putnam street and Carlton avenue to be used as public streets.

W. H. Hicks, Sheriff.

A. Q. KEASBEY & SONS, Sol'rs.

CH&C fees $9 30. 6 8 w5

THE PLAINFIELD

PACKING HOUSE

25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb,

Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

All goods delivered free of charge.

Telephone 141.

G. M. ULRID

Make No Mistake!

There is a COUNTERFEIT on No. 73, and purchasers are requested to notice my name in full before entering the store.

AMOS H. VANHORN.

LIMITED,

73 MARKET STREET,

To outdo all competitors, will make the following inducements to purchasers until further notice:

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 8 pieces, only

$17.50

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.

LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-5-1y

TOWNSEND'S

Marble & Granite Works,

30 SOMERSET STREET,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the consumer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,

Manager. 8 11 tf

Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS

And all kinds of wearing apparel

STORED

And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO

W. H. AND R. BURNETT,

17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

6oct2

Scientific American Agency for
PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, etc.
Scientific American

For information and free Handbook write to MUNN & CO., 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. [illegible]

NEWARK

BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make The Great Store it is.

"BEE HIVE"
NEWARK N.J.
THE LARGEST DRY & FANCY GOODS HOUSE IN THE STATE
L. S. PLAUT & CO
707-721 Broad St

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 13.

MUSLIN WEAR DEPARTMENT.

GOWNS—plain, embroidered and lace.
DRAWERS—plain, embroidered and lace.
CHEMISE—plain, embroidered and lace.
CORSET COVERS in 200 styles.
MUSLIN SKIRTS—plain, ruffle, embroidered and lace.
APRONS in Black, White, Silk and Gingham.
Cotton Flannel Drawers and Skirts.
Muslin Night Drawers for Children.
Extra Size Gowns, Drawers, Skirts, Chemise and Corset Covers.
Children's Jean, Imperial and Gauze Waists.
Children's Drawer Waists.
Guimpe Waists—Silk, Cashmere and Muslin; 1 to 12 yr. sizes.
Sweeping Caps and Sleeve Protectors.
Gingham Sunbonnets.
Carriage Pillow Slips.
Bridal Sets.
Crinoline Skirts and Muslin Hoopskirts.
Silk Gowns, Chemise, Skirts and Drawers.
Combination Chemise.
Combination Drawers.
Combination Corset Covers.
Ladies' Sweater Aprons.
Ladies' Muslin Divided Skirts.
Sanitary Towels and Padding.
Greenwood's Readymade Waist Lining.
Ladies' Cotton Flannel Gowns.
Dress Forms and Extension Models.
Pillow Shams in 25 styles.
Flannel Skirts—Colored and White.
Outing Flannel and Worsted Skirts.
Worsted Shawls and Cardigan Jackets.
Worsted, Jersey and Cloth Leggins for all ages.
Imported Long and Square, Black and Colored Cashmere Shawls.
Cashmere Scarfs—White and Colored.
Wool Shawls—Long and Short.
Worsted Shawls—Hand-knit, Black, White and Colored.
Worsted Fascinators, Capes, Hoods and other goods of like character (in season).

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.

707 to 721 BROAD STREET.

Mail Orders Filled.

NOTICE. June 3, 1893.

Estate of Harriet N. Case, Deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, administrator of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred [illegible]

THE LABORER.

For a Hercules in his fighting ire there is never the glory that follows,
When ashes he lies and the poets arise to sing the work he has done.
But to visions alive under shallows of sight, lo, the laborer's crown is Apollo's,
While stands he, yet in his grime and sweat, to wrestle for fruits of the sun.

Can an enemy wither his cheer? Not you, ye fair yellow flowering ladies
Who join with your lords to jar the chords of a bosom heroic and clog.
'Tis the faltering friend, an inanimate land, may drag a great soul to their hades
And plunge him far from a beam of star till he hears the deep bay of the dog.

Apparition is there of a monster task in a policy carving new fashions:
The winninger course than the rule of force, and the springs lured to run in a stream;
He would bend tough oak, he would stiffen the reed, point reason to swallow the passions.
Did Britons awake two steps to take where one is a trouble extreme?

Not the less is he nerved with the laborer's resolute hope: that by him shall be written,
To honor his race, this deed of grace, for the weak from the strong made just;
That her sons over seas in a rally of praise may behold a thrice vitalized Britain,
Ashine with the light of the doing of right, at the gates of the future in trust.
—George Meredith.

A ROMANTIC AFFAIR.

He was ruined. As he left the casino and wandered out into the gardens he had absolutely not a franc in his pockets wherewith to purchase a lodging or a meal. The downcast profile was clear cut and firm, arguing powerful individuality in its owner, and yet the mania had seized him, as it had seized many a weaker man, and he had staked his all and lost over the gaming tables at Monte Carlo.

The moonlight touched his bowed head softly, silvered the outlines of his figure, revealed his haggard whiteness. It fell on something else—something that glittered in his hands like steel.

"Stop! Don't do that!"

It was a woman's voice that spoke, a woman's touch that rested lightly on his sleeve, a woman's great dusky eyes, set in a face such as one sees but seldom in a lifetime, which were raised to his. She had strolled from her party to enjoy alone the beauty of the evening, and absorbed in meditation had wandered farther than she knew.

The man's arm dropped to his side. He looked at her in silence, wondering, admiring, perhaps a little ashamed.

"Why did you want to do it?" pursued the gentle voice. "Does life seem so evil a thing to you?"

"I have been a fool—a madman! I am ruined! I wish to God I had never seen this cursed place."

"But you are a man. You can work. You can regain all that you have lost."

He shook his head.

"I cannot find employment here, and I haven't the means to get away. I have had the viatique already, and I went back to the tables thinking to have one more bid for fortune and lost. The authorities will not help me twice."

Her hand slipped into her pocket and out again. Adroitly she drew the pistol away from him and pressed something in its place.

"See, I have bought this thing of you," she said hurriedly. "You need not feel too grateful. Compatriots should help each other. If you want to repay me, swear to yourself that you will never do—what you attempted just now. I must leave you now. Goodby."

She was gone before he could stay or thank her—swallowed up and lost in the shadow of the trees.

* * * * * * *

"Miss Ferris, allow me to introduce to you Mr. Fergus Landeck."

The first time they had met alone beneath the stars at Monte Carlo, now they were amid a fashionable London crowd, and she was in evening dress, with diamonds sparkling at her throat and in her hair.

For an instant she returned his gaze, questioning, perplexed; then there was a flash of recognition, and he saw she knew.

"Will you take me into the conservatory, Mr. Landeck? It is so warm here."

They left the ballroom and strolled under the domed glass where the palms and lilies grew.

"You have not forgotten, then?" It was his voice, low and tremulous, which broke the silence.

"No; nor you, it seems."

"There are moments in a man's life which he never forgets. That was one of them. Do you know I have often wondered whether we should ever meet again, but I dared not indulge a hope until this evening, when for the first time I learned your name. Miss Ferris, shall we sit down for awhile? Wait; let me fix that cushion for you. I am very grateful for this opportunity of speaking to you alone. I want—I want to return to you, with many thanks, the—the gift you gave me five years ago. Ah, don't say no. The obligation under which you placed me will none the less exist, and—and I shall always keep the little purse—always—in remembrance of that night—and you."

"Fortune has evidently favored you since," she said after a pause.

"Yes, fortune has indeed favored me. Miss Ferris, your gift was like the enchanted purses in the children's fairy tales—bottomless. It enabled me to reach the Transvaal goldfields. I worked hard there; I saved a little; by and by I speculated much. Sometimes people grow rich there in a month—a week. I was one of them. Whatever I touched seemed to turn to gold; whatever I did was right. Money came to me in thousands—tens of thousands—hundreds even. On the day I sailed from Cape Town, three weeks ago, I was one of the richest men in South Africa, and if it had not been for you I should be lying in a suicide's grave."

Something glistened on her lashes. She drooped her eyes and toyed with the feathers of her fan.

"I am glad, so very glad, you have succeeded."

His gaze lingered on the subtle outline of her figure, the curve of her full white throat and cheek, the brown hair with the threads of gold which waved and curved about her brow and neck.

"And you"—his voice sank lower still—"you have not married?"

"No, as you see. But it is probable that I shall lose my freedom soon."

"Does that mean you are engaged?"

"It means that Lord Hythe proposed to me by letter this morning, and that I am to give him his answer tonight."

"And is it to be 'yes'?"

She laughed a little.

"Do you know that is a very strange question to put on so short an acquaintance and that our conversation is becoming unusual in the extreme? Mr. Landeck, you seem to forget that we were introduced only half an hour ago!"

"You were present at the most solemn moment of my existence. Let me a little behind the scenes of your own life," he urged.

She hesitated and cast a rapid glance at him. Her lips, quivering as with some hidden emotion, strove to smile.

"We seem fated to have strange confidences, you and I," she said and laughed uncertainly. "If you are very curious to know, it is 'yes.'—I shall accept him."

Perhaps it was only fancy or the flickering of the lamps, but it seemed as though a sudden spasm crossed his face, born of disappointment or of pain.

"You care for him of course?"

An uncontrollable impulse moved the woman to dash aside the barrier of conventionality and give expression to what she felt. She raised her eyes to his. They met, and the anguish in them touched him to the heart. She shook her head merely, then turned her face away.

"Then tell me why you are going to marry him."

"Because he is rich, and my father's property is mortgaged. I may as well tell you the reason; everybody will know."

"You intend to sacrifice yourself for your family's sake?"

"Sacrificed! Why, that is an ugly way of putting it! I am going to make a 'marriage of convenience.' Other women are doing the same thing every day."

There was silence, save for the dripping of the water amid the ferns and grasses in the rockery and the sound of distant music.

In the dim, religious light the richly colored lamps the man was [illegible] to all but the white clad form [illegible] of foliage. The heavy perfume of the exotics seemed to rise and stifle him; the woman's beauty intoxicated his senses; the consciousness of her presence thrilled his very soul.

He leaned over her and touched her gently on the arm.

"Sylvia, we are scarcely more than strangers, you and I. Perhaps you'll tell me I am mad. But I love you—heaven knows I love you. I believe I loved you—then. Sylvia, will you—oh, for pity's sake take me instead of him!"

* * * * * *

"A most romantic affair," said the society papers when they were married. "He proposed to her the first time they met."—Buffalo News.

Mr. Carlisle's Favorite Recreation.

While Mr. Carlisle is a great brain worker and has capacity to get through a large amount of mental labor which is exhausting as well to the physical body, yet he is fond of pleasure and recreation. His chief recreation is a small game of draw poker—a sort of family game—at his residence, one or two evenings during the week, with a few invited friends. The ante is only 5 cents, and the limit but 25 cents. He always plays in bad luck—I think quits the game four out of five times a loser.

The fives and deuces seem to have a great fondness for his hand. One rarely deals without giving him a deuce or a five, and he never fails to call the attention of the players to the fact with the exclamation: "Here's that deuce" or "Here's that five again. I get it every time." But all the same he enters into the spirit of the game with as much earnestness as he does in solving a great question in political economy, and from these poker party meetings he derives a great deal of keen enjoyment and much needed recreation.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Curious Trades of Parisians.

M. Rossignol, the well known Parisian police officer, has compiled a list of some of the extraordinary "trades" exercised in Paris, of which the following is a selection: Ratters, who capture living rats and sell them to exhibitors of curious beasts; collectors, who gather sewer grease and seize the corks and stoppers at the Suresnes sewer grating; stampers, who beg bread crusts, which they sell again; ant egg collectors, who take their gatherings on Sundays to the bird markets; bird "professors," who offer their services at that market as trainers of blackbirds, canaries and parrots; "senators," who are none other than the commissionaires of the flower market, and merchants for the sale of night shelter numbers, who stand in a line and resell their tickets to their more fortunate brethren.—Pall Mall Budget.

Gifts to Charity.

The report of the Rev. Benjamin Waugh, president of the English Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, says that charity has received "more money from theaters, music and concert halls than from all the churches and chapels in the kingdom."

Cadley and His Bill.

"Mr. Cadley hasn't treated me well," said the tailor.

"Oh, well, he doesn't amount to much," said De Garry.

"I wish I could say the same of his bill," sighed Snip.—Harper's Bazar.

Another Way of Expressing It.

"When Mrs. Parvenu was poor, they used to say she was a great talker, but since she became rich it is different."

"Indeed! What do they say now?"

"They say she is a brilliant conversationist."—Exchange.

Coarse, but Characteristic.

Cabman (whose temper has been ruffled by omnibus man)—You! Why, you hungry looking wagabun, you look as if you'd bin lock'd up for a month in a cookshop with a muzzle on.—London Tit-Bits.

Antiquity of Bell Founding.

The art of bell founding is undoubtedly of great antiquity. The Saxons are known to have used bells in their churches, although probably but small ones, for the Venerable Bede, writing at the end of the seventh century, alludes to them in terms which seem to show that they were not unfamiliar things. The towers of the Saxon period have belfries of considerable dimensions in most cases, and at Crowland abbey, in South Lincolnshire, there was a famous peal of seven bells many years before the Norman conquest.

The monks at that time and for long after were the chief practitioners of the art of bell founding—which indeed is one of the many things those well abused men have handed down to us. Their bells were rarely without inscriptions, often in very bad Latin, containing perhaps some obscure joke, the point of which is quite lost. More often they were of a religious nature, sometimes, we fear, not unmixed with a dash of superstition, as when the bell declares that its sound drives away the demons of the air who caused pestilence and famine, lightning and thunderstorms.

As a rule, unfortunately they put no dates on their bells, a defect which has been in some measure overcome by the researches of many enthusiastic campanologists, but which is likely to keep the early history of bells shrouded in darkness for a long time to come.—Gentleman's Magazine.

A Noted London Mission.

The other Sunday night at the Charrington mission, which is held in a long, narrow room, double galleried all around, the coughing (from the fog) was more like Fourth of July with conglomerate firecrackers, church bells and cannonading than one would conceive as possible issuing from a merely human assembly.

Just a word about this Charrington mission, which is a feature of the east end. Frederick Charrington belongs to a wealthy family of brewers. About 17 years ago he began to do a sort of street missionary work in East London, near his father's brewery. His father threatened to disinherit him, but finally left him a share, though not a full share, in the business. Once, on being taunted on the street with wearing the blue ribbon—"What does it cost you to wear that ribbon?"—he was able to reply, "A hundred thousand dollars."

He sold out his interest in the brewery to his brothers and built in Mile End road, the prolongation of Whitechapel, the Great Assembly hall, which had been projected but never begun by Keith-Falconer. Every Sunday night 8,000 or more people gather at the evangelistic service of the mission, and its fellowship society, with the constant religious, educational and entertainment work centering at the Great Assembly hall, makes it a power for good in a district which contains a number of powers for evil.—London Cor. Hartford Courant.

Remarkable Tenacity of Life.

The pious Dr. Shirely Palmer tells a fish story that is calculated to make the members of the St. Louis Hunting and Fishing association (to use a strictly original expression) "turn green with envy." By some hook or crook—hook no doubt—Mr. Palmer came into possession of a fine brace of tench. They were a lively pair of finny beauties when the doctor took them home with the idea of slaughtering them for his Sunday dinner. Placing them in a pail of water, he put them into the larder and thought no more about the matter. That night at midnight he was aroused, so he says, by a groan proceeding from the aforesaid larder. Inspection of the room explained the mystery.

One of the fish had sprung from the basin or pail and lay gasping upon the floor, every now and then uttering sounds similar to those which had disturbed Mr. Palmer. Next day both fish were prepared for dinner, but such was their tenacity of life that both, after having undergone the process of scaling and evisceration, sprang from the pail and wriggled about on the floor as though they had but recently been removed from their native element.

This is told as a scientific fact, not as a "fish story" or in the way of a joke.—St. Louis Republic.

Sea captains sometimes bring home accounts of the seeing of comets and meteors which have almost escaped notice on land.

THE PATIENT SEASONS.

How patiently the seasons bide their time!
No murmur from the bud that months ago
Was ready, were the earth inclined, to blow.
The birds are happy in their chosen clime.

No doubt, there are commandings 'neath the snow,
And some bright eyes that never close in sleep,
And some sharp ears that listen well and keep
Sweet hope alive in little hearts below.

Then let the winter wear itself away,
Borne thither on the breast of freighted rills.
A dream of spring has touched the constant hills,
And made the valleys patient of delay.
—Mary A. Mason in Youth's Companion.

ABE AND AUSTIN.

Austin and I were sitting up with the corpse. Abe had been a stiff since 8 o'clock, and it was then six hours later. We were cattlemen—cowboys they would call us east—living in a ranch on the Pecos in Texas. Abe was lying on a buffalo robe over against the wall, where he died. He had been grouting around for several days complaining of his old wound. He was taking a drink when I went out in the afternoon to salt some deer; when I came back, he was dead. Austin and I straightened him out and threw a saddle blanket over him. We closed his eyes, but left his head out. It seemed more natural like.

Austin was sitting facing the corpse. I had my back that way. We were playing freezeout poker for yearling heifers. All of a sudden there was a noise over by the corpse that made us both start. It sounded like two knocks on the floor. We dropped our cards and went over. Everything was all right. I said it must have been a prairie dog or gopher—we had no cats nor rats around there. Austin was horribly scared. He swallowed a larger drink of whisky than usual. We went back to our game, and presently we heard the rap again—this time louder. We up again and went over. All was quiet as a quit mining camp. Austin was shaking all over, and he says, "D—— if I take any stock in spirits outside of the jug!" Then he took another drink and banged out of the ranch. When he came in, he says, "We'll have a norther tomorrow."

We didn't play any more. We sat there talking about whether we better start Jose (our cook) out on the range to round up the boys for the planting. Presently Austin says, "Did Abe ever say anything to you about being married?" "No, he didn't," says I. "If he's married, some one ought to get word to his woman." Then we kept still a spell. Then Austin says: "Was Abe married?" "I know nothing about him," says I. After a little I says to Austin, "Was Abe married?" "I know nothing about him," he says, and then he went off of his box onto the floor as if a broncho had kicked him. I jumped up to help him, and as I did so I saw Abe (the corpse) sitting up on that buffalo skin, looking powerful mad. His lip was curled up like he was trying to hiss something, and his arm was stretched out, and one long bony finger was pointing at Austin, who lay knocked out on the floor.

I don't want any encores to that act. I was so scared I couldn't smoke. I bent over and shook Austin, but he seemed like dead. As I went over for the jug to get something to help him, I saw Abe was lying just as we had fixed him, and the blanket looked as if it had not been disturbed. I took about five fingers myself, then poured some into Austin. The first thing he did when he came to was to look at his shooter. Then he waltzed over to the corpse and 'peared to be examining the blanket. Then he says: "That's the second of those d—— strokes I've had. I guess the next will fetch me." I didn't tell him what I'd seen, and I didn't ask him what he'd seen. It didn't always pay to ask questions. Austin drank right along—a drink between drinks—and an hour later he fell over on the floor. I threw a robe over him.

I didn't feel any too good sitting there alone after what I'd seen, and I took more than I should have myself. I don't remember much about going to bed. The first thing I knew was Austin shaking me and saying, "Bill, where the devil's Abe got to?" I got up and looked around. There was the buffalo skin, but no Abe, and his Winchester was missing. We called in Jose. He'd seen nothing out of the way. We both felt far from comfortable and decided to ride up to the next ranch and tell the boys there. When we caught up our ponies, there was Abe's sorrel as big as life. We didn't come back to the ranch for a week. Then we were so played out and sick nothing could have scared us, but both of us kept wondering where Abe had gone.

Two years afterward Austin and I rode into Cheyenne from the Crazy Woman's fork, where we were then living. We went into Talbot's saloon. The barroom was separated from the theater part by a plain board partition. We sat down at a table in the barroom and called for liquor. There was a long haired, heavily whiskered man who looked like a bullwhacker stretched out on a bench. He looked as if he were sleeping. We'd taken several drinks, and I got to thinking of old times and somehow of Abe. "Do you ever think of Abe now?" I says. "Indeed I do, often," says Austin. "I'll never rest till I know what became of him."

Just as he said this the bullwhacker rose up and says: "Mr. Williams, or Austin, if you prefer it, you may rest from this date. I am Abe!" Austin reached for his gun, but Abe caught his arm and said, quietlike: "Hold on a minute. If you want any shooting later, I'll give you a show." Then he turned to me and said: "Years ago, back in the states, Williams here and I loved the same girl. Her parents did not approve of either of us. She made me think she loved me, and she led Austin to believe he was the favorite. She finally consented to a secret marriage with me, and we slipped away, saying nothing.

"Somehow the report got back to her home that I had taken her off under promise of marriage and had then deserted her. Austin never recognized me up to the day of my supposed death, but I knew him the first time he showed up at our ranch on the Pecos. After you went out that afternoon I felt very sick and really thought I was dying, so I turned to Austin and said, 'Williams, I'm John Walker.' Quick as a cat he was on me. I couldn't get my gun, and he had me by the throat, so I couldn't speak. He choked me, as he supposed, to death. The next thing I remember was hearing you two talking about me as if I were dead. I really felt not far from it.

"When Austin, in answer to your question, said he knew nothing about me, it made me mad, and I rose up to tell him he lied. The sight of me knocked him senseless. I knew then I was supposed to be a corpse. When you both had turned in drunk, I crawled to the jug and took enough to strengthen me. Then I slipped out, mounted the first cow pony I found and rode away. I did not feel like fighting Austin—in fact, he would not have touched me had he waited to hear me—and I thought my disappearance would worry him some."

Again Austin reached for his revolver. "Wait," said Abe, "until I finish. I married the girl and treated her as white as a woman ever was treated, but five months afterward she ran away with a blooming drummer. I hear the music tuning up. Come inside. I have something to show Austin there."

Abe purchased the tickets, and we entered the partially filled room which was doing duty as a theater. A rude stage was constructed at the end of the room, and a few men seated on boxes before it were grinding out of their cracked and discordant instruments an air that recalled "Rise Up, Willie Riley." Presently the large canvas wagon sheet that served as a drop curtain was raised, and a gaudily and scantily dressed and roughly painted woman marched to the center of the stage and burst forth in a song that would not have been tolerated east of the Platte.

Austin's eyes were riveted upon her. At first surprise was seen in his face, then nausea. Abe was watching him. Presently the latter said: "If you envy me now, Mr. Williams, I will go outside, and you may shoot me." But Austin extended his hand to Abe, and we left the building together.—Philadelphia Times.

"Please Wipe Your Feet."

Please wipe your feet! This is the legend that good health and manners require should be written on the entrance of public or private buildings. Awful is the condition of our streets, and more awful in the eyes of good housekeepers is the nastiness brought into the dwelling, be it rich or poor, on the feet of those who walk them. How vile this composite is can only be appreciated by those who try to clean it from the carpets and to keep the house free from its impure consequences. Health demands extra care in a matter that is regarded as trivial in dry seasons, but the injunction to wipe the feet on a door mat is one to be inculcated early in life.

Careless children make careless adults, and it is these befuddled persons who might practice that law of the Mohammedan, which commands men to remove their slippers on entering the mosque or a house where there are lives to be respected, with excellent results. In some carpeted hotels the floors are covered with cloth, but in private houses this protection is not possible; and the housemaid grumbles as much as the mistress to find her well swept rooms and stairs now stained and soiled by unwiped feet.—Boston Globe.

Prison Poetry.

Probably the mass of prison poetry which has been written on stools and bedposts and scratched on prison walls far exceeds that which has found expression on paper, and many a "mute, inglorious Milton" has begun and finished his political career with these "lost to sight" productions.

There is in existence a short poem, said to have been scratched by a maniac on the wall of his cell, which runs thus:

Could I with ink the ocean fill,
Were all the world of parchment made,
Were every reed on earth a quill
And every man a scribe by trade,
To write the love of God alone
Would drain that ocean dry,
Nor could the scroll contain the whole,
Though stretched from sky to sky.

The authenticity of this being the work of a maniac has often been questioned because of the beauty of its expression and its sound reason, but the story stands.—All the Year Round.

Electrical Sunstroke.

It is now claimed that there is such a thing as electrical sunstroke. The workers around electrical furnaces in which metal aluminium is produced suffer from them. The intense light causes painful congestions, which cannot be wholly prevented by wearing deep colored glasses.—New York Evening Sun.

Power of a Philosopher.

Hegesippus, the great philosopher, discoursed so eloquently on the peace of death as compared with the worry of life that many of his auditors killed themselves, and to stop the epidemic Ptolemy ordered him to teach no more in public.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

He Escaped.

"Sir," questioned an irate female shopper as she pounced upon a small man who was pacing the store, "are you the floorwalker?"

"N-n-no, ma'am," he gasped, "I—I'm o-o-only the p-p-proprietor."—Detroit Free Press.

Frank Criticism.

A little girl I know was caressing her adored and adoring father, whose nasal organ is not his handsomest feature.

"Papa," she remarked, "somebody must have been bothering God awfully when he made your nose!"—Washington Star.

"Crank" is not an American word. It has been in common use in Derbyshire for a generation, and it is still often heard. It is used to describe a man who has fads, fancies and notions outside the common run of those of his neighbors.

Men Are Not Interesting Invalids.

Women take only too kindly to the role of an invalid; the sofa, the fleecy white shawl, the little cups of beef tea or plates of oysters. Once let a woman taste the dreamy pleasures of this sort of existence, and unless some shock or sense of duty rouses her she will calmly continue for the rest of her days in the pleasant path before her. She smiles sweetly at the little attentions offered her, she dresses in the daintiest of semi-toilets, and she looks so pretty and gentle and patient that it seldom dawns on her husband that the existence is an ignoble one. But let my lord fall ill, and, oh, dear, what a different tale to tell!

The valet comes flying from the room followed by a boot, the cook gives notice because the master called the beef tea "beastly stuff," the housemaid is in tears because she is not allowed to sweep or dust the sickroom. Man, noble man, is a pitiful object when he is sick. Get him thoroughly ill and he is a better patient than a woman, but if he is merely laid up for a day or two with a cold or a bilious attack he persistently kicks instead of wisely enjoying the rest which a beneficent nature has imposed on him.—London Hospital.

How Loco Acts.

Loco is often called "crazy weed" from its direful effect on cattle or horses when they eat it in any quantity. In the beginning the poison is slow in showing itself. The first symptom is usually a dull, glassy look in the eyes, which gradually dilate and become wild and staring.

If after this the animal is left to graze on the herb, the symptoms will become more pronounced, the vision becomes impaired, and the victim develops an aptitude for grotesque antics, sometimes rushing madly about. A "locoed" horse will balk, back, rear and often hurl itself backward, and has the greatest objection to having its head touched.

The last and fatal stage of the disease is a gradual wasting away of the animal. Cattle born on the prairies seem instinctively to avoid the loco. High grade beasts most easily fall victims to their partiality for the weed.—Chambers' Journal.

Freedom of Opinion Costs Friends.

Taine's history and analysis of the French revolution cost him most of his republican friends, and when he published his volume on the reign of terror all his Bonapartist intimates deserted him. The great lady, the Princess Mathilde, a niece of the great emperor, long M. Taine's intimate friend, promptly left a card on him with P. P. C. in the corner. "I shall never cease to regret," said M. Taine to M. Renan, "having lost so old a friend on account of a book." "My friend," said Renan, "in order to have the right to speak freely my thoughts I broke with a greater lady than the princess." "What lady?" "The church."—London Truth.

The First Glass Cups.

The first glass cups were made at Alexandria. Some were colored like Bohemian glass and decorated with glass pastes, imitating precious stones and cameos. Some were opaline, others clear as crystal, and still others formed of opaque layers welded together like the famous Portland vase, in which the white upper layer had been cut away like that of a cameo, leaving a blue ground around the figures.—House Furnishing Review.

The Strain on the Eye.

There is no reason why a muscle or muscles of the eye should not be fagged out just as the muscles elsewhere do. Let one bear a weight all day long, does he not attribute his consequent headache to the heavy burden he has borne? It seems without elaborate thinking we could conceive of the results following upon prolonged use of the eye. Nature has done all she could to protect and prolong the usefulness of the eye. No earthly architect ever yet planned a structure that would not yield, crumble and fall, and the house human, so exquisitely uplifted in curious and mysterious ways, falls and returns to dust more rapidly and surely than need be, for the reason that we do not realize how much one part is sustained or overthrown by another. One tiny muscle is potent enough to disturb the whole economy, especially if intercurrent disease exist in addition to "eye strain."—Philadelphia Record.

WHERE ARE THEY?

Come near, O sun—O south wind, blow,
And be the winter's captives freed.
Where are the springs of long ago?

Drive under ground the lingering snow,
And up the graveyard hillside lead;
Come near, O sun—O south wind, blow!

Are these the skies we used to know?
The budding wood, the fresh blown mead?
Come near, O sun—O south wind, blow!

The breathing furrow will we sow,
And patient wait the patient seed;
Come near, O sun—O south wind, blow!

The grain of vanished years will grow,
But not the vanished years, indeed!
Where are the springs of long ago?

With sodden leafage, lying low,
They for remembrance faintly plead;
Come near, O sun—O south wind, blow!
Where are the springs of long ago?
—Edith M. Thomas.

HOW I DIED.

I was very sick. I had laid for days that seemed years upon the rack of such pain as only strong men, suddenly broken upon the wheel, may know. Every bone in my body, every nerve, every minute gland of corporeal tissues had been like electric wires and cells surcharged with ethereal agony. At last there had come a benumbed feeling that thrilled like the vibration of harp strings suddenly stilled. I could hear the hum of voices like the far-off drone of bees, and the sound seemed soothing me into a strange peace.

I was aware that somebody passed a light before my eyes, and after repeating the action several times replaced the night lamp on the stand without the shade. I knew also that somebody stepped to the window and threw it wide open, while a voice, seemingly borne beyond the confines of space and gathering force as it approached the boundaries of auricular demonstration until it boomed like the deep bass of the sea, uttered these words:

"The poor fellow is going fast. Give his spirit a chance to free itself."

"Do you believe in that old woman rot?" asked another, and from the region of enchanted drowsiness where I seemed to linger I caught myself listening for the third voice, which I seemed to know would speak next. And I didn't listen in vain, for even while I struggled with the unseen forces that were hurrying me away a woman's voice, clear and strong and sweet as the notes of a bell that was forever ringing in my ear, said:

"We believe in God's mercy, and we believe that this poor pain racked body is about to throw open the door by which the spirit goes free; if a closed window hinder its going, we will throw every window in the old hospital as wide as the sky."

"And give the rest of the poor devils in the ward a chance to catch a mortal chill," responded the second voice. "You are as consistent as the rest of your sex, Miss Brady."

While yet the echo of the head doctor's voice beat the air in circles of receding sound, I suddenly ceased to think, to hear, to feel, to be. And yet I was. I knew by some newly developed sense that I lay mute and white upon the cot which had supported my body so long, and that the fragrance of a prayer floated through the awful stillness of the room. It had no form nor sound, and yet something within me perceived it, as the languid senses perceive the fragrance of newly mown hay upon a serene June morning.

A continuous pageant of the most seraphic vision unfurled in endless progression before me. I saw the green hills of my childhood's home lift themselves like emerald bubbles in a haze of enchanted air. I saw the sapphire of the sea set in a rim of violet dawns and daffodil noons. I saw the stretch of desert sands like drifts of snow within the compass of a lonely land. And in the midst of their bewildering vision I suddenly saw a gleaming slab within a windowless room, where something long and white and still was lying. Drops of ice were forming on the edges of the slab, and a death cold stream was purling across its shining surface. Something that was not a voice, and which made itself manifest to me through other channels than the ear, spoke lightly of the grave wherein I soon should lie.

"We will bury him tonight," it seemed to say, "there will be no friends to interfere, and there are too many dying these few days past to keep 'stiffs' over a half day."

"But the law grants even a 'stiff' its rights," responded the womanly voice I had learned to know, "we have no right to bury him with such indecent haste."

"Right or no right, law or no law, he'll have to get out of this tonight," replied the first voice.

The contention had no effect upon the something within my ice bound frame which still held its mysterious connection with sentient life. That filament, fine as the gossamer shred by which the spider binds together the ether and the rose, seemed an electric wire charged with messages from an unseen world. I could hear the rise and fall of angelic choruses, like the dip of songful seas, and clear and sweet and distinct, above them all, I heard the woman's voice I learned from out the cold embrace of death to note.

"He shall not be buried tonight, nor yet tomorrow, if that flush continues on his face."

"What flush are you talking about?" responded the doctor, bringing the light he carried nearer the face that lay upon the marble slab, where the ice drops were forming, crystal by crystal, like the beads one threads upon a growing strand.

"Why, the flush we both have noticed since we stood here. I knew by the intent gaze you bestowed upon what generally demands but a passing glance that you discovered it when I did, and I demand that the body be removed to the ward until we investigate the case."

"That flush is only the reflection of your red dress," laughed the doctor.

"You are wasting time," said the nurse. "I shall call a stretcher to carry this living man out of the morgue. Afterward we may resume our conversation."

"You shall do nothing of the sort," replied the doctor, placing his hand as he spoke upon the outstretched arm of the nurse with compelling force. "You have made a fool of yourself over this fellow from the first. Not a hanger on in the ward but what noticed your interest in his handsome face. You are bound to me by ties you cannot break, and rather than see you under the enchantment of this fellow again I simply will smother the feeble pulse of life that lingers in his veins and make a surety of his death."

"You may be a villain, but you are not a coward, Dr. Ware," replied the woman, whose hand he still held. "To refuse to give this man the chance to live would be the most despicable act of your life, and, so help me God, I will denounce you as a murderer before the first justice I can find if you do not instantly summon assistance and remove this body from this place."

"Not so fast, my dear. Every moment's delay extinguishes more and more the chance for life, and if the attendants we shall summon find a dead man on the slab who will believe your hysterical story in the face of my statement that no sign of life existed? Women nurses are not in favor just at present with the board; they are too sensational, too emotional, too indiscreet. Your bravado will eventuate only in your own disgrace."

With the bound of a cat, the nurse, while he was yet speaking, broke from the doctor's detaining hold and reached the door. Quick as thought she opened it and flew down the long corridor.

Shall the future eternities hold for me another moment fraught with such pain as thrilled my tortured limbs when the doctor's malignant face bent above my sealed eyes, and although conscious of a vast reserve power I felt myself unable to move the lightest member or lift, by a single hair's weight, the closed lids? I felt his fingers press the delicate anatomy of my throat, and I knew that he was seeking to throttle the little life left in my body. Every drop of blood became a spear of flame to thrust my quivering flesh, and the effort I made to groan started what seemed to me to be showers of hot blood from every pore.

The sound of hurrying feet and clamoring voices stayed the doctor's hand before its full purpose was accomplished, and raising himself from his sitting posture he greeted the newcomers with a brisk: "Hurry up, boys! I thought Miss Brady had fallen asleep on the way. Lift this fellow up quickly and carry him to the ward. He is good for a long lease of life yet."

I never knew how the doctor and Miss Brady adjusted their quarrel. Both retained their respective positions for some time after my recovery to health and removal to a western city, where a stroke of long delayed good luck rebuilt the raveled edge of my finances and placed me above want.

Miss Brady finally resigned her position at my suggestion and joined me in my western home as my beloved wife. Of the doctor's well farings or ill farings we neither of us knew aught from that day onward and forever.—New York World.

Hints For Roadbuilders.

To intelligently locate roads for a county, for instance, there should be a map on a large scale showing water courses, railway stations, towns and their population and the population per square mile for different sections. Having determined the general direction and extent of the road, the problems of grade, drainage, adaptability of the soil for road purposes and minor considerations may present themselves before a definite location may be determined. The amount of grade in a country road should properly depend upon the character of the country and traffic. Grades should never be level and never very steep. It is better to go around a steep hill than over it. Steep short cuts may be convenient for neighborhood roads, but never for main thoroughfares. Clayey surface may be helped by the addition of sand and sandy surface by the addition of clay. With regard to drainage, ample and well graded side ditches with abundant outlets for storm water should be supplied. The effort should be to construct a narrow good road—not a wide common road. The layout should be wide, but the graded portion narrow. Ground surfacing was good and broken trap rock still better. The road surface should be, in fact, a traffic bearing, waterproof roof over the dirt road, slightly yielding or malleable under heavy loads, but sufficiently firm not to break.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Philadelphia a City of Families.

Philadelphia is a dingy city by the side of Paris. It is outdone by most of the world's centers in all by which the world reckons greatness, but no city that is or ever was, has done more to make families and therefore children comfortable. If all Paris were to file past you, every fifth person would be a child under 15 years of age. If all Philadelphia were to do the same, there would be three such children for every 10 persons. File for file, there would be one-half more children in Philadelphia than in Paris; more, file for file, than in New York or London; more than in any of the world's old great cities; more, because Philadelphia makes life more comfortable for families and for children.—St. Nicholas.

A Matter of Pride.

Mr. Bingo—I don't see why you discharged the girl, for she was the best servant we ever had.

Mrs. Bingo—That may be, but I was over at Mrs. Kingsley's, next door, yesterday, and she has discharged eight girls in two weeks, and I had only discharged seven. It would never do to let her get ahead of me.—Exchange.

A Governor's Sentiments.

It is told of Governor (now Senator) Z. B. Vance that being in a hotly contested engagement in the late civil war he saw a hare between the lines running for life, when he exclaimed: "Go it, Mollie White Tail. If I were not governor of North Carolina, I would run too."—Richmond Dispatch.

A Bridge Lying Idle.

One of the most costly pieces of property in the United States now lying idle is probably the great railroad bridge over the Pecos river, 200 miles west of San Antonio. This bridge, which is said to be the second highest in the world, was completed six months ago at a cost of $1,200,000. It was built by a private corporation for the use of the Southern Pacific company. In addition to this bridge a railroad track leading to it was built, shortening the distance between San Antonio and El Paso by 11 miles. After the bridge and cutoff railroad had been completed they were visited by President C. P. Huntington and a number of other prominent officials of the Southern Pacific company, and the new property was formally accepted. In a short time a new time-table was issued by the Southern Pacific, embracing the new cutoff and the Pecos bridge. Tickets were issued for that road via Southern Pacific and Pecos bridge, a fare of 30 cents being charged every passenger over the new bridge.

After all this had been arranged trains were started running over the new route, and the announcement was made that the track of the old route through the dangerous canyons of the Rio Grande river was to be taken up. But trains had been running over the new Pecos bridge only two weeks when the order came from President Huntington to abandon the new bridge and cutoff track and immediately resume traffic via the old route. Since that time not a train has crossed the new bridge. There is much speculation in railroad circles as to the cause of this sudden and wholly unexpected action on the part of President Huntington.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Nature's Method.

The hermit philosopher, Thoreau, was once asked to express his views on the doctrine of an eccentric revivalist, but contented himself with the remark that "we need not try to carpet the whole world with leather as long as every one of us can wear shoes of his own."

Nature appears to manage her household affairs on that very plan. Recognizing the impossibility of bridging every stream and working a million miracles to keep fire from burning and passion from flaming, she has preferred the simple alternative of endowing her creatures with the instinct of self preservation—a tendency which, under certain circumstances, may take the form of self revenge. Nine out of ten species of animals avoid danger by flight, but community interests and other considerations compel the remaining tenth to abide the arbitrament of battle, and without the dread of their defensive valor some of the most useful kinds of insects would have become utterly extinct. Ants, the restless scavengers of the wilderness, will attack the disturber of their domicile with a fury that deters even the greedy boar and the insect eating baboons of the Nubian hill country. Termites permit themselves to be torn to pieces rather than loosen their bulldog grip upon the hide of a foe, and the hive bee assails intruders at the imminent risk of losing her life, together with her sting.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Gayly Decked Immigrants.

A picturesque party of Italian immigrants landed at the barge office the other day. There were about a dozen men and six or eight women. The men wore clothing of a rough, buff colored material, with scarfs and caps of brighter hues. The women displayed a variety of gay colors—red, yellow, blue and pink predominating. Each woman was bareheaded, but each wore ribbons in her hair and a bright colored shawl or apron. The strangers attracted a great deal of attention as they straggled up Broadway from the Battery with their bundles. They evidently found as much novelty in their surroundings as the New Yorkers found in their quaint appearance. The women apparently had the keenest observation and pointed out to their more stolid male companions various objects as the party moved along.

At Rector street they saw a flower stand, and half a dozen of the women gathered about it and gave vent to voluble expressions of delight. They dragged some of the men before the stand and gesticulated violently. The men tried to pull away from them, but could not. After awhile some pieces of money came out of the men's pockets, and with much eagerness and chattering the women selected one flower apiece. The vendor took his pay out of the handful of American silver tendered him, and the party moved on, both men and women as joyous as a lot of school children.—New York Times.

There are 150,000 gypsies in Hungary.

The aurora borealis is the devil's rainbow.

New York has 1,100,000 tenement residents.

A WONDERFUL FORCE

AN UNKNOWN POWER THAT MAY REVOLUTIONIZE OUR IDEAS.

Odylic Force—Its Relation to Mesmerism, Magnetism and Hypnotism—An Intimation of What This Force May Mean In Surgical Operations.

In the history of civilization frequent allusion is made to an occult and weird force, seemingly possessed by a few people of unusual temperamental development, called odylic force. This force was first systematically studied and taught as well as exhibited by Dr. Mesmer, a Suabian, in 1773. At a later date Baird of England took up the subject, and after long and patient study made a still further advance in its application to beneficent purposes, and Dr. Carpenter of London followed up the study of what had already been named as hypnotism and made it to some extent useful in the cure of disease.

Like electricity, the mesmeric, magnetic, hypnotic or odylic force is still a great mystery. Nobody knows its true origin or its essential character. They are both occult and known only by their phenomena. While electricity is being daily harnessed to the car of civilization and progress and compelled to serve mankind in a multitude of ways, magnetism or mesmerism has come more slowly into the service of man.

The odylic force is vastly more subtle and elusive than the electric, and therefore yields a far more tardy response to the question of science: "What art thou? Whence comest thou?" On account of its great power for evil as well as good many governments have forbidden its practice and promulgation, notably those of France and Germany. It has always been discountenanced by the church as a species of heresy and witchcraft, and until about 50 years ago it was practically under ban everywhere.

Since the inductive method has been adopted for finding out nature's most sacred secrets, she has begun to whisper her occult mysteries into the souls of her most inquisitive children, and we come to know more and more of her fine sorceries. For the most part this fine force has been devoted to the grotesque, and through its influence men and women have been made guys and merry andrews instead of loving devotees and faithful servitors.

Yet many thoughtful men see in this strange force a subtile power for good and are betaking themselves to its study with a devotion and purpose that seems surely bound to divorce mesmerism from monkeyism and harness one more of the fine forces of nature to the triumphal car of science. Jugglery and jingoism fasten themselves upon two many undeveloped resources of the race and have to be shaken off sometimes with the energy that piled the pillars of the temple upon the devoted head of Samson and his persecutors. But that energy is now actively at work clearing the hypnotic field of the philistines that have infested it.

The people of our fair capital have been given a series of exhibitions of the marvelous powers and capacities of this still too little known force. Dr. H. L. Flint of New York, an educated and conscientious physician and one of a family of great physicians, is giving nightly proferts of this mysterious force in our midst, and while to the casual observer the humorous and ludicrous phases of the exhibitions are the attractive features, yet to many thoughtful minds there is a deep and profound significance in it.

Chemical anæsthesia is held to be the greatest discovery of all the ages, and yet here is a subtile force that does for many people not only all that chloroform can do in lulling pain and banishing horror and fear, but does more, for it can banish disease in at least some of its forms without putting the patient in peril. It can make its votary sing a happy roundelay while the surgeon is severing his mangled members to save life. It can convert all pain into a beautiful dream of happiness and eliminate the inflammatory process that makes recovery problematic in so many cases.

Among the odic phenomena produced by Dr. Flint is one which makes the blood run cold in all sensitive and sympathetic spectators. In his daughter, a beautiful and delicate girl of 19, he induces catalepsy, a state which so simulates death that in India people in that condition are buried for many days and then return to active life as if they had only slept a night, and while in this condition, with every muscle in the body rigid and hard as sole leather, she is laid across two chairs placed under her head and feet, and a large limestone rock weighing 500 pounds is laid upon her chest and abdomen, where it is broken into fragments with a heavy sledge hammer by some powerful man who is selected by and from the audience.

From a private demonstration of this phenomenon made in my own office, without any chance for collusion or deception, and every possible opportunity I could desire to test the genuineness of the demonstration, I can only say I am more than ever profoundly impressed with the wonder and majesty of the creative fiat that gave us the odylic force.—Dr. H. W. Roby in Kansas Farmer.

How One Case Was Lost.

An old New Hampshire man tells me this story of a lawyer who prevented Mr. Pierce from winning one case. The latter had fairly opened his plea and was beginning to wax eloquently pathetic when the opposing counsel spoke up, just loud enough to be heard by the jury and the members of the bar, "Oh, Frank is beginning to pump for water again!" It is needless to say that he got no water from the jurymen's eyes on that plea and lost the case.—Boston Globe.

Dancing In Ancient Religion.

In ancient religion dancing came to be one of the chief acts of worship. Religious processions went with song and dance to the Egyptian temples, and Plato said that all dancing ought to be thus an act of religion.—Popular Science Monthly.

Wanted—An American National Air.

The necessity for a national air that has not been either borrowed or stolen was very clearly apparent during the naval rendezvous at Hampton Roads and the subsequent ceremonies in New York. In those places, if never before, the chilly conviction struck many a heart, and there was hourly emphasis of our poverty and musical dishonesty. When the band on one of the British ships played "God Save the Queen" a young lady visitor was delighted with what she thought was an international compliment, for she imagined the bandsmen were playing "America." She was not alone in her error. Hundreds of others then in that vicinity did not know that our greatest of patriotic hymns is sung to a stolen tune, and that tune the most royalistic of all airs.

There was similar misunderstanding as to other melodies. "They're playing 'Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean,'" said a soldier who from the wharf was listening to the Blake's band. His guess was wrong. They were playing "Britannia, the Gem of the Ocean," but he was only one of millions who are not aware of the fact that both words and music of that song were lifted bodily across the Atlantic, and that somewhere on the way the word "Columbia" was substituted for "Britannia." Perhaps "The Star Spangled Banner" came nearer to be generally recognized as our own than any of the other tunes, but foreign musicians did nothing inexcusable when they discussed among themselves the indisputable fact that the words only are American; that the air is an old English production still sung in many parts of her majesty's realm as the ode "To Anacreon in Heaven."

Even "Hail, Columbia," that somewhat crude affair, was not above suspicion, for it is one of the oldest of Italian songs, not infrequently heard in the rural districts of the land of sunshine and blue skies.—Washington Star.

How He Did Them.

The man was pompous and had a large sized and visible confidence in the correctness of his manner of doing things. He had finished his meal at the hotel, and as he shoved back his chair he shoved out the munificent sum of 25 cents to the waiter.

"There, my man," he said, "take that. I don't do things by halves."

"N-no, sir," whispered the waiter, "you do them by quarters. Thank you, sir."—Detroit Free Press.

GIGANTIC FLAGPOLES.

Description of Those to Be Used at the World's Fair.

The special train bearing the ten big logs destined for the flagpoles for the Washington world's fair building at Chicago will be run in three sections of fourteen cars each, says the Spokane (Wash.) Review. Each of the logs equals the length of seven flat cars, though they are loaded in such a manner that the weight is carried by two of the cars. With the exception of the two longest the logs are placed two together on the cars, but it was impossible to load the two largest in that manner, owing to their enormous weight.

The two end cars of the sections will support the load on a raised blocking working on a pivot. The other cars will be empty, and the logs will extend over them above the cap floors. This arrangement is necessary, owing to the curves in the road. When the train is on a curve the first and last cars of the section will, of course, not be in the same straight line, and if the logs were supported by all the cars it would be impossible to round the curve without breaking either the logs or cars.

To overcome this difficulty the movable blocks on the two end cars are brought into play, and while the empty cars curve around a bend in the track the pivots are also turned, permitting the logs to always retain the same relative position with respect to each other. On sharp curves the middle of the load will be entirely clear of the cars at the center of the section and will lie parallel to a tangent drawn at the outer edge of the curve. When the curve is passed the pivots again throw the logs back to their original position.

FOR A CHILDREN'S LIBRARY.

Chicago Publishers Will Make a Unique Exhibit of Books.

Plans for the library in the children's building at the world's fair have been fully matured, and their realization is gradually taking form. The work is in the hands of the committee on literature for children in the woman's branch of the auxiliary, Mrs. Clara Doty Bates chairman, all members being residents of Chicago.

The committee aims to have this library representative of the best literature of all nations. Its object is not only to guide and influence children, but to furnish parents with suggestions for the selection and arrangement of home libraries. It will at the same time be an exhibit for publishers of children's books and periodicals from all over the world.

The managers of the children's building believe it best not to have a room specially set apart as a library, which to be seen would have to be sought. With rare forethought toward the most easily accessible and widest benefits in all departments of the building, they have decided that the books and periodicals shall be arranged in a general reception-room, where they would come more constantly to the notice of visitors than if isolated.

Besides the library proper, two cases are to be set apart consisting of the choicest books, one of twenty volumes for young children and another of fifty for youth. These are to be as nearly as possible model collections and chosen with the best wisdom of the whole committee. The idea is largely educational, and the hope is to make this exhibit of great importance to parents and children whose opportunities are small.

WORLD WITHOUT BANKS.

Such Was the State of Things a Little Over a Century Ago.

Illustrations of the economic revolution abound on every hand, writes Prof. Richard T. Ely in the Chautauquan. Those modes of protection which we take as a mere matter of course, were, for the most part, entirely unknown in 1780. It will be readily admitted that a business world which could exist without banks must have been a radically different business world from that which we now know. It is only a little over a century since there were but three banks in the entire United States. If these banks had entirely suspended their operations, undoubtedly harm would have resulted; but most men and women would have continued their ordinary course of life and been entirely unaware of the disaster. The misfortune would in no way have entered into the lives of the great majority of citizens. Should one-half of our thousands of banks now fail, it would be a deplorable calamity, the like of which has rarely been witnessed. Suffering and poverty would be widespread, and undoubtedly thousands and hundreds of thousands would be deprived of the barest necessities of life.

GERMANY AT THE FAIR.

Home Life and Architecture in the Country to Be Shown.

The German government will construct a separate building at the fair grounds to represent Germany and to serve as a central point for the German interests. Commissioner Wermuth will have his office in this building. A feature of the German exhibition will be the "German Village of the Middle Ages," which will be built on the "Midway Plaisance" under the auspices of the Deutsche bank of Berlin. It will show the architecture and home life of the German peasants of that period and also the household industries and German village life of the present day.

It would far exceed the scope of this article to enter into a detailed description of each separate department or to describe any individual exhibit. While much remains to be done, yet the work is crystallizing into perfect shape, and there is no doubt that Germany will have reason to be proud of her exhibits.

Clever Umbrella Thieves.

On a recent rainy Sunday two nice-looking, well-mannered men stationed themselves in the vestibule of an English church and relieved all who entered of their umbrellas, saying that the vicar disliked having wet umbrellas carried into the church. When the services ended the people looked for the two men, but they had quietly stolen away—and also the umbrellas, without waiting for the benediction.

A Friend of the Farmer.

The hop growers of Otsego county have discovered what naturalists have long been trying to make farmers understand—that skunks, instead of being their enemies, as they formerly supposed are among their most useful friends. As one hop grower expressed it, "Nowadays we protect skunks as carefully as we do song birds."

Hop yards, it appears, are infested by a certain kind of grub which gnaws off the tender vines at the root, and this grub is the favorite food of the skunk.

As a general thing the skunks sally forth at nightfall, but now and then they are to be seen at work in broad daylight. The proceeding is an interesting one to watch.

The skunk begins his quest on the edge of the yard, where he cocks his head over a hill of hops and listens. If a grub is at work upon one of the four trailing vines, his quick ear is sure to hear it. At once he begins to paw up the earth, and presently he is seen to uncover the grub and swallow it with unmistakable relish.

Then he listens again, and if he hears nothing proceeds to the next hill. And so he goes on till he has had his fill.

Now that the skunks are no longer molested, they have become comparatively fearless. Sometimes, we are told, they keep up their operations even while the cultivator is driven between the rows.—Cor. New York Tribune.

Even if we have only a dinner of herbs to offer to our guest, if it be served in the spirit of true hospitality it will be better than a stalled ox where pride and envy sit, and with them the spirit of contention.

It is stated that the daily supply of milk for the New York market amounts to about 19,000 cans of milk, over 170 cans of condensed milk and upward of 400 cans of cream.

The muscles of the forehead and scalp should be regularly exercised several times a day. It is said that the individual hairs of the scalp can be stimulated by rubbing the nape of the neck with a coarsely woven glove.

OFFICIAL LANGUAGES.

There Are Three Recognized in Polyglot Switzerland.

Government Officials Have to Be Linguists—A Curious Controversy Arising from Complicated Conditions.

As is known, Switzerland is a polyglot country. German is the language of about two-thirds of its people, those who occupy the cantons from Berne eastward. In the other cantons French is the language, with the exception of Tessin and a part of the Grisons, where Italian prevails. The three languages are equally official, and all laws and public documents are published in each, and either may be used in the discussions in the national assembly. In fact Italian is rarely heard in that body, the members from the Italian districts usually speaking in French, as otherwise they would not be understood by a considerable number of their colleagues. All the members of both the houses are supposed to understand the two principal languages, says the Milwaukee Sentinel, and this knowledge is required on the part of most of those in the civil service, including post office and telegraph employes.

Occasionally inconvenience is experienced from the difficulty of making an absolutely perfect translation from one language into another in the case of laws, and cases from time to time occur where the official translation of a law in one language differs from its version in the other so much as to give rise to conflicting constructions, due to that difference, by the courts where German is used and those where French is employed.

It is said that the French language is gradually encroaching upon the German across the line which separates the two elements of the population. The French-Swiss explain this by alleging that it is due in part to the comparative ease with which French is acquired, and to its greater clearness and convenience, and in part to the fact that the vernacular of the German-Swiss is a patois differing greatly in the different cantons while the official German is a literary language and practically a foreign tongue.

Recently vehement complaints have appeared in the German Swiss papers that the German language is not receiving fair treatment at the hands of their French confederates. It is alleged that in the upper part of the canton of Valois German is slowly passing out of use, being superseded by French, and that the people seem to be growing ashamed of their mother tongue, which was one of the most interesting varieties of a local dialect, and that some of the persons employed in the post and telegraph offices neither understand nor speak German. Bitter complaint is also made of the action of the officials who had charge of a recent election in Geneva, when a cantonal law for the adoption of minority representation was submitted to the popular vote. A number of votes had inscribed on them "ja" or "nein," instead of "oui" or "non," and were rejected as invalid.

DIGGING FOR DIAMONDS.

Hard and Precarious Life That Has a Wonderful Fascination About It.

I have just had a few days among the river diamond diggers near Hebron, on the Vaal, writes a traveler in the Jewelers' Circular. The work here is carried on by individual diggers, each man leasing his claim and working it himself with the aid of a few native laborers. They are a motley crowd, these diggers, and representative of almost every nationality. It is a hard and precarious existence. Diamonds are few and far between, but when found, nevertheless, they are generally of first-class quality and realize high prices. The diggers are mostly men of very small means. Their tools and washing gear are about all they have, and they consequently live very poorly. Meal of rough quality is often the only food that passes their lips from one month's end to another. This they usually get on credit from some storekeeper, who furnishes them with the bare necessaries of life on the off-chance of their finds. Most of the diggers, of course, have a find some time or other, though there are strange instances of ill-luck following the quest for diamonds year after year.

I had a conversation with one old man who had been at this sort of work for nineteen years, and I am afraid to say how long it is since he has had a turn of luck. He had lived nearly all this time on meal, and there he was toiling away at about the hardest work man can undertake, yet seemed willing to go on to the end. This labor, however, though heavy, has a wonderful fascination for those who once take to it. A very fine stone had been found a few days before my arrival. It was valued between seven hundred and eight hundred pounds. Toward the end of last month two brothers had a marvelous run of luck. They found stones to the value of over four thousand pounds in a very short space of time.

Pigeon Contests.

Flights of homing pigeons will be made daily from the exposition grounds next year between June 15 and September 1. These contests will be under the direction of the live stock department, assisted by the officers of the signal corps. Records of arrivals at the home coop will be made by officers chosen for the purpose. Aluminum tags will be fastened to each bird. Prizes of fifty dollars each and medals will be given for the swiftest flights to Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and neighboring cities. Special medals will be given to the owners of birds reaching Washington in seventy-four hours, Philadelphia in seventy-five hours, New York in seventy-eight hours and Boston in eighty-five hours. Prizes are also offered for the quickest flight of from one hundred to five hundred miles.

Not Too Much Gold.

Gold—not yellow, but the hue of the precious metal—yields the most satisfying color sensation of which the human retina is capable. It behooves the designer to employ it most sparingly, save where an effect of utmost splendor is aimed at. Unhappily many persons with no right to splendor desire to be splendid; everybody, seeing that society has become impatient of sumptuary laws, has a legal right to be as splendid as he can.

Every hackney driver on his cab, every publican on his premises, every publisher on the miserable cloth covers of his Christmas books, may vie with his neighbor and rival in the cheap and lavish use of what is the ideal of costliness and rarity in the fictitious display of what used to be the emblem of truth—pure gold.

The evil resulting from this is twofold. Gold has alike ceased to be used by the designer or regarded by the beholder with any reverence, for, taking excessive advantage of that property which makes it possible to spread it in infinitesimally thin layers, it is used to impart merit to faulty design and spurious value to cheap material. It is not a single jackdaw, but every contemptible or obscene bird, that flaunts itself in peacock's plumes.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Birds That Lay Four Eggs.

The spotted sandpiper and killdeer plover, and I presume most of the other snipe and plover, lay four eggs at a clutch. The eggs are arranged in the nest or on the bare ground with their small ends together, and as they are pyriform in shape they join in to perfection. The eggs of the snipe and plover groups are proportionately exceeding large for the size of the bird, and the saving of space by this arrangement undoubtedly answers a purpose.—Dr. Morris Gibbs in Science.

Those admirable economists, the Chinese, eat the chrysalides of silkworms after the silk has been wound off them, frying them in butter or lard, adding the yolk of an egg or two and seasoning with pepper, salt and vinegar.—London Tablet.

UNION COUNTY, N. J.

For the Year Ending May 9th, 1889.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen.—Your Committee appointed to settle with the County Collector respectfully report that after an examination of his books showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, they find that the same agree and are correct.

For the fiscal year ending this day his receipts and disbursements are as follows:

Receipts	$448,148 48
Disbursements	428,471 60
Balance in his hands	$ 19,676 88

Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. H. MOORE,
J. MARTIN ROLL,
Committee.

Dated Elizabeth, May 9th, 1889.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen.—I have the honor to herewith submit my report of the moneys received and disbursed by me as County Collector for the year ending May 9th, 1889.

The amount of taxes, as levied by the Board of County Assessors and raised by each city and township for the year 1888, was as follows:

Cities.	State School.	County.
Elizabeth	$48,[illegible] 79	$ 90,[illegible] [illegible]
Plainfield	19,180 60	39,[illegible] 75
Rahway	8,[illegible] 85	16,[illegible] 84
Townships.
Clark	717 94	1,424 00
Cranford	1,859 12	3,436 50
Fanwood	2,095 50	4,186 32
Linden	4,517 65	9,180 20
New Providence	708 60	1,410 80
Springfield	881 44	1,760 80
Summit	3,787 15	7,388 00
Union	4,883 14	9,368 48
Westfield	3,304 62	6,608 74
	$95,079 54	$190,000 00

In addition to the above there was assessed against the cities and townships named below the following amounts for interest on their portion of County Road bonds:

City of Elizabeth	$ 38 67
City of Rahway	178 73
Clark Township	198 80
Cranford Township	306 31
Fanwood Township	334 41
New Providence Township	108 47
Springfield Township	288 19
Summit Township	190 92
Union Township	1,317 96
Westfield Township	451 05
Linden Township	387 70
	$4,000 00

This County, in the apportionment of the State School Fund, received an amount equal to that paid to the State School Fund. In addition thereto Union County received from the Special State appropriation the sum of $4,388.17, which was divided among the cities and townships as follows:

Elizabeth	$2,073 [illegible]
Rahway	[illegible]
Plainfield	[illegible]
Clark	17 [illegible]
Cranford	[illegible]
New Providence	[illegible]
Springfield	[illegible]
Summit	171 [illegible]
Union	[illegible]
Fanwood	[illegible]
Linden	[illegible]
Westfield	141 [illegible]
	$4,388 17

Total amount of receipts from all sources	$448,148 48
Total disbursements	428,471 60
Balance	$19,676 88

Which is on deposit in the banks to the credit of the County Collector.

RECEIPTS.

Balance from last year		$ 20,361 00
State School appropriation		4,388 17
State School tax		95,079 54
Taxes from cities and townships		[illegible]
Taxation of railroads and canals, 1888		1,138 94
Miscellaneous accounts		2,[illegible]
Temporary loans in anticipation of taxes		80,000 00
Received from the following cities and townships for interest on money expended on County roads—
City of Elizabeth	$ 38 67
City of Rahway	178 73
Clark Township	198 80
Cranford Township	306 31
Union Township	1,317 96
Westfield Township	451 05
Summit Township	190 92
Linden Township	387 70
Fanwood Township	334 41
New Providence Township	108 47
Springfield Township	288 19
		4,000 00
Total receipts		$448,148 48

RECEIPTS AS SHOWN BY MISCELLANEOUS ACCOUNT.

From Charlotte G. Lyon, lunacy account Mrs. A. B. Lyon	$ 28 50
From Jos. T. Mead, guardian, lunacy account Adelaide Helvety	100 00
Proceeds sale 20 loads field stone	25 00
From W. Y. Redfern, fee for opening County road	5 00
From A. B. Winans, fees for opening County roads	15 00
From George Neill, justice fines	14 00
From A. Vanderbeek, sale old bridge material	9 90
From Jacob Davis, lunacy account J. L. Woodruff	72 00
From Stephen Baker, lunacy account Stephen H. Baker	103 45
From Chas. Spittlehouse, fee for opening County roads	5 00
From Chas. W. Dodd, jail fees	29 40
From J. H. Faulks, fee for opening County roads	5 00
From M. H. Stansbury, fee for opening County road	5 00
From T. J. Scott, justice fines	17 00
From E. D. Badgeley, sale old bridge material	6 30
From J. C. Hunt, sale old scrap	50
From Chas. W. Dodd, sale old material	4 12
From County Road Inspector Corbet	300 00
From E. B. Kelly, justice fines	21 00
From Vincent W. Nash, justice, fines	5 00
From Samuel Halliday, sale old bridge material	5 00
From John C. Blore, jail fees, junk and boarding	50 00
From J. H. & I. N. Faulks, license to open County roads	10 00
From Chas. Spittlehouse, license to open County roads	10 00
From W. H. Hicks, sheriff, fines	109 45
From W. H. Hicks, sheriff, prosecutor's fees	1,212 00
		$2,[illegible] 40

DISBURSEMENTS.

Court—
Salary T. F. McCormick, judge	$ 4,700 00
Salary F. C. Marsh, prosecutor	3,000 00
Salary F. H. Denis, clerk grand jury	300 00
Salary H. W. Knight, stenographer	1,102 50
Salary L. S. Hyer, judge	725 00
Salary Jas. T. Wiley, judge	720 00
Salary James Ritchie, court crier	900 00
Salary Edward Neuberger, court interpreter	600 00
Salary John Keron, county detective	397 00
Juries, constables and other expenses	37,000 90
		$50,[illegible] 40
Jail—
Warden's salary	1,250 00
Matron's salary	300 00
Jail physician's salary	250 00
All other expenses of jail	2,994 50
		4,[illegible] 50
Lunacy		20,[illegible]
Members' pay		4,[illegible]
Committee expenses		642 [illegible]
Salaries		8,100 00
Elections		9,172 65
Stationery and record books		2,[illegible]
Publication		1,351 40
School Superintendent's salary and expenses		1,[illegible]
Public buildings		5,107 47
Coroners		845 72
Burial of soldiers and headstones		639 75
John L. Crowell, county clerk, fees	1,198 67
Jas. J. Gerber, county clerk, fees	306 48	1,[illegible]
Expenses of county physician		285 00
Legal expenses		[illegible]
Postage and other petty expenses		[illegible]
Bridges—
City of Rahway	$2,776 78
City of Plainfield	2,015 76
City of Elizabeth	2,080 71
Townships—
Clark	28 73
Springfield	611 10
Fanwood	1,455 35
Cranford	1,071 85
Union	3,385 [illegible]
New Providence	460 16
Westfield	2,335 35

Coupons and interest on registered bonds	31,[illegible]
School orders, 1888	[illegible]
School orders State tax	[illegible]
Amount paid townships, their portion of railroad and canal tax, 1888	1,138 94
Amount paid Charity hospital, Elizabeth	1,000 00
Amount paid Charity hospital, Plainfield	500 00
Repairs of County roads	[illegible]
Temporary loans repaid	80,000 00
Paid for interest on temporary loans	543 95
Total disbursements	$428,471 60

Number of Voucher.	Amount Claimed and Paid.	Purpose.	To whom Paid.
1	$ [illegible]	Courts,	Henry A. Vliet,
2	[illegible]	"	Amos Moffett,
3	[illegible]	"	F. C. Marsh,
4	[illegible]	"	Oliver Childs,
5	[illegible]	"	Henry Smith,
6	[illegible]	"	Henry A. Vliet,
7	[illegible]	"	James A. Carey,
8	[illegible]	"	Jno. N. C. Marsh,
9	[illegible]	"	Jno. A. Steele,
10	[illegible]	"	Herbert W. Knight,
1377	9.00	"	Samuel Halliday,
1378	5.50	"	J. F. Hubbard,
1379	70.35	Members' Pay	M. M. Scudder,
1380	46.00	"	A. Vanderbeek,
1381	95.90	"	Wm. Howard,
1382	87.70	"	George Kyte,
1383	99.00	"	J. I. Winans,
1384	42.00	"	John A. Halliday,
1385	74.00	"	Samuel Halliday,
1386	98.75	"	J. F. Hubbard.

STATEMENT OF APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1889-1890.

For Court Account	$84,000 00
" Jail	6,500 00
" Lunacy	30,000 00
" Members' Pay, Salaries, etc	8,500 00
" Coroners	1,000 00
" Elections	9,000 00
" Stationery	3,000 00
" Advertising	2,200 00
" Incidentals, etc	7,500 00
" Charity Hospitals	1,500 00
" Payment of Bonds	30,000 00
" Interest and Coupons	34,500 00
" Interest on Temporary Loans	2,500 00
" Public Buildings	7,000 00
" Bridges and Culverts	21,000 00
" Repairs of County Roads	3,800 00	$200,000 00
Less Assets of County in Cash		$10,000 00
Total Amount to be raised by Taxation		$190,000 00

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE COUNTY, MAY 9, 1889.

LIABILITIES.

War Bonds, due 1891 to 1898	$127,000.00
Special Deficiency Bonds, (Product of 1882), due 1891 to 1899	33,000.00
Special Deficiency Bonds, (Product of 1888), due 1891 to 1908	42,000.00
Bonds issued for County Road purposes	300,000.00
Total liabilities	$502,000.00

ASSETS.

Cash on hand	$ 19,676.8

W. M. OLIVER,
County Collector.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—Dead cats and dogs are festering in Green brook.

—The Plainfield Outing club will dance and make merry at Vail's grove, July 4.

—The Jersey Central Railroad announces a change of time-table for June 25.

—Fifty-five half barrels of beer were disposed of at one Plainfield saloon last week.

—Thomas Brown still holds the highest record at the Hope chapel bowling alley. His score of 234 has n't been reached yet.

—Lillie Gable, who was taken away from her mother's home by her father, got homesick in New York, and has come back.

—People passing over the Elm street bridge frequently see German carp fully two feet long, playing in the water underneath.

—Street commissioner Meeker is leveling the ground, trimming the trees, and putting in good shape everything about the city park.

—The Scotch Plains stage collided with a hackman's rig at Front and Peace streets, Saturday night, but no material damage was done.

—Geo. E. Rogers, for several years in the Scott press works, has left that place and is now book-keeper at his father's famous seafood market.

—The Holy Cross church choir will go into camp at Merwin's Point, Connecticut, Thursday, June 29. St. Michael's choir of Naugatuck will join them.

—Three Plainfield young men of good family (one of them with an inheritance of $5,000) have gone to Chicago to live high till their funds give out.

—The courts of the Hillside Tennis club, which should be perfectly level, are low in places, and after a rain water stands in the hollows some time.

—The profit of the festival given by the Women's Relief corps, last week, was $42 44. This money will go towards paying for the new piano recently purchased.

—The second annual commencement of St. Mary's school will be held in Music Hall, Thursday evening, the 29th inst. An elaborate programme is already in rehearsal.

—The demand for tickets has been so great for the Young Workers' entertainment at Reform Hall, June 20, that it has been decided to engage the upper hall instead of the basement.

—The trial of policeman Giese's suit against his neighbor Miss Stoll, for $50 damage said to be caused by her chickens in his garden, was adjourned by justice Nodyne till next week.

—The water gate of the water company on Magnolia avenue, corner of Willow, has been removed three times within eight days, leaving a hole that horses are liable to step into at any time.

—The Union County Roadsters have a handicap bicycle race from Rahway to Westfield and back, every Saturday afternoon at 4, for prizes. The limit of start over the scratch man is four minutes.

—A three-year-old granddaughter of policeman Corsa strayed away from her home on Orchard place, Saturday, and not till twelve hours later was the little one found picking daisies near Grant avenue.

—The colored men of this city are arranging for a bicycle race over the Milburn course, to take place about July 1. James Babbitt, the colored politician, will offer a medal, and provide clam-chowder at the wind-up.

—The board of education will hold its last meeting before commencement next Monday evening. The meeting will be principally to audit the teachers' and janitors' bills and to make final arrangements for the closing exercises.

—George A. Moore and Walter N. Martin have most successfully opened their market in Miller's block, Cranford, and the people of that place are glad of the opportunity to buy at home the best meats, seafood, fruits and vegetables.

—Neuman Bros., grocers, at Watchung avenue and Fifth street, were robbed last Friday night. One of the firm thinks that when he locked the store a thief must have been concealed inside as there were no signs next morning of any forcible entrance. Considerable money was taken.

—The peach growers of the Delaware and Chesapeak peninsula, have issued a circular letter stating that the crop will be very large and the fruit fine. They call on the dealers at all accessible points to prepare at once to handle the crop.

—It is stated by the health authorities that there is no law under which they can suppress the Park avenue and Second street water nuisances. Then let the street commissioner take a hand. The city ordinances empower him to remove any obstruction or abate any nuisance in streets or gutters.

'OSTLER JO'S JOKE.

He Gave a Flippant York State Man a Taste of Scotch Plains Wit.

"Westchester at the post—Fanwood wins!" Such was the verdict of all who witnessed the following incident at Ilisley's Hotel, Scotch Plains, the other evening:

Three gentlemen, one of whom hailed from Westchester county, N. Y., while riding their wheels across country, stopped at Iliisley's for a little refreshment. As the Westchester man alighted from his wheel, he flippantly ordered the hostler to blanket his horse and give him a pail of water. With a laugh the party entered the hotel.

On emerging a few minutes later, what was their surprise to fine the three wheels neatly blanketed and surcingled and a bucket of water in front of that belonging to the man from Westchester.

The laugh was thus neatly turned; and the Westchester man, remembering he was in New Jersey, generously tipped the hostler, remarking that hereafter he would only joke with New York State hayseeds and not try again against Fanwood wit.

It is reported from Fanwood that Sunday evening Dr. C. Henry Doepel, of Westchester county, N. Y., escorted by Dr. Frank Herbert of this city and Alfred Zimmerman of Newark, passed through on their way to the latter city.

500 OF EACH SEX.

That 's the Exact Number of School Children in the Borough.

One of the most thorough and careful canvass of the school children in North Plainfield ever made has just been completed by Dr. W. E. Mattison. A noticeable increase in the number of children is shown, and some features and facts not generally given to the public are given by his report. For the first time the number reaches 1,000, that being the exact number. There are 128 attending private schools; 240 attending no school, and 110 still unvaccinated. Of the number 500 are males, and 500 female. The greatest number of one age is between 13 and 14, there being 89 each. The smallest number of one age is between 10 and 11, there being 60. The largest number of males of one age is at 9 years, there being 117; the smallest number of females of one age is at 15, there being [illegible]

PERSONALIA.

Mrs. Many, of 675 West Seventh street, is very ill with pneumonia.

Miss May Tomlinson, of LaGrande avenue, left for Lake George Tuesday.

H. K. Lavell and family are again residents of Plainfield at 1121 Putnam avenue.

Miss Taylor, eldest daughter of Morgan Taylor, Esq., of Washington Park, is seriously ill.

Miss Sallie Smith, of Phillipsburg, is visiting her uncle, J. T. Case, 11 Vine street, borough.

The engagement of Miss Jennie Tabor, of Dover, N. Y., and W. H. Sebring, of this city, is announced.

Mrs. John Allen, of West Fourth street, presented an eleven-pound son to her doting husband a few days ago.

Miss C. E. Clarke and Miss O. L. Runyon have gone to Cornwall, Litchfield county, Conn., for three months.

John T. Baker, of "The Chestnuts", has gone to "Ingleside Cottage", Southampton, L. I., for the summer.

A little daughter came Tuesday afternoon to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Long, of Summit avenue.

George Squires of Elizabeth is looming up as a possible nominee on the Democratic ticket for sheriff of the county.

Miss Annie Galloway, of Hoboken, is spending a few days in this city at the home of her sister on West Third street.

The students of Harned academy will give a reception at the closing exercises of the academy, Friday evening, June 16.

F. E. Marsh made a most dignified and able moderator over the sessions of the East New Jersey Baptist association in Elizabeth.

George Cheshire, of Duer street, North Plainfield, is happy over the advent of a son weighing ten pounds, who arrived Saturday evening.

Tickets for the High School Alumni reception may be obtained of Miss Edith L. Gilbert, Crescent avenue and Second place, before June 19.

Mrs. Fannie A. Sawyer, of Elizabeth, has returned to her home, after spending two weeks with Mrs. David Angerbauer, of West Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lyman and family have taken possession of their model new Colonial home, Mercer and Washington avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Adams of Sixth street East, are home from Old Point Comfort. Their return trip was made by way of Norfolk, Richmond, Washington and Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wooley, of Newark, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark and family, at their beautiful home in Washington Valley. Mrs. Wooley is a sister of Mrs. Clark.

Wm. M. Kissam, of Lafayette place, and Miss May K. Platt, of Long Island, are to be married June 28. Mr. Kissam has built a pretty little house on Lafayette place and the happy couple will begin housekeeping there after a short wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lindell and daughter of Missahick, Penn., spent Sunday with the Rev. Cornelius Schenck and family. Mr. Lindell was an officer in Mr. Schenck's church at Roxborough, during his pastorate there, before the clergyman came to Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murray have issued invitations to prominent citizens to visit their home Tuesday evening, June 20, at 8, to inspect the plans of the Y. M. C. A. building and devise means for raising the additional funds necessary for the completion of the project.

Architects and contractors have been engaged for the remodelling of "Oakwood", the former country seat of the late ex-mayor Evans, on Plainfield avenue. The work is being done for Mrs. Frank A. Barnaby (formerly Mrs. Evans), who will again occupy the place.

Miss Belle Barcalow, of Somerville, a sister of Mrs. Edward White, of this city, died at her home, Saturday. Miss Barcalow had been in Plainfield nursing her sick sister for some time past, and went home only a few days ago. Her death was sudden and a great shock to her many friends.

The Rev. Dr. True, who recently accepted the call to All Saints' church, Fanwood, held the first Sunday evening service last Sunday. Dr. True says he purposes holding similar services on the evenings of the second Sunday of each month during the summer, and expresses himself as much pleased with the large congregation last Sunday evening.

Prosecutor and Mrs. Charles H. Winfield, and Mrs. Hallen, mother of Mrs. Winfield, all of Greenville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schermerhorn. They took a drive through the city and surrounding places, and Mr. Winfield remarked that he had traveled considerably but that he had never seen a place that equaled Plainfield in beauty.

James Vandeventer, a widely-known fruit grower, died on Saturday at his home in Princeton. He is the grandfather of William T. Kaufman of this city. He was born in Somerville ninety-four years ago; was a student in Rutgers College and studied medicine in New Brunswick. When he was nineteen years old he opened Princeton's first regular drug store. He was a member of the State legislature in 1857 and built the first public building in Princeton. The arrangements for the funeral are not made.

H. E. Cramer, the handsome and accomplished Mayor of Elizabeth, Pa., has been in town the past two days looking after the interest of his wife's mother, Mrs. Rachel Tarbuck, one of the heirs in the Job Male estate, for whom he has power of attorney. He says that the estate is nearing a settlement, and that the Chancellor has now only to approve the apportionment of the property among the heirs. Mayor Cramer is a ready and interesting conversationalist, a well-informed gentleman, and a most pleasing acquaintance.

HER OWN GRANDCHILD THE FIRST.

A beautiful baptismal font of Mexican onyx has been presented by Mrs. Charles Hyde to the First Presbyterian church, and was used Sunday for the first time. It bears the inscription I. H. R. (I have risen). Six little children were baptized yesterday by the Rev. C. E. Herring. The first was Mrs. Hyde's own grandchild, William, son of Dorsey, and the next two were grandchildren of the church's first pastor, the Rev. Lewis Bond.

HER DIGNITY BECAME THE PART.

The New York Sunday Press says, speaking of the sight presented at the Collingwood Opera-house, Poughkeepsie, when young women of the classes of '93-'96 of Vassar College were playing "Antigone", the most exquisite dramatic product of that most exquisite of Greek poets and playwrights, Sophocles: "The house was packed with beautiful women and their escorts. * * * The Teiresias of Grace Webster Cooley of North Plainfield offered much of the solemn dignity and the lofty speech and bearing of the seer."

No Red Raspberries.

(Official Crop Bulletin.)

PLAINFIELD—The shower of the 8th helped a little, but more rain is needed; unless it comes very soon a short crop of hay will be the result. Lowest temperature, 46 deg.; rainfall, .045 inch. JOHN NEAGLE.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD—The past week has given about an average temperature; two very warm days and some cool nights. The [illegible] crop is not as promising as was expected. The rain on the 8th saved the berry crop, which is coming on nicely. One large grower reports "no red raspberry crop". F. C. [illegible]

—The [illegible]

HELEN FRENCH, VALEDICTORIAN.

"TO THE FRONT" WILL BE HER GRADUATING ESSAY.

14 Young Men and 14 Young Ladies to Receive High School Diplomas Next Week — Stephen Rushmore Salutatorian—No Other Essays.

The programme that has been decided on by the board of education for the commencement exercises of the High school at Music Hall, June 23, has been made much shorter this year than ever before.

The class petitioned the board through superintendent Maxson to restrict the speakers from the students so that the only ones who will be heard this year are Miss Helen T. French, valedictorian, and Stephen Rushmore, salutatorian.

Miss French will also read an essay entitled "To the Front", and Mr. Rushmore will give his views on various manly sports in a paper entitled "Athletics".

The Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards will deliver an address, and the music that will be scattered throughout the programme is to be furnished by the Seventh Regiment band from New York.

The entire programme, including the presentation of diplomas and prizes, is not expected to take over two hours.

Places will be reserved in the front rows for graduates and their particular friends, while other admittances will be by tickets.

There will be 28 graduates, 14 of each sex.

HYMENEAL.

Bodin—Milligan.

(From the Brooklyn Eagle.)

In the beautiful First Reformed church, Seventh avenue and Carroll street, Brooklyn, Harriet Amelia Milligan and Francis Edmund Bodin were united in marriage before a large assemblage, Wednesday evening of last week, by the Rev. James M. Farrar. The bride is a daughter of Colonel Edward W. Milligan whose country place is in the valley back of North Plainfield. Mr. Milligan is also well known in masonic and commercial circles of New York and Brooklyn. The groom is very well known in New York business circles. Promptly at 8:30, to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the church, meeting at the altar her future husband. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Lizzie Milligan, while the groom's best man was his brother, Charles E. Bodin. The bridesmaids were Miss Hattie Kleinfetter and Miss Hannah Ryan. The ushers were E. F. Glaze, Herman Wortmauer, J. W. Milligan and Charles P. Church. The bride was dressed in white bengaline silk, her veil of orange blossoms, and wearing chain and ornaments, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaids were attired in white silk, with diamond ornaments. Mrs. Milligan, the mother of the bride, was dressed in black satin, with diamond ornaments. The mother and sister of the groom, his father being unavoidably detained in England on a business engagement, were present. After the ceremony at the church there was a reception at which the newly married couple received congratulations. A wedding supper was served. Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Bodin left on a wedding tour, which will embrace the leading Southern cities. When they return they will make their home in Pelhamville, Westchester county. Among the many who attended the reception were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Spofford, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Major Charles B. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. David Doctor, Miss Doctor, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor, Miss Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley, Daniel Duval, William W. Fairchild, Henry M. Russell, W. Pierrepont Williams, Ebenezer Johnson, William Fair, Mr. and Mrs. DeGarno, Miss DeGarno, William Kennel, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bliyou, Theodore Bartel, Miss Rosie Bartel, Henry Rogers, of Washingtonville; Frederick Hortsman, Ephraim Compton, Colonel E. C. Spofford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milliken, Mrs. and Miss Ousterman, the Misses Harriet and Amelia Longstreet, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Miss Andrews, Miss Martha Gelbe.

The Gallant Major Will Make the Fourth Glorious.

Major Ackerman, of New Providence, has engaged the Plainfield Cornet band of this city to furnish music for the 4th of July celebration in that village. The exercises are to be of a grand character, the Summit fire department joining in the parade. Major Ackerman, who will act as marshal of the day, is one of New Providence's most honored citizens, and with the aid of the ladies of the Methodist church will undoubtedly make this year's celebration of the glorious Fourth, one long to be remembered.

MR. SCOTT'S INVENTION.

He Makes Another Great Stride in the Art of Printing.

PRESS readers are aware of the numerous inventions in printing machinery made by their townsman, Walter Scott. Recently he has been especially successful in perfecting and introducing color printing such as now used by the Inter-Ocean of Chicago, the Journal of Kansas City, the World of New York, and others. These machines print papers in four or five colors at a speed of from 15,000 to 24,000 copies an hour. Another machine of this kind is being constructed to print 40,000 per hour.

He has now brought out a multi-color lithographic machine, which prints several colors at one operation. The PRESS has examined samples of work from this machine which are equal in quality to work done on the single color machine. The execution is excellent. Thus another problem which was thought to be impossible has been solved.

President, George F. Brown.

A Christian society was organized in the First Baptist church, last Sunday.

The committee on constitution reported through chairman Harold Serrell, and the constitution recommended was adopted.

The nominating committee presented the following list of officers, who were elected:

President—George F. Brown.
Vice-President—George H. Batchelor.
Recording-Secretary—John McLaughlin.
Corresponding-Secretary—Miss Emily Corlell
Treasurer—Robert Love.

Copies of the constitution, topic cards and membership cards, were ordered purchased for the society, which starts with a membership of fifteen.

Good Officers Re-Elected.

At an annual meeting of the A. O. H., No. 4, held in their rooms, Park avenue and Front street, Thursday evening, the following members were re-elected:

President—J. F. [illegible]
Vice-president—F. Roughan.
Recording Secretary—E. Ryan.
Financial Secretary—M. Nugent.
Treasurer—P. Casey.

P. Casey is county delegate of the order in Union county.

A Graceful Recognition.

(Westfield Leader.)

J. A. Demarest, managing editor of Press, is said to be a candidate for the consulship at Basle, Switzerland. Inasmuch as he was the first to nominate Cleveland for a second term, and has [illegible]

Royal Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

BRUTAL OUTRAGE.

AN ITALIAN'S ASSAULT ON A DUNELLEN WOMAN.

Mrs. McFadden Nearly Killed for Defending Her Property—Her Head Crushed With a Brick.

Mrs. McFadden of Dunellen found an Italian stealing clothes from her line last Wednesday forenoon.

She attempted to stop him, and he cruelly beat her, finally striking her over the head with a brick.

Her condition is serious.

Police captain Grant of Plainfield was notified, and with sergeant Kiely started in pursuit of the fellow, who escaped with a horse and wagon.

They chased him nearly to Elizabeth, but his horse was better, and he got safely away.

The Italian is a ragpicker, age about 25. He had two companions in his wagon. All were Italians.

The police are on their track.

OH, WHAT A GAME!

There Never Was a Better Played Anywhere.

Those who saw the base-ball game on the Crescent Oval Saturday went wild with delight over the matchless fielding of both teams. The strong Trentons were defeated by the Crescents in one of the cleanest and best games ever seen on any diamond. At the end of each inning the kranks would say: "Did you ever see a prettier!" Such a game may be seen again Saturday, when the Crescents meet the Patersons for blood, and the afternoon of July 4, when the Trentons will be here again.

The score:

CRESCENTS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
Hofford, c	4	0	0	0	0	0	6	0	1
Smith, ss	4	1	0	0	0	0	4	2	0
McIndoe, lf	4	0	1	0	2	0	2	2	0
Turner, cf	4	1	2	1	0	0	2	1	0
Davis, 2b	4	1	2	1	0	0	1	0	0
Fritz, rf	4	1	1	0	1	0	1	0	0
Keenan, 3b	4	0	0	1	1	0	2	2	0
Jones, 1b	4	0	1	0	1	0	7	0	0
Sneden, p	3	0	1	1	1	0	1	2	0
		4	9	4	6	0	27	9	1

TRENTONS.

	AB	R	BH	SB	LB	SO	PO	A	E
Pearson, 3b	3	0	0	0	1	0	4	4	0
Uplander, lf	3	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	0
Vandergrift, 1b	4	0	1	0	1	1	10	0	0
Randow, p	4	0	1	0	0	0	4	2	0
Moulds, rf	4	1	2	2	2	0	2	0	0
Reichart, c	3	0	0	0	1	3	1	0	0
Vaughn, ss	4	0	1	0	1	0	1	9	1
Beham, 3b	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	2	0
Koeffler, cf	1	0	0	1	1	1	2	0	0
		1	5	4	6	4	27	10	1

BY INNINGS.

Crescents	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	—4
Base hits	1	0	0	2	0	0	2	0	4
Trentons	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
Base hits	0	0	0	1	0	1	1	1	1

Earned runs—Crescents, 2. Three-base hit—Fritz. Two-base hits—Turner, Sneden, Moulds. Double plays—Turner, to Jones. McIndoe, to Jones. First base on balls—Crescents, 1; Trentons, 4. Hit by ball—Sneden, Pearson. Wild pitch—Sneden. Passed ball—Reichart. Flies caught—By Crescents, 9; by Trentons, 7. Foul flies caught—By Crescents, 2; by Trentons, 3. Time of game—1:40. Umpire—Rudson.

A VISION OF RARE LOVELINESS.

Superb and Matchless Decoration of the First Presbyterian Church.

*Never was a Plainfield church more artisti*cally decorated than the First Presbyterian church Sunday. Along the entire platform, from the edge to the floor, hung a drapery of more than 30 yards of white corded silk, edged with gold, over which were festooned ropes of daisies, caught up with white satin ribbon. The communion table had a covering of white silk, and was literally covered with daisies. Grouped about the platform were immense vases of syringas, tied with green ribbon; baskets of daisies the handles of which were wound and tied with ribbon; beautiful white and gold pedestals, purposely made for this occasion, and on which were costly jardinieres containing the always-beautiful palms. There were also roses in profusion. Altogether, the whole effect of white and gold *was exquisite, and something long to be re*membered.

All this beautiful result was accomplished under the personal supervision and expense of Mrs. Charles Hyde, assisted in the arrangement by ladies of the church.

The decorations were to be photographed to-day.

Saved Herself from Violent Hurt.

In answer to many inquiries concerning the injuries reported of Miss Alice Coard consequent upon her being unhorsed last Friday, it is only just to give credit for her escape from hurt, to her first lesson from Mrs. Ohl at the riding academy. The horse she rode, from a public stable, was a most vicious one, bucking repeatedly, and resisting all attempts at restraint, although his owner "supposed him all right". Mrs. Ohl's instructions in this case had been wholly confined to the necessity and means of self-preservation in just such an emergency, and Miss Coard proved herself an apt pupil by availing herself of the knowledge and escaping serious injury by her agility.

Landed on His Feet.

Jacob Naylor, formerly a resident of this city, and another man by the name of Sprague, while engaged working on a frame building at Cranford, a day or two ago, narrowly escaped a severe accident. The two men were standing on the scaffold busily working when one of the brackets gave way, and Naylor fell the distance of twenty feet but luckily he landed on his feet, and after taking some "medicine" he was able to go to his home in Elizabeth. The other workman clung to the scaffold until a ladder was brought, and he came down in safety.

A BAKER'S DOZEN.

13 Graduates in This Year's North Plainfield Class.

The North Plainfield public school graduates will be Laura L. Emmons, Hertie Gaskill, Martha A. Humble, Sara J. Loizeaux, Kate W. Overton, Bertha S. Thorn, Frank J. Blake, Edward O. Clark, Henry B. Drake, George A. Horne, Thomas MacDonald, George B. Smalley and Dyckman Winckler. Their motto is "Rowing, Not Drifting!"

[illegible]

FANWOOD'S SUNDAY TRAMPS.

WHILE GOOD PEOPLE ARE AT CHURCH THEY RIFLE HOUSES.

But Judge Moore, Who Doesn't Attend Morning Worship, Proves Such a Terror to Evil-Doers that They Flee Their Camp in Terror.

Owing to petty depredations committed by tramps in Fanwood, particularly Sunday mornings during church hour, that town has been greatly worked up. But a Daniel has at last come to judgment, and in the person of judge Moore is putting an end to the reign of terror.

The good judge was out bright and early Sunday morning and intercepted one of the gentry soliciting from house to house. The tramp admitted that he could read, that he had seen the tramp notices posted about, and that a number of his pals were encamped in the woods near Benner's road-house.

The knight of the road was informed that unless they all left town forthwith, summary justice would be administered. The tramp was further told that the justice would visit the camp later and expected to find it vacated. The vagrant promised everything, and was permitted to depart. About two hours later, the judge, accompanied by constables Clark and Day, paid a visit to the rendezvous, and found the tramp camps, three in number, being dismantled, and the gentry quietly though sorrowfully departing. At 12:30, just as the people were returning from church, judge Moore received reports that the last tramp had left the township. And they probably won't come back—at least not if they know what's good for them.

A Love of a Bonnet, and Delsarte Drill.

A delightful entertainment was given in Assembly hall, Stillman High school, Saturday evening, under the direction of Miss Maude Bowers, by a number of her apt pupils. The hall was well-filled with people, who thoroughly enjoyed the following programme:

"An Old Sweetheart of Mine", Miss Helen Hasbrouck
"The Three Thunderbolts" Miss Florence Smith
"The March of Company A", "The War of the Roses", } Miss Margaret Rand
"The Minuet"……… Miss Marie Newman
"Jimmie Brown's Prompt Obedience", Miss Etta Raybert

DELSARTE DRILL WITH FANS.

Miss Elsie Van Zandt,	Miss Florence Smith,
Miss Margaret Rand,	Miss Etta Raybert,
Miss Helen Hasbrouck,	Miss Marie Newman,

STRING QUARTETTE.

Play entitled "A LOVE OF A BONNET."

Characters:

Mrs. Clipper	Miss Millie Langdon
Kittie Clipper	Miss Marie Newman
Aunt Jemima Hopkins	Miss Etta Raybert
Mrs. Fastone	Miss Margaret Rand
Dora Fastone	Miss Helen Hasbrouck
Katy Doolan	Miss Florence Smith

Summer Excursion Routes and Rates via the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The 1893 edition of the Pennsylvania Railroad company's annual book of summer excursion routes has just been issued. It is tastefully gotten up and presents in a most practical and comprehensive manner about four hundred popular summer resorts, from which excellent selections may be made for either limited trips or extended sojourns during the summer and early fall months.

The great variety of routes suggested, the complete schedule of rates, the graphic and exhaustive descriptions of the different places, the explanatory maps and the illustrations, make this volume a most valuable guide.

Copies of the book may be obtained at any ticket office of the Pennsylvania railroad on payment of ten cents; or upon application to the general passenger agent, Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia, it will be forwarded upon the receipt of twenty cents.

Twenty-Four Years Old, and Still Growing.

The Holy Cross church celebrated its twenty-fourth anniversary, and the sixth anniversary of the choir, yesterday afternoon at 4:30. Special music was arranged for the occasion under the direction of W. H. Miner, organist. Besides the regular order of service, the following selections were exceedingly well rendered:

"The Lord is Exalted",
"I Am Alpha and Omega".
"Magnificat"	Morley
"Nunc Dimittis"	Calkin

Calls, From Moses Up to Date.

The Mt. Olive Baptist Sunday-school held a very interesting Children's Day service in their church, last Sunday. The following was the programme:

Recitation—"The Children's Day", Miss Etta Kinslow

Moses's Call	Miss Anna Field
Gideon's Call	Miss Hattie Bailey
Isaiah's Call	Miss Maud Doyle
Our Call	Miss Emma Doyle
Consecration	Miss Betty Morris
Your Mission	Miss Alice Maynard
How to Do It	Miss Ida Conover
Praise	Miss Ella Randolph
Service	Miss May Kline
Cheerful Giving	Master Henry Kinslow
Address	The Rev. F. G. Warnick

A Cow Stops a Train.

A cow wandered on the railroad tracks near Netherwood, Thursday afternoon, and started on a run in advance of a local passenger train to New York. The cow ran at least two hundred yards, to a point near the pumping station, when Nick Myers and Joe Moncion ran out and drove it from the track. The engineer had by this time reversed his engine, and brought the train almost to a stop.

Woodman, Spare that Tree!

The Children's Day sermon of the Rev. C. E. Herring yesterday was eloquent and earnest. The text was John IV: 14. During his discourse he exclaimed "Woodman, spare that tree!" and emphatically condemned the cutting down of fine old shade trees going on in Plainfield. He referred to this two or three times in his sermon.

Spare This Giant Tree.

The deplorable feature of the widening of Watchung avenue is that the fine shade trees have to be sacrificed. There is one at the corner of Second street, however, that can and should be spared. The street committee should save it from the ruthless axe. It will be just at the curb line if left standing.

A Church for Richmond Street.

The Emmanuel Baptist congregation has acquired a lot on Richmond street, 150 feet east of Third street, 40x50 feet in size, and will build a church there as soon as the lot is paid for.

Inferior Goods.

The only safe way for purchasers is to insist on having the genuine article, and not allow themselves to be swindled by having plasters sold to be "just as good," or "containing superior ingredients," imposed upon them. These are only tricks to sell inferior goods that no more compare with ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS than copper does with gold. One trial of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS will convince the most skeptical of their merits.

The eminent Henry A. Mott, Jr., Ph. D., F. C. S., late Government Chemist, certifies:

"My investigation of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not found in any other plaster, and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster." [illegible]

NO ACIDS OPIATES ADULTERATION

Byram's Balsam of Honey,

During its Fifty Years or more of public service, has earned the distinction of being

The Standard Remedy

for Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, etc. May be given to the weakest infant.

25 Cents.—TWO SIZES.—75 Cents. AT DRUGGISTS AND GENERAL STORES.

YES It's PALATABLE EFFECTIVE SAFE

A MARRIAGE FOR MONEY.

THAT'S WHAT MRS. ALEXANDER WILEY SAYS IT WAS, ON HER HUSBAND'S PART.

Her Father Gave Little Money and Wiley Changed—She Was the Daughter of a Man Supposed to Be a Millionaire, but Who Was Not.

A divorce granted to Mrs. Agnes Wiley, wife of Alexander Wiley of this city, in Pueblo, Col., the other day, recalls a fashionable wedding which took place in Brooklyn on April 27, 1884. Miss Agnes Bethune, the daughter of the millionaire furniture dealer, at that time was married to Wiley, then and now a railroad broker, doing business at 57 Nassau street, New York. Wiley was considered a very fortunate man at the time, as his father-in-law, it was expected, would treat him handsomely.

After the wedding the couple left for Pueblo, Col., where Mr. Wiley made investments and entered the real estate business. During last February, while Mrs. Wiley was visiting relatives at 306 West Twenty-first street, New York, she received a marked copy of the Pueblo Chieftain, in which was a lengthy article headed "A Little Love Affair", which recounted the doings of her husband with a certain Mrs. George Foster. The article referred to Mr. Wiley as a gay Lothario.

Mrs. Wiley immediately sought the advice of her brother-in-law, Mr. Beaton. He engaged the services of lawyer Thorne and sent his sister to Pueblo.

Mrs. Wiley on arriving in Pueblo secured a room one block from her husband's home, and without his knowing that she was in the city watched his movements. She saw him riding with the woman referred to and secured ample evidence and had no trouble whatever in securing the divorce and alimony, but could not get a statement of her grievances before her friends. Her husband has circulated all sorts of rumors concerning her character, even going so far as to make the statement that he had never married her.

"My father died a year ago and did not leave much property," she said to a reporter. "When Wiley married me my father was very wealthy, and he supposed that he would receive money with me. When Wiley found out that no money went with me he began, from one week after we were married, a systematic course of abuse. He frequently chased me out of our house with a knife, and would not take me into society. During January of this year he frequently beat me, and on one occasion I only escaped from him by leaving the house during the night. When my father died and left no property, my husband's cruelty increased. He married me for my money and connections in this city, and when force of circumstances went against my father I believe he tried to get rid of me."

At the time of her marriage she lived on Jefferson avenue, near Reid avenue, Brooklyn, and her father's house was the center of a select social circle. He manufactured furniture and had a factory in New York and two in Brooklyn. Mrs. Wiley, when she left Brooklyn a happy bride, was a petite blonde, a splendid musician and a cultured singer. When she returned from Pueblo two weeks ago, she looked aged, so careworn was she.

All she has taken from her home in Pueblo was some jewelry, personal effects and a pet setter dog.

"SEIZE THE DAY!"

Pastor Schenck Urges the Use of Every Opportunity.

In Trinity Reformed church, Sunday morning, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor, preached a sermon of sweetness and power on "Carpe diem—Seize the day, and make the most of every opportunity". His text was "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth".

The evening service was as published in THE PRESS last week, with a stirring address by pastor Schenck.

The pulpit and platform were beautified by blooming plants, and vases and jardinieres of roses, tastefully arranged by a committee of Christian Endeavor young ladies of the church: Misses Mamie and Minnie Berg, Miss Etta Krymer, Misses Lizzie and Ella Dunn, and Miss Mabel Wilson, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Tier and Mrs. Krymer.

Warren Engine Company Orders for the Fourth.

North Plainfield, June 5, 1893.

The following members have been ordered for special duty from July 3 at 12 midnight, until July 5, at 6 a. m.:

Foreman J. J. Stahl, 12 m. July 3 until 2 p. m. July 4.

Foreman D. Bodine, 2 p. m. July 4 until 6 a. m. July 5.

Engineer W. T. Newman, 12 m. July 3 until 2 p. m. July 4.

Engineer P. Kellogher, 2 p. m. July 4 until 6 a. m. July 5.

Stoker L. Fehring, 12 m. July 3 until 2 p. m. July 4.

Stoker H. G. Adams, 2 p. m. July 4 until 6 a. m. July 5.

Pipeman J. D. Anderson, 12 m. July 3 until 2 p. m. July 4.

Pipeman D. C. Allen, 2 p. m. July 4 until 6 a. m. July 5.

Engine Driver F. Sender, 12 m. July 3 until 6 a. m. July 5.

Hose Driver T. McGann, 12 m. July 3 until 6 a. m. July 5.

All other members will answer alarms of fire with the same promptness as heretofore. By order of

G. H. FAIRCHILD, Chief.

J. J. STAHL, Foreman.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

PAPIAC.
(Boynton Beach,)
OPEN SATURDAY,
June 17.

TO PAY FOR THE PIANO.

The Woman's Relief Corps Give a Pleasant Festival.

The Woman's Relief Corps gave a very successful strawberry and ice-cream festival Friday night. The proceeds are to be used to pay for the piano which they have just secured. A short programme was given, consisting of piano, violin and cornet music. Miss May Graves played several choice selections, as did also Mrs. Buckley, George Fuller and Christopher Burnson.

A good sum will be realized from the event.

Following are the committees:

Committee of Arrangements—Mrs. Ann E. Dobbins, Mrs. E. K. Orr, Mrs. Jennie D. Smith.

Cake—Mrs. McVoy, Mrs. Angleman, Mrs. Woodruff.

Lemonade—Mrs. Mattox, Mrs. Huntington, Mrs. Rober.

Ice-cream—Mrs. Westphal, Mrs. McGee.

Social—Mrs. Brokaw, Mrs. Coriell, Mrs. Brewster.

Flowers—Misses Sadie Smith, Maggie Brewster, Lena Smalley, Laura Rodan, May Smith, Jennie Hargreaves.

CANNON'S MARKET MULBERRY MECHANIC STS NEWARK.

Cobbler-Seat Rockers

Quarter-Sawed Antique Oak.
Elegant Piano Polish.
Embossed Sole Leather Seat.
It will never wear out.
(SAME AS CUT.)

$4.90.

Would be Cheap at $6.00.

CARPETS!

Nowhere else can you be so well pleased both in assortment and price.

Matting • Special.
100 pieces Jointless Damask Matting
27½c. yard.
Regular 40c. per yard.

Plain Figures,
One Price,
Cash or Credit.

LARGEST HOUSE OUTFITTERS IN NEW JERSEY

An Open Letter From Clothing Builders to Clothing Buyers.

We make Clothing, you buy it. You buy Clothing ready made because it is cheaper.

There are different kinds of ready made. Have you ever investigated how different?

We show you the best that's made, the tailor made, the kind the tailor would make you to order.

In many instances you'll not be able to notice the difference in make between ours and theirs, but the difference in price will open your eyes.

The tailor's prices are about double ours and he furnishes you no better style, fit, finish, trim of fabric.

Why his big price?

He makes for the few; we for thousands. The wise and knowing are wearing OUR SUPERIOR CLOTHING and saving money.

See our grand line of SPRING SUITS between $10 and $30.

MC GREGOR & CO.,
850 and 852 Broad Street,
NEWARK, N. J.

WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION 1893
FERRIS' GOOD SENSE WAISTS.

Liberty of the body is the fundamental factor of health and beauty.

Ferris' GOOD SENSE Corset Waists

WILL NOT EXHIBIT at the WORLD'S FAIR, But are now ON EXHIBITION and FOR SALE BY all LEADING RETAILERS in the UNITED STATES.

Send for illustrated circular to FERRIS BROS.,
Manufacturers,
341 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Miss VANDEVENTER'S NEW STORE, 132 Central Ave.
CHILDREN'S OUTFITS MADE TO ORDER. A FULL LINE OF GOOD SENSE WAISTS.

Astonishing!

What $10 to $15 will buy in Men's Clothing—the kind we are offering. If you've never tried our rightly made Suits, suppose you test their fit and finish, just once. You can have back your money if you're not satisfied.

There's a peculiar feature about our grand center window display of Boy's Clothing. We always attach the price. We do this having no fear of being undersold. We make the market price.

Special sale of Children's $4, $5 and $6 Suits at $3.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,
Newark Clothiers,
779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.
3 23 3m

MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Railroad and Steamship Tickets.
REDUCED RATES
FRANK'S
345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.

Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.

WORLD'S FAIR CHICAGO TICKETS A SPECIALTY
3 13 6mos

Adapt Yourself To Spring.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball
807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.
3 22 3m-c

Fifty Years Ago
Ernest Gabler & Co.

Began to make Pianos; skill and honesty and good material went into every instrument. It has been so ever since.

When you buy a GABLER Piano you buy the perfect result of half a century of experience.

Experience and experiments have made the tone resonant, the touch smooth and sympathetic and the action perfect.

The large demand for the GABLER Pianos by the musicians of Newark and vicinity is in itself a guarantee of their quality. They are one of the few Pianos that NEVER WEAR OUT, and sell themselves. They have only to be seen to be appreciated.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY
657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, and Cures

CATARRH

[illegible]

DR. LEWIS WRITES ON SOCIAL PURITY.

AND EDITOR POWELL DISCUSSES THE DELICATE THEME.

Their Testimony Heard With Interest and Applause by the World's Congress—How Woman Discriminates Against All Feminine Offenders and Marries the Equally Guilty Man to Her Daughter.

Aaron M. Powell of this city presided over the World's Congress on Social Purity, in Chicago, and made a speech in which he referred to the license system which for a time prevailed in St. Louis by legislative enactment. He pronounced it a hideous failure. Omaha, which has a species of license system, was the next subject of the speaker's consideration. "Women in Omaha who are recognized as licentious are required to come up to the municipal office and pay a certain tax", he continued. "There the social evil is recognized as a business part of the municipality. The tax wrung from these victims amounts to about $24,000 per annum, and to ease the conscience of the municipal fathers it is devoted to the school fund of the city. That is their excuse. The tax in other cities is levied by bribing the police to permit it to go undisturbed. I can say this of New York. I do not know how it is in Chicago."

Mr. Powell then paid his attention to the age of consent as existing in the several States of the Union, the average of which is ten years. "That is the age fixed by law when a girl may part with her virtue but not her inheritance and the thief go unpunished", he said. He concluded with an appeal for woman's suffrage as one of the several elements vital to the emancipation of woman and the destruction of the social evil problem.

Speaking of the results likely to follow the congress, President Powell said:

> We expect first, just what we have done, to bring together a large body of people, delegates from our own and other lands that we may better understand the relations of this question, especially in its governmental aspect. We want to make known in America what is being done in Europe in regard to the system of licensing vice, and to guard against its introduction here.
>
> In regard to legislation we aim at raising the age of consent to 18 years in every State in the Union. In six States the age of consent is now 10 years. In this work we have made a good beginning. In 1885 when Mr. Stead awakened England with his articles on modern Babylon the age of consent in New York State was 10 years. An agitation was set on foot by our own society, the W. C. T. U. and the Y. M. C. A., with the result that the age was raised to 16 years. In Tennessee the other day the age of consent was raised from 10 years to 16 years and 1 day. In the States where the age is still low we are going to wage a vigorous campaign for the 18-year limit as the result of this congress.

Among the papers presented at the Congress was one that had been sent in by senator Tam, of Stockholm, Sweden, ably reviewing the social evil question as it presents itself in that country. It was read by Professor Edwin Lewis, who also read a paper prepared by his father, the Rev. A. H. Lewis, D.D., of this city, on age of consent legislation. Dr. Lewis favored stringent legislation with respect to various phases of the social evil. Age of consent laws and the double standard idea—he said—were a direct heritage from the ancient sex worship. Dr. Lewis asserted that seduction, rape, and procuration should be adjudged felonies, and punished as such. Also that prostitution should belong to the same category of crime, and that men who visited places of prostitution, or kept mistresses, should be legally adjudged prostitutes and punished as such. He said in closing he hoped to see the regulation system wiped off the statute books of the world before the century closes.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore said:

> Every mother must set up in her household one standard of morality for sons and daughters. There is no sex in guilt. If it is bad for a woman to get drunk it is bad for a man. It is as bad for a man to be immoral as for a woman. We say young men must be young men. They must sow wild oats. But we speak as if the wild oats would never bring a harvest. As God lives, whatever a man sows that shall he reap.
>
> Society will never be right until women get the ballot, and they sit in legislative halls and help to make laws in conformity with God's laws. [Applause.] It is the hand of woman that opens or locks the doors of society to men. With her white hand she sometimes keeps out her fallen sister, while with the same hand she admits the debauched man, welcomes him to her household, and if his bank account is large enough he may marry her brightest and most gifted daughter. [Applause.]

An Experienced Builder Furnishes the Figures.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—I noticed your schedule in Wednesday evening's edition of your publication, of new buildings now being erected in this city; and if the valuation you have placed on the others is no nearer correct than that placed upon the house I am building on Park avenue, you should cut down your figures fully 50 per cent., or else take down your sign "If it's so, it's in THE PRESS".

FRANK O. HERRING.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Is a positive cure for all those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life. Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Leucorrhœa than any remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. That

Bearing-down Feeling causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water. It removes

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility. Also

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and "want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus, or Womb Troubles.

The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book entitled "Guide to Health," by Mrs. Pinkham. It contains over 90 pages of most important information, which every woman, married or single, should know about herself. Send 2 two-cent stamps for it. For and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound is unequaled.

Kidney Complaints

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, 25c. [illegible] All druggists sell the Vegetable Compound, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00. [illegible]

LONGFELLOW FROGS WERE THEIR CHORUS.

BUT THEIR BRIGHT AND SHINING STAR WAS A PLAINFIELD BELLE.

Miss Caroline Randolph Was Queen of the Fairies, and Her Beauty and Grace Captivated the Cultured Boston Audience.

One of Plainfield's fair daughters was a leading participant in a unique and beautiful festival on the college campus at Wellesley, a few nights ago, when the annual open meeting of the Shakespeare society was held.

Concerning this charming event, one of the Boston papers says:

"The big college campus at Wellesley was the scene last night of a most unique and beautiful festival. The occasion was the annual open meeting of the Shakespeare society of Wellesley College, when one of the great master's plays was presented for the benefit of the public pleasure.

"The play selected for this year was 'A Midsummer Night's Dream', and surely never did Queen Titania hold her court in a lovelier spot. For the 'Shakespeare Society', with admirable taste, decided to let nature herself furnish the stage and setting for the delightful dream play. Nature, apparently, like the rest of her sex, appreciates a compliment, and did her best for the society.

"The velvety sod of the great campus, where all day the merry maiden athletes riot at tennis, seemed made for the twinkling of fairy feet. Where indeed could one find a more exquisite bower for a fairy queen than under the shadows of the great Wellesley oaks, and where could lie the direct route from fairy land if not across the silvery waters of gentle Lake Waban glimmering among the trees?

"The play began in the twilight, but as the darkness grew a calcium light threw its beams over the scene in the forest where the dainty fairies and bewitched lovers roamed. To add a crowning charm to the whole, the moon herself arose a little after 8, and proved a welcome guest at the fairy revels.

"In fact, no realistic detail was wanting. For the birds singing their good-night songs from their nests in the grand old oaks served the players for orchestra, and the frogs of Longfellow Pond were their chorus.

"The audience reclined on picturesque rugs and cushions in Oriental attitudes. The ground slope at the head of Longfellow fountain furnishes a capital audience room, resembling the ancient amphitheater. The actors walked on the stage in answer to their cues without curtain or call-bell, and disappeared among the trees behind certain leafy screens carelessly erected here and there. At 7 p. m. the audience were in their places, and waited, not for the curtain to rise, but for the dream to begin.

"The play was scarcely cut at all, and proceeded much in the order and style in which Shakespeare intended to have it.

"Among those who figured in the scene at the court of Theseus, Helena was especially well taken. This part was played with much feeling and tact by Miss Caroline Randolph, of Plainfield, N. J., a young lady of much beauty and grace. Miss Randolph is a very popular member of the Senior class, and has been elected one of the Senior Day officers. She made a most charming picture in her pale-green robes."

A CHANCE FOR LOCAL TALENT!

Elegant Prizes that Plainfield Riders Should Get.

The Union County Roadsters will give their sixth race meet on their new quarter-mile track at Rahway July 4. The track is 20 feet wide, with banked corners, and is very fast. Rahway is easy to get to, on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the roads leading to Rahway are macadamized, and make a delightful ride to the grounds. The list of prizes and events is as follows:

One Mile Novice, Safety—
- First prize, gold medal.
- Second prize, silver medal.
- Third prize, saddle.

One-quarter Mile Handicap, Safety—
- First prize, Crayon portrait of winner, (size 22x27).
- Second prize, gold watch.
- Third prize, sweater.

One-half Mile Handicap, Safety—
- First prize, diamond ring.
- Second prize, silver-toned banjo.
- Third prize, gold scarf pin.

One Mile 3-minute Class Safety.
- First prize, gold watch.
- Second prize, stop watch.
- Third prize, gold sleeve buttons.
- Fourth prize, bicycle stand.

One Mile Handicap—
- First prize, $125 full nickeled safety 22 lb. riding wheel.
- Second prize, diamond ring.
- Third prize, gold watch.

Don't forget, entries close June 29. The entrance fee is 50 cents for each event. For entry blanks address A. H. Chamberlain, Ch'n of Race, lock box, 55, Rahway, N. J.

ANOTHER JUNE BRIDE.

Miss Milligan Wedded to Francis E. Bodin.

The marriage of Miss Hattie A. Milligan, of Washington Valley, to Francis E. Bodin, took place in the First Reformed church, Seventh avenue and Carroll street, Brooklyn, on Friday. The church was filled with the friends of the bride and groom. Youth and beauty in its happiest vein came to see the two joined in marriage and listen to the story "so old but ever new".

The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, E. W. Milligan. She was preceded by the bridesmaids, maid of honor and ushers. As the bridal party entered, the organist played the beautiful wedding march of Mendelssohn.

A ripple of excitement passed over the feminine portion of the audience, as the word passed "Here she comes!" The ladies in the gallery crowded to the balcony rail, while those in the auditorium rose to their feet to catch a glimpse of the bride, who was more beautiful if possible than ever. The procession marched to the front of the pulpit, where they were met by the groom and his best man. They took their places before the Rev. J. M. Farrar, who in the usual form of the Presbyterian church made them husband and wife.

The father of the bride gave her away, and the bride and groom answered the usual questions in clear, firm voices. After the ceremony, the guests took coaches to Wilson's the caterer, where a collation was served and a reception held, after which all proceeded to the ball room, where, to the merry strains of sweet music, they danced the short hours away. The bride received many costly presents, useful as well as beautiful.

After the host of friends had congratulated the bride and groom, the happy couple went on a short wedding tour of two weeks through New York State.

A number of people from this section attended. The following served as aids:

Maid of honor—Miss Elizabeth Milligan.

Bridesmaids—Miss Hannah Ryan and Miss Hattie Kibenfelder.

Best man—Charles A. Bodin.

Ushers—E. F. Glore, H. Wortmann, James W. Milligan, C. F. Church.

They Have the Sale, at These Stables.

E. E. Rider, who has been employed with A. D. Thompson for several years, has bought out George Conover's interest in the Metropolitan stables, and they will be conducted as usual, by the [illegible]. Frank Hay, who has just [illegible]

UNCLE PETER'S GREAT MEMORY.

FOR YEARS IT CHERISHED UP AN UNRETURNED SPUD.

This and Other Matters Afford More Spicy Gossip for the Stroller's Column—Don Cory's Birthday—Other Borough News.

Allen Coddington is one of the borough's swift bicyclers.

Special marshal Mackey is doing night duty in the Park.

Winkelholz, the Grove street butcher, is an expert bologna maker.

Ed. Leland owns a pretty little property on Grandview avenue.

George Damler is anxious to retire from the hotel business.

Miss Perdue, formerly a borough school teacher, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Shepherd, of Emily street, is very ill. Dr. Carman is attending her.

Jake Kleiner's boy runs a stage to Mt. Bethel, making two trips each day.

Ex-mayor Cooley is a busy man, and it certainly agrees with him, as he is getting fat.

Geo. White, of the Park, is rapidly and continually acquiring valuable real estate.

Warren engine company's members are furnishing their parlors in a handsome manner.

Louis Schutt, of Duer street, has laid his old gun and fish line aside and gone carpentering.

Dr. Zeglio, of Warren township, has a very large practice in this vicinity. He deserves it.

Fishing parties now depart for the seashore and nearby ponds, and return empty-handed.

Marshal Pangborn rides his "bike" gracefully, and covers all sections of the borough daily.

A kid-glove factory is successfully managed in Washington Valley, North Plainfield township.

Richard McDonald, the faithful schoolhouse janitor, has now under his charge Grace M. E. church.

"Girly, girly graduate" is making great preparations for the approaching commencement exercises.

Counselor Neal, good luck to you! Here's a retainer for your first case in the Somerset county court!

Carney, the real estate man, says he will build a handsome office on a lot on Somerset street shortly.

Ex-councilman Charles Parkhurst Sebring is busy putting in a new electric light plant for Bound Brook.

The old township constable, Ralph Conover, of Jackson avenue, will be 74 years old on the 24th of next month.

Woodman, cut that tree, and keep right on up Somerset street with your axe, so that the street may be widened!

Will Emmons has done quick and satisfactory work in digging the cellar for the new additions to the school building.

Mayor Saunders's address in London is 114a Queen Victoria street, E. C., care of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill company.

Jacot, the restauranteur, has gone to Bay Shore, Long Island, where he has accepted a position as cook in a hotel.

Tom Malone, clerk at the Arlington, is well known at the upper end of the county, and has many friends in Somerville.

The members of the Cracker Barrel club are planning an excursion by stage coach to Spring Lake some time in August.

The balance of the street railroad gang of "dagos" was shipped as ballast via Fall River Line to Boston, Thursday night.

"Come over to Stine's with me, Maud, and gather wild strawberries", is the proper caper just now with some of the gay population.

Miss Eunice Morecraft fell through a show-case in Spencer's store, and, singular to relate, did not receive a cut or a scratch from the broken glass.

North Plainfield may surprise the Democrats of the upper end of the county by demanding the Senatorial nomination. We have the man, and we can win.

Theodore Cuff, who has been driving a horse and cart on Somerset street, is the leader of the Boulevard band. The music furnished put the electric lights out the other night.

"Pete" Seader, the indian-club swinger and long-distance runner, will take part in the Mt. Bethel Fourth of July exercises. He will also chase a greased pig from Cory's hill to Coontown.

Lyman Spencer has his horse "Don" Kimballed-Jacksoned so high that his head is way out of sight. Lyman, take, oh take that check-rein from the animal, like the good boy that you are!

Freeholder William Logan, of Bridgewater township, spent yesterday in the borough. Mr. Logan is a veteran of the New York volunteer fire department, and runs a truck farm at Adamsville, just back of Somerville.

Politics in our county is now a leading subject among certain persons, and you can hear of candidates for senator by friends of the different aspirants almost every day. Names prominently mentioned are James J. Bergen, Alvah A. Clark and Judge John D. Bartine. Any one of them is good enough to deserve the persimmon, but some other may get it.

Talking of memory, how's this! Over thirty years ago Uncle Peter Wooden loaned "Ran" Smalley a spud, an article to peal bark from trees with. It was never returned. Last Friday Uncle Peter had "Ran" help him, among others, in planting corn. When it came time to pay the men off, Uncle Peter quietly informed "Ran" that nothing was due him, as his day's work would settle up the old score of the spud. "Ran" had forgotten all about the incident, but gave way to the old gentleman, and says he does not want to work out any more ancient claims. So he guesses he'll retire for good from all kinds of toil.

THE STROLLER.

You have noticed that some houses always seem to need repainting; they look dingy, rusted, faded. Others always look bright, clean, fresh. The owner of the first "economizes" with "cheap" mixed paints, etc.; the second paints with

Strictly Pure White Lead

The first spends three times as much for paint in five years, and his buildings never look as well.

Almost everybody knows that good paint can only be had by using strictly pure White Lead. The difficulty is lack of care in selecting it. The following brands are strictly pure White Lead, "Old Dutch" process; they are standard and well known—established by the test of years:

"Atlantic" "Bradley" "Brooklyn" "Jewett" "Ulster"

For any color (other than white) tint the Strictly Pure White Lead with National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, and you will have the best paint that it is possible to put on a building.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere. [illegible]

NATIONAL LEAD CO.

WESTERN LITERATURE.

Growth of the Literary Movement in Chicago.

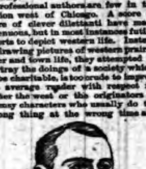
An Analysis of the Causes Which Have Hitherto Retarded Development—The Class of Works Which Is Making the West Great.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

One need not be a cynic to smart at many of the articles published during the past year on "Literature in the West" and "Literary Chicago." As a western man who takes pride in the literary development of the progressive section which has been his childhood's and manhood's home, the writer cannot but regret the publication and circulation of so-called essays and criticisms which extol one set of writers at the expense of another.

Not being a "literary" man myself—in the sense of being a producer of fiction, poetry or history—I have for several years watched, with considerable interest, the peculiar antics of the two principal factions of writers who make Chicago their "center." Candor compels me to admit that while I enjoyed the bloodless strife waged by the "elect," whose distinguishing mark is swallow-tail coats and decollete dresses, I have at times been brought to the verge of despair by the petty jealousy exhibited by the sack coat fraternity towards members of its own class. As long as this state of affairs continues, Chicago and the west will not occupy the place in the intellectual world to which the real merits of many of their authors entitle them. Not until individual work is recognized by all members of the literary profession, irrespective of the wearing apparel or previous condition of its producer, can the west expect to command respect in other sections of the country.

Professional authors are few in the region west of Chicago. A score or more of clever dilettanti have made strenuous, but in most instances futile, efforts to depict western life. Instead of drawing pictures of western prairie, river and town life, they attempted to portray the doings of a society which, to be charitable, is too crude to impress the average reader with respect for either the west or the originators of clumsy characters who usually do the wrong thing at the wrong time and whose sole consideration to notoriety is a heavy bank account.



EUGENE FIELD.

Although not a worshiper of Eugene Field, I think that his name will live for many years as that of the first western writer who recognized the importance of delineating western character with perfect truthfulness. His short stories are marvels of perfection, perfumed with the fragrance of the prairies. He ignores the mushroom "society" of western cities, the fin de siecle upstarts and plutocrats who firmly believe that money will buy anything, from a wife up to culture; and introduces to the world the men and women who have developed the west, whose honesty is not mere policy, whose faults are redeemed by their virtues.

Stanley Waterloo, too, has done much to make western literature respectable. In "A Man and a Woman" he presents some charming pictures. He has gathered together, with infinite patience and consummate skill, the various links which constitute the grand chain of the material development of Michigan and other northwestern states, and surrounded them with a literary filigree so delicate that one is almost pained to follow his hero into the mire of darkest Chicago and municipal politics. Taken as a whole "A Man and a Woman" is the strongest western story yet published, and one that is even more readable than the same author's exquisite "Odd Situation."

Opie Read, whose fame must always rest upon the delineation of southwestern character, has a natural aptitude for story-telling. His "Kentucky Colonel" and "Emmett Bonlore" are types of southern manhood. They are crude, like the country they inhabit, but they are sound to the core—faithful representatives of moribund southern chivalry and incipient southern progress. They will be of tremendous value to the student of the next century and the historian of the future. Read's southern stories will live, not because they are finished literary products, but because they reflect real life. The writer may be pardoned for remarking in this connection that Mr. Read's latest work, "The Colossus," a Chicago story, although full of bright ideas and, from a literary point of view, superior to his other works, is too conventional and narrow to add to the clever author's fame. The great southwest is Mr. Read's peculiar field. In it he has already found enough material to make himself famous. For the sake of the reading world it is to be hoped that he will continue to draw from Kentucky and Arkansas the inspirations which have made him dear to his friends and readers.

A western writer who does not receive the public attention to which his work entitles him is Mr. John McGovern. His "Daniel Trentworthy" is a story of great historical value. It deals with the Chicago fire and presents a graphic picture of the greatest calamity that ever befell an American city. Mr. McGovern has published over a dozen books, not one of which falls below the average standard, while two or three of them place him in the front rank of western novelists.

There are others who have done yeoman service in the up-hill work of securing genuine recognition for western literature. Mary Hartwell Catherwood, Miss Alice French, Hamlin Garland, Le Roy Armstrong, William Armstrong and others have contributed freely, ably and generously to the development of western fiction, and Ernest McGaffey, Charles Eugene Banks and one or two others have even succeeded in creating a demand for Chicago poetry.

According to a list which was recently submitted to my inspection, Chicago alone numbers among its cosmopolitan population nearly 800 persons who lay claim to "literary distinction;" that is, 800 individuals who have, at one time or other, written a book, a magazine article or a brochure on some more or less interesting subject. Most of the books are works of fiction of the conventional type, entertaining, but doomed to oblivion. Some were historical works of considerable merit, but not of such a nature as to entitle them to particular notice in an article on western literature, by which, in this article, I mean books devoted to the delineation of western life.

At the present time "Literary Chicago" is but an idle dream. But it must not be forgotten that the elements which make a [illegible] [illegible] west of the Alleghanies has been so phenomenal that eastern bookmakers will soon be compelled to protect their interests by establishing branch houses in Chicago for the publication of works appealing to the intelligent masses. Illiteracy is a vice almost unknown in the prairie states of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, and new armies of readers are constantly growing up eager to patronize and encourage the writers and publishers of good books.

STANLEY WATERLOO.

To centralize western thought a magazine is needed; and viewing this proposition from a business point of view I am inclined to think that the investment of $500,000 in such a publication in Chicago would prove profitable. Even now we have enough good writers to fill the pages of a first-class magazine and the recent black and white exhibition at the Chicago Athenæum demonstrated that we also have the artists to illustrate the articles. A magazine edited on the broad principle that a good thing deserves circulation, even though its author be a poor man, and an unknown one, would give a tremendous impetus to western literature and foster a fellowship among writers which is sadly wanting in existing conditions.

A revolution of this kind might, of course, be a serious handicap to the OPIE READ.

Sirs Oracle who now praise or damn aspirants for literary honors and the self-appointed critics who take a back seat at the terrapin suppers of the prudish and yet erotic patrons and patronesses of "drawing-room literature."

G. W. WEIPPIERT.

Could Do Better.

A story is told of a quaint citizen of Bangor in the early days whose love of pilfering made him obnoxious to the traders. One of them, a fish dealer, gave him a fine lot of fish one day, making a condition of the gift that he should refrain from stealing any. The party took the fish and went off apparently well satisfied with this kind of negotiation, but before long he reappeared and threw down the fish on the counter. "Here Mr. B——," he said to the proprietor, "I've brought your fish back, and I guess I won't trade with you. I think I can do better." And away he went, leaving the dealer still at the mercy of the world.

Railroads.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Perfected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 10, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

3.50 p. m. week-days, with through Buffet parlor cars and day coaches.

[illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.

J. R. WOOD, Gen'l. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, MAY 14, 1893.

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 7 [illegible] a m 11 43, 4 15 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

Long Branch, Ocean Grove, &c.

[illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 12,000 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—49 North Avenue.

Subscriber's Name	Address.
Alston Hotel, The	Park av and 5th st
Ames, C. J.	15 Crescent ave.
Alert Hose Co., No 1	Madison ave.
Ackerman, Mrs. J. H.	22 West 5th street
Adams, Dr D G	46 Grove st
Brakeley, F W	Dunellen
Brokaw, Isaac E	Bound Brook
Babcock, Geo H	8th and Union sts.
Barkelew & Dunn	13 North ave.
Beebe, W. C., M. D.	Cor. Front & Central Av.
Bunnell, John	Central ave. and 9th st.
Boehmer, J E	Park av and 2d st
Berg, Jos F, M D	10 E 6th st
Board of Education—6th st, 8th and Union sts
Booth, B E	22 Madison ave
	6th & Liberty, 6th & Monroe
Clark, E B	3 Waynewood place
Children's Home	Jackson ave.
Clawson, James T	Richmond and Front sts
Constitutionalist Office	5 North ave.
Cook, A D & Bro	Park ave and RR.
Cooley, Dr J B	Manning and Westervelt aves.
Cox, Rowland	[illegible]
Chapman, Mrs. F. A.	9 Third Place
Cruikshank, E. A.	126 Carlton avenue
Carman, J H, M D	46 Somerset st
Chase, D F M	Somerset st
Central Pharmacy, (J M Leggett, Mgr)	Park ave and Front st
Daily Press	3 North ave.
Depew, Mrs. E. S.	16 Crescent ave.
Day, Frank	60 W. Fourth st.
Davis, Dr T S	Cor 6th st & Park av
Day, E M	Rockview ave
Demarest, F M	27 Park av
Dumont, John B	23 [illegible] st
Decker, C—pay station	Westfield, N J
DeGraff, James	23 E 6th st
Deane, T O—Chief P F D	40 W 8th st
Dellner, S L	125 Madison av
Davis & Stevens, coal and wood	Office W Front
Endicott, Dr Geo W	Park ave. and 4th st.
Evening News, T. W. Morrison, Editor	7 Som't st.
Engine No 1	West 3d st.
Engine No 2	Front st.
Engine No 3	Somerset st.
Evans, Geo C	27 Washington ave
Fisk, Chas. J	20 West Seventh St
Fanwood, pay station	Fanwood station
Freight House	C. RR. Depot
French, F M & Sons	Somerset st.
Fritts, Dr J T	73 Park ave.
Fleming, Howard	36 Park avenue
Fisk, Pliny	6 W 7th st
French, C Frank	80 Somerset st
Grant, Geo W, Chief of Police	20 W 6th st
Goddard, C M	27 Third Place.
Griffen, A M	13 E Front st.
Gaston, M. D., W F	8th and New sts
Gilbert, A	Cor Central av & 8th st
Howell & Hardy	North Avenue
Heyniger, L	21 & 23 Somerset street.
Hegeman, R. A	107 Sycamore avenue.
Hodges, Dr. Ellis W	46 East Front st.
Hyde, Chas	141 Front street.
Hedden, Albert	4th st. near Park ave.
Higgins, M. A	70 East 6th st—25 North ave
Hetfield, John E	204 South 2d st—21 Park av
Harder, Francis C	125 Madison av
Hermance, O	Netherwood
Hoagland's City Express	29 North av
Jenkins, Dr. O. L	38 W. Front st.
Jones, Evan	13 Kensington st
Kirkner, J	6th and Division sts.
Kaufman, W T	60 W 7th st
Lowry, Rev Robert	Madison ave and 9th st.
Lovell, L N	Crescent ave
Lord, Wm A	Belvidere av
Loomis & Rice	No. 49 Broadway
Laire, J F & Co	3 W Front st
Linke, Frank	43 W Front st
Lounsberry, F C	19 Plainfield ave
Myers, J K	17 East 7th st
McGee, Henry A	Willow ave
McGee, James	Willow ave.
Miller, J G	16 E. Front st.
Moore, Geo. A	39 North ave
Muhlenberg Hospital	South ave.
Murray, Dr. Wm. H	107 Broadway
Matthews, Chas	40 Grove st
Pond Mach Tool Co	Boulevard below Grant av
Pierce Hardware Co	42 W Front st
Reed, Chas A	27 Myrtle ave
Milliken, E F	120 Central
Morrison, T W	11 Somerset st
MacDonald, J F	40 E Front st
Myers, Lawrence	E Front st
Netherwood Hotel	Netherwood
Newhall, Henry B	10 E 7th st.
N J Postal Tel Co	4 Park ave
Reynolds, H P	Park and North ave.
Reynolds, H. F	Washington avenue
Roberts, D B	17 North avenue.
Rockfellow, Geo W	Park and North ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	Park ave.
Runyon, A M & Son	48 Madison ave
Rushmore, Dr Edward	Park ave. near Fifth st
Rooms, Mrs J	Cor. Mercer & Sycamore aves.
Runkle, H. G	8th st
Runyon, Chas W	Park ave
Rice, R. W. & Co	7th cor. Emily and Duer sts
Randolph, L. W	Front st
Rogers, D W	W [illegible]
Rogers, E P Jr	24 Westervelt ave
Stover, E W	20 east 7th st
Serrell, Lemuel W	Front st. and Plainfield ave
Seguine, C. J	60 Front street.
Shaw, R J	Front st. opp. Park ave.
Strevell, A S	Prospect ave.
Smith, W P	Belvidere av., Netherwood
Shepherd, A D	Fanwood
Smith, Jas A	13 W Front st
Scott, Walter & Co	South ave
Smith, Chas A	Spring st., Westfield, N J
Steele, Irving G	Sixth ave
Terrill & Cole	16 E Front st
Thompson, A. D	20-31 North av
Talmadge, Henry P (Res)	Netherwood.
Thickstun, Jno A	Madison av
Titsworth, Joe M	20 W. 7th st.
Tomlinson, Dr T H	La Grande and E B'dwy
Tobin & Sneader	51 North av
Tracy, J Evarts	8th and Division st
Thorn, Alex	27 Somerset st
Tweedy, O. B	11 Crescent avenue
Townsend, Samuel	36 Rockview av
Thompson, A D	Prospect ave
Telegraph Office	Plainfield station
Thorn, E	75 W Front st
United States Express Co	5 North ave
Union Co Country Club	Cor 7th st & Arlington
Van Sickle W. J	10 North ave
Wharton, Clifton	17 Central av
Woltman, C	West Second street
Wadsworth, W B	8th and Liberty sts
Western Union Telegraph Company	at Depot
Wetchers, J F	W 8th st., near Grand ave
Waters, E, Ass't Chief	3d st near Washington
Westfield, pay station	Westfield, N J
Wotherspoon C G	146 E Front st

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

SECOND STREET, 2 doors above [illegible]

Mr. JOHN E. STEVENS, Horse-shoer, gives particular attention to Shoeing, Forging, Stumbling and Interfering Horses. Speedy Cutters stopped in an incredibly short space of time. Horses with diseased feet treated in a particular manner by experienced workmen.

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
Between [illegible] street and Park avenue.
First-Class Livery.
Horses Boarded by Week or Month.
Telephone call No. 31a.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

TO CHRISTINA SMITH:—

Take notice that application will be made to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey at the State House in Trenton, on Tuesday, the twenty-[illegible] day of June next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for a decree in the cause pending in said court, wherein [illegible]

TEACHING THE BLIND.

Description of the Modern Methods of Instruction.

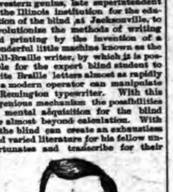
The Noble Work Performed by Prof. Frank H. Hall—Typewriters and Stereotypers for Sightless Students—Refuses to Have His Inventions Patented.

[Special Letter.]

Wonderful progress has been made in the last two or three years in the art of devising practical systems to facilitate the operation of writing and printing for the blind. As is well known the blind are forced to depend upon the sense of touch for acquiring knowledge of things external to themselves. They read by running the sensitive index fingers over a series of raised points or indentations in soft paper, each letter of the alphabet being represented by a certain arrangement of these points. Up to the year 1891 these points or indentations, known as Braille letters, for the reason that they were invented by a Frenchman by that name, were made by means of the Crandell tablet and stylus, a very crude device, with which the operation of "punching" the dots that constitute a Braille letter is tedious and laborious.

The Crandell tablet consists of two plates of metal, the upper plate being perforated with squares. A soft sheet of paper is placed between the plates and through the square perforations the blind student, by means of a stylus, punctures the paper forming the indentations or "points" of the Braille letters. Nothing could be more tedious than this process, and yet the rapidity acquired by the practiced hand was something remarkable. With this crude device the blind have struggled along, groping in the darkness, transcribing their thoughts and the thoughts of others with the sluggish stolidity of helpless children.

It remained for Prof. Frank H. Hall, a western genius, late superintendent of the Illinois institution for the education of the blind at Jacksonville, to revolutionize the methods of writing and printing by the invention of a wonderful little machine known as the Hall-Braille writer, by which it is possible for the expert blind student to write Braille letters almost as rapidly as a modern operator can manipulate a Remington typewriter. With this ingenious mechanism the possibilities of mental acquisition for the blind are almost beyond calculation. With it the blind can create an exhaustless and varied literature for his fellow unfortunates and transcribe for their delectation the choicest thoughts of the ripest minds.



PROF. FRANK H. HALL.

Prof. Hall in October, 1891, turned his attention to the invention of a machine for the use of the blind which would take the place of the slow and laborious stylus and tablet. He desired to invent a machine that would enable the blind to write with the same ease and rapidity with which one can write on the most modern typewriter. It was obvious at the outset that such a machine must be quite simple and easy to manufacture, thereby placing the cost within the limited means of the poorest of the class it was designed to benefit. Next, it must have power sufficient to emboss the points of the Braille system in perfectly sharp relief, and yet the touch must be easy, giving the greatest rapidity without fatigue to the operator.

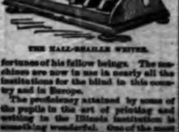
The general principles of the machine were soon formulated, and with the assistance of Mr. Sieber, a machinist in Jacksonville, the first crude model of the Braille writer was completed May 27, 1892, and June 7 it was exhibited, substantially as it is now built, to a large audience in Jacksonville. Even then a number of pupils in the institution had developed what seemed to be an almost phenomenal speed.

The machine has but six keys. Each of these, by means of a lever, operates a stylus. The styluses are grouped together, making the Braille cell. The plate through which they pass upward is horizontal, and is on the back and upper part of the machine, just behind the small roller shown in the cut. A "goose neck" is firmly fastened to the front casting, and passes over the roller, and ends in a small piece of metal in which are six cavities to receive the points of the styluses. The paper is coiled in the central part of the apparatus and moves from right to left with the carriage. The motion of the carriage is automatic, the releasing of any one key that has been depressed (or of all the keys or of the spacer) causing the carriage to move as far as the width of the Braille cell. The paper passes beneath the roller shown in the cut, between the tip of the "goose neck" and the plate which guides the styluses, and, when a line has been written out, upon a small horizontal surface, where it can be read. Indeed, as the tip of the "goose neck" is only a little wider than the Braille cell, all the writing done may be read at any time, except the last letter written.

As the six keys or any number of them can be depressed simultaneously, any Braille character can be written at a single stroke. As now constructed the size of letter and length of line are the same as the "Crandell tablet."

Soon after this Prof. Hall began a series of experiments in stereotyping from a paper matrix made on a Braille writer. From 200 to 500 copies could be printed from each of these plates before the metal would "go down" so much as to make the printing illegible. But to cement the backs was an unpleasant and laborious task; and the print, after the first fifty impressions, was not as high as was desired. These experiments led to the construction of a machine by which a heavy sheet of copper was substituted for the tin-foil, and this gradually led to the substitution of brass and tin sheets, all of which receive the Braille indentations and form printing blocks from which thousands of impressions may be taken.

The first successful stereotype-maker was produced January 4, 1893. Since that time the machine has been in daily use at the Illinois institution for the blind. Nearly all the teachers and several pupils have learned to operate it. Errors can be easily corrected, the machine does not get out of order and the amount of work that can be done upon it is a pleasant surprise to all. Prof. Hall refused to have either of these inventions patented, not wishing to be placed in the attitude of attempting to derive profit out of the misfortunes of his fellow beings. The machines are now in use in nearly all the institutions for the blind in this country and in Europe.



THE HALL-BRAILLE WRITER.

The proficiency attained by some of the pupils in the art of printing and writing in the Illinois institution is something wonderful. One of the most remarkable pupils in this institution is Master Bernard Owen.

He was born in Paris, Edgar county, Ill., March [illegible] His father, [illegible] H. Owen, was in comfortable circumstances, and while he was not over indulgent, as is often the case in the treatment of blind children, he provided the boy with all that was necessary to make his life pleasant and took more than usual pains in his physical development. Bernie did not attend school until he entered the Illinois institution January 7, 1892. Although he was at that time nearly nine years of age, he would have passed for a boy of seven. It must be remembered that the number of perceptions obtained by a blind child are necessarily but a small fraction of the number obtained by the child blessed with the almost miraculous faculty of sight. Moreover, the muscular exercise of the boy with sight is much more vigorous and continuous than that of the blind boy. Therefore both the mental and physical development of the sightless child are apt to be, especially in early life, somewhat retarded. As a rule, indeed, blind children seem younger than their years indicate. When Bernie entered school he had never "seen" an embossed letter of any kind. From hearing his brothers spell he had memorized the letters of perhaps a dozen words. There was a piano at his home and he had learned to play a few chords.

He has been in the institution a school year and two months; that is eleven months in all. He is reading in the "sixth point reader" (corresponding in grade to an ordinary fourth or fifth reader) and has completed the "first line reader" (ordinary raised letters) and reads new matter readily; he writes the New York point; indeed, he wrote letters to his parents in this system before he had been in school three months; he reads and writes the American Braille, using the Braille writer with ease; he recognizes the pitch of tones from a piano and readily names the keys that are struck, even when two, three, four, five or six keys are struck simultaneously, and this whether the tones produced are harmonious or discordant; he plays nearly one hundred pieces of music on the piano and nearly fifty on the violin; he learns some of his music by hearing it played a few times and he has learned several pieces from copies printed in the Braille Musical Notation; he reads his music readily at sight (touch) and when he had been in school five months he sang before an audience of six hundred people a simple piece of music that was entirely new to him, reading it from the embossed characters; he is able to tell with very slight hesitation the day of the week and of any day of any month in 1892 or 1893. This last accomplishment he acquired without any instruction, and it was some time after it became known that he was able to do this before his teacher could learn the mental process by which he arrived at the desired result.

THE HALL STEREOTYPER.

Bernie is one of the twelve pupils selected to attend and take part in the exhibit of this institution at the World's Columbian exposition. The Illinois state commissioners, after sending a committee to observe the exhibit which the managers of the institution proposed to make, set aside six thousand dollars to be used for this purpose. The exhibit will be found in the Illinois state building, second floor, east end.

THURMAN A. DE WEESE.

VERDI'S GREAT WORK.

"Falstaff" Is Pronounced the Composer's Masterpiece.

One of the "Grand Old Men" of Europe—In His Seventy-Ninth Year Now, But as Bright and Capable as a Young Giant.

Our century has been kind to the veterans in the various walks of life, and poetry, science, politics, art and music each boast their famous devotees who have passed the septuagenarian line. In the realm of music, the great Italian maestro, Guiseppe Verdi, recently, and in his seventy-ninth year, has given to the world an opera whose brilliancy of conception, masterful force, perfect technique and richness of popular sentiment rise above those of his former creations. It takes a place among the grand productions of time. Haydn was renowned for the production of his "Creation" and the [illegible] Wagner gave the world his best conception when 68; at 73 Verdi brought out his first tragic opera, and at 79 produces a comic opera which has won universal plaudits.

The striking character of Verdi's "Falstaff" is the originality of both plan and execution. The aged artist, long since a master of the old school of musical expression, and a consistent teacher of its methods, has broken away from its lines, and with all the trenchant style, poetic fire and concentrated vigor of a man in the zenith of strength and activity leads the way into new paths, and raises higher the standard of musical interpretation. At an age when it is presumed a man ceases to develop mentally or to be capable of the assimilation of new ideas and methods, Verdi has shown himself as alert intellectually and as quick to master new principles and popular sentiments as the most brilliant of the younger school, and he is the acknowledged head of the modern Italian school. "Falstaff" is a comedy in the full significance of the term. There are eleven parts in the opera, that of Sir John Falstaff being played at its initial performance in Milan by Victor Maurel. This character is the central figure of the story and is upon the stage most of the time. The change of style in Verdi's works first was noticeable in "Don Carlos," and continued in "Aida," the "Manzoni Requiem," and "Otello," and finds its culmination in his "Falstaff." Much of the change in the latter production is creditable to Sig. Arrigo Boito, the noted librettist, in whom Verdi found a collaborator worthy his accomplishments, and one whose assistance gave inspiration to his efforts. Boito is thoroughly versed in stagecraft, and his libretto, an adaptation from Shakespeare, is rich in poetic sentiment, dramatic incident and lively action. The work throughout is concise and admirably balanced. In "Otello," the tragic opera, the libretto is occasionally made subordinate to the music, but in "Falstaff" the music is made only to embellish the poetry regardless of its own effect. The orchestration is excellent, the charming smoothness and coloring producing a delightful effect.

GUISEPPE VERDI.

Musical history gives the first opera heard in Europe as "Daphne," performed in 1594. It was at once pronounced an "unnatural drama," and was the object of much ridicule and criticism from people who maintained it absurd that the actors should sing instead of speaking their lines. At that time it was a bold experiment to attempt to revive in modern Europe the Greek drama, but the "Greeks," as they were called, held their way courageously, and in fifty years the opera was the favorite form of music in all European countries.

Destruction of American Birds.

Mr. John Worth, in the Nineteenth Century, gives some striking facts about the rapid extermination of the birds of North America. The advent of the plow and the frame hut of the settler is gradually driving the feathered tribe from its old haunts, and what nests are spared by the plow are only too often destroyed by prairie fires. The heath hen used to be seen in autumn in packs of from 100 to 200 birds each; now the number in a covy rarely exceeds six or eight. The sharp-tailed grouse and the wild turkey will soon follow the bison and the moose into the animalia of the past. Prof. Roney asserts in the Chicago Field that in some of the vast breeding colonies alone some 1,000,000,000 pigeons were "sacrificed to Mammon" during one nesting season, and, even allowing for exaggeration, the extent of the slaughter is beyond question. The remedy is not easy to seek. Mr. Worth suggests an act of congress to prevent bird destruction throughout the United States.

For His Spiritual Good.

Mrs. Figg—Laura, the way you are treating that infatuated young Mr. Timmins is positively shameful. Why don't you give him a definite answer one way or the other? I should hate to think that a daughter of mine should ever be called a coquette.

Laura—Really, mamma, it is for his own good. As long as he is in such a state of uncertainty as to where he is [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS | MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.
2-26-y

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.
Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1893. No 25.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

Rates of Advertising

[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.
Double cols. 50 per ct. advance of above rates.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—[illegible]

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 122, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES E. THEISS,
Dentist,
10 West Front street. A new local anaesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—[illegible]

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 180, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 91 E. Front street, corner Sim street.

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front, Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc., satisfactorily performed.

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.
TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES,
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping, Plumbing.
Heater Work. Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6.

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class, sanitary and workmanlike manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and guarantee [illegible]
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 9 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.

Jas. M. Dunn,
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS,
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE.

ESTABLISHED 18 6.
C. E. & J. W. BROWN,
[Successors to O. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.]
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,
Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 84.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods or baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves, Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 13 Somerset St.

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HANKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York.

WANTED.
Honest energetic men to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
(Successor to T. J. Carey.)
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—16 W. FRONT ST.
Large Covered Vans or Trucks. Goods delivered to any part of the U. S. [illegible]

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B. EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
U. O. D. CIGAR.
The best 5 cent cigar in the State, and made of the pure leaf from the Havana. CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
SEGARS!!
No. 38 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials,
of every description.
Tobacconist for "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with the best popular brands constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 16½ W. Front street, to 41 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. S. WOOLSTON, J. F. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
ARTISTS' SUPPLIES. 28 NORTH AVENUE

G. Dickinson
Optician
13 Park Ave
Plainfield N.J.

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be
Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes, Menus,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything.
WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building).
PLAINFIELD N. J

FARMER WAGENER'S WILD VISIONS.

HE WON'T TOUCH A SCHEME UNLESS A MILLION'S IN IT.

Just Now He Wants $4,000,000,000 to Repair What a D. L. and W. Railroad Brakeman Has Impaired.

Farmer Jephtha A. Wagener, from over the mountain, is almost a daily visitor at THE PRESS office, with some scheme to ventilate. He recently sued the Delaware Lackawanna and Western railroad company for $8,000,000 damages for being put off a train in motion at Stirling Station, N. J., and got a verdict of $100 from a farmer jury, and now he is in a fresh peck of trouble. He declares that the lawyer who engineered the case for him kept the $100 as payment. Mr. Wagener's accident happened in this way: The brakeman pushed him off just as the train started, fearing that he would be killed if he wasn't put off. Wagener had caught hold of the railing of the rear car and attempted to board it. This was in October last.

Farmer Wagener visited the Exchange place offices of the company yesterday with a view of getting an official answer to this letter, in which, it will be seen, he has raised his original estimate of injuries just 500 fold:

I wrote you last week to learn if your company would make me any proposition for a settlement for bodily injuries Oct. 28th, 1892, 7½ o'clock, at Stirling station of which I did sue for and obtain $100, by a jury in which your company owned with my lawyer this 100 will not pay my injuries nor all the money your road cost for money cannot repair my injuries that you have impaired I prefer to settle these injuries without any further litigation or 30 days delays asked for by Superintendent Reasoner who your Co. have referred me to to continue to browbeat me out of my legal claims. It is for your roads interest to settle for my injuries without delay or any further litigation I rest for an answer on receipt of this if you will settle for my injuries.
JEPTHA A. WAGENER.

$4,000,000,000 will not repair what your road has impaired. I have council who will prosecute when you refuse settlement.

Mr. Wagener has a suit for $900,000 damages against the company which has been pending for five years, for the alleged loss of a lawn mower that he says never reached its destination. He has offered to compromise if the company will invest in his patent fertilizer, which he says will make the sterile Hackensack meadows a blooming garden spot. Superintendent Reasoner did not give Farmer Wagener an answer. Wagener made the reasonable request that settlements of any future suits of his for damages should be made with him direct and not with his "council". The old gentleman was very chipper. He is satisfied that a sense of the fitness of things will force President Sloan to award him some part of the $4,000,000,000. He is working on his fertilizing scheme anew.

PLAINFIELD MARTINS ELOPE.

A Pair of East Front Street Favorites Mate and Fly Away.

An interesting sight has for the past few days been presented to pedestrians on Broad street, says the Elizabeth Journal. Attention was first called to the flying in and out of the hood of the electric lights, corner of Broad and Jersey streets and opposite East Grand street, of a pair of pretty martins, both of the same color, and apparently male and female. They are believed to have come from Plainfield, where there is a large colony of them.

On examination it was found that in the lamp at corner of East Jersey street they had constructed a snug nest composed of mud and clay. The nests are well made, and as the men hauled down the lamps the birds, which are safely stowed away behind the well and firmly made walls of their homes, stick out their pretty, dark blue heads and chirp "peep", "peep", and evince no alarm. They are an industrious little pair, and above the rays of the brilliant arc light they sit in their nests and are frequently seen in the bright glare to be repairing their domicile.

Yesterday morning they were noticed picking up mouthfuls of mud from Broad street and flying away with it to their retreat. Here they cling to the sides of their nest, and by dint of hard work they poke their bills filled with mud to the sides of the long nest and keep poking at it until the mud is laid as smooth as if done by a plasterer.

When the material is laid to their satisfaction, both birds aiding each other, they fly back and bring another supply of material.

Years ago when the old Sheppard hostelry, which stood about where the west bound station of the Central railroad now is, scores of the ingenious birds were cared for by the proprietor, who caused a place to be built for them to make their nests. This was in the sixties. Since then the birds have not made their appearance until within the past few days.

POTTER WORKS INCORPORATED.

The Management the Same, But New Life Instilled Into the Business.

The business of C. Potter, Jr. & Co., has just been incorporated under the title of the Potter Printing Press company. The officers are:

President—Charles Potter.
Vice-president—H. W. Fish.
Secretary—D. E. Titsworth.
Treasurer—J. M. Titsworth.

The company's announcement says:

"The management of the business will be in charge of the same persons as under the former regime, and the only difference will be an added zeal and determination to maintain the high standing of the Potter Press, and to lead in the production of the best printing machinery.

"We build web printing and folding machines, flat-bed perfecting presses, stop cylinder, two-revolution, drum cylinder and lithographic presses. We also furnish the only successful cold type stereotyping process and the machinery for the same.

"There are distinctive features in our presses which place them beyond the reach of competition and which are worth the fullest investigation."

A Professor to Preach for Them.

The South Bound Brook Reformed church has extended a call to the Rev. Mr. Marshon, who so acceptably preached to the congregation last Sunday morning. This rising young minister will begin his duties about August 1. Mr. Marshon is about 27 years of age, was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary last year, and is now the pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Wyalusing, Pa. He has been elected Professor of Languages in Princeton Seminary.

Sure to Be a Go, with Hand and Runyon in It.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the Union county clerk by the Mutual Land and Building syndicate of Lorraine, the incorporators of which include J. D. Runyon and Chas. H. Hand of Plainfield.

JANITOR CLARKSON SUED

HIS CARELESS SHOOTING LIKELY TO BE COSTLY.

Mrs. Henry, Who Was Struck by His Bullet, Wants $5,000 Damages.

Papers were issued Friday in a suit for $5,000 damages caused by the accidental shooting of a woman. Thomas Clarkson discharged a rifle or revolver at a mark in his back yard. Mrs. Henry, whose house is in the rear of the Clarkson residence, received the bullet in the back of her neck. It was one of those remarkable hairbreadth escapes which seem providential. She lost a great deal of flesh and sustained a severe nervous shock from which she says she never expects to wholly recover, but the hole through her neck has closed up and apparently is entirely healed. The suit was brought through Craig A. Marsh and will be defended by Jackson & Coddington.

OLD JOHN SEABRING ON A TRAMP.

He Says His Relatives Were Trying to Cheat Him Out of His Inheritance and He Decided to Leave Them, Especially When His Brother Gave Him More Whitewashing to Do.

The most curious specimen of humanity the third precinct has seen for many a long day was brought in early Thursday morning by officer Farrell—says the Newark Advertiser. He had been found asleep on the meadows, and as he sat in the officers' room finishing his interrupted nap he looked exactly like Rip Van Winkle or some backwoodsman of long ago brought suddenly back to life again.

Long gray beard, worn, ill-fitting clothes, shoes which he afterwards said had served in the Southern army, and a long natural-wood stick made up his accoutrement.

Amusing as he was while asleep, he was even funnier when he replied to the questioning of Captain Daly. John I. Seabring is his name and he comes from Millstone. He ran away, intending to join old comrades at Bound Brook, but got lost and wandered on to Newark.

"Pa, he left $60,000," the old man said, "to us seven children, and now the rest is a trying to cheat me outer my share. Tim, he gave me an ole hemlock board to whitewash the other day, but I thought I'd had whitewash enough, and so left, but I suppose the folks will look like a barrel of vinegar when I get back."

Then the old man told of his life and habits and observations of the world, which were infinitely amusing. He had once had a sweetheart named Delia Ann, but she died twenty years ago. He knew still, he said, "some charming Jane Louisas, and it wa'n't nothing to be ashamed of ei'her".

His personal habits were above reproach, apparently, for although he confessed to a fondness for tobacco, he denied entirely any partiality for applejack, and said he should never cease to regret his debauch on two and a half glasses of sweet cider.

But the thing that seemed to grieve the old man's heart more than anything else was the bigotry of political partisanship in Millstone. "Why", he exclaimed, excitedly, "Si VanFleet said the other day he'd sooner his daughter married a nigger than a Democrat, and I argued with him most all night, but it wa'n't no use. They's good Democrats—some—and they's very good Republicans; but I says if they's goin' to be so strenuous about politics they'd better let the whole thing drop".

In this way the old man rambled on for over an hour, amusing his audience by his cleverness no less than by his quaint expression of it. He finally settled himself to write to his brother "Ike", and as this was a very difficult and careful task, he was left to his own devices.

CAPT. MARTIN WILL APPEAL.

He Winked at the Jury and They Resented It.

The case of F. L. C. Martin vs. Annie Miller came up in justice Nash's court Thursday afternoon. Counselor Craig A. Marsh appeared for the plaintiff, and judge Coddington for the defendant. The facts in the case are that Mr. Martin rents a store at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, of Miss Miller, and the contract in the lease called for the proper heating of the same, which the plaintiff claims was not fulfilled, and that from the 18th of April to the 4th of May his business was severely injured thereby. In fact, he claims that his loss would average $25 a day, and that there were times when he was obliged to close his store.

When plaintiff was on the stand, he evidently felt uncomfortable, for in answering questions, he continually winked at the jurors or those in the audience. On being asked his reason for doing so, he replied "for pleasure". That he did not help his case by such actions, the result shows, for after a trial of some length, the jurors retired and in a short time brought in a verdict of "no cause for action". Mr. Marsh will appeal.

Mr. Marsh took the verdict as a matter of course, and remarked that justice's court verdicts do n't settle anything. The whole thing has to be tried over again on appeal before another court and another jury at the county seat. Justice Nash's charge, he said, was perfectly fair to both sides.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRY.

The Lactose Company Now Busy Making Milk Sugar Out of Whey.

The extensive additions, alterations and repairs that have been in progress for some time at the South Plainfield Mill property have been nearly completed. The machinery was set in motion and work was begun, Monday, May 29, and the process of converting whey syrup into the purest kind of milk sugar is now in full operation. The equipment for utilizing the waste products and converting them into food for poultry, dog biscuits, and lactose vinegar are not completed.

The opening of this new industry is quite an advent in South Plainfield, and is bringing into life and utility a valuable property which has long been neglected.

The American Lactose company was incorporated in December, 1892, and owns valuable cheese factories in Western New York.

The company will be pleased to have the residents of Plainfield and vicinity inspect the refinery Saturdays after 1 p. m. Every courtesy will be shown by superintendent Charles Fortsch, or by resident director Albert R. Manning.

Park real estate is in demand. Lots are continually going up in price, and no houses go untenanted there.

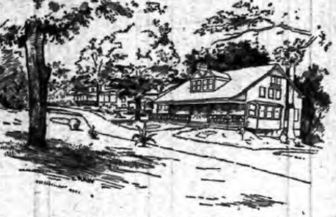
'MID PLAINFIELD HILLS

SUCH RAPTURE THRILLS AS LEAVES THE SOUL ENCHANTED.

Satin-Browns Glow, and Glories Glow, Till Heaven Seems Quite Transplanted. While Nestling Arms of Glenside's Charms Woo You the World to Sever, Nature Distills Ecstatic Rills; Drink, and You Live Forever.

JUST a short drive from Plainfield city is a most delightful nook where once stood the "Deserted Village" of Feltville. You all know it—you who love Nature in her choicest moods—as one of the daintiest morsels she has wrought for man to feast his senses on. Driving past the stately homes of East Front street, and through the ancient village of Scotch Plains, you find, a short distance beyond the comfortable country-seat of Warren Ackerman, the millionaire lime-king, a smoothly macadamized road that curves gracefully over the range known as First mountain. The manifold glories spread out at your feet from the summit would alone repay you for the climb, but there is more beyond.

Shooting down the abrupt descent, you find yourself in a narrow valley whose beauties are like a cluster of brilliants shut in amid divers precious gems. The emerald of the hills, the azure of the sky, the silver of the winding streamlet, the balm of the atmosphere, the repose of the seclusion, bring peace to the troubled soul, and tranquility to the disquieted heart. There is a yawning chasm in the First mountain, a rough and rockbound gorge whose depths give forth a cool and gushing spring. Here you may drink a nectar fit for the gods, and the glen you may explore at leisure, somewhat to your profit, and considerably to your pleasure. There is juicy and refreshing grass for your horses, till you are ready to start on again, and then you may gain an eminence on the Second range, above the rooftops of the industrious mill along the stream, and there feast your eyes on the modern model park of Glenside.



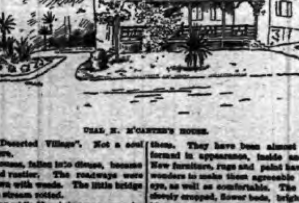
THE CLUB-HOUSE AND COTTAGES.

The cottagers here have a most divine spot of rest and recreation. Pleasant and inviting depths are at their feet, attractive and boundless heights are above them. From their very doors slope the broad meadows of the mountain side, up toward the summit, and beyond is the everlasting blue.

How the horses and the wagon bowl along over the smooth hard driveway past the cottages! You have all been over the road many a time, and laughed at the antics of the young people's playmates, the bright and funny little donkeys; you have envied the Glensiders their happiness in this gardenspot so well removed from the busy world. And now a clever newspaper artist has written and pictured faithfully this bit of fairyland, and through the kind courtesy of the enterprising and progressive Newark Advertiser these columns are to-day enabled to reproduce the story and the pictures:

Special Correspondence of Newark Daily Advertiser.

GLENSIDE PARK, June 12.—Something like half a century ago David Felt established a hat factory here, three miles to the west of Summit. He erected a large frame factory near the banks of a rippling spring, and upon the high country overhanging it built a dozen or so small houses for his factory hands. Little by little the business fell away until thirty-five years ago it was given up, and a Dr. Townsend, of New York, bought the property for the purpose of manufacturing paper. But after a score of years he turned over the land and buildings to Warren Ackerman, of Plainfield, and from that time until 1886 the place was known as the "Deserted Village". Not a soul lived there.

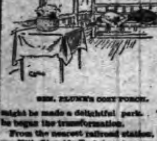


UZAL H. M'CARTER'S HOUSE.

The houses, fallen into disuse, became rusty and rustier. The roadways were overgrown with weeds. The little bridge over the stream rotted.

One day while Mr. Ackerman was inspecting this property he wondered why it could n't be turned into a summer resort for a dozen congenial families. The houses were small and old-fashioned, but they could be renovated. Magnificent old trees shielded nearly every piazza from the sun's rays; grass and clover and wild-flowers grew luxuriantly; across the stream was a great gorge, extending far up the side of the mountain, where some giant force of nature had ripped the hills apart. This gorge was enshaded on either side by tall pines, maples, oaks; over and under and between the rocks that formed its bed, a mountain stream riotously leaped and sang and laughed and roared. Cooling breezes swept up and down the charming valley that extended far to the westward towards Plainfield.

Mr. Ackerman said to himself that it might be made a delightful park. Then he began the transformation.



GEN. PLUME'S COSY PORCH.

From the nearest railroad station, Murray Hill, Glenside Park is not more than a mile distant. You can get a carriage at the station if you ask the ticket agent, who seems willing to do anything in his power. He is a valuable man to residents of Glenside. He procured a nice vehicle for us, to-day, and a driver whom he did n't introduce, but whom the artist decided was a Methodist, he was so solemn. Quarter of a mile from the station the grounds begin of Carl H. Schultz, a New Yorker, who made himself a millionaire by selling mineral water.

"That there man has eleven children", said the driver, "an' I should think he 'd find hard work to keep track of them all. He owns about 800 acres of land hereabouts, and don't want to sell a foot. For why? 'Cause he don't have to. That's a good reason. This here 's his own house—he stays there all winter now—and the new one going up back there is the eldest son's. Beyond across the road is the house he built for his eldest girl. You kin luk through the trees here most anywheres and your eyes 'll light on a house he put up for one or the other of the children."

"Whose is this fine house?"

"That 's where Mr. Schultze keeps some of his servants. The building cost $20,000. A lot of the other help sleep in the laundry building yonder."

On we drove for another mile when we went down a steep hill and found ourselves before an open rustic gate which bears this sign:

PLEASE SHUT THESE GATES.

But we did n't; we went right on past the lodge.

The roadway was hard and smooth and free from dust. A short distance beyond the lodge, on the left side, stands a building of two stories, upon one corner of which is a cupola.

"That there used to be the church", said the driver, pulling up his horse; "they pray downstairs now and serve the devil upstairs on the second floor."

"In what way?"

"By holding social hops there and dancing", he gravely replied.

That remark made the artist think him either a Methodist or a New England Puritan.

We had left the church far behind now, and were still bowling over the fine road. A sweep in it brought to view the collection of eleven houses which Mr. Ackerman rents for the summer season, and the pretty, new building in the center of the group which is used for dining-rooms, kitchen and servants' quarters. A view of the last-named building is herewith given, showing also parts of three cottages, the first of which is occupied by Judge Depue's family, and the third by that of W. H. Peck.

As may be imagined, these and the other cottages are by no means in the condition in which Mr. Ackerman found them. They have been almost transformed in appearance, inside and out. New furniture, rugs and paint have done wonders to make them agreeable to the eye, as well as comfortable. The turf is closely cropped, flower beds, bright with blossoms, are scattered about, rustic railings guard the roadways and paths, below which are deep ravines. Here and there are summer houses and rustic seats, and shrubbery is abundant. Glenside Park is a summer resort not to be lightly mentioned.

The cottagers other than those mentioned are Gen. Plume, J. C. Downing, Uzal H. McCarter, A. B. Ayres, Ernest Munn, Mrs. John Miller, and Sydney N. Ogden, all of Newark. Mr. McCarter's summer home is sketched herewith, and a corner of Gen. Plume's piazza.

Plainfielders to Pray and Orate.

In arranging for Bound Brook's Fourth of July celebration, the Rev. L. B. Goodrich was chosen to offer the opening prayer, Robert Elven LeMonte to read the Declaration of Independence, the Rev. T. E. Davis to give the historical address, and the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis to deliver the oration.

[illegible] Gun Club.

At a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday, the shooting committee announced that they had arranged for a shooting tournament to be held on [illegible]'s shooting grounds, near Fanwood, Wednesday, June 28, commencing at 1 p. m., sharp. Live birds and inanimate targets will be furnished in abundance.

LIFE IN THE BOROUGH.

WHAT THE STROLLER FINDS TO TALK ABOUT.

Landslide at Smalley's—A Stony Brook Lake Advocated—Job Coddington's Weed Party—Lots of Strawberries, and the Price Is Coming Down—Washington Valley Delights—Fishing by Search Light.

Widen Somerset street!

The work on the new school building goes merrily along.

A speak-easy is run Sundays up at Washington Rock.

The Warren Mission chapel is to be lighted by electricity.

Patrick Egan, of Mountain avenue, is assisting on road work.

David Lowrie, of Greenbrook, is busy with his truck farm.

Ex-sheriff Coddington is improving his Somerset street property.

Clarence Brokaw, the electric light inspector, is doing good duty.

The borough needs a bank. How many shares of stock do you want?

James Lynch is doing a brisk business at his new blacksmithy near Coddington's mills.

J. W. A. Bauersachs, the letter carrier, has purchased a neat cottage on Manning avenue.

Jacob Snyder, of Salvation Army fame, is peddling poke greens about the streets every day.

Merry-go-round on the hillside, with a harmonica chorus, is one of the latest attractions.

A debate on the Sherman silver bill is being agitated between Casper Ebener and Sine Goon.

"Darkest North Plainfield" is in Race street. It is becoming overrun with colored people.

About 400 tons of stone of its own accord slid down in Smalley Bros' quarry the other day.

Special marshal James Stewart fell from a ladder the other day and nearly broke his neck.

Harrison street, Bull Frog City, is being put in fine condition by street commissioner Gavin.

Somerset street needs more rolling, and a light dressing of crushed stone. And it needs it at once!

Power for the Dunellen electric lights is furnished from the North Plainfield station on Race street.

Eight members of the Cracker Barrel club say they are going to the World's Fair early in September.

William L. Smalley, of Craig place, will reach his 75th birthday the 12th of next October. He is in good health.

The North Plainfield Electric Light company's "hurry-up" wagon has lettering on its sides big enough to be read four miles away.

In a few more days, unless Somerset street is dressed with fine stone, it will have to be raked again and the loose big stones carted away.

A large number of farmers of Warren township are rushing in their strawberries these days. Prices will be lower, as there is a big crop.

Bill Giddis says the best way to tell where the best apples are in an orchard is to look around until you see plenty of stones and sticks underneath and up in the tree.

"Wally" Heideloff's histrionic ambitions are about to be realized. He has joined an anvil chorus, and will play cymbal solos on a patent medicine wagon in the fall.

John C. Berry, of Craig place, who has great-grandchildren, is in his 87th year, and is still hale and hearty. He has been married sixty-three years, and his wife is still a very active woman.

Abel Stewart, whose seventy-sixth birthday takes place next Christmas eve, has just finished putting a substantial walk and curbing about his neat little cottage, corner Park place and Vine street.

An ex-official has often promised to give the village statesmen an outing. What 's the matter with taking them up to Baskingridge? Charley Moore would take care of them after they were landed there.

Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, jr., of the Park, will be the next candidate for mayor by the Republican party, if shoestrings lace up all right. Mr. Hegeman is a gentleman, a scholar, and a righteous good citizen.

Why don't the authorities open up Duer street at the upper end? There is only a short distance to open, the land is owned by one individual, and the extension would meet the part already opened beyond that point up to Fritz avenue.

A feasible scheme, and one that would be of eternal benefit to the borough, is to lower the bed of Stony brook from the Sanitarium on down through John F. Wilson's land some eight or ten feet and use the gravel and stone taken therefrom to put the Grove street extension in good order.

The street railway people promised mayor Saunders before his departure for Europe that they would clean Somerset street thoroughly, but they have failed to do so. Instead, the borough authorities have raked all the stone off of the street, and carted it away. The company should be made to pay for this work.

An invigorating drive just now, for an evening, is up through the beautiful Washington Valley. The many well-kept farms seated in the lap of the two mountains are indeed a sight to behold. Fragrant natural perfumes fill the air, and the brass-band hum of the mosquito is missed. A drive through this section is a sure cure for dyspepsia and the blues. Everybody likes nature, and up there she reigns supreme.

I met Job Coddington the other day, and he informed me that he had been so busy fishing in the Raritan that the weeds had the best of everything that he had planted. But good-natured Job has a scheme, and he hopes it will work. It is to invite one or two friends up to visit him and then set them to work at the weeds. He says that is the way he used to be treated when he was invited to spend a few days on a farm in the good old long ago.

Jack Haberle and Firm Godown went spearing for fish last night in Stony brook. Jack carried an axe, and Firm toted a calcium light. They not only frightened all the fish in the brook but they scared old John [illegible] nearly to death. Lights and shadows flickered all about Green brook for hours, and had anyone blown a horn the inhabitants would surely have thought the judgment night had arrived. As fishermen and pretended lovers of the fishy tribe the twain are urged to decide in using search lights when in pursuit of the innocent [illegible] was little put fish.

A progressive euchre party is an event soon to take place in the Park.

Wm. Messersmith, of Jackson avenue, is raising strawberries as large as horse-chestnuts.

Rutgers V. Cadmus, of Greenbrook road, wants the electric railway to pass his property.

This town is being overrun with cheap life insurance solicitors. Where do they come from?

A new hose company composed of active young men would be an acquisition to the borough.

A squeaky, panicky melodeon is being pounded to death by its owner, and its demise is anxiously awaited by its nearby neighbors.

Edwin T. Phillips (Edwin Varrey) is at his well-stocked farm in Washington Valley after a busy theatrical season with Joseph Jefferson.

Dan Sutphin intends giving an open-air concert in his barn at an early date. The prices for stalls, soap-boxes, etc., are suspended for the present.

A. J. Winckler, the builder, is erecting two cottages on Steiner place. This makes ten houses owned by Mr. Winckler, and they run up as high as $10,000 in price.

A few members of the Cracker Barrel club have made arrangements for the use of a fishing smack for a few weeks. They will start from Sewaren, and will be absent five days.

THE STROLLER.

HARRY WINS THE MATCH.

And Another for $100 a Side Is Immediately Scheduled.

There was a goodly attendance of sports from Elizabeth and Plainfield at Campbell's club-house, Thursday, to witness the shooting contest at live pigeons between Harry Campbell of this city and Aaron Woodruff of Elizabeth.

The match was for $50 a side, at 15 live birds each, single trap, each man to handle and trap for one another. Campbell shot a 12-gauge hammerless at 28 yards, and Woodruff a 10-gauge at 30 yards. Campbell won the match easily, killing 13 out of 14 to his opponent's 9 out of 15. The winner really killed all his birds, as his second one fell dead about one foot inside the back boundary line. The following is the score:

Woodruff.......... 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 0 1 1 0 0
Campbell.......... 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 *

William M. Parker, of Elizabeth, and Chas. Smith, acted as judges; and Frank Lamott and Dan Terry as handlers. After the match there were interesting sweepstake matches at live birds and inanimate targets.

Another match was immediately arranged between Messrs. Campbell and Woodruff, to be shot at Tremley Point, near Rahway, July 13. The match is for $100 a side, at 25 live birds each.

After the shooting was over, there were interesting games at quoits and an exciting foot race between two prominent citizens, the distance being 30 yards. "Edd" won in both heats, despite his age. He won in all contests he entered into.

Each Programme Bore a Rose.

Their last social of the season was give in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church Friday evening, a very large audience being present. A pleasant feature of the event was the informal and happy method in which everything was conducted.

Small cards containing the programme, with a rose attached, were distributed as favors.

The Rev. C. E. Herring, pastor, was master of ceremonies, and announced the various numbers, as follows:

Duet—"Etoile de Lyn",
Miss Herring and Miss Remsen
Recitation—Selected.................Miss Staats
Piano Solo—"Brier Rose"....Miss M. Vermeule
Vocal Solo—"Marry". "The Pigs Went to Market"......................Miss Weaver
Recitation—Selected.................Miss Staats
Solo and Chorus—"Lovely Roses",
The Misses Bessie Blair, Vermeule, Petrie, Herring, Blair, and Messrs. Tom Blair, Charles Hamilton, Frank Flannery.
Miss Bessie Blair sang the solo part.

After this pleasing entertainment, the ladies served ice-cream and cake, and all participated in a general good time.

Off for Chicago.

Next Friday the first of Mr. Honeymon's tours to the World's fair starts from Plainfield at 7:48 a. m. by the Royal Blue Line and B. & O. Among those going are president DeWitt and vice-president Amerman of the First National bank of Somerville, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn of the same place; postmaster and Mrs. Ronl, of Raritan; Mr. and Mrs. William W. Smalley, the Misses Cook and Mrs. Tappen and daughter, of Bound Brook; the Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Hoelsche, of Glen Gardner; the Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Cadwell, J. W. Pierson, V. O. Burtis, Mrs. H. Walncke and daughter, Miss Dullman and Miss Littell, of Westfield; the Rev. and Mrs. George H. Payson, of Rahway, and others from various points to the number of between forty and fifty. Mr. Honeyman states he has accomodations for about four more. A much greater number has been booked for July 7.

Country Club Tennis.

Invitations are out to-day for a lawn tennis tournament of gentlemen's singles, to be held on the courts of the Union County Country club, Saturday, June 24. The entries will be by invitation only, and no entrance fee will be charged. The play will begin promptly at 2, and the winner will receive a prize.

A Sprightly Octogenarian.

Isaac Titsworth, of Dunellen, celebrated his 80th birthday, Tuesday, June 13. Mr. Titsworth is enjoying good health; and, although his sight is not as good as it used to be, he is able to go out and around alone.

They Wanted No Tenement.

The Miles property at Sixth and Sycamore streets, lately purchased by Runyon & Hand and on which they intended to erect a row of tenements, has been sold to the property owners in that vicinity, who got together for the purpose.

Howell Division Sums Up.

The once flourishing Howell Division, Sons of Temperance, is no more, and some of the older members are about to organize a lodge of Good Templars here. The trouble originated over the dismissal of one of the members, who appealed the case first to the Supreme Council of the State and then to the National Council. The latter body ordered her reinstatement; hence the difficulty. Most of the furniture owned by the division has been bought in by the members.

A Sad Affliction.

The Bound Brook Democrat says of Miss Belle H. Barnelow, sister of Mrs. Edward White, of this city: "She was an amiable and bright young lady whose loss will be severely felt by her family and many friends".

The Constitutionalist.

W. L. FORCE, | A. L. FORCE

Editors and Proprietors.

HOLE DIGGING.

It is a dangerous thing to dig a hole wherein to bury an opponent.

Many political wiseacres have tried that experiment to find themselves tumbling headlong into the very pit they had artfully dug for others.

Trickery may excavate, but honesty can readily fill up and smoothly level.

The last House of Congress came within a few votes of repealing the Sherman silver law. Blended with the majority against repeal were a number of Republicans who so voted, not conscientiously, but for the purpose of putting President-elect Cleveland into a financial hole.

It was partisanship run mad.

Digging a hole for President Harrison's successor simply because he was a Democrat.

President Cleveland is not in a hole and won't get into one.

He will fearlessly discharge official duty regardless of every hole-digger throughout this broad land. Dirt heaving has no terrors for him.

He is determined to execute faulty laws bequeathed by the Republicans until Congress can amend or abolish them.

He will endeavor to preserve at all hazards soundness of money and the public credit, and do everything within his power to protect the best interests of the people.

He treads the solid ground of public confidence.

GLORIOUS PEACE.

The British House of Commons, without a dissenting voice, has agreed to a motion favoring the negotiation of an Arbitration treaty with the United States.

That means the submission to impartial and peaceful arrangement all questions of dispute which may arise between the two countries.

Such proposed and unanimously endorsed action marks the great advancement of the blessed principles of peace, and should cheer with joyous hope the heart of every friend of humanity and enlightened progress.

Arbitration once established as the settled policy between leading nations like England and the United States would not be confined to them, but eventually influence and benefit the whole civilized world.

What an auspicious era will dawn upon mankind when war, with its hideous form, desolating fury and inflicted misery, shall give way to the honorable and prosperous sway of mutual conciliation and good will?

The prospect of International Arbitration gilds with glory the evening of the nineteenth century.

THE TIME SHE MADE A MISTAKE.

The Old Man Didn't Have a Sure Tip, But He Got There Just the Same.

He was standing on the northwest corner of Park avenue and Second street about 10 Tuesday, gazing absently into the star-strewn vault over the City Hotel. No one noticed him at first, but finally a little knot of loungers tied itself up on the opposite corner and speculated upon his sanity. And yet no one disturbed him. A facetious passer did ask him if it was torrid enough for him but the querie went unanswered. There was something pathetic about the man's preoccupation—he seemed so perfectly oblivious to all about him and so reckless of all that might be imagined concerning himself. At length the kind-hearted crowd on the opposite corner, tired of waiting, delegated one of its number to go over and solve the mystery, and, if necessary, give the poor stranger a quarter and ask him to move on. The delegate crossed the street and tackled the stranger.

"My friend," said he, "you will pardon the impertinence, but your apparently disconsolate conduct has attracted my attention and aroused my interest. Is there anything I can do to assist you?"

The stranger lowered his gaze from the astronomy over the City Hotel and focused it on his interrogator.

"Yes", he said, thoughtfully, "I am in a dreadful fix. I don't mind telling you about it, if you care to listen."

"Go on; I am interested", responded the delegate.

"Well, it's this way. When I left home this morning my wife said that if I went to the Suburban to-day I might never dare to return. I had never won a cent in my life playing the horses, and she knew it as well as I. But the temptation was too much for me. I went down and on a dumb chance played Lowlander for all I was worth, and I came off $100 ahead of the game. Now I'm afraid to go home. I know I could n't help giving the snap away. Come over and have a drink on me."

And as they disappeared behind the green door across the way the little knot on the opposite corner untied itself and drifted apart. There may be one young wife in town who will want to kick herself when she reads this.

TO THE WORLD'S FAIR VIA B. AND O

Going via Washington and Returning via Niagara Falls

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad has placed on sale at its offices throughout the East excursion tickets to Chicago, good going via Washington and returning via Niagara Falls, with the privilege of stop over at each point. These tickets are valid for return journey until November 15, and are not restricted to certain trains, but are good on all B. and O. trains, and permit holders to travel via Pittsburgh or via Grafton. By either route passengers cross the Allegheny mountains, 3,000 feet above the sea level, amid the most picturesque scenery in America. Sleeping car accommodations may be reserved in advance upon application to nearest B. and O. ticket office.

The Father of Many Ills.

Constipation leads to a multitude of physical troubles. It is generally the result of carelessness or indifference to the simplest rule of health. Eugene McKay, of Brantford, Ont., writes:

"I had for several years been a sufferer from constipation, had taken a great many different remedies, some of which did me good for a time but only for a time, then my trouble came worse than ever. I was induced by a friend, whom BRANDRETH'S PILLS had benefitted, to try them. Took two each night for a week, then one every night for about six weeks. Since that time I have not experienced the slightest difficulty whatever, and my bowels move regularly every day. I believe truly that for sluggishness of the bowels and biliousness BRANDRETH'S PILLS are far superior to any other."

LAID BY ITS FOUNDER.

A SOLID CORNER-STONE FOR THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Mayor Gilbert Puts It Firmly in Place, and Makes a Masterly Address—His Fellow-Founder, H. O. Newman, Arranged the Contents of the Copper Box.

A substantial block of Massachusetts old red sandstone, whose face bears simply the date 1893, was well and truly laid on the foundation corner of the Y. M. C. A. building, Front street and Watchung avenue, at 5:30 Tuesday afternoon.

A temporary platform had been erected across the first-floor beams, and here camp chairs were provided. These were filled with clergymen and prominent workers of the association, while a crowd of spectators grouped about on the sidewalk and street.

The ceremonies were opened with the singing of the hymn "Coronation", led by precentor H. O. Newman and cornetist Whitfield Frazee.

The Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman read from the Scriptures the eighth chapter of I Kings.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards.

Introducing mayor Alexander Gilbert, president W. D. Murray made a brief but interesting speech, congratulating the association for the culmination of its hopes. He said that in its new home the association was to be more than ever the center of interdenominational work, and while the physical welfare of all young men was to be looked after in every particular the chief aim was to Christianize the youth.

Mayor Gilbert, who with H. O. Newman was founder of the association made the following address:

It certainly is a great pleasure to me to discharge the duty which has been put upon me to-day. Having been a prominent actor in the formation and organization of the Young Men's Christian Association to be permitted after the lapse of twenty-five years to lay the corner-stone of its new building, is, I can assure you, most gratifying. The pleasure which I feel can be likened unto that of the man who assists at the planting of a young tree, and is permitted after a quarter of a century to look upon it in the full grace and beauty of mature treehood. He looks at its majestic branches, rests in the shade of its rich foliage and feels that it was a good thing that he did when he helped to plant that tree.

This is an eventful day in the history of the Young Men's Christian Association, a day which brings clearly and prominently into view the realization of its long cherished desire; a day which gives to the association promise of an extended field of labor, of a wider radius of influence, and of increased power and usefulness.

It must be a very enjoyable thing to those who, for the past twenty-five years, have remained in the ranks of the association, giving freely of their time and energy to the young men of our city—to see in this day's ceremonial not only the evidence that their labors have been successful, but that they have been appreciated by the people of Plainfield.

The laying of this corner-stone is a recognition by the people of the right of the Young Men's Christian Association to exist. In these days of practical activity, no society or institution dependent upon the support of the people, can long exist, without giving clear and unmistakable evidence of its utility. For more than a quarter of a century the men of this association have been working to give the young men of Plainfield a pure, moral environment, to create within them a lofty and unselfish ambition, a desire to reach out for the better and more enduring things of life. They have done a practical work, a useful work, and there can be little doubt that the moral and religious life of our city has been touched and vivified as a result of their labors. They have proven the utility of their organization, and in recognition of it, the people of Plainfield are willing to pay for this building and bid them God speed in their future career of usefulness.

Since the organization of this association, it has stood for Christian unity—its first great victory won very early in its history was the breaking down of the barriers which had long existed between the different churches of our city. By interesting the young men representing the different churches in the work of the association it brought them all together into one common field of labor, which was all that was needed to dissipate denominational prejudices and jealousies.

It has had no creed of its own, it welcomed into its fold men of all evangelical creeds—its only aim being to bring within the radius of its influence, young men, to surround them with a pure and elevated companionship, to lay early in their lives the corner stone of true character,—the cardinal principles of which they hold to be Faith, Uprightness, Diligence, Charity. Many of our young men in Plainfield have had their characters formed by the work of this association, and they to-day, are leaving the impress of their character upon other lives with which they come in contact, and thus the influence of the association moves on in ever widening circles.

The laying of this corner-stone has another significance. It marks a new departure in the history of Plainfield. With the exception of our churches and schools, it may be said that Plainfield has no public buildings. Music Hall is a public building, but it, unfortunately, is located where it cannot be seen. This building located in a commanding position, on our principal business thoroughfare, will be practically our first public building, excepting our churches. It is to be hoped that the building committee of the association will consider this of sufficient importance to justify a beautiful exterior, at an increased cost, if necessary. Let the building to be erected here be not only substantial and adapted to its work, but let it be an ornament to the city, let it be sufficiently graceful to awaken an artistic taste that will show itself in the public buildings that sooner or later will follow.

Plainfield has handsome residences, and beautiful churches, now let us have an attractive association building, to be followed in the near future by a City Hall and a Masonic building—a Post-Office building and a first-class hotel—buildings that will ornament the city and indicate the thrift, enterprise and liberality of our people.

This building will, in all probability, stand here for many generations, but the day will surely come four or five hundred years hence, when it will be removed to make way for a successor more in harmony with the demands of a higher and more enlightened civilization. Imagine then with what eagerness the relic hunter of that day will watch its crumbling walls, to possess himself of its corner-stone, which to him will be a precious treasure, full of historical data of a past age. Here he will find reliable evidence of the state of civilization in Plainfield in 1893 which he will hasten to deposit in some archaeological museum.

With this thought in mind, it is our purpose to deposit in our corner-stone to-day, material that will give to Plainfield of 1893, as pre-eminent a position in the world's history in the year 2300 as she occupies to-day. Of course we expect Plainfield to be on hand in 2300 to give to the world her own story—but we cannot tell what may happen—she may be swept away by some great convulsion of nature, or her identity may be lost, and her glories, permitted to fade from human memory by the substitution of some wild Indian name for that of Plainfield.

To secure to future generations a glimpse of Plainfield as she is to-day—and to celebrate with honor and solemnity this first important step in the erection of this building, it is my privilege to deposit in the corner-stone the following articles:

A Bible, the corner-stone of our country's religious faith.

The names of the original charter members, the first board of directors, and officers of the association.

A list of the present officers and directors.

Names of contributors to the building fund. Thus do we hand their names down to posterity.

Copy of each of Plainfield's daily journals. We cannot tell how long a time will elapse before these will again see the light of day, but should they ever again fall into human hands, they will give to the world the story of this day's life in Plainfield.

Copy of the Young Men's Era, the official organ of the association.

Having performed this duty, it only remains for me to express the wish that the building to be erected here may stand for ages to serve the purposes and perpetuate the work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The corner-stone which had been suspended by rope and pulley over its future resting-place, was lowered. Within the hollow which had been chiseled out, was deposited a copper box, containing, besides the articles mentioned in the mayor's speech, a copy of that speech itself and a list of the building committee, who are: W. D. Murray, H. O. Newman, C. W. McCutchen, D. R. Titsworth, H. A. McGee, J. W. Jackson, C. T. Kissam.

The contents of the box were arranged and packed by H. O. Newman.

The stone having been sealed, it was carefully laid and cemented, and is now a firm part of the outer wall.

The exercises were brought to an end by the singing of the Doxology and the benediction by the Rev. Dr. C. R. Barner.

During the afternoon the following telegram was received:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., JUNE 20, 1893.

William D. Murray, President Young Men's Christian association, the Minneapolis association joins me in sending greeting and congratulation. CHARLES B. BROWN.

In the evening a gathering of representative men was entertained at an informal conference at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murray. A line of action was mapped out for the raising of means to push the work to completion, and refreshments were served. There is sufficient money in hand to keep on with the building till the balance is raised, and there is not likely to be any interruption. Architect A. L. C. Marsh promises to have the structure completed by Jan. 1.

EVERY PICTURE A GEM.

Superior Photographs Thrown on the Screen at the Camera Club Exhibit.

The Camera Club gave a most successful exhibition of their lantern slides on Tuesday in Music Hall, the main part of the hall being well-filled with people.

It was nearly 8:30 when the programme was opened by Miss Alice D. Coard, with a piano solo. Her playing was much enjoyed. Following this, George H. Simonds, of Newark, sang with good effect "Rivers of Years". He was cordially received.

O. S. Teale then appeared and introduced the Rev. A. H. Lewis, who described in a very pleasing manner the various pictures as they were thrown on the screen. Messrs. Teale and Doane had charge of the apparatus, and performed their part to perfection.

In speaking of the views, nothing but the highest praise can be said, and the fact that they represented home talent and Plainfield in its beauty, increased the interest greatly. The work done by the members is certainly very superior to anything ever shown before, and was appreciated accordingly.

The second part of the programme consisted of a solo, by Mr. Simonds, and a continuation of Plainfield views. The pictures showed the same careful work as in those previously given.

In part third, "Man-O'-War's-Man" was rendered by Mr. Simonds. This was followed by a recitation by Miss Annie Louise Teale, entitled "The Decorative Sisters". It was exceedingly well given, and received hearty applause.

Miss Nelly Suydam, of Brooklyn, recited "Lady Maud's Oath" with good effect. She was very becomingly dressed, and was a favorite of the evening.

In conclusion a number of miscellaneous views were shown from different parts of this country and Europe.

The work of the club was represented by Messrs. Doane, Teale, Serrell, Gottlieb, Babcock, Smith and Stewart.

It is to be hoped that another such exhibition will be given in the near future.

RECEIVING THEIR NEW PASTOR.

Warren Mission People Welcome the Rev. J. O. McKelvie.

A very pleasant reception was given Tuesday night to the Rev. Joseph O. McKelvie, the new pastor of the Warren chapel that has recently gone into the hands of the Crescent Avenue church. The clergymen who were present were the Rev. W. R. Richards of the Crescent Avenue church, the Rev. G. Kennedy Newell of Hope chapel, the Rev. Wm. A. Alexander of Bethel chapel, and the Rev. J. O. McKelvie.

The exercises, which were held in Warren chapel, opened with a devotional service. The Rev. Mr. Richards made the welcoming address, and Mr. McKelvie replied. Mr. Alexander led in prayer, and Leander N. Lovell, superintendent of the Sunday-school, made an address. The choir then sang several hymns, among them being "Come where the lilies bloom", which was rendered in a very pleasing manner.

After the services were concluded, refreshments were served, and the rest of the evening was given up to enjoyment.

A TALE OF TWO CANES.

Fred. Smith Says the Thief Was Thomas Morgan, and Morgan Says 'Twas Someone Else.

Mrs. Maggie Williams, who lives on Front street near Somerset, missed her husband's two canes from a hall Monday morning, and notified the police. Shortly afterward officer Kiely saw a man at the North avenue station with two canes in his hand, and placed him under arrest. The man said his name was Fred. Smith and that he was on his way to New York. Smith said that a man in Conneely's saloon had tried to sell him a cane but that he would not buy it, so the man gave it to him. Kiely accordingly went to Conneely's, and the bar-keeper showed him the man with the canes. He said his name was Thomas Morgan, and owned up to having given the cane to Smith, but said that someone else gave him the canes. Justice Nash gave Morgan until 3 to describe the man whom he said gave him the canes. The stolen property was returned to its owner.

Deserted His Plainfield Bride.

Myron Sawyer was arrested by policeman Barry Sunday night as he alighted from a train at the Elizabethport station. The officer had a warrant for Sawyer's arrest on a charge of non-support of his wife. Sawyer was married some years ago, to Miss Fannie Flynn of Plainfield, and after a few weeks deserted his bride. He returned to Elizabeth to see his mother. He was held until he can give bonds.

Here's That They May Win!

W. J. Kiely, Nate Titsworth, J. Fritts and Bert Heinrichs are in active training for the track races of the Orange Athletic club next Saturday. Every night they speed over the county roads, and all confident of either bring home a medal or the trip ticket for the World's Fair offered by the club.

Had to Use Police Force.

One of the men who was concerned in the row at Buszcoboski's, as told in yesterday's PRESS, left two coats and a pair of rubber boots in the shop when he was arrested. Buszcoboski refused to give these up to-day, and policeman Kiely was obliged to accompany the man to the shop and threaten arrest before the articles were given up.

—The property of the late Mrs. Catharine Sauermann, 430 and 432 West Sixth street, was sold at auction Monday, June 19, to Theodore Kurzhals, for $1,950. Mrs. Kurzhals is a daughter of the late Mrs. Sauermann.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave. opposite railroad station. 6-26-y

COOPER'S FLORAL [illegible]

[illegible]

HILL'S

REMEMBER We guarantee a cure and invite the most careful investigation as to our responsibility and the merits of our Tablets.

READ OUR TESTIMONIALS Double Chloride of Gold Tablets

Will completely destroy the desire for TOBACCO in from 3 to 5 days. Perfectly harmless; cause no sickness, and may be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the patient, who will voluntarily stop smoking or chewing in a few days.

DRUNKENNESS and MORPHINE HABIT can be cured at home, and without any effort on the part of the patient, by the use of our SPECIAL FORMULA GOLD CURE TABLETS.

During treatment patients are allowed the free use of Liquor or Morphine until such time as they shall voluntarily give them up.

We send particulars and pamphlet of testimonials free, and shall be glad to place sufferers from any of these habits in communication with persons who have been cured by the use of our Tablets.

HILL'S TABLETS are for sale by all FIRST-CLASS druggists at $1.00 per package.

If your druggist does not keep them, enclose us $1.00 and we will send you, by return mail, a package of our Tablets.

Write your name and address plainly, and state whether Tablets are for Tobacco, Morphine or Liquor Habit.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED into purchasing any of the various nostrums that are being offered for sale. Ask for HILL'S TABLETS and take no other.

Manufactured only by

—THE—

OHIO CHEMICAL CO,

51, 53 & 55 Opera Block,

LIMA, OHIO.

PARTICULARS FREE.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:

DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.

Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,

MRS. HELEN MORRISON.

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTEGAY.

Address all Orders to

RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.,

51, 53 and 55 Opera Block. LIMA, OHIO.

(In writing please mention this paper.)

Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

OFFICIAL.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 15, 1893.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, met on Thursday, June 15, 1893.

Present—Director [illegible] and Freeholders Badgely, Donahue, Ehrlich, Hubbard, [illegible], Kyle, Moore, Roll, Swain, Scudder, [illegible], Vanderbeek, Winans and Woodruff.

Absent—Freeholders Howard and Hunt.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and on motion approved.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Committee on Central avenue bridge Summit:

Gentlemen—Your committee on Central avenue bridge, Summit, would respectfully report that they have examined the said bridge, and found the same in a dangerous condition, and would recommend that they build an iron beam brick arch bridge at a cost not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars. Signed,

E. Swain, M. M. Scudder, E. D. Badgeley, John J. Donahue, J. Martin Roll, Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Winans received and filed.

REPORT FROM COUNTY ENGINEER.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—In compliance with resolution heretofore adopted by your body instructing the county engineer to make the necessary survey and specifications of Newark avenue from Broad street, Elizabeth, to the Essex county line; Morris avenue, from Hobart's Gap to the Passaic river, and Springfield avenue from Springfield to the Essex county line, the undersigned would respectfully report, and herewith present to your board for consideration profile maps and specifications of Newark avenue; map and profile of Morris avenue, and map and profile of Springfield avenue. Owing to the limited time since the last meeting of the board the undersigned has been unable to complete the specifications and compute the quantities of Morris and Springfield avenues, but will have the same in readiness on or before the 20th of this month.

Respectfully submitted,

[illegible], County Engineer.

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard received and filed, and the maps and specifications referred to the county road committee and county attorney, to report at the next meeting of the board.

Freeholder Winans moved that the clerk read the minutes of the meeting of the committee of the whole, which was carried.

They were read and on motion of Freeholder Roll received and filed.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the road commencing at the intersection of Washington avenue and Grove street, in Elizabeth city, thence along Washington avenue to the Edgar turnpike, thence southwesterly along said turnpike to the intersection of Stiles street, in Linden township, be adopted and made a county road under the provisions of "An act entitled An act to enable Boards of Chosen Freeholders to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 29, 1889, and the amendments and supplements thereto; and be it further

Resolved, That the above description be adopted as an accurate description of the aforesaid road and that the clerk of this board file a certified copy of these resolutions in the office of the county clerk for the purpose of having the same recorded according to the requirements of the aforesaid act; and that the county engineer mark the said road on the map of county roads.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted fourteen ayes and two nays.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the road adopted as a county road leading from Washington avenue in Elizabeth to Stiles street in Linden township, be graded, paved with Telford macadamize, or otherwise improved with stone, as may be set out in the specifications hereafter to be drawn up, for a width of twelve feet, running the whole length of said road in the center thereof.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted, eleven ayes and four nays.

By Freeholder Winans:

Resolved, That the county engineer be instructed to make a proper survey and map of Washington avenue and Edgar turnpike, from Grove street, Elizabeth, to Stiles street, in Linden township, for the purpose of issuing specifications for macadamizing the same as a county road.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted, eleven ayes and four nays.

By Freeholder Swain:

Resolved, That the committee on Central avenue, bridge, Summit, be authorized and empowered to build a bridge over stream on Central avenue Summit, at a cost not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Donahue:

Whereas, A supplement to the county road act was approved March 17, 1893, authorizing an additional issue of bonds to the amount of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of maintaining and improving county roads under an act entitled "An act granting Boards of Chosen Freeholders power to acquire, improve and maintain public roads," approved March 29, 1889, and the amendments and supplements thereto; therefore be it

Resolved, That bonds to be known as county road bonds, to the amount of fifty thousand dollars, be issued by this board in accordance with the provisions of the above act, and for the purpose of paying the cost and expenses of grading macadamizing or otherwise improving the said county roads in the manner heretofore or hereafter adopted by this board; that the said bonds shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, to be dated July 1, 1893, to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and the same shall be known as ten-twenty bonds; that the director and clerk of this board are hereby authorized to sign, execute and affix the corporate seal to said bonds, and that the county collector countersign the same.

On motion of Freeholder Roll adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder [illegible]:

Resolved, that the director appoint a committee of three on issue of bonds, said committee to take immediate action and report to the board at the next meeting.

On motion of Freeholder Moore adopted.

Freeholder Donahue moved that the director and county collector be added to said committee, which was carried.

By Freeholder Scudder:

Resolved, That the committee on county roads be empowered to expend the sum of five hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of repairing the county road on North avenue, in the township of Westfield.

On motion of Freeholder Roll adopted unanimously.

The director appointed the following as committee on bonds: Freeholders [illegible], Hubbard, Donahue, Moore and Kyle.

Freeholder Moore moved that when the Board adjourns it be until Thursday, June 29, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., which was carried.

Freeholder Roll moved that a committee of five be appointed to examine into the advisability of building a bridge over the Rahway river on the line of Union and Springfield townships, and report at the next meeting, which was carried, and the director appointed Freeholders Roll, Hubbard, Woodruff, Scudder and Moore as such committee.

The following bills, audited and approved, were read and on motion ordered paid:

Courts—Wm H Burnet [illegible]

Lunacy—G C Hinchman, Treas. [illegible]

Members' Pay—Chas H Moore [illegible]

Bridges—Samuel T Moore & Sons [illegible]; J D [illegible]; [illegible]

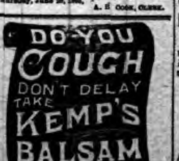
Publication—The Royal Craftsman $100; Lewis S Hyer [illegible]; Elizabeth Daily Journal 100; Central N J Herald 100.

Schools—S Holmes $200.

Freeholder Vanderbeek moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The Director declared the Board adjourned to Thursday, June 29, 1893.

A. S. COOK, CLERK.



Kemps Balsam Cures Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

SPECIAL SALE

During month of June of new Warwick bicycles, pneumatic tire, for [illegible] at

R. FRUCHT,

[illegible]

1 20 tf Near Academy street.

Mullins & Co.

218 and 220 Market Street,

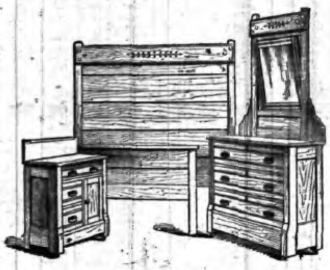
NEWARK, N. J.

The Leading Furniture and Carpet House in the State.

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST.

WHY?

We have no exorbitant rental expenses, for we own our buildings and everything in them. We buy in the best markets, get the largest discounts and are satisfied with reasonable profits.



Oak Chamber Suit $12.

Our assortment of Furniture, Carpets, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, Cooking Stoves and almost everything for housekeeping are worth seeing, whether you purchase or not.

CARPETS.

Wilton, Axminster, Moquette, Velvet, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrain Carpets, Linoleum, Oilcloth, Cocoa and China Matting, in latest designs and choicest colorings.

Miscellaneous.

Baby Carriages, Stoves, Ranges, Cooking Utensils, Window Shades, Pictures, Clocks, Chenille and Lace Curtains at

The Best Terms of Any House in the State

BRANCH STORES | 78 to 84 Myrtle ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
121 to 125 Newark ave., Jersey City.
213 Main st., Paterson, N. J.

3 30 3m

We Have Now In Stock

The largest and best assortment of

$12 BUSINESS SUITS

that we have ever manufactured. They are the latest styles of Plain and Fancy Cheviots, Cassimere Suitings, Black Thibets, etc., and the most of these styles have never been sold before for less than $15 per suit. Our

$12 BLUE SERGE SUITS

Are made from Indigo Blue Serges, color guaranteed and we recommend these as the most comfortable, serviceable and stylish suits for summer wear

Kilpatrick & Betts,

745 and 747 Broad Street,

Newark.

CANNON'S MARKET MULBERRY MECHANIC STS

NEWARK.

Cobbler-Seat Rockers

Quarter-Sawed Antique Oak.
Elegant Piano Polish.
Embossed Sole Leather Seat.

It will never wear out.
(SAME AS CUT.)

$4.90.

Would be Cheap at $8.00.

CARPETS!

Nowhere else can you be so well pleased both in assortment and price.

Matting • Special.

100 pieces Jointless Damask Matting

27½c. yard.

Regular 40c. per yard.

Plain Figures,
One Price,
Cash or Credit.

LARGEST HOUSE OUTFITTERS IN NEW JERSEY

E. C. Morris Safe Co

Incorporated. Capital $200,000.

Successors to E. C. Morris & Co.

64 Sudbury St., Boston, Mass.

FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF SAFES.

Bank Safes, Bank Vaults, Bank Vault Doors and Deposit Work of all kinds.

The Best Safe in the World. 150,000 in use.

Always preserve their contents.

Champion Record in all the Great Fires.

One of the largest and best equipped factories in the country has just been erected near Boston, fitted with the latest and most improved tools, which render facilities for manufacturing the best work at the lowest prices unequalled by any other concern in the country.

Our aim is to give the best construction and most improvements for the least amount of money. Estimates and specifications furnished upon application. AGENTS WANTED.

7-9 c

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

On the application of Charlotte Park, Administratrix of Marsellies M. Park, deceased, for sale of lands to pay debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Charlotte Park, administratrix of Marsellies M. Park, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath a just and true account of the personal estate and debts of the said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said Marsellies M. Park is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises. It is on this first day of May, A. D., 1893 ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements and real estate of said Marsellies M. Park, deceased, appear before the Court at the Court-house in New Brunswick, New Jersey, on the fifth day of July next, at half past ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands tenements and hereditaments and real estate of the said Marsellies M. Park, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts or the residue thereof as the case may require.

A true copy. By the court.

J. KEARNEY RICE, Presiding Judge,
MATHEW O'GORMAN,
M. FREEMAN,
Judges

Leonard Furman, Surrogate. 5 11 6

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Newark complainants and Francis T. Schoonmaker and Melissa M. Schoonmaker, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union, and State of New Jersey.

WEDNESDAY, THE TWELFTH DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1893,

Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly line of Carlton avenue with the northerly line of Putnam street; thence running northerly along the said easterly line of Carlton avenue one hundred and seventy-five feet; thence easterly parallel with Putnam street one hundred and seventy-five feet to a stake and corner; thence southerly parallel with Carlton avenue, one hundred and seventy five feet to the northerly line of Putnam street; thence westerly along the said northerly line of Putnam street one hundred and seventy-five feet to the point or place of beginning, together with the land in front of said premises to the center line of Putnam street and Carlton avenue to be used as public streets.

W. H. Nichs, Sheriff.

A. Q. KEASBEY & SONS, Sol'rs.

[illegible]

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator, with the will annexed, of Thomas Blackwell, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ALVAH A. CLARK.

Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given that the account of the subscriber, Administrator of William Moore, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the nineteenth day of July next.

ELIAS R. POPE.

Dated May 8, 1893. 5 11 10

THE PLAINFIELD

PACKING HOUSE

25 West Front Street,

Would respectfully inform its patrons that in addition to its usual stock of

Fresh, Salt and Smoked Goods,

It has added a full line of

Fresh Beef, Lamb,

Veal, Mutton & Poultry,

Which it is prepared to sell at

Reasonable Prices!

All goods delivered free of charge.

Telephone 141.

C. M. [illegible]

Make No Mistake!

There is a COUNTERFEIT on No. 73, and purchasers are requested to notice my name in full before entering the store.

AMOS H. VANHORN.

LIMITED,

73 MARKET STREET,

To outdo all competitors, will make the following inducements to purchasers until further notice:

Carpets,

Good Tapestry Brussels Carpet per yard only 55 cents.
Extra super all-wool Ingrain Carpet per yard only 60 cents.

Parlor Suits,

Parlor Suits, mahogany finished frames, in plush covering, only

$32.50

Bedroom Suits,

Hall & Lyon's bedroom suits, in antique oak finish, 3 pieces, only

$17.50

N. B.—Notice the first name, AMOS and No. 73, before entering the store.

BOOK ACCOUNT OPENED IF DESIRED.

Telephone 580! Elevator to Every Floor!

Goods Delivered FREE OF CHARGE to All Parts of the State!

AMOS H. VAN HORN.

LIMITED.

My only place of Business is at

73 Market Street,

Near Plane St., Newark, N. J.

NO BRANCH STORES.

10-5-1y

TOWNSEND'S

Marble & Granite Works,

30 SOMERSET STREET,

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

If you have not engaged your work, I should be pleased to do it for you.

I buy only first-class Marble and Granite and do not sell it unless at prices that will enable me to put up the work with credit to myself and justice to the parties purchasing.

I employ no agents and therefore am enabled to make a reduction in the price of my work to the customer, of the commission generally paid to agents.

I am under a very small expense in running my shop, myself and my son doing the larger portion of the work, and we personally attend to the setting of all work, and look upon business in this light, that Good Work and Good Material, at Fair Prices, is a standing advertisement for my business, which will tend to build up trade, and I feel safe to warrant that no dealer can sell you the same work and same stock any cheaper than I can.

Hoping to be favored with your patronage, I am yours respectfully,

J. E. TOWNSEND,

Manager. 8 11 tf

Branch Yard Westfield, N. J.

FURS

And all kinds of wearing apparel

STORED

And insured against all damage by fire or moth.

Repairing and re-dyeing of Furs should be done during the summer months.

GEO. C. TREADWELL CO.

SUCCESSORS TO

W. H. AND R. BURNETT,

17 Academy st., Newark. 5 11 4

Dime Savings Institution

OF PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Is now receiving deposits payable on demand, with interest at the rate of three (3) per cent. per annum payable semi-annually.

JOHN W. MURRAY, President.
WILLIAM WHITE, Vice "
NATHAN HARPER, " "
ELIAS R. POPE, Treasurer.

[illegible]

Scientific American Agency for PATENTS
CAVEATS,
TRADE MARKS,
DESIGN PATENTS,
COPYRIGHTS, etc.

For information and free Handbook write to MUNN & CO., 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. [illegible]

Scientific American

[illegible]

NEWARK

BEE HIVE

Things Sold There That Make
The Great Store it is.

THE BEE HIVE
NEWARK N.J.
THE LARGEST DRY & FANCY GOODS HOUSE in the STATE.
L. S. PLAUT & CO
707 to 721 Broad St.

CUT OUT AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE.

STOCK LIST No. 13.

MUSLIN WEAR

DEPARTMENT.

GOWNS—plain, embroidered and lace.
DRAWERS—plain, embroidered and lace.
CHEMISE—plain, embroidered and lace.
CORSET COVERS in 20 styles.
MUSLIN SKIRTS—plain, ruffle, embroidered and lace.
APRONS in Black, White, Silk and Gingham.
Cotton Flannel Drawers and Skirts.
Muslin Night Drawers for Children.
Extra Size Gowns, Drawers, Skirts, Chemise and Gauze Corset Covers.
Children's Jean, Imperial and Gauze Waists.
Children's Drawer Waists.
Guimpe Waists — Silk, Cashmere and Muslin; 1 to 12 yr. sizes.
Sweeping Caps and Sleeve Protectors.
Gingham Sunbonnets.
Carriage Pillow Slips.
Bridal Sets.
Crinoline Skirts and Muslin Hoopskirts.
Silk Gowns, Chemise, Skirts and Drawers.
Combination Chemise.
Combination Drawers.
Combination Corset Covers.
Ladies' Rubber Aprons.
Ladies' Muslin Divided Skirts.
Sanitary Towels and Padding.
Greenwood's Readymade Waist Lining.
Ladies' Cotton Flannel Gowns.
Dress Forms and Extension Models.
Pillow Shams in 25 styles.
Flannel Skirts—Colored and White.
Outing Flannel and Worsted Skirts.
Worsted Shawls and Cardigan Jackets.
Worsted, Jersey and Cloth Leggins for all seasons.
Imported Long and Square, Black and Colored Cashmere Shawls.
Cashmere Scarfs—White and Colored.
Wool Shawls—Long and Short.
Worsted Shawls — Hand-knit, Black, White and Colored.
Worsted Fascinators, Capes, Hoods and other goods of like character (in season).

NO BRANCH STORES.

L. S. PLAUT & CO.

707 to 721 BROAD STREET.

Mail Orders Filled.

NOTICE. June 3, 1893.

Estate of Harriet E. Case, Deceased.

Pursuant to the order of George T. Parrot, Surrogate of the county of Union, this day made, on the application of the undersigned, administrator of said deceased, notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased to exhibit to the subscriber under oath or affirmation their claims and demands against the estate of said deceased within nine months from this date, or they will be forever barred from prosecuting or recovering the same against the subscriber.

JOSEPH D. CASE,

[illegible]

CITY DEPARTMENT.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE, THE COUNTY AND THE CITY, AND HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE COUNTY OF UNION.

J. A. DEMAREST - - City Editor.

—Reserve July 11 for the M. E. excursion to Asbury Park.

—Nineteen dogs were killed last month out of the 86 captured.

—The first section of the rapid century run on Saturday is due here at 6:30.

—Grace church Sunday-school will go to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove with the First Baptists, Friday, July 21.

—F. L. C. Martin's wheelmen's headquarters on Park avenue is now equipped with a long distance telephone.

—The recorded transfer of the Warren Mission chapel to the Crescent Avenue Presbyterians shows the price paid to be $200.

—Charles E. Hoxley, conductor on No. 1 car of the street railway, and his wife, have gone to Albany and Niagara Falls for two weeks.

—The Crescent Riding academy has changed hands. Mrs. Wm. B. T. Laing has taken the school, and Mrs. Caroline J. Ohl is manager.

—On Thursday, July 6, at 3 p. m., Wm. H. Shotwell, executor of Eliza Stevens, deceased, will sell at public auction the house and lot 29 Linden avenue.

—Chas. J. Wood, who has recently fallen heir to several thousand dollars, yesterday traded his valuable sorrel mare for one of Ellis Campbell's broncos.

—Special policeman Jeremiah Cash has surrendered his badge, as a result of his disgraceful doings at the Reinhart home, and will be prosecuted by Mr. Reinhart.

—It seems the Plainfield board of health has no power to stop the gutter nuisance that the merchants on Park avenue from Second to Front streets, complain of so earnestly.

—Wednesday, July 19, is the date of the Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school excursion to Ocean Grove. If you reserve that date and go with them you will have an enjoyable time.

—It is illegal to kill woodcock before the first day of July. This noble game bird is becoming scarcer every year, in consequence of unnatural laws allowing them to be shot in the summer time.

—Several of the members of the C. Y. M. L., with their feminine friends, are arranging for a picnic to Boynton Beach, July 4. They will start early in the morning in stages from the club hall.

—F. L. C. Martin realized $13.50 from the sale of sandwiches at the time of the Century run a week or so ago. He had 600 sandwiches made, but they were not all sold, and the balance was sent to the Children's Home.

—Elizabeth city is to have a grand Fourth of July celebration. Plainfield is dead to the world on such a patriotic subject. Her representatives are too busy tearing up streets and cutting down trees that for a century have been an ornament.

—One young man from Elizabeth who came here the other evening to visit his girl on Grant avenue, missed the last train home and had to stay over night here. He had hard work to find a house open, but finally got a room on East Front street.

—Miss Smith, the milliner suing Isaac Lederer for $10,000, reports regularly every morning at the store for duty, and is as regularly told that she is n't wanted. She will keep this up till July 2, and then sue for wages to that time, when her alleged contract expires.

—Wallace Vail, as agent for the owner, Stephen McCormick, has increased the value of two lots on Grove and Duer streets, by laying substantial board walks in front of them. Mr. Vail has the lots for sale, as a plot, or to suit purchasers. They are very desirable.

—Not long ago, Charles Hand, the wealthy real estate speculator, drove his big gray horse 61 miles in one day. Who owns a horse that can equal it? He left Plainfield at 5:40 a. m., with a truck, drove to 16th street, New York, and back by 5:40 p. m., exactly, the same day.

—Since Belvidere avenue has been spread with crushed stone, bicyclists and drivers give the middle of the thoroughfare a wide berth; and in many places the road on each side of the macadam is being worn into ruts, so that before long additional expense will be necessary to patch up these places.

—The G. A. R. posts of Essex county, will entertain comrade Weissert, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, with a camp-fire at Caledonian Park, Newark, Monday the 26th inst, at 8. The posts of this city are invited, and a large delegation of comrades from Plainfield will attend.

—The condition of S. C. Baker of West Fifth street, who was so severely injured on South avenue about ten days ago, is to-day reported as improved. Mr. Baker is a member of Winfield Scott Post, 73, G. A. R., and the members of the post have proffered their services if in any capacity they are needed.

—Superintendent Passmore of the street railway claims that the company had more trouble in building the Somerset street extension in North Plainfield than it did in building the whole Plainfield route. Kickers were numerous, but they eventually gave in, and now they are pleased with the looks of the street.

—The letter-carriers in this city are not in the "swim" this summer, and they will probably not get a vacation during the heated term. On Saturday only one application was made to the examiner, and that was for the office of clerkship. Every carrier must furnish a substitute in order to get a vacation, and there are no substitutes now.

—THE PRESS of January 20 exclusively published a full report of President Murray's address giving a complete history of the Y. M. C. A. The bulk of this was re-published in the Courier yesterday, without credit to either Mr. Murray or THE PRESS. On Feb. 11 THE PRESS gave an illustrated description of the new building, the only one which has yet been published. THE PRESS gives all the news, first and fully.

—Some day, probably, the Pond Machine Tool company will remove the works at Muskegon, Mich., where they now build their cranes, to this city and locate them on the plot of ground that the company owns, running from Clinton avenue, Evona, almost up to the property they now occupy. That is all there is of truth in the rumors of irresponsible papers about a wonderful "New Industry" to be started in Plainfield.

—While Mrs. Hennesy of East Second street was driving through Park place, near Somerset street, Thursday night, she decided to turn the wagon around, when the "fifth wheel" got caught and nearly upset the wagon, which was occupied by Mrs. Hennesy and two small children. It was necessary to unhitch and lead the horse home, and leave the wagon in the street over night. Had the horse not been a gentle one, the result might have been serious.

—Two gay young men who drove over to New Brunswick the other afternoon had a thrilling experience. On the way home, late at night, when nearing the Landing Bridge, the horse refused to go farther. The driver took the animal by the head, and tried to lead him on, but the beast was obstinate and finally nearly backed the wagon into the canal. Eventually the horse was coaxed on, and after a two hours' drive they reached home at midnight, [illegible]

PERSONALIA.

Nief Apgar is the proud father of twins, born Sunday morning.

Albert Everitt, of Madison, spent Sunday in town, with friends.

James Love, of East Front street, spent Sunday with friends in Rahway.

T. J. Gillies, one of Plainfield's most respected old citizens, is seriously ill.

Miss Maggie M. Hurlburt, of the borough, is visiting friends at Somerville.

Asa Collier, the Park avenue jeweler, will start for the World's Fair July 13.

Mrs. Henry Tapscey and family will spend the summer at Narragansett Pier.

Joseph Case is now on duty as night baggage-master at the North avenue station.

Miss Marguerite Bennett, of Craig place, spent Sunday with friends in Dunellen.

Dr. C. M. Field is bringing George Smock around again, after two weeks of the grip.

Miss Emily Louise Turner, of Rahway, is spending a week with Miss Bennett, on Craig place.

J. Howard Leggett, proprietor of the Central pharmacy, is confined to the house by illness.

Mrs. D. S. Roberts is severely ill in Scranton, and has sent to Plainfield for her daughter.

Mrs. Sarah Moore, of Stirling, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Clarkson, Orchard place.

The Letter Carriers' association will give a pink tea in July. It will be an elaborate affair.

The first tennis tea of the Country club's season will be given in the Casino, Saturday afternoon.

Miss Maude Agnes Bowers has just recovered from a severe attack of grip and nervous exhaustion.

Miss Stella Lucas, of Heightstown, is visiting her friend Miss Beatrice Craig, of East Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh, of Elizabeth, spent Sunday with the Misses Searing of Madison avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Neil, formerly of this city, but now of Philadelphia, is visiting friends on East Second street.

J. Augustus Smith has been confined to his home again ever since his return from a fishing trip to Hopatcong.

Mrs. Sarah A. B. Green and daughters will leave the latter part of the week for Chicago and the World's Fair.

Walter Bennett and wife of Rahway, spent Sunday with Mr. Bennett's parents on Craig place, North Plainfield.

Mrs. W. Wright, of Somerset street, North Plainfield, reached home Saturday after a week's sojourn at Rye Beach.

Councilman and Mrs. Wm. G. E. See will make their summer home at the Grandview, Asbury Park, till Sept. 15.

William Stewart, of East Front street, is a patient at Muhlenberg hospital, suffering from a complication of diseases.

The wedding of B. Frank Harris and Miss Ida TenEyck will take place at South Plainfield, Wednesday afternoon, June 28.

Miss E. Craig, of Hightstown, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Craig of East Fourth street. Miss Craig is a sister of Mr. Craig.

Miss Annie K. Miller, of La Grande avenue, is spending two weeks with Miss Louise Keese, of Columbia Heights, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Worthington and her daughter, Miss Laura Worthington, of Seventh street, will spend the summer at Woodstock, Conn.

Howard Tracy, of Eighth street, is to be married next Saturday at St. Paul, Minn. A number of the family will go to St. Paul to attend the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Demmick, formerly of this city, but now of New York, are spending a month with Mr. Demmick's parents at Dunellen.

Miss Edith Plummer, daughter of John F. Plummer, formerly of Netherwood, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, of Watchung avenue.

Francis Frost, son of councilman Frost of Watchung avenue, has returned from Cornell University, where he has been taking his entrance examination for Sibley college.

At the home of the bride's parents, last Monday night, Charles Carr, of Plainfield, was united in holy wedlock to Miss W. Johnson, of Green brook, formerly of Dunellen.

Hotel Netherwood's first hop of the season will take place Saturday evening. A party of young society people from this city will be chaperoned by Mrs. L. G. Timpson.

Mrs. John Killbride, of New York city, is home with her parents at South Plainfield for a few weeks, after which she will leave for Southampton, L. I., for the summer months.

Mrs. Mary Shepherd, of Emily street, North Plainfield, is very ill, and her chances of recovery are small. She is 74 years old, and is suffering from a complication of diseases.

The engagement of Miss Matilda Eugenie Hudson, of this city, and William Henry Gage, of Brooklyn, is announced. Miss Hudson is the daughter of Mrs. Caroline Hudson.

Miss Alice Simpson, daughter of the Rev. S. P. Simpson of Netherwood, will start for Chicago and the World's Fair, Friday, with a party from the Art Students' League of New York.

Miss Henrietta Cuming entertained a few of her friends at her home on Watchung avenue, Saturday evening. The time was very pleasantly spent in a social way, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Buchanan, of Lincoln place, Brooklyn, who have been at the Hotel Netherwood for the past few seasons, have taken a house next to the residence of mayor Saunders in North Plainfield.

The Hillside Tennis club gave another of their charming teas, Saturday. Mrs. G. Harry Squires received. It was poorly attended, owing to the inclement weather and to other entertainments, but it was most pleasant for all attending.

Vladimir Filippovsky, navigating officer of the cruiser Rynda, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Bartlett, jr., 839 West Front street. He was escorted by carriage all about Plainfield, and expressed himself as perfectly delighted.

Will Roselle, who left this city twelve years ago, and who is a son of the late John Roselle, the first Chief of Plainfield's fire department, is visiting his brother-in-law, Peter C. Johnson, for a week. Mr. Roselle is now one of Brooklyn's most prominent real estate dealers. With him are his two children, Jessie May and Milton Stewart.

A very dainty, affectionate and reverent volume has been issued by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman, entitled "A Brief Sketch of the Life and Character of Agnes Waterbury Rodman", his lamented daughter. The book contains a portrait, an "In Memoriam" from Dr. Rodman's pen, a beautiful and touching poem "From the Other Side of the Gates of Pearl", and letters and minutes of condolence and bereavement. The volume is a tender tribute to the memory of a lovely girl, and friends will appreciate it. Copies are on sale at Reid's for the "Agnes fund" for the purchase of Easter flowers for the altar of Grace P. E. church.

TWO DUBLIN BEAUTIES IN TOWN.

The Misses Verdon, of Mount Joy Square, Dublin, Ireland, are the guests of the Misses Verdon of Shady Lane, North Plainfield. They have come on to [illegible]

MISS SPANGENBERG'S PAPER.

Interesting Summary of Her Remarks on Madagascar, Before the Trinity Christian Endeavor Society.

Although Madagascar is comparatively near the African Continent and about 3,000 miles from South Eastern Asia, the majority of the population are not of African origin, but came at some remote period from the Malayan Peninsula and Archipelago. The people have always possessed a certain degree of civilization—they live in houses and villages, are skilled workers in metal and other handicrafts, and show considerable ability in the weaving and spinning of silk, and cotton, hemp, and other vegetable fibres.

Although the Malagasy had no written characters, and were consequently not a cultured people, they were by no means deficient in mental power and ability. The children of every tribe are bright and intelligent, and learn quickly; education is making rapid advances in the Central provinces; hundreds of natives are now employed in teaching and many in assisting to write books; and some have taken degrees in medicine in English universities.

The religious beliefs and practices of the people occupy an interesting position among heathen nations. In passing through the country there are very few outward signs of idolatry to be seen, for there are no temples or idols set up for worship, nor is there a priesthood, properly so-called, nor a caste system, nor pilgrimages, penances, nor shrines. Malagasy idolatry is rather a charm worship or fetichism; a belief in the virtues of worthless objects to protect from particular evils, and to procure certain benefits. Many of these charms are found upon the person fastened to the arms and chest, but others are large stones and rocks placed upon the banks and beds of streams. Some of these charms have become to a certain extent national gods, and are looked upon as protectors of the kingdom. Ancestor-worship is a marked feature in the worship of the Malagasy, and there is also a strong belief in divination and witchcraft, and in the evil and good influences of times and seasons, etc. Underlying this charm worship, and the various superstitious practices, there is also a universal belief in a Supreme being, known by the name of Andriamanhary, i. e., "The Creating Prince" or "The Creator". The knowledge of the people in regard to the character of this Supreme being involves the idea of God as "protector of the helpless", "avenger of evil", "rewarder of good", etc. So that in preaching to some portions of the people the missionaries do not proclaim an utterly unknown God, but one with whose character they are to a slight extent already acquainted. But their knowledge of God seems to have had little effect upon their character and lives.

Such were the people among whom the first missionaries commenced their labors some seventy-five years ago, and the heathen inhabitants of Madagascar are still in a great measure the same.

The history of Christianity in Madagascar may be divided into three periods—its planting from 1818 to 1836, its persecutions from 1836 to 1861, its progress from 1861 to the present time.

At the close of the last century the attention of Protestant Christians was practically drawn to the great island as a field for missionary effort. After some unavoidable delays the London Missionary society sent out several missionaries who began their labors in 1820. The following year these were joined by a number of other missionaries and several good Christian artisans who were sent to instruct the people in some of the arts of civilized life. With little difficulty in their way from any outward opposition, they proceeded steadily with their labors for a number of years. A truly great work was accomplished in a comparatively short time by these few men. They reduced the language to a systematic written form; they compiled dictionaries; they founded a school system by which many thousands received an excellent education; they translated and printed not only several editions of the Gospels, the new Testament and portions of the old, but before their departure in 1836 they completed an edition of the whole Bible in the native tongue. Beside all this, continual effort was made by public preaching, Bible-class instruction, personal intercourse and other means to bring the truths of the Gospel to bear upon the hearts and lives of the people. This work was carried on during the reign of King Radama, who though not a Christian himself, placed no obstacle in the way of his people professing Christianity, and gave all the weight of his personal authority and favor to the efforts of the missionaries. At his death one of his wives, the Princess Ranavalona, a very superstitious and despotic woman, came to the throne. Hopes were entertained that religious liberty would still be allowed during her reign, but before many years the Queen made up her mind to put down Christianity by force. A great national assembly was called and a royal message delivered in which the Queen forbade under the severest punishment, the various practices of Christian worship. Strenuous efforts were made by the missionaries to obtain some relaxation of the new law and gain permission to preach and teach, but without any result. Seeing that for the present at least the work was at an end, having done all they could for the people, they placed the Bible in the hands of the native Christians for their guidance and support and with sorrowful hearts left the country.

In the early part of 1836 active measures of persecution were commenced, notwithstanding the fact that Christian worship was forbidden under severe penalties; meeting were secretly held in secluded villages, in recesses of the forest, in caves and clifts of the rock, and even in rice holes, at which the believing people encouraged each other to hold fast their faith in God. The experiences of the Christians for many years might be described by the words "Cruel mockings and scourgings, bond and imprisonment, destitute, afflicted, tormented, in deserts and mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth", for all this was literally fulfilled in Madagascar. The entire period of persecution lasted about twenty-five years, but despite all the cruelties which an absolute sovereign and her heathen subjects could inflict for all these years, "The Word of God grew and multiplied". About 200 Christian people laid down their lives during that quarter of a century, and many hundreds more suffered in loss of rank, property and liberty, and yet at the close of the period the believers in Christ had multiplied about 20 fold. Persecution had a remarkable effect in rooting and establishing Christianity in Madagascar. Nothing else could have so thoroughly convinced the people of its supernatural origin, as the way in which it overcame every attempt of their sovereign to destroy it. When the news of the Queen's death reach England, the London Missionary society sent out the Rev. Mr. Ellis to re-organize the mission. Mr. Ellis arrived at Antananarivo in 1862 and was heartily received by all classes of people. He found three large congregations meeting on the Lord's Day in the northwestern suburb of the city. He was soon joined by three ordained missionaries, a medical missionary, a printer and a school teacher, who were soon engaged in acquiring the language and arranging to proceed with their special departments of labor. To these pioneers were added in the course of a few years, nine or ten others, several of whom came specially to carry on church building. In the year following the arrival of Mr. Ellis, Queen [illegible] came to the throne. During the five [illegible] rapid and steady progress. The preaching of the Gospel was earnestly carried on and a system of regular Bible class instruction arranged. The press issued a constantly increasing amount of literature, schools were established in connection with all the larger churches, and teachers for these put in training at the Normal School. A commencement was made in training preachers and pastors for the native churches. Substantial brick buildings were erected for many of the Congregations and the construction of four stone churches were commenced. In the early part of 1868 the Queen died, and her cousin succeeded her, taking for her royal name that of her aunt, Queen Ranavalona. At her coronation no idols were brought out, but on the canopy over the Queen's throne were the words taken from the Christian Scriptures "Glory to God", "Peace on Earth", "Good Will to Men", "God is with us", and a large copy of the Bible lay at the Queen's right hand. The Queen and her husband soon commenced divine worship in one of the royal houses, and sent for some native pastors to give them regular instruction in the truths of Christianity. After a few months they received baptism. This event caused many of the higher classes to come forward and join the ranks of the Christians. A little later in the same year another event took place which gave a still more powerful impetus to the advancing movement in favor of Christianity. This was the burning of the idols in September, 1869. These occurrences had a wonderful effect upon the people in the central provinces of the island and caused a very large immediate increase in the number of those who attended Christian worship. Every chapel was crowded to excess, and the people began to construct rough buildings of mud and grass in which to meet together. Many of these congregations had no one to instruct them, sometimes even no one who could read a passage of Scripture, but they met and prayed. The missionaries felt almost overwhelmed at the responsibility thus thrown upon them, in having so many thousand of heathen people looking to them for guidance and instruction. Before the burning of the idols the adherents of Christianity numbered about 37,000; at the close of 1870 they had increased to a quarter of a million. A large number of the best men who could be found in the stronger churches were sent out as evangelists. The missionary society sent more missionaries.

A college was commenced for the training of pastors and evangelists. The training schools, the press, and the medical missions, also took their share of the increased work. From that time forth there have been many political and social changes for the better. The Gospel has been the means of raising and purifying the people, increasing their home comforts and improving their dwellings, their dress, and their habits.

Education has made great advances and the Queen and Government have done their utmost to urge the people to send their children to the schools which are now found in almost every town and village. The work of church organization has been very encouraging, and there are now numbers of earnest and intelligent preachers who are able to instruct and exhort the congregations, and who by their effective speech bring all the resources of the beautiful native language to enforce Divine truth.

Although a great work has certainly been done for the people of Madagascar, the island as a whole has not yet been Christianized, as many people suppose. Some who heard of the burning of the idols in 1869, and the acceptance of Christianity by the Queen and government, thought that the whole country had come under the power of the Gospel. But Madagascar is not like one of the South Sea islands, but a great country nearly four times as large as England and Wales, with numerous tribes scattered widely over its surface. Until 1870 the sole mission station was at the capitol city, so that a large proportion of the population of the island are still uninfluenced by the Gospel. But the heart of the country has been won and during the past ten or fifteen years the missionary sympathies of the churches have been called out. Earnest Christian natives have been sent to evangelize some of the heathen tribes, and these men have in most instances done excellent work with encouraging success. Shall we not join our prayers with those of the Christian workers of that great Island, that the glorious Gospel of the blessed Christ may be carried more speedily to those who are still in "darkness and in the region and shadow of death".

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

HIS HORSE FELL ON HIM.

Exciting and Perilous Adventure of Alva L. Carey.

Alva L. Carey had an accident Saturday afternoon which came very near costing him his life. He drove his horse to a wagon to Hedden's livery stable, left the wagon there, and started to ride the horse back to his stable, on Front street. While on the way, near Arlington avenue, the animal became frightened at some children, and threw its rider to the ground. It fell on top of him, and the entire weight was thrown on Mr. Carey. In some manner he became tangled between the horse's hind legs, and when he spoke to the animal one of his hoofs was raised and struck Mr. Carey in the face. He had some difficulty in getting control of his horse, and in doing so received another blow on his body. He is able to be around, but is feeling very much battered from his experience.

Three Subscription Concerts.

Albert Venino announces for the season of 1893-94, three subscription concerts at the Casino. The first in November, the second in January and the third in April. Besides the "Beethoven String Quartette", Mr. Venino will select from the following list of eminent artists: Pianists—Franz Rummel, de Pachmann (if obtainable) and Arthur Friedheim the greatest Liszt interpreter. Vocalists—Mr. Plunkett Green, the celebrated English ballad singer, and Otto Behrens, baritone. Of the above artists Messrs Plunkett Green and Arthur Friedheim have consented to assist. Course tickets, three dollars. No single tickets will be issued.

Saturday Half-Holiday.

For the purpose of giving our employes all the recreation possible through the hot summer months, we shall close our store on all Saturdays in July and August and the first Saturday in September at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. We sincerely hope that no inconvenience will be felt by any of our customers or prospective buyers.

Respectfully,
S. D. LAUTER CO.

[illegible]

A FEAST OF ROSES.

THE GARDEN PARTY AT EDGEWOOD A FLORAL TRIUMPH.

Bad Weather No Dampener of Enjoyment—Mrs. Hyde's Guests Had a Perfectly Lovely Time.

The advent of a garden party is traditionally accompanied by bad weather, and those who had been looking forward to last Saturday in the fond hope that the exception that proves the rule might allot a fair day to Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, were disappointed when the morning came with showers and cold and disagreeable winds that made everyone turn to the wraps that had been laid aside for the past month. However, people, young and old, who have made up their minds to enjoy themselves are not to be stopped by such a little thing as weather when there is a way to get around it, and at a little after 4 o'clock the street in front of Edgewood, Mrs. Hyde's Front street residence, was well filled with carriages waiting to drop their freight and return for more passengers, as the call for cabs was so great that many were obliged to wait their turn for the use of vehicles. The elaborate preparations that were in progress for dancing on the lawn were abandoned on account of the wet, and the musicians who were to have played al fresco took up one end of the spacious piazza. The grounds were beautifully arranged, and rustic chairs and benches tied with garlands of flowers dotted the lawn. A large platform was built for the musicians, and a huge crash had been prepared of very heavy canvas that was to have been spread upon the grass for dancing. Luckily, after luncheon the rain stopped, and the air grew a trifle warmer and drier as the afternoon advanced, so that the piazzas were not at all uncomfortable for those who preferred staying outside to hovering about in the parlors and dining-room. Mrs. Hyde received the guests on the south end of the piazza, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Louis Kepler Hyde, Miss Weaver, Miss Edith Hyde, Miss Bessie Stokes of New York and Miss Edith Smalley. The floral decorations were exquisite. June had parted with her loveliest roses by the myriad. Roses were everywhere, pink, white, red, and yellow, mermets, laFrances, tea roses and Jacks. Each inhalation seemed sweeter than the last, as one walked in and out among the sisters of the queen of flowers. It was a veritable feast of roses. In the dining-room the guests were refreshing themselves with salads and ices; on the piazza the merry hum of conversation, the plashing of the fountain, and the quick notes of a two-step played as only Lander's men can play it, all combined to make an impression on the little bump of appreciation of the beautiful, left to the average Philistine, that is the secret of enjoyment of all things.

A single sunbeam forced its way through the clouds and threw a golden ring of light on the lawn as if it were anxious to supply the only thing lacking for a perfect scene.

After the majority of the guests had gone, two rooms were cleared for action, and the young people danced to their hearts' content. Some of the dancing set that had gone home early returned later in the evening. A Virginia reel of about twelve couples was formed on the piazza. The fun waxed fast and furious before the end of the reel, and the long line of men and girls danced from side to side while the end couples pirouetted down the middle. One last two-step was danced, and then the dancers made their adieus and left, glowing and happy; and the moon, getting over her sulks, came out from behind the dark clouds and lighted the way of the dancers home.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hyde, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hyde, Frank Hyde, Harry Godfrey of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Opdyke, Miss Agnes Opdyke, Harry Opdyke, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Boskerck, George Van Boskerck, Miss Maud Van Boskerck, Miss Lizzie Van Boskerck, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Miss Reinhart, Miss Kitty Reinhart, Miss Bagley, Edward Van Buren, Mr. Sharpe of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Howard Huntington, Fred Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, the Rev. Mr. Richards, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, Miss Marion Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Plummer, Miss Edith Plummer, Augustus Shepard, jr., Fred Shepard, Mr. Heidl, Henry Talmadge, Miss Talmadge, Miss Tweedy, Dexter O. Tiffany, Mrs. Worthington, Miss Laura Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Carrie Streuli, Mr. Streuli, Miss Corlies, Mr. Smith of Alabama, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisk, Mr. and Mrs. Pliny Fisk, Mr. Ritchie of Trenton, Mrs. West, Irving West, Sherwood West, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walz, Miss Gertrude Walz, Fred Walz, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dumont, Miss Dumont, Mrs. F. Bret Harte, Miss Ethel Harte, Miss Maud Middleditch, Miss Carrie Vail, Miss Sadie Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Timpson, Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer Smith, Miss Edith Smalley, Miss Harriet Redfield, Mr. and Mrs. Constantine P. Ralli, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Anthony, Miss Anthony, James Stowell Anthony, Charles N. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe, Henry Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ginna, Miss Bessie Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. Lissignolo, Miss Lissignolo, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wadsworth, the Rev. C. E. Herring, Miss Herring, Dr. and Mrs. Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Van Vliet, Mrs. John Foster, the Misses Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh, Mrs. Ryder, Miss Ryder, Miss Cock, Mr. Cock, Walter Place, Mr. Dwight, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton Edwards and Mr. Silvey.

CRESCENT LEAGUE AUCTION, OFF.

Its Property Has Been Sold for the Social Uses of a Board of Trade.

A number of well-known business men of this city have purchased the property of the Crescent League on East Second street, and leased the building, for the purposes of a Commercial club. The price paid was $1,800.

$800 of this will go back to those who recently chipped in that amount to stand the League on its feet at that time. $500 will go to the ex-trustees who months ago indorsed a note for $1,000 which has since been reduced one-half. $500 is thus left to wipe out the incidental debts of the League.

The club is composed of all the representative business men of this city from E. R. Pope, A. D. Thompson, J. F. MacDonald, G. W. Rockfellow and G. L. VanEmburgh down. The rooms will be used for their business meetings as a board of trade, besides for social pleasure.

A Crazy Woman Sent Home.

Eliza Shafer, a demented woman who had wandered from Newark, was given in charge of the Plainfield police by the conductor of the 1:17 train, Sunday morning. She had got on the train at Fanwood. Captain Grant took her home to-day.

I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for over ten years; had it very bad, could hardly breathe. [illegible]

DON'T DANCE, DEAR GRADUATES.

THAT'S THE POLITE REQUEST OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Dr. Probasco Doesn't Like the Actions Indulged in During the Pastime—School Buildings Not Erected to Have Fun in—The Feeling Against Waltzing Is on Moral Grounds.

The board of education held their final meeting of the year on Monday night in the Stillman building. Dr. Probasco, acting president, Dr. Richards, Mr. Finch, Mr. Lounsbury, clerk Clark, and principal Maxson were present.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with, and the regular business of the evening was taken up.

The first matter under consideration was the payment of school teachers for the past year for absence occasioned by bona-fide illness. It was decided to pay them for the same.

Mr. Smith, of New York, presented plans and specifications for the heating of the High school and Franklin school buildings. The subject was discussed at some length, after which it was decided to lay the matter over until the next meeting for final action.

The most important subject under consideration was: "Shall dancing be allowed" at the reception given the new graduates by the alumni.

A resolution was presented and adopted giving permission to use the Franklin building for the reception.

Then the subject of dancing came up. Mr. Finch gave his thoughts on the matter, and was anxious that the young people be given the privilege of dancing. He said that from '77 they had danced almost every year, until '91; in that year the building was declared unsafe, and they did not dance. Continuing, he said "they could dance in a nice, orderly way, and they ought to have a nice time".

Mr. Lounsbury said he was not in favor of giving dancing the official sanction of the board. They were elected to advance the educational interests of the city, and not dancing.

Mr. Finch thought it best not to say anything about the matter to the graduates. Mr. Finch added that a number of the members of the Crescent Avenue church were desirous of giving the permission, and as there was no rule governing the matter, they ought to dance.

Dr. Richards said he was sorry to give sanction to the affair, but understood it was customary and had been permitted, and thought they would better leave it as it was.

Dr. Probasco said they did not erect school buildings for dancing, but for educational purposes. If they danced anywhere else, he would not object. He did not like their actions in dancing.

Mr. Lounsbury thought it was the duty of the board to take action, as people all over the city were talking about it.

Mr. Finch made a motion that the alumni be given permission to use the Franklin building for the reception.

Mr. Lounsbury wanted a clause in it that would prohibit dancing.

Mr. Finch desired to leave the subject alone, and not take action.

Dr. Probasco said he would feel very much grieved if dancing was permitted; he was bitterly opposed to it.

The motion to grant the use of the Franklin school was finally put, all voting yes except Mr. Lounsbury. The latter still held that a large proportion of the community was opposed to dancing.

Mr. Maxson personally said he was not opposed, but was willing to do as the majority said.

Mr. Lounsbury stated that previously the board had been guilty of sins of omission and commission. He was in favor of the graduates dancing anywhere else except in the school building.

Dr. Richards and the rest of the board were not satisfied with the result, and an attempt was made to pass a resolution, prohibiting dancing, but it failed.

It was finally decided to have Mr. Maxson convey to the alumni the wish of the board and place the members on their "honor". The following was the request as Dr. Richards suggested it: "It is evidently not the desire of the board that their should be dancing, though they would not absolutely say no."

The board want it stated that only a portion of Music Hall is reserved for the graduates and friends, for commencement; the rest of the hall is not reserved.

The meeting adjourned at 9:15.

LITTLE LILLIE FANCHER'S STORY.

Fanwood's Fairy Gives an Account of School Exercises.

The closing exercises of Miss Davis's private school at Fanwood took place Friday morning.

The Fairy reports that school was opened by Miss Davis reading "proper selections" from the Bible; then followed Muriel Robinson's talk about "Jack in the Pulpit", after which Lewis Booken, who told about "Columbus on the Lonesome Deck". Songs by the children came next, and then Willie Davis recited "The Brook". Bertie Kyte did well—says the fairy—but I forget just what it was about. The last was the best—"Alice Through the Looking Glass". Isabel Hamlin was Alice; Bessie Babcock was the White Queen; Alice Davis was the Red Queen, and they looked pretty. Dudley Babcock was the White King; Bertie Kyte was the White Knight; Jimmie Moore was the Angelo Saxon Messenger; Willie Davis was a Messenger; Edmund Robinson was Humpty Dumpty, and I guess that's all. Oh no! Louis Booken was the Frog Gardner. Muriel Robinson's story of the "White Turkey's Death", pleased us all.

"What did you do Lillie," she was asked? "I did n't do nothing; I only looked and heard"

The school-room was prettily decorated with daisies, roses and ferns. The parents of the little tots were in attendance and all congratulated Miss Davis on the marked progress shown by the children.

Mr. Perkins Gets the Baron a Divorce.

The report finding that Frederick N. Blanc is entitled to an absolute divorce from Elizabeth L. Blanc, made by Referee Edward C. Perkins of this city, has been confirmed by Justice Beach of the Supreme court after argument on the defendant's exceptions to the findings of the referee. The decree forbids the woman to use the name "Blanc or Frederick N. Blanc" as part of her name. Frederick D. Yuengling was the co-respondent in the case.

The defendant, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Nicholson, is the daughter of a stove manufacturer in Philadelphia. She was 16 years old in 1880, when she married Alfred Lawrence Riegel, whose father was a dry goods merchant there. They separated in 1885. She went under the name of Riegel before her marriage to Blanc at St. George's church, New York, July 8, 1887. She has recently been on the stage under the management of George Wotherspoon, of this city.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

YOUNG LADIES AS CHURCHES.

EACH LIGHTED HER CANDLE AT HER MOTHER CHURCH'S LAMP.

Miss Spangenberg Makes a Profound Impression by Her Madagascar Missionary Service.

In her own sweet and winning way, Miss Alice Spangenberg Monday night gave to a Christian Endeavor gathering in Trinity church a most fascinating picture of life in Madagascar, and conducted a beautiful Lamp-Lighters' service.

The pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, opened the meeting with prayer. This, and singing led by precentor H. J. Martin, with Miss Emma Gilliam accompanying on the piano, preceded Miss Spangenberg's interesting talk, which in concise form, will appear in these columns to-morrow.

The Lamp Lighters' service, following the address, was a picture at once delightful and educating. The characters were:

Mother Church	Miss Lilian Lang
Lamp-Lighter from North Africa	Miss Minnie Zeis
Lamp-Lighter from Sierra Leone and Liberia	Miss Carrie Mehl
Lamp-Lighter from the Congo	Miss Lizzie Shepherd
Lamp-Lighter from South Africa	Miss Sadie Addis
Lamp-Lighter from the Lakes	Miss Mabel VanMiddlesworth
Lamp-Lighter from Abyssinia	Miss Josie Kinsam
Lamp-Lighter from Egypt	Miss Mamie Berg
Martyr Church of Madagascar	Miss Ella Boisnell

The young ladies were all dressed in white. The Mother Church bore a large lighted lamp, at which the other maidens, each in her turn, lighted their smaller candles, reciting appropriate parts. It was a very pretty sight, and all went through without a break.

The missionary committee of the society deserve credit for providing such a delightful programme.

Deacon T. E. Hazell had drawn a map of Madagascar on the blackboard behind the speaker's desk, with the different missionary stations indicated by small pieces of gilt paper. It was a very excellent piece of work. Miss Spangenberg complimented the one who did it, before she began her lecture.

Woman's Mistake.

She tries to do too much.

This applies to all women.

The ambitious girl striving for school honors. The busy house wife, the shop girl, the society woman.

What follows?

Nervous prostration, excitability, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness, backache, and most likely organic diseases of the uterus or womb, causing bearing-down pains and irregularity.

Oh! women, if you must bring upon yourself these troubles, remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more to relieve such suffering than any other remedy.

"It cured me, and will you."—Mrs. Jennie L. Keyes, 1135 Market Street, Harrisburg, Pa.

All druggists sell it. Address in confidence, LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. Co., LYNN, MASS. Liver Pills, 25 cents.

An Open Letter From Clothing Builders to Clothing Buyers.

We make Clothing, you buy it. You buy Clothing ready made because it is cheaper.

There are different kinds of ready made. Have you ever investigated how different?

We show you the best that's made, the tailor made, the kind the tailor would make you to order.

In many instances you'll not be able to notice the difference in make between ours and theirs, but the difference in price will open your eyes.

The tailor's prices are about double ours and he furnishes you no better style, fit, finish, trim of fabric.

Why his big price?

He makes for the few; we for thousands. The wise and knowing are wearing OUR SUPERIOR CLOTHING and saving money.

See our grand line of SPRING SUITS between $10 and $20.

MC GREGOR & CO.,
850 and 852 Broad Street,
NEWARK, N. J.

OLD FOES TO MEET AGAIN.

The Westfield and Plainfield Ball Teams will Come Together, for the First Time This Season, Next Saturday.

"Shorty" Howe, who will play short stop for Westfield against Plainfield, here, on Saturday, played third base on the New York league team yesterday and made three hits.

The batting order of Saturday's game on the Crescent Oval, will be: Westfield—Townley, center field; Howe, short stop; Dowd, catcher; McLaughlin, left field; Towne, first base; Francis, pitcher; Roberts, third base; Sansom, right field; Hibbard, second base. Crescents—Hofford, catcher; Smith, short stop; McIntosh, left field; Turner, center field; Davis, second base; Fritz, right field; Keenan, third base; Jones, first base; Sneden, pitcher.

A year ago this month, in a game against Elizabeth's team, the Crescents could make but four hits and two runs with Francis in the box against them.

Summer Excursion Tickets

To all northern and eastern seaside, lakeside, and mountain resorts, to Deer Park and Oakland, the Virginia Springs, Niagara Falls, Luray Caverns, Gettysburg, and to all other points where people gather in search of health and pleasure, are now on sale at all Baltimore and Ohio ticket offices at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be sold from June 1 to Sept. 30, and are valid for return passage until Oct. 31. Before selecting your route or resort consult B. & O. summer excursion book, in which shortest routes and lowest rates, via "Picturesque B. & O.," to all resorts are given from points on that road east of the Ohio river; profusely and artistically illustrated. This book can be procured free of charge upon personal application to ticket agents, B. & O. R. R. Co., or you can have it mailed to you by sending name and address with 10 cents in stamps to Chas. O. Scull, general passenger agent, Baltimore, Md.

THEY DREADED FUSS AND FLOWERS.

So Miss Brown and Mr. Hamilton Ran Away From Their Friends and Were Married Over the Brook This Morning.

A lot of people in and about Newark and Rockland county, New York, will be greatly surprised over something that happened in North Plainfield this morning. They are looking forward, with much expectation of enjoyment, for the wedding of their admired friends, Miss Ada Estell Brown of Newark, and counselor Henry DeWitt Hamilton of Tappan.

But to-day those two were married by the Rev. T. Logan Murphy, at the Church of the Holy Cross, quietly and in the presence of their parents. Invitations for a big reception for all their friends, however, will be sent out to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton will live for the future in the old homestead of the groom's family, where the unfortunate Major Andre was held a captive just before his execution.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, complainant, and James E. Perine et. al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the court house, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE 19th DAY OF JULY A.D., 1893, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, situate in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the centre of LaGrande avenue, distant in an easterly direction from the easterly line of Peace street, if the same were produced across LaGrande avenue ninety-three feet and from thence running (1) north-westerly and about right angles to said LaGrande avenue one hundred and eighty feet to a corner; thence (2) northeasterly and parallel with LaGrande avenue fifty-six feet to a corner; thence (3) southeasterly and at right angles to LaGrand avenue one hundred and eighty feet to the centre line of LaGrande avenue; thence (4) southwesterly and along the centre line of said avenue fifty-six feet to the place of beginning.

W. H. HICKS, Sheriff.

FREDERICK G. BURNHAM, Sol'r
DLAC Fees $7.20 6 8 3

ADMINISTRATOR'S SETTLEMENT.—Notice is hereby given, that the account of the subscriber, administrator of Geo. W. Marshall, deceased, will be audited and stated by the Surrogate, and reported for settlement to the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, on Wednesday, the tenth day of May next.

FREDERICK W. McCULLY.
Dated March 1, 1893. 3 3 10

Astonishing!

What $10 to $15 will buy in Men's Clothing—the kind we are offering. If you've never tried our rightly made Suits, suppose you test their fit and finish, just once. You can have back your money if you're not satisfied.

There's a peculiar feature about our grand center window display of Boy's Clothing. We always attach the price. We do this having no fear of being undersold. We make the market price.

Special sale of Children's $4, $5 and $6 Suits at $3.

Stoutenburgh & Co.,
Newark Clothiers,
779, 801, 803 and 805 Broad Street.
3 22 3m

$35.00 TO CHICAGO AND RETURN,
Including Hotel accommodations for five days at FRANK'S
REDUCED RATES
Railroad and Steamship Ticket Agency,
345 and 347 BROADWAY, Cor. Leonard St., N. Y.
Lowest Rates to all parts of the World. Tickets purchased and exchanged
Sleeping Berths reserved. Baggage transferred.
MEMBER AMERICAN TICKET BROKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Adapt Yourself To Spring.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS for Men's Suits are now indispensable. Lighter colors are also in order. Our Business Suits for men at $10, $12, $14, $15 have a style and finish tailored into them that belongs only to high-grade custom work. The Dress Suits for men at $12, $15, $18, $20 are exactly on a par with ordered suits at twice these prices.

Fit is so important a matter with us that we won't let you buy a misfit if you would. Too expensive for us.

In Boys' and Children's Suits we're on top, as usual. Immense stock, high qualities, low prices. Hats and Caps for everybody a third less than regular dealers ask.

Marshall & Ball
807, 809, 811 and 813 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J.
3 22 3m-c

Fifty Years Ago
Ernest Gabler & Co.

Began to make Pianos; skill and honesty and good material went into every instrument. It has been so ever since.

When you buy a GABLER Piano you buy the perfect result of half a century of experience.

Experience and experiments have made the tone resonant, the touch smooth and sympathetic and the action perfect.

The large demand for the GABLER Pianos by the musicians of Newark and vicinity is in itself a guarantee of their quality. They are one of the few Pianos that NEVER WEAR OUT, and sell themselves. They have only to be seen to be appreciated.

S. D. LAUTER COMPANY
657 and 659 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

ELY'S CREAM BALM—Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores, Restores Taste and Smell, [illegible]

CATARRH

[illegible]

THE HARNED RECEPTION.

Students and Their Friends Dance for the Closing of School.

The Harned Academy students Friday night gave a reception to their many friends in and out of town. It has been customary in years past to have some regular commencement exercises at the breaking up of the school in the spring, but this year the trouble of moving into the new part of the building has made the regular exercises impossible, so the students had to be content with a dance and reception.

Besides the social aspect of the affair, the reception served as a formal opening of the new part of the school building, which is much larger than the original structure. It is finished throughout with hard wood, and combines every advantage for the comfort and convenience of inmates. The dancing took place in the new school hall, which was brilliantly lighted, and the new hard wood floor made dancing a pleasure.

Mrs. Harned received in the left parlor, and supper was served in the large dining room down stairs. The table was decorated with ox-eye daisies. About 250 invitations were issued, and among the guests were many from the professional and social circles of Plainfield.

Among the guests were the following: Mrs. Greene and daughters, Edward Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Waring and family, Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughters, Mrs. Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Ahrens, Siegfried Ahrens, Dr. Lowrie and family, Miss Lowrie, Ed. Hardingham, Miss Mildred Shattuck, New York, Mr. Cramer, Orange, Jose Chaves, New York, Mr. Smith, (Central avenue), Mr. Giberga, Lehigh, Prof. Wieland, Mrs. and Miss Ovington, New York, Mrs. Randall, Brooklyn, Mrs. Finch, Messrs. Harry and Rufus Finch, Mr. Richardson, son and daughter, Dr. Rushmore and family, Dr. Fritts, Andrew S. Fritts, Miss Fritts, Prof. Henderson, Dr. Stelle, Prof. Leal, Mrs. Haines, Mr. Beiser, Mr. Low, Mr. Coard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming and family, the Misses Bass, Mr. and Miss Mulford, Mr. Clark, Mr. Williams, Dr. Long, Miss Nellie Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell and family, Mr. and Miss Oakley, Mr. Fish and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and family, Mr. Kemp, Baltimore, Miss Oegley, Mr. Munyon, Philadelphia, Mr. Martine and sister.

NEXT SEASON'S MELOPOIA.

Three Concerts Will Be Given, Under Mr. Chapman's Direction.

The executive committee of the Melopoia announces that for the season of 1893—94, the society will continue to be under the direction of William R. Chapman.

Three concerts will be given, at the Casino of the Union County Country Club: the first in December, 1893; the second in February, 1894; and the third in May, 1894.

Associate members desiring to retain their membership are requested to notify the secretary as early as possible.

The annual dues of an associate member will be twenty dollars, entitling the member to four tickets of admission to each entertainment.

No tickets will be sold to the general public.

The conductors of the society for the season will be:

EXECUTIVE BOARD.

President—Rowland Cox.
First Vice-president—Mason W. Tyler.
Second Vice-president—Charles J. Fisk.
Treasurer—Harry G. Runkle.
Secretary—Wm. T. Kaufman.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Chas. E. Brooks,	William R. Chapman,
Mrs. Pliny Fisk,	Israel C. Pierson,
Mrs. Virginia B. Hart,	Frederic Andrews,
Mrs. J. K. Myers,

BOARD OF PATRONS.

Mrs. War'n Ackerman,	Mrs. Wm. R. Wadsworth
" M. E. Edgerton,	Mrs. O. T. Waring,
" Hugh Hastings,	Mrs. Clif'n Wharton, jr.
" Charles Hyde,	Addison Conkling,
" Lawrence Myers,	James T. Closson,
" T. Logan Murphy,	John B. Dumont,
" Wm. J. Boome,	George C. Evans,
" Wm. L. Saunders,	J. J. H. Pollion,
" Wm. P. Smith,	Geo. R. Schoonmaker,
" H. M. Stockton,	Augustus D. Shepard,
" H. P. Talmadge,	Joseph M. Titsworth,
" Geo. K. Thomas,	J. Evarts Tracy,
" Jos. W. Reinhart,	Ernest L. Wais,

FRATERNAL FESTIVITIES.

Jr. Order Brethren Enjoy the Second Anniversary of Somerset Council, 104.

The second anniversary of Somerset council, 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., of North Plainfield, took place in I. O. O. F. Hall, 8 West Second street, this city, Friday evening. A large number of representatives were present from the several councils in the vicinity as follows: Franklin, 41, of Plainfield, Pioneer, 58, of Bound Brook, Ivanhoe, 72, of Somerville, Friendship, 81, of New Market, William G. Holton, 55, of Dunellen, and Central, 131, of Westfield.

The meeting was called to order by the councilor Frank W. Bailey, and after the regular routine business was transacted the chair was filled by the senior past councilor of the council James D. Anderson, who presided and announced the numbers on the programme.

Letters of regret were received from Past State Councilor S. O. H. Mills, of Rahway, and State Councilor Joseph L. Moore, of Camden, as not being able to attend.

Speechmaking was the principal part of the exercises, interspersed with instrumental music and a recitation. Messrs. William C. Force, of Franklin council, 41, and Joseph Newman, of Somerset council, 104, gave a banjo duet, and the latter gentleman also gave a ocarina solo, accompanied by Mr. Force on the organ. A recitation was also given by Harvey Thorn.

Speeches were made by the following: Past State Council outside sentinel William B. LaRue, of Bound Brook, State Council warden David Bodine, of Plainfield, and Messrs. C. S. Day and Nelson, of New Market, Byno, of Somerville, Durn, of Bound Brook, Bailey, Dayton and Anderson, of North Plainfield, Wooley and Stamets, of Westfield, Long, Pope and others of Plainfield. After the meeting was closed a bountiful repast was served in which all took part.

Festivities in Fanwood.

The ladies of All Saints church, Fanwood, held a strawberry and ice-cream festival Thursday evening in Excelsior Hall. To say there was a crush would be but to feebly express the idea of the multitude that thronged the rooms. People of all denominations besieged the tables, and the powers of the ladies were taxed to the utmost in attending to the guests. Mrs. L. J. Briggs and Mrs. Moore were the executive committee on entertainment, and through their endeavors All Saints will be enriched to an appreciable extent. The Rev. Dr. True was on hand, and added much to the success of the entertainment, as all who meet him admit his magnetic powers in making and keeping friends.

Spoiled the Shoe, and Cut His Toe.

Henry Tiedeman, while working under street commissioner Meeker on Peace street on Saturday, seriously injured his foot. He was fitting the head of a mattock on to the handle when he let it fall on his foot. It cut his little toe nearly off, and badly cut the next one. Tiedeman said he did not mind his foot as much as he did the injury done to his new shoe, which was spoiled.

Where He Spends His Sundays.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

Mr. Tomlinson of Plainfield was entertained by the Misses Dunham on Sunday.

Washingtonville's Commencement.

The district school in Washingtonville held interesting closing exercises Thursday evening, under the direction of principal Ringer. The programme was as follows:

Vacation Song..........School
Recitation—"We Little Boys"..........Eddie Spicer
A Dialogue..........Elmer and Florence Acker
Recitation—"I am Very Young"..........George Lamb
Recitation—"That 's the Way"..........Lizzie Werning
Recitation and Dialogue—"Jack and Jill", Harry Smith, Willie Diehl, Emma Diehl.
Recitation—"Hunchback Joe"..........Hattie Willis
Recitation—"The Envious Wren"..........Emma Diehl
Recitation—"Keep Trying", Willie Diehl, Elmer Acker, Harry Smith.
Recitation—"Young Hoodlum"..........Bertie Stiyes
Recitation—"The Sin of Omission"..........Minnie Diehl
Song—"Swinging 'Neath the Old Apple Tree"..........School
Recitation—"The Wicked Bishop"..........Etta Acker
Recitation—"The Two Church Builders".
Recitation—"Geography"..........James Walker
Recitation—"The Inventor's Wife"..........Jennie Gordon
Recitation—"The Leak in the Dike"..........Carrie Dalleman
Dialogue—"The Ghost".
Remarks by Mr. Clark and Mr. Dalleman.
Song—"God Be With You Till We Meet Again"..........School

Dictator Feytel Taught Them the Ritual.

Twenty-two Bound Brook men were initiated by the Plainfield Grand Dictator into the secrets of the Knights of Honor, Thursday night, and then proceeded to organize Bound Brook lodge by the election of the following officers:

Past Dictator—Frank Wolff.
Dictator—W. H. Dunham.
Vice Dictator—John L. Force.
Assistant Dictator—George Kuntz.
Reporter—A. H. Heppner.
Financial Reporter—E. B. Matthews.
Treasurer—C. H. Perry.
Guide—Wm. Taylor.
Chaplain—James H. Fisher.
Guardian—J. K. Smith.
Outside Guardian—E. Van Doren.
Trustees—David Davis, M. D., John Parcells, Gilbert Van Doren.
Representative to Grand Lodge—Frank Wolff.

Among the instituting officers present, says the Bound Brook Chronicle, were C. J. Feytel, Grand Dictator, of Plainfield; Dr. W. H. Keller, Grand Chaplain, of Bayonne; and Louis P. Cron, Grand Assistant Dictator, of Elizabeth.

At the close of the meeting a collation was served at the Mansion House.

The Ghost of the Enemy.

(From The Darkinsville Democrat.)

There is to Somerville people in particular, and to everyone in general outside of Plainfield, no little humor in the fact that the second-rate sports who make up the Crescent League have been turned out of house and home by the Ulrich estate, because they have not paid their rent in three months. At a meeting the other night judge Ulrich made a formal demand for the rent, which was to be paid or dispossess proceedings would be begun. Three nights afterward the league decided to sell off their property, pay their debts, and begin anew next fall on a more modest basis. Is it possible that there is anyone in the Windy City who can be modest? Where is the Plainfield Amusement company, (Limited)? Are they still alive? If so why not save the Crescent League? Just to think, the Crescent League thrown out from their club-house for non-payment of rent!

Perseverance Nominations.

At a regular convention of Perseverance lodge, 74, K. of P., held in their Castle Hall, Friday evening, nomination of officers for the ensuing term was the feature of the evening, and the following gentlemen were nominated for the various officers:

For Past-Chancellor—Samuel J. Robinson.
For Chancellor-Commander—Asa D. Pope.
For Vice-Chancellor—E. Garrison.
For Prelate—Theodore Mason.
For Keeper of Records and Seals—John F. Wakefield.
For Master of Finance—J. B. Higgins.
For Master of Exchequer—William H. B. Drake.
For Master-at-Arms—P. Hansen.

The election of the above will take place on Friday, June 30. Perseverance lodge is one of the leading lodges of the State, and it has always a welcome for strangers.

Union County Road Improvements.

The board of freeholders of Union county have designated the Edgar turnpike between Elizabeth and Rahway as a county road, and have ordered it to be paved with macadam for a width of twelve feet. By resolution the board also voted the issue of $60,000 worth of bonds at a denomination of $1,000, with interest at 4 per cent., the money to be used for road improvement. Plainfield's representatives, freeholders Vanderbeek and Hubbard alone, voted against the scheme.

Not So, Brother Mason.

The Bound Brook Chronicle says: "Plainfield people are complaining because water stands in some of the streets until it becomes stagnant and foul. These same people would probably object to having the streets in question graded, so that the water would run away."

What the people object to is having the gutters used as a receptacle for waste water. Rainwater alone should be their portion. Gutters are not meant to be brooks, and Plainfield was never intended for a Venice. Oh for a health board that had to courage to act!

Is He a Borden Witness?

The Lizzie Borden trial has been watched with eagerness. An acquaintance of the family and perhaps a material witness for the defence is now stopping at Casper's Hotel on East Front street. He is a middle-aged man, and intends to stay here till the trial is over. He will not talk about the case.

Eddie Daly Going to Pieces.

This week's Sporting Life has the following to say about a former Crescent player: "Eddie Daly has been laid off for a time. He has been playing wretchedly of late, and his batting isn't nearly as good as it was while away from home. He tries hard enough, but somehow or other he can't make connections."

Lane is Always Interesting.

(Rahway Democrat.)

James E. Martine of Plainfield authorizes the announcement that he is in no sense a candidate for Senator. This would seem to leave a pretty clear field for the Hon. Thomas A. Lane, of Summit, to secure the Democratic nomination. He would make a very lively and interesting canvass.

A Long-Desired Improvement.

Work will be begun Monday macadamizing Park avenue from Holly's to Metuchen, with stone from Wilson's crusher. This will make a continuous macadam roadway from Plainfield to New Brunswick. The Park avenue road to Rahway will be macadamized next.

Was There No Business?

Uncle John Flannery says that the Fanwood town committee spent their session Thursday evening, in playing ball in the club-house.

It's a Beauty.

Janitor Hope, of 222 Richmond street, has a choice moss rose bush 3½ feet high, bearing 328 roses and buds all at once.

—Dunellen is going to have a big time July 4. $200 worth of fireworks was ordered yesterday by one leading citizen, and the big celebration [illegible] begun to come in.

'MID BREEZES ON THE HEIGHTS.

Guests Flocking in Numbers to the Ever-Popular Hotel Netherwood.

HOTEL NETHERWOOD,
June 16, 1893.

SPECIAL TO THE PRESS:—The Hotel Netherwood opened on the 10th inst., for the season of '93. A large number of guests registered on the "opening day". The booking is largely in excess of former years; therefore it is safe to predict a brilliant and prosperous season. I note in the list of engagements many prominent families from New York, Brooklyn and other points.

The Netherwood has been thoroughly renovated throughout. The sanitary conditions of the hotel are beyond question, the plumbing having been entirely renewed. Frank H. Miller, manager and proprietor of The Netherwood, is at the fore, as usual, and the guests may rest assured that nothing will be left undone on his part to ensure their comfort.

I subjoin a list of guests:

From New York city, Mr. and Mrs. L. Benton, Miss Eva Philips, H. J. Weber, C. A. Smith and wife, Miss Lula Smith, H. W. Williams and wife, Master Weston Williams and maid, Mrs. E. W. Stocking, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haney, Miss Jennie G. Haney and maid, J. Aug. Hinchman, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Stout, Miss Gladys Stout, William J. Eaton and wife, William L. Godley and wife, Master Fred. Godley and maid, A. L. Soulard, Mrs. W. T. Wardwell and family, Dr. A. L. Ranney and wife, A. Elliott Ranney, W. G. Brady and family, J. A. Smith, George H. Thompson, Mrs. E. Sugden, Miss Sugden, Dr. J. Dyson Aspenwall, Miss Yale, Mr. and Mrs. Friend Fitts; from Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Shepard, Miss Mary N. Shepard, Miss Olive B. Shepard and maid; from Brooklyn, F. W. Weeks, Julius Loos, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Palmer, Richard J. Kelley and family; from Newark, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Chandler W. Riker.

J. A. H.

THE PEACH CROP IMMENSE.

Does n't Your Mouth Water for This Most Delicious Fruit?

A correspondent of the Unionist-Gazette, writing from Hopewell and Ewing townships, Mercer county, says:

"Your correspondent is now near the boundary line of Hopewell and Ewing, twain (if not twin) townships of Mercer county. On either side of the line luxuriance abounds. Wheat fields are waving in silent majesty, while fragrant clover fields add their splendor. Seldom, if ever, has there been a prospect of a heavier yield. One would suppose the farmers' hearts are bounding with delight in view of prospective revenues. And yet it is not so. Only 70 cents a bushel, when it should be $1.50. Yes, many would be glad, and thankful, too, if they could get the paltry sum of $1 for this sine qua non article of food. In this section of our glorious little commonwealth wheat fields are the rule. In a ride of 12 miles, a day or two ago, scarcely a field of rye was seen. But when found the spires are stately, towering up to a height of 6 and 7 feet.

"I write this afternoon—Oh how balmy is the air, and how resplendent the sky—in what may be termed the metropolis of the peach district. From my window can be discerned 30,000 trees or more, a veritable forest. One farmer alone is the happy possessor of 12,000. And the universal testimony is that the forthcoming crop will be simply immense, and of course the prices will be within the reach of all. Good news, certainly, for the struggling sons and daughters of noble toil."

—The nightly center of attraction in town is the new Japanese store opposite the post-office. The goods are sold at extraordinarily low prices.

—Every pleasant afternoon there is a grand water-works exhibition on Sandford and Westervelt avenues. Nearly every resident on the thoroughfares owns a coil of hose and spray nozzle, and when they are all in operation at once the sight is both novel and interesting.

—Ther's lake is alive with bass, but it's illegal to catch them now.

—The Bound Brook Democrat says of James Matthews of Plainfield, who was fined $25 and costs for abusing his horse: "He was served just right."

—Elm place in its new condition is a credit to the city. The ordinance compelling property owners to flag and curb in front of their residences has been carried out to the letter, and the street is now one of the best paved in town.

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsomer finish, better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or

"Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

"Atlantic" "Bradley" "Brooklyn" "Jewett" "Ulster"

are strictly pure, "Old Dutch" process brands, established by a lifetime of use.

For colors use National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors with Strictly Pure White Lead.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

NATIONAL LEAD CO.,
1 Broadway, New York.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

Between Sarah A. Dickinson, guardian, etc., complainant, and Emma A. Jones and others, defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1893,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

[illegible]

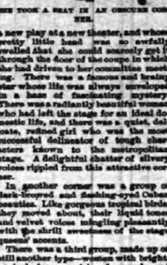
THE FORGOTTEN WOMAN.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

She drifted like a ghost into the uptown office of a great exposition.

She was old and wrinkled and shabby. Her rusty cloak was patched in many places and the black straw bonnet, which did duty alike in winter and summer, was tied down by a coarse black veil over the ears, fast closing to all sound. From her arm dangled a quaint black bag, in which she carried her spectacles, some bits of paper and her handkerchief. She was a sorry, pathetic figure, as she deprecatingly picked her way among the handsome and richly-gowned women who were engineering the ladies' department of a great fair, discussing ways and means of alluring the dollars from pockets and incidentally those topics dear to woman's heart—gowns, bonnets, the last smartish, suggestive novel, the new serpentine dance, the delicious scandal in high life.

In one corner sat a bevy of yellow and Titian-haired actresses, resplendent in stunning gowns of extreme cut and noticeable hue. There was the tiny soubrette who had made a hit in a new play at a new theater, and whose pretty little head was so awfully swelled that she could scarcely get it through the door of the coupe in which she had driven to her committee meeting. There was a famous and brainy star whose life was always enveloped in a haze of fascinating mystery. There was a radiantly beautiful woman who had left the stage for an ideal domestic life, and there was a quiet, delicate, refined girl who was the most successful delineator of tough characters known to the metropolitan stage. A delightful chatter of silvery voices rippled from this attractive corner.



SHE TOOK A SEAT IN AN OBSCURE CORNER.

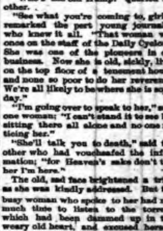
In another corner was a group of dark-browed and flashing-eyed Cuban beauties. Like gorgeous tropical birds, they moved about, their liquid tones and velvet voices mingling pleasantly with the shrill sweetness of the stage queens' accents.

There was a third group, made up of still another type—women with bright, cynical faces, quick of speech and movement, tailor-made, well-gloved and bonneted, conspicuous by an air of good-fellowship and a certain amount of snap and dash—newspaper women. There was one well-known writer whose pen brought her an income equal to that of a member of congress; there was a girl scarcely out of her teens some of whose "beats" had made the most hardened reporter turn livid with envy; there was another who knew everything about everybody, and could give you points about your dearest friend which would make your hair curl; there were two or three women supporting their families by their space rates, and at least a half-dozen who were living on their nerve—burning the candle of life at both ends and quite enjoying the conflagration.

Into the midst of this strangely assorted medley of living, breathing remembered women came the woman who was forgotten.

She took a seat in an obscure corner and tried to distinguish some words from the Babel about her, but in vain. She strained and blinked her failing eyes, hoping to discover some face she knew, but all were strange. She attracted considerable attention, curiosity and good-natured comment.

"Look at Aunt Jerusha," whispered the little soubrette, giving her Gainsborough hat a quirk over her left eyebrow.



THE SAD FACE BRIGHTENED A LITTLE.

"Who's the old frump?" queried another.

"See what you're coming to, girls," remarked the pert young journalist who knew it all. "That woman was once on the staff of the Daily Cyclone. She was one of the pioneers in our business. Now she is old, sickly, lives on the top floor of a tenement house, and none so poor to do her reverence. We're all likely to be where she is some day."

"I'm going over to speak to her," said one woman; "I can't stand it to see her sitting there all alone and no one noticing her."

"She'll talk you to death," said the other who had vouchsafed the information; "for Heaven's sake don't tell her I'm here."

The old, sad face brightened a trifle as she was kindly addressed. But the busy woman who spoke to her had not much time to listen to the torrent which had been dammed up in the weary old heart, and excused herself as soon as possible.

So the woman who was forgotten was once more left alone and sat trying to listen and to see. Failing in these, she fell to remembering. Back in the past she drifted; back to her days of work and usefulness. Once she was sought and admired. Once her opinions had weight and her counsels were asked. Once she felt she had a place in the world which she had earned by honest endeavor. She had taken great pride in that place. She recalled her first success, the words of praise and encouragement she had heard, the friendships of those who had long been lying in their low, green beds. Old loves, old affections, old comradeships rushed over her once more—something filled the hungry old heart and something sprang to the fading eyes.

There was a stir, a rustle, a frou-frou of silks. The meetings were over, and the gayly-dressed, merry, busy, living women were departing. The ghost—the woman who was forgotten—flitted through the throng and slowly, painfully took her way to her miserable home. It was a climb to the top floor of that East side tenement, and when she reached it she was very tired.

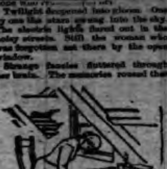
There was no one to welcome her, no one to take the bonnet and shawl, and brew a cup of tea. No one to say: "I have missed you," and bid her rest. The woman who was forgotten was quite alone.

"I wish I could have heard them talk this afternoon," she murmured, "and I wish there had been some one who was not too busy to have told me who the different ones were. But they were all so busy—I ought not to expect anyone to bother with me. It was foolish of me to have gone. I am too old for service and then, I am forgotten."

It was early springtime. She had opened the window a trifle that the soft air might penetrate the stuffy room. The sun was just going down. The woman who was forgotten leaned one moment from the garret window and looked out over the roofs of the dingy houses, over the [illegible] and [illegible] to the broad river flowing down to the sea. [illegible]

Twilight deepened into gloom. One by one the stars sprang into the sky. The electric lights flared out in the noisy streets. Still the woman who was forgotten sat there by the open window.

Strange fancies fluttered through her brain. The memories roused that afternoon beckoned others and a train of recollections swept before her. Some kissed their hands to her; others veiled their faces and wept.



SHE WAS QUITE ALONE.

Then sounds, sights and odors of long ago came to her. She heard the soughing of the wind through pines * * * the call of a robin through the twilight * * * the tolling of bells. She smelled again the perfume of violets * * * the strange odor of upturned earth * * * She saw faces * * * smiles * * * tears. She felt kisses on her withered cheeks * * * her lips * * *

In the lonely room, in the stillness of the mysterious night, something swift and terrible and kind touched her.

God had not forgotten her.

EDITH SESSIONS TUPPER.

Barred Out.

Mrs. Celluloide—Why doesn't your husband go to church with you?

Mrs. Collerette—He couldn't afford any new clothes, and he looks too shabby beside my new wrap.—N. Y. Herald.

Couldn't Tell the Difference.

Customer—Waiter bring me another order of this limburger cheese.

Waiter—Why, that's better.

Customer—Well then bring me an order of carbolic acid.—Brooklyn Life.

Leading Up.

"I expect to fight this chills and fever," said the bilious-looking but determined man, swallowing another dose of quinine, "to the bitter end."—Chicago Tribune.

Murder Most Foul.

'Twas Hamlet he played. He slew the king,
And ran Polonius through,
Likewise Laertes, and all the while
He was murdering Shakespeare too.
—N. Y. Herald.

An Impossibility.

Haverly—I think that Chapleigh is more knave than fool.

Austen—Impossible!—Life.

RAILROADS.

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Standard Railway of America

Perfected throughout by the Interlocking switch and Block Signal System.

On and after Feb. 19, 1893, trains will leave Elizabeth as follows:

[illegible]

FOR ATLANTIC CITY

[illegible]

A full line of tickets are on sale, and sleeping car accommodations can be secured at the ticket office at Elizabeth.

For further information, see time tables to be had at the ticket offices.

S. M. PREVOST, General Manager.
J. R. WOOD, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Central Railroad of New Jersey.

(Anthracite coal used exclusively insuring cleanliness and comfort.)

Station in New York foot of Liberty Street. Time Table in Effect, MAY 14, 1893

PLAINFIELD AND NEW YORK.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND NEWARK.

[illegible]

Passengers for Newark change cars at Elizabeth.

PLAINFIELD AND SOMERVILLE.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND EASTON.

[illegible]

PLAINFIELD AND LAKE HOPATCONG.

Leave Plainfield 7 15, a m 12 45, 5 12 p. m.

WESTWARD CONNECTIONS.

LEAVE PLAINFIELD.

[illegible]

LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, &c.

[illegible]

ROYAL BLUE LINE.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE COMPANY!

SPEAKING CONNECTION WITH OVER 1100 SUBSCRIBERS—PROTECTION FROM FIRE AND BURGLARS. PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Central Office—42 North Avenue.

[illegible]

TELEPHONE TOLL RATES.

FOR FIVE MINUTES CONVERSATION.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

[illegible]

TWENTY Years experience in the business.

SECONDHAND [illegible]

Mr. JOHN H. STEVENS, [illegible]

ALBERT HEDDEN,
Livery and Boarding Stables
FOURTH STREET,
[illegible]

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

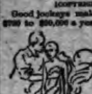
TO CHRISTINA SMITH [illegible]

A JOCKEY'S WORK.

Taral Describes the Ordeal of Keeping "Down to Weight."

What It Costs to Ride the Pigskin—How He Manages to Make Money In and Out of Season and How He Spends It.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]



THE RUBBING DOWN.

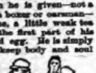
Good jockeys make anywhere from $700 to $20,000 a year. By this I mean they earn the amount in salaries and commissions. What they make or lose in betting I will try to show later on.

Although jockeys of the first class enjoy what are called princely incomes, yet sitting the pigskin is anything but a paying business. This seems strange, but it is true nevertheless. The money is earned speedily enough, but at what a sacrifice! Ah, there's the rub. The public never dream of the trials the successful jockey goes through. No other athlete, be he runner, pedestrian, oarsman or boxer, endures the physical and mental torture a jockey does in preparing for the season's work. Moreover, the fighter, runner, oarsman or pedestrian, after he reaches condition, goes through one supreme trial, and then his task is ended. The jockey on the contrary after he has got down to weight is obliged to keep there for months at a time. He must be down to the limit for every mount, and the mounts last through a season of four, five and sometimes six months.

And what is the training of a jockey? Not one man or woman out of a hundred knows. I will try to tell of what it consists. Jockeys of the present day weigh anywhere from 90 to 130 pounds. Their weight when out of training runs from 20 to 40 pounds above these figures. The jockey has, say, a period of three months' rest, during which he enjoys the good things of life, when he is forced to place himself under a trainer to fit himself for the work of getting into shape which is to follow.

He must not taste cakes, puddings, milk, cream, butter, juicy tid-bits and a thousand and one other good things that produce fat and make life enjoyable. This kind of thing must be faced to make a fellow thin and to harden his flesh. Training cannot at once entered into. If it were the man attempting it would fall away to a shadow and become as weak as water. Such a man would be of no earthly use to his employer.

The training proper of a jockey is a purgatory which no other kind of athlete goes through. A fellow is aroused at daybreak and wrapped up in heavy mufflers and has to take a jaunt of eight or ten miles before breakfast. After a rub down he is given—not a hearty meal like a boxer or oarsman—but a skimped one, a little weak tea and toast, and in the first part of his training a poached egg. He is simply given enough to keep body and soul together. After a rest of two hours or thereabout, another long jaunt is taken. This time the jockey is weighted down with two or sometimes three heavy suits of underclothing. Over this is a heavy waistcoat and on top a big ulster or overcoat. It makes no difference how warm the day may be, the "jock" must take his medicine. After this comes a steam bath and another rub down. A good bit of flesh disappears with each and every one of these sweatings. Generally a sherry flip is then given the jockey to prevent weakness and another slim meal follows. In the afternoon it is the same thing over again—more sweating and more starving.



HE MUST TAKE HIS MEDICINE.

All this time the jockey is kept away from his horses. He is not allowed to mount them in exercise until he gets to the proper weight. Six weeks of this kind of life brings the man down to something like the weight he should ride at. Then comes the tug-of-war to keep at that weight. The jockey is reduced to a mass of bones, sinew and muscle, and has not a particle of fat upon his frame. It is here that the grand tussle comes with the fellow's feelings. When a man is in the enjoyment of perfect health it is a tantalizing thing to have his hunger and thirst always with him and yet never be allowed to eat and drink what he likes. A man becomes as hungry as a wolf and the fight to overcome his appetite is something fearful. Even water cannot be taken as it is fattening and will put on flesh very fast. So the patient (for he is one in reality) becomes feverish, sick, half-witted and does his work with the greatest trouble and pain.

A jockey, like poets and fighters, is born and not made. A man may study all the rules of writing, but if he does not own any divine afflatus, as the fellow says, he can never be a good writing man. I am afraid I never did have much divine afflatus.

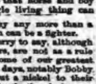
A GOOD THING ON 'CHANGE.

Rules of boxing as laid down might be learned, too, but if the sport has not the gifts of a fighter, a sure eye, lightning-like delivery and a heart which knows no fear, all the lessons which Mike Donovan or Billy Edwards could give him for ten years would not make him a fighter.

A boy who is afraid of a horse and cannot set him so that horse and boy look like a single living thing can never be a jockey any more than a weak-hearted man can be a fighter.

Jockeys, I am sorry to say, although rapid moneymakers, are not as a rule money savers. Some of our greatest jockeys of bygone days, notably Bobby Swim, died without a nickel to their names. In England the jocks are more thrifty and put a good bit of money away. Some of them are indeed land owners. Archer owned one of the finest estates in Surrey, and at his death left real and personal property valued at something like $1,500,000. Fordham at his death left a fortune of some three quarters of a million.

Of the great living jockeys on our side of the Atlantic Jimmy McLaughlin and Edward, better known as Snapper, Garrison, have perhaps made the largest fortunes. Four years ago Jimmy was credited with being worth $200,000. He "blew it in," however, like a prince at the track, in Wall street and in good living. He went broke, but he makes a little mint once in awhile, and last year he turned his tips into gold. He became a horse owner, instead of jockey, and by shrewd engineering of two or three "good things" made a hit and got on his feet again. He has not the money he once had, but he is in a fair way to get it.



HIS BREAKFAST.

Snapper Garrison! Who does not know of the bold ventures of this dashing, nervy, reckless daredevil of the American turf. Snapper will gamble on anything from the flip of a penny to the Suburban. Young as he is (he can't be more than 27 or 28) Snapper has made and lost three or four fortunes. A year ago he was broke. Now he is again worth $50,000 or $60,000, which he is liable to double twice before the season expires or lose all. May luck be with him.

As I stated before, not one of the leading jockeys of the American turf is really rich like many of the English ones. McLaughlin, Garrison, Daredevil Fitzpatrick, Marty Bergen, Hamilton, the two Lamblays, Isaac Murphy and your humble servant, all combined, would not scrape together one-half of what Fordham died with or one-quarter of what Archer did. This is owing to many causes. First, most of our boys bet their own money; second, they are all freehearted, extravagant, generous fellows, who live high when out of training and yield quite easily to the "touch" of a needy friend, and third, because they drop something in Wall street and other money places. They have many strong friends in the "street" who frequently give them "good things" on the stock exchange in return for favors given at the track.

English jockeys, on the other hand, seldom, or ever, play the races, are very thrifty, never speculate and, instead of giving money away, receive generous presents from hosts of admirers who won on their mounts.

FRED TARAL.

MISCELLANEOUS. MISCELLANEOUS.

E. P. THORN,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Pure Wines and Liquors,
For Family and Medicinal Use,
A SPECIALTY.

3-25-y

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

THIRTY years' observation of Castoria with the patronage of millions of persons, permit us to speak of it without guessing. It is unquestionably the best remedy for Infants and Children the world has ever known. It is harmless. Children like it. It gives them health. It will save their lives. In it Mothers have something which is absolutely safe and practically perfect as a child's medicine.

Castoria destroys Worms.
Castoria allays Feverishness.
Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd.
Castoria cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic.
Castoria relieves Teething Troubles.
Castoria cures Constipation and Flatulency.
Castoria neutralizes the effects of carbonic acid gas or poisonous air.
Castoria does not contain morphine, opium, or other narcotic property.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep.
Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk.
Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."
See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE SIAMESE.

They Are Lovers of Holidays and of All the Vices That Accompany a Lazy Life.

To a European eye the good looks, if they anywhere exist, of both Siamese men and women are irremediably destroyed by the universal use of the betel, which blackens and corrodes the teeth and causes them to protrude, which renders the spittoon an indispensable article of furniture, and is responsible for the great splashes of red saliva that may be seen everywhere adorning the ground, as they have been ejected from the mouths of the passers-by. Like their fellows in Anam, the Siamese women enjoy great freedom and influence.

Being of a most mercantile and managing temperament, they become the self-constituted stewardesses, treasurers and hucksters of the home, or shop, or store. They may be seen by the hundred going to market, each seated alone in her own canoe with her wares spread out before her. The last king kept a body guard of Amazons, with red coats and trousers and small carbines; but the present sovereign has converted them into a species of interior palace police. The national character is docile, indolent, light-hearted, gay.

The Siamese are devoted to the holiday making and ceremonies and processions which accompany the most important anniversaries or incidents of life, death and religion, and which cause an infinite amount of money to be squandered and time lost. They love games—kite-flying, a sort of shuttlecock football, and fighting with cocks, crickets, beetles and fish; though it is to be surmised that the main attraction of these pursuits consists in the scope thereby afforded for betting and gambling, which are the cardinal national vices.

A Siamese will stake money on anything; licensed gambling houses exist in the cities and are a large source of income to the government, which farms out the monopoly. A royal lottery is extensively patronized in Bangkok. The gambling houses and the pawnshops, which are their corollary and which are stocked with objects pawned or stolen, are a disgrace to the capital. In some streets every other house is a pawnshop, kept by a Chinaman. If suppression of these places were found difficult, at least a great reduction in their numbers might be made, while a substantial revenue would accrue to the crown by the imposition upon them of a heavy tax.—Fortnightly Review.

A Hard Question.

"Birds come back in the spring, don't they, mamma?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, will my canary, which flew away last year, come back to me then?"—Harper's Young People.

A Kentucky Explanation.

Snooper—Will you have some oysters, colonel?

Col. Blood (of Louisville)—Thanks, no. Oysters are 90 per cent. water, sir.—Vogue.

AN INTELLIGENT DOG.

Carries Electric Wires Through a Culvert with Great Skill.

The method adopted by the Crompton Electric Lighting company of London, England, in laying their connections consists in copper strips (technically known as the "strip") conducted along the whole of their system in culverts underground. It is necessary to carry these strips through the culverts in lengths of about one hundred yards each, and they are laid four abreast. These strips are supported on transverse bars at intervals of two yards. The difficulty and expense of laying these strips was a serious [illegible] ascribed to the foreman of the [illegible] that a terrier might be trained to carry a guide rope along the culverts, to the end of which the strip could be attached, and then easily drawn through. He had in his possession a broken-haired fox-terrier bitch about nine months old, which he immediately began to train for the business. To induce a terrier to travel one hundred yards underground is not such a very difficult task, but it must be remembered that at every ten yards came the transverse supports, and it was necessary for her to jump over these every time until she could be depended upon to jump over every support without fail, else she was useless for the work in hand, and herein lay the great difficulty in her education. However, by patience and perseverance on the part of her master, aided by the naturally honorable disposition of Strip, perfection was reached and she never makes a single mistake now. Working in the dark culverts, she can be implicitly trusted to assist the company in her department, and has laid many miles of wires both in London and Brighton.

STRIP IN A BOX AT THE ENTRANCE TO A CULVERT.

STRIP IN THE BOX AT THE END OF THE CULVERT.

And the company, recognizing the value of a good servant, pays her good wages, which she receives every Saturday morning along with the other employes of the company. Strip is purely a scientific dog and will not condescend on any terms, to the frivolities usually affected by her species. Rats are treated with scorn, cats are unmolested and larks generally are tabooed. She is creating quite a stir in the electrical world at the present time.

CAN A HORSE THINK?

Before Answering the Question Read This Little Story.

A few days ago, while walking through Arch street, Boston, just at the hour when empty trucks are standing there, when the horses are struggling to get their oats out of these detestable nose-bags—while the drivers are off eating their dinner—I noticed a truck horse uneasily turning and twisting his head from side to side as if in search of somebody or something. I watched him for a moment or two, and concluding that the nose-bag had become disarranged was about to cross the street to see if I could readjust it. As I stepped forward the horse seemed to have been struck with a new idea. He lifted his head and for a moment looked steadily up the street in front of him. Suddenly his whole aspect changed. He shook himself, gave a snort of satisfaction as if he had discovered what he had been looking for, and with his head high in the air and his ears pricked up he moved briskly forward. Much interested I followed him. Arrived at the corner of Franklin street he deliberately halted at the tail of an empty truck standing there, and resting his nose-bag upon it, contentedly finished his oats.—Alice Cowan, in Wide Awake.

Some Mixed Metaphors.

In a recent lecture in London, Sir John Lubbock gave some interesting reminiscences of mixed metaphors perpetrated by speakers in the house of commons, by which he showed that Scotchmen at times are able to compete in funny blunders with Irishmen. He recalled one speech by a solemn Highlander, in which he gravely informed the house that a certain appropriation for the Afghan war was a "mere flea-bite in the ocean," while another Scotch member remarked that "you may depend on it, sir, the pale face of the British soldier is the backbone of the Indian army."

Mrs. Newwife—Did you go to the intelligence office about that new girl, Jack?

Jack—Yes.

Mrs. Newwife—Did they say she was capable?

Jack—Yes; capable of anything.—Boston Budget.

Not Ashamed of It.

Mrs. Finn—I think you do be lookin' illigant, Della, dear.

Della (just from a seminary)—You should not say "do be" mother. It is awfully Irish.

Mrs. Finn—Howly saints! And ain't I Irish?—Life.

Probably.

"I wonder what a man's sensations are when he is struck by lightning?" said Dawson.

[illegible]

Rates of Advertising

Space	WEEKS 1	2	3	MONTHS 1	3	6	12
1 in.	$1.00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
¼ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

All Electro's must be solid metal.
Double cols. 30 per ct. advance of above rates.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

VOL. XXVI. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1893. No 26.

"Support the Constitution, which is the cement of the Union, as well in its limitations as in its authorities."—MADISON.

The Constitutionalist,
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.
W. L. FORCE & A. L. FORCE, Editors and Proprietors.
AT PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY.
TERMS—TWO DOLLARS A YEAR.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

JACKSON & CODINGTON,
Counsellors-at-Law,
Commissioners of Deeds, Masters-in-Chancery, Notaries Public. Offices corner of Park avenue and Second street.—jedtf

GEORGE W. DAY,
General Auctioneer.
Sales of Personal Property solicited. P. O. Box 132, Dunellen, N. J., or address in care of CONSTITUTIONALIST. Terms reasonable.

DR. CHARLES E. THEIRS,
Dentist,
24 West Front street. A new local anaesthetic application for extracting teeth without pain. Gold filling a specialty.—je4tf

BUSINESS CARDS.

P. P. VanArsdale,
PIANO TUNER.
Instruments put in thorough order. Terms reasonable. Pianos and Organs for sale and to let. Orders by postal, P. O. box 160, or left at Willett's shoe store, No. 6 Park avenue, will receive prompt attention. Residence 21 E. Front street, corner Elm street. jly1tf

T. J. GILLIES,
Auctioneer & Real Estate Agent.
SALESROOM—Madison Avenue near Front's Plainfield, N. J.
Goods received on consignment.

John Chandler,
CARPENTER AND BUILDER,
Plainfield, N. J.
Residence and shop No. 36 East Third street.
Jobbing promptly attended to. ap2y

E. B. MAYNARD,
PRACTICAL BARBER
AND
Artistic Hair Dresser,
No. 26 PARK AVENUE.
Ladies' and Children's Hair Cutting done at their residences. Shaving, Shampooing, etc. satisfactorily performed. f21y1

CARNEY BROTHERS, Agents,
7 West Front St.
TINNERS,
PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS.
PARLOR STOVES.
COOK STOVES,
HEATERS.

Grates and Bricks for all kinds of Stoves can be found here at Jobbers' prices. Bring your Tinware mending to us. The best Tinners, the best Plumbers, and the best Gas-fitters in this section. We use none but the very best of materials, and our work always gives satisfaction.

Keys of All Kinds are Made Here.
Tinware Made to Order.
Ranges, Brick and Portable Furnaces
SANITARY PLUMBING.

Parlor Stoves,
Furnaces, Ranges,
Water Piping, Plumbing.
Heater Work. Tinning,
Hardware.
A. M. GRIFFEN,
13 East Front Street.
TELEPHONE CALL, 6. 11 11-tf

Beautiful Assortment!
Furniture!
Largest Assortment!
Best Goods!
Lowest Prices!
Ever Offered in Plainfield!
23, 25 and 27 PARK AVE.
Garret Q. Packer.

SANITARY PLUMBING,
Brick and Portable Furnaces,
GAS FITTING,
TIN ROOFING,
Etc. Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in a strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Plumbers Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and save my patrons. I believe in every man running his own business (all the time), and in all cases.
D. W. LITTELL,
No. 5 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

MISCELLANEOUS.

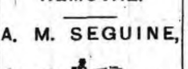
FOR MALARIA,
GENERAL DEBILITY
AND
ALL STOMACH TROUBLES
COLES'
PERUVIAN BARK
AND
WILD CHERRY BITTERS
ARE THE BEST.
A Vegetable Substitute for Quinine.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Price, 50 cents and $1.00 per Bottle.
PREPARED ONLY BY THE
D. F. COLES DRUG AND MFG. CO.
RAHWAY, N. J.
4-21-y

Jas. M. Dunn
Dealer in
GROCERIES, PROVISIONS
Vegetables, Fruits, etc.
No. 36 Park Ave.
OPPOSITE NORTH AVENUE.
THORBURN & CO'S GARDEN SEEDS,
BEST IN THE WORLD.
ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE
ob21f

ESTABLISHED 18 6.
C.E. & J.W. BROWN,
[Successors to G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co.]
Importers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
WALL PAPER.
321 Canal Street,
NEW YORK.
English Tiles, Anaglypta, Hand, Leather Raised Flock Papers, &c. Burlaps for Walls.
Manufacturers of Window Shades.
3-13-tf

LIVERY.

REMOVAL.
A. M. SEGUINE,



Has removed his office to
No. 8 West Second Street,
(Salvation Army building)
Where all orders left for carriages will receive prompt attention.
TELEPHONE CALL, NO. 94.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited.
A. M. SEGUINE.

RICKERT'S
ACCOMMODATION EXPRESS.
OFFICE—Vanderbeek's Music Store, Park avenue. The "Accommodation Express" will attend to the general carrying business of the city, delivering goods of baggage to and from the depot, or from place to place.
Moving of Furniture, Pianos, etc., with care and safety.

INSURANCE.

WILLIAM A. WOODRUFF,
FIRE AND LIFE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Office cor. Front St. and Park Ave.,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Real Estate for Sale & Exchange.
MONEY TO LOAN
On Approved Security.

Fresh Garden Seeds
AND FERTILIZERS,
Farm and Garden Implements,
Lawn Mowers Refrigerators,
Ice Cream Freezers
Gasolene Stoves, Hardware, Tools, etc.
J. J. HEIDELOFF,
No. 19 Somerset St. 3-16-tf

WANTED—Reliable Parties
To act as agents. Steady employment and
Good Pay From the Start.
No experience necessary; outfit free. Address THE HAWKS NURSERY CO., Rochester New York. 3 22 3m e

WANTED.
Honest energetic man to solicit orders for FRUIT and ORNAMENTAL NURSERY STOCK.
Expenses and salary to those who can leave home and devote all their time to the work; or liberal commissions to local agents. State age, occupation and choice of territory. Address
R. G. CHASE & CO.,
1430 So. Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

CANOPIES
For Weddings, Parties, Etc.,
TO HIRE. CHARGES REASONABLE
Hugo Weigman,
20 EAST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

LEWIS B. CODDINGTON,
[Successor to T. J. Carey.]
Furniture and Freight Express!
OFFICE—24 W. FRONT ST.
Large Covered Vans of Trucks. Goods delivered to any part of the U. S. Satisfaction guaranteed. Terms reasonable. P. O. Box [illegible].

TOBACCO, SEGARS, &c.

B EGGERDING,
No. 17 Park Avenue,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Manufacturer of the Celebrated
U. O. D. CIGAR,
The best 5cent cigar in the State, and made on the premises from the finest Havana.
CLEAR HAVANA SEGARS A SPECIALTY.
A large assortment of the Choicest Brands of Foreign and Domestic Cigars, Cigarettes and Tobaccos, always on hand.
Smokers Articles in Great Variety.

C. M. FINE,
Dealer in HAVANA & DOMESTIC
—SEGARS!!—
No. 26 PARK AVE., (near corner of SECOND ST.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Tobacco and Smoker's Materials, of every description.
The celebrated "Old Judge" Smoking Tobacco, with other popular brands constantly on hand.

A. WOLFF,
Manufacturer of
CIGARS,
And dealer in all kinds of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, and smokers' articles, has removed from 19½ W. Front street, to 41 West Front, one door east of Madison avenue, and solicits the patronage of his friends and the public generally.

PAINTERS & PAINTERS SUPP

Paints, Varnishes, Glass.
WINDOW SHADES AND FIXTURES.
WALL PAPERS!
PAPER HANGING A SPECIALTY.
A. SWALM,
No. 6 North Avenue, Plainfield.

L. B. WOOLSTON, J. T. BUCKLE
Woolston & Buckle,
PAINTERS,
Wall Papers,
PAINTERS SUPPLIES. 20 NORTH AVENUE

G. Dickinson
Optician
13 Park Ave
Plainfield N. J.

WHATEVER form of printed matter you require we can be of service to you; whether it be
Letter Headings,
Circulars,
Programmes, Menus,
Addresses,
Memorials,
By-Laws of Societies,
Prospectuses and Reports of Financial Associations, or any other matter for Public or Private Circulation.
Everything.
WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONALIST
DAILY PRESS
(Chautauqua Building)
PLAINFIELD N. J

29 GRADUATES.

LARGEST CLASS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL'S HISTORY.

Most Enjoyable Commencement Ever Held in Music Hall—Masterly Address by Dr. Richards—Honor to Miss Bulkley.

For the masculine sex to predominate in a class of High school graduates, as was the case Thursday, is exceptionable, and as gratifying as unusual. To be sure, the majority was only one, but in High schools everywhere, from time immemorial, the rule has been a large preponderance of the gentler sex among the graduates. It is good news that more young men are appreciating the privilege of the higher education afforded by the public schools, and that they are not now as formerly dropping out by wholesale to begin work before the end of the course is reached.

Never was Plainfield's High School Commencement more enjoyable than this. The heat is usually insufferable on graduates' night, but Jupiter Pluvius was in charitable humor and sent showers that cooled the atmosphere and refreshed earth's weary mortals.

There was the customary jam in Music Hall. Many people stood because no seats were vacant, and all stayed through to the end. The abbreviation of the exercises to a less than two hours limit kept them in good humor, and was gratefully appreciated.

The 29 graduates sat on the stage arranged in the form of a crescent. The maidens were at the front, their fair whiteness of costume and freshness of feature and grace relieved by the dark background of the sturdy young men of the class. At their right was their beloved principal, Henry M. Maxson; W. D. Murray, president of the Alumni; and George H. Babcock, E. L. Finch, W. R. Richards and J. B. Probasco, of the board of education. The bridegroom had returned from his wedding trip purposely to preside at this the twenty-third annual commencement of the Plainfield schools.

The honor man of the class, Stephen Rushmore, gave an effective salutatory and oration on "Athletics". He heartily welcomed the board of education and thanked them for their constant care of the pupils; he greeted the citizens of Plainfield in the name of the largest class ever graduated from the schools, and expressed his gratitude for their presence and for their unstinted support of the public school system. He spoke of the need of good health in a student, and held that a man could not become a railroad king without excellent physical condition. Colleges were building gymnasiums and making them a road to health for students who otherwise might have no recreation from study. Football was given a manly defense by the gifted young orator. Many people, he said, did not understand the game. They thought it too rough. But it was by no means the brutal sport some believed. It required head work and brain combined. Athletics was the means of establishing a close bond of fellowship among students. It widened acquaintanceship. And he was glad that the public was growing more and more to have a higher regard for hearty games and manly sports.

The Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards was as interesting as ever in his address. He said that nothing held a higher place in the esteem of cultured people than education. Schools and churches were the foundation of all good and holy living and doing, and God forbid that they should ever be separated or that either should be dispensed with. The school without the church meant narrowness and bigotry in all the schemes of life, a decadence of morals, a loss of noble hopes and ambitions. The church without the school meant dark tyranny of priesthood or Presbyters, he wasn't sure which was worse. This was accepted as a direct

BLOW AT THE BRIGGS CASE.

The public school system, he continued, was the pride of Plainfield. It was a mark of distinction to be educated in a school system so firmly founded and so broad and large in scholarship, giving glorious opportunity for future development. Whatever difference there might be over the matter of school management, there was no cause for fearing injury to the vital interests of the institution. On the contrary, all had a most jealous regard for the use and efficiency of the schools, and the people did not feel it an extravagance to spend money as liberally as need be in the cause of learning.

The good results of a public school education were manifest. If the training the graduates had obtained would enable them to earn $2 instead of $1, it would a triumph in that alone. But there was something higher than merely consideration. The scholars should prize most of all the treasures of intellect for their own value. The price of wisdom is above rubies.

In our country, continued Dr. Richards, education was the only title to autocracy. The learned were the only aristocrats. Wealth might make one conspicuous, but wealth was a vulgarism without education. Public office was a prominence, but sometimes it was an honor and sometimes a disgrace. The blueblood of scholarship included fellowship with Solon and Solomon and Socrates and Bacon and other savants of the past. The school-house had supplanted the baron's castle, and the university was taking the place of the King's palace.

The diplomas which the graduates were to receive were a patent of nobility. The graduates had gained their learning through the beneficence of the taxpayers of city and State; and they would be defaulters, guilty of a flagrant breach of trust, unless they made use of the advantages for the benefit of Plainfield and New Jersey.

The public school privilege was a foretaste of the highest education. It opened the doors of science to all the bewildering and fascinating mysteries. It spread out the old records and rare literature of the past. It was a temptation for further investigation.

Public corruption and bad government demanded good men and women for leadership, and the graduates should be prepared to fulfill the highest responsibility.

In conclusion, Dr. Richards congratulated the graduates especially on taking so important a step at a time when the call for public service was so clear and inspiring as it is to-day.

A table laden with prizes was borne to the center of the stage, and Dr. J. B. Probasco for the board of education presented rewards as follows:

THE PRIZE-WINNERS.

English composition (offered by George H. Babcock)—First prize, a set of Thackeray's works, 10 vols., Ariadne Gilbert. Second prize, Hudson's Shakespeare, 12 vols., Susan V. Fish. Honorable mention, Katharyn C. [illegible].

Mathematics (the late Dr. C. H. Stillman prize, offered by Mrs. Stillman)—First prize, $25 in gold, Stanley Morehouse. Second prize, $10 in gold, Raymond Carpenter.

United States History (offered by Dr. J. B. Probasco)—Ridpath's "Glimpses of the World", Susan Tibbs. Honorable mention, Ada Clark, Alice Perkins, Susan Gutner.

Spelling (offered by E. L. Finch)—Set of John Burroughs's works, 9 vols., Florence B. Beal. Honorable mention, Louise DeBolyer, Henry A. Pearce.

Penmanship (offered by the Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut)—For best writing, Tennyson's poems, Caroline L. Livesey. Honorable mention, Marguerite F. Burnet and George K. Clark. For greatest improvement, Whittier's poems, Willard A. Brookner. Honorable mention, Leo Kunst, Oliver D. Hill.

Languages (offered by Ernest R. Ackerman)—Greek, Bryant's translation of Homer's Iliad and Odessy, 4 vols., Helen T. French. Latin, Longfellow's prose and poetic works, 8 vols., Phebe D. Lovell.

President Babcock of the board of education presented, as evidence that they had completed the full course, after years of hard work, a diploma to each of the following:

CLASS OF '93—MOTTO: "HONOR, OUR WEAL[illegible]."

Martha Townsend Barrett,
Viola Percy Conklin,
Georgie L. Joy Fountain,
Helen T. French,
Ariadne Gilbert,
Florence Leslie Kyte,
Amelia Emeline Langdon,
Edith C. Miles,
Harriette Roberts Rockwell,
Mary Adelaide Runyon,
Gertrude Rushmore,
Cora Amelia Sheppard,
Mary Byrd Wells,
Elsie S. C. Van Zandt,
Oscar Alexander Campbell,
Ralph Campbell,
Raymond V. Carpenter,
Robert M. Clark,
Sidney Clinton Crane,
Thomas A. Cuming,
Charles Barker Fernald,
John Newton Goddard,
Edward Stanley Morehouse,
Robert B. FitzRandolph,
Stephen Rushmore,
Arthur Harold Serrell,
Ralph Beatty Titsworth,
John Clapp Whiting,
Ralph Delano Whiting.

GRADUATES OF TRAINING CLASS:

Charlotte M. Beckman,
Margaret R. Cory,
Lucy V. Dunham.

Helen T. French captivated all by her ease and clearness in delivering her essay and valedictory "To the Front". She held up the careers of Epaminondas and Phillips Brooks as ideals worthy of highest emulation. They were at the front in their line, and to the board of education Miss French gave thanks for all their great part in the long training of the graduates' minds. To them they owed the substantial buildings, the careful provisions for health and welfare. The faithful and competent teachers came in for a similar share of praise.

In principal Maxson, the valedictorian continued, they had found a friend as true as the one they had lost. They thanked him for his guidance, his kindness, labor and thought which had continued to keep the schools where they had always been, at the front, and which had made their closing year of school life so pleasant.

To the citizens of Plainfield the fair speaker gave earnest thanks for their hearty support of the school system, education being one of the greatest factors of human life.

Addressing her classmates, she said they had been trained and developed in reasoning and individual thinking, and she trusted that theirs was to be the Commencement of a most successful journey to the front.

A portrait of Miss Julia E. Bulkley, for 20 years principal of the school, was borne to the footlights, veiled with a scarf of white and gold, '93's class colors. President W. D. Murray of the Alumni presented it to the board of education to be hung on the wall of the High school Assembly hall. He gave unstinted praise of her character, and told how those whom he remembered as boys when she first came here were now men anxious to do her honor. She had been not only teacher but friend, and as the future graduates of the school gazed on this representation of her face, filled with the expression of gratification at their successes, they should strive to do her honor by making their lives what they knew she would wish them to be.

